BIGELOW, Abijah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Westminster, Mass., December 5, 1775; attended Leicester (Mass.) Academy and an academy at New Ipswich, N. H.; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1795; studied law in Groton, Mass., was admitted to the bar in 1798, and commenced practice in Leominster, Mass., in the same year; town clerk of Leominster 1803-1809; member of the State house of representatives 1807-1809; justice of the peace 1809-1860, and justice of the quorum 1812-1860; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Stedman; reelected to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses, and served from October 8, 1810, to March 3, 1815; moved to Worcester in 1817; clerk of the courts of Worcester County 1817-1833; resumed the practice of law; served as trustee of Leicester Academy in 1819 and 1820 and as treasurer 1820-1853; appointed a master in chancery in 1838; died in Worcester, Worcester County, Mass., April 5, 1860; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

BIGELOW, Lewis, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Petersham, Worcester County, Mass., August 18, 1785; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Petersham; member of the State senate 1819-1821; editor of the first seventeen volumes of Massachusetts Reports and of a digest of six volumes of Pickering's Reports; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); moved to Peoria, Peoria County, Ill., in 1831 and continued the practice of law; clerk of the Peoria County court; died in Peoria, Ill., October 3, 1838.

BIGGS, Asa, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Williamston, Martin County, N. C., February 4, 1811; attended the common schools; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Williamston, N. C.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1835; member of the State house of commons in 1840 and 1842, served in the State senate in 1844 and 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848 to the Thirtieth Congress; one of a commission to codify the State laws of North Carolina in 1851; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1855, until May 5, 1858, when he resigned, having been appointed by President Buchanan United States judge of the district of North Carolina; served as judge of the district court until 1861; member of the secession convention of North Carolina in 1861; Confederate States judge 1861-1865; resumed the practice of law in Tarboro, Edgecombe County, N. C., in 1865; moved to Norfolk, Va., in 1869, and continued the practice of law until his death in that city March 6, 1878; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

BIGGS, Benjamin Thomas, a Representative from Delaware; born near Summit Bridge, New Castle County, Del., October 1, 1821; attended the public schools and the Pennington

Seminary in New Jersey; taught school for a short time and later attended the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; became interested in railroad operations and was a director of the Kent & Queen Annes Railroad; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1873); was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; elected Governor of Delaware and served from January, 1887, to January, 1891; died in Middletown, New Castle County, Del., December 25, 1893; interment in Bethel Cemetery, near Chesapeake City, Cecil County, Md.

BIGGS, Marion, a Representative from California; born near Curryville, Pike County, Mo., May 2, 1823; attended the common schools; moved to California in 1850; returned to Missouri; was elected sheriff of Monroe County, Mo., in 1852, and reelected in 1854; returned to California in 1864; was a cattle buyer and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected to the State assembly from Sacramento County in 1867 and from Butte County in 1869; elected to the State constitutional convention from the State at large in 1878; alternate presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876 and an elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887–March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; commissioner to attend the centennial celebration of the inauguration of George Washington as President of the United States in 1888; resided in Gridley, Butte County, Calif., and lived in retirement until his death on August 2, 1910; interment in Helvetia Cemetery, Sacramento, Calif.

BIGLER, William, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Shiremanstown, Cumberland County, Pa., January 1, 1814; attended the public schools; in 1829 apprenticed to learn the art of printing; moved to Clearfield, Clearfield County, Pa., in 1833 and established the Clearfield Democrat; engaged in the lumber business in 1836; member of the State senate 1841–1847; twice speaker; elected governor in 1851; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in term commencing March 4, 1855, caused by failure of legislature to elect, and served from January 14, 1856, to March 3, 1861; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1864, to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866, and to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868; member of the constitutional convention of Pennsylvania; member of the board of finance of the Centennial Exposition in 1876; president of the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad; died in Clearfield, Pa., August 9, 1880; interment in Hillcrest Cemetery.

BILLINGHURST, Charles, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Brighton, Franklin County, N. Y., July 27, 1818; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and commenced practice in Rochester, N. Y.; moved to Wisconsin the same year and settled in Juneau, Dodge County; continued the practice of his chosen profession; elected as a member of the first State Legislature of Wisconsin in 1848; was elected a presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Juneau, Wis., where he died August 18, 1865; interment in Juneau Cemetery.

BILLMEYER, Alexander, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Liberty Township, Montour County, Pa., January 7, 1841; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; interested in the manufacture of lumber; director of a national bank in Washingtonville, Montour County, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rufus K. Polk, and served from November 4, 1902, to March 3, 1903; was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed agricultural pursuits in Montour County, Pa.; died near Washingtonville, Pa., May 24, 1924; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Danville, Pa.

BINES, Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Trenton, N. J.; attended the common schools; appointed coroner for Salem County on October 18, 1802; elected sheriff of Salem County in 1806 and served until 1810; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jacob Hufty, and served from November 2, 1814, to March 3, 1815; was not a candidate for renomination in 1814 to the Fourteenth Congress; elected justice of the peace of Lower Penns Neck Township in 1822 and served in this capacity until 1826; died in Lower Penns Neck Township, Salem County, April 9, 1826.

BINGHAM, Henry Harrison, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 4, 1841; was graduated from Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1862 and from the law department of Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a first lieutenant in the One hundred and fortieth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, August 22, 1862; commissioned captain September 9, 1862; major and judge advocate September 20, 1864; brevetted major of Volunteers August 1, 1864, "for good conduct and conspicuous gallantry, especially at the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, and Gettysburg"; brevetted lieutenant colonel of Volunteers April 9, 1865, "for highly meritorious services during the recent campaign terminating with the surrender of the insurgent army under Gen. Robert E. Lee"; colonel and brigadier general of Volunteers April 9, 1865, "for conspicuous gallantry and meritorious service during the war"; honorably mustered out of service July 2, 1866; awarded a congressional medal of honor August 26, 1893, "for distinguished gallantry in the Battle of the Wilderness, Virginia, May 6, 1864, where he rallied and led into action a portion of the troops which had given way under the fierce assaults of the enemy"; appointed postmaster of Philadelphia in March, 1867, and served until December, 1872, when he resigned to accept the clerkship of the courts of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions of the peace in Philadelphia, having been elected by the people; reelected clerk of courts in 1875; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872; also a delegate from the first congressional district to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876, to Chicago in 1884 and 1888, to Minneapolis in 1892, to St. Louis in 1896, and at Philadelphia in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and to the sixteen succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1879, until his death; his service covered a period of thirty-three years and nineteen days, being the record for the longest continuous service in the National House of Representatives; died in Philadelphia, Pa., March 22, 1913; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

BINGHAM, Hiram, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Honolulu, Hawaii, November 19, 1875; educated at Punahou School and Oahu College, Hawaii, 1882-1892; Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., 1892-1894; Yale University 1894-1898; the University of California at Berkeley 1899-1900; and Harvard University 1900-1905; taught history at Harvard University 1902-1905, history and politics at Princeton University in 1905 and 1906, and history of South America at Yale University 1907-1917; explored Bolivar's route across Venezuela and Colombia in 1906 and 1907 and the Spanish trade route, Buenos Aires to Lima, in 1908 and 1909; United States Government delegate to the First Pan American Scientific Congress at Santiago, Chile, in 1908; directed the Yale Peruvian expedition in 1911; made further Peruvian explorations under the auspices of Yale University and the National Geographic Society 1912-1915; captain of headquarters company, Tenth Field Artillery, Connecticut National Guard, in 1916; became an aviator in the spring of 1917; organized the United States Schools of Military Aeronautics in May, 1917; commissioned major, Aviation Section, Signal Corps, June 6, 1917; promoted to lieutenant colonel October 25, 1917; commanded the flying school at Issoudun, France, from August to December, 1918; alternate at large to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1916 and 1920; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Hughes and Fairbanks in 1916; served as Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut from 1922 to 1924; elected Governor of Connecticut November 4, 1924; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate on December 10, 1924, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank B. Brandegee in the term ending March 3, 1927; appointed by President Coolidge a member of the President's aircraft board September 12, 1925. Reelected to the Senate in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

BINGHAM, John Armour, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mercer, Mercer County, Pa., January 21, 1815; pursued academic studies; apprentice in a printing office for two years; attended Franklin College, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas County, Ohio; district attorney for Tuscarawas County, Ohio, 1846-1849; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; appointed by President Lincoln judge advocate of the Union Army with the rank of major in 1864; later appointed solicitor of the Court of Claims; special judge advocate in the trial of the conspirators against the life of President Lincoln; elected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1872; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1862 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against West H. Humphreys, United States judge for the several districts of Tennessee, and again in 1868 against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States; appointed minister to Japan and served from May 31, 1873, until July 2, 1885; died in Cadiz, Harrison County, Ohio, March 19, 1900; interment in the Cadiz Cemetery.

BINGHAM, Kinsley Scott, a Representative and a Senator from Michigan; born in Camillus, Onondaga County, N. Y., December 10, 1808; attended the common schools and pursued an academic course; studied law in Syracuse, N. Y.; moved to Green Oak, Mich., in 1833; admitted to the bar and practiced; engaged in agricultural pursuits; held a number of local offices, including those of justice of the peace, postmaster, and first judge of probate of Livingston County; member of the first House of Representatives of Michigan in 1837, the year of the State's admission to the Union, and four times reelected; speaker of the State house of representatives three terms; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; resumed agricultural pursuits; elected governor in 1854, heading the first ticket ever designated as "Republican," and was reelected in 1856; instrumental in the establishment of the Michigan Agricultural College and other educational institutions; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1859, until his death in Green Oak, Livingston County, Mich., October 5, 1861; interment in the Old Village Cemetery, Brighton, Livingston County, Mich.

BINGHAM, William, a Delegate and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 8, 1752; was graduated from the Philadelphia College in 1768; agent of the Continental Congress at Martinique, and afterwards consul at St. Pierre, in the West Indies, the two services covering the period 1777-1780; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; member of the State house of representatives in 1790 and 1791, and served as speaker in 1791; served in and was president of the State senate in 1794 and 1795; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1795, to March 3, 1801; elected President pro tempore of the Senate February 16, 1797; was not a candidate for reelection; withdrew from public life and engaged in the management of his extensive estates; moved in 1801 to Bath, England, and resided with his daughter until his death in that city on February 7, 1804; interment in the Parls Church, Bath, England.

BINNEY, Horace, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., January 4, 1780; attended a classical school in Bordentown, N. J., three years; was graduated from Harvard University in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Philadelphia in 1800; member of the State house of representatives in 1806 and 1807; between 1807 and 1814 he prepared and published six volumes of reported decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; director of the United States Bank; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); was not a candidate for renomination in 1834; except for his appearance before the Supreme Court in 1844 as counsel for Philadelphia in the Girard will case, he retired from the practice of his profession in the courts and confined himself to giving written opinions; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 12, 1875; interment in St. James the Less Cemetery, Falls of the Schuylkill (now a part of Philadelphia), Pa.

BIRCH, William Fred, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., August 30, 1870; moved with parents to Phillipsburg, N. J., in 1872 and from there to Dover, Morris County, N. J., in 1874; attended the public schools and was graduated from the New Jersey State Model School at Trenton and from Coleman's Business College at Newark in 1887; engaged in the manufacture of boilers and smokestacks at Dover; member of the Dover Common Council for several years; city recorder 1904-1909; member of the State house of assembly 1910-1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John H. Capstick, and served from November 5, 1918, to March 3, 1919; was not a candidate for renomination in 1918; resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; also engaged in the fire insurance business and interested in banking; trustee of the Dover General Hospital; is a resident of Dover, N. J.

BIRD, John, a Representative from New York; born in Litchfield, Conn., November 22, 1768; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Litchfield, Conn.; moved to Troy, N. Y., in 1793 and engaged in the practice of law; member of the State assembly 1799-1798; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth and Seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1799, to July 25, 1801, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law; died in Troy, N. Y., February 2, 1806; interment in Mount Ida Cemetery.

BIRD, John Taylor, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Bloomsbury, Hunterdon County, N. J., August 16, 1829; attended the public schools and a classical academy at Hackensettown, N. J.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Bloomsbury, N. J.; moved to Clinton in 1858; prosecutor of the pleas for Hunterdon County 1862-1867; moved to Flemington in 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; resumed the practice of law in Flemington, N. J.; member of the New Jersey constitutional convention in 1870; moved to Trenton, N. J., in 1882; vice chancellor of New Jersey 1882-1896; master in chancery 1900-1909; died in Trenton, N. J., May 8, 1911; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

BIRD, Richard Ely, a Representative from Kansas; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 4, 1878; moved with his parents to Wichita, Sedgwick County, Kans., in 1887; attended the public schools and was graduated from the Wichita High School in 1898; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1901, and commenced practice in Wichita; judge of the district court of the eighteenth judicial district of Kansas 1916-1921; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Wichita, Kans.

BIRDSALL, Ausburn, a Representative from New York; born in Otego, Otsego County, N. Y.; moved to Binghamton, Broome County, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; district attorney of Broome County; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); appointed United States naval storkeeper in New York City; returned to Binghamton, N. Y., and resumed the practice of law until 1890, when he retired and moved to New York City; resided there until his death on July 10, 1903; interment in Spring Forest Cemetery, Binghamton, N. Y.; reinterment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York City, in 1910.

BIRDSALL, Benjamin Pixley, a Representative from Iowa; born in Weyauwega, Waupaca County, Wis., October 26, 1858; attended the common schools of Iowa and the Iowa State University, Iowa City; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and practiced; served as district judge of the eleventh judicial district of Iowa from January, 1898, to October, 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1909); resumed the practice of law in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, where he died May 26, 1917; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

BIRDSALL, James, a Representative from New York; born in that State in 1783; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and was the first lawyer to settle in Norwich, Chenango County, N. Y.; surrogate of Chenango County, N. Y., in 1811; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); member of the State assembly bly in 1827; one of the incorporators of the Bank of Chenango; moved to Fenton, Genesee County, Mich., in 1839 and later to Flint, Mich., where he died July 20, 1856; interment in Glenwood Cemetery.

BIRDSALL, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Hillsdale, Columbia County, N. Y., May 14, 1791; attended the common schools; studied law in the office of Martin Van Buren, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and commenced practice in Cooperstown, N. Y.; moved to Waterloo, N. Y., in 1817; master in chancery in 1815; division judge advocate with rank of colonel in 1819; counselor in the supreme court and solicitor in chancery in 1823; surrogate of Seneca County 1827-1837; bank commissioner in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 8, 1839); was not a candidate for renomination in 1838; admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court in 1838; district attorney of Seneca County in 1846; postmaster of Waterloo, Seneca County, N. Y., 1853-1868; died in Waterloo, N. Y., February 8, 1872; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery.

BIRDSEYE, Victory, a Representative from New York; born in Cornwall, Conn., December 25, 1782; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and commenced practice in Pompey Hill, Onondaga County, N. Y.; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); was not a candidate for renomination in 1816; postmaster of Pompey Hill 1817-1838; district attorney Onondaga County 1818-1833; master in chancery Onondaga County 1818-1822; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1821; served in the State senate in 1827; member of the State assembly 1828 and 1838-1840; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1838 to the Twenty-sixth Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; resumed the practice of law; died in Pompey, Onondaga County, N. Y., September 10, 1853; interment in Pompey Hill Cemetery.

BISBEE, Horatio, Jr., a Representative from Florida; born in Canton, Oxford County, Me., May 1, 1830; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Tufts College, Medford, Mass., in 1863; during the Civil War served as a private soldier three months in the Fifth Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry; mustered out the middle of July, 1861; appointed captain in the Ninth Regiment Maine Volunteer Infantry in September, 1861; promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel and afterwards to the rank of colonel; honorably mustered out of the service with the latter rank the last of March, 1863; moved to Illinois in 1863; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Chicago in 1864, and commenced practice in Jacksonville, Fla., in 1865; United States attorney for the northern district of Florida 1869-1873, and for a short period filled the office of attorney general of the State; presented credentials as a Republican Member elect to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1877, to February 20, 1879, when he was succeeded by Jesse J. Finley, who contested the election; successfully contested the election of Noble A. Hull to the Forty-sixth Congress, and served from January 22, 1881, to March 3, 1881; successfully contested the election of Jesse J. Finley to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from June 1, 1882, to March 3, 1883; reelected to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Dixfield, Oxford County, Me., March 27, 1916; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BISHOP, James, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New Brunswick, N. J., May 11, 1816; attended Spaulding School and Rutgers College Preparatory School, New Brunswick, N. J.; engaged in mercantile pursuits in New Brunswick; member of the State house of assembly in 1849 and 1850; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; prominent in the rubber trade in New York City; chief of the bureau of labor statistics of New Jersey 1878–1893, and a resident of Trenton; died at Kemble Hall, near Morristown, Morris County, N. J., May 10, 1895; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, New Brunswick, Middlesex County, N. J.

BISHOP, Phaniel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Rehoboth, Mass., September 8, 1739; attended the common schools; was an innkeeper; served in the State senate 1787–1791; member of the State house of representatives in 1792, 1793, 1797, and 1798; elected to the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1807); died in Rehoboth, Mass., January 6, 1812; interment in the Old Cemetery, Rumford, East Providence, R. I.

BISHOP, Roswell Peter, a Representative from Michigan; born in Sidney, Delaware County, N. Y., January 6, 1843; attended Unadilla Academy, Cooperstown Seminary, and Walton Academy, New York; taught school several years; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company C, Forty-third Regiment New York Volunteer Infantry, in 1861, and was discharged in December, 1862, on account of a wound which necessitated the amputation of his right arm; entered the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, in September, 1868, where he remained until December, 1872; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Ann Arbor in May, 1875, and commenced practice in Ludington, Mason County, Mich.; elected prosecuting attorney of Mason County in 1876, 1878, and 1884; member of the State house of representatives in 1882 and 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed the practice of law in Ludington, Mich.; member of the Michigan constitutional convention in 1907; appointed a member of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission in December, 1907, and served until the work of the commission was completed; moved to Hollister, Calif., in 1910 and engaged in fruit growing; died at Pacific Grove, Monterey County, Calif., March 4, 1920; interment in El Carmelo Cemetery.

BISHOP, William Darius, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Bloomfield, Essex County, N. J., September 14, 1827; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but did not practice in order to prosecute his father's railroad enterprises, which involved the construction of the Naugatuck and the New York and New Haven Railroads in Connecticut and the railroad between Saratoga Springs and Whitehall in New York; founder of the Eastern Railroad Association and its president until the time of his death; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; Commissioner of Patents from May 23, 1859, to January, 1860; interested in the building and operation of railroads; served as vice president and president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co.; member of the State house of representatives in 1866 and 1871; served in the State senate in 1877 and 1878; died in Bridgeport, Conn., February 4, 1904; interment in Mountain Grove Cemetery.

BISSELL, William Harrison, a Representative from Illinois; born in Hartwick, Otsego County, N. Y., April 25, 1811; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Philadelphia Medical College in 1835; moved to Monroe County, Ill., in 1837; taught school and practiced medicine until 1840; member of the State house of representatives 1840–1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Belleville, St. Clair County, Ill.; prosecuting attorney of St. Clair County in 1844; served in the Mexican War as colonel of the Second Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; elected Governor of Illinois in 1856 and served from January 12, 1857, until his death; died in Springfield, Sangamon County, Ill., March 18, 1860; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

BIXLER, Harris Jacob, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New Buffalo, Perry County, Pa., September 16, 1870; attended the public schools and Lock Haven State Normal School; was graduated from Potts Business College, Williamsport, Pa.; taught in the public schools four years; identified with banking and manufacturing interests; director of the Johnsonburg National Bank; served as president of the city council 1900–1904 and president of the board of education 1904–1910; mayor of Johnsonburg 1908–1912; sheriff of Elk County, Pa., 1916–1920; chairman of the Republican county committee 1918–1925; chairman of the draft board, Elk County, during the World War; treasurer of Elk County, 1920–1922; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921–March 3, 1927); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1926; engaged in business as a contractor and also interested in agricultural pursuits; is a resident of Johnsonburg.

BLACK, Edward Junius (father of George Robison Black), a Representative from Georgia; born in Beaufort, S. C., October 30, 1806; attended the common schools and was graduated from Richmond Academy, Augusta, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and commenced practice in Augusta, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives 1829–1831; moved to Screven County, Ga., in 1832; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; subsequently elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill in part the vacancies caused by the resignations of Julius C. Alford, William C. Dawson, and Eugenius A. Nisbet; reelected to the Twenty-eighth Congress, and served from January 3, 1842, to March 3, 1845; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Millettville, Barnwell District, S. C., September 1, 1846; interment in the family burying ground near Millettville, Allendale County, S. C.

BLACK, Eugene, a Representative from Texas; born near Blossom, Lamar County, Tex., July 2, 1879; attended the public schools of Blossom; taught school in Lamar County 1898–1900; employed in the post office at Blossom; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1905, was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Clarksville, Red River County, Tex.; pursued his profession until elected to Congress; also engaged in the wholesale grocery business; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915–March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BLACK, Frank Swett, a Representative from New York; born near Limington, York County, Me., March 8, 1853; attended the district schools, and was graduated from Lebanon Academy, West Lebanon, Me., in 1871; taught school for several years; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1875; editor of the Johnstown (N. Y.) Journal; moved to Troy, N. Y., and engaged in newspaper work; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in Troy; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to January 7, 1897, when he resigned to become governor; Governor of New York 1897-1899; resumed the practice of law in New York City; died in Troy, N. Y., March 22, 1913; remains were cremated and placed in a sepulcher on his farm near Freedom, Carroll County, N. H.

BLACK, George Robison (son of Edward Junius Black), a Representative from Georgia; born on his father's plantation near Jacksonboro, Screven County, Ga., March 24, 1835; attended the common schools, the University of Georgia at Athens, and the University of South Carolina at Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced practice in Savannah, Ga.; during the Civil War entered the Confederate service as first lieutenant of the Phoenix Riflemen and afterwards promoted to lieutenant colonel of the Sixty-third Georgia Regiment; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1865; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; member of the State senate 1874-1877; vice president of the Georgia State Agricultural Society; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1882; died in Sylvania, Screven County, Ga., November 3, 1886; interment in the Sylvania Cemetery.

BLACK, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near the borough of Somerset, Somerset County, Pa., February 25, 1783; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1818; justice of the peace; associate judge of Somerset County, Pa., 1820-1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles Ogle, and served from June 28, 1841, until his death in Somerset, Pa., November 28, 1841; interment in the family cemetery, Stony Creek Township, Somerset County, Pa.

BLACK, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Newport, Perry County, Pa., March 6, 1793; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1830 and 1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jesse Miller, and served from December 5, 1836, to March 3, 1837; associate judge of Perry County in 1842 and 1843; resigned; elected to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); State collector of tolls on the Juniata Canal; died in New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pa., June 21, 1872; interment in New Bloomfield Cemetery.

BLACK, James Augustus, a Representative from South Carolina; born on his father's plantation in Ninety Six District, near Abbeville, S. C., in 1793; attended on his father's plantation the common schools; during the War of 1812 was appointed a second lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry on March 12, 1812; promoted to first lieutenant on December 2, 1813, and was honorably discharged June 15, 1815; engaged in the mining of iron ore on what is now the present site of Cherokee Falls, S. C.; moved to Georgia and settled in Savannah; engaged in cotton dealing; served as tax collector of Chatham County, Ga.; returned to South Carolina and settled in Columbia; cashier of the State (branch) bank; elected as a Calhoun Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1843, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 8, 1848; interment in the Congressional Cemetery; reinterment in the graveyard of the First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, S. C.

BLACK, James Conquest Cross, a Representative from Georgia; born in Stamping Ground, Scott County, Ky., May 9, 1842; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Georgetown College, Kentucky, in 1862; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company A, Ninth Kentucky Cavalry, in the Confederate Army; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Augusta, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives 1873-1877; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1893, to March 4, 1895, when he resigned; subsequently elected to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation, and served from October 2, 1895, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; resumed the practice of law in Augusta, Ga.; elected a member of the city council, and is a resident of Augusta, Ga.

BLACK, John, a Senator from Mississippi; born in Massachusetts; engaged in teaching for a few years; studied law and commenced practice in Louisiana; moved to Mississippi; elected judge of the fourth circuit and supreme court in 1826 and served until 1832; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Powhatan Ellis, and served from November 12, 1832, to March 3, 1833; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1833, caused by the recess of the legislature, and served from November 22, 1833, to January 22, 1838, when he resigned; affiliated with the Whig Party after its formation; resumed the practice of law in Winchester, Va., and died there August 20, 1854; interment in Mount Hebron Cemetery.

BLACK, John Charles, a Representative from Illinois; born in Lexington, Holmes County, Miss., January 27, 1839; moved to Danville, Vermillion County, Ill., in 1847; attended the common schools and Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., but was not graduated until after the close of the Civil War; during the Civil War served in the Union Army from April 14, 1861, to August 15, 1865; entered as a private, and was successively sergeant major, major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel; brevetted brigadier general for gallant service in the storming of Fort Blakeley on April 9, 1865; received the congressional medal for conspicuous bravery in action; studied law in Chicago, Ill., was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Danville, Ill.; appointed by President Cleveland United States Commissioner of Pensions and served from March 17, 1885, to March 27, 1889, and while commissioner inaugurated many reforms which reduced the expenses of the bureau and at the same time saved not less than a million dollars in pension attorney's fees; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1893, to January 12, 1895, when he resigned; United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois 1895-1899; department commander of the Loyal Legion of Illinois 1895-1897; department commander of the Illinois department, Grand Army of the Republic in 1898; commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1903 and 1904; member of the United States Civil Service Commission 1904-1913, and served as its president; resigned and returned to Chicago, Ill., where he died August 17, 1915; interment in Spring Hill Cemetery, Danville, Ill.

BLACK, Loring Milton, Jr., a Representative from New York; born in New York City May 17, 1880; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Fordham University, New York City, in 1907; studied law at Columbia University, New York City, was admitted to the bar in 1909, and commenced practice in that city; member of the State senate in 1911 and 1912; resumed the practice of his profession in New York City; again a member of the State senate in 1919 and 1920; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BLACKBURN, Edmond Spencer, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Boone, Watauga County, N. C., September 22, 1868; attended the common schools and academies of his native State; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1890, and commenced practice in Jefferson, Ashe County, N. C.; reading clerk of the State senate in 1894 and 1895; member of the State house of representatives in 1896 and 1897, and served as speaker pro tempore in the latter year; assistant United States attorney in 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed the practice of law in Greensboro, N. C.; died in Elizabethton, Carter County, Tenn., March 10, 1912; interment in Old Hopewell Cemetery, near Boone, N. C.

BLACKBURN, Joseph Clay Stiles, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born near Spring Station, Woodford County, Ky., October 1, 1838; attended Sayre Institute, Frankfort, Ky., and was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1857; studied law in Lexington, Ky., was admitted to the bar in 1858, and practiced in Chicago, Ill., until 1860, when he returned to Woodford County, Ky.; entered the Confederate Army as a private in 1861 and was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel before the close of the Civil War; settled in Arkansas in 1865, where he was engaged as lawyer and planter in Desha County until 1868, when he returned to Kentucky and opened law offices in Versailles; member of the State house of representatives 1871-1875; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1885); elected to the United States Senate in 1885; reelected in 1890, and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1897; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1897 due to Democratic party dissension; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896, at Kansas City in 1900, and at St. Louis in 1904; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1907; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1907; appointed Governor of the Canal Zone, Isthmus of Panama, by President Roosevelt on April 1, 1907; resigned in November, 1909, and returned to his estate in Woodford County, Ky.; died in Washington, D. C., September 12, 1918; interment in the State Cemetery, Frankfort, Ky.

BLACKBURN, William Jasper, a Representative from Louisiana; born on the Fourche de Mau, Randolph County, Ark., July 24, 1820; received his early education from his mother; moved to Batesville in 1839 and learned the printer's trade; moved to Little Rock in 1845, to Fort Smith in 1846, and thence to Minden, La., in 1849 and established the Minden Herald; moved to Homer, La., and established the Homer Illud in 1859; member of the State constitutional convention in 1867; county judge of Claiborne Parish, La., for four years; upon the readmission of the State of Louisiana to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 18, 1868, to March 3, 1869; was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; member of the State senate 1874-1878; returned to Little Rock, Ark., in 1880; published the Arkansas Republican from 1881 to 1884 and the Free South from 1885 to 1892; died in Little Rock, Ark., November 10, 1890; interment in Mount Holly Cemetery.

BLACKLEDGE, William (father of William Salter Blackledge), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Craven County, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1797-1799 and again in 1800; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1808 to the Eleventh Congress; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1804 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire; elected to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1812 to the Thirteenth Congress; died at Spring Hill, Craven County, N. C., October 19, 1828.

BLACKLEDGE, William Salter (son of William Blackledge), a representative from North Carolina; born in Pitt County, N. C., in 1703; moved to Craven County, N. C., and settled in New Bern; graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1813; member of the State house of commons in 1820; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jesse Slocumb; reelected to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from February 7, 1821, until March 3, 1823; died in New Bern, Craven County, N. C., March 21, 1857; interment in New Bern Cemetery.

BLACKMAR, Esbon, a Representative from New York; born in Freehold, Greene County, N. Y., June 19, 1805; attended the district schools and was graduated from the high school; engaged in the general merchandise business; member of the State senate in 1838 and 1841; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John M. Holley, and served from December 4, 1848, to March 3, 1849; resumed his former business activities; died in Newark, Wayne County, N. Y., November 19, 1857; interment in Willow Avenue Cemetery.

BLACKMON, Fred Leonard, a Representative from Alabama; born at Lime Branch, Polk County, Ga., September 15, 1873; moved with his parents to Calhoun County, Ala., in 1883; attended the public schools in Dearmanville and Choocoloco, the State normal college at Jacksonville, Ala., the Douglassville (Ga.) College, and the Mountain City Business College, Chattanooga, Tenn.; was graduated from the law department of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1894; was admitted to the bar in the same year, and commenced practice in Anniston, Calhoun County, Ala.; city attorney for Anniston 1898-1902; member of the State senate 1900-1910; chairman of the congressional committee for the fourth Alabama district from 1900 until 1910, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and to the four succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1911, until his death; had also been reelected to the Sixty-seventh Congress; died in Bartow, Polk County, Fla., February 8, 1921; interment in Hillside Cemetery, Anniston, Ala.

BLACKWELL, Julius W., a Representative from Tennessee; born in Virginia; attended the public schools; moved to Tennessee and settled in Athens, McMinn County; elected as a

Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839–March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress.

BLAINE, James Gillespie, a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in West Brownsville, Washington County, Pa., January 31, 1830; was graduated from Washington College, Washington, Pa., in 1847; was for a time teacher in the Western Military Institute, Blue Lick Springs, Ky.; returned to Pennsylvania; studied law; taught higher branches in the Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind at Philadelphia 1852–1854; moved in 1854 to Maine, where he edited the Portland Advertiser and the Kennebec Journal; member of the State house of representatives 1859–1862, and served the last two years as speaker of the house; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1863, to July 10, 1876, when he resigned; served in the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses as Speaker; was a leading candidate for the nomination for President on the Republican ticket in 1876 and 1880; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lot M. Morrill; reelected and served from July 10, 1876, to March 5, 1881, when he resigned to become Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Garfield; Secretary of State of the United States from March 5 to December 12, 1881; unsuccessful Republican candidate for President of the United States in 1884; Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Benjamin Harrison, and served from March 7, 1889, to June 4, 1892, when he resigned; aided in organizing and was the first president of the Pan American Congress; died in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1893; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery; reinterment at the request of the State of Maine in the Blaine Memorial Park, Augusta, Me., in June, 1920.

BLAIR, Austin, a Representative from Michigan; born in Caroline, Tompkins County, N. Y., February 8, 1818; attended the common schools, Cazenovia Seminary, and Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1837; studied law in Oswego, and was admitted to the bar in Tioga County, N. Y., in 1841; moved to Michigan and settled in Eaton Rapids, where he commenced the practice of his profession in 1842; county clerk of Eaton County; moved to Jackson, Mich., in 1844; elected to the State house of representatives in 1845; delegate to the Free-Soil National Convention at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1848; elected prosecuting attorney of Jackson County in 1852; elected to the State senate in 1854; was present at the organization of the Republican Party in Jackson, Mich., July 6, 1854, and a member of the committee on platform; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; Governor of Michigan from January 1, 1861, to January 1, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1867–March 3, 1873); was not a candidate for renomination in 1872, having become the Liberal Republican candidate for governor and was unsuccessful; resumed the practice of law in Jackson, Jackson County, Mich., and died there August 6, 1894; interment in Mount Evergreen Cemetery.

BLAIR, Bernard, a Representative from New York; born in Williamstown, Mass., May 24, 1801; attended the public schools and pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1825; moved to Salem, Washington County, N. Y., in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Salem, subsequently being admitted as counselor and solicitor in chancery; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841–March 3, 1843); discontinued the practice of his profession and engaged in business pursuits; died in Salem, Washington County, N. Y., May 7, 1880; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

BLAIR, Francis Preston, Jr., a Representative and a Senator from Missouri; born in Lexington, Ky., February 19, 1821; moved with his father to Washington, D. C., when nine years old; attended a private school in that city and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; was graduated from Princeton College in 1841; studied law at Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in St. Louis in 1848; enlisted as a private in the regiment of Colonel Doniphan during the Mexican War, and served as attorney general of the Territory when General Kearny took New Mexico; resumed the practice of law in St. Louis; member of the State house of representatives 1852–1856; elected as a Free-Soiler to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857–March 3, 1859); successfully contested the election of John R. Barret to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from June 8 to June 25, 1860, when he resigned; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1861, until his resignation in July, 1862, to become a colonel in the Union Army, served on the staff of Gen. William T. Sherman; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Thirty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1863, to June 10, 1864, when he was succeeded by Samuel Knox, who contested the election; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice President of the United States in 1868, again a member of the State house of representatives in 1870, elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles D. Drake, and served from January 20, 1871, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for reelection owing to ill health; State insurance commissioner in 1874; died in St. Louis, Mo., July 8, 1875; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery; the people of Missouri erected a statue to his memory in Forest Park, St. Louis, and the State legislature presented to the United States Government the statue which stands in Statuary Hall of the Capitol, Washington, D. C.

BLAIR, Henry William, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Campton, Grafton County, N. H., December 6, 1834; attended the common schools and Tilton Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Plymouth, N. H.; appointed prosecuting attorney for Grafton County in 1860; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as lieutenant colonel of the Fifteenth Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry; member of the State house of representatives in 1866; served in the State senate in 1867 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; elected to the United States Senate on June 17, 1879, and took his seat June 20, 1879, for the vacancy in the term ending March 3, 1885; appointed on March 5, 1885, and elected on June 17, 1885, to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1885, and served until March 3, 1891; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in the caucus in 1891; declined an appointment as judge of the District Court for the District of New Hampshire tendered by President Harrison in 1891; was appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to China March 6, 1891; his selection was objected to by the Chinese Government as being persona non grata, although our Government protested against the sufficiency of the objections; subsequently he tendered his resignation, which was accepted October 6, 1891; elected to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895; was not a candidate for reelection in 1894; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death on March 14, 1920; interment in the Campton Cemetery, Campton, N. H.

BLAIR, Jacob Beeson, a Representative from Virginia and from West Virginia; born in Parkersburg, Wood County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 11, 1821; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and commenced practice at Harrisville, Ritchie County, Va. (now West Virginia); prosecuting attorney of Ritchie County for several years; returned to Parkersburg in 1856; elected as a Unionist from Virginia to the Thirty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John S. Carlile, and served from December 2, 1861, to March 3, 1863; upon the admission of West Virginia as a State into the Union was elected to the Thirty-eighth Congress, and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1865; United States minister to Costa Rica 1868-1873; associate justice of the Supreme Court of Wyoming 1876-1888; moved to Utah in 1888; probate judge for Salt Lake County, Utah, 1892-1895; surveyor general of Utah from 1897 until his death in Salt Lake City on February 12, 1901; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

BLAIR, James, a Representative from South Carolina; born in the Waxhaw settlement, Lancaster County, S. C., about 1790; engaged in planting; sheriff of Lancaster District; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1821, to May 8, 1822, when he resigned; elected as a Union Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress; reelected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1829, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 1, 1834; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BLAIR, James Gorrali, a Representative from Missouri; born near Blairville, Ky., January 1, 1825; was self-educated, having attended the public schools only three months; moved to Monticello, Lewis County, Mo., in 1840 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected circuit clerk in 1848 and served until 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Canton, Mo., in 1854; delegate to the Republican State convention in 1870; elected as a Liberal Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Monticello, Lewis County, Mo., March 1, 1904; interment in Forest Grove Cemetery, Canton, Mo.

BLAIR, John, a Representative from Tennessee; born at Blairs Mill, near Jonesborough (now Jonesboro), Washington County, Tenn., September 13, 1790; attended Martain Academy, and was graduated from Washington (Tenn.) College in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1813, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives 1815-1817; served in the State senate 1817-1821; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1834 to the Twenty-fourth Congress; retired to private life; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1849 and 1850; resumed the practice of law; died in Jonesboro, Tenn., July 9, 1863; interment in the Old Cemetery.

BLAIR, Samuel Steel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Indiana, Indiana County, Pa., December 5, 1821; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and commenced practice in Hollidaysburg, Blair County, Pa., in 1846; delegate to several State conventions; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; died in Hollidaysburg, Pa., December 8, 1890; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

BLAISDELL, Daniel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Amesbury, Mass., January 22, 1762; attended the public schools; served in the Revolutionary War from August, 1776, to August, 1777; moved to Canaan, N. H., in 1780; taught school and also acquired some legal knowledge; engaged in agricultural pursuits; held several local offices; member of the State house of representatives in 1793, 1795, and 1799; served as a member of the executive council 1803-1808; moderator of Canaan in 1808, 1809, 1812, 1822, 1824, 1826, and 1830; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); served in the War of 1812; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1812, 1813, 1824, and 1825; served as selectman of Canaan in 1813, 1815, and 1818; resumed agricultural pursuits; member of the State senate in 1814 and 1815; chief justice of the court of sessions in 1822; died in Canaan, Grafton County, N. H., January 10, 1833; interment in Wells Cemetery.

BLAKE, Harrison Gray Otis, a Representative from Ohio; born in Newfane, Windham County, Vt., March 17, 1818; moved to Salem, N. Y., and in 1830 to Guilford, Medina County, Ohio; attended the public schools; studied medicine at Seville for one year; moved to Medina in 1836 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; also studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Medina; member of the State house of representatives in 1846 and 1847; member of the State senate in 1848 and 1849, and served as its president; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Cyrus Spink; reelected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from October 11, 1859, to March 3, 1863; was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in 1864 as colonel of the One hundred and sixty-sixth Regiment; declined the appointment of Governor of Idaho Territory; resumed the practice of law; also interested in banking and mercantile pursuits; delegate to the Loyalist Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; died in Medina, Medina County, Ohio, April 16, 1876; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

BLAKE, John, Jr., a Representative from New York; born in Ulster County, N. Y., December 5, 1762; attended the public schools; during the Revolutionary War served in the New York State Militia; appointed deputy sheriff of Ulster County in 1793; member of the State assembly 1798-1800; sheriff of Orange County 1803-1805; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1809); again a member of the State assembly in 1812 and 1813; judge of the court of common pleas for Orange County 1815-1818; again served in the State assembly in 1819; served as supervisor of the town of Montgomery fifteen terms; died in Montgomery, Orange County, N. Y., January 13, 1826; interment in the Berea Churchyard, near Newburgh, N. Y.

BLAKE, John Lauris, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Boston, Mass., March 25, 1831; received a classical education; moved to Orange, N. J., in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and commenced practice in Orange, N. J.; member of the State house of assembly in 1857; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1880; resumed the practice of his profession in Orange; became president of the Citizens' Gas Light Co. of Newark, N. J., in 1893; died in West Orange, Essex County, N. J., October 10, 1899; interment in Rosedale Cemetery, Orange, N. J.

BLAKE, Thomas Holdsworth, a Representative from Indiana; born in Calvert County, Md., June 14, 1792; attended the public schools; studied law in Washington, D. C.; member of the militia of the District of Columbia which took part in the Battle of Bladensburg in 1814; moved to Kentucky and thence to Indiana; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Terre Haute, Ind.; prosecuting attorney and judge of the circuit court; abandoned the practice of law to engage in business; member of the State house of representatives; elected as an Adams Republican to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1828 to the Twenty-first Congress; declined to be a candidate for the Twenty-second Congress; appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office by President Tyler on May 19, 1842, and served until April, 1845; chosen president of the Erie & Wabash Canal Co.; visited England as financial agent of the State of Indiana and, while returning, died in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 28, 1849; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Terre Haute, Ind.

BLAKENEY, Albert Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; born in Riderwood, Baltimore County, Md., September 28, 1850; attended private schools; learned the business of cotton manufacturing, and established the large cotton-duck mills now located in Franklinville, Md.; commissioner of Baltimore County 1895-1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed his former business activities in Franklinville, Baltimore County, Md.; elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; died in Baltimore, Md., October 15, 1924; interment in the Baltimore Cemetery.

BLANCHARD, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Peacham Township, Caledonia County, Vt., September 30, 1787; attended the common schools; taught school; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1812; moved to Pennsylvania and settled in York, York County, in 1812; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar March 31, 1815, and commenced practice in Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pa.; moved to Bellefonte the same year and continued the practice of law; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; died in Columbia, Lancaster County, Pa., en route from Washington, D. C., to his home, March 9, 1849; interment in the Union Cemetery, Bellefonte, Center County, Pa.

BLANCHARD, Jonathan, a Delegate from New Hampshire; born in Dunstable, N. H., September 18, 1738; attended the public schools; chosen a member of the council of twelve in 1775; delegate to the Fifth Provincial Congress in 1775; served in the first house of representatives of the State in 1776; appointed State attorney general in 1777; served as a member of the committee of safety in 1777 and 1778; one of the commissioners from New Hampshire to the convention at New Haven, Conn., in 1778 to regulate prices; Member of the Continental Congress in 1783, 1784, and 1787; first judge of probate under the State constitution of 1784; brigadier general of militia 1784-1788; died in Dunstable, N. H., July 16, 1788; interment in the Old South Burying Ground at Dunstable, now merged in Nashua, N. H.

BLANCHARD, Newton Crain, a Representative and a Senator from Louisiana; born in Rapides Parish, La., January 20, 1849; completed academic studies; studied law in Alexandria, La., in 1868, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Louisiana in 1870; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Shreveport, La., in 1871; elected chairman of the Democratic committee of Caddo Parish in 1876; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1879; appointed major on the staffs of Governors Wiltz and McEnery; trustee for Louisiana of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1881, until his resignation, effective March 12, 1894; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward D. White, and served from March 12, 1894, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for reelection; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896 and at Baltimore in 1912; elected associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Louisiana and served from 1897 to 1903, when he resigned; elected Governor of Louisiana and served from 1904 to 1908; resumed the practice of law in Shreveport, La.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1913 and served as president; died in Shreveport, La., June 22, 1922; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BLAND, Oscar Edward, a Representative from Indiana; born near Bloomfield, Green County, Ind., November 21, 1877; attended the public schools, Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., and the University of Indiana at Bloomington; taught school for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1901, and commenced practice in Linton, Ind.; member of the State senate 1907-1909; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election to Congress in 1910, 1912, and 1914; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; appointed by President Warren G. Harding associate judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals on March 4, 1923, in which capacity he is now serving; resides in Washington, D. C.

BLAND, Richard (uncle of Theodorick Bland), a Delegate from Virginia; born in Orange County, Va., May 6, 1710; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., and the University of Edinburgh; member of the Virginia House of Burgesses 1745-1775; was known as "The Virginia Antiquary"; member of the Virginia Committee of Correspondence in 1773; took a leading part in the Revolutionary War; Member of the Continental Congress in 1774 and 1775; again chosen, but declined to serve; member of the Revolutionary conventions of 1775 and 1776; died in Williamsburg, Va., October 28, 1776; interment in a private cemetery on the Jordan Point plantation, on the James River.

BLAND, Richard Parks, a Representative from Missouri; born near Hartford, Ohio County, Ky., August 19, 1835; received an academic education; moved to Missouri in 1855, thence to California, and later to that portion of Utah which is now the State of Nevada; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Virginia City; also interested in mining; treasurer of Carson County from 1860 until the organization of the State government of Nevada; returned to Missouri in 1865 and continued the practice of law in Rolla; moved to Lebanon, Moulton County, in August, 1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and to the ten succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; elected to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death; in 1896 was a strong candidate for the Democratic nomination for President and received two hundred and ninety votes; died in Lebanon, Mo., June 15, 1899; interment in the Lebanon Cemetery.

BLAND, Schuyler Otis, a Representative from Virginia; born near Gloucester, Gloucester County, Va., May 4, 1872; attended private schools, Gloucester Academy, Gloucester, Va., and William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; taught school in Accomac and Northampton Counties for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Newport News, Va.; served at different periods as president of the Chamber of Commerce of Newport News; vice president of the Virginia State Bar Association and president of the Newport News Bar Association; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William A. Jones; reelected to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from July 2, 1918, to March 3, 1927. Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

BLAND, Theodorick (nephew of Richard Bland), a Delegate and a Representative from Virginia; born at Cawsons, near Petersburg, Prince George County, Va., March 21, 1741; was sent to England to be educated; studied medicine in Edinburgh and was admitted to practice; returned to his home in 1759 and engaged in extensive practice; took an active part in the Revolutionary War; entered the Continental Army as captain of the First Troop of Virginia Cavalry; Member of the Continental Congress 1780–1783; appointed by Governor Henry Lieutenant of Prince George County Militia in 1785; member of the Virginia convention of 1788 on the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and was one of the minority which opposed its ratification; elected to the First Congress, and served from March 4, 1789, until his death in New York City June 1, 1790; interment in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

BLAND, William Thomas (grandson of John George Jackson and cousin of James Monroe Jackson), a Representative from Missouri; born in Weston, Lewis County, Va. (now West Virginia), January 21, 1861; was graduated from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown in 1883 and from the law department of that university in 1884; took a special course in law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1885, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Weston, W. Va.; moved to Atchison, Kans., in 1887; prosecuting attorney of Atchison County, Kans., 1890–1892; declined a reelection; mayor of Atchison in 1894; elected judge of the second Kansas district in 1896; reelected in 1900, and served until 1901, when he resigned; engaged in the wholesale drug business in 1901; moved to Kansas City, Mo., in 1904 and continued in business as a wholesale druggist; retired from the drug business in 1917 and engaged in banking; elected president of the Manufacturers and Merchants' Association in 1907 and president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce in 1909; chairman of the Kansas City River and Harbor Improvement Commission 1909–1918; director of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress; vice president of the Mississippi Valley Waterway Association; elected to the Kansas City Board of Education in 1912 for a six-year term and served as vice president and president; served as chairman of the first Liberty loan campaign and also as chairman of the Missouri and Kansas Red Cross drive during the World War; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1919–March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; moved to Florida and settled in Orlando in 1921; engaged in banking; served as a member of the Orlando Utilities Commission for three years; died in Orlando, Orange County, Fla., January 15, 1928; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BLANTON, Thomas Lindsay, a Representative from Texas; born in Houston, Harris County, Tex., October 25, 1872; educated in the public schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1897, with three years in the academic department; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Cleburne; moved to Albany, Tex., and continued the practice of law until 1908, when he was elected judge of the forty-second judicial district of Texas; reelected in 1912, and served in this capacity from 1908 until elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat from the "Jumbo" (sixteenth) district to the Sixty-fifth Congress, and after redistricting was elected from the seventeenth district to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917–March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

BLEAKLEY, Orrin Dubbs, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Franklin, Venango County, Pa., May 15, 1854; attended the common schools, the local academy of his native city, and the University of Bonn, Bonn, Prussia; engaged in banking with his father until 1876; interested in the production of oil from 1876 to 1883; organized the Franklin Trust Co. in the latter year, and became its president; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904; chairman of the Venango County Republican committee; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4 to April 3, 1917, when he resigned without having qualified; resumed banking in Franklin, Pa.; died in Robinson, Ill., December 3, 1927; interment in Franklin Cemetery, Franklin, Pa.

BLEASE, Coleman Livingston, a Senator from South Carolina; born near Newberry, Newberry County, S. C., October 8, 1808; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the law department of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., in 1839; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Newberry, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1850–1854, 1859, and 1900, and served as speaker pro tempore 1892–1894; mayor of Helena, S. C., in 1897; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Bryan and Sewell in 1896 and of Bryan and Stevenson in 1900; delegate to several State conventions and was president of the Democratic State convention in 1926; member of the Democratic State executive committee for several years; city attorney of Newberry in 1901 and 1902; member of the State senate 1905–1909, and served as president pro tempore in 1900 and 1907; mayor of Newberry in 1910; Governor of South Carolina 1911–1915; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1925, and ending March 3, 1931.

BLEDSON, Jesse (uncle of Robert Emmett Bledson Baylor), a Senator from Kentucky; born in Culpeper County, Va., April 6, 1776; when quite young moved with an elder brother to Kentucky; attended Transylvania Seminary and Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky.; studied law in Lexington, was admitted to the bar about 1800, and practiced; appointed secretary of state under Gov. Charles Scott in 1808; member of the State house of representatives in 1812; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1813, until his resignation on December 24, 1814; member of the State senate 1817-1820; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1820; judge of the Lexington circuit in 1822; settled in Lexington and engaged as professor of law in Transylvania University; minister in the Disciples Church; moved to Mississippi in 1833 and to Texas in 1836; was engaged in collecting historical material at the time of his death; died near Nacogdoches, Nacogdoches County, Tex., June 25, 1893.

BLEECKER, Harmanus, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., October 9, 1779; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1801, and commenced practice in Albany; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); was not a candidate for renomination in 1812; resumed the practice of law in Albany, N. Y.; member of the State assembly in 1814 and 1815; regent of the University of the State of New York 1822-1834; United States chargé d'affaires to the Netherlands May 12, 1837, to June 28, 1842; retired from public life and business pursuits; died in Albany, N. Y., July 19, 1849; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

BLISS, Aaron Thomas, a Representative from Michigan; born in Peterboro, Madison County, N. Y., May 22, 1837; attended the common schools; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in the Tenth Regiment New York Volunteer Cavalry October 1, 1861; served three years, being confined six months of this time in the prisons of Andersonville, Charleston, Macon, and Columbia; made his escape from Columbia, and after eighteen nights of travel through enemy territory reached the Union lines; rose while in the service from private to captain; moved to Saginaw, Mich., in December, 1865, and engaged in the manufacture of lumber; member of the State senate in 1882; appointed aide-de-camp on the staff of Governor Alger in 1885; held the same position on the staff of the commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in Michigan; Governor of Michigan 1900-1904; died in Saginaw, Mich., September 16, 1906; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

BLISS, Archibald Meserole, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., January 25, 1838; attended the common schools; alderman of Brooklyn, N. Y., 1864-1867, and served as president of the board of aldermen in 1866; unsuccessful Republican candidate for mayor of Brooklyn in 1867; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864 and at Chicago in 1868, to the Liberal National Convention at Cincinnati in 1872, and to the Democratic National Conventions in 1876, 1880, 1884, and 1888; member of the Board of Water Commissioners of Brooklyn in 1871 and 1872; president and vice president of the Bushwick Railroad Co. 1868-1878; director of the New York & Long Island Bridge Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; elected to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; engaged in the real-estate business in Washington, D. C., until his death there on March 19, 1923; interment in Cypress Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BLISS, George, a Representative from Ohio; born in Jericho, Vt., January 1, 1813; attended Granville College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Akron, Ohio; appointed presiding judge of the eighth judicial district in 1850, and served until the office was discontinued, owing to a change in the constitution; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); was a candidate for renomination in 1855 and subsequently withdrew; moved to Wooster, Ohio, and continued the practice of law; elected to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1869; died in Wooster, Ohio, October 24, 1898; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

BLISS, Philemon, a Representative from Ohio; born in Canton, Conn., July 28, 1813; attended Fairfield Academy and Hamilton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; later practiced in Elyria, Ohio; presiding judge of the fourteenth judicial circuit of Ohio 1848-1851; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Dakota by President Lincoln in 1861; subsequently moved to St. Joseph, Mo.; associate justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri 1868-1872; dean of the law division of the State University of Missouri at Columbia 1872-1889; died in St. Paul, Minn., August 25, 1889; interment in the Columbia Cemetery, Columbia, Mo.

BLODGETT, Rufus, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Dorchester, N. H., October 9, 1834; attended the common schools and Wentworth (N. H.) Academy; learned the machinist's trade; moved to New Jersey in 1866 and settled in Long Branch; builder of railroad equipment; president of the Long Branch City Bank; member of the State assembly in 1878 and 1879; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880 and at Chicago in 1896; superintendent of the New York & Long Branch Railroad 1884-1910; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1893; was not a candidate for reelection; mayor of Long Branch 1893-1898; engaged in the railroad business and in banking; died in Long Branch, Monmouth County, N. J., October 3, 1910; interment in the Village Cemetery, Wentworth, Grafton County, N. H.

BLOODWORTH, Timothy, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from North Carolina; born in New Hanover County, N. C., in 1736; educated at his own expense; was a master of many trades but subsequently became a teacher; in June, 1778, was employed in making muskets and bayonets for the Continental Army; member of the State house of commons in 1778 and 1779; treasurer of Wilmington District in 1781 and 1782; appointed commissioner of confiscated property in 1783; Member of the Continental Congress from 1788 to August 18, 1787, when he resigned; served in the State senate in 1788 and 1789; elected to the First Congress, and served from April 6, 1790, to March 3, 1791; member of the State house of representatives in 1793 and 1794; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1795, to March 3, 1801; collector of customs at Wilmington; died in Wilmington, N. C., August 24, 1814.

BLOOM, Isaac, a Representative from New York, born in Jamaica, Queens County, N. Y., about 1716; moved to Dutchess County about 1740; captain of minutemen of Charlotte precinct, Dutchess County, in 1775; was engaged in mercantile pursuits in 1784; member of the State assembly 1788-1792; delegate to the State convention in 1801; served in the State senate 1800-1802; elected to the Eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1803, until his death in Clinton, Dutchess County, N. Y., April 26, 1803; interment probably in Jamaica.

BLOOM, Sol, a Representative from New York; born in Pekin, Tazewell County, Ill., March 9, 1870; moved with his parents to San Francisco, Calif., in 1873; attended the public schools; engaged in the newspaper, theatrical, and music-publishing business; superintendent of construction of the Midway Plaisance at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893; moved to New York City in 1903 and engaged in the real-estate and construction business; captain of the New York Naval Reserves in 1917; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress on January 30, 1923, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative-elect Samuel Marx; reelected to the Sixty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1923, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BLOOMFIELD, Joseph, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Woodbridge, Middlesex County, N. J., October 5, 1753; educated at Rev. Enoch Green's school in Deerfield, N. J.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1775, and commenced practice in Bridgeton, N. J.; entered the Revolutionary Army as captain of the Third New Jersey Regiment on February 9, 1776; attained the rank of major; resumed the practice of law in Burlington, N. J.; registrar of the admiralty court 1779-1783; State attorney general from 1783 to 1792, when he resigned; presidential elector on the Washington and Adams ticket in 1792; trustee of Princeton College from 1793 until his resignation in 1801; Governor of New Jersey 1801-1812; commissioned brigadier general on March 13, 1812, and served until June 15, 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Seventeenth Congress; died in Burlington, Burlington County, N. J., October 3, 1823; interment in St. Mary's Episcopal Churchyard.

BLOUNT, James Henderson, a Representative from Georgia; born near Clinton, Jones County, Ga., September 12, 1837; attended private schools in Clinton, Ga., and Tuscaloosa, Ala.; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Clinton, Jones County, Ga.; moved to Macon, Ga., in 1872 and continued the practice of law; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as a private in the Second Georgia Battalion, Floyd Rifles, for two years, and was later lieutenant colonel for two years; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; appointed by President Cleveland commissioner to the Hawaiian Islands on March 20, 1893; retired from that position in 1893 and devoted his time to his plantation interests; died in Macon, Ga., March 8, 1903; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery.

BLOUNT, Thomas (brother of William Blount and uncle of William Grainger Blount), a Representative from North Carolina; born at "Blount Hall," Craven (now Pitt) County, N. C., May 10, 1759; educated at home; at the age of sixteen years entered the Continental Army; was captured and sent to England as a prisoner of war; after the Revolutionary War engaged in the mercantile business in Tarboro, Edgecombe County, N. C.; member of the State house of commons in 1788; elected as a Democrat to the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1799); elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1809); elected to the Twelfth Congress, and served from March 4, 1811, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 7, 1812; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BLOUNT, William (father of William Grainger Blount and brother of Thomas Blount), a Delegate from North Carolina and a Senator from Tennessee; born near Windsor, Bertie County, N. C., March 26, 1749; pursued preparatory studies in New Bern, N. C.; paymaster of the Continental troops, North Carolina Line, in 1777; served in the State house of commons 1780-1784; Member of the Continental Congress in 1782, 1783, 1786, and 1787; delegate to the convention that framed the Federal Constitution in 1787; member of the State senate 1788-1790; appointed governor of the Territory South of the River Ohio by President Washington in 1790; Superintendent of Indian Affairs 1790-1796; chairman of the convention which framed the first State constitution of Tennessee, February 6, 1796; upon the admission of Tennessee as a State into the Union was elected to the United States Senate, and served from August 2, 1796, until he was found guilty "of a high misdemeanor, entirely inconsistent with his public trust and duty as a Senator," and was expelled July 8, 1797; was active in a plan to incite the Creeks and Cherokees to aid the British in conquering the Spanish territory of west Florida; impeachment proceedings were instituted but dismissed; during the trial was elected to the State Senate of Tennessee and chosen its president at the opening of the session, December 3, 1797; died in Knoxville, Tenn., March 21, 1800; interment in the First Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

BLOUNT, William Grainger (son of William Blount and nephew of Thomas Blount), a Representative from Tennessee; born near New Bern, Craven County, N. C., in 1784; attended the New Bern Academy; moved with his parents to Knoxville, Tenn., in 1792; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1805, and commenced practice in Knoxville, Tenn.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of State house of representatives in 1811; secretary of state of Tennessee 1811-1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Sevier; reelected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from December 8, 1815, to March 3, 1819; declined to be a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of his profession in Knoxville; moved to Paris, Henry County, Tenn., in 1826 and continued the practice of law until his death there on May 21, 1827; interment in the City Cemetery.

BLOW, Henry Taylor, a Representative from Missouri; born in Southampton County, Va., July 15, 1817; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1830; attended the St. Louis University in 1830 and 1831; engaged in the paint and oil business, and later became largely interested in lead mines; member of the State senate 1854-1858; served as minister resident at Venezuela from June 8, 1861, to February 22, 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; resumed his former business pursuits; minister to Brazil from May 1, 1869, to February 11, 1871; was a member of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia in 1874 and 1875; died in Saratoga, Saratoga County, N. Y., September 11, 1875; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo.

BLUE, Richard Whiting, a Representative from Kansas; born near Parkersburg, Wood County, Va. (now West Virginia), September 8, 1841; worked on a farm in the summer time and studied in the select schools of that locality during the winter season; attended Monongalia Academy, Morgantown, Va., in 1859 and Washington (Pa.) College until his enlistment, on June 29, 1863, as a private in Company A, Third Regiment West Virginia Volunteer Infantry, during the Civil War; became second and then first lieutenant of the company; wounded in the Battle of Rocky Gap, West Virginia, August 26, 1863; prisoner of war in Libby Prison, Richmond, Va., and in Danville, Va., from October to December, 1864; honorably discharged May 22, 1866, at Leavenworth, Kans., when he returned to Grafton, W. Va.; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Virginia, and commenced practice in Linn County, Kans., in 1871; probate judge of Linn County 1872-1876; county attorney 1876-1880; member of the State senate 1880-1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; engaged in the practice of law until his death in Bartlesville, Washington County, Okla., January 28, 1907; interment in Pleasanton Cemetery, Pleasanton, Linn County, Kans.

BOARDMAN, Elijah (father of William Whiting Boardman), a Senator from Connecticut; born in New Milford, Conn., March 7, 1760; educated under private tutors; served in the Revolutionary War in Col. Charles Webb's regiment; employed as clerk in a mercantile establishment; engaged in mercantile pursuits 1781-1812; served in the State house of representatives 1803-1805 and again in 1816; member of the upper house, as it was then called, in 1817 and 1818; when the new State constitution was adopted served in the State senate 1819-1821; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1821, until his death while on a visit to Boardman, Ohio, October 8, 1823; interment in the Center Cemetery, New Milford, Conn.

BOARDMAN, William Whiting (son of Elijah Boardman), a Representative from Connecticut; born in New Milford, Conn., October 10, 1794; attended the Bacon Academy, Colchester, Conn.; was graduated from Yale College in 1812; studied law in Cambridge and Litchfield Law Schools, and commenced the practice of his profession in New Haven in 1819; clerk of the State senate in 1820; judge of probate; member of the State house of representatives 1836-1839, and served as speaker in 1839 and 1839; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William L. Storrs; reelected to Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from December 7, 1840, to March 3, 1843; was not a candidate for renomination in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; member of the State house of representatives in 1845, 1849, and 1851, and served as speaker in 1845; resumed the practice of law; died in New Haven, Conn., August 27, 1871; interment in the Grove Street Cemetery.

BOARMAN, Aleck, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Yazoo City, Yazoo County, Miss., December 10, 1839; moved with his parents to Shreveport, Caddo Parish, La., in 1845; attended the common schools of Shreveport, La., and the Kentucky Military Institute at Frankfort; was graduated from the University of Kentucky at Lexington in 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and practiced in Shreveport, La.; city attorney of Shreveport, 1868-1872; at the outbreak of the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army and served as lieutenant of the Caddo Rifles; was subsequently promoted to the rank of captain and served throughout the war; resumed the practice of law in Shreveport, La.; mayor of Shreveport from May 7, 1866, to August 8, 1867; elected as a Liberal to the Forty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James McCleery, and served from December 3, 1872, to March 3, 1873; resumed the practice of law in Shreveport, La.; judge of the tenth judicial district court Caddo Parish, La., 1877-1880; appointed United States judge for the western district of Louisiana on May 18, 1881, and served until his death at Loon Lake, Franklin County, N. Y., August 30, 1916; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Shreveport, La.

BOATNER, Charles Jahleal, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Columbia, Caldwell Parish, La., January 23, 1849; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and practiced; member of the State senate 1876-1878; resigned in May, 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, but on March 20, 1896, the House declared the seat vacant, the election having been contested by Alexis Benoit; elected to fill the vacancy caused by the House declaring the seat vacant, and served from June 10, 1896, to March 3, 1897; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1896; moved to New Orleans and resumed the practice of law; died in New Orleans, La., March 21, 1903; interment in the Monroe Cemetery, Monroe, La.

BOCKEE, Abraham, a Representative from New York; born in Shekomeko, Dutchess County, N. Y., February 3, 1764; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., May 4, 1803; studied law in Poughkeepsie, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and practiced in Poughkeepsie until 1815, when he returned to Shekomeko; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State assembly in 1820; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); elected to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); served in the State senate 1840-1844; elected judge of the court of errors in 1848; first judge of the Dutchess County court in 1846; died in Shekomeko, N. Y., June 1, 1865; interment on his estate near Shekomeko.

BOCOCK, Thomas Stanhope, a Representative from Virginia; born at Buckingham Court House, Buckingham (now Appomattox) County, Va., May 18, 1815; educated by private tutors; was graduated from Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia, in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice at Buckingham Court House; member of the State house of delegates 1842-1844; prosecuting attorney of Appomattox County in 1845 and 1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1861); elected a Representative to the Confederate Congress in 1861; was chosen speaker of that body February 18, 1862; again a member of the State house of delegates in 1868, 1870, 1877, and 1878; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868, at St. Louis in 1876, and at Cincinnati in 1880; died in Appomattox County, Va., August 5, 1891; interment in the Old Boccock Cemetery (private burying ground), near Wildway, Va.

BODEN, Andrew, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Carlisle, Cumberland County, Pa.; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; also engaged in the real-estate business; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); resumed the practice of law; died in Carlisle, Pa., December 20, 1835.

BODINE, Robert Nall, a Representative from Missouri; born near Paris, Monroe County, Mo., December 17, 1837; attended the Paris Academy, and was graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia, in 1859; principal of the Paris public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Paris, Mo.; prosecuting attorney of Monroe County; delegate to the State convention in 1890; member of the State house of representatives 1895-1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); resumed the practice of law in Paris, Mo., and died there March 16, 1914; interment in Walnut Grove Cemetery.

BODLE, Charles, a Representative from New York; born near Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1787; was a wagon maker by trade; justice of the peace; held several political offices in Bloomingburg, Sullivan County; elected to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); died in New York City October 31, 1835; interment in Bloomingburg Cemetery, Bloomingburg, N. Y.

BOEHNE, John William, a Representative from Indiana; born in Scott Township, Vanderburg County, Ind., October 28, 1856; attended the district schools, the German parochial school of the Lutheran Church, and Evansville Business College; moved to Evansville, Ind., in 1872; became an accountant; engaged in the manufacture of stoves and ranges and also interested in other manufacturing enterprises; elected councilman at large in 1897, and reelected in 1899; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for mayor of Evansville in 1901; mayor 1905-1908; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1913); was not a candidate for renomination in 1912; director of the Federal reserve bank at St. Louis, Mo.; retired from active business pursuits, and is a resident of Evansville, Vanderburg County, Ind.

BOEN, Haldor Erickson, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Sondre Aurdal, Valdres, Norway, January 2, 1851; emigrated to the United States in 1868 and settled in Mower County, Minn.; attended the St. Cloud Normal School in 1869 and 1870; located near Fergus Falls, Ottertail County, January 1, 1871; employed in the auditor's office in 1872, computing the first taxes levied in Ottertail County; taught in the common schools of that county 1874-1879; justice of the peace 1875-1900; elected county commissioner in 1880; register of deeds 1888-1892; elected as a candidate of the People's Party to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; editor of the Fergus Falls Globe; resumed agricultural pursuits in Ottertail County, Minn.; died in Aurdal Township, Ottertail County, Minn., July 23, 1912; interment in Aurdal Cemetery, near Fergus Falls, Minn.

BOERUM, Simon, a Delegate from New York; born in New Lots (now Brooklyn), Long Island, N. Y., February 23, 1724; attended the Dutch school at Flatbush, N. Y., from which he was graduated; engaged in agricultural pursuits and milling; appointed by Governor Clinton county clerk of Kings County in 1750; also became clerk of the board of supervisors, and held both positions until his death; member of the colonial assembly 1761-1775; deputy to the provincial convention in April, 1775; Member of the Continental Congress in 1775; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 11, 1775; interment in the cemetery of the Dutch Reformed Church; reinterment in Glenwood Cemetery.

BOGY, Lewis Vital, a Senator from Missouri; born in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., April 9, 1813; attended the public schools; employed as clerk in a mercantile establishment; studied law in Illinois, was graduated from a law school in Lexington, Ky., in 1835, and commenced practice in St. Louis; served in the Black Hawk War; member of the Board of Aldermen of St. Louis in 1838; member of the State house of representatives in 1840, 1841, 1854, and 1855; Commissioner of Indian Affairs in 1867 and 1868; president of the City Council of St. Louis in 1872; one of the projectors of the St. Louis & Iron Mountain Railway; acting president of the company for two years; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1873, until his death in St. Louis, Mo., September 20, 1877; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

BOIES, William Dayton, a Representative from Iowa; born in Boone County, Ill., January 3, 1857; moved with his parents to Buchanan County, Iowa, in 1873 and settled near Quasqueton; attended the country schools and the public schools of Belvidere, Ill.; was graduated in law from the State University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1880; was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Sheldon, O'Brien County, Iowa; member of the school board of the Independent school district of Sheldon for ten years; appointed judge of the district court of the fourth judicial district of Iowa January 1, 1913; on a division of this district became judge of the twenty-first judicial district of the State, and in 1914 was elected for a term of four years, which position he resigned on March 31, 1918, to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1926 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against George W. English, judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Illinois. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOKEE, David Alexander, a Representative from New York; born in New York City October 6, 1805; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; president of the Brooklyn Board of Aldermen 1840-1843 and 1845-1848; member of the State senate 1846-1849; trustee of the New York Life Insurance Co. 1848-1860; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); appointed by President Fillmore naval officer of customs of the port of New York, and served from 1851 to 1853; engaged as shipping merchant; died in Washington, D. C., March 15, 1860; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BOLES, Thomas, a Representative from Arkansas; born near Clarksville, Johnson County, Ark., July 16, 1837; attended the common schools; taught school for several years; sheriff of Yell County in 1858; deputy clerk of the circuit court of Yell County in 1859 and 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Danville, Ark.; during the Civil War served as captain of Company E, Third Regiment Arkansas Volunteer Cavalry; judge of the fourth judicial circuit from 1865 to April 20, 1868, when he resigned; upon the readmission of Arkansas to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress; reelected to the Forty-first Congress, and served from June 22, 1868, until March 3, 1871; successfully contested the election of John Edwards to the Forty-second Congress, and served from February 9, 1872, until March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; resumed the practice of law at Dardanelle, Yell County, Ark.; served many years as school director and alderman; appointed receiver of the land office at Dardanelle by President Hayes in February, 1878; United States marshal for the western district of Arkansas 1881-1889; delegate to every Republican State convention from the organization of the party until his death; clerk of the United States Circuit Court for the Eighth Judicial Circuit from September, 1897, until his death in Fort Smith, Sebastian County, Ark., March 13, 1905; interment in the Brealey Cemetery, Dardanelle, Ark.

BOND, Charles Grosvenor, a Representative from New York; born in Columbus, Franklin County, Ohio, May 29, 1877; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the law department of the Ohio State University at Columbus in 1899; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced the practice of law in Columbus, Ohio; moved to New York City in 1902 and continued the practice of his profession; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful Republican candidate for president of the Borough of Brooklyn in 1926; is a resident of New York City.

BOND, Shadrach, a Delegate from Illinois Territory; born in Frederick, Md., November 24, 1773; received a common-school education; moved to Kaskaskia, Ill. (then Indiana Territory), in 1794 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the legislative council of Indiana Territory 1805-1808; when Illinois Territory was formed was elected on October 10, 1812, as a Democrat to Congress for a term of two years (Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses); served as receiver of public moneys in the general land office at Kaskaskia, Ill., 1814-1818; upon the admission of Illinois as a State into the Union was elected its first governor and served from 1818 to 1822; appointed register of the land office for the district of Kaskaskia on January 28, 1823, and served until his death in Kaskaskia, Randolph County, Ill., April 12, 1832; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Chester, Ill.

BOND, William Key, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mt. Marys County, Md., October 2, 1792; attended the schools at Litchfield, Conn., where he also studied law at the Litchfield Law School; moved to Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1812; was admitted to the bar in 1813 and commenced practice in Chillicothe; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1840; moved to Cincinnati in 1841 and continued the practice of his profession; appointed surveyor of the port of Cincinnati by President Fillmore May 2, 1849, and served until September 28, 1853; became interested in the development of railroads in the West; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 17, 1864; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

BONHAM, Milledge Luke, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Red Bank (now Saluda), Edgefield District, S. C., December 25, 1813; attended private schools in Edgefield District and at Abbeville, S. C.; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Edgefield in 1837; served as major and adjutant general of the South Carolina Brigade in the Seminole War in Florida in 1836; during the Mexican War was lieutenant colonel and colonel of the Twelfth Regiment United States Infantry; major general of the South Carolina Militia; member of the State house of representatives 1840-1844; solicitor of the southern circuit of South Carolina 1848-1857; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, until his retirement on December 21, 1860; appointed major general and commander of the Army of South Carolina by Gov. F. W. Pickens in February, 1861; appointed brigadier general in the Confederate Army April 19, 1861; commanded in the center of General Beauregard's army in the first Battle of Manassas; resigned his commission January 27, 1862, to enter the Confederate Congress; elected Governor of South Carolina in December, 1862, and served until December, 1864; appointed brigadier general of cavalry in the Confederate Army in February, 1865; again a member of the State house of representatives 1865-1867; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; member of the South Carolina taxpayers' convention in 1871 and 1874; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1876; resumed the practice of law in Edgefield, engaged in planting, and also conducted an insurance business in Edgefield, S. C., and Atlanta, Ga., 1865-1878; appointed State railroad commissioner in 1878, and served until his death at White Sulphur Springs, N. C., August 27, 1890; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, Columbia, S. C.

RONYNGE, Robert William, a Representative from Colorado; born in New York City September 8, 1803; attended the public schools; was graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1822 and from the law department of Columbia College, New York City, in 1835; was admitted to the bar in 1835 and commenced practice in New York City; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1838; member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1839; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1900 to the Fifty-seventh Congress; contested the election to the Fifty-eighth Congress of John F. Shafroth, who in an address before the House of Representatives withdrew from the contest and conceded his election; reelected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from February 16, 1904, until March 3, 1909; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; member of the National Monetary Commission 1908-1912; resumed the practice of law in Denver, Colo.; moved to New York City in November, 1912, and continued the practice of law; chief counsel of the New York State Industrial Commission 1916-1918; United States agent before the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany, in 1923 and before the Tripartite Claims Commission, United States, Austria, and Hungary, in 1927; is a resident of New York City.

BOODY, Azariah, a Representative from New York; born in Stanstead County, Province of Quebec, Canada, April 21, 1815; moved to Massachusetts with his parents, who settled in Lowell; attended the common schools, and soon thereafter moved to Rochester, N. Y.; became interested in the building of railroads, canals, and bridges; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress, and served from March 4, until his resignation in October, 1853, before the convening of Congress; moved to New York City and continued his former business pursuits; served as president of the Wabash Railroad Co.; retired from active business pursuits in 1875, retaining his residence in New York City, where he died on November 18, 1885.

BOODY, David Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Jackson, Waldo County, Me., August 13, 1837; attended the common schools and Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860 at Belfast, Me., and commenced practice in Camden, Me.; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1862; engaged in banking and the brokerage business; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Chicago in 1884 and 1892; delegate to the New York State Democratic convention in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from March 4 to October 13, 1891, when he resigned, having become a candidate for mayor; mayor of Brooklyn, serving in that capacity in 1892 and 1893; became president of the Brooklyn Public Library in 1901, in which capacity he is still serving; president of Berkeley Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., 1890-1922; resumed his former banking pursuits; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Wilson and Marshall in 1912; was a member of the New York Stock Exchange but retired in 1920, and resides in Brooklyn, N. Y.

BOOHER, Charles Ferris, a Representative from Missouri; born in East Groveland, Livingston County, N. Y., January 31, 1848; attended the common schools and the Genesee Academy, Genesee, N. Y.; taught school and studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1871 and commenced practice in Savannah, Mo.; prosecuting attorney of Andrew County 1877-1879 and 1883-1885; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English in 1880; mayor of Savannah, Mo., 1886-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James N. Burnes, and served from February 19 to March 3, 1889; elected to the Sixtieth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1907, until his death; was not a candidate for renomination in 1920; died in Savannah, Andrew County, Mo., January 21, 1921; interment in the City Cemetery.

BOOKER, George William, a Representative from Virginia; born near Stuart, Patrick County, Va., December 5, 1821; attended the public schools; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and commenced practice in Patrick County; elected a justice of the peace in Henry County; member and presiding justice of the county court from August, 1856, to February, 1868; member of the State house of delegates in 1865 and 1873; nominated by the Republican Party and elected attorney general in 1868, but resigned in 1869; upon the readmission of the State of Virginia to representation was elected as a Conservative to the Forty-first Congress, and served from January 20, 1870, to March 3, 1871; resumed the practice of law in Martinsville, Henry County, Va., where he died June 4, 1888; interment in the family cemetery.

BOON, Ratliff, a Representative from Indiana; born in Franklin County, N. C., January 18, 1781; moved with his parents to Warren County, Ky.; attended the public schools; moved to Danville, Ky., and learned the gunsmith's trade; moved to what is now Boon Township, Warrick County, Ind., in 1809; on the organization of Warrick County was appointed its first treasurer in 1813; member of the State house of representatives in 1816 and 1817; served in the State senate in 1818; elected Lieutenant Governor of Indiana in 1819; upon the resignation of Jonathan Jennings became governor, and served from September 12 to December 5, 1822; reelected Lieutenant governor in August, 1822, and served until January 30, 1824, when he resigned to become a candidate for Congress; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1828 to the Twentieth Congress; elected to the Twenty-first and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1886; moved to Pike County, Mo., in 1839; died in Louisiana, Mo., November 20, 1844; interment in an old cemetery in Louisiana, Pike County, Mo.; reinterment in Riverview Cemetery.

BOONE, Andrew Richmond, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Davidson County, Tenn., April 4, 1831; moved with his parents to Mayfield, Graves County, Ky., in 1833; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and practiced in Mayfield; elected judge of the Graves County court in 1854; reelected in 1858, and served until 1861, when he resigned; member of the State house of representatives in 1861; circuit judge for the first judicial district of Kentucky 1868-1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for reelection in 1878; chairman of the State railroad commission 1882-1886; died in Mayfield, Ky., January 26, 1886; interment in Mayfield Cemetery.

BOOTH, Newton, a Senator from California; born in Salem, Washington County, Ind., December 25, 1825; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Asbury (later De Pauw) University, Greencastle, Ind., in 1846; studied law in Terre Haute, Ind., and was admitted to the bar in 1850, when he moved to California, where he temporarily engaged in the wholesale grocery business at Sacramento; returned to Terre Haute in 1857 and engaged in the practice of law until 1860, when he returned to Sacramento, Calif., and again engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State senate in 1863; elected Governor of California in 1871, and served until March, 1874, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; elected as an Anti-Monopolist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; engaged in the wholesale mercantile business in Sacramento, Calif., where he died July 14, 1892; interment in the City Cemetery.

BOOTH, Walter, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Woodbridge, Conn., December 8, 1791; attended the common schools; settled in Meriden and engaged in manufacturing; colonel of the Tenth Regiment, Second Battalion of Militia, 1825-1827, brigadier general in 1827 and 1828, and major general of the First Division 1831-1834; judge of the county court in 1834; member of the State house of representatives in 1838; elected as a Free-Soller to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; died in Meriden, New Haven County, Conn., April 30, 1870; interment in the East Cemetery.

BOOTHMAN, Melvin Morella, a Representative from Ohio; born near Bryan, Williams County, Ohio, October 10, 1846; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; enlisted in Company H, Thirty-eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, January 4, 1864, "for three years, or during the Civil War"; served through the Atlanta campaign; was graduated from the law department of Michigan University at Ann Arbor in 1871; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Bryan, Ohio; elected treasurer of Williams County in 1871, and reelected in 1873; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of law in Bryan, Ohio, and died there March 5, 1904; interment in Fountain City Cemetery.

BOOZE, William Samuel, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., January 9, 1862; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Baltimore City College in 1879 and afterwards attended the University of Maryland; was graduated in medicine from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, in 1882 and practiced his profession in Baltimore until 1896, when he was elected to Congress; unsuccessfully contested the election of Harry Welles Rusk to the Fifty-fourth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; engaged in banking and the brokerage business in Baltimore, Md., until 1915, when he again engaged in the practice of medicine; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904 and 1908; is a resident of Baltimore, Md.

BORAH, William Edgar, a Senator from Idaho; born near Fairfield, Wayne County, Ill., June 29, 1855; attended the common schools of Wayne County and the Southern Illinois Academy at Enfield; was graduated from the University of Kansas at Lawrence in 1889; was admitted to the bar the following year and commenced the practice of law in Lyons, Kans.; moved to Boise, Idaho, in 1891 and devoted his time exclusively to the practice of his profession; member of the Republican National Committee 1908-1912; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912 that nominated Taft and Sherman; elected in 1907 as a Republican to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1907; reelected in 1913, 1918, and again in 1924 for the term ending March 3, 1931.

BORCHERS, Charles Martin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Lockville, Fairfield County, Ohio, November 18, 1869; moved to Illinois with his parents, who settled in Macon County in 1875; attended the common schools; taught school in Macon County for seven years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1897, and commenced practice in Decatur, Macon County, Ill.; mayor of Decatur 1909-1911; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; again served as mayor of Decatur 1919-1923; is a resident of Decatur, Ill.

BORDEN, Nathaniel Briggs, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Fall River, Mass., April 15, 1801; attended the district school and the Plainfield (Conn.) Academy; organized the Pocasset Manufacturing Co. in Fall River, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1831 and 1834; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful Whig candidate for reelection to the Twenty-sixth Congress in 1838; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); member of the State senate from 1845 to 1848; served in the State house of representatives in 1851; elected mayor of Fall River in 1856 and reelected in 1857; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1864; engaged in banking and served as president of the Fall River Savings Bank, the Fall River Union Bank, and the Fall River Railroad Co.; died in Fall River, Bristol County, Mass., April 10, 1895; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

BOREING, Vincent, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Jonesboro, Washington County, Tenn., November 24, 1839; moved with his father to Laurel County, Ky., in 1847; attended Laurel Seminary, London, Ky., and Tusculum College, Greenville, Tenn.; enlisted as a private in the Union Army during the Civil War in Company A, Twenty-fourth Regiment Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, November 1, 1861; for meritorious conduct was commissioned first lieutenant; was severely wounded in battle at Resaca, Ga., May 14, 1863; county superintendent of public schools 1868-1872; established the Mountain Echo at London, Ky., in 1875, the first Republican newspaper published in southeastern Kentucky; county judge in 1886; president of the Cumberland Valley Land Co. in 1887; president of the First National Bank of London in 1888; department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in Kentucky in 1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in London, Laurel County, Ky., September 10, 1903; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery.

BOREMAN, Arthur Inghram, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Waynesburg, Pa., July 24, 1823; moved to Virginia with his father, who settled in Tyler County, and attended the public schools; studied law at Middlebourne, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Parkersburg; member of the House of Delegates of Virginia 1855-1860; also served in the house of delegates at the extra session of the legislature in 1861, taking an active part against the secession movement; presided over the convention of supporters of the Union of the northwestern counties of Virginia held at Wheeling, June 19, 1861, to form the new State of West Virginia; elected judge of the circuit court in October, 1861, and held the office until 1863; unanimously elected the first Governor of West Virginia in 1863; twice reelected, and served from June 20, 1863, until February 26, 1869, when he resigned to accept the nomination as United States Senator; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; resumed the practice of his profession in Parkersburg, W. Va.; again elected judge of the Circuit Court of West Virginia in 1888; died in Parkersburg, Wood County, W. Va., April 19, 1896; interment in the Old Fellows Cemetery.

BORLAND, Charles, Jr., a Representative from New York; born in Minisink, Orange County, N. Y., June 29, 1786; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; president board of trustees of Montgomery for ten years; member of the State assembly in 1820 and 1821; elected to the Seventeenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Selah Tuthill, and served from November 8, 1821, to March 3, 1823; district attorney of Orange County 1835-1841; again a member of the State assembly in 1836; died in Wardsbridge, N. Y., February 23, 1852; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Montgomery, N. Y.

BORLAND, Solon, a Senator from Arkansas; born near Suffolk, Nansemond County, Va., September 21, 1808; attended preparatory schools in North Carolina; studied medicine and afterwards practiced; located in Little Rock, Ark.; served throughout the Mexican War as major of Yell's Arkansas Volunteer Cavalry and as volunteer aide to Major General Worth; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ambrose H. Sevier, and served from March 30, 1848, to April 3, 1853, when he resigned; United States minister to Nicaragua and the other Central American Republics from April 18, 1853, to June 30, 1854; declined the appointment of Governor of the Territory of New Mexico; returned to Arkansas and resumed the practice of medicine in Little Rock until 1861; during the Civil War raised a brigade of troops for the Confederate Army and took possession of Fort Smith April 24, 1861; subsequently raised the Third Regiment Arkansas Confederate Cavalry and became its colonel; appointed a brigadier general in the Confederate service; died near Houston, Tex., January 1, 1864; interment in the City Cemetery, Houston, Tex.

BORLAND, William Patterson, a Representative from Missouri; born in Leavenworth, Kans., October 14, 1867; attended the public schools; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1892, was admitted to the bar, and commenced the practice of law in Kansas City, Mo., the same year; assisted in the organization of the Kansas City School of Law and served as dean 1895-1909; member of the board of freeholders directed to draft a charter for Kansas City in 1898; also engaged as an author on law subjects; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first, Sixty-second, Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, until his death; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; died near Coblenz, Germany, while on a Masonic mission abroad, on February 20, 1919; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, Kansas City, Mo.

BORST, Peter I., a Representative from New York; born in Middleburg, Schoharie County, N. Y., April 24, 1797; attended the common schools; served as an officer of State troops and on the staff of Gov. William C. Bouck; held various local positions; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); member of the committee appointed by the county board of supervisors to oversee the building of the first county almshouse in 1838; died in Middleburg, N. Y., November 14, 1848; interment in the family burying ground on his estate, "The Hook," in Schoharie County.

BOSS, John Linscom, Jr., a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Charleston, S. C., September 7, 1780; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Newport, R. I.; held many important local offices; member of the State house of representatives from 1806 to 1815; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819); died in Newport, R. I., August 1, 1819; interment in the Common Burial Ground.

BOSSIER, Pierre Evariste John Baptiste, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Natchitoches, La., March 22, 1797, of a Creole family which was among the first to settle in the French colony; received a classical education; engaged as a sugar and cotton planter; member of the State senate 1833-1843; elected as a Calhoun Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1843, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 24, 1844; interment in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.; reinterment in the Catholic Cemetery, Natchitoches, La.

BOTELER, Alexander Robinson, a Representative from Virginia; born in Shepherdstown, Jefferson County, Va., May 16, 1815; was graduated from Princeton College in 1835; engaged in agriculture and also devoted himself to literary pursuits; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army and was a member of Stonewall Jackson's staff; chosen by the State convention a Representative from Virginia to the Confederate Provisional Congress November 19, 1861; elected from Virginia to the Confederate Congress serving from February, 1862, to February, 1864; appointed a member of the Centennial Commission in 1876; was appointed a member of the Tariff Commission by President Arthur, and subsequently made pardon clerk in the Department of Justice by Attorney General Brewster; died in Shepherdstown, Jefferson County, W. Va., May 8, 1882; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

BOTKIN, Jeremiah Dunham, a Representative from Kansas; born near Atlanta, Logan County, Ill., April 24, 1849; attended the country schools; spent one year at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., pursued theological studies, and entered the Methodist ministry in 1870; unsuccessful Prohibition candidate for Governor of Kansas in 1888; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; chaplain of the Kansas Senate in 1897; elected as a Fusionist to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1900); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress; resumed ministerial duties; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1908; warden of the State penitentiary, Lansing, Kans., 1913-1915; again resumed his ministerial duties; became a Chautauqua lecturer in 1921; died in Liberal, Seward County, Kans., December 29, 1921; interment in Winfield Cemetery, Winfield, Cowley County, Kans.

BOTTS, John Minor, a Representative from Virginia; born in Dumfries, Va., September 16, 1802; attended the common schools in Richmond, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Richmond, Va.; moved to Henrico County and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of delegates 1833-1839; elected as a Henry Clay Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; elected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848 and 1850 to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses, respectively; resumed the practice of law in Richmond, Va., in 1852; delegate to the Southern Loyalists' Convention in 1866; died in Richmond, Va., January 8, 1869; interment in Shockoe Hill Cemetery.

BOUCK, Gabriel, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Fultonham, Schoharie County, N. Y., December 16, 1828; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1847; studied law; moved to Oshkosh, Winnebago County, Wis., in 1848; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Oshkosh; attorney general of the State in 1858 and 1859; member of the State assembly in 1860 and 1874; served the last year as speaker; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as captain of Company E, Second Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, from July 11, 1861, to April 21, 1862, and colonel of the Eighteenth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry from April 22, 1862, to January 4, 1864; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868 and at Baltimore in 1872; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law in Oshkosh, Wis., and died there February 21, 1904; interment in the Riverside Cemetery.

BOUCK, Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in that State; attended the public schools; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); resided in Middleburg, N. Y.

BOUDE, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lancaster, Pa., May 17, 1762; attended private schools; during the Revolutionary War served as a lieutenant under Gen. Anthony Wayne with the Second, Fourth, and Fifth Pennsylvania Battalions from January 5, 1776, to November 8, 1783, and was promoted to captain and brevet major; engaged in business as a lumber dealer in Columbia, Pa.; member and one of the organizers of the Society of the Cincinnati; member of the State house of representatives 1794-1796; elected as a Federalist to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1802 to the Eighth Congress; resumed his former business as a lumber dealer; died in Columbia, Lancaster County, October 24, 1822, interment in that part of Mount Bethel Cemetery known as the "Brick Graveyard."

BOUDINOT, Elias, a Delegate and a Representative from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 2, 1740; received a classical education; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1760, and commenced practice in Elizabethtown, N. J.; member of the board of trustees of Princeton College 1772-1821; member of the committee of safety in 1775; commissary general of prisoners in the Revolutionary Army 1776-1779; Member of the Continental Congress 1777, 1778, and 1781-1784; was President of the Congress 1782-83 and signed the treaty of peace with England; resumed the practice of law; elected to the First, Second, and Third Congresses (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1795); was not a candidate for renomination in 1794; Director of the Mint from October, 1795, to July, 1805, when he resigned; elected first president of the American Bible Society in 1816; died in Burlington, Burlington County, N. J., October 24, 1821; interment in St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal Church Cemetery.

BOULDIN, James Wood (brother of Thomas Tyler Bouldin), a Representative from Virginia; born in Charlotte County, Va., in 1792; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar April 12, 1813, and commenced practice at Charlotte Court House, Va.; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas T. Bouldin; reelected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 28, 1834, to March 3, 1839; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died at his country home, "Forest Hill," Charlotte County, Va., March 30, 1854; interment in the private burial ground on his estate.

BOULDIN, Thomas Tyler (brother of James Wood Bouldin), a Representative from Virginia; born near Charlotte Court House, Charlotte County, Va., in 1781; attended the country schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar December 6, 1802, and commenced practice at Charlotte Court House, Va.; appointed judge of the general court; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1829, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 11, 1834, while addressing the House of Representatives; interment in the private cemetery on his farm, "Golden Hills," near Drakes Branch, Charlotte County, Va.

BOULIGNY, Dominique (uncle of John Edward Boulligny), a Senator from Louisiana; born in Louisiana in 1773; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New Orleans; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Johnson, and served from November 19, 1824, to March 3, 1829; died in New Orleans, La., March 5, 1833.

BOULIGNY, John Edward (nephew of Dominique Boulligny), a Representative from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., February 5, 1824; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New Orleans; held several local offices; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); was strongly opposed to secession and was the only Louisiana Member to retain his seat after the State seceded on January 26, 1861; retired to private life and remained in the North during the Civil War until his death in Washington, D. C., February 20, 1864; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BOUND, Franklin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Milton, Northumberland County, Pa., April 9, 1829; attended the common schools and the old Milton Academy; studied law at Easton, Pa., was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Milton; member of the State senate 1860-1863; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868; served as a private in one of the emergency regiments called for the defense of the State; was mustered into the United States service and discharged with his regiment; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed the practice of law; died in Milton, Pa., August 8, 1910; interment in the Milton Cemetery.

BOURN, Benjamin, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Bristol, R. I., September 9, 1755; was graduated from Harvard College in 1775; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Providence; held several public offices; quartermaster of the Second Rhode Island Regiment in 1776; member of the general assembly in 1789 and 1790; member of the committee which presented a petition from Rhode Island to the Continental Congress; upon the ratification of the Constitution by the State of Rhode Island was elected as a Federalist to the First, Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses, and served from August 31, 1790, until his resignation in 1796, before the close of the Fourth Congress; appointed judge of the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island in 1801 and later judge of the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern Circuit; died in Bristol, R. I., September 17, 1808; interment in Juniper Hill Cemetery.

BOURNE, Jonathan, Jr., a Senator from Oregon; born in New Bedford, Bristol County, Mass., February 23, 1855; attended private schools and Harvard University; settled in Portland, Oreg., May 16, 1878; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and practiced in Portland; became largely interested in mining, farming, and commercial enterprises; president of a number of Oregon corporations and of the Bourne cotton mills in Fall River, Mass.; member of the Oregon House of Representatives in 1885, 1886, and 1897; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888 and at Minneapolis in 1892; member of the Republican National Committee from 1888 to 1892; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1907, to March 3, 1913; unsuccessful candidate in the State preferential primary for the Republican renomination of United States Senator in 1912; president of the National Republican Progressive League; engaged in newspaper work in Washington, D. C., where he now resides.

BOURNE, Shearjashub, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Barnstable, Mass., June 14, 1740; was graduated from Harvard College in 1764; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Boston; member of the State house of representatives 1782-1785 and 1788-1790; member of the convention in 1788 which ratified the Constitution; elected to the Second and Third Congresses (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1795); justice of the court of common pleas of Suffolk County from 1799 until his death in Boston, Mass., March 11, 1806.

BOUTELL, Henry Sherman, a Representative from Illinois; born in Boston, Mass., March 14, 1856; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1863; pursued academic studies; was graduated from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1874 and from Harvard University in 1876; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in Chicago, Ill.; member of the State house of representatives in 1884 and 1885 and was one of the "103" who elected General Logan to the United States Senate; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward D. Cooke; reelected to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from November 23, 1897, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; served as a trustee of Northwestern University 1899-1911; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Portugal March 2, 1911, and to Switzerland April 24, 1911, and served until 1913, when he resigned; professor of constitutional law in Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., 1914-1923; died while on a trip to Europe in San Remo, Italy, March 11, 1926; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery, Westboro, Worcester County, Mass.

BOUTELLE, Charles Addison, a Representative from Maine; born in Damariscotta, Lincoln County, Me., February 9, 1839; attended the public schools at Brunswick and the Yarmouth Academy; adopted the profession of shipmaster; in the spring of 1862 volunteered and was appointed acting master in the United States Navy; served in the North and South Atlantic and West Gulf Squadrons; took part in the blockade of Charleston and Wilmington, the Pocotaligo expedition, the capture of St. Johns Bluff, and occupation of Jacksonville, Fla.; while an officer of the United States steamer Sassacus was promoted to Lieutenant "for gallant conduct in the engagement with the Confederate ironclad Albatross," May 5, 1864; afterwards in command of the U. S. S. Nyanza; participated in the capture of Mobile and in receiving surrender of the Confederate Fleet; afterwards assigned to command of naval forces in Mississippi Sound; honorably discharged January 14, 1868; engaged in business in New York; became managing editor of the Bangor (Me.) Whig and Courier in 1870 and purchased controlling ownership in 1874; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and to the nine succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1883, until his resignation, March 3, 1901, before the commencement of the Fifty-seventh Congress, to which he had been reelected; by joint resolution of Congress on January 16, 1901, was placed on the retired list of the Navy, with the rank of captain; died in Waverley, Middlesex County, Mass., May 21, 1901; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Bangor, Me.

BOUTWELL, George Sewel, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Brookline, Mass., January 28, 1818; attended the public schools; taught school in Shirley, Mass.; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Groton, Mass., in 1841; appointed postmaster of Groton in 1841; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but did not enter into active practice for many years; member of the State house of representatives 1842-1844 and 1847-1850; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in 1849 and 1850; State bank commissioner 1849-1851; Governor of Massachusetts in 1851 and 1852; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; secretary of the State board of education from October, 1855, until January, 1861; member of the board of overseers of Harvard University from 1850 until 1860; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; served on the military commission under the War Department in 1862; first Commissioner of Internal Revenue in 1862 and 1863; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1863, to March 12, 1869, when he resigned; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1868 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Grant, and served from March 12, 1869, to March 17, 1873, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Wilson, and served from March 17, 1873, until March 3, 1877; appointed by President Hayes commissioner to codify and edit the Statutes at Large in March, 1877; United States counsel before the French and American Claims Commission in 1880; declined appointment as Secretary of the Treasury in 1884; practiced law in Washington, D. C.; counsel for Haiti in 1885, for Hawaii in 1886, and for Chile in 1893 and 1894; president of the Anti-Imperialist League 1898-1905; died in Groton, Middlesex County, Mass., February 27, 1905; interment in Groton Cemetery.

BOVEE, Matthias Jacob, a Representative from New York; born in Amsterdam, Montgomery County, N. Y., July 24, 1793; attended the rural school until the death of his father in 1807; taught school in winter and worked his father's farm in summer; engaged in mercantile pursuits in 1815; chairman of the town of Amsterdam; member of the county board of supervisors; elected a member of the State assembly in 1826; trustee of the village of Amsterdam in 1831; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); returned to Amsterdam and resumed mercantile pursuits; moved to Milwaukee, Wis., in June, 1843, and two months later settled in Eagle, Waukesha County, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace for 10 years; died in Eagle, Wis., September 12, 1872; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

BOWDEN, George Edwin (nephew of Lemuel Jackson Bowden), a Representative from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, James City County, Va., July 6, 1852; attended a private school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, but never practiced; engaged in banking; collector of customs for the port of Norfolk from September, 1879, until May, 1885; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; again collector of customs for the port of Norfolk; clerk of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia from March 10, 1899, until his death in Norfolk, Va., January 22, 1908; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

BOWDEN, Lemuel Jackson (uncle of George Edwin Bowden), a Senator from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, James City County, Va., January 16, 1815; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1838, and commenced practice in Williamsburg; member of the State house of delegates 1841-1846; delegate to the Virginia constitutional conventions in 1849 and 1851; presidential elector on the Constitutional Union ticket of Bell and Everett in 1860; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1863, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 2, 1864; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BOWDLE, Stanley Eyre, a Representative from Ohio; born in Clifton, Hamilton County, Ohio, September 4, 1898; attended the public schools until fifteen years of age; served an apprenticeship of three years in the machine shops of Cramp's shipyard, Philadelphia, Pa.; studied law, and was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1899; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Cincinnati; because of ill health, moved to Colorado and later to Mexico, where he resided from 1897 to 1900; returned to Cincinnati and resumed his profession; member of the State constitutional convention in 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 and 1916 to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses, respectively; mayor of Clifton, Ohio; engaged in the practice of law in Cincinnati, Ohio, until his death there April 6, 1919; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

BOWDON, Franklin Welsh (uncle of Sydney Johnston Bowie), a Representative from Alabama; born in Chester District, S. C., February 17, 1817; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1836; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Talladega, Ala.; member of the State house of representatives in 1844 and 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Felix G. McConnell; reelected to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from December 7, 1846, to March 3, 1851; was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; moved to Henderson, Rusk County, Tex., in 1852, where he resumed the practice of his profession; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; died in Henderson, Tex., June 8, 1857; interment in the City Cemetery.

BOWEN, Christopher Columbus, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Providence, R. I., January 5, 1832; attended the public schools; moved to Georgia in 1850; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and commenced practice in Charleston, S. C.; during the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army and served throughout the war as a captain in the Coast Guards; resumed the practice of law in Charleston, S. C.; member of the Republican State convention at Charleston in May, 1867; first chairman of the Republican State central committee; delegate to the State constitutional convention in November, 1867; upon the readmission of South Carolina to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses, and served from July 20, 1868, to March 3, 1871; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; elected sheriff of Charleston in November, 1872; died in New York City, June 23, 1880; interment in St. Laurence Cemetery, Charleston, S. C.

BOWEN, Henry (son of Rees Tate Bowen, nephew of John Warfield Johnston, and cousin of William Bowen Campbell), a Representative from Virginia; born at "Maiden Springs," near Tazewell, Tazewell County, Va., December 26, 1841; attended the public schools and Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va.; engaged in agricultural pursuits and grazing; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as a captain of Cavalry in Payne's brigade, Lee's division, Army of Northern Virginia, and served until December 21, 1864, when he was captured by Sheridan's cavalry at Lacy Springs, Va.; released June 19, 1865; returned to his native county and resumed farming and grazing; member of the State house of delegates 1869-1873; elected as a Readjuster to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; resumed agricultural interests and stock raising in Tazewell County, Va.; died at home, "Maiden Springs," in Tazewell County, Va., April 29, 1915; interment in Jeffersonville Cemetery, Tazewell, Va.

BOWEN, John Henry, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Washington County, Va., in September, 1780; attended the schools of Lexington, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Gallatin, Tenn.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); engaged in the practice of law in Gallatin, Cherokee County, Tenn., until his death there September 25, 1822.

BOWEN, Rees Tate (father of Henry Bowen), a Representative from Virginia; born at "Maiden Springs," near Tazewell, Tazewell County, Va., January 10, 1809; attended Abingdon Academy, Virginia; engaged in agricultural pursuits; appointed brigadier general of the State militia; member of the State house of delegates 1803 and 1804; magistrate of Tazewell County for several years prior to the war and the presiding justice of the county court a portion of that time; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; resumed agricultural pursuits; died at his home, "Maiden Springs," in Tazewell County, Va., August 29, 1879; interment in the family burying ground on his estate, "Maiden Springs."

BOWEN, Thomas Mead, a Senator from Colorado; born near the present site of Burlington, Iowa, October 20, 1835; attended the public schools and the academy at Mount Pleasant, Iowa; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced; moved to Wayne County, Iowa in 1859, and to Kansas in 1858; during the Civil War served in the Union Army from June, 1861, until July, 1865, first as a captain in the First Regiment Nebraska Volunteer Infantry, after which he raised and commanded, as colonel, the Thirteenth Regiment Kansas Infantry; brigadier general by brevet and in command of a brigade the last two years of the war; located in Arkansas after the war; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; member and president of the constitutional convention of Arkansas which convened under the reconstruction acts of Congress in 1866; justice of the Supreme Court of Arkansas 1867-1871; appointed Governor of Idaho Territory by President Grant in 1871; resigned and returned to Arkansas; moved to Colorado in January, 1875, and resumed the practice of law; upon the organization of the State government was elected judge of the fourth judicial district in 1876 and served until 1880; member of the State house of representatives in 1882; resigned, having been elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1883, to March 3, 1889; engaged in mining in Colorado, with residence in Pueblo, Colo., where he died December 30, 1906; interment in Roselawn Cemetery.

BOWER, Gustavus Miller, a Representative from Missouri; born near Culpener, Culpener County, Va., December 12, 1790; attended the public schools; studied medicine in Philadelphia, Pa.; moved to Kentucky prior to 1812 and resided near Nicholasville; enlisted in the War of 1812 as a surgeon dresser; was one of the few survivors of the massacre at Frenchtown, near Detroit, January 23, 1813; moved to Monroe County, Mo., in 1833, settled near Paris, and engaged in the practice of medicine and also in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); resumed the practice of medicine; died near Paris, Monroe County, Mo., November 17, 1864; interment in the family burying ground north of Paris, Mo.

BOWER, William Horton, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Wilkesboro, Wilkes County, N. C., June 6, 1850; attended the Finley High School at Lenoir, N. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice in Lenoir; moved to California in 1876 and taught school there four years; returned to Lenoir, N. C., in 1881; member of the State house of representatives in 1882; served in the State senate in 1884; solicitor of the tenth judicial district of North Carolina in 1885 and 1886; unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Lenoir, Caldwell County, N. C., and died there May 11, 1910; interment in Elkville Cemetery, Caldwell County, N. C.

BOWERS, Eaton Jackson, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Canton, Madison County, Miss., June 17, 1865; attended the public schools and the Mississippi Military Institute at Pass Christian; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1883 at the age of seventeen, and practiced in Canton until August, 1884, when he moved to Bay St. Louis; engaged in the practice of law and in newspaper work; editor and proprietor of the Gulf Coast Progress at Bay St. Louis; member of the Democratic State executive committee 1886-1900; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888 and of Cleveland and Stevenson in 1892; retired from the newspaper business in 1890; member of the State senate in 1890; served in the State house of representatives in 1900; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City in 1900 and at St. Louis in 1916; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); was not a candidate for renomination in 1910; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Miss.

BOWERS, George Meade, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Gerrardstown, Berkeley County, W. Va., September 13, 1863; educated by private tutors and attended high school; engaged in banking; member of the State house of delegates 1883-1887; supervisor of the United States census for West Virginia in 1890; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; member and treasurer of the board of World's Fair commissioners for West Virginia in 1893; Commissioner of Fisheries from 1898 to 1913, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William G. Brown, Jr.; reelected to the Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses, and served from May 9, 1916, to March 3, 1923; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; president of the People's Trust Co.; died in Martinsburg, W. Va., December 7, 1925; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery, Gerrardstown, W. Va.

BOWERS, John Myer, a Representative from New York; born in Boston, Mass., September 25, 1872; attended the common schools and was graduated from Columbia College, New York City; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1902, and commenced practice in Cooperstown, N. Y.; moved to his country home, "Lakelands," near Cooperstown, in 1905; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative-elect William Dowse, and served from May 26, 1813, to December 20, 1813, when he was succeeded by Isaac William, jr., who contested the election; resumed the practice of law in Cooperstown, Otsego County, N. Y., where he died February 24, 1846; interment in Lakewood Cemetery.

BOWERS, William Wallace, a Representative from California; born in Whitestown, Oneida County, N. Y., October 20, 1834; attended the common schools; moved to Wisconsin in 1854; enlisted as a private in Company I, First Wisconsin Cavalry, February 22, 1862; discharged from the service as second sergeant February 22, 1865; moved to San Diego, Calif., in 1869; engaged in ranching; member of the State assembly in 1873 and 1874; appointed collector of customs of the port of San Diego, Calif., September 25, 1874, and served until his resignation on February 3, 1879; owned and operated a hotel in San Diego 1884-1891; member of the State senate 1887-1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; again appointed collector of customs of the port of San Diego, Calif., on March 15, 1902, and served until March 4, 1906; resided in San Diego, Calif., in retirement until his death there on May 2, 1917; interment in the Masonic Cemetery.

BOWERSOCK, Justin De Witt, a Representative from Kansas; born near Columbianna, Columbianna County, Ohio, September 19, 1842; moved to Iowa City, Iowa, in 1860 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and grain shipping; moved to Lawrence, Kans., in 1877 and engaged in banking and the manufacture of flour, paper, and barbed wire, and was closely connected with nearly all the business enterprises of Lawrence; mayor of the city of Lawrence 1881-1885; elected to the Kansas House of Representatives in 1887; member of the State senate in 1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for renomination in 1906; interested in banking and the manufacture of flour, ice, paper board, and shipping containers in Lawrence, Douglas County, Kans., until his death there on October 27, 1922; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

BOWIE, Richard Johns, a Representative from Maryland; born in Georgetown, D. C., June 23, 1807; attended the public schools and Brookville Academy; studied law and was graduated from the Georgetown University Law School in 1826; commenced practice in Washington, D. C., in 1826; admitted to practice before the Supreme Court in 1829; moved to Rockville, Md., and engaged in agricultural pursuits and also practiced law; member of the State house of delegates 1835-1837; served in the State senate 1837-1841; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Harrisburg, Pa., in 1840; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; State's attorney for Montgomery County 1844-1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor in 1853; resumed the practice of his profession in Rockville; chief judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland 1861-1867; chief judge of the sixth judicial circuit, and as such also an associate judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland from November 7, 1871, until his death near Rockville, Montgomery County, Md., March 12, 1888; interment in Rockville Cemetery.

BOWIE, Sydney Johnston (nephew of Franklin Welsh Bowdon), a Representative from Alabama; born in Talladega, Talladega County, Ala., July 26, 1885; attended private schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1885; was admitted to the bar June 1, 1885, and commenced practice in Talladega, Ala.; city clerk of Talladega in 1885 and 1886; member of the board of aldermen in 1891; member of the Democratic State executive committee 1894-1899; moved to Anniston, Ala., in 1899; chairman of the Democratic executive committee having in charge the ratification of the new constitution in Calhoun County in 1901; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1907); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1908; moved to Birmingham and continued the practice of law until 1919, when he engaged in business as an automobile dealer; member of the southern education board in 1908 and 1909; member of the Birmingham Board of Education 1915-1919; chairman of the State educational commission in 1920; delegate at large from Alabama to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and chairman of the delegation; president of the Alabama Tuberculosis Commission 1920-1922; general chairman of the Birmingham Semicentennial Committee in 1921; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1922; member of the State harbor commission in 1922 and 1923; State chairman of the Woodrow Wilson Memorial Committee in 1923 and 1924; resides in Birmingham, Ala.

BOWIE, Thomas Fielder (grandnephew of Walter Bowie and brother-in-law of Reverdy Johnson), a Representative from Maryland; born in Queen Anne, Prince Georges County, Md., April 7, 1808; attended Charlotte Hall Academy in St. Marys County, Md., and Princeton College, Princeton, N. J.; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in Upper Marlboro, Md.; deputy attorney general for Prince Georges County 1833-1842; member of the State house of delegates 1842-1846; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1843; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; member of the State constitutional convention in 1851; member of the judicial committee assisting in framing the State's new constitution; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Scott and Graham in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1858; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Upper Marlboro, Md., on October 30, 1869; interment in the Warburg family burying ground at Mount Pleasant, near Upper Marlboro, Md.

BOWIE, Walter (granduncle of Thomas Fielder Bowie), a Representative from Maryland; born in Mattaponi, near Nottingham, Prince Georges County, Md., in 1748; attended the Rev. John Eversfield School, near Nottingham, the common schools in Annapolis, and Craddock's School, near Baltimore, Md.; engaged in agricultural pursuits, was a large landowner, and was also interested in shipping; member of the State constitutional convention in 1778; was captain and later major of a Prince Georges County company during the Revolution; member of the State house of delegates 1780-1800; served in the State senate 1800-1802; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Richard Sprigg, Jr.; reelected to the Eighth Congress, and served from March 24, 1802, to March 3, 1805; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1804; died near Collington, Prince Georges County, Md., November 9, 1810; interment in the family burying ground on his estate.

BOWLES, Henry Leland, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Athens, Windham County, Vt., January 6, 1806; attended the district schools at Kendrick's Corner and the Vermont Academy at Saxtons River, Vt.; trustee of the Vermont Academy; moved to Springfield, Mass., in 1808 and became engaged in the operation of a chain of restaurants; member of the governor's council in 1813, and again in 1818 and 1819; during the World War was a member of the local selective draft board of Springfield, Mass., in 1917 and 1918; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1920 and at Cleveland in 1924; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George B. Churchill, and served from September 29, 1925, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOWLIN, James Butler, a Representative from Missouri; born near Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania County, Va., January 16, 1804; apprenticed to a trade, but abandoned it to teach school; received a classical education; moved to Lewisburg, Greenbrier County, in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Greenbrier County; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1833, and continued the practice of law; established the Farmers and Mechanics' Advocate; chief clerk of the State house of representatives in 1836; member of the State house of representatives in 1836 and 1837; appointed district attorney for St. Louis in 1837; elected judge of the criminal court in 1839; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; appointed minister resident to New Granada by President Pierce December 13, 1854; appointed commissioner to Paraguay by President Buchanan, September 9, 1858, and served to February 10, 1859; resumed the practice of law; died in St. Louis, Mo., July 19, 1874; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

BOWLING, William Bismarck, a Representative from Alabama; born near Iron City, Calhoun County, Ala., September 24, 1870; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the State normal school, Jacksonville, Ala., in 1892; taught in the city schools of Montgomery, Ala., and Columbus, Ga.; moved to Lafayette, Ala., in 1895; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Lafayette; solicitor of the fifth judicial circuit of Alabama 1905-1920; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. Thomas Hefflin; reelected to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from December 14, 1920, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOWMAN, Charles Calvin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Troy, Rensselaer County, N. Y., November 14, 1852; attended the public schools and Lansingburg Academy, Troy, N. Y.; learned the woodworking trade; was graduated in civil engineering from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1875; engaged in civil engineering work for the State of Massachusetts in 1875; organized the western shipping department of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., Pittston, Pa., in 1876, and managed this department until 1883; served as general manager, Florence Coal Co., in 1883 and 1884, and then operated as an independent miner and shipper of anthracite coal; trustee of the Pittston Hospital Association; secretary of the soldiers' relief association; mayor of the city of Pittston in 1886; also served as a member of the city council for sixteen terms; served as treasurer of the Pittston State Armory Board and as president of the New England Society of Northeastern Pennsylvania; delegate to the Independent Republican State convention in 1890 and to the Republican State convention in 1898; presented credentials as a Republican Member elect to the Sixty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1911, to December 12, 1912, when the seat was declared vacant; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; engaged in the mining of coal, and is vice president of the Roden Coal Co., director of the Raub Co., and secretary-treasurer of the Franklin Coal Co.; resides in Pittston, Pa.

BOWMAN, Frank Llewellyn, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Masontown, Fayette County, Pa., January 21, 1879; attended the public schools; moved with his parents to Morgantown, W. Va.; was graduated from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown in 1902; teller in a bank at Morgantown from 1902 until 1904, when he resigned to take up the study of law; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1905, and commenced practice in Morgantown, W. Va.; also interested in coal mining; appointed postmaster of Morgantown on May 25, 1911, and served until April 14, 1915, when a successor was appointed; mayor in 1916 and 1917; declined renomination for mayor; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOWMAN, Selwyn Zadock, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Charlestown, Mass., May 11, 1840; attended the Charlestown public schools; was graduated from Harvard University in 1860 and from the Harvard University Law School in 1863; was admitted to the bar in 1863 and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1870, 1871, and again in 1875; served in the State senate in 1876 and 1877; city solicitor of Somerville, Mass., in 1872 and 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Somerville, Mass.; again served as city solicitor 1888-1897; moved to Boston and continued the practice of law; member of the Boston and Middlesex County Bar Associations; is a resident of Cohasset, Mass.

BOWMAN, Thomas, a Representative from Iowa; born in Wiscasset, Lincoln County, Me., May 25, 1848; moved to Council Bluffs, Iowa, in 1868; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected treasurer of Pottawattamie County in 1875; reelected in 1877 and 1879; mayor of Council Bluffs in 1882; appointed postmaster in 1885, and served until 1889, when he resigned; purchased controlling ownership of the Council Bluffs Globe in 1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; again postmaster of Council Bluffs 1904-1908; engaged in railroad contracting; died in Council Bluffs, Iowa, December 1, 1917; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery, Dresden Mills, Mo.

BOWNE, Obadiah, a Representative from New York; born near Richmond, Richmond County, Staten Island, N. Y., May 19, 1822; attended private schools and was a student at Princeton College in 1838-1840; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); declined to be a candidate for re-nomination in 1852; quarantine commissioner 1857-1859; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; died in Richmond Village, Staten Island, N. Y., April 27, 1874; interment in St. Andrew's Cemetery.

BOWNE, Samuel Smith, a Representative from New York; born in New Rochelle, Westchester County, N. Y., April 11, 1800; moved to Otsego County with his parents, who settled near Morris, N. Y.; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Laurens, Otsego County, in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Laurens; moved to Cooperstown, N. Y.; member of the State assembly in 1834; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1846 and continued the practice of his profession; judge of Otsego County 1851-1855; resumed the practice of law; died on his farm near Morris, Otsego County, N. Y., July 9, 1865; interment in the Friends Burying Ground.

BOX, John Calvin, a Representative from Texas; born near Crockett, Houston County, Tex., March 28, 1871; attended the country schools and Alexander Collegiate Institute, Kilgore, Tex.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Lufkin, Tex.; moved to Jacksonville, Cherokee County, Tex., in 1897 and continued the practice of his profession; judge of the county court of Cherokee County, Tex., 1898-1901; mayor of Jacksonville 1902-1905; member of the Democratic State committee 1908-1910; member of the board of education and served as chairman 1913-1918; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOYCE, William Henry, a Representative from Delaware; born at Peppers Mills, near Laurel, Sussex County, Del., November 28, 1855; attended the public schools and the Laurel Academy; was principal of the public schools at Laurel 1875-1880 and at Oxford, Md., in 1880 and 1881; recorder of deeds for Sussex County at Georgetown 1881-1886; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1887, and practiced in Georgetown, Del., until 1897; president of the board of education 1883-1886; served as captain of Company G, Delaware National Guard, 1887-1890; president of the town commissioners 1895-1897; chairman of the Sussex County Democratic committee 1893-1897; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; appointed secretary of state of Delaware January 19, 1897, and served until June 17, 1897, when he resigned; associate judge of the Supreme Court of Delaware 1897-1921 and ex officio judicial reporter 1909-1921; retired June 15, 1921; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); renominated by acclamation but was unsuccessful for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1924; president of the Elizabeth W. Murphy School for indigent children of Kent and Sussex Counties, and also president of Delaware Citizens' Association; is a resident of Dover, Del.

BOYCE, William Waters, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., October 24, 1818; attended South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1839, and practiced in Winnsboro, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1853, until his retirement on December 21, 1860; appointed a delegate for South Carolina to the Confederate Provisional Congress January 4, 1861; elected as a member of the First and Second Confederate Congresses 1862-1864; moved to Washington, D. C., in 1866 and practiced law until his retirement a few years before his death; died at his country home, "Aashland," in Fairfax County, Va., February 8, 1890; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery, Winnsboro, Fairfield County, S. C.

BOYD, Adam, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Mendham, N. J., March 21, 1740; moved to Bergen County about 1770 and to Hackensack a few years later; member of the board of freeholders and justices in 1773, 1784, 1791, 1794, and 1798; sheriff of Bergen County 1778-1781, and again in 1789; member of the State house of assembly in 1782, 1783, 1787, 1794, and 1795; judge of the court of common pleas of Bergen County 1808-1805; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); elected to the Tenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ezra Darby; reelected to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses, and served from March 8, 1808, to March 3, 1813; again judge of the court of common pleas 1813-1833; died in Hackensack, Bergen County, N. J., August 15, 1835; interment in the First Reformed Church Cemetery.

BOYD, Alexander, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., February 14, 1704; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); died in Middleburg, Schoharie County, N. Y., in 1854.

BOYD, John Frank, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Connellsville, Fayette County, Pa., August 8, 1853; moved with his parents to Henry County, Ill., in 1857; attended the public schools and Abingdon (Ill.) College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in Galva, Ill.; moved to Nebraska in 1883, and settled in Oakdale, Antelope County; prosecuting attorney of Antelope County, Nebr., 1888-1894; judge of the Ninth Judicial District Court of Nebraska 1900-1907; moved to Neligh, Antelope County, Nebr., in 1901; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Neligh, Nebr.

BOYD, John Huggins, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, N. Y., July 31, 1799; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Washington Academy, Salem, N. Y., in 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Salem, N. Y., but shortly afterwards moved to Whitehall, N. Y.; elected justice of the peace in 1828 and served for many years; member of the State assembly in 1840; supervisor of Whitehall in 1845, 1848, and 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); special surrogate of Washington County 1857-1859; elected president of the village; resumed the practice of law; died in Whitehall, Washington County, N. Y., July 2, 1868; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Salem, N. Y.

BOYD, Linn, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Nashville, Tenn., November 22, 1800; pursued preparatory studies; moved with his parents to New Design, Trigg County, Ky.; engaged in agricultural pursuits in Calloway County; member of the State house of representatives 1827-1832; returned to Trigg County in 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1836 to the Twenty-fifth Congress; elected to the Twenty-sixth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1855); served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses; moved to Paducah, Paducah County, Ky., in 1852; elected Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky in 1850, but when the senate convened was too ill to preside over its deliberations; died in Paducah, Ky., December 17, 1859; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

BOYD, Sempronius Hamilton, a Representative from Missouri; born near Nashville, Williamson County, Tenn., May 28, 1828; moved to Springfield, Greene County, Mo., in 1840; educated by private tutors; moved to California in 1849, where he prospected for gold and taught school; returned to Missouri in 1854; clerk of the court of Greene County 1854-1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Springfield, Mo.; mayor of Springfield in 1856; during the Civil War raised the Twenty-fourth Missouri Infantry and served as colonel until his election to Congress; elected as an Emancipationist to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); appointed judge of the court of the fourteenth judicial district in 1865; member of the Republican National Committee 1864-1868; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); appointed minister resident and consul general to Siam in 1890, and served until 1893; died in Springfield, Greene County, Mo., June 22, 1894; interment in the Hazelwood Cemetery.

BOYD, Thomas Alexander, a Representative from Illinois; born near Bedford, Adams County, Pa., June 25, 1830; attended the public schools; was graduated from Marshall College, Mercersburg, Pa., in 1848; studied law in Chambersburg, Pa., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Bedford, Pa.; moved to Lewistown, Ill., in 1856, and engaged in the practice of law until 1861; during the Civil War enlisted in the Seventeenth Regiment Illinois Infantry in 1861 and obtained the commission of captain; member of the State senate in 1866, and was reelected in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; resumed the practice of law; died in Lewistown, Fulton County, Ill., May 28, 1897; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

BOYDEN, Nathaniel, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Conway, Mass., August 10, 1796; attended the common schools; served in the War of 1812; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1821; moved to Stokes County, N. C., in 1822; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of commons in 1838 and 1840; moved to Salisbury, N. C., in 1842 and continued the practice of law; served in the State senate in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; resumed the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention of 1865; upon the readmission of North Carolina to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 13, 1868, to March 3, 1869; unsuccessfully contested the election of Francis E. Shober to the Forty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law until elected associate justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in 1872 and served until his death in Salisbury, N. C., November 20, 1873; interment in the Lutheran Cemetery.

BOYER, Benjamin Markley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pottstown, Montgomery County, Pa., January 22, 1823; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and practiced; deputy attorney general of Montgomery County, Pa., 1848-1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; appointed judge of Montgomery County court in 1882, and served until his death in Norristown, Pa., August 16, 1887; interment in West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, Pa.

BOYLAN, John Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in New York City September 20, 1878; attended the public schools, the Cathedral School, De La Salle Institute, and Manhattan College, all in New York City; engaged in the real-estate business; member of the State assembly 1910-1912; served in the State senate 1913-1922; during the World War served as a member of the draft board of New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BOYLE, Charles Edmund, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa., February 4, 1836; attended the common schools and Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Greene County, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in December, 1861, and practiced; elected district attorney for Fayette County in 1862; member of the State house of representatives in 1865, and reelected in 1866; president of the Democratic State convention in 1867, and again in 1871; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876 and at Cincinnati in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; appointed judge of the Territory of Washington in September, 1888, and served until his death in Seattle, Wash., December 15, 1888; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery, Uniontown, Pa.

BOYLE, John, a Representative from Kentucky; born at "Castle Woods," Botetourt County, Va., October 28, 1774; moved with his father to Whiteys Station, Ky., in 1779; educated by private tutors and in private schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1797, and commenced practice in Lancaster, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1800; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in January, 1804, to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire, and in December of the same year against Samuel Chase, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; appointed Governor of Illinois Territory in 1809, but declined; judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky from April, 1809, to April, 1810, and served as chief justice from April, 1810, to November 8, 1826, when he resigned; United States judge for the district of Kentucky from November 9, 1826, until his death near Danville, Boyle County, Ky., February 28, 1834; interment in Bellevue Cemetery.

BRABSON, Reese Bowen (uncle of Charles Keith Bell), a Representative from Tennessee; born at Brabsons Ferry, near Knoxville, Tenn., September 16, 1817; attended the Dandridge Academy, Dandridge, Tenn.; was graduated from Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Chattanooga, Tenn.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1860; engaged in the practice of his profession until his death in Chattanooga, Tenn., August 16, 1863; interment in the Citizens Cemetery.

BRACE, Jonathan, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Harwinton, Conn., November 12, 1754; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1779; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Bennington, Vt., in 1779, and commenced practice in Pawlet, Vt.; moved to Manchester, Vt., in 1782 and continued the practice of law; member of the council of censors to revise the constitution; prosecuting attorney for Bennington County 1784-1785; returned to Glastonbury, Conn., in January, 1786, but was not admitted to the Connecticut bar until 1790; member of the general assembly 1788 and 1791-1794, and was chosen assistant in the council in May, 1798; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1794; judge of the city court from 1797 until 1815, with the exception of two years; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Joshua Colt; reelected to the Sixth Congress, and served from December 3, 1798, until his resignation in 1800; assistant in the council of the State 1802-1818; appointed prosecuting attorney for Hartford County in December, 1807, and served until May, 1809, when he resigned; appointed judge of the county court and probate in May, 1809; continued as judge of the county court until 1821 and as judge of probate until 1824; mayor of Hartford 1816-1824; member of the State senate in 1819 and 1820; died in Hartford, Conn., August 26, 1837; interment in the Old North Cemetery.

BRACKENRIDGE, Henry Marie, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., May 11, 1786; instructed by his father and private tutors; attended the French school in Louisiana; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and practiced in Somerset, Pa., until 1810; appointed deputy attorney general of the Territory of Orleans (Louisiana) in 1811; district judge of Louisiana in 1812; appointed secretary of the mission and sent to South America in 1817; judge for the western district of Florida 1821-1832; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Richard Biddle, and served from October 13, 1840, to March 3, 1841, unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1840; member of the commission under the treaty of Mexico in 1841; retired from public life and engaged in literary pursuits until his death in Pittsburgh, Pa., January 18, 1871; interment in Prospect Cemetery, Brackenridge, Pa.

BRADBURY, George, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Falmouth, Mass., October 10, 1770; was graduated from Harvard University in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Portland, Me. (until 1820 a district of Massachusetts); member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives 1806-1810, 1811, and 1812; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1816; resumed the practice of law; associate clerk of the Portland court 1817-1820; member of the State senate in 1820; charter member of the Maine Historical Society; died in Portland, Me., November 7, 1823; interment in the Eastern Cemetery.

BRADBURY, James Ware, a Senator from Maine; born in Parsonsfield, Me., June 10, 1802; attended the common schools and Gorham Academy; was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1825; principal of Hallowell Academy, and founder of the first normal school in New England at Eppingham, N. H., in 1829; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Augusta, Me., in 1830; prosecuting attorney 1834-1838; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Polk and Dallas in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1847, until March 3, 1853; declined to be a candidate for renomination; one of the trustees of Bowdoin College in 1861; president of the Maine Historical Society 1867-1887; practiced law in Augusta, Me., until after he had passed his ninety-first birthday; died in Augusta, Me., January 7, 1901; interment in Forest Grove Cemetery.

BRADBURY, Theophilus, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Newbury, Mass., November 13, 1739; was graduated from Harvard College in 1757; taught school and studied law in Portland, Me.; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Portland in 1761; moved to Newburyport, Mass., in 1764 and continued the practice of law; member of the State senate 1791-1794; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1795, until July 24, 1797, when he resigned; appointed judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts in 1797, which position he held until his death; member of the Electoral College in 1800; died in Newburyport, Mass., September 6, 1803; interment in Newburyport Cemetery.

BRADFORD, Allen Alexander, a Delegate from the Territory of Colorado; born in Friendship, Me., July 23, 1815; moved to Missouri in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; clerk of the circuit court of Atchison County, Mo., 1845-1851; moved to Iowa, and was judge of the sixth judicial district 1852-1855; moved to the Territory of Nebraska; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1856, 1857, and 1858; moved to the Territory of Colorado in 1860; appointed judge of the supreme court of the Territory by President Lincoln June 6, 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); resumed the practice of law; elected to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); engaged in the practice of law in Pueblo, Colo., until his death there March 12, 1888; interment in the City Cemetery.

BRADFORD, Taul, a Representative from Alabama; born in Talladega, Talladega County, Ala., January 20, 1835; attended the local school; was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Talladega, Ala.; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as major of the Tenth Regiment Alabama Infantry, and subsequently became Lieutenant colonel of the Thirtieth Regiment Alabama Infantry; member of the State house of representatives in 1871 and 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; continued the practice of law in Talladega, Ala., until his death October 28, 1883; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Talladega, Ala.

BRADFORD, William, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Plympton, Plymouth County, Mass., November 4, 1729; studied medicine in Hingham, Mass., and afterwards practiced in Warren, R. I.; moved to Bristol, R. I.; abandoned the profession of medicine and studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1767, and commenced practice in Bristol; member of the State house of representatives in 1764 and 1765, and served as speaker; member of the Rhode Island Committee of Correspondence in 1773; Deputy Governor of Rhode Island from November, 1775, to May, 1778; elected as a Delegate to the Continental Congress, but did not serve; member of the State house of representatives and served as speaker for one year; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1783, until October, 1797, when he resigned; elected President pro tempore of the Senate July 6, 1797; retired to his home in Bristol, R. I., and died there July 6, 1808; interment in the East Burial Ground.

BRADLEY, Edward, a Representative from Michigan; born in East Bloomfield, Ontario County, N. Y., in April, 1808; attended the common schools and the local academy in Canandaigua; associate judge of the common pleas court of Ontario County, N. Y., in 1830; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Marshall, Calhoun County, Mich.; prosecuting attorney of Calhoun County in 1842; member of the State senate in 1842 and 1843; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1847, until his death on August 5, 1847, in New York City while en route to Washington, D. C., before the assembling of Congress; interment in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

BRADLEY, Nathan Ball, a Representative from Michigan; born in Lee, Berkshire County, Mass., May 28, 1831; moved with his parents to Lorain County, Ohio, in 1835; attended the common schools; moved to Wisconsin in 1849; employed in a sawmill in the blue region; returned to Ohio in 1850 and built and operated a sawmill until 1852, when he moved to Lexington, Mich., and engaged in the manufacture of lumber; moved to St. Charles, in the Saginaw Valley, in 1855 and engaged in the lumber industry; purchased a mill in Bay City, Mich., and operated it from 1858 to 1864; engaged in the salt industry in Bay City; justice of the peace three terms, a supervisor one term, an alderman three terms, and the first mayor of Bay City after it obtained its charter in 1865; member of the State senate 1866-1868; engaged in banking in 1867; vice president of the First National Bank of Bay City; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; again engaged in the lumber business in Bay City, and also was instrumental in establishing the first beet-sugar factory in the State; died in Bay City, Bay County, Mich., November 8, 1906; interment in Elm Lawn Cemetery.

BRADLEY, Stephen Row (father of William Czar Bradley), a Senator from Vermont; born in Wallingford, Conn., February 20, 1754; was graduated from Yale College in 1775; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1779, and commenced practice in Westminster, Vt.; captain of a volunteer company during the Revolutionary War, and served as aide-de-camp to General Wooster; State's attorney for Cumberland County in 1780; register of probate for Westminster in 1782; appointed county judge for Windham County in 1783; member of the State house of representatives in 1785, and served as speaker; appointed associate judge of the Superior Court of Vermont in 1788; member of the City Council of Westminster in 1798; upon the admission of Vermont as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from October 17, 1791, to March 3, 1795; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1795; again elected to the United States Senate in 1801 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Elijah Paine; reelected in 1807, and served from October 15, 1801, to March 3, 1813; elected President pro tempore of the Senate December 14, 1802, February 25, 1803, March 2, 1803, and December 28, 1808; voluntarily retired from public life and returned to Westminster; moved to Walpole, N. H., in 1818 and died there December 9, 1830; interment in the Old Cemetery, Westminster, Vt.

BRADLEY, Thomas Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in New York City January 2, 1870; attended the public schools; was graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1887; taught in the public schools of New York City from 1887 until 1891; was graduated from the law department of the University of New York, New York City, in 1889; was admitted to the bar in 1891 and commenced practice in New York City; deputy assistant district attorney of the county of New York 1892-1895; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); was not a candidate for renomination in 1900; continued the practice of law until his death in New York City April 1, 1901; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

BRADLEY, Thomas Wilson, a Representative from New York; born in Yorkshire, England, April 6, 1844; emigrated to the United States in 1846 with his parents, who settled in Walden, N. Y.; attended school until nine years of age; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a private; promoted to captain in the One hundred and twenty-fourth Regiment New York Volunteer Infantry; was aide-de-camp to Major General Mott, Third Division, Second Army Corps; awarded the congressional medal of honor "for gallantry at Chancellorsville"; was brevetted major of United States Volunteers "for meritorious services during the campaign terminating at Appomattox"; member of the State house of assembly in 1876; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892, at St. Louis in 1896, and at Philadelphia in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1913); was not a candidate for renomination in 1912; engaged in banking; president and treasurer of the New York Knife Co.; died in Walden, Orange County, N. Y., May 30, 1920; interment in the Walkkill Valley Cemetery.

BRADLEY, William Czar (son of Stephen Row Bradley), a Representative from Vermont; born in Westminster, Vt., March 23, 1782; received his early education in the schools of Cheshire, Conn., and Charlestown, N. H., and later attended Yale College, New Haven, Conn., for a short time; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and commenced practice in Westminster; prosecuting attorney for Windham County 1804-1811; member of the State house of representatives in 1806 and 1807, member of the governor's council in 1812; elected as a War Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); agent of the United States under the treaty of Ghent to fix the boundary line between Maine and Canada 1815-1820; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1827); resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1830, 1834, and 1838; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1850; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Fremont and Dayton in 1856; member of the State constitutional convention in 1857; retired from the practice of his profession in 1858; died in Westminster, Windham County, Vt., March 3, 1867; interment in the Old Cemetery.

BRADLEY, William O'Connell, a Senator from Kentucky; born near Lancaster, Garrard County, Ky., March 18, 1847; educated by private tutors and at a private school in Somerset, Ky.; during the Civil War entered the Union Army at the age of fifteen, but on account of his youth served only a short time; served as a page in the State house of representatives in 1861; studied law, and was licensed to practice by a special act of the legislature in 1865 when only eighteen years of age; prosecuting attorney of Garrard County in 1870; presidential elector on the Liberal Republican ticket of Greeley and Brown in 1872; delegate at large to the Republican National Conventions in 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, 1896, 1900, and 1904; member of the Republican National Committee from 1890 until 1896, when he resigned; appointed minister to Korea (Chosen) in 1888, but declined; was the first Republican Governor ever elected in the State of Kentucky and served from 1895 to 1899; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1909, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 23, 1914; interment in the State Cemetery, Frankfort, Ky.

BRADSHAW, Samuel Carey, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Plumstead, Bucks County, Pa., June 10, 1809; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Pennsylvania Medical College in 1833 and practiced in Quakertown, Bucks County, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; died in Quakertown, Pa., June 9, 1872; interment in the Friends Burial Ground.

BRADY, James Dennis, a Representative from Virginia; born in Portsmouth, Va., April 3, 1843; moved to New York City when twelve years of age; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in the Thirty-seventh New York Volunteers, and was successively promoted to the grades of lieutenant and adjutant, captain, major, and lieutenant colonel of the Sixty-third New York Volunteers, holding the latter rank when mustered out of service in July, 1865; returned to Portsmouth, Va., after the war and was elected clerk of the corporation court of Portsmouth, which position he held until June, 1877; appointed collector of internal revenue for the second district of Virginia, and served from June, 1877, until his death, with the exception of eight years (1885-1889 and 1893-1897) under the two Cleveland administrations; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1880 and 1888 and at St. Louis in 1890; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; member of the Republican National Committee 1888-1892; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1892, and commenced practice in Washington, D. C.; died in Petersburg, Dinwiddie County, Va., November 30, 1900; interment in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

BRADY, James Henry, a Senator from Idaho; born in Indiana County, Pa., June 12, 1862; moved with his parents to Johnson County, Kans.; attended the public schools and Leavenworth Normal College; taught school, edited a newspaper, and engaged in the real-estate business; moved to Idaho in 1895 and became interested in the development of water-power and irrigation projects; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1900 and at Chicago in 1908; chairman of the Republican State central committee 1904-1908; president of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress; vice president of the National Irrigation Congress 1904-1906; Governor of Idaho 1906-1911; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate on January 24, 1913, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Weldon B. Heyburn; reelected in 1914, and served from February 6, 1913, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 13, 1918; interment in Mountain View Cemetery, Pocatello, Bannock County, Idaho.

BRADY, Jasper Ewing, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sunbury, Pa., in 1795; attended the common schools; learned the hatter's trade; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and commenced practice in Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives in 1844 and 1845; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., and resumed the practice of law; clerk in the office of the Paymaster General in the War Department 1861-1869; retired from active pursuits; died in Washington, D. C., January 26, 1871; interment in the City Cemetery, Sunbury, Northumberland County, Pa.; reinterment in Rock Creek Cemetery, Washington, D. C., in 1898.

BRAGG, Edward Stuyvesant, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Unadilla, Otsego County, N. Y., February 20, 1827; attended the district schools, the local academy, and Geneva (now Hobart) College at Geneva, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Unadilla; moved to Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1850 and continued the practice of law; elected district attorney in 1853; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Charleston in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a captain in the Sixth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry July 16, 1861; major September 17, 1861; Lieutenant colonel June 21, 1862; colonel March 24, 1863; brigadier general of Volunteers June 25, 1864; mustered out of the service October 9, 1865; appointed postmaster of Fond du Lac by President Johnson in 1866; member of the State senate in 1868 and 1869; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872, at Cincinnati in 1880, and at Chicago in 1880; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; again elected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of law in Fond du Lac, Wis.; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Mexico January 16, 1888, and served from March 5, 1888, to May 27, 1889; appointed consul general at Habana, Cuba, May 19, 1902, and assumed charge June 30, 1902; appointed consul general at Hong Kong, China, September 15, 1902, and assumed his duties March 1, 1903; resigned, effective May 1, 1906; retired from public life and the practice of his profession; died in Fond du Lac, Wis., June 20, 1912; interment in the Klenz Cemetery.

BRAGG, John, a Representative from Alabama; born near Warrenton, Warren County, N. C., January 14, 1806; attended the local academy at Warrenton; and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Warrenton; member of the State House of Commons of North Carolina 1830-1834; moved to Mobile, Ala., in 1836 and continued the practice of law; was appointed judge of the tenth judicial circuit in 1842; member of the State house of representatives; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1852; resumed the practice of his profession; delegate from Mobile to the State constitutional convention in 1861; died in Mobile, Ala., August 10, 1878; interment in Magnolia Cemetery.

BRAGG, Thomas, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Warrenton, Warren County, N. C., November 10, 1810; attended the Warrenton Academy; was graduated from Captain Partridge's Military Academy, Middletown, Conn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Jackson, Northampton County, N. C.; member of the State house of commons in 1842 and 1843; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; prosecuting attorney for Northampton County; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore in 1844, 1848, and 1852; Governor of North Carolina 1855-1859; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1859, until March 6, 1861, when he withdrew; appointed Attorney General of the Confederate States November 21, 1861, and served two years; resumed the practice of law; died in Raleigh, N. C., January 21, 1872; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

BRAINERD, Lawrence, a Senator from Vermont; born in East Hartford, Conn., March 16, 1794; when nine years of age went to Troy, N. Y., to reside with an uncle, and moved with him in 1808 to St. Albans, Vt.; completed preparatory studies; taught school; employed as a clerk in a mercantile establishment until 1816; engaged in mercantile, banking, navigation, and railroad enterprises; affiliated with the Whig Party until 1840, when he became a member of the Liberty Party; unsuccessful candidate for governor; elected as a member of the Free-Soll Party to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Upham, and served from October 14, 1854, to March 3, 1855; was not a candidate for reelection; subsequently received the unanimous nomination for governor, but declined the honor; resumed business activities; chairman of the delegation that nominated Abraham Lincoln at Chicago in 1860 for President; died in St. Albans, Franklin County, Vt., May 9, 1870; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BRAINERD, Samuel Myron, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Albion, Erie County, Pa., November 13, 1842; attended the public schools, Edinboro Normal School, and Ann Arbor (Mich.) Law School; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1869, and commenced practice in North East, Erie County, Pa.; district attorney of Erie County 1872-1875; moved to Erie, Pa., in 1874 and continued the practice of law; chairman of the Republican county committee in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed the practice of law in Erie, Pa., and died there November 21, 1895; interment in the City Cemetery.

BRANCH, John (uncle of Lawrence O'Bryan Branch), a Senator and a Representative from North Carolina; born in Halifax, Halifax County, N. C., November 4, 1782; appointed commissioner for valuation of lands and dwellings and enumeration of slaves, third district of North Carolina, in 1799; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Halifax, Halifax County, N. C.; member of the State senate 1811-1817 and again in 1822; served as speaker 1815-1817; Governor of North Carolina 1817-1820; appointed Federal judge for the western district of Florida by President Monroe on April 17, 1822; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1822; reelected in 1829, and served from March 4, 1823, to March 9, 1829, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of the Navy by President Jackson, and served from March 9, 1829, until his resignation, effective May 12, 1831, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress, and served from May 12, 1831, to March 3, 1833; was not a candidate for renomination in 1832; member of the State constitutional convention in 1835; appointed Governor of Florida by President Tyler, and served from June 21, 1844, until the election of a governor under the State constitution in 1845; died in Enfield, Halifax County, N. C., January 8, 1863; interment in the family burial ground.

BRANCH, Lawrence O'Bryan (nephew of John Branch), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Enfield, Halifax County, N. C., November 28, 1820; pursued a preparatory course under a private teacher in Washington, D. C., and at the Bingham Military Academy in North Carolina; attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for a short time, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1838; studied law at Nashville, Tenn., and owned and edited a newspaper there; moved to Tallahassee, Fla., in 1840; was admitted to the bar in Florida in 1840 by a special act of the legislature and commenced practice in Tallahassee; fought in the Seminole War in 1841; moved to Raleigh, N. C., in 1852 and continued the practice of law; president of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Co.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1860; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Buchanan December 2, 1860, but declined; entered the Confederate Army in May, 1861, and was appointed brigadier general the same year; was in command when New Bern was captured by General Burnside; senior brigadier general in A. P. Hill's division, Stonewall Jackson's corps; killed in the Battle of Antietam, Sharpsburg, Md., while in command of the Fourth Brigade, North Carolina Troops, September 17, 1862; interment in the Old City Cemetery, Raleigh, N. C.

BRANCH, William Augustus Blount (son of Lawrence O'Bryan Branch), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Tallahassee, Fla., February 26, 1847; moved with his father to Raleigh, N. C., in 1852; attended Lovejoy's Academy, Raleigh, N. C., the Bingham Military Academy near Mebane, N. C., the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington; joined the Confederate Army, and served as a courier on the staff of Gen. R. F. Hoke; surrendered with Gen. Joseph E. Johnston's army in 1865; studied law, but never practiced; in 1867 took charge of his landed estate near Washington, Beaufort County, N. C., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; again engaged in agricultural pursuits on his estate near Washington, Beaufort County, N. C., member of the State house of representatives in 1896, died in Washington, N. C., November 18, 1910; interment in Oakdale Cemetery.

BRAND, Charles, a Representative from Ohio; born in Urbana, Champaign County, Ohio, November 1, 1871; attended the public schools and the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio; engaged in agricultural pursuits, manufacturing, and banking at Urbana; member of the Urbana City Council in 1911 and 1912 and was its president; member of the State senate in 1921 and 1922; served as a member of the advisory committee of the War Finance Corporation in 1921; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BRAND, Charles Hillyer, a Representative from Georgia; born in Loganville, Walton County, Ga., April 20, 1861; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1881; was admitted to the bar in 1882 and commenced practice in Lawrenceville, Gwinnett County, Ga.; member of the State senate in 1894 and 1895, and served as president pro tempore; president and director of the Brand Banking Co., Lawrenceville, and director of the Georgia National Bank and of the American State Bank, Athens, Ga.; solicitor general for the western judicial circuit of Georgia 1896-1904; judge of the superior court 1906-1917; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative elect Samuel J. Tribble; reelected to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1917, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BRANDEGEE, Augustus (father of Frank Bosworth Brandegee), a Representative from Connecticut; born in New London, Conn., July 15, 1828; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1840 and from the Yale Law School in 1851; was admitted to the bar in 1851 and commenced practice in New London; member of the State house of representatives 1854, 1858, 1859, and 1861, and served as speaker the last term; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for reelection in 1866; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864, the Loyalist Convention at Philadelphia in 1868, and the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1880 and 1884; resumed the practice of law; corporation counsel of New London in 1897 and 1898; died in New London, Conn., November 10, 1904; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

BRANDEGEE, Frank Bosworth (son of Augustus Brandegee), a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in New London, Conn., July 8, 1884; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Yale College in 1885; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1888, and practiced in New London; member of the State house of representatives in 1888; corporation counsel of New London from October, 1889, to October, 1893, and from October, 1894, until October, 1897, when he resigned; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1888 and 1904, at Minneapolis in 1892, and at Philadelphia in 1900; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1899, and served as speaker; again elected corporation counsel of New London in October, 1901, and served until October, 1902, when he resigned to become a Member of Congress; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles A. Russell; reelected to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses, and served from November 5, 1902, until May 10, 1905, when he resigned, having been elected a United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Orville H. Platt; reelected in 1908, 1914, and 1920, and served from May 10, 1905, until his death in Washington, D. C., October 14, 1924; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery, New London, Conn.

BRANTLEY, William Gordon, a Representative from Georgia; born in Blackshear, Pierce County, Ga., September 18, 1860; attended the public schools and the University of Georgia at Athens; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Blackshear, Pierce County, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives in 1884 and 1885; served in the State senate in 1886 and 1887; solicitor general (prosecuting attorney) of the Brunswick circuit court of Georgia 1888-1890; moved to Brunswick in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1913); was not a candidate for renomination in 1912; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912; moved from Brunswick, Ga., to Washington, D. C., in 1913, and resumed the practice of law, where he is now residing.

BRATTON, John, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Winnsboro, Fairfield County, S. C., March 7, 1881; attended the Academy of Mount Zion Institute in Winnsboro; was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1880 and from the South Carolina Medical College at Charleston in 1883, and engaged in the practice of medicine in Winnsboro from 1883 to 1891; also engaged as a planter; volunteered in the Confederate Army as a private and served throughout the Civil War, attaining the rank of brigadier general; member of the State constitutional convention in 1865; served in the State senate in 1866; chairman of the South Carolina delegation in the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; elected comptroller general of South Carolina by the legislature, to fill a vacancy, in 1881; elected to the Forty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John H. Evans, and served from December 8, 1884, to March 3, 1885; was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; retired from active politics and again engaged in planting at "Farmington," near Winnsboro; died in Winnsboro, S. C., January 12, 1898; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery.

BRATTON, Robert Franklin, a Representative from Maryland; born in Barren Creek Springs, Wicomico (then Somerset) County, Md., May 13, 1845; was graduated from Washington College, Chestertown, Md., in 1864; deputy register of wills for Somerset County; admitted to the bar in 1867; member of the State convention of 1865 which sent delegates to a peace convention held in Philadelphia in the following year; member of several State and congressional conventions; member of the State house of representatives in 1869; served in the State senate in 1873, 1879, 1887, and 1890; elected president of the senate in 1890; engaged in the practice of law in Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1893, until his death in Princess Anne, Md., May 10, 1894; interment in St. Andrew's Cemetery.

BRATTON, Sam Gilbert, a Senator from New Mexico; born in Kosse, Limestone County, Tex., August 19, 1888; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1909, and commenced practice in Farwell, Farmer County, Tex.; moved to Clovis, N. Mex., in 1915, and continued the practice of law; judge of the district court for the fifth judicial district of New Mexico from January 1, 1919, to January 1, 1921, when this district was divided and he became judge of the ninth judicial district and served from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1923; associate justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico from January 1, 1923, to September 16, 1924, when he resigned, to accept the nomination for Senator, which had been tendered him by the Democratic convention; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1924, for the term commencing March 4, 1925, and ending March 3, 1931.

BRAWLEY, William Huggins (cousin of John James Hemphill), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Chester, Chester County, S. C., May 13, 1841; attended the common schools and was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1860; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company F, Sixth Regiment South Carolina Infantry, Confederate States Army, April 11, 1861; lost an arm in the Battle of Seven Pines and was retired from service; traveled and studied in Europe in 1864 and 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice at Chester, S. C.; elected solicitor of the sixth judicial circuit of South Carolina in 1868, and served until his resignation in 1874; moved to Charleston and continued the practice of his profession; member of the State house of representatives 1882-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until February 12, 1894, when he resigned to accept a position on the bench; appointed January 18, 1894, United States district judge of the district of South Carolina, and served from February 12, 1894, until his resignation June 14, 1911; withdrew from public life and active business pursuits and lived in retirement until his death in Charleston, S. C., November 15, 1916; interment in Magnolia Cemetery.

BRAXTON, Carter (great-grandfather of Elliott Muse Braxton), a Delegate from Virginia; born at "Newington," on the Mattaponi River, near King and Queen Court House, Va., September 10, 1736; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1755; spent three years in England; member of the Virginia House of Burgesses 1761-1771 and in 1775; elected a Member of the Continental Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Peyton Randolph, and served from August 15, 1775, until August 11, 1776, when Virginia reduced her representation from seven to five; one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence; reelected to the Continental Congress at the first session of the General Assembly of Virginia under the new constitution, and served from 1777 to 1783, and again in 1785; member of the Virginia Council of State 1786-1791, and from 1794 until his death in Richmond, Va., October 10, 1797; interment on his estate, "Chericoke," King William County, Va.

BRAXTON, Elliott Muse (great-grandson of Carter Braxton), a Representative from Virginia; born in Matthews, Matthews County, Va., October 8, 1823; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Richmond, Va.; subsequently moved to Richmond County; member of the State senate 1851-1855; moved to Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania County, in 1860 and continued the practice of law; during the Civil War raised a company for the Confederate Army and was elected its captain; subsequently commissioned a major, and served on the staff of Gen. John R. Cooke; elected a member of the Common Council of Fredericksburg in 1866; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Fredericksburg, Va., in which city he died on October 2, 1891; interment in the Confederate Cemetery.

BRAYTON, William Daniel, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Warwick, Kent County, R. I., November 6, 1815; attended Kent Academy in East Greenwich and Kingston Academy; spent two years in Brown University, Providence, R. I.; engaged in mercantile pursuits; major of the Fourth Regiment of Rhode Island Militia in the Dorr rebellion; town clerk of Warwick in 1844; member of the town council; member of the State house of representatives in 1841 and 1851; served in the State senate in 1848 and 1853; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Fremont and Dayton in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; appointed collector of internal revenue for the second district of Rhode Island in 1862 and served until 1871, when he resigned; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872; for a number of years in charge of the money-order division of the Providence post office; died in Providence, R. I., June 30, 1887; interment in the Brayton Cemetery, Apponaug, R. I.

BREAZEALE, Phanor, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Natchitoches Parish, La., December 29, 1868; attended private schools; moved to Natchitoches, La., in 1877; clerked in a mercantile establishment for two years; studied law; clerk in the supreme court of the State; was graduated from the law department of Tulane University, New Orleans, La., in 1881; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Natchitoches; also engaged in newspaper work 1882-1884; president of the School Board of Natchitoches Parish 1888-1891; district attorney for the tenth judicial district 1892-1900; member of the State constitutional convention in 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law in Natchitoches, La.; appointed in October, 1908, member of a commission to codify the criminal laws of Louisiana and to prepare a code of criminal procedure; member of the Democratic State central committee since 1908 and a member of the executive committee; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908 and at St. Louis in 1916; member of the constitutional convention to frame a constitution for the State of Louisiana at Baton Rouge in 1921; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Davis and Bryan in 1924; is a resident of Natchitoches, La.

BRECK, Daniel (brother of Samuel Breck), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Topsfield, Essex County, Mass., February 12, 1788; attended school, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1814, and commenced practice in Richmond, Ky.; judge of the Richmond County court; member of the State house of representatives 1824-1827, and again in 1834; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1841; president of the Richmond branch of the State Bank of Kentucky 1835-1843; appointed associate judge of the Supreme Court of Kentucky April 7, 1843, and served until 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); returned to Richmond, Ky., and again served as president of the Richmond branch of the State bank; died in Richmond, Madison County, Ky., February 4, 1871; interment in the Richmond Cemetery.

BRECK, Samuel (brother of Daniel Breck), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Boston, Mass., July 17, 1771; attended the Royal Military School of Loreze, France; moved to Pennsylvania and settled in Philadelphia in 1792, where he engaged in business as a merchant; served as corporal during the whisky rebellion; member of the State house of representatives 1817-1820; served in the State senate 1832-1834; elected as a Federalist to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); withdrew from active business pursuits, and lived in retirement until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., August 31, 1862; interment in St. Peter's Churchyard.

BRECKINRIDGE, Olifton Rodes (son of John Cabell Breckinridge), a Representative from Arkansas; born near Lexington, Ky., November 22, 1846; attended the common schools; served in the Confederate Army and was a midshipman in the Navy; after the Civil War he attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., for three years; settled in Pine Bluff, Ark., in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, until September 5, 1890, when John M. Clayton was declared to have been duly elected, but, owing to the death of Mr. Clayton while the contest was pending, the seat was declared vacant; subsequently elected to the Fifty-first Congress to fill the vacancy thus caused; reelected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from November 4, 1890, to August 14, 1894, when he resigned to accept a consular position; appointed minister to Russia by President Cleveland, and served until 1897, when he returned to Pine Bluff, Ark.; from June, 1900, to July, 1905, was a member of the Dawes Commission, engaged in distributing the estates of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians in the then Indian Territory; engaged in banking at Fort Smith, Ark.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1917; retired, and is a resident of Fort Smith, Ark.

BRECKINRIDGE, James (brother of John Breckinridge), a Representative from Virginia; born near Fincastle, Botetourt County, Va., March 7, 1763; studied under private tutors; during the Revolutionary War served in Colonel Preston's rifle regiment under General Greene; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1785; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Fincastle; member of the State house of delegates 1789-1802, 1806-1808, 1820, 1821, 1823, and 1824; took a special interest in the construction of the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal, and was an associate of Thomas Jefferson in the establishment of the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.; served as brigadier general in the War of 1812; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of law; died at his country home, "Grove Hill," Botetourt County, Va., May 13, 1833; interment in the family burial plot on his estate near Fincastle, Va.

BRECKINRIDGE, James Douglas, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Woodville, near Louisville, Jefferson County, Ky.; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., 1800-1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Louisville, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives 1800-1811; appointed judge by Gov. Robert Desha in April, 1820, but declined to serve; elected to the Seventeenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Wingfield Bullock, and served from November 21, 1821, to March 3, 1823; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1822 to the Eighteenth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Louisville, Ky., May 6, 1849; interment in St. John's Cemetery; reinterment in St. Louis Catholic Cemetery at Louisville in 1867.

BRECKINRIDGE, John (brother of James Breckinridge and grandfather of John Cabell Breckinridge and William Campbell Preston Breckinridge), a Senator from Kentucky; born near Staunton, Augusta County, Va., December 2, 1700; educated at Augusta Academy, near Staunton (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; elected a member of the house of burgesses in 1780 when nineteen years of age, but being under age was not allowed to take his seat until elected the third time; served as subaltern in the Virginia Militia in the latter part of the Revolutionary War; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1785, and commenced practice in Charlottesville, Va.; elected as a Democrat a Representative to the Third Congress, but resigned in 1792 before the commencement of the congressional term; moved to Kentucky in 1793 and resumed the practice of law in Lexington; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1794; appointed attorney general of Kentucky in 1795, and served until November 30, 1797, when he resigned; member of the State house of representatives 1798-1800, and served as speaker in 1799 and 1800; member of the State constitutional convention in 1799; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1801, until August 7, 1805, when he resigned to accept the position of Attorney General of the United States in the Cabinet of President Jefferson; served in this capacity until his death at "Cabell's Dale," near Lexington, Ky., December 14, 1806; interment on his estate, "Cabell's Dale"; reinterment in Lexington Cemetery, Lexington, Ky.

BRECKINRIDGE, John Cabell (grandson of John Breckinridge, father of Clifton Rodes Breckinridge, and cousin of Henry Donnel Foster), a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky and a Vice President of the United States; born at "Cabell's Dale," near Lexington, Ky., January 21, 1821; attended Pisgah Academy, Woodford County, Ky.; was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1839; later attended Princeton College; studied law in the Transylvania Institute, Lexington, Ky., and was admitted to the bar in 1840; moved to Burlington, Iowa, but soon returned and began practice in Lexington, Ky.; major of the Third Kentucky Volunteers during the Mexican War in 1847 and 1848; member of the State house of representatives in 1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; was tendered the mission to Spain by President Pierce, but declined; elected Vice President of the United States in 1856 on the Democratic ticket, with James Buchanan as President, being the youngest Vice President who had ever held that office; defeated as a candidate for President in 1860 by Abraham Lincoln; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1861, until expelled by resolution of December 4, 1861; entered the Confederate Army during the Civil War as brigadier general and soon became a major general; Secretary of War in the Cabinet of the Confederate States from January until April, 1865; resided in Europe for a year or more; returned to Lexington, Ky., and resumed the practice of law; vice president of the Elizabethtown, Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad Co.; died in Lexington, Ky., May 17, 1875; interment in Lexington Cemetery.

BRECKINRIDGE, William Campbell Preston (grandson of John Breckinridge and uncle of Levin Irving Handy), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Baltimore, Md., August 28, 1837; attended the common schools, Jefferson College, Chambersburg, Pa., and Pisgah Academy, Woodford County, Ky.; was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1855, and from the law department of the University of Louisville in 1857; was admitted to the bar in 1857 and commenced practice in Lexington, Ky.; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as captain and was subsequently promoted to the rank of colonel in the Ninth Kentucky Cavalry; was in command of the Kentucky cavalry designated to act as bodyguard for President Jefferson Davis and the members of his Cabinet at the close of the Civil War; returned to Lexington, Ky., and was attorney for Fayette County; edited the Lexington Observer and Reporter, Lexington, 1866-1868; professor of equity and jurisprudence in the University of Kentucky at Lexington; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at St. Louis in 1876 and 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for election in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law and also edited the Lexington Herald; died in Lexington, Ky., November 18, 1904; interment in Lexington Cemetery.

BRESEE, Sidney, a Senator from Illinois; born in Whitesboro, N. Y., July 15, 1800; attended Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1818; moved to Illinois; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and commenced practice in Kaskaskia; appointed postmaster of Kaskaskia in 1821; prosecuting attorney of the third judicial circuit 1822-1826; United States district attorney for Illinois 1827-1829; compiled and published the first volume of Illinois Supreme Court Reports in 1831; was the first reporter of the proceedings of the State supreme court in 1831; held several commissions in the militia, and served as a lieutenant colonel of Volunteers in the Black Hawk War in 1832; circuit judge of the second district 1835-1841; judge of the State supreme court in 1841 and 1842; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1843, to March 3, 1849; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1849; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and 1852, and served as speaker in the former year; judge of the Circuit Court of Illinois 1855-1857; judge of the Supreme Court of Illinois from 1857 until his death; served as chief justice 1867-1870, 1873, and 1874; died in Pinkneyville, Perry County, Ill., June 28, 1878; interment in the Carlyle Cemetery, Carlyle, Ill.

BREITUNG, Edward, a Representative from Michigan; born in the city of Schalkau, Duchy of Saxe-Meiningen, Germany, November 10, 1831; attended the College of Mining, Meiningen, Germany, in 1849; after the revolution in Germany he emigrated to the United States and settled in Kalamazoo County, Mich.; moved to Detroit in 1851 and became a clerk in a mercantile house; moved to Marquette, Mich., and engaged in mercantile pursuits until 1859, when he went to Negaunee, Marquette County; sold out his mercantile business to engage exclusively in iron-mining operations in 1864; explored the iron range in Marquette and Menominee Counties, locating several profitable mines, 1864-1867; later became interested in gold and silver mining in Colorado; member of the State house of representatives 1878-1879; member of the State senate in 1877 and 1878; mayor of Negaunee in 1879, 1880, and 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1884; died in Negaunee, Marquette County, Mich., March 3, 1887; interment in the City Cemetery; reinterment in Park Cemetery Marquette, Mich.

BREMNER, Robert Gunn, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Kelso, Calthness, Scotland, December 17, 1874; emigrated with his parents to Canada; attended the public schools; moved to the United States, and was employed as a carpenter and electrician in New York City in 1894 and 1895; became a newspaper reporter in Paterson, N. J., in 1895; served as a private in Company C, Second Regiment New Jersey Volunteer Infantry, during the Spanish-American War; resumed newspaper work in Paterson; editor and publisher of the Daily Herald, Passaic, N. J., 1902-1914; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1913, until his death in Baltimore, Md., February 5, 1914; interment in Laurel Grove Cemetery, Totowa Borough, N. J.

BRENGLE, Francis, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick, Md., November 20, 1807; completed academic studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Frederick, Md.; member of the State house of delegates 1832, 1834, and 1836; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Frederick, Frederick County, Md., December 10, 1846; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

BRENNAN, Vincent Morrison, a Representative from Michigan; born in Mount Clemens, Macomb County, Mich., April 22, 1890; moved with his parents to Detroit in 1895; was graduated from St. Peter and Paul's Parochial School, from Detroit College in 1909, from the law department of Harvard University in 1912, and from the University of Detroit in 1914; was admitted to the bar in 1912 and commenced practice in Detroit; legal adviser to the Michigan State Labor Department in 1912 and 1913; assistant corporation counsel for the city of Detroit 1915-1920; member of the State senate in 1919 and 1920; drafted the automobile traffic ordinance of Detroit, used as a model for many other cities; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for reelection in 1922; elected judge of the circuit court of Wayne County, Mich., for a six-year term beginning January, 1924, in which capacity he is now serving; resides in Detroit, Mich.

BRENNER, John Lewis, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wayne Township, Montgomery County, Ohio, February 2, 1832; attended the common schools and the Springfield (Ohio) Academy; engaged in agricultural pursuits until 1862 when he became interested in the nursery business until 1872 and then engaged in the production of tobacco; moved to Dayton, Ohio, in 1866; member of the board of police commissioners 1885-1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed his former occupation as a dealer in leaf tobacco; died in Dayton, Montgomery County, Ohio, November 1, 1906; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

BRENT, Richard, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born at "Richland," on the Potomac River, at Aquia Creek, Stafford County, Va., in 1757; member of the Virginia House of Delegates from Stafford County in 1788, and from Prince William County in 1793, 1794, 1800, and 1801; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1799); elected to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); served in the State senate 1808-1810; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1800, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 30, 1814.

BRENT, William Leigh, a Representative from Louisiana; born at Port Tobacco, Charles County, Md., February 20, 1784; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Louisiana about 1809 and commenced practice; appointed by President Madison deputy attorney general for the western district of the Territory of Orleans; elected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); affiliated with the Whig Party upon its formation; resumed the practice of law in Louisiana and in Washington, D. C.; died in St. Martinsville, La., July 3, 1848; interment in St. Martin's Catholic Cemetery.

BRENTANO, Lorenzo, a Representative from Illinois; born in Mannheim, Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, November 4, 1813; studied jurisprudence in the Universities of Heidelberg and Freiburg and was graduated; practiced before the Supreme Court of Baden; elected to the Chamber of Deputies and in 1848 to the Frankfurt Parliament; president of the provisional republic established by the revolutionists in 1849; sentenced to imprisonment for life after the failure of the revolution, but sought refuge in the United States; settled in Kalamazoo County, Mich., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Chicago in 1859; was admitted to the bar in 1859 and commenced practice in Chicago, Ill.; became editor in chief and principal proprietor of the Illinois Staats-Zeitung; member of the State house of representatives in 1862; member of the Chicago Board of Education 1862-1868; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; appointed United States consul at Dresden in 1872, and served until April, 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1878; engaged in literary pursuits; died in Chicago, Ill., September 18, 1891; interment in Graceland Cemetery.

BRENTON, Samuel, a Representative from Indiana; born in Gallatin County, Ky., November 22, 1810; attended the public schools; was ordained to the Methodist ministry in 1830 and served as a minister of the gospel; located at Danville, Ind., in 1834 on account of ill health and studied law; member of the State house of representatives 1838-1841; in 1841, on the restoration of his health, he returned to the ministry and served at Crawfordsville, Perryville, Lafayette, and finally Fort Wayne, where he suffered a paralytic stroke in 1848 and was compelled to abandon his ministerial duties; appointed register of the land office at Fort Wayne, Ind., on May 2, 1849, and served until July 31, 1851, when he resigned; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1855, until his death in Fort Wayne, Ind., March 29, 1857; interment in Lindenwood Cemetery.

BRENTS, Thomas Hurley, a Delegate from the Territory of Washington; born near Florence, Pike County, Ill., December 24, 1840; attended the common schools, the Portland (Oreg.) Academy, Baptist Seminary, Oregon City, Oreg., and McMinnville (Oreg.) College; justice of the peace in 1862; engaged in the general mercantile business at Canyon City 1863-1866; postmaster of Canyon City, Oreg., in 1863 and 1864; clerk of Grant County, Oreg., 1864-1868; delegate to the Union-Republican Convention of Oregon in 1866; member of the State house of representatives in 1866; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in San Francisco, Calif., in 1867; moved to Walla Walla, Wash., in 1870; city attorney of Walla Walla in 1871 and 1872; presided over the Republican Territorial convention at Vancouver in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed the practice of law; judge of the superior court of Walla Walla 1890-1913; died in Walla Walla, Wash., October 23, 1916; interment in Blue Mountain Cemetery.

BRETZ, John Lewis, a Representative from Indiana; born near Huntington, Dubois County, Ind., September 21, 1852; attended the country schools and Huntington High School; taught school 1876-1890; studied law, and was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1890; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Jasper, Ind.; prosecuting attorney of the eleventh judicial circuit 1894-1899; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; judge of the circuit court of Pike and Dubois Counties in 1895, and served until his death; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City in 1900; died in Jasper, Dubois County, Ind., December 25, 1920; interment in Fairmount Cemetery, Huntington, Ind.

BREWARD, Joseph, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Iredell, Iredell County, N. C., July 19, 1796; entered the Continental Army when a mere boy; was commissioned Lieutenant in the North Carolina Line in 1782, and served throughout the Revolutionary War; moved to Camden, S. C.; sheriff of Camden District 1789-1791; commissioner in equity October 14, 1791; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1792, and commenced practice in Camden, S. C.; engaged in the compilation of the law reports which bear his name 1793-1815; elected judge of the State supreme court December 17, 1801, and served until December, 1815, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Camden; elected as a Whig to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); was not a candidate for renomination in 1820; unsuccessful candidate for Congress at a special election held in 1821; died in Camden, Kershaw County, S. C., October 11, 1821; interment in the Quaker Cemetery.

BREWER, Francis Beattie, a Representative from New York; born in Keene, Cheshire County, N. H., October 8, 1820; attended the Barnet (Vt.) public schools, Newbury (Vt.) Seminary, and Kimball Union Academy at Meriden, N. H.; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1843 and from the medical department of the same institution in 1846; practiced medicine in Barnet, Vt., Plymouth, Mass., and Titusville, Pa., from 1849 to 1861; pioneer oil operator and lumberman in Titusville, Pa.; moved to Westfield, N. Y., in 1861 and engaged in banking, manufacturing, and agricultural pursuits; State military agent with rank of major during the Civil War; member of the Board of Supervisors of Chautauqua County, N. Y., 1868-1879; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872; member of the State assembly in 1873 and 1874; Government director of the Union Pacific Railroad four years under Presidents Grant and Hayes; appointed manager of the State insane asylum, Buffalo, N. Y., in 1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for reelection in 1884; resumed the practice of medicine; died in Westfield, Chautauqua County, N. Y., July 29, 1892; interment in the Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BREWER, John Hart, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hunterdon County, N. J., March 29, 1844; attended the Lawrenceville schools and Trenton Academy; was graduated from the Delaware Literary Institution, Franklin, Delaware County, N. Y., in 1862; moved to Trenton, N. J., in 1865, and engaged in the manufacture of pottery; member of the State house of assembly in 1870; president of the National Potters' Association in 1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); resumed the manufacture of pottery until 1895, when he became engaged in the insurance business; appointed assistant appraiser of merchandise at the port of New York City by President McKinley and served until his death in Trenton, N. J., on December 21, 1900; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

BREWER, Mark Spencer, a Representative from Michigan; born in Addison, Oakland County, Mich., October 22, 1837; attended Romeo and Oxford Academies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1864, and commenced practice in Pontiac, Mich.; city attorney of Pontiac in 1866 and 1867; circuit court commissioner for Oakland County 1866-1869; member of the State senate 1872-1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); appointed consul general to Berlin by President Garfield on June 30, 1881, and served until 1885; elected to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); appointed a member of the United States Civil Service Commission by President McKinley on January 18, 1898, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., March 18, 1901; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Pontiac, Mich.

BREWER, Willis, a Representative from Alabama; born near Livingston, Sumter County, Ala., March 15, 1844; attended the common schools; entered the military service of the Confederate Army at the age of eighteen years; journalist, author, and planter; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice at Haynesville, Ala.; treasurer of Lowndes County in 1871; State auditor 1870-1880; member of the State house of representatives 1880-1882; served in the State senate 1882-1890; again a member of the State house of representatives 1890-1894; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Stevens in 1892; again served in the State senate 1894-1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed the practice of law and continued his work as an author until his death in Montgomery, Ala., on October 30, 1912; interment in the family mausoleum on Cedars plantation, near Montgomery, Ala.

BREWSTER, David P., a Representative from New York; born in Cairo, Greene County, N. Y., June 15, 1801; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1823; moved to New York City; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Oswego, N. Y.; trustee of the village of Oswego in 1828, 1836, and 1845; prosecuting attorney of Oswego County 1829-1833; treasurer of the village of Oswego 1832-1834, and served as its president in 1837; judge of the court of common pleas 1833-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); appointed postmaster of Oswego, N. Y., on July 21, 1845, and served until January 10, 1849, when his successor was appointed; resumed the practice of law; member of the excise board commission and served as president 1870-1873; died in Oswego, Oswego County, N. Y., February 20, 1876; interment in Riverside Cemetery.

BREWSTER, Henry Colvin, a Representative from New York; born in Rochester, N. Y., September 7, 1845; attended the public schools; became a clerk in the Traders' National Bank in 1863; employed as cashier 1868-1894, president 1907-1917, and chairman of the board 1917-1923; vice president of the New York State League of Republican Clubs and president of the Monroe County League; president of Rochester Chamber of Commerce in 1893 and 1902; one of the organizers of the New York State Bankers' Association and served as vice president in 1894 and president in 1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899) was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; served as vice president of the National League of Republican Clubs in 1897; resumed banking and other business activities; governor of the Mayflower Society; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1900; retired from active business pursuits in 1923; died in Canandaigua, N. Y., while on a visit January 29, 1928; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Rochester, N. Y.

BRICE, Calvin Stewart, a Senator from Ohio; born in Denmark, Ashtabula County, Ohio, September 17, 1845; attended Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; during the Civil War enlisted in Captain Dodd's university company in April, 1861, and served in West Virginia; was graduated from Miami University in June, 1863; recruited a company, reentered the Civil War as captain of Company E, One hundred and eightieth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served until July, 1865; attained the rank of lieutenant colonel; studied law in the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; was admitted to the bar in Cincinnati in 1866 and commenced practice in Lima, Allen County, Ohio; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876 and of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1888; member of the Democratic National Committee, and served as chairman in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1891, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for reelection; died in New York City December 15, 1898; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Lima, Ohio.

BRICK, Abraham Lincoln, a Representative from Indiana; born on his father's farm, near South Bend, St. Joseph County, Ind., May 27, 1860; attended the common schools and was graduated from the South Bend High School; later attended Cornell and Yale Colleges, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1883; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in South Bend, St. Joseph County, Ind.; prosecuting attorney for the counties of St. Joseph and La Porte in 1886; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, until his death; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; died in Indianapolis, Ind., April 7, 1908; interment in Riverview Cemetery, South Bend, Ind.

BRICKNER, George H., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Anspach, Bavaria, Germany, January 21, 1834; emigrated to the United States in 1840 with his parents, who settled in Seneca County, Ohio; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Tiffin, Ohio, 1850-1855; moved to Cascade, Wis., in 1855 and again engaged in mercantile pursuits; later operated a flour mill until 1868, when he engaged in the manufacture of woollens at Sheboygan Falls, Wis., and also established a glass factory in Tiffin, Ohio, in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; withdrew from public life and active business pursuits and lived in retirement in Sheboygan Falls, Sheboygan County, Wis., until his death on August 12, 1904; interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

BRIDGES, George Washington, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Charleston, Bradley County, Tenn., October 9, 1825; attended the East Tennessee University at Knoxville; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Athens, McMinn County, Tenn.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; attorney general of Tennessee 1849-1860; during the Civil War raised the Tenth Regiment Tennessee Cavalry for the Union Army, and served as captain, lieutenant colonel, and colonel; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress, but was arrested while en route to Washington, D. C., taken back to Tennessee, and held as a prisoner for more than a year; finally made his escape and went to Washington, D. C., and assumed his duties; qualified and took his seat in the House of Representatives on February 25, 1863, and served until March 8, 1863; elected circuit judge of the fourth judicial district of Tennessee in 1866, and served about one year; died in Athens, Tenn., March 18, 1873; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

BRIDGES, Samuel Augustus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Colchester, Conn., January 27, 1802; pursued an academic course, and was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in Doylestown, Pa.; moved to Allentown, Lehigh County, Pa., in 1830, where he continued the practice of law; town clerk 1837-1842; deputy attorney general of the State for Lehigh County 1837-1844; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1841; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John W. Hornbeck, and served from March 6, 1848, to March 3, 1849; was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; continued the practice of law in Allentown, Pa., where he died January 14, 1884; interment in Union Cemetery.

BRIGGS, Clay Stone, a Representative from Texas; born in Galveston, Tex., January 8, 1876; attended private and public schools, the University of Texas at Austin, and Harvard University; was graduated from the law department of Yale University in 1899; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced the practice of law in Galveston, Tex.; member of the State house of representatives 1906-1908; judge of the tenth judicial district of Texas 1909-1919; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BRIGGS, Frank Obadiah (son of James Frankland Briggs), a Senator from New Jersey; born in Concord, N. H., August 12, 1851; attended the public schools, Francess town (N. H.) Academy, and Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.; was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1872; served in the Second Regiment United States Infantry as second lieutenant until 1877, when he resigned from the Army; moved to Trenton, N. J., in 1877 and engaged in the manufacture of wire and its products; member of the Trenton School Board 1884-1892; mayor of Trenton 1899-1902; member of the State board of education in 1901 and 1902; State treasurer 1902-1907; chairman of the Republican State committee 1904-1911; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1907, to March 3, 1913; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; resumed his former business pursuits in Trenton, N. J., where he died May 8, 1913; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

BRIGGS, George, a Representative from New York; born near Broadalbin, Fulton County, N. Y., May 6, 1805; moved to Vermont with his parents, who settled in Bennington in 1812; attended the public schools; engaged in business as a dealer in hardware; member of the Vermont House of Representatives in 1837; returned to New York and settled in New York City in 1838 and continued in the hardware business; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1862; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1860; retired from public life and active business pursuits; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; died at his summer home, "Woodlawn," at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 1, 1869; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, New York City.

BRIGGS, George Nixon, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in North Adams (now Adams), Mass., April 12, 1796; moved with his parents to Manchester, Vt., when seven years of age, and to White Creek, N. Y., two years later; attended the public schools; moved to Lanesboro, Mass., in 1814; apprenticed to the hatter's trade; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and commenced practice in Lanesboro; register of deeds for Berkshire County 1824-1831; elected town clerk in 1824; appointed chairman of the board of commissioners of highways in 1820; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1843); moved to Pittsfield in 1842; Governor of Massachusetts 1844-1851; resumed the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; judge of the court of common pleas 1853-1858; appointed in 1861 one of a commission to adjust differences between the United States and New Granada; accidentally killed in Pittsfield, Berkshire County, Mass., September 11, 1861; interment in the Pittsfield Cemetery.

BRIGGS, James Frankland (father of Frank Obadiah Briggs), a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Bury, Lancashire, England, October 23, 1827; emigrated to the United States in 1829 with his parents, who settled in Holderness (now Ashland), N. H.; attended the common schools and Newbury Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, N. H., until 1871; moved to Manchester, N. H.; member of the State house of representatives 1856-1858 and in 1874; during the Civil War served as major of the Eleventh Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry; served in the State senate in 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1883, 1891, and 1897, serving in 1897 as speaker; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1889; died in Manchester, N. H., January 21, 1906; interment in Green Grove Cemetery, Ashland, Grafton County, N. H.

BRIGHAM, Elbert Sidney, a Representative from Vermont; born in St. Albans, Franklin County, Vt., October 19, 1877; attended the common schools; was graduated from St. Albans High School in 1898 and from Middlebury (Vt.) College in 1903; engaged in agricultural pursuits; auditor for the town of St. Albans in 1911 and 1912; State commissioner of agriculture 1913-1924; member of the New England Regional Milk Commission in 1917 and 1918; member of the National Agricultural Advisory Committee and of the United States Food Administration, Washington, D. C., during the World War in 1918; elected trustee of Middlebury College in 1924; director of the National Life Insurance Co. in 1925; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

BRIGHAM, Elijah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Northboro (then Westboro), Mass., July 7, 1751; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1778; studied law, but did not practice; engaged in mercantile pursuits at Westboro; member of the State house of representatives 1791-1793; justice of the court of common pleas 1796-1811; served in the State senate 1790, 1798, 1801-1806, and 1807-1810; State councillor in 1790, 1800, and 1806; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 22, 1816; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BRIGHAM, Lewis Alexander, a Representative from New Jersey; born at New York Mills, Oneida County, N. Y., January 2, 1831; attended the district schools and Whitestown Seminary, Whitesboro, N. Y.; was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in New York City; superintendent of public schools, Bergen, N. J., 1866-1870; member of the Board of Police Commissioners of Jersey City 1874-1876; member of the State house of assembly in 1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law in New York City; died in Jersey City, N. J., February 19, 1885; interment in the Old Bergen Church Cemetery.

BRIGHT, Jesse David, a Senator from Indiana; born in Norwich, N. Y., December 18, 1812; moved with his parents to Madison, Ind., in 1820; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Madison, Jefferson County, Ind.; elected judge of the probate court of Jefferson County in 1834; member of the State house of representatives in 1836; appointed United States marshal for the district of Indiana January 9, 1840; Lieutenant Governor of Indiana 1843-1845; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1850 and 1856, and served from March 4, 1845, to February 5, 1862, when he was expelled for having, in a letter to Jefferson Davis, recognized him as "President of the Confederate States"; was elected President pro tempore of the Senate December 5, 1854, June 11, 1856, and June 12, 1860; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1863 to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by his expulsion; moved to Carrollton, Ky., in 1863 and then to Covington, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1866; president of the Raymond City Coal Co. in 1871; moved to Baltimore in 1874, still retaining his connection with the coal company; died in Baltimore, Md., May 20, 1875; interment in Greenmount Cemetery.

BRIGHT, John Morgan, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Fayetteville, Lincoln County, Tenn., January 20, 1817; attended the schools of Fayetteville and Bingham's School, Hillsboro, N. C.; was graduated from Nashville University, Tennessee, in September, 1839, and from the law department of Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in March, 1841; was admitted to the bar in 1841 and commenced practice in Fayetteville, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives in 1847 and 1848; served as general on the staff of Gov. Isham G. Harris 1861-1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Fayetteville, Tenn., October 3, 1911; interment in the Presbyterian Churchyard.

BRINKERHOFF, Henry Roeliff (cousin of Jacob Brinkerhoff), a Representative from Ohio; born in Adams County, Pa., September 23, 1787; moved with his parents to Cayuga County, N. Y., in 1793; attended the country schools, supplemented later by reading and study; commanded a company of militia in the War of 1812, distinguishing himself in the Battle of Queens-town Heights; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State assembly in 1828 and 1829; senior major general of the New York State Militia in 1824; moved to Huron County, Ohio, in 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1843, until his death in Huron County, Ohio, April 30, 1844; interment in the Pioneer Cemetery, Plymouth, Richmond County, Ohio.

BRINKERHOFF, Jacob (cousin of Henry Roelf Brinkerhoff), a Representative from Ohio; born in Niles, Cayuga County, N. Y., August 31, 1810; attended the public schools and the Plattsburg Academy, Steuben County, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio; moved to Plymouth, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Richland County, Ohio, 1839-1843; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); resumed the practice of law in Mansfield, Ohio; affiliated with the Republican Party on its formation in 1856; delegate to numerous Republican National Conventions; justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio 1856-1871; died in Mansfield, Ohio, July 19, 1880; interment in Mansfield Cemetery.

BRINSON, Samuel Mitchell, a Representative from North Carolina; born in New Bern, Craven County, N. C., March 20, 1870; attended private and public schools, and was graduated from Wake Forest College, North Carolina, in 1891; taught school in New Bern one year; was graduated from the law department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1895, was admitted to the bar in 1896, and commenced practice in New Bern, N. C.; county superintendent of public instruction in Craven County 1902-1919; president of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Co. in 1918; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1919, until his death in New Bern, N. C., April 13, 1922; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

BRISBIN, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sherburne, Chenango County, N. Y., July 13, 1818; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Tunkhannock, Wyoming County, Pa., about 1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chester Butler, and served from January 13 to March 3, 1851; president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway Co. 1863-1867, and member of the board of managers and general counsel from 1867 until his death in Newark, N. J., February 3, 1880; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Elizabeth, N. J.

BRISTOW, Francis Marion, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Clark County, Ky., August 11, 1804; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Elkton; member of the State house of representatives 1831-1833; served in the State senate in 1846; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Presley Underwood Ewing, and served from December 4, 1854, to March 3, 1855; elected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for reelection in 1860; resumed the practice of law; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; died in Elkton, Todd County, Ky., June 10, 1864; interment in the family burying ground.

BRISTOW, Henry, a Representative from New York; born in St. Michael, Azores Islands, June 5, 1840; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Brooklyn, N. Y.; attended public and private schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits until 1896; during the Civil War served as a private in Company B, Seventh Regiment New York State Militia, from April 26, 1861, to June 3, 1861; appointed city magistrate in 1896; member of the Board of Education of Brooklyn 1880-1889; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; appointed public administrator of Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1904, and served until his death in that city October 11, 1906; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BRISTOW, Joseph Little, a Senator from Kansas; born near Hazelgreen, Wolf County, Ky., July 22, 1861; moved with his father to Fredonia, Kans., in 1873; attended the country schools, and was graduated from Baker University, Baldwin, Kans., in 1886; clerk of the district court of Douglas County 1886-1890; in 1890 bought the Salina (Kans.) Daily Republican, which he edited for five years; elected secretary of the Republican State committee in 1894; private secretary to Gov. E. N. Morrill 1895-1897; purchased the Ottawa (Kans.) Herald, which he owned for more than ten years; again elected secretary of the Republican State committee in 1898; Fourth Assistant Postmaster General 1897-1905; under the direction of the President made an investigation of the Cuban postal frauds in 1900; purchased the Salina Daily Republican-Journal in 1905; appointed a special commissioner of the Panama Railroad in 1905; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1909, to March 3, 1915; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; temporarily engaged in agricultural pursuits with his son near Fairfax, Va.; chairman of the Kansas Utilities Commission 1915-1918; is a resident of Salina, Kans.

BRITT, James Jefferson, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Johnson City, Washington County, Tenn., March 4, 1861; attended the common schools and studied under private tutors; taught school for several years; superintendent of the public schools of Mitchell County 1894-1896; studied law at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Asheville, N. C.; deputy collector of internal revenue 1896-1899; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Roosevelt and Fairbanks in 1904; special assistant United States attorney in 1906 and 1907; member of the State senate 1909-1911; special counsel to the Post Office Department from July 1, 1909, to December 1, 1910; special assistant to the Attorney General from July 13, 1910, to December 1, 1910; appointed Third Assistant Postmaster General by President Taft on December 1, 1910, and served in this capacity until March 17, 1913; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1917); successfully contested the election of Zebulon Weaver to the Sixty-fifth Congress, and served from March 1 to March 3, 1919; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Asheville, N. C.; employed as chief counsel for the Bureau of Prohibition, Treasury Department, in 1922, in which capacity he is now serving; unsuccessful candidate for chief justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in 1928.

BRITTEN, Fred Albert, a Representative from Illinois; born in Chicago, Ill., November 18, 1871; attended the public schools and Heads Business College at San Francisco, Calif.; engaged in general building construction work at Chicago in 1893; member of the Chicago City Council 1908-1912; member of the city civil service committee in 1909 and served as chairman; chosen a member of the American group of the Inter-parliamentary Union in 1923, and was chosen vice president in 1927, in which capacity he is now serving; member of the Republican National Congressional Committee since 1926; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

BROADHEAD, James Overton, a Representative from Missouri; born in Charlottesville, Va., May 29, 1819; attended the high school in Albemarle County and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; moved to Missouri in 1837; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Bowling Green, Pike County, Mo.; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1845, 1861, 1863, and 1875; member of the State house of representatives in 1846 and 1847; served in the State senate 1850-1853; moved to St. Louis in 1859, and continued the practice of law; appointed United States attorney for the eastern district of Missouri in 1861; commissioned by President Lincoln lieutenant colonel of Volunteers and immediately appointed provost marshal general of Missouri in 1863; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868, and at Baltimore in 1872; appointed by President Grant special United States attorney to assist in the prosecution of the so-called "whisky ring" at St. Louis in 1876; president of the American Bar Association in 1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; appointed a special commissioner on French spoliation claims by President Cleveland in 1885; minister to Switzerland 1893-1897; died in St. Louis, Mo., August 7, 1898; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

BROCKENBROUGH, William Henry, a Representative from Florida; born in Virginia February 23, 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and settled in Tallahassee, Fla.; member of the State house of representatives in 1837; served in the State senate 1840-1844, and was its president in 1842; United States district attorney 1841-1843; upon the admission of Florida as a State into the Union successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Edward C. Cabell to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from January 24, 1846, to March 3, 1847; died in Tallahassee, Fla., January 28, 1850; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery.

BROCKSON, Franklin, a Representative from Delaware; born in Blackbird Hundred, Newcastle County, Del., August 6, 1805; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Wilmington Conference Academy at Dover, Del., in 1830; engaged in mercantile pursuits; teacher and principal in the public schools at Port Penn and Marshallton, Del.; was graduated from the law department of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1836; was admitted to the bar September 21, 1836, and commenced practice in Wilmington, Del.; unsuccessful candidate in 1836 for election as delegate to the State constitutional convention; member of the State house of representatives 1838-1840; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); represented Delaware at the dedication of Congress Hall in Philadelphia, Pa., on October 25, 1913; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Clayton and Wilmington, Del., and is a resident of Clayton, Del.

BROCKWAY, John Hall, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Ellington, Tolland County, Conn., January 31, 1801; pursued preparatory studies and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1820; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Ellington; member of the State house of representatives 1832-1833; served in the State senate in 1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); prosecuting attorney for Tolland County from 1849 to 1867, when he resigned; died in Ellington, Conn., July 29, 1870; interment in Ellington Center Cemetery.

BRODBECK, Andrew R., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Jefferson, York County, Pa., April 11, 1860; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; taught in the public schools 1878-1880; sheriff of York County, Pa., 1896-1899; delegate to several State conventions; served on the State central committee; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City in 1900; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; elected to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate in 1918 for reelection to the Sixty-sixth Congress; delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920; retired from active business pursuits in 1920, and is a resident of Hanover, Pa.

BRODERICK, Case (cousin of David Colbreth Broderick and Andrew Kennedy), a Representative from Kansas; born near Marion, Grant County, Ind., September 23, 1839; attended the common schools; moved to Holton, Jackson County, Kans., in 1858, settled in Jackson County, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in the Second Kansas Battery in 1862, and was mustered out at Leavenworth in August, 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice in Holton, Kans.; mayor of Holton in 1874 and 1875; prosecuting attorney of Jackson County 1876-1880; member of the State senate 1880-1884; appointed by President Arthur an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Idaho in March, 1884, and took up his residence in Boise City, Ada County, Idaho; served until the fall of 1888, when he returned to Holton, Kans., and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1898; again engaged in the practice of law in Holton, Kans.; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Taft and Sherman in 1906; retired from the practice of law and devoted his time to farming and livestock interests; died in Holton, Kans., April 1, 1920; interment in Holton Cemetery.

BRODERICK, David Colbreth (cousin of Andrew Kennedy), a Senator from California; born in Washington, D. C., February 4, 1820, his father having emigrated from Ireland to work as a stonecutter on the Capitol; moved with his parents to New York in 1823; attended the common schools; apprenticed to a stonecutter in early youth; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1846 to the Thirtieth Congress; moved to California in 1849, and engaged in smelting and assaying gold; delegate to the constitutional convention of California in 1849; member of the State senate in 1850 and 1851, and served as president of that body in the latter year; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1857, until mortally wounded in a duel with David S. Terry, chief justice of the Supreme Court of California; died near San Francisco, Calif., September 16, 1859; interment under a monument in Lone Mountain Cemetery, San Francisco, erected by the people of the State.

BRODHEAD, John, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Lower Smithfield, Pa., October 5, 1770; attended the common schools and the Stroudsburg (Pa.) Academy; studied theology, was ordained a minister, and was active in his ministerial duties for forty-four years; moved in 1796 to New England, where he became supervisor of Methodist societies in the Connecticut Valley; settled in Canaan, N. H., in 1801; moved to Newfields Village, Newmarket, N. H., in 1809; member of the State senate 1817-1827; officiated as chaplain of the State house of representatives in 1825; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1832 and resumed his ministerial duties; died in Newfields, Rockingham County, N. H., April 7, 1838; interment in Locust Cemetery.

BRODHEAD, John Curtis, a Representative from New York; born in Modena, Ulster County, N. Y., October 27, 1780; attended the district schools; engaged in mercantile and agricultural pursuits; sheriff of Ulster County 1825-1828; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); elected to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1838; resumed mercantile and agricultural pursuits; died in Modena, Ulster County, N. Y., January 2, 1859; interment in Modena Rural Cemetery.

BRODHEAD, Joseph Davis (son of Richard Brodhead), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Easton, Northampton County, Pa., January 12, 1859; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Stroudsburg, Monroe County, Pa.; elected district attorney of Northampton County in 1889; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1892 and at St. Louis in 1904; elected to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1908; resumed the practice of law in South Bethlehem, Northampton County, Pa.; appointed judge of the courts of record of Northampton County in 1914; died in Washington, D. C., April 23, 1920; interment in Easton Cemetery, Easton, Pa.

BRODHEAD, Richard (father of Joseph Davis Brodhead), a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Lehman Township, Pike County, Pa., January 5, 1811; moved to Easton in 1830; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Easton; member of the State house of representatives 1837-1839; appointed treasurer of Northampton County in 1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1851, to March 3, 1857; died in Easton, Pa., September 18, 1863; interment in Easton Cemetery.

BROGDEN, Curtis Hooks, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Goldsboro, Wayne County, N. C., November 8, 1816; pursued academic studies; member of the State house of representatives 1840-1850; comptroller of the State 1857-1867; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; appointed collector of Internal revenue in 1869; member of the State senate 1868-1872; Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina in 1872, and became governor, on the death of Governor Caldwell, July 14, 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); again a member of the State house of representatives 1886-1888; represented North Carolina at the centennial celebration in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1876; died in Goldsboro, N. C., January 5, 1901; interment in Willowdale Cemetery.

BROMBERG, Frederick George, a Representative from Alabama; born in New York City June 19, 1837; moved with his parents to Mobile, Ala., in February, 1838; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Harvard University in 1858; appointed treasurer of the city of Mobile in July, 1867, by Maj. Gen. John Pope, commanding the department, and served until January 19, 1869; member of the State senate 1868-1872; appointed postmaster of Mobile in July, 1869, but was removed in June, 1871; chairman of the Alabama delegation to the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati in 1872; elected by the Liberal Republicans and Democrats to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessfully contested the election of Jeremiah Haralson to the Forty-fourth Congress; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice at Mobile, Ala.; Alabama commissioner of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893; president of the State bar association in 1906; is a resident of Mobile, Ala.

BROMWELL, Henry Pelham Holmes, a Representative from Illinois; born in Baltimore, Md., August 28, 1823; moved with his parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1824, and thence to Cumberland, Ill., in 1836; attended private schools in Ohio and Illinois and Marshall Academy, Marshall, Ill.; became an instructor in that academy in 1844; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Vandalia, Ill.; edited his father's newspaper for several years; judge of Fayette County 1853-1857; took an active part in the founding and building of the Republican Party; moved to Charleston, Coles County, Ill., in 1857; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1868; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1870, and continued the practice of law; president of the Denver School Board 1871-1874; member of the Territorial council in 1874; delegate to the constitutional convention of Colorado in 1875; declined the office of county judge of Arapahoe County in 1878 and the appointment of chief justice of Utah Territory in 1879; appointed by the governor the same year to compile the General Statutes of Colorado; died in Denver, Colo., January 7, 1903; interment in Riverside Cemetery.

BROMWELL, Jacob Henry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, May 11, 1848; resided in his boyhood in Newport, Ky.; attended the public schools of Cincinnati, and was graduated from Hughes High School in 1864; taught in the public schools of southern Indiana and Cincinnati for twenty-three years; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law College in 1870; was admitted to the bar of Hamilton County in 1888 and commenced practice in Cincinnati, Ohio; mayor of Wyoming, Hamilton County, Ohio, 1880-1886; assistant county solicitor of Hamilton County 1888-1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John A. Caldwell; reelected to the Fifty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from December 3, 1894, to March 3, 1903; was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed the practice of law in Cincinnati, Ohio; judge of the court of common pleas of Hamilton County 1907-1913; declined to be a candidate for renomination; again engaged in the practice of law; died in Wyoming, Ohio, June 4, 1924; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BRONSON, David, a Representative from Maine; born in Suffield, Conn., February 8, 1800; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Anson, Me.; member of the State house of representatives in 1832 and 1834; justice of the peace; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Evans, and served from May 31, 1841, to March 3, 1843; moved to Augusta, Me., in 1843, and resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate in 1846; moved to Bath, Me., in 1850; collector of customs in Bath, Me., 1850-1853; judge of probate for Sagadahoc County 1854-1857; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; died in St. Michaels, Talbot County, Md., November 20, 1863; interment in the Catholic cemetery of St. Michael's parish.

BRONSON, Isaac Hopkins, a Representative from New York; born in Rutland, N. Y., October 18, 1802; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and commenced practice in Watertown, Jefferson County, N. Y.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1838 to the Twenty-sixth Congress; appointed judge of the fifth judicial district of New York April 18, 1838; moved to St. Augustine, Fla., and a number of years later to Palatka, Putnam County, Fla.; appointed United States judge for the eastern district of Florida March 14, 1840; upon the admission of Florida as a State into the Union in 1845 was unanimously chosen as judge for the eastern circuit, and was appointed United States judge for the district of Florida August 8, 1846; when the State was divided he retained the northern district and served until his death in Palatka, Fla., August 13, 1855; interment in the Episcopal Church Cemetery.

BROOKS, Moses Lycurgus, a Representative from Texas; born near San Augustine, San Augustine County, Tex., November 1, 1864; attended the common schools; was graduated from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1891 and commenced practice at San Augustine; member of the State house of representatives in 1892; moved to Beaumont, Jefferson County, Tex.; elected district attorney of the first judicial district of Texas in 1896, and served one term; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); resumed the practice of law in San Augustine, Tex., and died there May 27, 1908; interment in the Old Brooks Cemetery, about four miles east of San Augustine, Tex.

BROOKE, Walker, a Senator from Mississippi; born at Page Brooke, near Winchester, Clarke County, Va., December 25, 1813; attended the public schools in Richmond, Va., and Georgetown, D. C.; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1838, and commenced practice in Lexington, Miss.; member of the State house of representatives in 1848; served in the State senate in 1850 and 1852; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry S. Foote, and served from February 18, 1852, to March 3, 1853; was not a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; moved to Vicksburg, Miss., in 1857 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1861; became affiliated with the Democratic Party in 1861; elected a member of the Provisional Confederate Congress from Mississippi in 1861, and served one year; appointed a member of the permanent military court of the Confederate States; died in Vicksburg, Miss., February 18, 1869; interment in Vicksburg Cemetery.

BROOKHART, Smith Wildman, a Senator from Iowa; born near Arbelo, Scotland County, Mo., February 2, 1869; attended the country schools; was graduated from the high school at Bloomfield, Iowa, in 1886, and the Southern Iowa Normal and Scientific Institute at Bloomfield in 1889; taught school for five years at Keosauqua; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1892, and commenced practice in Washington, Iowa; served in the Iowa National Guard 1894-1917; attorney of Washington County 1895-1901; during the Spanish-American War served as second lieutenant in Company D, Fifth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1912; major in the Mexican border troubles in 1916; major and lieutenant colonel during the World War and served as chief instructor in marksmanship in Camp Perry and Camp Benning Schools; elected as a Progressive Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William S. Kenyon, and served from November 7, 1922, to March 3, 1925; presented credentials as a Senator elect for the term commencing March 4, 1925, and served until April 12, 1926, when he was succeeded by Daniel F. Steck, who contested his election. Elected in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

BROOKS, David, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1756; attended the public schools; during the Revolutionary War entered the Continental Army as a lieutenant in the Pennsylvania Battalion of the Flying Camp in 1776; was captured at Fort Mifflin November 10, 1776, and exchanged in January, 1780; appointed assistant clothier general; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; after the war settled in New York County, N. Y.; member of the State assembly 1787 and 1788; moved to Dutchess County, N. Y.; member of the State assembly 1794-1796 and 1810; judge of Dutchess County 1795-1807; elected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1798 to the Sixth Congress, and in 1800 to the Seventh Congress; appointed commissioner to negotiate a treaty with the Seneca Indians; clerk of Dutchess County June 5, 1807, to January 25, 1809, and from February 9, 1810, to February 14, 1811; and again from February 23, 1813, to February 12, 1815; appointed an officer in the United States Customs Service; an original member of the Society of the Cincinnati; died in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, N. Y., August 30, 1838; interment probably in the Old Rural Cemetery.

BROOKS, Edward Schroeder, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York, Pa., June 14, 1867; attended the public schools, York County Academy, York, Pa., and York Collegiate Institute, at York; engaged as a banker, manufacturer of steel forgings, and as a contractor; member of the city council 1897-1902; treasurer of York County 1903-1905; member of the Republican State committee in 1917 and 1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for re-nomination in 1922; acting postmaster of York, Pa., from September 30, 1925, until February 23, 1926, when he was appointed postmaster, in which capacity he is now serving.

BROOKS, Edwin Bruce (cousin of Edmund Howard Hinshaw), a Representative from Illinois; born in Newton, Jasper County, Ill., September 20, 1868; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Valparaiso (Ind.) University in 1892; superintendent of schools at Newman 1894-1897, at Newton 1897-1903, at Greenville 1903-1905, and at Paris 1905-1912; engaged in banking at Newton, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; appointed superintendent of charities for the State of Illinois in 1923, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Newton, Ill.

BROOKS, Franklin Eli, a Representative from Colorado; born in Sturbridge, Worcester County, Mass., November 19, 1860; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Southbridge High School in 1879 and from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1883; taught school for several years; attended the law school of Boston University in 1887 and 1888; was admitted to the bar in 1888 and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; moved to Colorado Springs, El Paso County, Colo., in 1891, where he continued the practice of law; delegate to the Republican State conventions in 1900 and 1907 and served as chairman the latter year; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903–March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed the practice of law in Colorado Springs, Colo., but devoted himself principally to land development and was president of the Costilla Estates Development Co.; appointed a member of the State board of agriculture and trustee of the State agricultural college, Fort Collins, Colo., in 1907; trustee of Brown University; died in St. Augustine, Fla., whence he had gone in search of health, February 7, 1916, interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Colorado Springs, Colo.

BROOKS, George Merrick, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Concord, Mass., July 26, 1824; attended an academy in Concord and a boarding school at Waltham; was graduated from Harvard University in 1844; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and commenced practice in Concord; member of the State house of representatives in 1858; served in the State senate in 1859; member of the joint committee of the senate and house chosen in 1859 to revise the statutes of Massachusetts; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George S. Boutwell; reelected to the Forty-second Congress, and served from November 2, 1869, to May 13, 1872, when he resigned, having been appointed to a judicial position; judge of probate for Middlesex County and served until his death in Concord, Mass., September 22, 1893; interment in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery.

BROOKS, James, a Representative from New York; born in Portland, Me., November 10, 1810; attended the public schools; employed at Lewiston, Me., as clerk in a drug store at eleven years of age; attended the academy at Monmouth, Me.; taught school at sixteen years of age in Lewiston; was graduated from Waterville College, Maine, in 1831; studied law and also edited the Portland Advertiser, and in 1832 was its Washington correspondent; member of the State house of representatives in 1835; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1836 to the Twenty-fifth Congress; moved to New York City in 1836 and established the New York Daily Express, of which he was the editor in chief the remainder of his life; served in the State assembly in 1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; resumed his editorial pursuits; affiliated with the Democratic Party; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1865, to April 7, 1866, when he was succeeded by William E. Dodge, who contested the election; elected to the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1867, until his death; member of the State constitutional convention in 1867; appointed a Government director of the Union Pacific Railroad in October, 1867; died in Washington, D. C., April 30, 1873; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BROOKS, Micah, a Representative from New York; born in Brooksville, near Cheshire, Conn., May 14, 1775; received his early education from his father; a pioneer and one of the earliest surveyors of western New York; justice of the peace in 1806; member of the State assembly in 1808 and 1809; colonel on the frontier and at Fort Erie 1812–1814; major general of the New York State Infantry 1828–1830; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); engaged in agricultural pursuits; delegate from Ontario County to the State constitutional convention in 1821; presidential elector on the Adams ticket in 1824; died in Fillmore, Allegany County, N. Y., July 7, 1857; interment in Nunda Cemetery, Nunda, Livingston County, N. Y.

BROOKS, Preston Smith, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Edgefield District, S. C., August 5, 1819; attended the common schools, and was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Edgefield, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives in 1844; served in the Mexican War as captain in the Palmetto Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1853, until July 15, 1856, when he resigned, after the attempt to expel him for his assault upon Charles Sumner on May 22, 1856, had failed through lack of the necessary two-thirds vote; reelected to the Thirty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation, and served from August 1, 1856, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1857; interment in Willow Brook Cemetery, Edgefield, S. C.

BROOKSHIRE, Elijah Voorhees, a Representative from Indiana; born near Ladoga, Montgomery County, Ind., August 15, 1856; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Central Indiana Normal College at Ladoga in August, 1878; taught in the common schools of Montgomery County, Ind., 1879–1882; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Crawfordsville in 1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., and was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court in 1894; retired from active practice in 1925; moved to Los Angeles, Calif., in 1925, where he now resides.

BROOM, Jacob (brother of James Madison Broom), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Baltimore, Md., July 25, 1808; received a classical education; moved to Pennsylvania; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Philadelphia, Pa.; appointed deputy auditor of the State in 1840; clerk of the Philadelphia orphans' court 1848–1852; nominated by the Native American Party in 1852 for President of the United States; elected as an American Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1856 and for election to the Thirty-sixth Congress in 1858; died in Washington, D. C., November 28, 1864; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BROOM, James Madison (brother of Jacob Broom), a Representative from Delaware; born near Wilmington, Del., in 1776; was graduated from Princeton College in 1794; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1801, and practiced in New Castle, Del., Baltimore, Md., and Wilmington, Del.; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1806, until his resignation in 1807, before the assembling of the Tenth Congress; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1819 and resumed the practice of law; member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1824; died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 15, 1850; interment in St. Mary's Churchyard, Hamilton Village (now a part of Philadelphia), Pa.

BROOMALL, John Martin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Upper Chichester Township, Delaware County, Pa., January 19, 1816; attended private schools; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Chester, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and 1852; served on the State revenue board in 1854; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress, and in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860 and of Grant and Wilson in 1872; moved to Media in 1890 and continued the practice of law; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as captain of Company C, Twenty-ninth Regiment Pennsylvania Emergency Men, from June 18 to August 1, 1863; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; resumed the practice of law; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1874; appointed judge of the courts of Delaware County in March, 1874, and served until January, 1875, and was an unsuccessful candidate for election to succeed himself; again resumed the practice of law in Media, Delaware County, Pa.; died in Philadelphia, Pa., June 3, 1894; interment in Media Cemetery, Media, Pa.

BROSIOUS, Marriott, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Colerain Township, Lancaster County, Pa., March 7, 1843; attended the common schools and Thomas Baker's Academy in Colerain Township; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company K, Ninety-seventh Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, in October, 1861, for three years, and reenlisted May 20, 1864; honorably discharged December 28, 1864, and on February 28, 1865, was commissioned a second lieutenant for bravery on the field of battle; after the war attended the State normal school at Millersville and the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; was admitted to the bar in 1868 and commenced practice in Lancaster, Lancaster County, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, until his death in Lancaster, Pa., March 16, 1901; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BROUSSARD, Edwin Sidney (brother of Robert Foligny Broussard), a Senator from Louisiana; born in Iberia Parish, La., December 4, 1874; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Louisiana State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Baton Rouge in 1896; taught in the public schools of Iberia and St. Martin Parishes 1896-1898; at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War volunteered for service; joined the Second United States Volunteer Infantry, and was elected captain of Company I; participated in the Santiago campaign, and served in Cuba from June 23, 1898, until June 22, 1899; accompanied the Taft Commission to the Philippine Islands in 1899, and served as an assistant secretary; returned to the United States in 1900; was graduated from the law department of Tulane University, New Orleans, La., in 1901, and was president of his class; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in New Iberia, La.; prosecuting attorney for the nineteenth district of Louisiana 1903-1908; elected in 1920 as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1921, and ending March 4, 1927. Reelected in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

BROUSSARD, Robert Foligny (brother of Edwin Sidney Broussard), a Representative and a Senator from Louisiana; born on the Mary Louise plantation, near New Iberia, Iberia Parish, La., August 17, 1864; attended public and private schools; attended Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., 1879-1882; appointed night inspector of customs in New Orleans July 1, 1885, and served until July 7, 1888, when he was appointed assistant weigher and statistician, served in this capacity until January 12, 1889; studied law at Tulane University, New Orleans, La., and was graduated in 1889; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in New Iberia; elected prosecuting attorney of the nineteenth judicial district in 1892, and served until 1897, when he resigned to enter Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1915); did not seek renomination in 1914, having become a candidate for Senator; elected in 1914 to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1915, until his death in New Iberia, La., April 12, 1918; interment in the Catholic Cemetery.

BROWER, John Morehead, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Greensboro, Guilford County, N. C., July 19, 1845; moved to Surry County, N. C., with his parents, who settled in Mount Airy in 1845; educated by private tutors and attended the Mount Airy Male Academy; engaged in agricultural pursuits, the raising and manufacture of tobacco, and mercantile pursuits; delegate to all Republican State conventions from 1872 to 1896; member of the State senate 1870-1878; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; member of the State house of representatives 1890-1898; resumed his former agricultural and business pursuits; moved to Oklahoma and settled in Boswell, Choctaw County, in 1907, and engaged in the manufacture of lumber, agricultural pursuits, and stock raising; died in a hospital in Paris, Lamar County, Tex., where he had gone for medical treatment, August 5, 1913; interment in Oakdale Cemetery, Mount Airy, N. C.

BROWN, Aaron Venable, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Brunswick County, Va., August 15, 1795; attended Westrayville Academy, North Carolina, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1814; moved to Nashville, Tenn., in 1815; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1817, and commenced practice in Nashville; moved to Giles County in 1818, and continued the practice of law; became the partner of James K. Polk, who subsequently became President of the United States; served in the State senate 1821-1825; member of the State house of representatives 1831-1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for reelection in 1844; Governor of Tennessee 1845-1847; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; appointed Postmaster General in the Cabinet of President James Buchanan on March 6, 1857, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., March 8, 1859; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Nashville, Tenn.

BROWN, Albert Gallatin, a Representative and a Senator from Mississippi; born in Chester District, S. C., May 31, 1813; moved with his parents to Copiah County, Miss., in 1823; attended Mississippi College, Clinton, Miss., and Jefferson College, at Washington, Miss.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Gallatin, Miss.; member of the State house of representatives 1835-1839; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1840; judge of the circuit superior court in 1842 and 1843; Governor of Mississippi 1844-1848; elected to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for reelection in 1852; elected to the United States Senate in 1854 to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1853; reelected in 1859, and served from January 7, 1854, until January 12, 1861, when he withdrew; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a captain, Company H, Eighteenth Mississippi Infantry; elected a member of the Confederate Senate in 1862, and served in the First and Second Confederate Congresses; engaged in agricultural pursuits; died near Terry, Hinds County, Miss., June 12, 1880; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Jackson, Miss.

BROWN, Anson, a Representative from New York; born in Charlton, Saratoga County, N. Y., in 1800; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Ballston Spa; one of the first directors of the Ballston Spa State Bank (now the Ballston Spa National Bank), which was organized in 1830; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1839, until his death in Ballston Spa, N. Y., June 14, 1840; interment in the cemetery of the Ballston Spa Cemetery Association.

BROWN, Arthur, a Senator from Utah; born near Kalamazoo, Kalamazoo County, Mich., March 8, 1843; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, in 1862; took a postgraduate course at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1864; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Kalamazoo; moved to Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1879; upon the admission of Utah as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from January 22, 1896, until March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Salt Lake City; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896 and at Philadelphia in 1900; assassinated in Washington, D. C., while on a business trip, December 12, 1906; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Salt Lake City, Utah.

BROWN, Bedford, a Senator from North Carolina; born in Caswell County, N. C., near Greensboro, June 6, 1795; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1815, but did not practice; engaged as a planter; elected to the House of Commons of North Carolina in 1815, 1816, 1817, and 1823; member of the State senate in 1828 and 1829; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Branch; reelected in 1835, and served from December 9, 1829, until November 16, 1840, when he resigned, because he would not obey the instructions of the General Assembly of North Carolina; again elected to the State senate in 1842; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1842; moved to Missouri in 1843; subsequently moved to Virginia and built a place known as Waverly; returned to North Carolina, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; again a member of the State senate in 1858 and 1860; delegate to the reconstruction convention in 1865; again elected to the State Senate in 1868, but was not permitted to take his seat; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; died at "Rose Hill," Caswell County, N. C., near Greensboro, December 6, 1870; interment in the family cemetery at "Rose Hill."

BROWN, Benjamin (nephew of John Brown), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Swansea, Mass., September 23, 1756; pursued academic studies; studied medicine and commenced practice in Waldoboro, Me. (until 1820 a district of Massachusetts); surgeon in 1778 on the American frigate Boston, commanded by Commodore Tucker, which conveyed John Adams as American commissioner to France; with Commander Tucker, was captured in 1781 on the American warship Thorne at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River and imprisoned on Prince Edwards Island; escaped in an open boat and reached Boston, Mass.; member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1806, 1811, 1812, and again in 1819; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of medicine; died in Waldoboro, Lincoln County, Me., September 17, 1831; interment in the Waldoboro Cemetery.

BROWN, Benjamin Gratz (grandson of John Brown of Virginia and Kentucky), a Senator from Missouri; born in Lexington, Ky., May 28, 1826; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in 1845, and from Yale College in 1847; studied law in Louisville, Ky., was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in St. Louis, Mo.; member of the State house of representatives 1852-1858; one of the founders of the Missouri Democrat, and its chief editor 1854; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1857 as Governor of Missouri; took an active part in preventing the secession of Missouri in 1861; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army; raised a regiment and commanded it; led a brigade against Price and Van Dorn; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the expulsion of Waldo P. Johnson, and served from November 13, 1863, to March 3, 1867; Governor of Missouri in 1871; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice President of the United States on the ticket with Horace Greeley in 1872; resumed the practice of law; died in Kirkwood, near St. Louis, Mo., December 13, 1885; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Kirkwood, Mo.

BROWN, Charles, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 23, 1797; attended the public schools and received private instruction; in early boyhood moved with his father to Cumberland County, N. J., and resided near Bridgeton; officer in the State militia 1817-1819; town clerk of Dover Township 1819; taught school at Dividing Creek in 1820 and 1821; returned to Philadelphia in 1823 and engaged in the cordwood business; appointed a director of the Philadelphia public schools in 1828; member of the Philadelphia City Council in 1830 and 1831; served in the State house of representatives 1830-1833; delegate to the convention to revise the constitution of Pennsylvania 1834-1838; served in the State senate 1838-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for reelection in 1842; president of the State convention to nominate candidates for board of canal commissioners in 1843; member of the board of commissioners, Northern Liberties Township, 1843; elected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for reelection in 1848; member of the board of inspectors of the Eastern State Penitentiary 1851-1853; collector of customs at the port of Philadelphia 1853-1857; member of the board of guardians of the poor of Philadelphia in 1860; moved to Dover, Del., in 1861 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; town commissioner of Dover in 1864 and 1865; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; president of the board of trustees of the Dover public schools 1871-1878; died at Dover, Del., September 4, 1888; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, Pa.

BROWN, Charles Elwood, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 4, 1834; attended the common schools and the Greenfield Academy, and was graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1854; went South, and while serving as tutor at Baton Rouge, La., studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1859 and commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Ross County in 1859 and 1860; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company B, Sixty-third Regiment Ohio Volunteers, September 2, 1861, and was commissioned captain October 23, 1861; promoted to major March 10, 1863, for meritorious conduct; Lieutenant colonel May 17, 1865; colonel June 6, 1865, and brevetted brigadier general March 13, 1865, for "gallant and meritorious services" during the war; mustered out July 8, 1865; resumed the practice of law in Chillicothe, Ross County, Ohio; postmaster of Chillicothe 1866-1872; commissioned pension agent at Cincinnati in 1872, which position he held until President Hayes's administration; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate in 1900 and 1901; died at College Hill, Hamilton County, Ohio, May 22, 1904; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BROWN, Elias, a Representative from Maryland; born near Baltimore, Md., May 9, 1793; attended the common schools; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Monroe and Tompkins in 1820 and on the Whig ticket of Adams and Rush in 1828; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); member of the State house of representatives 1834 and 1835; member of the State senate 1836-1838; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1836; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1836; died near Baltimore, Md., July 7, 1857; interment in a private cemetery near Eldersburg, Carroll County, Md.

BROWN, Ethan Allen, a Senator from Ohio; born in Darien, Conn., July 4, 1776; pursued academic studies; studied law under Alexander Hamilton and was admitted to the bar in 1802; moved to Cincinnati in 1804, where he began the practice of law; associate judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio 1810-1818; Governor of Ohio 1818-1822; resigned on being elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William A. Trimble, and served from January 3, 1822, to March 3, 1825; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1825; canal commissioner of Ohio 1825-1830; appointed chargé d'affaires to Brazil May 26, 1830, and served until April 11, 1834; Commissioner of the General Land Office in Washington from July 24, 1835, to October 31, 1836; moved to Rising Sun, Ohio County, Ind., November 1, 1836; member of the Indiana House of Representatives in 1842; died in Indianapolis, Ind., February 24, 1852, while attending the Democratic State convention as a delegate; interment in the City Cemetery, Rising Sun, Ind.

BROWN, Foster Vincent (father of Joseph Brown), a Representative from Tennessee; born near Sparta, White County, Tenn., December 24, 1854; attended the common schools; was graduated from Burritt College, Van Buren County, Tenn., in 1871 and from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1873; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Jasper, Tenn., in 1874; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; attorney general of the fourth judicial district 1888-1894; moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., in May, 1890, and continued the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1896; resumed the practice of law; appointed attorney general of Porto Rico on May 10, 1910, and served until April 20, 1912, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Chattanooga, Tenn., where he now resides.

BROWN, George Houston, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Lawrenceville, N. J., February 12, 1810; attended the common schools and Lawrenceville Academy, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1828; teacher in the Lawrenceville Academy 1828-1830; studied law in the law department of Yale College for one year and in a law office in Somerville, N. J.; was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Somerville, N. J.; member of the State council 1842-1845; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed the practice of law; associate justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey from 1861 until his death in Somerville, Somerset County, N. J., August 1, 1865; interment in the Old Cemetery.

BROWN, James (brother of John Brown of Virginia and Kentucky), a Senator from Louisiana; born near Staunton, Va., September 11, 1776; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Frankfort, Ky.; commanded a company of sharpshooters in an expedition against the Indians in 1789; secretary to Governor Shelby in 1792; soon after the cession of the Territory of Louisiana moved to New Orleans and served as secretary of the Territory; United States district attorney; elected to the United States Senate on December 1, 1812, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John N. Destréhan, and served from February 5, 1813, to March 3, 1817; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; again elected to the United States Senate in 1819, and served from March 4, 1819, until December 10, 1823, when he resigned; appointed United States minister to France and served from December 10, 1823, to June 28, 1829; returned to the United States and settled in Philadelphia, Pa., where he died April 7, 1835.

BROWN, James Sproat, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Hampton, Me., February 1, 1824; attended the public schools; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1844; appointed prosecuting attorney for Milwaukee County in 1846; attorney general of Wisconsin in 1848 and 1849; mayor of Milwaukee in 1861; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; in 1865 went to Europe to recuperate his health, and returned to the United States in 1873; resumed the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis.; died in Chicago, Ill., whence he had gone for medical treatment, April 15, 1878; interment in Forest Home Cemetery, Milwaukee, Wis.

BROWN, James W. (son-in-law of Thomas Marshall Howe); a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., July 14, 1844; attended the common schools of Allegheny County and also private schools; became interested in the iron and steel industry and served as vice president of the Crucible Steel Co.; also engaged in banking and was trustee of the Dollar Savings Bank; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed his former business pursuits and served as president of the Colonial Steel Co.; died at Point Mouille, Mich., October 23, 1909; interment in Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BROWN, Jason Brevoort, a Representative from Indiana; born in Dillsboro, Dearborn County, Ind., February 26, 1839; attended the common schools and Wilmington Academy, Dearborn County, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Brownstown, Ind.; member of the State house of representatives 1862-1866; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Seymour and Blair in 1868; member of the State senate in 1870; secretary of the Territory of Wyoming 1873-1875; moved to Seymour, Ind., in 1875; again a member of the State senate 1880-1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Seymour, Jackson County, Ind., and died there March 10, 1898; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

BROWN, Jeremiah, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Little Britain (now Fulton) Township, Lancaster County, Pa., April 14, 1785; learned the trade of miller; engaged in milling and agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1826; delegate to the convention to revise the constitution of the State in 1836; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; first associate judge for Lancaster, and served from 1851 to 1856; died in Goshen (then a post office), Fulton Township, Lancaster County, Pa., March 2, 1858; interment in the cemetery adjoining Penn Hill Quaker Meeting House, Little Britain (now Fulton) Township, Pa.

BROWN, John (uncle of Benjamin Brown and grandfather of John Brown Francis), a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Providence, R. I., January 27, 1736; engaged in mercantile pursuits; one of the party which destroyed the British sloop of war Gaspee in Narragansett Bay June 17, 1772; sent in irons to Boston for trial, but released through the efforts of his brother Moses; laid the corner stone of the first building of the College of Rhode Island (now Brown University) May 14, 1770; trustee of Brown University, Providence, R. I., 1774-1803; treasurer 1775-1796; member of the State house of representatives 1782-1784; chosen as a Delegate to the Continental Congress in 1784, but did not serve; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); resumed his former business pursuits; died in Providence, R. I., September 20, 1803; interment in the North Burial Ground.

BROWN, John, a Representative from Maryland; member of the State house of delegates in 1807 and 1808; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1809, until his resignation in 1810, before the close of the Eleventh Congress, to accept the appointment of clerk of the court of Queen Annes County, Md., which office he held until his death in Centerville, Queen Annes County, December 13, 1815; interment in Chesterfield Cemetery.

BROWN, John (brother of James Brown and grandfather of Benjamin Gratz Brown), a Delegate and a Representative from Virginia and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Staunton, Va., September 12, 1757; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and Princeton College; enlisted in the Revolutionary Army and served until the close of the war; completed his studies at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1782, and commenced practice in Frankfort, Ky.; member of the Virginia Senate from the district of Kentucky 1784-1788; Member from the Kentucky district of Virginia to the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; elected from Virginia to the First and Second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1789, to June 1, 1792, when that portion of Virginia which is now Kentucky was admitted as a State into the Union; elected on June 18, 1792, to the United States Senate from Kentucky for the term ending March 3, 1798; reelected on December 11, 1792, and again in 1799, and served from June 18, 1792, to March 3, 1805; elected President pro tempore of the Senate on October 17, 1803, and January 23, 1804; member of the local board of war for the district of Kentucky in 1791; resumed the practice of law; died in Frankfort, Ky., August 29, 1837, being the last survivor of the Continental Congress; interment in Frankfort Cemetery.

BROWN, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kishacoquillas Valley, near Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pa., August 12, 1772; attended the common schools; moved to Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pa., in 1800; engaged in the grist-mill and sawmill business at Lewistown; member of the State house of representatives 1809-1813; elected to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1825); resumed his former business pursuits; moved to Limestone, Buncombe County, N. C., in 1827 and engaged in agricultural pursuits and the real-estate business; died in a section of Buncombe County, N. C., then called Limestone, near Skyland, October 12, 1845; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Asheville, N. C.

BROWN, John Brewer, a Representative from Maryland; born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 13, 1836; attended Centerville Academy, Maryland, and Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and practiced in Centerville, Queen Annes County; member of the State house of delegates in 1870; served in the State senate 1888-1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Page, and served from November 8, 1892, to March 3, 1893; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the practice of law; died in Centerville, Queen Annes County, Md., May 16, 1898; interment in Chesterfield Cemetery.

BROWN, John Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born near Snow Creek, Franklin County, Va., January 14, 1842; attended private schools in Franklin and Henry Counties; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as a private in Company D, Twenty-fourth Regiment Virginia Volunteers; formed a partnership with his father in the manufacture of tobacco at Shady Grove in 1870; moved to Martinsville, Henry County, in 1882; mayor of Martinsville 1884-1888; elected as an Independent Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); unsuccessfully contested the election of Claude A. Swanson to the Fifty-fifth Congress; again engaged in the manufacture of tobacco; retired from active business pursuits, and is a resident of Martinsville, Va.

BROWN, John W., a Representative from New York; born in Dundee, Scotland, October 11, 1790; emigrated to the United States with his father, who settled in Newburgh, N. Y., in 1802; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and commenced practice in Newburgh, N. Y.; elected justice of the peace in 1820; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); resumed the practice of law; elected judge of the Supreme Court for the Second Judicial District of New York in 1849, reelected in 1857, and served until 1865; resumed the practice of law; died in Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y., September 6, 1875; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

BROWN, John Young (nephew of Bryan Rust Young and William Singleton Young), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Claysville, Hardin County, Ky., June 28, 1835; was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1855; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced practice in Elizabethtown, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861), but by reason of not having attained the age required by the Constitution of the United States did not take his seat until the second session; member of the Douglas National Committee in 1860; elected to the Fortieth Congress, but his seat was declared vacant on account of alleged disloyalty; elected to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); voluntarily retired from politics and resumed the practice of law in Louisville; Governor of Kentucky 1891-1895; returned to Louisville, where he practiced law until his death in Henderson, Henderson County, Ky., January 11, 1904; interment in Fernwood Cemetery.

BROWN, Joseph (son of Foster Vincent Brown), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Jasper, Marion County, Tenn., February 11, 1880; attended Baylor's Preparatory School, Chattanooga, Tenn., and was graduated from Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1902; studied law, was admitted to the Tennessee bar in 1904, and commenced practice in Chattanooga, Tenn.; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for renomination in 1922; chairman of the Republican State executive committee 1922-1924; resumed the practice of law in Chattanooga, Tenn.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; is a resident of Chattanooga, Tenn.

BROWN, Joseph Emerson, a Senator from Georgia; born in the Pickens District of South Carolina April 15, 1821; moved to Georgia; attended the Calhoun Academy, South Carolina; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and later was graduated from the Yale Law School; returned to Georgia and commenced practice in 1846; member of the State senate in 1849; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; judge of the superior court of the Blue Ridge circuit in 1855; elected Governor of Georgia in 1855; reelected in 1859, 1861, and 1863, and served until June 25, 1865, when he resigned; appointed by Governor Bullock chief justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia, which position he held until December, 1870, when he resigned and accepted the presidency of the Western & Atlantic Railroad Co.; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John B. Gordon; reelected in 1885, and served from May 20, 1880, until March 3, 1891; died in Atlanta, Ga., November 30, 1894; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

BROWN, Lathrop, a Representative from New York; born in New York City February 23, 1883; attended the public schools; was graduated from Groton School, Massachusetts, in 1900 and from Harvard University in 1903; engaged in the real-estate business; served in Squadron A, National Guard of New York, for five years; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessfully contested the election of Frederick C. Hicks to the Sixty-fourth Congress; special assistant to the Secretary of the Interior from March, 1917, to October, 1918; served as a private in the Tank Corps during the last part of the World War; joint secretary of President Wilson's Industrial Conference in 1919; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and at New York City in 1924; resumed his former business pursuits, and is a resident of Montauk, Long Island, N. Y.

BROWN, Milton, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Lebanon, Ohio, February 28, 1804; moved to Nashville, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Paris, Tenn.; later moved to Jackson, Tenn.; judge of the chancery court of west Tennessee in 1835, and held this position until elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1847); resumed the practice of law; was one of the founders of Southwestern University (now Union University) and of Lambuth College, both in Jackson, Madison County, Tenn.; president of the Mississippi Central & Tennessee Railroad Co. 1854-1856; president of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Co. 1856-1871; died in Jackson, Tenn., May 15, 1883, interment in Riverside Cemetery.

BROWN, Norris, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Maquoketa, Jackson County, Iowa, May 2, 1863; attended the common schools, and was graduated from law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1883; was admitted to the bar in 1884 and commenced practice in Perry, Dallas County, Iowa; moved to Kearney, Buffalo County, Nebr., in 1888 and continued the practice of law; prosecuting attorney of Buffalo County 1892-1896; deputy attorney general of Nebraska 1900-1904; attorney general of Nebraska 1904-1906; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1907, to March 3, 1913; unsuccessful candidate for renomination as Senator in 1912; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; moved to Omaha, Nebr., in 1912 and continued the practice of law; is a resident of Omaha, Nebr.

BROWN, Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Weaversville, East Allen Township, Northampton County, Pa., in December 25, 1744; attended the common schools and was apprenticed to the blacksmith trade; at the beginning of the Revolutionary War was commissioned first lieutenant in the Pennsylvania "Flying Camp" on September 10, 1776; captured at the surrender of Fort Mifflin November 16, 1776; worked at the blacksmith trade while a prisoner; later put aboard the prison ship Judith, and subsequently incarcerated in the old city hall, New York City; paroled on board ship December 10, 1777; member of the State senate 1783-1787; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel Sitgreaves; reelected to the Sixth and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from December 4, 1798, to March 3, 1815; was not a candidate for renomination in 1814; retired from public life and lived on his farm; died near Weaversville, Northampton County, Pa., February 26, 1823; interment in the East Allen Presbyterian Churchyard.

BROWN, Seth W., a Representative from Ohio; born near Waynesville, Warren County, Ohio, January 4, 1841; attended the public schools; during the Civil War served in Company H, Seventy-ninth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; engaged in the newspaper business; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and practiced; prosecuting attorney for Warren County 1880-1883; member of the State house of representatives 1883-1887; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Harrison and Morton in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Lebanon and Cincinnati, Ohio; writer on political and governmental subjects; died in Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio, February 24, 1923; interment in Miami Cemetery, Waynesville, Ohio.

BROWN, Titus, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Alstead, Cheshire County, N. H., February 11, 1786; was graduated from Middlebury (Vt.) College in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Reading, Vt., in 1814; moved to Franconstown, N. H., in 1817 and continued the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives 1820-1825; solicitor of Hillsborough County 1823-1825 and 1829-1834; elected to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); was not a candidate for reelection in 1828; member of the State senate and served as its president in 1842; chairman of the boards of bank and railroad commissioners at the time of his death; died in Franconstown, Hillsborough County, N. H., January 29, 1849; interment in Mill Village Cemetery.

BROWN, Webster Everett, a Representative from Wisconsin; born near Peterboro village, Madison County, N. Y., July 16, 1851; moved with his parents to Wisconsin in 1857; resided for a time in Columbia County, and then in Portage County; attended the common schools; completed a preparatory course at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., and later, in 1870, a business course at the Spencerian Business College, Milwaukee, Wis.; was graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1874; engaged in the lumber business at Stevens Point, Wis., in 1875; moved to Rhinelander, Oneida County, Wis., in 1882 and continued in the lumber business; mayor of Rhinelander in 1894 and 1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed his former business pursuits; served as secretary, vice president, and is now serving as president of the Brown Bros. Lumber Co. and the Rhinelander Paper Co.; is a resident of Rhinelander, Wis.

BROWN, William, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Frederick County, Va., April 19, 1779; attended the common schools; moved with his father to Bourbon County, Ky., in 1784 and to Cynthiana, Harrison County, Ky., about 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served as a colonel in the War of 1812; member of the State house of representatives; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); moved to Jacksonville, Morgan County, Ill., in 1832, and died there October 6, 1833.

BROWN, William Gay, a Representative from Virginia and from West Virginia; born in Kingwood, Preston County, Va. (now West Virginia), September 25, 1800; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Kingwood, Va.; member of the State house of delegates 1832 and 1840-1843; elected as a Democrat from Virginia to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1850 and 1861; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); upon the admission of West Virginia as a State into the Union was elected to the Thirty-eighth Congress, and served from December 7, 1863, to March 3, 1865; died in Kingwood, W. Va., April 19, 1884; interment in Maplewood Cemetery.

BROWN, William Gay, Jr. (son of the preceding), a Representative from West Virginia; born in Kingwood, Preston County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 7, 1856; attended the common schools; was graduated from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown in 1877; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in Preston County, W. Va.; also engaged in banking; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Bryan and Kern in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1911, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 9, 1916; interment in the Kingwood Cemetery, Kingwood, W. Va.

BROWN, William John, a Representative from Indiana; born near Washington, Mason County, Ky., August 15, 1805; moved to Clermont County, Ohio, in 1808 with his parents, who settled near New Richmond; attended the common schools and Franklin Academy in Clermont County; moved to Rushville, Rush County, Ind., in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Rushville; member of the State house of representatives 1829-1832; prosecuting attorney 1831-1835; secretary of state of Indiana 1836-1840; moved to Indianapolis, Ind., in 1837; again a member of the State house of representatives 1841-1843; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); appointed by President Polk Second Assistant Postmaster General, and served from 1845 until 1849; elected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1850; chief editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel 1850-1855; many times chairman of the Democratic State central committee of Indiana; appointed by President Pierce special agent of the Post Office Department for Indiana and Illinois, which position he held from 1853 until his death near Indianapolis, Ind., March 18, 1857; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

BROWN, William Ripley, a Representative from Kansas; born in Buffalo, N. Y., July 16, 1840; was prepared for college in Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1862; went immediately to Kansas and settled in Emporia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1864, and commenced practice in Emporia, Lyon County, Kans.; judge of the ninth judicial district of Kansas 1867-1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed the practice of law in Hutchinson, Kans.; register of the United States land office in Larned, Kans., 1883-1885; moved to El Reno, Okla., in 1892; probate judge of Canadian County 1894-1896; died in Kansas City, Mo., March 3, 1916; interment in Lawrence Cemetery, Lawrence, Douglas County, Kans.

BROWN, William Wallace, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Summer Hill, Cayuga County, N. Y., April 22, 1836; moved with his parents to Elk County, Pa., in 1838; attended the common schools and Smethport Academy; was graduated from Alfred University, Allegany County, N. Y., in 1861; during the Civil War enlisted in the Twenty-third New York Volunteers in 1861; transferred to the First Pennsylvania Rifles December 18, 1861; appointed recorder of deeds of McKean County in 1864, and superintendent of schools in 1866; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1866 and practiced; elected district attorney of McKean County the same year; moved to Corry, Erie County, Pa., in 1869, where he served three years as city attorney and two years in the city council; member of the State house of representatives 1872-1876; appointed aide-de-camp to Governor Hartranft in 1876, and was connected with the National Guard of Pennsylvania; moved to Bradford, Pa., in 1878 and continued the practice of law; trustee of Alfred (N. Y.) University from 1879 up to the time of his death; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of law; city solicitor of Bradford 1892-1897; Auditor for the War Department 1897-1899; Auditor for the Navy Department 1899-1907; appointed by President Roosevelt assistant Attorney General in 1907, in charge of defense of Spanish treaty claims, and served until 1910; resumed the practice of law in Bradford, McKean County, Pa., and died there November 4, 1926; interment in Alfred Cemetery, Alfred, Allegany County, N. Y.

BROWNE, Charles, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 28, 1875; attended private schools in Philadelphia; was graduated from Princeton University in 1896; studied medicine, and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1900; attended the University of Berlin in 1902 and 1903; overseer of the poor, Princeton, N. J., 1912-1914; mayor of Princeton 1914-1923; during the World War served as first lieutenant and captain in the Medical Corps from March, 1917, to April, 1919; resumed the practice of his profession in Princeton, N. J.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; appointed to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of New Jersey, March 20, 1925, and resides in Princeton, N. J.

BROWNE, Edward Everts, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Waupaca, Waupaca County, Wis., February 16, 1868; attended the public schools and Waupaca High School; was graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1890 and from the law department of the same university in 1892; was admitted to the bar in 1892 and commenced practice in Waupaca, Wis.; district attorney of Waupaca County 1898-1905; delegate to the Republican State conventions in 1902, 1904, and 1906; member of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin in 1905 and 1906; member of the State senate 1907-1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BROWNE, George Huntington, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Gloucester, R. I., January 6, 1811; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Brown University in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Providence, R. I.; elected a representative to the so-called "Charter" General Assembly of Rhode Island in 1842; at the same time was elected a representative to what was termed the "Suffrage" legislature, and attended the latter; member of the general assembly under the constitution 1849-1852; appointed United States district attorney in 1852, and served until 1861, when he resigned; delegate to the Charleston and Baltimore Democratic National Conventions in 1860; delegate to the peace convention held in Washington, D. C., in 1861 in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; declined the appointment as Governor of the Territory of Arizona in 1861; entered the Union Army as colonel of the Twelfth Regiment Rhode Island Volunteer Infantry October 13, 1862, and served throughout the Civil War; member of the State senate in 1872 and 1873; elected chief justice of the Supreme Court of Rhode Island in May, 1874, but declined the office; died in Providence, R. I., September 26, 1885; interment in Swan Point Cemetery.

BROWNE, Thomas Henry Bayly, a Representative from Virginia; born at Accomac Court House, Accomac County, Va., February 8, 1844; instructed by private tutors; attended Hanover and Bloomfield Academies in Virginia; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company F, Thirty-ninth Regiment Virginia Volunteer Infantry, Confederate Army; afterwards served as a private in Chew's battery of the Stuart Horse Artillery; was surrendered with the Army of Northern Virginia in April, 1865; was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1867, admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in Accomac, Va.; elected prosecuting attorney for Accomac County in 1873; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Blaine and Logan in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Accomac, Va., August 27, 1892; interment in Mount Curtis Cemetery.

BROWNE, Thomas McLelland, a Representative from Indiana; born in New Paris, Preble County, Ohio, April 19, 1820; moved to Indiana in January, 1844; attended the common schools; moved to Winchester, Ind., in 1848; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in Winchester; elected prosecuting attorney for the thirteenth judicial circuit in 1855; reelected in 1857 and 1859; secretary of the State senate in 1861; member of the State senate in 1863; assisted in organizing the Seventh Regiment Indiana Volunteer Cavalry of the Union Army, and went to the field with that regiment as captain of Company B, August 28, 1863; commissioned lieutenant colonel October 1, 1863; promoted to colonel October 10, 1865, and subsequently commissioned by President Lincoln brigadier general by brevet March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services during the war"; mustered out February 18, 1866; appointed United States attorney for the district of Indiana in April, 1869, and resigned August 1, 1872; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1872; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; died in Winchester, Randolph County, Ind., July 17, 1891; interment in Fountain Park Cemetery.

BROWNING, Gordon, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Atwood, Carroll County, Tenn., November 22, 1889; attended the public schools; was graduated from the high school at Milan, Tenn., in 1908, from Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., in 1913, and from Cumberland University Law School in 1915; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice at Huntington, Tenn., in 1915; enlisted in the National Guard in June, 1917, and on July 25, 1917, was commissioned second lieutenant of the First Tennessee Field Artillery, afterwards the One hundred and fourteenth Field Artillery, Thirtieth Division; promoted to first lieutenant November 23, 1917, and to captain May 10, 1918; commanded a battery in the above-named regiment through all engagements in France; was discharged from the service in 1919 and resumed the practice of law in Huntingdon; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BROWNING, Orville Hickman, a Senator from Illinois; born in Cynthiana, Harrison County, Ky., February 10, 1806; attended Augusta College; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1831; moved to Quincy, Ill., in 1831 and practiced; served in the Illinois Volunteers through the Black Hawk War in 1832; member of the State senate 1836-1843; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress and in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; was one of the organizers of the State Republican Party at the Bloomington convention in 1854, this convention giving the name "Republican" to the party; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Stephen A. Douglas, and served from June 26, 1861, to January 12, 1863, when a successor was elected; was not a candidate for reelection in 1863; member of the Union executive committee in 1866; appointed by President Johnson as Secretary of the Interior July 27, 1866, to take effect September 1, 1866, and served until March 3, 1869, also discharging for a time the duties of Attorney General; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1869; resumed the practice of law; died in Quincy, Adams County, Ill., August 10, 1881; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

BROWNING, William John, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Camden, N. J., April 11, 1850; attended the Friends' School; at an early age engaged in the wholesale dry-goods business in Camden; member of the Camden Board of Education and of the city council; appointed postmaster of Camden on June 18, 1889, and served until June 1, 1894, when his successor was appointed; Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States 1895-1911; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry C. Loudenslager; reelected to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses, and served from November 7, 1911, until his death in the Capitol Building, Washington, D. C., March 24, 1920; interment in Harleigh Cemetery, Camden, N. J.

BROWNLOW, Walter Preston (nephew of William Gannaway Brownlow), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Abingdon, Washington County, Va., March 27, 1851; attended the common schools; employed as a telegraph messenger boy when only ten years old; became an apprentice in the tinning business at the age of fourteen, and later became a locomotive engineer; entered upon newspaper work as a reporter for the Knoxville Whig and Chronicle in 1876; in the same year purchased the Herald and Tribune in Jonesboro, Tenn.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880, at St. Louis in 1896, and at Philadelphia in 1900, and from the State at large to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1884 and 1904; appointed postmaster at Jonesboro in March, 1881; resigned in the following December to accept the position of Doorkeeper of the National House of Representatives in the Forty-seventh Congress, and served in that capacity from 1881 to 1883; member of the Republican National Committee in 1884, 1896, and 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death; elected as a member of the Board of Managers for the National Soldiers' Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers and served from 1902 to 1910; died at the National Soldiers' Home, Johnson City, Washington County, Tenn., July 8, 1910; interment in the Soldiers' Home Cemetery.

BROWNLOW, William Gannaway (uncle of Walter Preston Brownlow), a Senator from Tennessee; born near Wytheville, Wythe County, Va., August 29, 1805; attended the common schools; entered the Methodist ministry in 1826; moved to Elizabethton, Tenn., in 1828 and continued his ministerial duties; published and edited a newspaper called the Whig at Elizabethton in 1838; moved the paper to Jonesboro, Tenn., in 1839, and to Knoxville, Tenn., in 1849, and from his caustic and trenchant editorials became widely known as "the fighting parson"; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; appointed by President Fillmore in 1850 a member of the Tennessee River Commission for the Improvement of Navigation; delegate to the constitutional convention which reorganized the State government of Tennessee in 1864; elected governor in 1865, and again in 1867; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; was not a candidate for reelection; returned to Knoxville, Tenn., and lived in retirement until his death there on April 29, 1877; interment in the Old Grey Cemetery.

BROWNSON, Nathan, a Delegate from Georgia; born in Woodbury, Conn., May 14, 1742; was graduated from Yale College in 1761; studied medicine and practiced in Woodbury; moved to Liberty County, Ga., about 1764; member of the Provincial Congress in 1775; surgeon in the Revolutionary Army; Member of the Continental Congress 1776-1778; member of the State house of representatives in 1781 and served as speaker; chosen by that body Governor of Georgia in 1782; again elected to the State house of representatives in 1788 and served as speaker; delegate to the State convention to ratify the Federal Constitution in 1788 and to the State constitutional convention in 1789; member of the State senate 1789-1791 and served as president of that body; died on his plantation near Hiceboro, Liberty County, Ga., November 6, 1790; interment in the Old Midway Burial Ground.

BRUCE, Blanche Kelso, a Senator from Mississippi; born near Farmville, Prince Edward County, Va., March 1, 1841; was of the Negro race and raised as a slave; was tutored by his master's son; left his master at the beginning of the Civil War; taught school for a time in Hannibal, Mo., and later attended Oberlin College, Ohio; after the war became a planter in Mississippi; member of the Mississippi Levee Board; sheriff and tax collector of Bolivar County 1872-1875; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1881; delegate to several Republican National Conventions; appointed Register of the Treasury by President Garfield May 19, 1881; recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia 1891-1893; again Register of the Treasury from 1897 until his death in Washington, D. C., March 17, 1898; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

BRUCE, Phineas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Mendon, Mass., June 7, 1762; received a classical education, and was graduated from Yale College in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1790, and commenced practice in Machias, Me. (then a district of Massachusetts); member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives 1791-1796 and in 1800; elected to the Eighth Congress commencing March 4, 1803, but was prevented by illness from qualifying; died in Uxbridge, Mass., October 4, 1809; interment in the Old Burying Ground; reinterment in Prospect Hill Cemetery.

BRUCE, William Cabell, a Senator from Maryland; born at Staunton Hill, Charlotte County, Va., March 12, 1800; received an academic education at Norwood High School and College, Nelson County, Va.; attended the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1879 and 1880; was graduated from the University of Maryland Law School at Baltimore in 1882, was admitted to the Maryland bar the same year, and commenced practice in Baltimore, Md.; member of the State senate 1894-1896, and served as president of that body in 1896; head of the city law department of Baltimore from 1903 until 1908, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Baltimore; general counsel to the Public Service Commission of Maryland from 1910 to 1922, when he resigned; author of several books; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1922 for the term commencing March 4, 1923, and ending March 3, 1929.

BRUCKER, Ferdinand, a Representative from Michigan; born in Bridgeport, Saginaw County, Mich., January 8, 1858; attended the common schools; member of the State militia 1878-1881; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1881, was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Saginaw, Mich.; alderman of East Saginaw 1882-1884; judge of the probate court of Saginaw County 1888-1890; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Saginaw, Mich., March 3, 1904; interment in Bridgeport Cemetery, Bridgeport, Mich.

BRUCKNER, Henry, a Representative from New York; born in New York City June 17, 1871; attended the common schools and the high schools in New York; engaged in the manufacture of mineral waters in 1892; member of the State assembly in 1901; commissioner of public works for the Borough of the Bronx, New York City, 1902-1905; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1913, until December 31, 1917, when he resigned; resumed his former business pursuits in New York City; also interested in banking; president of the Borough of the Bronx; is a resident of New York City.

BRUMBAUGH, Clement Laird, a Representative from Ohio; born on a farm near Pikeville, Darke County, Ohio, February 28, 1863; attended the district schools and the Greenville (Ohio) High School; taught school, worked on a farm, and tutored; was graduated from the National Normal University, Lebanon, Ohio, in 1887; founded and conducted the Van Buren Academy 1887-1891; attended Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, 1891-1893; was graduated from Harvard University in 1894; taught school in Washington, D. C., 1894-1896; superintendent of schools in Greenville, Ohio, 1890-1900; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Columbus, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives 1900-1904 and served as minority leader; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); was not a candidate for renomination in 1920; lived in retirement in Columbus, Ohio, until his death there on September 28, 1921; interment in Greenville Cemetery, Greenville, Ohio.

BRUMM, Charles Napoleon (father of George Franklin Brumm), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pottsville, Schuylkill County, Pa., June 9, 1833; attended the common schools and the Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa.; studied law for two years; under the first call of President Lincoln for three months' men enlisted as a private and was elected first lieutenant of Company I, Fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; reenlisted September 15, 1861, for three years, and was elected first lieutenant of Company K, Seventy-sixth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, November 18, 1861; detailed on the staff of General Barton as assistant quartermaster and aide-de-camp, which position he held under Generals Barton and Pennypacker until the expiration of his term of service in 1871; resumed the study of law, was admitted to the bar in 1871, and commenced practice in Pottsville, Schuylkill County; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1878 to the Forty-sixth Congress; elected as a Republican Greenbacker to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; declined to accept the appointment of First Assistant Postmaster General tendered by President Harrison; elected to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1898; declined to accept appointment as Minister to Belgium tendered by President McKinley; elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George R. Patterson; reelected to the Sixtieth Congress, and served from November 6, 1906, to January 4, 1909, when he resigned, having been elected judge of the court of common pleas of Schuylkill County, in which capacity he served until his death at Minersville, Pa., January 11, 1917; interment in Baber's Cemetery, Pottsville, Pa.

BRUMM, George Franklin (son of Charles Napoleon Brumm), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Minersville, Schuylkill County, Pa., January 24, 1880; attended the common schools of Minersville, Washington, and Pottsville; was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1901 and from the law school of that institution in 1907; was admitted to the bar of Pennsylvania in 1908 and commenced practice in Pottsville, Pa.; served as a private and corporal in Company C, Pennsylvania Engineers, on the Mexican border in 1916; appointed by Governor Brumbaugh in 1918 election commissioner for Texas to take vote of service men at cantonments; during the World War was attorney for the conscription board; in 1918 and 1920 was unsuccessful Republican candidate for the nomination to Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1926; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Minersville, Pa.

BRUNDIDGE, Stephen, Jr., a Representative from Arkansas; born in Searcy, White County, Ark., January 1, 1857; attended private schools in his native city; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced the practice of law in Searcy, Ark.; elected prosecuting attorney of the first judicial district of Arkansas in 1886; reelected in 1888, and served until 1890; resumed the practice of law; member of the Democratic State central committee 1890-1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination in 1908; resumed the practice of his profession, and is a resident of Searcy, White County, Ark.

BRUNNER, David B., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Amity, Berks (now Washington) County, Pa., March 7, 1835; attended the common schools; learned the carpenter's trade; taught school from 1853 to 1856, during which time he studied the classics; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1860; principal of Reading Classical Academy, Reading, Pa., 1860-1869; established the Reading Business College in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; retired from public life and engaged in teaching in the Reading Business College; died in Reading, Pa., November 29, 1903; interment in Amityville Cemetery, Berks County, Pa.

BRUSH, Henry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Dutchess County, N. Y., in June, 1778; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1803, and commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives in 1810; served in the State senate in 1814; moved to London, Ohio; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress; judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio in 1828; retired to his farm near London, Madison County, Ohio, where he died January 19, 1855; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

BRUYN, Andrew DeWitt, a Representative from New York; born in Warwarsing, Ulster County, N. Y., November 18, 1790; attended Kingston Academy, Kingston, N. Y., and was graduated from Princeton College in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1814, and commenced practice in Ithaca, Tompkins County, N. Y.; justice of the peace in 1817; first surrogate of Tompkins County 1817-1821; member of the State assembly in 1818; appointed trustee of Ithaca in 1821; president of the village in 1822; unsuccessful candidate for election to the State senate in 1825; county supervisor in 1825; treasurer of the village 1826-1828; judge of the court of common pleas 1826-1836; served as a director of the Ithaca & Owego Railroad in 1828; also interested in banking; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Calhoun in 1828; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1837, until his death in Ithaca, Tompkins County, N. Y., July 27, 1838; interment in the Ithaca City Cemetery, Ithaca, N. Y.

BRYAN, Guy Morrison, a Representative from Texas; born in Herculaneum, Jefferson County, Mo., January 12, 1821; moved with his parents to the Mexican State of Texas in 1831; attended private schools, and was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1842; studied law, but never practiced; engaged in planting; served during the Mexican War with the Texas Volunteers on the eastern bank of the Rio Grande; member of the State house of representatives 1847-1853; served in the State senate 1853-1857; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1856; chairman of the Texas delegation in the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); served as colonel on the staff of Gen. Kirby Smith during the Civil War; again a member of the State house of representatives 1873, 1879, and 1887-1891, and served as speaker in 1873; moved to Austin, Travis County, Tex., in 1898, and died there June 4, 1901; interment in the State Cemetery.

BRYAN, Henry H., a Representative from Tennessee; born in Martin County, N. C.; attended grammar and high schools; moved to Tennessee and held several local offices; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); had been reelected to the Seventeenth Congress, but did not qualify; died in Montgomery County, Tenn., May 7, 1835.

BRYAN, James Wesley, a Representative from Washington; born in Lake Charles, Calcasieu Parish, La., March 11, 1874; attended the public schools and Lake Charles College at Lake Charles, La.; was graduated from Baylor University, Waco, Tex., in 1895 and from Yale University in 1897; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1898, and commenced practice at Lake Charles, La.; moved to Bremerton, Wash., in 1905, and continued the practice of law; city prosecuting attorney in 1907, 1908, and again in 1911; member of the State senate 1908-1912; elected as a Progressive Republican to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1914; affiliated with the Republican Party in 1904; owned and published the Navy Yard American from 1915 to 1917; engaged in the practice of law; elected prosecuting attorney of Kitsap County in 1926, in which capacity he is now serving; resides in Bremerton, Kitsap County, Wash.

BRYAN, John Heritage, a Representative from North Carolina; born in New Bern, N. C., November 4, 1798; studied under private teachers and attended New Bern Academy; was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1819, and commenced practice in New Bern, N. C.; member of the State senate in 1823 and 1824; trustee of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill 1823-1868; elected as a Whig to the Nineteenth and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1829); resumed the practice of law in New Bern; moved to Raleigh in 1839 and continued the practice of law; died in Raleigh, N. C., May 19, 1870; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

BRYAN, Joseph, a Representative from Georgia, born in Savannah, Ga., August 18, 1773; was educated by private tutors; attended Oxford University, England; engaged in agricultural pursuits on Wilmington Island, Ga.; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1803, until his resignation in 1806; engaged in planting; died on his estate, "Nonchalance," Wilmington Island, near Savannah, Ga., September 12, 1812; interment in the family burial ground on his estate.

BRYAN, Joseph H., a Representative from North Carolina; born in Windsor, Bertie County, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1804, 1805, and 1807-1809; elected to the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1819).

BRYAN, Nathan, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Jones County, N. C., in 1748; member of the House of Commons of North Carolina 1787 and 1791-1794; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1795, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., June 4, 1798.

BRYAN, Nathan Philemon (brother of William James Bryan), a Senator from Florida; born near Fort Mason, Orange (now Lake) County, Fla., April 23, 1872; attended the common schools; was graduated from Emory College, Oxford, Ga., in 1893 and from the law department of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1895; was admitted to the bar in 1895 and commenced practice in Jacksonville, Fla.; chairman of the board of control of the Florida State institutions of higher education 1905-1909; appointed on February 22, 1911 (the legislature having failed to elect) and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1911, to March 3, 1917; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1916; appointed judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals of the Fifth Judicial Circuit in April, 1920, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Jacksonville, Fla.

BRYAN, William James (brother of Nathan Philemon Bryan), a Senator from Florida; born near Fort Mason, Orange (now Lake) County, Fla., October 10, 1876; attended the public schools; was graduated from Emory College, Oxford, Ga., in 1896 and from the law department of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1899; was admitted to the bar in 1899 and commenced practice in Jacksonville, Fla.; solicitor of the Duval County criminal court of record 1902-1907; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Stephen R. Mallory, and served from December 26, 1907, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 22, 1908; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Jacksonville, Fla.

BRYAN, William Jennings, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Salem, Marion County, Ill., March 19, 1860; attended the public schools and Whipple Academy, Jacksonville, Ill.; was graduated from Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., in 1881; studied law at Union College in Chicago, was graduated in 1883, and commenced practice at Jacksonville, Ill., in 1883; moved to Lincoln, Nebr., in 1887 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1894; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1894; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions in 1896, 1904, 1912, 1920, and 1924; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President of the United States in 1896, 1900, and again in 1908; was endorsed by the Populist and Silver Republican Parties in the first and second campaigns; during the Spanish-American War raised the Third Regiment Nebraska Volunteer Infantry in May, 1898, and was commissioned colonel; established a newspaper, "The Commoner," at Lincoln, Nebr., in 1901; made a tour of the world in 1905 and 1906; engaged in editorial writing and lecturing; Secretary of State of the United States in the Cabinet of President Wilson and served from March 4, 1913, until June 9, 1915, when he resigned; resumed his former pursuit of delivering Chautauqua lectures and was an author; established his home in Miami, Fla., in 1921; died while attending court in Dayton, Tenn., July 29, 1925; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

BRYCE, Lloyd Stephens, a Representative from New York; born in Flushing, Queens County, N. Y., September 20, 1850; attended the public schools and Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.; was graduated from Oxford College, England, in 1869; studied law in Columbia Law School, New York City; paymaster general for the State of New York in 1886 and 1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; editor of the North American Review 1889-1896; appointed United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Netherlands August 12, 1911, and served to September 10, 1912; died in Flushing, N. Y., April 2, 1917; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BUCHANAN, Andrew, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester County, Pa., April 8, 1780; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1798, and commenced practice in York, Pa.; located in Waynesburg, Greene County, Pa., in 1803; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); resumed the practice of his profession until his death in Waynesburg, Pa., December 2, 1848; interment in a cemetery in Waynesburg Commons (now park); reinterment in Greene Mount Cemetery.

BUCHANAN, Frank, a Representative from Illinois; born on a farm near Madison, Jefferson County, Ind., June 14, 1862; attended the rural schools in his county; engaged in agricultural pursuits at home and subsequently became a bridge builder and structural-iron worker in Chicago; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress and again in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; resumed his former business pursuits as a structural-iron worker and is a resident of Chicago, Ill.

BUCHANAN, Hugh, a Representative from Georgia; born in Argyleshire, Scotland, September 15, 1823; emigrated to the United States and settled in Vermont; attended the public schools of that State; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Newnan, Coweta County, Ga., in 1846; member of the State senate in 1855 and 1857; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1856 and at New York in 1868; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Breckinridge and Lane in 1860; during the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army in June, 1861, and served until 1865; elected to the Thirty-ninth Congress, but his credentials were not presented to the House, as the State had not been readmitted to representation; appointed judge of the superior court of the Coweta circuit in August, 1872, and resigned in September, 1880; delegate to the State constitutional convention of 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); on account of ill health was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; died in Newnan, Ga., June 11, 1890; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

BUCHANAN, James, a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania and a President of the United States; born at Cove Gap, near Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pa., April 23, 1791; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1809; moved to Lancaster, Pa., the same year; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and practiced in Lancaster; although a Federalist, one of the first volunteers in the War of 1812, and served under Judge Shippen in the defense of Baltimore; member of the State house of representatives in 1814 and 1815; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1831); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1830 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against James H. Peck, judge of the United States District Court for the District of Missouri; minister to Russia from June, 1832, to August, 1834; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Wilkins; reelected in 1837 and 1843, and served from December 6, 1834, until he resigned on March 5, 1845, to accept a Cabinet portfolio; Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Polk from March 6, 1845, to March 7, 1849; minister to Great Britain 1853-1856; elected President of the United States in 1856 as the candidate of the Democratic Party, and served from March 4, 1857, to March 3, 1861; retired to his home in Wheatland, near Lancaster, Pa., where he died June 1, 1868; interment in Woodward Hill Cemetery, Lancaster, Pa.

BUCHANAN, James, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Ringoes, Hunterdon County, N. J., June 17, 1839; attended the public schools and Clinton Academy; studied law at Albany University, was admitted to the bar in 1864, and commenced practice in Trenton, N. J.; reading clerk of the New Jersey House of Assembly in 1866; member of the Trenton Board of Education in 1868 and 1869; presiding judge of Mercer County 1872-1877; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872; appointed a member of the board of trustees of Peddle Institute, Hightstown, N. J., in 1875; member of the Common Council of Trenton 1883-1885; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1893); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Trenton; elected city solicitor of Trenton May 7, 1900, and served until his death; trustee of Bucknell College, Lewisburg, Pa.; died in Trenton, N. J., October 30, 1900; interment in Mountain View Cemetery, Cherryville, Hunterdon County, N. J.

BUCHANAN, James Paul (cousin of Edward William Pou), a Representative from Texas; born in Midway, Orangeburg County, S. C., April 30, 1867; moved to Texas with his parents, who settled near Chappell Hill, Washington County, in 1867; attended the district school; was graduated from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1889; justice of the peace of Washington County 1889-1892; prosecuting attorney 1892-1899; district attorney for the twenty-first judicial district of Texas 1899-1906; member of the State house of representatives 1906-1913; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert Sidney Burleson; reelected to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from April 7, 1913, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BUCHANAN, John Alexander, a Representative from Virginia; born near Groseclose, Smyth County, Va., October 7, 1843; attended "old field" school and the local academies at Chatham Hill and Marlon, Va.; during the Civil War served as a private in Company D, Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade of the Confederate Army; was captured at the Battle of Gettysburg July 3, 1863, and remained a prisoner until February, 1865; attended Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., 1865-1870, and was graduated in June, 1870; studied law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1870 and 1871, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Abingdon, Va.; member of the State house of delegates 1885-1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; engaged in the practice of law in Abingdon, Va., 1893 and 1894; elected associate judge of the Court of Appeals of Virginia January 1, 1896, and served until January, 1915; retired from public life and engaged in agricultural pursuits; died near Emory, Washington County, Va., September 2, 1921; interment in the Old Glade Spring Presbyterian Cemetery, Glade Spring, Va.

BUCHER, John Conrad, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Harrisburg, Pa., December 28, 1792; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Harrisburg; clerk of the land department of Pennsylvania in 1813; member of the Borough Council of Harrisburg; member of the board of school directors; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); trustee of the Harrisburg Academy, Franklin College, Lancaster, Pa., and Marshall College, Mercersburg, Pa.; judge of the Circuit Court of Pennsylvania 1839-1851; died in Harrisburg, Pa., October 26, 1851; interment in the City Cemetery.

BUCK, Alfred Eliab, a Representative from Alabama; born in Foxcroft, Piscataquis County, Me., February 7, 1832; was graduated from Waterville College, Maine, in 1859; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as captain of Company C, Thirteenth Regiment Maine Volunteer Infantry; appointed lieutenant colonel of the Ninety-first United States Colored Troops in August, 1863; transferred to the Fifty-first United States Colored Troops in October, 1864; brevetted colonel of Volunteers for gallant conduct; mustered out of the service at Baton Rouge, La., in June, 1866; delegate to the constitutional convention of Alabama in 1867; clerk of the circuit court of Mobile County in 1867 and 1868; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); appointed president of the City Council of Mobile in 1873; clerk of the United States circuit and district courts in Atlanta, Ga., 1874-1889; United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia 1889-1893; appointed United States minister to Japan by President McKinley in April, 1897, and served until his death in Tokyo, Japan, December 4, 1902; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

BUCK, Charles Francis, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Durheim, Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, November 5, 1841; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in New Orleans, La., in 1852; was graduated from the high school of New Orleans in 1861; attended the Louisiana State Seminary and Military Academy at Alexandria; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in New Orleans, La.; member of the school board of New Orleans for many years; city attorney of New Orleans 1880-1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1896; resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for mayor of New Orleans in 1896 and again in 1904; member of the supreme court board of examiners for admission to the bar 1898-1900; died in New Orleans, La., January 18, 1918; interment in the Metairie Cemetery.

BUCK, Daniel (father of Daniel Azro Ashley Buck), a Representative from Vermont; born in Hebron, Conn., November 9, 1753; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1783 and practiced in Thetford, Vt.; prosecuting attorney of Orange County 1783-1785; clerk of the court in 1788 and 1784; moved to Norwich, Vt., in 1785; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1791; member of the State house of representatives in 1793 and 1794 and served as speaker; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth Congress (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1797); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1796; attorney general of Vermont in 1802 and 1803; moved to Chelsea, Vt., about 1805; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1806 and 1807; resumed the practice of law in Chelsea, Vt., where he died August 16, 1816; interment in the Old Cemetery.

BUCK, Daniel Azro Ashley (son of Daniel Buck), a Representative from Vermont; born in Norwich, Vt., April 19, 1789; moved with his parents to Chelsea; was graduated from Middlebury College in 1807 and from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1808; commissioned a lieutenant in the Engineer Corps of the United States Army in the latter year; resigned in 1811 and studied law; appointed a second lieutenant in the Third Artillery in 1811; raised a volunteer company of rangers in 1813 and served until 1815; appointed a captain of the Thirty-first Infantry in 1813; was honorably discharged June 15, 1815, at the close of the War of 1812; was admitted to the bar in 1814 and commenced the practice of law in Chelsea, Vt.; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1820, 1828-1830, and 1833-1835 and served as speaker of the house 1820-1822, 1825, 1826, and 1829; State attorney for Orange County 1810-1822 and 1830-1834; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Monroe and Tompkins in 1820; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); elected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1828; was a clerk in the War Department 1835-1839; clerk in the Treasury Department in 1840; died in Washington, D. C., December 24, 1841; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BUCK, John Ransom, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Glastonbury, Hartford County, Conn., December 6, 1835; attended the common schools, Wilbraham (Mass.) Academy, and Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and practiced in Hartford; treasurer of Hartford County 1878-1881; assistant clerk of the State house of representatives in 1864, and became clerk in 1865; clerk of the senate in 1866; president of the Hartford Court of Common Council in 1868; city attorney 1871-1873; member of the State senate in 1880 and 1881; secretary of the State bar association 1875-1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; elected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1886 to the Fiftieth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Hartford, Conn., and died there February 6, 1917; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

BUCKALEW, Charles Rollin, a Senator and a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Fishing Creek Township, Columbia County, Pa., December 28, 1821; was graduated from Harford Academy, Susquehanna County, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Bloomsburg, Pa., in 1844; prosecuting attorney for Columbia County 1845-1847; served in the State senate 1850-1853; commissioner to exchange ratifications of a treaty with Paraguay in 1854; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; chairman of the Democratic State committee in 1857; again a member of the State senate in 1857 and 1858; appointed one of the commissioners to revise the penal code of the State in 1857; appointed minister resident of the United States to the Republic of Ecuador in 1858, and served three years; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1863, to March 3, 1869; again served in the State senate in 1869; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1872; delegate to the constitutional convention of 1873; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); resumed the practice of his profession in Bloomsburg, Columbia County, Pa., where he died May 19, 1899; interment in Rosemont Cemetery.

BUCKINGHAM, William Alfred, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Lebanon, Conn., May 28, 1804; attended the common schools and Bacon Academy, Colchester, Conn.; engaged in mercantile pursuits and in manufacturing; mayor of Norwich in 1849, 1850, 1853, and 1857; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Fremont and Dayton in 1856; Governor of Connecticut 1858-1866; resumed his former business pursuits; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, until his death in Norwich, Conn., February 5, 1875; his statue as the "War Governor of Connecticut" adorns the battle flag vestibule of the statehouse in Hartford, Conn.; interment in Yantic Cemetery, Norwich, Conn.

BUCKLAND, Ralph Pomeroy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Leyden, Mass., January 20, 1812; moved with his parents to Ravenna, Ohio, the same year; attended the country schools, Tallmadge (Ohio) Academy, and Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Fremont, Ohio; mayor of Fremont 1843-1845; delegate to the Whig National Convention in 1848; member of the State senate 1855-1859; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as colonel of the Seventy-second Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry January 10, 1862; commissioned brigadier general of Volunteers November 29, 1862; brevetted major general March 13, 1865, for faithful and meritorious services; resigned from the Army January 6, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; resumed the practice of law; delegate to the Philadelphia Loyalists' Convention in 1866 and to the Pittsburgh Soldiers' Convention; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; Government director of the Union Pacific Railroad 1877-1880; died in Fremont, Sandusky County, Ohio, May 27, 1892; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

BUCKLEY, Charles Waldron, a Representative from Alabama; born in Unadilla, Otsego County, N. Y., February 18, 1835; attended the public schools in that town and also in Freeport, Ill., where his parents moved in 1846; was graduated from Beloit College, Wisconsin, in 1860, and from the Union Theological Seminary in New York City in 1863; entered the Union Army February 9, 1864, and served as chaplain of the Forty-seventh Regiment United States Colored Volunteer Infantry and of the Eighth Regiment Louisiana Colored Infantry until January 5, 1866, when he was mustered out; Alabama superintendent of education for the Bureau of Refugees and Freedmen in 1866 and 1867 and resided in Montgomery; delegate to the convention which framed the constitution of Alabama in 1867; engaged in agricultural pursuits, banking, fire insurance, and mining; upon the readmission of the State of Alabama to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress; reelected to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses, and served from July 21, 1868, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; probate judge of Montgomery County 1874-1878; resumed banking and also engaged in the fire insurance business; postmaster of Montgomery 1881-1885, 1890-1893, and 1897-1900; died in Montgomery, Ala., December 4, 1906; delegate to the Republican National Convention in St. Louis in 1896; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York City.

BUCKLEY, James Richard, a Representative from Illinois; born in Chicago, Ill., November 18, 1870; attended the public and parochial schools and Christian Brothers' Commercial Academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits; permit clerk of the department of public works 1893-1897; deputy city gas inspector 1897-1910; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for clerk of the supreme court of Cook County, Ill., in 1908; member of the Chicago Board of Aldermen 1910-1912; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908, at Baltimore in 1912, and at St. Louis in 1916; chief deputy criminal court clerk 1912-1918; manager of the State personal property tax collection department 1918-1923; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; vice president of the Universal Granite Quarries; is a resident of Chicago, Ill.

BUCKMAN, Clarence Bennett, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Doylestown, Bucks County, Pa., April 1, 1851; attended the public and normal schools; removed to Minnesota in 1872 and settled in what is now known as Buckman; engaged in agricultural pursuits and the lumber business; appointed justice of the peace in 1873; member of the State house of representatives 1881-1883; served in the State senate 1887-1891 and 1899-1903; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1906; deputy United States marshal 1912-1917; resumed the lumber business in Little Falls, Morrison County, Minn.; died in a local hospital in Battle Creek, Mich., March 1, 1917; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Little Falls, Minn.

BUCKNER, Alexander, a Senator from Missouri; born in Jefferson County, Ky., in 1785; studied law, and moved to Charleston, Clark County, Ind., in 1812; moved to Missouri in 1818 and settled in Cape Girardeau County; practiced law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; appointed by the Territorial governor circuit attorney for the Cape Girardeau district; president of the State constitutional convention in 1820; member of the State senate 1822-1826; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1831, until his death in Cape Girardeau County, Mo., June 6, 1833; interment on his farm in Cape Girardeau County; reinterment in the City Cemetery, Cape Girardeau, Mo., in 1897.

BUCKNER, Aylette (son of Richard Aylett Buckner), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Greensburg, Green County, Ky., July 21, 1806; attended the New Athens Seminary; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Greensburg; member of the State house of representatives in 1842 and 1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate in 1848 for reelection to the Thirty-first Congress; moved to St. Louis, Mo., and continued the practice of his profession; returned to Lexington, Ky., in 1864, where he died July 3, 1869; interment in Lexington Cemetery.

BUCKNER, Aylett Hawes (nephew of Aylett Hawes and cousin of Richard Hawes and Albert Gallatin Hawes), a Representative from Missouri; born in Fredericksburg, Va., December 14, 1816; attended Georgetown College, Washington, D. C., and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; engaged in teaching for several years; moved to Pulmyra, Mo., in 1837; served as deputy sheriff; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1838, and commenced practice in Bowling Green, Mo.; became editor of the Salt River Journal; elected clerk of the Pike County court in 1841; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1850 and continued the practice of law; attorney for the Bank of the State of Missouri in 1852; appointed commissioner of public works in 1854 and served until 1855; returned to Pike County and settled on a farm near Bowling Green; elected judge of the third judicial circuit in 1857; delegate to the convention held in Washington, D. C., in 1861, in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; moved to St. Charles, Mo., in 1862 and became interested in the manufacture of tobacco in St. Louis; also engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Mexico, Audrain County; member of the Democratic central committee in 1868; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1872-March 3, 1885); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1884 and retired from public life; died in Mexico, Mo., February 5, 1894; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

BUCKNER, Richard Aylett (father of Aylette Buckner), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Fauquier County, Va., July 16, 1763; received a liberal education; moved to Green County, Ky., in 1803; studied law and was admitted to the bar; taught school; moved to Greensburg in 1811 and practiced law; county attorney and Commonwealth's attorney of Green County; member of the State house of representatives in 1813 and 1815; elected as Anti-Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1828 to the Twenty-first Congress; appointed associate judge of the court of appeals December 31, 1831, but resigned shortly afterwards; unsuccessful Whig candidate for Governor of Kentucky in 1832; again a member of the State house of representatives 1837-1839; presidential elector on the Harrison tickets in 1836 and 1840; circuit judge in 1845; judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky; died in Greensburg, Ky., December 8, 1847; interment in the family graveyard at the ancestral home, "Buckner's Hill."

BUDD, James Herbert, a Representative from California; born in Janesville, Rock County, Wis., May 18, 1851; moved to California in 1859 with his parents, who settled in Stockton; attended the public schools in Stockton and Brayton College, Oakland, in 1869; was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1873; served as lieutenant colonel on the governor's staff in 1873 and 1874; deputy district attorney in 1873 and 1874; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874, and commenced practice in Stockton; served as first lieutenant in the California National Guard and was promoted to major of the line; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1884; appointed police and fire commissioner of Stockton in 1889; trustee of the Stockton City Library for six years; member of the board for drafting the city charter in 1889; Governor of California 1894-1898; resumed the practice of law in San Francisco; died in Stockton, Calif., July 30, 1908; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

BUELL, Alexander Woodruff, a Representative from Michigan; born in Castleton, Vt., December 18, 1813; attended the public schools in Poultney, Vt., and was graduated from Middlebury College, Vermont, in 1830; taught school and studied law; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1834; was admitted to the bar in 1835 and commenced practice in Detroit, Mich.; city attorney in 1837; member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1848, and served as speaker of the house in the latter year; prosecuting attorney for Wayne County 1843-1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1859 and 1860; appointed postmaster of Detroit on September 28, 1860, and served until March 18, 1861; died in Detroit, Mich., April 19, 1868; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

BUELL, Alexander Hamilton, a Representative from New York; born in Fairfield, Herkimer County, N. Y., July 14, 1801; attended the district schools and Fairfield Academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Fairfield, N. Y., and maintained general stores in other cities; member of the State assembly in 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1851, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 29, 1853; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery, Fairfield, N. Y.

BUFFINGTON, Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Chester, Pa., November 27, 1803; attended the common schools and Western University, Pittsburgh, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Kittanning, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); appointed president judge of the eighteenth district in 1849; declined the appointment of chief justice of the Territory of Utah tendered by President Fillmore in 1852; judge of the tenth district of Pennsylvania from 1855 until his retirement in 1872; died in Kittanning, Armstrong County, Pa., February 3, 1872; interment in Kittanning Cemetery.

BUFFINTON, James, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Fall River, Mass., March 16, 1817; attended the Friends College, Providence, R. I.; studied medicine, but never practiced; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Fall River; mayor of Fall River in 1854 and 1855; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; during the Civil War was mustered into the service April 24, 1861, and was discharged June 15, 1861; special agent of the United States Treasury and internal-revenue collector for the district of Massachusetts 1867-1869; elected to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1869, until his death in Fall River, Mass., March 7, 1875; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

BUFFUM, Joseph, Jr., a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Fitchburg, Mass., September 23, 1784; attended the public schools and the local academy; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1806; studied law and practiced in Westmoreland and Keene, N. H.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); appointed judge of the court of common pleas on January 21, 1825; engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Westmoreland, Cheshire County, N. H., February 24, 1874; interment in the South Village Cemetery.

BUGG, Robert Malone, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Boynton, Mecklenburg County, Va., January 20, 1805; attended the public schools; moved to Tennessee and settled in Williamson County in 1825, where he taught school for several years; moved to Giles County and engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace in 1840; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and 1852; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1854; resumed agricultural pursuits; served in the State senate in 1871 and 1872; died in Lynnville, Giles County, Tenn., February 18, 1887; interment in the McLaurine Cemetery; near Lynnville, Tenn.

BULKELEY, Morgan Gardner (cousin of Edwin Dennison Morgan), a Senator from Connecticut; born in East Had-dam, Middlesex County, Conn., December 26, 1837; attended the district schools; moved with his parents to Hartford, Conn., in 1846; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Brooklyn, N. Y., 1852-1872; member of the Republican general committee of Kings County; during the Civil War enlisted in the Thirtieth Regiment New York National Guard, and served at Baltimore and at Suffolk, Va., under the command of Brig. Gen. Max Weber; returned to Hartford, Conn., in 1872; engaged in the life insurance business and served as president of the Aetna Life Insurance Co. from 1879 until his death; served in the city council in 1874; member of the board of aldermen in 1875 and 1876; first president of the National League of Professional Base Ball Clubs in 1876; mayor of Hartford 1880-1888; Governor of Connecticut 1889-1893; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888 and at St. Louis in 1896; elected commander of the Department of Connecticut, Grand Army of the Republic, in 1903; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1905, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Hartford, Conn., November 6, 1922; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

BULKLEY, Robert Johns, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cleveland, Ohio, October 8, 1880; attended the public schools and the University School, Cleveland, Ohio, and was graduated from Harvard University in 1902; studied law at the law department of Harvard University, was admitted to the bar in 1906, and commenced practice in Cleveland, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1915); delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1912; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912 and at St. Louis in 1916; during the World War served as chief of the legal section of the War Industries Board in 1917 and 1918; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Cleveland, Ohio.

BULL, John, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Prince William's parish, South Carolina, about 1740; justice of the peace of Greenville County; member of the Provincial house of commons in 1772; deputy secretary of the Province in 1772; delegate to the First and Second Provincial Congresses in 1775 and 1776; member of the first general assembly in 1776; served in the State house of representatives 1778-1781 and in 1784; Member of the Continental Congress 1784-1787; served in the State senate in 1798; died in South Carolina in 1802; interment in the Prince William's Parish Churchyard, Beaufort County, S. C.

BULL, John, a Representative from Missouri; born in Virginia in 1803; studied medicine in Baltimore, Md.; moved to Howard County, Mo., and settled near Glasgow; engaged in the practice of medicine; studied theology, was ordained to the ministry, and became a Methodist minister in that locality; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Missouri; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Calhoun in 1828; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); resumed his ministerial duties and also the practice of medicine; died near Rothville, Chariton County, Mo., in February, 1863; interment in the Hutcheson Cemetery, a family burial ground, near Rothville, Mo.

BULL, Melville, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., September 29, 1854; attended Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Harvard University in 1877; engaged in agricultural pursuits near Newport; member of the State house of representatives 1883-1885; served in the State senate 1885-1892; member of the Republican State central committee; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888; Lieutenant Governor of Rhode Island, 1892-1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; owing to ill health, discontinued active business pursuits and lived in retirement until his death in Middletown, Newport County, R. I., July 5, 1906; interment in the Island Cemetery, Newport, R. I.

BULLARD, Henry Adams, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Pepperell, Mass., September 9, 1788; was graduated from Harvard University in 1807; studied law in Boston and Philadelphia and was admitted to the bar about 1812; accompanied Gen. José Alvarez Toledo as military secretary on his revolutionary expedition into Texas in 1813, which was repulsed by the Spanish troops under General Arredondo at the Battle of Medina, near San Antonio, Tex., August 18, 1813; moved to Natchitoches, La., and commenced the practice of law; elected district judge in 1822, but resigned after a few years' service, returning to the bench later for another period of service; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1831, until November 15, 1834, when he resigned, having been appointed judge; judge of the Supreme Court of Louisiana from 1831 to 1846; acted as secretary of state of Louisiana in 1839; resumed the practice of law in New Orleans, La.; appointed professor of civil law in the Law School of Louisiana in 1847; member of the State house of representatives in 1850; elected to the Thirty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles M. Conrad, and served from December 5, 1850, to March 3, 1851; died in New Orleans, La., April 17, 1851; interment in the Girod Street Cemetery.

BULLOCH, Archibald (father of William Bellinger Bulloch and great-great grandfather of Theodore Roosevelt), a Delegate from Georgia; born in Charleston, S. C., about 1730; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; commissioned lieutenant in a South Carolina regiment in 1757; moved to Savannah, Ga., about 1762; appointed a member of the committee to correspond with Franklin for redress of grievances in 1768 and of the committee to sympathize with the citizens of Boston; elected speaker of the Georgia Royal Assembly in 1772; president of the Georgia Provincial Congress in 1775 and 1776; Member of the Continental Congress in 1775 and 1776, and on November 9, 1775, signed the secret pact or declaration, and was the first man in Georgia to read the Declaration of Independence; led a company to clear Tybee Island of the enemy; elected by the Provincial Congress president and commander in chief of Georgia and served from June 20, 1776, to February 5, 1777, when the State government was adopted; signed the first constitution of Georgia; died in Savannah, Ga., February 22, 1777; interment in the Colonial Cemetery.

BULLOCH, William Bellinger (son of Archibald Bulloch), a Senator from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., in 1777; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Savannah in 1797; appointed United States district attorney in 1804; mayor of Savannah in 1812 and alderman in 1814; during the War of 1812 served in the Savannah Heavy Artillery; solicitor general of the State; second vice president of the Georgia Historical Society in 1829; collector of customs in 1849 and 1850; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William H. Crawford, and served from April 8, 1818, until November 6, 1818, when a successor was elected and qualified; one of the founders of the State Bank of Georgia and served as its president 1816-1843; died in Savannah, Ga., May 6, 1852; interment in Laurel Grove Cemetery.

BULLOCK, Robert, a Representative from Florida; born in Greenville, Pitt County, N. C., December 8, 1828; attended the common schools; moved to Florida in 1844 and settled at Fort King, then a United States Government post, near the present city of Ocala; taught in the first school in Sumter County; clerk of the circuit court of Marion County from November 13, 1849, to November 11, 1855; commissioned by the governor in 1856 a captain to raise a mounted company of volunteers for the suppression of Indian hostilities; the company was mustered into the service of the United States and served eighteen months, until the cessation of hostilities; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as captain in the Seventh Regiment Florida Volunteers in 1862 and served until the close of the war; promoted to lieutenant colonel in 1863 and to brigadier general in 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and began practice in Marion County; judge of probate court 1866-1868; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; member of the State house of representatives in 1879; again clerk of the circuit court of Marion County from February 11, 1881, to February 9, 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected judge of Marion County in 1903, and served until his death in Ocala, Marion County, Fla., July 27, 1905; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

BULLOCK, Stephen, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Rehoboth, Mass., October 10, 1735; attended the common schools; taught school; during the Revolutionary War was captain of the Sixth Company in Col. Thomas Carpenter's regiment, and was in the Battle of Rhode Island in 1778; delegate to the first State constitutional convention in 1780; member of the State house of representatives in 1783, 1785, 1786, 1795, and 1799; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); judge of the court of common pleas for Bristol County; member of the governor's council 1803-1805; died in Rehoboth, Bristol County, Mass., February 2, 1816; interment in Burial Place Hill.

BULLOCK, Wingfield, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Spotsylvania, Va.; studied law; moved to Kentucky; member of the State senate from Shelby County 1812-1814; elected to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1821, until his death in Shelbyville, Shelby County, Ky., October 13, 1821; interment in an old burying ground near Shelbyville.

BULWINKLE, Alfred Lee, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Charleston, Charleston County, S. C., April 21, 1883; moved with his parents to Dallas, N. C., in 1891; attended the common schools; studied law at University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, was admitted to the bar in 1904, and commenced practice in Dallas, Gaston County, N. C.; delegate to practically all the Democratic State conventions since 1904; prosecuting attorney for the municipal court of Gastonia 1913-1916; was a captain in Company B, First Infantry North Carolina National Guard, 1909-1917; served on the Mexican border in 1916 and 1917; during the World War served as major in command of the Second Battalion, One hundred and thirteenth Field Artillery, Fifty-fifth Brigade, Thirtieth Division, American Expeditionary Forces; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Relected to the Seventieth Congress.

BUNCH, Samuel, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Grainger County, Tenn., December 4, 1786; attended the public schools; served in the Creek War as captain of a company of mounted riflemen under General Jackson, and participated in the attack on Hillisbeetown November 18, 1813; was sheriff of Grainger County for several years; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); died in Rutledge, Grainger County, Tenn., September 5, 1849; interment in a private cemetery near Rutledge.

BUNDY, Hezekiah Sanford, a Representative from Ohio; born in Marietta, Ohio, August 15, 1817; moved with his parents to Athens County in 1819; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and practiced until 1860, when he became engaged in the iron business; member of the State house of representatives in 1848 and 1850; served in the State senate in 1855; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1866; elected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; moved to Wellston, Jackson County, in 1887 and resumed the practice of law; elected to the Fifty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William H. Enoch, and served from December 4, 1893, to March 3, 1895; died in Wellston, Jackson County, Ohio, December 12, 1895; interment in the City Cemetery.

BUNDY, Solomon, a Representative from New York; born in Oxford, Chenango County, N. Y., May 22, 1823; attended the common schools and Oxford (N. Y.) Academy; taught school for several years; engaged in mercantile pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Oxford; while studying law served as justice of the peace and clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Chenango County; district attorney of Chenango County 1862-1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law; died in Oxford, N. Y., January 13, 1889; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

BUNN, Benjamin Hickman, a Representative from North Carolina; born on a farm in Nash County, near Rocky Mount, N. C., October 19, 1844; attended the local schools; during the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army as a second lieutenant in Company A, Forty-seventh North Carolina Regiment; promoted successively and became captain of the Fourth Company of Sharpshooters, MacRae's brigade, Army of Northern Virginia, 1861-1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Rocky Mount, N. C.; elected mayor of Rocky Mount in 1867; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1875 and to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; member of the State house of representatives 1883-1885; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; postmaster of Rocky Mount, N. C., from April 23, 1895, until the appointment of his successor on July 27, 1897; resumed the practice of law; died in Nash County, near Rocky Mount, N. C., August 25, 1907; interment in Pineview Cemetery, Rocky Mount, Edgecombe County, N. C.

BUNNELL, Frank Charles, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Washington Township, Luzerne County, Pa., March 19, 1842; attended the district rural school and Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., until the beginning of the Civil War, when he enlisted as a private in Company B, Fifty-second Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, in September, 1861; promoted and served as quartermaster sergeant of his regiment during the peninsular campaign under General McClellan; discharged from the service April 2, 1863, on a surgeon's certificate of disability; engaged in mercantile pursuits 1864-1869; moved to Tunkhannock and engaged in agricultural pursuits and in banking; unsuccessful candidate for nomination in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; subsequently elected to the Forty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ulysses Mercer and served from December 24, 1872, to March 3, 1873; president of the Wyoming County Agricultural Society for over twenty years; elected burgess and borough treasurer of Tunkhannock, Wyoming County, in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; retired from active business pursuits and political life; died in Philadelphia, Pa., September 11, 1911; interment in Gravel Hill Cemetery, Tunkhannock, Pa.

BUNNER, Rudolph, a Representative from New York; born in Savannah, Wayne County, N. Y., August 17, 1779; was graduated from Columbia College, at New York City, in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y., from 1819 until 1822; moved to Oswego, Oswego County, N. Y., in October, 1822; engaged in manufacturing and served as a director in the Oswego Cloth & Carpet Manufacturing Co.; also was an extensive landowner; member of the first board of directors of the Oswego Canal Co.; elected as an Adams Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); died in Oswego, N. Y., July 16, 1837; interment in Riverside Cemetery.

BUNTING, Thomas Lathrop, a Representative from New York; born in Eden, Erie County, N. Y., April 24, 1844; was educated in the common schools and the Griffith Institute, Springville, N. Y.; taught school in winters and attended the academy in summer months; illness having interrupted his preparation for college, he moved to Hamburg, N. Y., in 1868 and entered a store in the position of clerk and after one year established a general mercantile store and subsequently engaged in the canning business; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the canning business and also became interested in farming, dairying, and stock raising; died in Buffalo, N. Y., December 27, 1898; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery at Hamburg, Erie County, N. Y.

BURCH, John Chilton, a Representative from California; born in Boone County, Mo., February 1, 1826; attended the Bonne Femme Academy and Kemper College; studied law in Jefferson City, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; deputy clerk of Cole County; assistant adjutant general of Missouri; moved to California in 1850 and worked in the mines until 1851; elected clerk of the newly organized Trinity County; appointed district attorney in 1853; member of the State assembly in 1856; served in the State senate 1857-1859; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); resumed the practice of law in San Francisco; appointed a code commissioner and served four years; declined to be a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of California; died in San Francisco, Calif., August 31, 1885; interment in the City Cemetery, Sacramento, Calif.

BURCHARD, Horatio Chapin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Marshall, Oneida County, N. Y., September 22, 1825; attended the public schools and private preparatory schools; was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Freeport, Ill.; member of the State house of representatives 1863-1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Elihu B. Washburne; reelected to the Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses, and served from December 6, 1869, to March 3, 1879; director of the United States mint at Philadelphia 1879-1885; resumed the practice of law in Freeport, Ill.; member of the commission to revise the State revenue laws in 1885 and 1886; was placed in charge of the jury of awards of the mining department of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893; died in Freeport, Stephenson County, Ill., May 14, 1908; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

BURCHARD, Samuel Dickinson, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Leyden, N. Y., July 17, 1836; moved with his father to Beaver Dam, Wis., in 1845; attended Madison (now Colgate) University, Hamilton, N. Y.; engaged in the wool manufacturing business in Beaver Dam; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a lieutenant in the Missouri Militia; appointed assistant quartermaster of United States Volunteers with the rank of captain; was stationed at New York, where he had charge of the purchase of forage for the forces on the Atlantic coast; was mustered out with the rank of major; member of the Wisconsin Senate 1872-1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Greenwood, Wise County, Tex., September 1, 1901; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BURD, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1810 at Carlisle, Cumberland County, Pa., and practiced; elected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); moved to Mercer County in 1843; died in Bedford, Bedford County, Pa., January 13, 1844; interment in Bedford Cemetery.

BURDETT, Samuel Swinfin, a Representative from Missouri; born at Sutton-in-the-Elms, Leicestershire, England, February 21, 1836; when twelve years of age emigrated to the United States; worked on a farm in Lorain County, Ohio, and attended the common schools; studied law at Oberlin College, Ohio, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice in Dewitt, Iowa; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a private in the First Regiment, Iowa Volunteer Cavalry in May, 1861; promoted to the rank of lieutenant, later becoming captain, and served until August, 1864; assistant provost marshal general from March 1 until August 1, 1864; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; moved to Osceola, St. Clair County, Mo., in December, 1865; attorney for the seventh circuit in 1868 and 1869; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate in 1872 for reelection to the Forty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Osceola, Mo.; appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office in 1874; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., residing at Glencarlyn, Va., during his last years; commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1885 and 1886; died at Sutton-in-the-Elms, Leicestershire, England, September 24, 1914; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

BURDICK, Clark, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., January 13, 1808; attended the public schools and Rogers High School of Newport; was a student at the Harvard Law School 1833-1835; was admitted to the bar in 1834 and commenced practice in Newport; also interested in banking and served as president of the Newport Trust Co.; member of the First Division, Rhode Island Naval Militia, in 1896 and 1897; member of the city school board 1890-1901; city solicitor of Newport in 1901, 1902, and again in 1907 and 1908; member of the State house of representatives 1906-1908; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; member of the Newport Representative Council 1906-1916, and served as chairman; served in the State senate in 1915 and 1916; awarded the third class order of the Sacred Treasury of Japan for services rendered the representatives of the Emperor of Japan in 1917; mayor of Newport in 1917 and 1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BURDICK, Theodore Weld, a Representative from Iowa; born in Evansburg, Crawford County, Pa., October 7, 1836; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Decorah, Iowa, in 1853 and engaged in banking; deputy treasurer and recorder of Winneshiek County 1854-1857; treasurer and recorder from 1858 to 1862, when he resigned to recruit a company for the Union Army during the Civil War; was commissioned as captain and assigned to the Sixth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Cavalry, in which he served for three years in the Department of the Northwest; after the regiment was mustered out in 1865 he returned to Decorah and became cashier of the First National Bank; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed banking at Decorah, Iowa, and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; member of the State senate in 1886 and 1887; declined to be a candidate for renomination; died in Decorah, Winneshiek County, Iowa July 10, 1898; interment in Phelps Cemetery.

BURGES, Dempsey, a Representative from North Carolina born in Shiloh, Camden County, N. C.; member of the Provincial Congress in 1775 and 1776; took an active part in the Revolutionary War, serving first as major of the Pasquotank Militiamen and later as lieutenant colonel of Gregory's Continental regiment; elected to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1799); interment in Shiloh Baptist Church yard.

BURGES, Tristram, a Representative from Rhode Island born in Rochester, Mass., February 28, 1770; attended the common schools; studied medicine at a school in Wrentham upon the death of his father he abandoned the study of medicine; was graduated from Rhode Island College (nov Brown University), Providence, R. I., in 1796; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1799, and commenced practice in Providence, R. I.; member of the State house of representatives in 1811 and was prominent as a member of the Federal Party; appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court of Rhode Island in May, 1815; unsuccessful candidate for election to the same in 1816; professor of oratory in Brown University; elected to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor in 1836; resumed the practice of law; died on his estate, "Watchemoket Farm" (now a part of East Providence, R. I.), October 18, 1853; interment in the North Burial Ground, Providence, R. I.

BURGESS, George Farmer, a Representative from Texas; born in Wharton, Wharton County, Tex., September 21, 1861; attended the common schools; moved with his mother to Fayette County in 1880 and engaged in agricultural pursuits near Flatonia; was later employed as a clerk in a country store; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in La Grange, Tex.; moved to Gonzales in 1884; prosecuting attorney of Gonzales County from 1886 to 1889, when he resigned; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Stevenson in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination of United States Senator in 1916; resumed the practice of law at Gonzales, Tex., where he died December 31, 1919; interment in the Masonic Cemetery.

BURK, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wurtemberg, Germany, September 26, 1850; emigrated to the United States in 1854 with his parents, who settled in Philadelphia, Pa.; attended the public schools about three years; became a repairer of shoemaking machinery and subsequently engaged in supplying this machinery to the trade; engaged in the manufacture of leather, and in 1887 invented the alum and sumac process, which revolutionized the industry; president of the Manufacturers' National Association in 1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1901, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., December 5, 1903; interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

BURKE, Adanias, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Galway, Ireland, June 16, 1743; attended the theological college at St Omer, France; visited the West Indies; emigrated to the American Colonies and settled in Charles Town (now Charleston), S. C.; served in the militia forces of South Carolina during the Revolutionary War; appointed a judge of the State circuit court in 1778 and served until the enemy overran the State; member of the South Carolina House of Representatives 1779-1782; again served in the Revolutionary Army 1780-1782; when the courts were reestablished resumed his seat on the bench, and in 1785 was appointed one of three commissioners to prepare a digest of the State laws; member of the convention in 1788 called to consider ratification of the Constitution of the United States, which he opposed; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1790 to the Second Congress, the legislature having passed a law prohibiting a State judge from leaving the State; elected a chancellor of the courts of equity in 1799 and served until his death in Charleston, S. C., March 30, 1802; interment in O'Brien Smith's lot in the cemetery of the Chapel of Ease (now commonly called the "Burnt Church") of St. Bartholomew's parish, near Jacksonboro, Colleton County, S. C.

BURKE, Charles Henry, a Representative from South Dakota; born on a farm near Batavia, Genesee County, N. Y., April 1, 1861; attended the public schools of Batavia, N. Y.; moved to the Territory of Dakota in 1882 and settled on a homestead in Beadle County; moved to Hughes County in 1883; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1886; engaged in the real-estate investment business; member of the State house of representatives in 1896 and 1897; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1906; elected to the Sixty-first, Sixty-second, and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1914, engaged in war relief work during the period of the World War; appointed Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., April 1, 1921, in which capacity he is now serving; maintains a legal residence in Pierre, S. Dak.

BURKE, Edmund, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Westminster, Vt., January 23, 1809; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Colebrook, N. H.; moved to Claremont, N. H., in 1833 and assumed editorial management of the New Hampshire Argus; moved to Newport in 1834 and united the Argus with the Spectator of that place, continuing as editor for several years; commissioned as adjutant in the State militia in 1837 and as brigade inspector in 1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; appointed Commissioner of Patents by President Polk, and served from May 5, 1846, to September 3, 1850; resumed the practice of law in Newport, N. H.; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore in 1844 and 1852; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1867, and served as presiding officer; member of the State board of agriculture in 1871; died in Newport, Sullivan County, N. H., January 25, 1882; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery.

BURKE, James Francis, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Petroleum Center, Venango County, Pa., October 21, 1867; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1892; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; secretary of the Republican National Committee in 1892, resigning during the same year to devote his entire time to the duties of president of the American Republican College League; officer of or a delegate to the Republican National Conventions from 1892 to 1924, with the exception of the year 1912; appointed a delegate to the Parliamentary Peace Conference at Brussels in 1906; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1906-March 3, 1915); was not a candidate for renomination in 1914; United States Government director of war savings during the World War; resumed the practice of law; elected general counsel of the Republican National Committee in December, 1927; parliamentarian of the Republican National Convention at Kansas City, Mo., in 1928; is a resident of Pittsburgh, Pa.

BURKE, Michael Edmund, a Representative from Wisconsin; born at Beaver Dam, Dodge County, Wis., October 15, 1863; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Wayland Academy at Beaver Dam in 1884; studied law at the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1886 and 1887; was admitted to the bar in 1888 and commenced practice at Beaver Dam; town clerk 1887-1889; member of the State assembly 1891-1893; served in the State senate 1895-1899; city attorney of Beaver Dam 1893-1908; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; elected mayor of Beaver Dam and served from 1908 to 1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916; died at Beaver Dam, Wis., December 12, 1918; interment in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

BURKE, Robert Emmet, a Representative from Texas; born near Dadeville, Tallapoosa County, Ala., August 1, 1847; attended the public schools of his native city; volunteered as a private in Company D, Tenth Georgia Cavalry, Confederate Army, at the age of sixteen and served throughout the Civil War; moved to Jefferson, Tex., in 1866; studied law, was admitted to the bar in November, 1870, and commenced practice in Dallas, Tex., in 1871; judge of Dallas County 1878-1888; judge of the fourteenth judicial district of Texas 1888-1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Dallas, Tex., June 5, 1901; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

BURKE, Thomas, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Galway, Ireland, about 1747; studied medicine; emigrated to America in 1764, settled in Accomac County, Va., and practiced; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Norfolk, Va.; moved to Hillsboro, N. C., in 1771; delegate to the State convention at New Bern and Hillsboro in 1775 and at Halifax in 1776; member of the State house of commons in 1777; Member of the Continental Congress from December, 1776, to June 26, 1781, when he became the third Governor of North Carolina under its State constitution; kidnapped by the Tories September 18, 1781, and carried to Charleston, S. C., where he was held as a hostage; succeeded in escaping and made an exchange; resumed his duties as governor February 1, 1782, and served until April 22, 1782; died at "Tyaquin," near Hillsboro, Orange County, N. C., December 2, 1783; interment in Mars Hill Churchyard, near Hillsboro, N. C.

BURKE, William Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near London, England, September 25, 1862; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Reynoldsville, Jefferson County, Pa., in 1866; attended the public schools; moved to Pittsburgh in early life; employed for many years as a railroad conductor; member of the Common Council of Allegheny four years and subsequently became a member of the greater city council (Pittsburgh); extensively interested in the production of oil near Callery, Butler County; identified with organized labor as chairman of the general committee of adjustment, Order of Railroad Conductors, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad system; elected a member of the State senate in 1914, and served until January 1, 1918, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected to the City Council of Pittsburgh in 1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); did not seek renomination, but became a candidate for the Republican nomination as United States Senator; unsuccessful candidate for election as United States Senator in 1922; resumed activities with organized labor and affiliated with the American Federation of Labor as chairman of the general committee of adjustment for the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors; also engaged in agricultural pursuits and in the production of oil; died at his summer home in Callery Junction, Butler County, near Pittsburgh, Pa., November 7, 1925; interment in Calvary Cemetery, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BURKETT, Elmer Jacob, a Representative and a Senator from Nebraska; born on a farm near Glenwood, Mills County, Iowa, December 1, 1867; attended the public schools; was graduated from Tabor (Iowa) College in 1890 and from the law department of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln in 1893; was admitted to the bar in 1893 and commenced practice in Lincoln, Neb.; trustee of Tabor College 1895-1905; member of the State house of representatives 1896-1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); had been reelected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, but resigned, effective March 4, 1905, to become Senator; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1905, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for renomination; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1908 and 1912; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Lincoln, Neb.

BURLEIGH, Edwin Chick, a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in Linneus, Aroostook County, Me., November 27, 1843; attended the common schools and was graduated from the Houlton (Me.) Academy; taught school; clerk in the adjutant general's office; engaged in surveying; clerk in the State land office at Bangor 1870-1876; moved to Augusta in 1876; State land agent 1876-1878; assistant clerk in the State house of representatives in 1878; clerk in the office of the State treasurer 1880-1884; State treasurer 1884-1888; became principal owner of the Kennebec Journal in 1887; Governor of Maine 1889-1892; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Seth L. Milliken; reelected to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from June 21, 1897, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910; resumed newspaper publishing in Augusta, Me., and the management of timberlands; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1913, until his death in Augusta, Me., June 16, 1916; interment in Forest Grove Cemetery.

BURLEIGH, Henry Gordon, a Representative from New York; born in Canaan, Grafton County, N. H., June 2, 1832; attended the common schools; moved to New York with his parents, who settled in Ticonderoga, Essex County, in 1846; engaged in the mining of iron ore and in the lumber, coal, and transportation business; supervisor of the town of Ticonderoga in 1864 and 1865; moved to Whitehall, Washington County, N. Y., in 1867; member of the State assembly in 1876; delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, and 1896; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1886 to the Fiftieth Congress; died in Whitehall, N. Y., August 10, 1900; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Ticonderoga, N. Y.

BURLEIGH, John Holmes (son of William Burleigh), a Representative from Maine; born in South Berwick, York County, Me., October 9, 1822; attended the local academy; became a sailor when sixteen years of age and commanded a ship on foreign voyages from 1846 until 1858 when he engaged in woolen manufacturing at South Berwick, Me.; also engaged in banking; member of the State house of representatives in 1862, 1864, 1866, and again in 1872; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; died in South Berwick, Me., December 5, 1877; interment in the Portland Street Cemetery.

BURLEIGH, Walter Atwood, a Delegate from the Territory of Dakota; born in Waterville, Me., October 25, 1820; attended the public schools; served as a private in the Aroostook War in 1839; studied medicine in Burlington, Vt., and New York City, and commenced practice in Richmond, Me.; moved to Kittanning, Pa., in 1832; continued the practice of medicine and studied law; declined a foreign mission tendered by President Lincoln in 1861; Indian agent at Greenwood, Dak., 1861-1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress; member of the Dakota Territorial Council in 1877; engaged as a contractor and in agricultural pursuits; moved to Miles City, Mont., in 1879 and practiced law; member of the special session of the Montana Territorial Council in 1887; delegate to the State convention that framed the constitution of Montana in 1889; member of the first State house of representatives; prosecuting attorney of Custer County in 1889 and 1890; returned to South Dakota in 1893; served in the State senate in 1893; resumed the practice of law; died in Yankton, Yankton County, S. Dak., March 7, 1896; interment in Yankton Cemetery.

BURLEIGH, William (father of John Holmes Burleigh), a Representative from Maine; born in Northwood, Rockingham County, N. H., October 24, 1785; moved with his parents to Gilmanton, N. H., in 1788; attended the common schools and taught for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1815, and commenced practice in South Berwick, Me.; elected as an Adams Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1823, until his death in South Berwick, York County, Me., July 2, 1827; interment in the Portland Street Cemetery.

BURLESON, Albert Sidney, a Representative from Texas; born in San Marcos, Hays County, Tex., June 7, 1863; attended the public schools and Coronal Institute, San Marcos, Tex., and the Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station, Tex.; was graduated from Baylor University, Waco, Tex., in 1881, and from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1884; was admitted to the bar in 1884 and commenced practice in Austin, Travis County, Tex., in 1885; assistant city attorney of Austin 1885-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until March 6, 1913, when he resigned to accept a Cabinet portfolio; appointed Postmaster General in the Cabinet of President Wilson, and served from March 7, 1913, to March 4, 1921, when he retired from public life; chairman of the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration in 1918; chairman of the United States Commission to the International Wire Communication Conference in 1920; engaged in agricultural pursuits and livestock interests and is a resident of Austin, Tex.

BURLINGAME, Anson, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Berlin, N. Y., November 14, 1820; moved with his parents to Seneca County, Ohio, in 1823, and to Detroit, Mich., in 1833; attended private schools and the Detroit branch of the University of Michigan; was graduated from the law department of Harvard University in 1846; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Boston; served in the State senate in 1852; member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention in 1853; elected as a candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); reelected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; appointed minister to Austria March 22, 1861, but was not accepted by the Austrian Government because of certain opinions he was known to entertain regarding Hungary and Sardinia; minister to China from June 14, 1861, to November 21, 1867; appointed December 1, 1867, by the Chinese Government its ambassador to negotiate treaties with foreign powers; died in St. Petersburg, Russia, February 23, 1870; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

BURNELL, Barker, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Nantucket, Mass., January 30, 1798; member of the State house of representatives in 1819; member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention in 1820; served in the State senate 1824 and 1825; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Harrisburg, Pa., in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1841, until his death in Washington, D. C., June 15, 1843; interment in the Congressional Cemetery; reinterment in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Nantucket, Mass., in 1844.

BURNES, Daniel Dee, a Representative from Missouri; born in Ringgold, Platte County, Mo., January 4, 1851; received his early schooling at Weston, Mo.; was graduated from St. Louis University, St. Louis, Mo., in 1873, and from the law department of Harvard University in 1874; went to Germany and studied at Heidelberg University; returned to the United States and settled in St. Joseph, Mo., where he engaged in the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1894; resumed the practice of law; died on his estate, "Ayr Lawn," at St. Joseph, Buchanan County, Mo., November 2, 1899; interment in Mount Mora Cemetery.

BURNES, James Nelson, a Representative from Missouri; born in Marion County, Ind., August 22, 1827; moved with his parents to Platte County, Mo., in 1837; attended the common schools; was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1853; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Missouri; attorney of the district of Missouri in 1856; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; judge of the court of common pleas 1868-1872; engaged in banking and the construction of railroads; president of the Missouri Valley Railroad Co.; principal owner and president of the St. Joseph Waterworks Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1883, until his death; had been reelected to the Fifty-first Congress, but died before the commencement of the congressional term in Washington, D. C., January 23, 1889; interment in Mount Mora Cemetery, St. Joseph, Buchanan County, Mo.

BURNET, Jacob (son of William Burnet), a Senator from Ohio; born in Newark, N. J., February 22, 1770; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Princeton College in 1791; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and commenced practice in Cincinnati, Ohio; one of three judges appointed to hold court in Cincinnati, Vincennes, and Detroit; member of the Territorial councils of Ohio 1799-1802; member of the State house of representatives in 1812 and 1813; appointed judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio in 1821, and served until his resignation in December 1828; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William H. Harrison, and served from December 10, 1828, to March 3, 1831; was not a candidate for renomination in 1831; member of the commission appointed in 1831 by the States of Virginia and Kentucky to settle their controversy over the statute of limitation passed by Kentucky; resumed the practice of law; president of the Cincinnati College and the Medical College of Ohio; president of the Cincinnati branch of the United States Bank; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10, 1853; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

BURNET, William (father of Jacob Burnet), a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Newark, N. J., December 2, 1730; was graduated from Princeton College in 1749; studied medicine in New York and commenced practice in Newark; chairman of the committee of public safety in Newark in 1775; superintendent of a military hospital in Newark in 1775; surgeon general of the eastern district of the United States 1776-1783; returned to Newark and engaged in agricultural pursuits; appointed presiding judge of the court of common pleas by the State legislature in 1770; Member of the Continental Congress from December 11, 1780, to April 1, 1781, when he resigned; first judge of Essex County in 1781; president of the State medical society in 1787; died in Newark, N. J., October 7, 1791; interment in the First Presbyterian Churchyard.

BURNETT, Edward, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 16, 1849; attended St. Paul's School; was graduated from St. Mark's School, Southboro, Mass., in 1867 and from Harvard University in 1871; engaged in agricultural pursuits near Southboro, Mass.; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; general manager of Flossham Farms, Madison, N. J., 1892-1900; became engaged as a farm architect in New York City from 1900 to 1925, when he retired from active pursuits; died in Milton, Mass., November 5, 1925; interment in St. Mark's Churchyard, Southboro, Worcester County, Mass.

BURNETT, Henry Cornelius, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Essex County, Va., October 5, 1825; moved with his parents to Kentucky in early childhood; attended the common schools and an academy at Hopkinsville; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and commenced practice in Cadiz, Ky.; clerk of the Trigg County circuit court 1851-1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1855, to December 3, 1861, when he was expelled; colonel of the Eighth Regiment Kentucky Infantry in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; president of the Kentucky Southern Conference in Russellville October 29, 1861, and of the sovereignty convention in Russellville, November 18, which passed an ordinance of secession and organized a State government; representative from Kentucky to the Provisional Confederate Congress, and served from November 18, 1861, to February 17, 1862; elected as a Senator from Kentucky to the First and Second Confederate Congresses, and served from February 19, 1862, to February 18, 1865; resumed the practice of law; died in Hopkinsville, Christian County, Ky., October 1, 1866; interment in the East End Cemetery, Cadiz, Trigg County, Ky.

BURNETT, John Lawson, a Representative from Alabama; born in Cedar Bluff, Cherokee County, Ala., January 20, 1854; attended the common schools of the county, Wesleyan Institute, Cave Spring, Ga., and the local high school at Gaylesville, Ala.; studied law and was graduated from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar in Cherokee County, Ala., in 1876, and commenced practice in Gadsden; served in the State house of representatives in 1884; member of the State senate in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and to the ten succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1896, until his death; member of the United States Immigration Commission 1907-1910; died in Gadsden, Etowah County, Ala., May 13, 1919; interment in Forest Cemetery.

BURNHAM, Alfred Avery, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Windham, Windham County, Conn., March 8, 1819; completed a preparatory course and attended college one year; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Windham; member of the State house of representatives in 1844, 1845, 1850, and 1858; served as speaker in 1858; clerk of the State senate in 1847; lieutenant governor in 1857; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1870, and served as speaker; died in Windham, Conn., April 11, 1879; interment in Windham Cemetery, Windham Center, Conn.

BURNHAM, Henry Eben, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Dunbarton, Merrimack County, N. H., November 8, 1844; attended the public schools; prepared for college at Kimball Union Academy, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in Manchester; president of the Mechanics Savings Bank and a member of the board of directors of the Amoskeag National Bank and the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Co., Manchester; member of the State house of representatives in 1873 and 1874; treasurer of Hillsboro County 1875-1877; judge of probate for Hillsboro County 1876-1879; member of the constitutional convention of 1889; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1888; served as ballot-law commissioner 1892-1900; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1901; reelected in 1907, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1913; was not a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; died in Manchester, N. H., February 8, 1917; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery.

BURNS, Joseph, a Representative from Ohio; born in Waynesboro, Augusta County, Va., March 11, 1800; moved to Ohio with his parents, who settled in New Philadelphia in 1815, and near Coshocton, Coshocton County, in 1816; attended the rural schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; auditor of Coshocton County 1821-1838; member of the State house of representatives 1838-1840; county clerk 1843-1851; served as a major general in the State militia; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; engaged in the drug business in Coshocton, Ohio; probate judge of Coshocton County; died in Coshocton, Ohio, May 12, 1875; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

BURNS, Robert, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Hudson, Hillsboro County, N. H., December 12, 1792; moved with his parents in childhood to Rumney, Grafton County; studied medicine in Warren; taught school; attended Dartmouth Medical School in 1815; returned to Warren and commenced the practice of medicine; moved to Hebron, Grafton County, in 1818 and continued the practice of his profession until 1835; fellow of the New Hampshire Medical Society in 1824; member of the State senate in 1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); continued the practice of medicine in Plymouth, N. H., until his death, June 26, 1866; interment in the churchyard of Trinity Church, Holderness, Grafton County, N. H.

BURNSIDE, Ambrose Everett, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Liberty, Ind., May 23, 1824; attended a seminary at Liberty and Beach Grove Academy; was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1847; served in the Mexican and Indian wars; resigned in 1852 to manufacture a breech-loading rifle of his own invention; moved to Illinois, and was appointed treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad in 1858; during the Civil War entered the Union Army May 2, 1861, as colonel of the First Regiment Rhode Island Volunteer Infantry; commanded a brigade at the first Battle of Bull Run; honorably mustered out August 2, 1861; commissioned brigadier general of Volunteers August 6, 1861; major general March 18, 1862; commanded successfully the expedition to North Carolina in 1862, the left wing of the Union Army at Antietam, the Army of the Potomac, and the Ninth Army Corps; received the thanks of Congress for himself and the officers and men who fought under his command for "gallantry, good conduct, and soldierlike endurance" by resolution of January 28, 1864; resigned April 15, 1865; Governor of Rhode Island 1866-1868; visited Europe in 1870 and was admitted within the German and French lines in and around Paris; acted as a medium of communication between the hostile nations in the interests of conciliation; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1874; reelected in 1880, and served from March 4, 1875, until his death in Bristol, R. I., September 13, 1881; interment in Swan Point Cemetery, Providence, R. I.

BURNSIDE, Thomas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Newton Stewart, County Tyrone, Ireland, July 28, 1782; emigrated to the United States with his father's family, who settled in Norristown, Montgomery County, Pa., in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1804, and commenced practice in Bellefonte; appointed deputy attorney general January 12, 1809; served in the State senate in 1811 and 1812; elected to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David Bard, and served from October 10, 1815, to April, 1816, when he resigned; appointed president judge of the Luzerne district courts in 1815, and resigned in 1819; again a member of the State senate and its presiding officer in 1823; president judge of the fourth judicial district 1826-1841, and later presided in the same capacity over the seventh judicial district; appointed an associate justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1845, which office he held until his death in Germantown, Pa., March 25, 1851; interment in the Union Cemetery, Bellefonte, Center County, Pa.

BURR, Aaron (cousin of Theodore Dwight), a Senator from New York and a Vice President of the United States; born in Newark, N. J., February 6, 1756; was graduated from Princeton College in 1772; studied theology in Litchfield, Conn., in 1778, but soon abandoned it for the law; during the Revolutionary War entered the Continental Army in 1775; distinguished himself at Quebec, Monmouth, and New Haven, and resigned March 10, 1779, owing to ill health; studied law, was admitted to the bar April 17, 1782, and practiced in Albany, N. Y.; moved to New York City in 1788; member of the State assembly 1784, 1795, 1798, and 1799; attorney general of New York in 1789 and 1790; commissioner on Revolutionary claims in 1791; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1791, to March 3, 1797; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; president of the State constitutional convention in 1801; at the presidential election of 1801 Burr and Jefferson had each seventy-three votes, and the House of Representatives on the thirty-sixth ballot elected Jefferson President and Burr Vice President; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1804; challenged and mortally wounded Alexander Hamilton in a duel fought at Weehawken, N. J., July 7, 1804, the result of charges made by Hamilton in the gubernatorial election; the coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder, and he escaped to South Carolina; returned to Washington and completed his term of service as Vice President; arrested and tried for treason in August, 1807, for attempting to form a republic in the Southwest of which he was to be the head, but was acquitted; went abroad in 1808; returned to New York City in 1812 and resumed the practice of law; died in Fort Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., September 14, 1836; interment in the President's lot, Princeton Cemetery, Princeton, N. J.

BURR, Albert George, a Representative from Illinois; born near Batavia, Genesee County, N. Y., November 8, 1820; moved to Illinois with his mother, who settled near Springfield, Sangamon County, in 1830; completed preparatory studies; taught school for several years at Vandalia, Ill.; moved to Winchester, Scott County, in 1850 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Winchester; member of the State house of representatives 1861-1864; moved to Carrollton, Greene County, in 1868 and continued the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); was not a candidate for renomination in 1870; resumed the practice of law in Carrollton, Ill.; elected circuit judge of the seventh judicial circuit in 1877 and served until his death; died in Carrollton, Ill., June 10, 1882; interment in the Carrollton Cemetery.

BURRELL, Orlando, a Representative from Illinois; born in Newton, Bradford County, Pa., July 26, 1826; moved with his parents to White County, Ill., in 1834; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; during the Civil War raised a company of cavalry in June, 1861, was elected its captain, and was attached to the First Regiment Illinois Volunteer Cavalry; judge of White County 1873-1881; sheriff of White County 1862-1864; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1862; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; retired from public life and resumed his agricultural pursuits; died in Carmi, White County, Ill., June 7, 1922; interment in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

BURRILL, James, Jr., a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Providence, R. I., April 25, 1772; was graduated from Brown University at Providence in 1788; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1791, and commenced practice in Providence; attorney general of Rhode Island 1797-1814; member of the State house of representatives 1813-1816, and served as speaker 1814-1816; chief justice of the State supreme court in 1816; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1817, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 25, 1820; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BURROUGHS, Sherman Everett, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Dunbarton, Merrimack County, N. H., February 6, 1870; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1894; private secretary to Henry M. Baker, Member of Congress from the second New Hampshire district, 1894-1897; was graduated from the law school of Columbian College (now George Washington University), Washington, D. C., in 1896; was admitted to the bar in 1896 and commenced practice in Manchester, N. H., in 1897; member of the State house of representatives in 1901 and 1902; member of the State board of charities and corrections 1901-1907; member of the State board of equalization in 1909 and 1910; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress on May 29, 1917, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Cyrus A. Sulloway; reelected to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses, and served from June 7, 1917, until his death; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; died in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1923; interment in the Valley Cemetery, Manchester, N. H.

BURROUGHS, Silas Mainville, a Representative from New York; born in Ovid, N. Y., July 16, 1810; completed a preparatory course; village clerk of Medina, Orleans County, N. Y., in 1835; village trustee 1836 and 1839-1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Orleans County in 1840, and commenced practice in Medina; again trustee of Medina 1845-1847; village attorney 1845-1847; served as brigadier general in the New York State Militia 1848-1868; member of the State assembly in 1837, 1850, 1851, and 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, until his death in Medina, N. Y., June 3, 1860; interment in the Boxwood Cemetery.

BURROWS, Daniel (uncle of Lorenzo Burrows), a Representative from Connecticut; born at Fort Hill, Groton, Conn., October 26, 1766; pursued preparatory studies; engaged in the manufacture of carriages and wagons at New London, Conn.; studied theology and was ordained as a minister of the Methodist Church; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1820 and in 1826; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1818; one of the commissioners to establish the boundary line between the States of Connecticut and Massachusetts; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); was not a candidate for renomination in 1822; resident of Middletown, Conn., 1823-1854; surveyor and inspector of customs for the port of Middletown 1823-1847; died in Mystic, New London County, Conn., January 23, 1858; interment in Elm Grove Cemetery.

BURROWS, Joseph Henry, a Representative from Missouri; born in Manchester, England, May 15, 1840; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Quincy, Ill.; attended the common schools at Quincy, Ill., and Keokuk, Iowa; engaged in mercantile pursuits and later in agricultural pursuits; moved to Cainsville, Harrison County, Mo., in 1862; was ordained as a minister in Cainsville in 1867; member of the State house of representatives 1870-1874 and 1878-1880; elected as a Greenbacker to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; resumed ministerial duties and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Cainsville, Mo., April 28, 1914; interment in Oak Lawn Cemetery, near Cainsville.

BURROWS, Julius Caesar, a Representative and a Senator from Michigan; born in North East, Erie County, Pa., January 9, 1837; moved with his parents while a youth to Ashtabula County, Ohio; attended district school, Kingsville Academy, and Grand River Institute, Austintown, Ohio; studied law and was admitted to the bar at Jefferson, Ohio, in 1859; moved to Richland, Kalamazoo County, Mich., in 1860, and was principal of the Richland Seminary one year; commenced the practice of law in Kalamazoo in 1861; raised a company for the Seventeenth Regiment Michigan Volunteer Infantry in 1862; served as its captain until the fall of 1863, and participated in the engagements at South Mountain, Antietam, Fredricksburg, Vicksburg, Jackson, and Knoxville; elected circuit court commissioner in 1864; prosecuting attorney for Kalamazoo County 1866-1870; declined appointment as supervisor of internal revenue for Michigan and Wisconsin in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; elected to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; tendered appointment as Solicitor of the Treasury by President Arthur in 1884, which he declined; elected to the Forty-ninth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, until his resignation on January 23, 1895, before the close of the Fifty-third Congress, having been elected Senator; was twice appointed Speaker pro tempore in the Fifty-first Congress; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Francis B. Stockbridge; reelected in 1899 and 1905, and served from January 24, 1895, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for renomination; was delegate at large and temporary chairman of the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; member of the National Monetary Commission and its vice chairman during its existence, May 30, 1908, to March 31, 1912; retired from active business pursuits and political life; died in Kalamazoo, Mich., November 16, 1916; interment in the Mountain Home Cemetery.

BURROWS, Lorenzo (nephew of Daniel Burrows), a Representative from New York; born in Groton, Conn., March 15, 1805; attended the academies at Plainfield, Conn., and West-erly, R. I.; moved to New York and settled in Albion, Orleans County, in 1824; employed as a clerk until 1826, when he engaged in mercantile pursuits; assisted in establishing the Bank of Albion in 1839, and served as cashier; treasurer of Orleans County in 1840; assignee in bankruptcy for Orleans County in 1841; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; supervisor of the town of Barre in 1845; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); comptroller of the State of New York 1855-1857; director and president of the Niagara Falls International Bridge Co.; chosen a regent of the University of New York in 1858 and appointed one of the commissioners of Mount Albion Cemetery in 1862, serving in both of these capacities at the time of his death in Albion, Orleans County, N. Y., March 6, 1885; interment in Mount Albion Cemetery.

BURSUM, Holm Olaf, a Senator from New Mexico; born at Fort Dodge, Webster County, Iowa, February 10, 1867; attended the public schools; moved to New Mexico in 1881 and settled near Socorro, Socorro County, and engaged in stock raising; member of the Territorial senate in 1899 and 1900; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904, 1908, and 1912; chairman of the Territorial central committee in 1905 and 1911; member of the State constitutional convention in 1910; member of the Republican National Committee since 1918; appointed, and subsequently elected, as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert B. Fall, and served from March 11, 1921, to March 3, 1925; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924; engaged in the newspaper business at Washington, D. C., and subsequently returned to Socorro, N. Mex., and resumed his former business pursuits.

BURT, Armistead, a Representative from South Carolina; born at Clouds Creek, near Edgefield, Edgefield District, S. C., November 18, 1802; moved with his parents to Pendleton, S. C.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and practiced in Pendleton; moved to Abbeville, S. C., in 1828 and continued the practice of law, also engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; served as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives during the absence of Speaker Winthrop in 1848; resumed the practice of law in Abbeville; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; died in Abbeville, Abbeville County, S. C., October 30, 1883; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery.

BURTNESS, Olger Burton, a Representative from North Dakota; born at Mekinock, Grand Forks County, near Grand Forks, N. Dak., March 14, 1884; attended the country school; was graduated from the academic department of the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks in 1906 and from the law department in 1907; was admitted to the bar in 1907, and commenced practice in Grand Forks; prosecuting attorney of Grand Forks County 1911-1916; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1916; member of the State house of representatives in 1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BURTON, Charles Germman, a Representative from Missouri; born in Cleveland, Ohio, April 4, 1846; moved to Warren, Ohio, and attended the public schools; during the Civil War enlisted as a private September 7, 1861, in Company C, Nineteenth Regiment, Ohio, Volunteer Infantry, and served with the regiment until discharged October 20, 1862; corporal in Company A, One hundred and seventy-first Regiment Ohio National Guard, during the "one hundred days" campaign of 1864; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Warren, Ohio, in 1867; moved to Virgil City, Mo., in 1868, to Erie, Kans., in 1869, and Nevada, Vernon County, Mo., in 1871, where he practiced law; circuit attorney and judge of the twenty-fifth circuit; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904; collector of internal revenue at Kansas City, Mo., 1907-1915; commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1908; died in Kansas City, Mo., February 25, 1926; interment in the Deepwood Cemetery, Nevada, Mo.

BURTON, Hiram Rodney, a Representative from Delaware; born in Lewes, Sussex County, Del., November 13, 1841; attended the public schools and St. Peter's Academy at Lewes; taught for two years in the schools of Sussex County; engaged in the dry goods business in Washington, D. C., 1862-1865; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1868 and practiced in Frankford, Del., from 1868 until 1872, when he moved to Lewes, Del.; deputy collector of customs for the port of Lewes 1877-1898; acting assistant surgeon in the United States Marine Hospital Service 1890-1893, stationed at Lewes; unsuccessful candidate for the State senate in 1898; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896, at Philadelphia in 1900, and at Chicago in 1908; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1908; resumed the practice of medicine in Lewes, Del.; director of Lewes National Bank; died in Lewes June 17, 1927; interment in St. Paul's Episcopal Churchyard, Georgetown, Sussex County, Del.

BURTON, Hutchins Gordon (nephew of Robert Burton), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Virginia in 1782; when three years of age his father died and he was sent to Granville County, where he was reared by his uncle, Col. Robert Burton; moved to Mecklenburg County, N. C., in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and practiced; member of the State house of commons in 1809; elected attorney general of North Carolina in 1810, and served until his resignation in November, 1816; moved to Halifax, N. C., in 1816, and again elected a member of the State house of commons in 1817; elected as an anti-Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses, and served from December 6, 1819, until March 23, 1824, when he resigned, having been elected governor; Governor of North Carolina 1824-1827; resumed the practice of law in Halifax; was the host of General Lafayette when the latter visited Raleigh during his tour of the United States in 1825; died while on a visit to relatives in Iredell County, N. C., April 21, 1836; interment in the Unity Churchyard, Beattys Ford, Lincoln County, N. C.

BURTON, Joseph Ralph, a Senator from Kansas; born near Mitchell, Lawrence County, Ind., November 16, 1850; attended the common schools, Franklin (Ind.) College, and De Pauw University at Greencastle; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Princeton, Ind.; moved to Abilene, Dickinson County, Kans., in 1878; member of the State house of representatives 1882-1886; appointed a member of the World's Fair Columbian Commission at Chicago in 1893, representing the State of Kansas; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1901, until June 4, 1906, when he resigned; returned to Abilene, Kans., and engaged in the newspaper business; died in Los Angeles, Calif., February 27, 1923; the remains were cremated and the ashes deposited in the columbarium of the Los Angeles Crematory Association.

BURTON, Robert (uncle of Hutchins Gordon Burton), a Delegate from North Carolina; born near Chase City, Mecklenburg County, Va., October 20, 1747; attended private schools; moved to Granville County, N. C., in 1775; engaged as a planter; served in the Revolutionary Army and as quartermaster general attained the rank of colonel; member of the governor's council in 1783 and 1784; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; member of the commission to establish the boundary line between the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia in 1801; died in Granville (now Vance) County, N. C., May 31, 1825; interment on his estate, "Montpelier," at Williamsboro (now Henderson), Vance County, N. C.

BURTON, Theodore Elijah, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Jefferson, Ashtabula County, Ohio, December 20, 1851; attended the public schools, Grand River Institute, Austintown, Ohio, and Iowa College, Grinnell, Iowa; was graduated from Oberlin (Ohio) College in 1872; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Cleveland, Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; declined to be a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress in 1892; elected to the Fifty-fourth and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until his resignation, effective March 3, 1909, before the beginning of the Sixty-first Congress, having been elected United States Senator; chosen a member of the American group of the Interparliamentary Union in 1904; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904, 1908, and 1912, and at Cleveland in 1924; appointed by President Roosevelt and served as chairman of the Inland Waterways Commission in 1907 and 1908 and of the National Waterways Commission 1908-1912; member of the National Monetary Commission 1908-1912; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1909, to March 3, 1915; was not a candidate for renomination in 1914; traveled abroad and subsequently became interested in banking in New York City; unanimously supported by the Ohio delegation for the Republican presidential nomination in 1916; elected to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927); appointed by President Harding a member of the World War Debt Funding Commission in 1922; chairman of the United States delegation to the conference for the control of international traffic in arms at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1925. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BURWELL, William Armisted, a Representative from Virginia; born near Boydton, Mecklenburg County, Va., March 15, 1780; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; moved to Franklin County in 1802; elected a member of the State house of delegates; private secretary to President Jefferson; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Christopher Clark; reelected to the Tenth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from December 1, 1806, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 16, 1821; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

BUSBY, George Henry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Davistown, Pa., June 10, 1794; attended the public schools; moved to Ohio with his father, who settled in Royalton, Fairfield County, in 1810; engaged in the general mercantile business; major of militia in the War of 1812; moved to Marion County in 1823 and helped organize the town of Marion, where he continued mercantile pursuits; clerk of the Marion County courts and clerk of the supreme court 1824-1828; recorder of deeds 1831-1835; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed mercantile pursuits; member of the State senate 1853-1855; probate judge of Marion County from 1806 until his death in Marion, Ohio, August 22, 1869; interment in Marion Cemetery.

BUSBY, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Mississippi; born near Short, Tishomingo County, Miss., July 26, 1884; attended the common schools of his native city, Oakland College, Itawamba County, Miss., and Iuka Normal College, Iuka, Miss.; taught school 1903-1908; was graduated from the George Robertson Christian College, Henderson, Tenn., in 1905 and from the law department of the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1909; was admitted to the bar in 1909 and commenced the practice of law at Houston, Miss.; prosecuting attorney of Chickasaw County 1912-1920; resumed the practice of his profession at Houston; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BUSEY, Samuel Thompson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Greencastle, Putnam County, Ind., November 16, 1835; moved with his parents to Urbana, Ill.; attended the public schools; studied law; attended commercial college and law lectures in 1859 and 1860; during the Civil War served as first sergeant and then first lieutenant of the Urbana Zouaves in 1861 and 1862; town collector in 1862; second lieutenant in the recruiting service in June, 1862, and helped to organize the Seventy-sixth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry; captain of Company B of that regiment June 22, 1862; lieutenant colonel August 22, 1862; colonel January 7, 1863; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers April 9, 1865, "for gallant conduct in leading his regiment in the assault on Fort Blakeley, Ala."; mustered out of the service July 22, 1865, in Chicago, Ill.; engaged in banking from 1867 to 1888; mayor of Urbana 1880-1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; again engaged in banking; died in Urbana, Ill., August 12, 1909; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

BUSHNELL, Allen Ralph, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Hartford, Trumbull County, Ohio, July 18, 1833; attended the public schools and the academies of Oberlin and Hiram, Ohio; moved to Wisconsin in 1854 and settled in Platteville; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced practice in Platteville; elected district attorney of Grant County in 1860; resigned to enter the Union Army, during the Civil War, in August, 1861; served as first lieutenant and afterwards as captain of Company C, Seventh Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry; member of the Iron Brigade; moved to Lancaster in 1864; district attorney of Grant County in 1864; member of the State assembly in 1872; elected first mayor of Lancaster, Wis., in 1875; United States district attorney for the western district of Wisconsin 1886-1890; moved to Madison, Wis., in 1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Madison, Wis., and died there March 29, 1909; interment in Hillside Cemetery, Lancaster, Wis.

BUTLER, Andrew Pickens (son of William Butler), a Senator from South Carolina; born in Edgefield, S. C., November 19, 1796; attended Doctor Waddell's Academy at Willington, Abbeville County, S. C., and was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and practiced in Columbia, Edgefield, Lexington, Barnwell, and Newberry; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate 1824-1833; appointed an aide on the staff of Governor Manning in December, 1824, and as such attended General Lafayette on his visit to the State in March, 1825; appointed judge of the session court in 1833; judge of the State court of common pleas 1835-1846; appointed and subsequently elected as a State Rights Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George McDuffie; reelected in 1848 and again in 1854, and served from December 4, 1846, until his death near Edgefield, S. C., May 25, 1857; interment in Big Creek Butler Churchyard, Edgefield, S. C.

BUTLER, Benjamin Franklin (grandfather of Butler Ames), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Deerfield, N. H., November 5, 1818; moved with his mother to Lowell, Mass., in 1828; attended high school and Exeter Academy, and was graduated from Waterville College (now Colby University), Waterville, Me., in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Lowell, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1853; served in the State senate in 1859; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; entered the Union Army April 17, 1861, as a brigadier general; promoted to major general May 16, 1861, and assigned to the command of Fort Monroe and the Department of Eastern Virginia; resigned November 30, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1875); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1868 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1871 and 1872 and for reelection to the Forty-fourth Congress in 1874; elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); declined to be a candidate for renomination; unsuccessful candidate for governor as an independent in 1878 and as a Democrat in 1879; elected governor in 1882 by the combined efforts of the Greenback and Democratic Parties; unsuccessful candidate for President of the United States on the Greenback and Anti-Monopolist ticket in 1884; died while attending court in Washington, D. C., January 11, 1893; interment in Hildreth Cemetery, Lowell, Mass.

BUTLER, Chester Pierce, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pa., March 21, 1798; attended Wilkes-Barre Academy and was graduated from Princeton College in 1817; trustee of Wilkes-Barre Academy 1818-1838 and served as secretary; studied law at Litchfield Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and commenced practice in Wilkes-Barre; register and recorder of Luzerne County 1821-1824; member of the State house of representatives in 1832, 1838, 1839, and again in 1843; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1847, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., October 5, 1850; interment in Hollenbeck Cemetery, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

BUTLER, Ezra, a Representative from Vermont; born in Lancaster, Worcester County, Mass., September 24, 1763; moved with his parents to West Windsor, Vt., in 1770; engaged in agricultural pursuits in Claremont, N. H.; served in the Revolutionary War for a short time; moved to Waterbury, Vt., in 1785; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Waterbury, Vt., in 1788; town clerk in 1790; one of the first three town selectmen; member of the State house of representatives 1794-1797, 1799-1804, 1807, and 1808; served in the executive council for fifteen years; first judge of the Chittenden County court 1808-1806; chief justice 1806-1811; when Jefferson County (which has since become Washington County) was formed in 1812 he was elected chief justice and held the position continuously, with the exception of his congressional service, until 1825; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); member of the State constitutional convention in 1822; Governor of Vermont 1826-1828; died in Waterbury, Washington County, Vt., July 12, 1838; interment in Waterbury Cemetery.

BUTLER, James Joseph, a Representative from Missouri; born in St. Louis, Mo., August 29, 1862; attended the public schools; served an apprenticeship as a blacksmith, and worked at that trade for several years; was graduated from St. Louis (Mo.) University in 1881; studied law at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., was admitted to the bar in 1884, and commenced practice in St. Louis, Mo.; served as city attorney of St. Louis 1886-1894; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Fifty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1901, until June 28, 1902, when the seat was declared vacant; subsequently presented credentials as a Member elect to fill the vacancy thus caused, and served from November 4, 1902, until February 26, 1903, when he was succeeded by George C. B. Wagoner, who contested his election; elected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904 and at Denver in 1908; resumed the practice of law in St. Louis, Mo., and died there May 31, 1917; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

BUTLER, Josiah, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Pelham, N. H., December 4, 1779; attended the Londonderry and Atkinson Academies and was instructed by private tutors; was graduated from Harvard University in 1803; taught school in Virginia for three years; studied law and was admitted to the bar of Virginia in 1807; returned to Pelham, N. H., and commenced practice in 1807; moved to Deerfield in 1809; sheriff of Rockingham County 1810-1813; clerk of the court of common pleas; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1812 to the Thirteenth Congress; member of the State house of representatives in 1815 and 1816; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1823); associate justice of the State court of common pleas 1825-1835; died in Deerfield, Rockingham County, N. H., October 27, 1854; interment in Granite Cemetery, South Deerfield, N. H.

BUTLER, Marion, a Senator from North Carolina; born near Clinton, Sampson County, N. C., May 20, 1863; attended Salem High School and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1885; edited and published the Clinton Caucasian; moved to Raleigh and continued the publication of the paper; member of the State senate in 1890; chairman of the Populist State committee during the campaign of 1892; president of the State Farmers' Alliance in 1892 and 1893; president of the National Farmers' Alliance in 1894 and 1895; chairman of the People's Party State committee in 1894; trustee and member of the executive committee of the University of North Carolina 1894-1899; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1899, and commenced practice in Raleigh, N. C.; elected as a Populist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1895, to March 3, 1901; affiliated with the Republican Party since 1904; delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1912, 1916, 1920, and 1924; largely interested in agriculture, and assisted in organizing the cotton and tobacco cooperative marketing association of the South in 1923 and 1924; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Washington, D. C.

BUTLER, Matthew Calbraith (son of William Butler), a Senator from South Carolina; born near Greenville, Greenville County, S. C., March 8, 1830; attended the local academy in Edgefield, S. C., and South Carolina College at Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced practice in Edgefield; elected to the State house of representatives in 1860; entered the Confederate Army as captain of Cavalry in the Hampton Legion in June, 1861, and served throughout the Civil War, attaining the rank of major general; again elected to the State house of representatives in 1866; unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1870; reelected in 1882 and again in 1888, and served from March 4, 1877, until March 3, 1896; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; during the Spanish-American War was appointed major general of United States Volunteers, and was one of the commissioners appointed to supervise the evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish forces in 1898; returned to Edgefield, S. C., and resumed the practice of his profession; died in Columbia, S. C., April 14, 1909; interment in Willow Brook Cemetery, Edgefield, S. C.

BUTLER, Mounce Gore, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Gainesboro, Jackson County, Tenn., May 11, 1849; attended the common schools, Old Philomath Academy, and the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar in 1871 and commenced the practice of law in Gainesboro; delegate to all Democratic State conventions from 1872 to 1916; attorney general for the fifth judicial circuit of Tennessee 1894-1902; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed the practice of his profession in Gainesboro, Jackson County, Tenn., and died there February 13, 1917; interment in Gainesboro Cemetery.

BUTLER, Pierce, a Delegate and a Senator from South Carolina; born in Ireland July 11, 1744; pursued preparatory studies; came to America as an officer in the British Army and was stationed in Boston; resigned previous to the Revolution and settled in Charleston, S. C.; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; member of the convention which framed the Federal Constitution in 1787; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to October 25, 1796, when he resigned; again elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Ewing Colhoun, and served from October 18, 1803, until 1804, when he again resigned; died in Philadelphia, Pa., February 15, 1822.

BUTLER, Roderick Randum, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Wytheville, Va., April 9, 1827; bound as an apprentice and learned the tailor's trade; moved to Taylorsville (now Mountain City), Tenn.; attended night school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Taylorsville, Tenn.; appointed postmaster of Taylorsville by President Fillmore; major of the First Battalion of Tennessee Militia; member of the State senate 1859-1863; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as lieutenant colonel of the Thirteenth Regiment Tennessee Volunteer Cavalry from November 5, 1863, until April 25, 1864, when he was honorably discharged; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1865; county judge and judge of the first judicial circuit of Tennessee in 1865; chairman of the first State Republican executive committee of Tennessee; delegate to the Baltimore Border State Convention; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; president of the Republican State conventions in 1869 and 1882; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872 and at Cincinnati in 1876; member of the State house of representatives 1879-1885; elected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State senate 1898-1901; died in Mountain City, Johnson County, Tenn., August 18, 1902; interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

BUTLER, Sampson Hale, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Ninety Six, Edgefield District, S. C., January 3, 1808; attended the country schools and South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Edgefield, S. C.; moved to Barnwell, S. C., and continued the practice of his profession; sheriff of Barnwell County 1832-1839; member of the State house of representatives 1836-1839; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1839, until September 27, 1842, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law; moved to Florida; died in Tallahassee, Fla., March 18, 1848; interment in the cemetery in that city.

BUTLER, Thomas, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Carlisle, Cumberland County, Pa., April 14, 1785; attended the common schools and received a college education in Pittsburgh, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and commenced practice at Pittsburgh, Pa.; moved to Mississippi Territory about 1807; admitted to the bar there in 1808; captain of a cavalry troop in the Mississippi Territory Militia in 1810; purchased land in the parish of Feliciana, Orleans Territory, and settled there in 1811; appointed parish judge December 14, 1812; appointed judge of the third district by Governor Claiborne, of Louisiana, March 4, 1813; elected to the Fifteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas B. Robertson; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from November 10, 1818, to March 3, 1821; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1820; appointed special judge of the third judicial district in 1822 and again in 1840; member of the Whig Party and afterwards affiliated with the American Party; owing to ill health declined to be a candidate for Congress in 1844; owner of twelve sugar and cotton plantations; president of the board of trustees of the Louisiana College, Jackson, La.; member of the Pennsylvania Society of the Cincinnati; died in St. Louis, Mo., August 7, 1847; interment on his plantation, "The Cottage," near St. Francisville, West Feliciana Parish, La.

BUTLER, Thomas Belden, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Wethersfield, Conn., August 22, 1806; attended the common schools; was graduated from the medical department of Yale University in 1828 and commenced practice in Norwalk, Conn.; member of the State house of representatives 1832-1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Norwalk; served in the State senate in 1847 and 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; judge of the superior court in 1855; appointed associate justice of the State supreme court in 1861 and became chief justice of the same court in 1870; died in Norwalk, Conn., June 8, 1873; interment in Norwalk Cemetery.

BUTLER, Thomas Stalker, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Uwchlan Township, Chester County, Pa., November 4, 1855; attended the common schools, West Chester State Normal School, and Weyer's Academy, West Chester, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in West Chester, Pa.; served as trustee of the West Chester State Normal School 1885-1889 and again in 1927 and 1928; appointed judge of the fifteenth judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1888; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1889; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the fifteen succeeding Congresses and served from March 4, 1897, until his death; died in Washington, D. C., May 26, 1928; interment in Oaklands Cemetery, West Chester, Pa.

BUTLER, Walter Halben, a Representative from Iowa; born in Springfield, Crawford County, Pa., February 13, 1852; moved to Minnesota with his parents, who settled in Mankota, Blue Earth County, in 1868; attended public and private schools, and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1875; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Princeton, Green Lake County, Wis.; moved to Iowa in 1876 and taught school at La Porte City until 1878 and at Manchester until 1880; moved to West Union, Iowa, in 1883 and became owner and publisher of the Fayette County Union; served as superintendent of the tenth division, Railway Mail Service at St. Paul, Minn., 1885-1889; returned to West Union, Iowa, and resumed his former newspaper pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; moved to Des Moines, Iowa, in 1897, and to Kansas City, Mo., in 1907; engaged in the real-estate and loan business and later in banking; is a resident of Kansas City, Mo.

BUTLER, William (father of Andrew Pickens Butler), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Prince William County, Va., December 17, 1759; attended grammar schools; moved to South Carolina; served in the Snow campaign under General Richardson in 1775 and in Gen. Andrew Williamson's expedition against the Cherokee Indians in 1776; lieutenant in Pulaski's legion, under Gen. Benjamin Lincoln, in 1779; served under Gen. Andrew Pickens at the siege of Augusta in 1780, as captain under General Henderson in 1781, and as captain of Mounted Rangers under General Pickens in 1782; member of the State convention which adopted the Federal Constitution; member of the State house of representatives in 1787 and 1788; sheriff of the Ninety-sixth District in 1794; elected major general of the upper division of State militia in 1796; elected as an Anti-Federalist to the Seventh and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1813); was not a candidate for reelection; major general commanding the troops raised for the defense of South Carolina during the War of 1812; retired to his plantation on the Saluda River, near Mount Willing, Edgefield County, S. C., and died there September 15, 1821; interment in the family burial ground at Butler Methodist Church, near Saluda, Edgefield (now Saluda) County, S. C.

BUTLER, William (son of the preceding, brother of Andrew Pickens Butler, and father of Matthew Calbraith Butler), a Representative from South Carolina; born in the Edgefield District, S. C., near the present town of Saluda, February 1, 1790; attended the common schools, and was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1810; studied medicine and was licensed to practice; served as a surgeon in the Battle of New Orleans during the War of 1812; continued his service in the Navy until June 6, 1820, when he resigned; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); agent of the Cherokee Indians from May 20, 1849, until his death in Fort Gibson, Ind. T. (now Oklahoma), September 25, 1850; interment near Van Buren, Ark.

BUTLER, William Morgan, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in New Bedford, Mass., January 29, 1861; attended the public schools; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1883; was graduated from the law department of Boston University in 1884; practiced his profession in New Bedford until 1895, and in Boston until 1912; member of the State house of representatives in 1890 and 1891; served in the State senate 1892-1895, and was president of that body in 1894 and 1895; member of the commission to revise the statutes of Massachusetts 1896-1900; chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1924; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Cabot Lodge, and served from November 13, 1924, to December 6, 1926, when a successor was elected; unsuccessful candidate for election to fill the vacancy; engaged extensively in manufacturing with office and residence in Boston.

BUTLER, William Orlando, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Jessamine County, Ky., April 19, 1791; moved with his parents to Maysville, Ky.; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in 1812; studied law at Lexington; during the War of 1812 served as captain, and was brevetted major for distinguished service in the Battle of New Orleans; aide to General Jackson in 1816 and 1817; was admitted to the bar in 1817 and commenced practice at Carrollton, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1817 and 1818; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for reelection; during the war with Mexico was commissioned major general of Volunteers June 20, 1846; received the thanks of Congress and a sword for gallantry in the storming of Monterey, Mexico; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1848; declined appointment as Governor of Nebraska Territory in 1855; delegate to the peace convention held in Washington, D. C., in 1861 in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; died in Carrollton, Ky., August 6, 1880; interment in a private burying ground at the foot of Butlers Hill, near Carrollton, Ky.

BUTMAN, Samuel, a Representative from Maine; born in Worcester, Worcester County, Mass., in 1788; moved to Maine in 1804, and settled in Dixmont, Penobscot County; engaged in agricultural pursuits; served as a captain in the War of 1812; member of the State constitutional convention in 1820; member of the House of Representatives of Maine in 1822, 1826, and 1827; elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); county commissioner of Penobscot County in 1846; served in the State senate and was its president in 1853; died in Plymouth, Me., October 9, 1864.

BUTTERFIELD, Martin, a Representative from New York; born in Westmoreland, N. H., December 8, 1790; attended the common schools; moved to Palmyra, Wayne County, N. Y., in 1828 and engaged in the hardware business and also in the manufacture of rope and cordage; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Taylor and Fillmore in 1848; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1860; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Palmyra, N. Y., August 6, 1868; interment in the Village Cemetery.

BUTTERWORTH, Benjamin, a Representative from Ohio; born near Malneville, Warren County, Ohio, October 22, 1837; attended the common schools of Warren County, the academy in Malneville, Ohio, and Ohio University in Athens; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1861, and commenced practice in Cincinnati, Ohio; appointed assistant United States district attorney in 1868; member of the State senate in 1874 and 1875; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880; Regent of the Smithsonian Institution; appointed a commissioner of the Northern Pacific Railroad by President Arthur in 1883; special Government counsel to prosecute the South Carolina election cases in 1883; elected to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of his profession in Washington, D. C.; served as Commissioner of Patents from 1896 until his death; died, while on a visit to regain his health, in Thomasville, Ga., January 10, 1898; interment in Rock Creek Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

BUTTZ, Charles Wilson, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Stroudsburg, Monroe County, Pa., November 18, 1837; moved with his parents to Buttzville, N. J., in 1839; completed academic studies; studied law in Belvidere, N. J.; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in 1861 as second lieutenant in the Eleventh Pennsylvania Cavalry; was promoted to first lieutenant in 1862; received two brevet ranks from the President, one as captain "for gallant and meritorious services in capturing the enemy a full rocket battery," and the other as major "for gallant and meritorious services in front of Suffolk, Va.," both dating May, 1865; was wounded in 1863; resigned on account of impaired health in October, 1863; was admitted to the bar in 1863, and commenced the practice of law in Norfolk, Va.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; appointed director of the Exchange Bank of Virginia in 1864; Commonwealth attorney for King William County in 1866; moved to Charleston, S. C., in 1870; solicitor of the first judicial circuit 1872-1880; contested as a Republican the election of Edmund W. M. Mackey to the Forty-fourth Congress, but the House decided that neither was entitled to the seat; subsequently elected to fill the vacancy caused by the decision of the House, and served from November 7, 1876, to March 3, 1877; was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; moved to Fargo, Dak., in 1878; procured the official organization of Ransom County in 1882, and established his residence in what is now known as Buttzville, N. Dak.; State's attorney 1884-1886; member of the State house of representatives 1903-1909; died in Lisbon, Ransom County, N. Dak., July 20, 1913; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

BYNUM, Jesse Atherton, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Halifax County, N. C., May 23, 1797; attended Princeton College in 1818 and 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Halifax, N. C.; member of the House of Commons of North Carolina 1823, 1824, and 1827-1830; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1841); moved to Alexandria, Rapides Parish, La., where he engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Alexandria, La., September 23, 1863; interment in Rapides Cemetery, Pineville, La.

BYNUM, William Dallas, a Representative from Indiana; born near Newberry, Greene County, Ind., June 26, 1846; attended the country schools, and was graduated from the University of Indiana at Bloomington in 1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Washington, Ind.; served as the first city clerk; city attorney of Washington, Ind., 1871-1875; mayor of Washington, Ind., 1875-1879; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; moved from Daviess County to Indianapolis in 1880; member of the State house of representatives 1881-1885, and served as speaker in 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; served for some time as whip of the Democratic minority; was active in the organization of the National (Gold-Standard) Democratic Party in 1896, and was chairman of its national committee 1896-1898; settled in Washington, D. C.; appointed by President McKinley in 1900 a member of the commission to codify the United States criminal laws and served until 1906; member of the board of trustees of the Indiana State School for the Blind since 1917; retired from the practice of law; died in Indianapolis, Ind., October 21, 1927; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery, Washington, Ind.

BYRD, Adam Monroe, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Sumter County, Ala., July 6, 1839; moved to Neshoba County, Miss.; attended the common schools and Cooper Institute in Daleville; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1884; was admitted to the bar in 1885, and commenced practice in Philadelphia, Neshoba County, Miss.; superintendent of education for Neshoba County 1887-1889; member of the State senate 1889-1896; served in the State house of representatives in 1896 and 1897, when he resigned; prosecuting attorney for the tenth judicial district in 1897; judge of the sixth chancery district from 1897 until his resignation in 1903; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1910; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia, Miss.; died at Hot Springs, Ark., June 21, 1912; interment in the Town Cemetery, Philadelphia, Miss.

BYRNES, James Francis, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., May 2, 1879; attended the public schools; official court reporter for the second circuit of South Carolina 1900-1908; editor of the Journal and Review, Aiken, S. C., for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1903, and commenced practice in Aiken, S. C.; solicitor for the second circuit of South Carolina 1908-1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1925); was not a candidate for renomination in 1924, but was an unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator; delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco, Calif., in 1920; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Spartanburg, S. C.

BYRNS, Joseph Wellington, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Cedar Hill, Robertson County, Tenn., July 20, 1869; attended the common schools; was graduated from the Nashville High School in 1887 and from the law department of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., in 1890; was admitted to the bar in 1890 and commenced the practice of law in Nashville, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives in 1895, 1897, and again in 1899, and served as speaker during the latter term; member of the State senate in 1901; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Parker and Davis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

BYRNS, Sam, a Representative from Missouri; born on a farm in Jefferson County, Mo., March 4, 1843; received a good English education; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Hillsboro, Mo.; collector of revenue for Jefferson County in 1872; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876 and of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; member of the State house of representatives in 1876 and 1877; served in the State senate in 1878; member of the Democratic State central committee 1886-1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; resumed the practice of his chosen profession in De Soto, Jefferson County, Mo., where he died July 9, 1914; interment in Hillsboro Cemetery, Hillsboro, Mo.

CABANISS, Thomas Banks (cousin of Thomas Chipmon McBae), a Representative from Georgia; born in Forsyth, Monroe County, Ga., August 31, 1835; attended private schools and Penfield College; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1853; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1861; entered the Confederate Army April 1, 1861, and served throughout the Civil War; returned to Forsyth, Ga., and commenced the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives 1865-1867; appointed assistant secretary of the State senate in 1870 and secretary in 1873; resigned to become solicitor general of the Flint circuit, which office he held until 1877; served in the State senate 1878-1880 and 1884-1886; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1894; appointed a member of the Dawes Commission to adjust affairs in the Indian Territory; mayor of Forsyth, Ga., in 1910; judge of the city court in 1913 and 1914; died in Forsyth, Ga., August 14, 1915; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CABELL, Edward Carrington, a Representative from Florida; born in Richmond, Va., February 5, 1810; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., in 1832 and 1833 and Reynolds's Classical Academy in 1833 and 1834; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1836; moved to Florida in 1837 and settled near Tallahassee; delegate to the Territorial convention to form a State constitution in 1838; returned to Virginia; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1840; returned to Tallahassee, Fla.; upon the admission of Florida as a State into the Union presented credentials as a Member elect to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from October 6, 1845, to January 24, 1846, when he was succeeded by William H. Brockenbrough, who contested the election; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate in 1852 for reelection to the Thirty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Tallahassee; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1859; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army with rank of lieutenant colonel; engaged in the practice of law in New York City 1868-1872, and subsequently in St. Louis, Mo.; member of the State Senate of Missouri 1878-1882; died in St. Louis, Mo., February 28, 1896; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

CABELL, George Craighead, a Representative from Virginia; born in Danville, Pittsylvania County, Va., January 25, 1836; attended the Danville Academy, and the law school of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1857; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Danville in 1858; edited the Republican and later the Democratic Appeal in Danville; elected Commonwealth attorney for Danville in September, 1858, and served until April 23, 1861, when he volunteered as a private in the Confederate Army; commissioned major in June, 1861, and was assigned to the Eighteenth Regiment Virginia Infantry; promoted to the rank of colonel and served until the close of the Civil War; resumed the practice of his profession; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fiftieth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Danville, Va.; died in Baltimore, Md., June 23, 1906; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Danville, Va.

CABELL, Samuel Jordan, a Representative from Virginia; born in Albemarle (now Nelson) County, Va., December 15, 1756; attended William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; left school to enter the Revolutionary Army; appointed captain of Amherst County Volunteers in 1776; assigned to the Sixth Virginia Regiment; promoted to the rank of major for gallantry at Saratoga in 1777; served in Washington's army in 1778 and 1779 and attained the rank of lieutenant colonel; was taken prisoner by the British May 12, 1780, at the capture of Charleston; after the war returned to Virginia and engaged in planting; member of the State house of delegates 1785-1792; elected as a Democrat to the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1803); was not a candidate for reelection in 1802; died on his estate, "Soldiers' Joy," near New Market (now Norwood), Nelson County, Va., August 4, 1818; interment in the family burying ground on his farm near Norwood, Va.

CABLE, Benjamin Taylor, a Representative from Illinois; born in Georgetown, Scott County, Ky., August 11, 1853; moved with his parents to Rock Island, Ill., in September, 1856; attended the public schools, the Rock Island High School, and Racine College, Racine, Wis.; was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1876; engaged in agricultural pursuits and also became interested in various manufacturing enterprises; chairman of the western branch of the Democratic National Committee in 1892; chairman of the Democratic executive committee in 1902; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1912 and retired from public life; engaged in agricultural pursuits as joint owner of a ranch near San Antonio, Tex., during a part of the year; died in Rock Island, Ill., December 13, 1923; interment in Chipplannock Cemetery.

CABLE, John Levi (great-grandson of Joseph Cable), a Representative from Ohio; born in Lima, Allen County, Ohio, April 15, 1884; attended the public schools; was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1906 and from the law department of George Washington University, Washington, D. C., in 1909; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lima, Ohio, in 1909; prosecuting attorney of Allen County 1917-1921; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1925); retired from Congress voluntarily, and resumed the practice of law in Lima, Ohio, where he now resides.

CABLE, Joseph (great-grandfather of John Levi Cable), a Representative from Ohio; born in Jefferson County, then in the Territory Northwest of the River Ohio (now in the State of Ohio), April 17, 1801; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Jefferson County; established and published the Jeffersonian and Democrat at Steubenville, Ohio, in 1831, and later the Ohio Patriot at New Lisbon, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1858); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; moved to Sandusky, Ohio, in 1853 and published the Daily Sandusky Minor; in 1857 established the American and later the Bulletin at Van Wert, Ohio; moved to Wauseon, Ohio, and established the Wauseon Republican, and subsequently moved to Paulding, where he published the Political Review; died in Paulding, Paulding County, Ohio, May 1, 1880; interment in Live Oak Cemetery.

CABOT, George (great-grandfather of Henry Cabot Lodge), a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., December 18, 1751; received a classical education and attended Harvard College; member of the State provincial congress in 1775; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1777 and to the convention which ratified the Constitution of the United States in 1787; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1791, to June 9, 1796, when he resigned; appointed the first Secretary of the Navy in the Cabinet of John Adams May 3, 1798, but declined; member of the Executive Council of Massachusetts in 1808; delegate to the Hartford convention of 1814 and served as its presiding officer; died in Boston, Mass., April 18, 1823; interment in the Granary Burial Ground, Boston, Mass.; reinterment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

CADMUS, Cornelius Andrew, a Representative from New Jersey; born at Dundee Lake, Bergen County, N. J., October 7, 1844; attended the public schools; engaged in the feed and grain business in Paterson, N. J.; member of the State house of assembly in 1884 and 1885; sheriff of Passaic County 1887-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; member of the board of inspectors of the State prison; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Paterson, N. J., January 20, 1902; interment in Cedar Lawn Cemetery, near Paterson, N. J.

CADWALADER, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., April 1, 1805; was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Philadelphia; solicitor for the Bank of the United States in 1830; captain of a military company during the riots of 1844 in Philadelphia; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1856; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia; appointed judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania in 1858 and served until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., January 26, 1879; interment in Christ Churchyard.

CADWALADER, Lambert, a Delegate and a Representative from New Jersey; born near Trenton, N. J., in 1742; attended Dr. Allison's Academy, and the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1760; member of the Common Council of Philadelphia at the beginning of the Revolution; signed the nonimportation agreement; delegate to the provincial convention in Pennsylvania in 1775 and to the State constitutional convention in 1776; entered the Revolutionary Army and commanded a regiment of "The Greens"; lieutenant colonel of the Third Pennsylvania Battalion in 1776; colonel of the Fourth Pennsylvania Line; after being taken a prisoner at Fort Mifflin on the Hudson resigned from the Army; member of the Continental Congress 1784-1787; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); died on his estate, "Greenwood," near Trenton, N. J., September 13, 1823; interment in the Friends Burying Ground, Trenton, N. J.

CADY, Daniel, a Representative from New York; born in Canaan, Columbia County, N. Y., April 29, 1773; attended the public schools; studied law in Albany, N. Y., was admitted to the bar in 1795, and commenced practice in Florida, N. Y.; moved to Johnstown (then in Montgomery County), N. Y., and continued the practice of law; member of the State assembly 1808-1813; village trustee in 1808 and supervisor in 1809 and 1810; district attorney of the fifth district in 1813; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of law; served as justice of the State supreme court, fourth district, from June 7, 1847, to January 1, 1855, when he resigned, and also served as judge of the court of appeals in 1853; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Fremont and Dayton in 1856 and served as president of the State electoral college; died in Johnstown, N. Y., October 31, 1859; interment in the Johnstown Cemetery.

CADY, John Watts, a Representative from New York; born in Florida, Montgomery County, N. Y., June 28, 1790; attended school at the Old Stone Manse at Fort Hunter, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Johnstown (then in Montgomery County), N. Y.; town clerk of Johnstown 1814, 1816, and 1817; county supervisor 1818-1822 and 1820-1829; member of the State assembly in 1822; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); resumed the practice of law at Johnstown, N. Y.; district attorney of Fulton County 1840-1846; justice of the peace of Johnstown in 1853; died in Johnstown, N. Y., January 5, 1854; interment in the Johnstown Cemetery.

CAFFERY, Donelson, a Senator from Louisiana; born near Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La., September 10, 1835; attended private schools in Franklin, St. Mary's College, Baltimore, Md., and Louisiana University at New Orleans; studied law, but abandoned the same to enter the Confederate Army; during the Civil War served as a lieutenant in the Thirteenth Louisiana Regiment and subsequently on the staff of Gen. W. W. Walker; served as clerk of court in 1866; was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced the practice of law in Franklin, La.; also engaged in sugar planting; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1879; member of the State senate in 1892 and 1893; appointed and subsequently elected in 1894 as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Randall Lee Gibson, and served from December 31, 1892, to March 3, 1901; was not a candidate for reelection in 1900; resumed the practice of law; died in New Orleans, La., December 30, 1906; interment in Franklin Cemetery, Franklin, La.

CAGE, Harry, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Tennessee; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Woodville, Miss.; judge of the Supreme Court of Mississippi 1829-1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); retired from practice, and settled on a plantation in Louisiana, where he died.

CAHOON, William, a Representative from Vermont; born in Providence, R. I., January 12, 1774; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Lyndon, Vt., in 1791 and engaged in milling and agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1802-1810; succeeded his father as town clerk in 1808; Democratic presidential elector in 1808 and voted for Madison and Langdon; was the messenger to deliver the electoral vote of Vermont; county judge 1811-1819; appointed major general in the militia in 1808 and served during the War of 1812; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1814 and 1828; member of the executive council 1815-1820; Lieutenant Governor of Vermont in 1820 and 1821; elected on the Anti-Masonic ticket to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate in 1832 for reelection to the Twenty-third Congress; died in Lyndon, Vt., May 30, 1833; interment in Lyndon Town Cemetery, Lyndon Center, Vt.

CAIN, Richard Harvey, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Greenbrier County, Va., April 12, 1825; was of the Negro race; moved with his father to Gallipolis, Ohio, in 1831 and attended school; entered the ministry, and was a pastor in Brooklyn, N. Y., from 1861 to 1865; moved to South Carolina in 1865 and settled in Charleston; delegate to the constitutional convention of South Carolina in 1868; member of the State senate 1868-1872; manager of a newspaper in Charleston in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for reelection in 1874 and 1878; appointed a bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in 1880 and served until his death in Washington, D. C., January 18, 1887; interment in Graceland Cemetery.

CAINE, John Thomas, a Delegate from the Territory of Utah; born in the parish of Kirk Patrick, Isle of Man, January 8, 1829; attended the common schools in Douglas, Isle of Man; emigrated to the United States in 1846, and lived in New York City until 1848, when he went to St. Louis; settled in the Territory of Utah in 1852 and taught school; served as secretary of the Territorial council during the sessions of 1856, 1857, 1859, and 1860; one of the founders of the Salt Lake Herald in 1870; managing editor and president of the company; delegate to the constitutional conventions in 1872 and 1882; member of the Territorial council in 1874, 1876, 1880, and 1882; recorder of Salt Lake City in 1878, 1878, 1880, and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the action of the House declaring the Delegate elect ineligible; reelected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses and on the People's Party ticket to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses, and served from November 7, 1882, to March 3, 1893; was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Governor of Utah in 1895; member of the State senate in 1896; resumed the management of the Salt Lake Herald; died in Salt Lake City, Utah, September 20, 1911; interment in Salt Lake City Cemetery.

CAKE, Henry Lutz, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Northumberland, Northumberland County, Pa., October 6, 1827; attended the common and private schools; learned the art of printing, and published the Pottsville (Pa.) Mining Record until the Civil War; entered the Union Army April 17, 1861, as a second lieutenant, and was elected colonel of the Twenty-fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry in Washington, D. C., May 1, 1861; reorganized the regiment after three months' service; commanded the Ninety-sixth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry from September 23, 1861, to March 12, 1863, when he resigned and settled in Tamaqua, Schuylkill County, Pa.; engaged in the mining and shipping of anthracite coal; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1870; resumed the mining and shipping of coal; died in Northumberland, Pa., August 26, 1899; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

CALDER, William Musgrave, a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., March 8, 1839; attended the public schools of Brooklyn; apprenticed to the carpenter's trade, and studied at the evening school of Cooper Institute, New York City; engaged in building construction in 1859; building commissioner of the Borough of Brooklyn in 1902 and 1903; delegate to every Republican State convention since 1902 and to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1908, 1912, 1916, and 1920, at Cleveland in 1924, and at Kansas City, Mo., in 1928; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1915); was not a candidate for reelection in 1914; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1917, to March 3, 1923; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922; again engaged in building construction and a director in many Brooklyn financial institutions; is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y.

CALDERHEAD, William Alexander, a Representative from Kansas; born in Perry County, Ohio, September 26, 1844; attended the common schools; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company H, One hundred and twenty-sixth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; was transferred to Company D, Ninth Veteran Reserves, for disability incurred in service and discharged June 27, 1865; moved to Kansas in 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and practiced; settled in Marysville, Kans., in 1879 and resumed the practice of law; prosecuting attorney Marshall County 1888-1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; elected to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate in 1910 for renomination to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Marysville, Marshall County, Kans.

CALDWELL, Alexander, a Senator from Kansas; born at Drakes Ferry, Huntingdon County, Pa., March 1, 1830; attended the public schools; enlisted in 1847 as a private in the Mexican War; moved to Columbia, Pa., in 1848; employed in a bank and subsequently went into business for himself; moved to Leavenworth, Kans., in 1861 and engaged in the transportation of military supplies to the various posts on the plains; became largely interested in the building of railroads, especially the Missouri River and Kansas Central Railroad in 1865; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 24, 1873, when he resigned; engaged in the manufacture of wagons and carriages, with general offices at Leavenworth, Kans., 1877-1897; president of the First National Bank of Leavenworth from 1897 until 1915; died in Kansas City, Mo., May 19, 1917; interment in Mount Muncie Cemetery, Leavenworth, Kans.

CALDWELL, Andrew Jackson, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Montevallo, Shelby County, Ala., July 22, 1837; moved to Tennessee in 1844 with his parents, who settled near Nashville; attended the common schools; was graduated from Franklin College, Tennessee, in 1854; taught school in Nashville 1854-1857; moved to Trenton in 1857 and studied law; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as a private and regimental quartermaster in the First Regiment Tennessee Cavalry; resumed his law studies, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Nashville, Tenn.; attorney general for the district of Davidson and Rutherford Counties, Tenn., 1870-1878; member of the State house of representatives in 1880 and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; died in Nashville, Tenn., November 22, 1906; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

CALDWELL, Ben Franklin, a Representative from Illinois; born near Carrollton, Greene County, Ill., August 2, 1848; moved to Illinois in April, 1853, with his parents, who settled near Chatham, Ill.; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the Board of Supervisors of Sangamon County in 1877 and 1878; member of the State house of representatives 1882-1886; served in the State senate 1890-1894; upon his election to Congress in 1896 he resigned the presidency of the Farmers' National Bank of Springfield, which office he had held since 1885; president of the Caldwell State Bank of Chatham; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1904 to the Fifty-ninth Congress; elected to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination in 1908; again engaged in banking in Chatham, Ill.; died in Springfield, Ill., December 29, 1924; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

CALDWELL, Charles Pope, a Representative from New York; born near Bastrop, Bastrop County, Tex., June 18, 1875; attended the public schools; was graduated from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1898 and the law department of Yale University in 1899; was admitted to the bar in Austin, Tex., in 1898, and later in New York City, where he commenced practice in 1900; appointed by Governor Dix a delegate to the Atlantic Deep Water Ways Convention in 1910; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1920; resumed the practice of law in New York City; appointed associate justice of the court of special sessions of New York City January 1, 1920, which position he now holds.

CALDWELL, George Alfred, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Columbia, Adair County, Ky., October 18, 1814; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Adair County; member of the State house of representatives in 1839 and 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); commissioned major and quartermaster of Volunteers in the war with Mexico June 26, 1846; major of Infantry March 8, 1847, and major of voltigeurs April 9, 1847; brevetted lieutenant colonel September 18, 1847, "for gallant and meritorious services in the Battle of Chapultepec, Mexico"; honorably mustered out August 25, 1848; elected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); resumed the practice of law in Louisville; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; died in Louisville, Ky., September 17, 1866; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery.

CALDWELL, Greene Washington, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Belmont, Gaston County, N. C., April 13, 1806; pursued academic studies; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1831 and practiced; assistant surgeon in the United States Army from July 13 to October 19, 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Charlotte, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1830-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; appointed superintendent of the United States mint at Charlotte in 1844; participated in the war with Mexico as captain of Infantry; commissioned captain of the Third Dragoons April 9, 1847, and was mustered out July 20, 1848; member of the State senate in 1849; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed the practice of medicine; died in Charlotte, N. C., July 10, 1864; interment in the Old Cemetery.

CALDWELL, James, a Representative from Ohio; born in Baltimore, Md., November 30, 1770; moved with his father to Virginia (now West Virginia) in 1772 and settled on what is now the site of the city of Wheeling; received a liberal schooling; moved to St. Clairsville, Ohio, in 1799; engaged in mercantile pursuits and later in banking; delegate to the convention which framed the first constitution of Ohio; clerk of the court of Belmont County, Ohio, 1806-1810; captain in an Ohio regiment in the War of 1812; member of the State senate 1809-1812; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); Democratic presidential elector on the Monroe and Tompkins ticket in 1820 and on the Clay and Sanford ticket in 1824; resumed banking and mercantile business in St. Clairsville, Ohio; died in Wheeling, Va. (now West Virginia), in May, 1838; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery, St. Clairsville, Belmont County, Ohio.

CALDWELL, John Alexander, a Representative from Ohio; born in Fairhaven, Preble County, Ohio, April 21, 1852; educated in the common schools of his native county and also by private teachers; taught school for several years; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law College in 1876; was admitted to the bar the same year; again engaged in teaching; commenced the practice of law in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1878; prosecuting attorney of the Cincinnati police court 1881-1885; elected judge of the city police court in 1887; elected president of the Ohio League of Republican Clubs in 1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, until May 4, 1894, when he resigned; mayor of Cincinnati 1894-1897; Lieutenant Governor of Ohio 1899-1901; elected judge of the court of common pleas in 1902, and served until his death in Cincinnati, Ohio, May 24, 1927; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

CALDWELL, John Henry, a Representative from Alabama; born in Huntsville, Ala., April 4, 1826; attended the common schools of Huntsville and Bacon College, Harrodsburg, Ky.; taught school in Limestone County, Ala., four years; moved to Jacksonville, Ala., in 1848; was principal of the Jacksonville Female Academy 1848-1852 and of the Jacksonville Male Academy 1853-1857; edited the Jacksonville Republican in 1851 and 1852 and assumed the editorship of the Sunny South in 1855; member of the State house of representatives in 1857 and 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Jacksonville, Ala.; during the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army and organized Company A of the Tenth Alabama Regiment from St. Clair and Calhoun Counties and served throughout the war; promoted to major and then to lieutenant colonel; served in the Army of Virginia; elected solicitor for the tenth judicial circuit in 1863 and was deposed by the provisional governor in 1865; reelected the same year, and in 1867 was removed from office for refusing to obey military orders; resumed the practice of law in Jacksonville, Ala.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; again resumed the practice of law; died in Jacksonville, Ala., September 4, 1902; interment in Jacksonville Cemetery.

CALDWELL, John William, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Russellville, Logan County, Ky., January 15, 1837; attended the common schools and Bethel College; moved with his uncle to Texas in 1850, where he worked on a farm; engaged as a clerk and as a surveyor; returned to Kentucky and studied law in the Louisville University, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice in Russellville, Ky.; during the Civil War volunteered as a private in the Confederate Army in 1861 and was immediately elected captain of the "Logan Grays"; promoted to major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel of the Ninth Regiment Kentucky Infantry; resumed the practice of law in Russellville in 1865; elected judge of the Logan County court in 1866 and reelected in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); declined to be a candidate for reelection; president of the Logan County Bank; died in Russellville, Ky., July 4, 1903; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery.

CALDWELL, Joseph Pearson, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Olin, Iredell County, N. C., March 5, 1808; attended Bethany Academy, near Statesville, N. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Statesville, N. C.; served in the State senate in 1833 and 1834; member of the State house of commons 1838-1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; died in Statesville, N. C., June 30, 1853; interment in the Old Statesville Cemetery.

CALDWELL, Patrick Calhoun, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Newberry, S. C., March 10, 1801; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and commenced practice in South Carolina; member of the State house of representatives 1836-1838; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); served in the State senate in 1848; died in South Carolina November 22, 1855.

CALDWELL, Robert Porter, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Adair County, Ky., December 10, 1821; moved with his parents to Henry County, Tenn.; a few years later moved to Obion County; attended the public schools at Troy and Lebanon; studied law at Troy, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Trenton in 1845; member of the State house of representatives in 1847 and 1848; served in the State senate in 1855 and 1856; elected attorney general for the sixteenth judicial circuit of Tennessee in 1858; during the Civil War was major in the Twelfth Regiment Tennessee Infantry of the Confederate Army; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Trenton, Tenn.; died in Trenton March 12, 1885; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CALDWELL, William Parker, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Christmasville, Carroll County, Tenn., November 8, 1832; attended school at McMoresville, Tenn., and at Princeton, Ky.; studied law at Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced in Dresden and Union City, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives 1857-1859; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Douglas and Johnson in 1860; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); resumed the practice of law in Gardner, Tenn.; member of the State senate 1881-1893; died in Gardner, Weakley County, Tenn., June 7, 1903; interment in the Caldwell Cemetery.

CALE, Thomas, a Delegate from the Territory of Alaska; born in Underhill, Chittenden County, Vt., September 17, 1848; attended the district schools and Bell Academy, Underhill Flats, Vt.; moved to Fort Edward, Washington County, N. Y., in 1866; taught school in 1867 and 1868; moved to Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1869; taught school and engaged in agricultural pursuits; town clerk of Eden, Wis., 1881-1884; member of the Board of Commissioners of Fond du Lac County 1884-1886, undersheriff of Fond du Lac County 1886-1888; county sheriff 1888-1890; went to Alaska in 1898 and engaged in mining; elected as an Independent to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination; engaged in farming in South Dakota 1910-1915 and in Wisconsin 1915-1920; retired and resides in Fond du Lac, Wis.

CALHOON, John, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Henry County, Ky., in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives in 1820, 1821, 1826, and 1880; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twentieth Congress; received the credentials of an election to the Twentieth Congress, held November 5-7, 1827, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William S. Young, but, in order to avoid a contest, resigned and, together with his opponent, Thomas Chilton, petitioned the governor for a new election; was again unsuccessful; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1839; resumed the practice of law; returned to Kentucky; appointed judge of the fourteenth judicial district in January, 1842.

CALHOUN, John Caldwell, a Representative and a Senator from South Carolina and a Vice President of the United States; born near Calhoun Mills, Abbeville District (now Mount Carmel, McCormick County), S. C., March 18, 1782; attended the common schools and Willington Academy; was graduated from Yale College in 1804 and from Litchfield (Conn.) Law School in 1806; was admitted to the bar in 1807 and commenced practice in Abbeville, S. C.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1808 and 1809; elected as a War Democrat to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, to November 3, 1817, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of War and served from December 10, 1817, to March 3, 1825; elected Vice President of the United States in 1824; reelected in 1828 on the Jackson ticket, and served from March 4, 1825, to December 28, 1832, when he resigned, having been elected to the United States Senate on December 12, 1832, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert Y. Hayne; reelected in 1834 and 1840, and served from December 29, 1832, until his resignation, effective March 3, 1843; appointed Secretary of State March 6, 1844, entered upon his duties April 1, 1844, and served until March 6, 1845; declined the offer of the English mission tendered by Presidents Polk and Adams; again elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel E. Huger; reelected in 1846, and served from November 20, 1845, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 31, 1850; interment in St. Philip's Churchyard, Charleston, S. C.

CALHOUN, Joseph, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Staunton, Augusta County, Va., October 22, 1750; moved with his father to South Carolina in 1756 and settled in Granville District, on Little River, near the present town of Abbeville; received a limited education; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1804 and 1805; colonel of State militia; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Levi Casey; reelected to the Eleventh Congress, and served from June 2, 1807, to March 3, 1811; declined to be a candidate for reelection; resumed agricultural pursuits and engaged in milling; died in Calhoun Mills, Abbeville District (now Mount Carmel, McCormick County), April 14, 1817; interment in the family burying ground near his home.

CALHOUN, William Barron, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., December 29, 1796; was graduated from Yale College in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Springfield; member of the State house of representatives 1826-1834, and served as speaker 1828-1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; member of the State senate in 1846 and 1847 and served as its president; secretary of state of Massachusetts 1848-1851; State bank commissioner 1853-1855; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; mayor of Springfield in 1859; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1861 and 1862; died in Springfield, Mass., November 8, 1865; interment in Springfield Cemetery.

CALKIN, Hervey Chittenden, a Representative from New York; born in Malden, Ulster County, N. Y., March 23, 1828; attended the public schools; moved to New York City in 1847; employed in the Morgan Iron Works for five years; in 1852 commenced business as a dealer in metals and identified with the shipping interests of the country; school officer in his ward; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); resumed his former business pursuits in New York City until 1904, when he retired; died in the Borough of the Bronx, New York City, April 20, 1913; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

CALKINS, William Henry, a Representative from Indiana; born in Pike County, Ohio, February 18, 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; during the Civil War served in the Union Army from May, 1861, to December, 1865, except three months in 1863, belonging to the Fourteenth Iowa Infantry and the Twelfth Indiana Cavalry; took up his residence in La Porte, Ind.; State's attorney for the ninth Indiana judicial circuit 1869-1870; member of the State house of representatives in 1871; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, to October 20, 1884, when he resigned; moved to Tacoma, Wash., and resumed the practice of law; appointed United States associate justice of the Territory of Washington in April, 1889, and served until November 11, 1889, when the Territory was admitted as a State into the Union; died in Tacoma, Wash., January 29, 1894; interment in Tacoma Cemetery.

CALL, Jacob, a Representative from Indiana; born in Kentucky; was graduated from an academy in Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Vincennes and Princeton, Ind.; was judge of the Knox County circuit court in 1817, 1818, and 1822-1824; elected to the Eighteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Prince, and served from December 23, 1824, to March 3, 1825; died by suicide April 20, 1826.

CALL, Richard Keith (uncle of Wilkinson Call), a Delegate from the Territory of Florida; born near Petersburg, Va., October 24, 1792; attended the common schools and Mount Pleasant Academy; in 1814 entered the United States Army as first lieutenant in the Forty-fourth Infantry; special aide to Major General Jackson in the Battle of New Orleans; promoted to captain in July, 1818, and resigned May 1, 1822; settled in the Territory of Florida; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Pensacola; member of the Territorial council in 1822; brigadier general of the West Florida Militia in 1823; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); receiver of the land office of the Territory of Florida; governor of the Territory 1835-1840 and 1841-1844; unsuccessful candidate of the Whig Party for governor of the new State in 1845; devoted the declining years of his life in a gallant defense of the Union as opposed to the growing sentiment for secession; died in Tallahassee, Fla., September 14, 1862; interment in a private cemetery on his estate.

CALL, Wilkinson (nephew of Richard Keith Call and cousin of James David Walker), a Senator from Florida; born in Russellville, Logan County, Ky., January 9, 1834; attended the common schools; moved to Jacksonville, Fla.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served as adjutant general in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; elected to the United States Senate on December 29, 1865, but was not permitted to take the seat; Democratic presidential elector on the Greeley and Brown ticket in 1872 and on the Tilden and Hendricks ticket in 1876; member of the Democratic National Executive Committee; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; practiced law in Jacksonville; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1879; reelected in 1885 and 1891, and served from March 4, 1879, to March 3, 1897; retired, and resided in Washington, D. C., until his death on August 24, 1910; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

CALLAHAN, James Yancy, a Delegate from the Territory of Oklahoma; born near Salem, Dent County, Mo., December 19, 1852; attended the common schools; entered the ministry in 1880; engaged in agricultural pursuits, sawmilling, and mining; moved to Stanton County, Kans., in 1885; elected register of deeds in 1886; reelected in 1888 and served until December, 1889, when he resigned; returned to Dent County, Mo.; moved to Oklahoma in 1892 and settled in Kingfisher County; elected on the Free Silver ticket to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; published the Jacksonian at Enid, Garfield County, Okla., until January 1, 1913; retired, and is a resident of Enid, Okla.

CALLAWAY, Oscar, a Representative from Texas; born in Harmony Hill (Nip-and-Tuck), Rusk County, Tex., October 2, 1872; moved with his parents to Comanche County in 1876; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Comanche High School in 1894; taught school 1894-1897; attended the University of Texas at Austin 1897-1899, and was graduated from the law department of that university in 1900; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Comanche, Tex.; prosecuting attorney of Comanche County 1900-1902; delegate to Democratic State conventions 1896, 1898, 1900-1916, and 1920-1926; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1916; returned to his ranch near Comanche, Tex., where he is engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock raising, and also in the practice of law in Comanche.

CALLIS, John Benton, a Representative from Alabama; born in Fayetteville, Cumberland County, N. C., January 8, 1828; moved to Tennessee in 1834 with his parents, who settled in Carroll County, and thence, in 1840, to Lancaster, Grant County, Wis.; attended the common schools; studied medicine for three years, when he abandoned its further study; went to Minnesota in 1849 and was one of the contractors who built Fort Gaines (now Fort Ripley); crossed the Plains to California in 1861 and engaged in mining and the mercantile business; went to Central America in 1853; returned to Lancaster, Wis., in the fall of that year and again engaged in mercantile pursuits; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a lieutenant, and was promoted to captain in the Seventh Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry (later forming a part of the Iron Brigade) August 30, 1861; major January 5, 1863; appointed by President Lincoln military superintendent of the War Department at Washington, D. C., in 1864; promoted to lieutenant colonel February 11, 1865; brevetted colonel and brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865, "for efficient and meritorious services"; appointed captain in the Forty-fifth Regiment United States Infantry, and brevetted major March 7, 1867, "for gallant and meritorious services in the Battle of Gettysburg, Pa."; settled in Huntsville, Ala., in 1865; resigned his commission in the Army on February 4, 1868; upon the readmission of the State of Alabama to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 21, 1868, to March 3, 1869; was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; returned to Lancaster, Grant County, Wis., and engaged in the real-estate business; member of the State assembly in 1874; retired from active pursuits; died in Lancaster, Wis., September 24, 1898; interment in Hillside Cemetery.

CALVERT, Charles Benedict, a Representative from Maryland; born in Riverdale, Prince Georges County, Md., August 24, 1808; completed preparatory studies at Bladensburg Academy, Maryland; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1827; engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock breeding; member of the State house of delegates in 1839, 1843, and 1844; president of the Prince Georges County Agricultural Society and the Maryland State Agricultural Society; vice president of the United States Agricultural Society; founded the first agricultural research college in America (now the Maryland Agricultural College at College Park), chartered in 1856; one of the early advocates for the establishment of the United States Department of Agriculture; elected as a Union Whig to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Riverdale, Prince Georges County, Md., May 12, 1864; interment in Calvert Cemetery.

CALVIN, Samuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Washingtonville, Pa., July 30, 1811; attended the common schools and Milton Academy; taught in Huntingdon Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Hollidaysburg, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1850; resumed the practice of law; director of the Hollidaysburg School Board for thirty years; member of the State revenue board; member of the State constitutional convention in 1873; died in Hollidaysburg, Blair County, Pa., March 12, 1890; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

CAMBRELENG, Churchill Caldom, a Representative from New York; born in Washington, Beaufort County, N. C., October 24, 1786; attended school in New Bern, N. C.; moved to New York City in 1802, where he became a clerk and subsequently engaged in the mercantile business; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1838 to the Twenty-sixth Congress; appointed United States minister to Russia by President Van Buren, and served from May 20, 1840, to July 13, 1841; member of the State constitutional convention in 1846; retired from active business pursuits; died at his residence near Huntington, Suffolk County, N. Y., April 30, 1892; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CAMDEN, Johnson Newlon, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Collins Settlement, Lewis County, Va. (now West Virginia), March 6, 1828; attended school in Sutton, Va. (now West Virginia); appointed as a cadet to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1846 and served until 1848, when he resigned; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Sutton in 1851; appointed the same year prosecuting attorney for Braxton County; elected prosecuting attorney for Nicholas County in 1852; in 1858 engaged in the development of petroleum and in manufacturing in Parkersburg, Va. (now West Virginia); president of the First National Bank of Parkersburg at its organization in 1862; nominee of the Democratic Party for governor of the State in 1868 and again in 1872; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868, at Baltimore in 1872, and at St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1887; resumed the practice of law at Parkersburg; again elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Kenna, and served from January 25, 1893, to March 3, 1895; continued former business pursuits; died in Baltimore, Md., April 25, 1908; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Parkersburg, W. Va.

CAMDEN, Johnson Newlon (son of the preceding), a Senator from Kentucky; born in Parkersburg, Wood County, W. Va., January 5, 1865; attended the Episcopal High School, Alexandria, Va., Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va., the Columbia Law School, New York City, and the summer law school of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; was admitted to the bar in 1888, but never practiced; moved to Spring Hill Farm, near Versailles, Woodford County, Ky., in 1890; engaged in agricultural pursuits and the breeding and raising of fine cattle and thoroughbred horses; also interested in the opening and development of the coal fields of eastern Kentucky; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William O. Bradley, and served from June 10, 1914, to March 3, 1915; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1914; resumed agricultural pursuits, and is a resident of Versailles, Ky.

CAMERON, Angus, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Caledonia, Livingston County, N. Y., July 4, 1826; attended the public schools and the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, N. Y.; taught school; studied law in Buffalo, N. Y.; was graduated from the National Law School, Ballston Spa, N. Y., in 1853, was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Buffalo, N. Y.; engaged in banking for a year; moved to La Crosse, Wis., in 1857 and resumed the practice of law; served in the State senate in 1863, 1864, 1871, and 1872; member of the State assembly in 1866 and 1867, and served as speaker in 1867; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; regent of the University of Wisconsin 1866-1875; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate on February 3, 1875, and served from March 4, 1875, until March 3, 1881; was not a candidate for reelection in 1881; elected March 10, 1881, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Matthew H. Carpenter and took his seat March 14, 1881, and served until March 3, 1885; was not a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law in La Crosse, Wis., and died there March 30, 1897; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

CAMERON, James Donald (son of Simon Cameron), a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Middletown, Dauphin County, Pa., May 14, 1833; was graduated from Princeton College in 1853; entered the Middletown Bank as clerk and subsequently became its cashier; president of the Northern Central Railway Co. of Pennsylvania 1860-1874; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Grant and served from May 22, 1876, to March 12, 1877; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868, at Cincinnati in 1876, and at Chicago in 1880; chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1880; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of his father, Simon Cameron, March 5, 1877; reelected in 1879, 1885, and 1890, and served from March 20, 1877, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for reelection; engaged in various business enterprises in Harrisburg, Pa.; died at his country home, "Donegal," in Lancaster County, Pa., August 30, 1918; interment in the Harrisburg Cemetery, Harrisburg, Pa.

CAMERON, Ralph Henry, a Delegate and a Senator from Arizona; born in Southport, Lincoln County, Me., October 21, 1863; attended the common schools; emigrated to the West and became interested in mining and stock raising; locator and builder of the Bright Angel Trail into the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona; moved to the Territory of Arizona in 1883; sheriff of Coconino County 1891, 1894-1898; member of the board of supervisors of Coconino County 1905-1907 and served as chairman; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, to February 18, 1912, when, pursuant to law, his term expired, Arizona having been admitted as a State into the Union and the Representative elect having qualified; resumed mining pursuits at Phoenix, Ariz.; elected to the United States Senate in 1920, and served from March 4, 1921, to March 3, 1927; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926; is a resident of Phoenix, Ariz.

CAMERON, Simon (father of James Donald Cameron), a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Maytown, Lancaster County, Pa., March 8, 1799; apprenticed as a printer at the age of ten years; successfully conducted and edited the Doylestown (Pa.) Democrat; purchased the Harrisburg Republican, and rechristened it the Intelligencer in 1821; cashier of a bank, president of two railroad companies, and adjutant general of Pennsylvania; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Buchanan, and acted with the Democratic Party; served from March 13, 1845, to March 3, 1849; left the Democratic Party in 1854, and assisted in the formation of the People's Party; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1857, to March 4, 1861, when he resigned, having been appointed Secretary of War; had strong support as a presidential candidate in 1860, and failed in securing the nomination for Vice President on the ticket with Abraham Lincoln; Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Lincoln from March 11, 1861, until January 11, 1862, when he resigned and organized the Union forces for service in the field; was immediately appointed United States minister to Russia; resigned this portfolio on November 8, 1862; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864 and to the Loyalists' Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; was again elected to the United States Senate in 1867; reelected in 1873, and served from March 4, 1867, until his resignation, effective March 12, 1877; retired from active business pursuits and traveled extensively in Europe and the West Indies; died near Maytown, Lancaster County, Pa., June 26, 1889; interment in the Harrisburg Cemetery, Harrisburg, Pa.

CAMINETTI, Anthony, a Representative from California; born in Jackson, Amador County, Calif., July 30, 1854; attended the public schools of his native county, the grammar schools in San Francisco, and the University of California at Berkeley; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in Jackson, Calif.; district attorney of Amador County 1878-1882; Democratic alternate elector for the second congressional district in 1880; served in the State assembly in 1883-1885; member of the State senate 1885-1887; Democratic presidential elector on the Cleveland and Thurman ticket in 1888 and on the Wilson and Marshall ticket in 1912; the first native citizen of the State of California elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate in 1894 for reelection to the Fifty-fourth Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; again a member of the State assembly 1896-1900; in April, 1897, was appointed code commissioner, and served until July 31, 1899; member of the State senate 1907-1913; served as United States Commissioner of Immigration from 1913 to 1921; when war was declared with Germany in 1917 was appointed a member of the War Industries Board and after the war was sent to Europe to investigate conditions there; engaged in the practice of his profession in Jackson, Amador County, Calif., until his death, November 17, 1923; interment in the Protestant Cemetery.

CAMP, John Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Ithaca, Tompkins County, N. Y., April 4, 1840; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Albany Law School in 1860; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Lyons, N. Y.; clerk of the surrogate court in 1863; prosecuting attorney of Wayne County 1867-1870; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Wilson in 1872, and elected secretary of the Electoral College; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1888); resumed the practice of law in Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., where he died October 12, 1892; interment in Grove Cemetery, Trumansburg, N. Y.

CAMPBELL, Albert James, a Representative from Montana; born in Pontiac, Oakland County, Mich., December 12, 1857; attended the common schools and the Michigan Agricultural College at Lansing; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Oxford, Mich.; moved to Clarke, Mich., in 1882, and resumed the practice of law; prosecuting attorney of Lake County, Mich., 1886-1888; resigned, and moved to Butte, Mont., on November 16, 1888, and continued the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives in 1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed the practice of law in Butte, Mont.; died in New York City August 9, 1907; interment in Mount Moriah Cemetery, Butte, Mont.

CAMPBELL, Alexander, a Senator from Ohio; born in Frederick County, Va., in 1779; moved with his parents to east Tennessee and later to Kentucky, settling near Lexington; moved with his mother to Woodford County, Ky.; educated at Plagah Academy, Woodford County, Ky.; studied medicine at Transylvania University and commenced practice in Cynthiana, Ky., in 1801; member of the State house of representatives from Harrison County in 1803; moved to that part of Adams County in 1804, later set off to Brown County, Ohio, where he continued the practice of medicine; member of the State house of representatives from Adams County in 1807; re-elected in 1808 and 1809, and served as speaker in 1808 and 1809; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1808; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Tiffin, and served from December 11, 1809, to March 3, 1813; resumed the practice of medicine; moved to Staunton (now Ripley), Ohio, in 1815; was the first physician in that town; declined a professorship in the Ohio Medical College in Cincinnati; member of the State house of representatives from Clermont County in 1819, and served as speaker pro tempore; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Monroe and Tompkins in 1820 and on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Granger in 1836; member of the State senate 1822-1824; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1826; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1832 and 1833; served as vice president of the first general antislavery society of Ohio in 1835; mayor of Ripley 1838-1840; died in Ripley, Brown County, Ohio, November 5, 1857; interment in Maplewood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Alexander, a Representative from Illinois; born on a farm near Concord, Franklin County, Pa., October 4, 1814; attended the public schools; became a clerk in an iron works and was subsequently promoted to superintendent, and continued in the business of managing iron works in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and Missouri until 1850, when he moved to La Salle, La Salle County, Ill.; mayor of La Salle in 1852 and 1853; member of the State house of representatives in 1858 and 1859; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1862; elected as an Independent to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; was called "the father of the Greenback Party"; retired from public life; died in La Salle, Ill., August 11, 1898; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Brookins, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Washington County, Tenn., in 1808; attended the rural schools and was graduated from Washington College (now Washington and Lee University) at Lexington; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives 1835-1839, 1841-1846, and 1851-1853, and served as speaker in 1845; during the Mexican War was appointed by President Polk in 1846 an assistant quartermaster to the Army with the rank of major; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1853, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 25, 1853 without having qualified; interment in the Providence Presbyterian Churchyard, Greene County, Tenn.

CAMPBELL, Felix, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., February 28, 1829; attended the common schools; became a manufacturer of iron pipe and a consulting engineer; president of the board of supervisors in 1858; appointed by Governor Tilden a member of the board of commissioners from New York to the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1890; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 8, 1902; interment in Holy Cross Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, George Washington, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born in the parish of Tongue, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, February 9, 1769; emigrated with his parents to North Carolina in 1772; taught school; was graduated from Princeton College in 1794; studied law while teaching, was admitted to the bar in North Carolina, and commenced practice in Knoxville, Tenn.; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1809); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in January, 1804, to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire, and in December of the same year against Samuel Chase, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; judge of the State supreme court of errors and appeals 1809-1811; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jenkin Whiteside, and served from October 8, 1811, to February 11, 1814, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Madison and served from February 9, 1814, to October 6, 1814, when he resigned on account of ill health; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from October 10, 1815, until his resignation, effective April 20, 1818; minister to Russia 1818-1821; member of the French Spoliation Claims Commission in 1831; died in Nashville, Tenn., February 17, 1848; interment in the City Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Guy Edgar, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Fetterman, Taylor County, W. Va., October 9, 1871; attended the grammar and high schools; moved to Pennsylvania with his parents, who located in Pittsburgh in 1880, and subsequently, in 1893, in Crafton Borough, Allegheny County; attended the Iron City Business College at Pittsburgh; was employed as a clerk in the offices of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Pittsburgh, Pa., until June, 1896, when he resigned and then engaged in the general insurance business at Pittsburgh until 1903; became interested in the production of oil and gas in Pennsylvania and West Virginia in 1903; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CAMPBELL, Jacob Miller, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born at "White Horse," near Somerset, Allegheny Township, Somerset County, Pa., November 20, 1821; moved with his parents to Allegheny City, Pa., in 1826; attended the public schools; learned the art of printing in the office of the Somerset Whig; later connected with a magazine publishing company in Pittsburgh and leading newspapers in New Orleans, La.; engaged in steamboating on the lower Mississippi River 1841-1847, and gold mining in California in 1851; aided in the building of the Cambria Iron Works in Johnstown, Pa., in 1853, and remained in the employ of that company until 1861, when he resigned; delegate to the first Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856; served in the Union Army as first lieutenant and quartermaster of Company G, Third Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; recruited the Fifty-fourth Regiment of Infantry and was commissioned its colonel February 27, 1862; brevetted brigadier general March 18, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious conduct at the Battle of Piedmont, Virginia"; honorably discharged September 3, 1864; returned to Johnstown, Pa.; surveyor general (now secretary of internal affairs) of Pennsylvania 1865-1871; declined a renomination; engaged in mechanical and other industrial pursuits; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1878 to the Forty-sixth Congress; elected to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); chairman of the Republican State convention in 1887; died in Johnstown, Cambria County, Pa., September 27, 1888; interment in Grand View Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, James Edwin (nephew of Lewis Davis Campbell), a Representative from Ohio; born in Middletown, Butler County, Ohio, July 7, 1843; attended the public schools and Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a member of the Mississippi Squadron, November 29, 1863, and served as master's mate on the gunboats Elk and Naiad until honorably discharged September 24, 1864; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1865; deputy collector of internal revenue, third district; commenced the practice of law in Hamilton, Ohio, in 1867; prosecuting attorney of Butler County 1876-1880; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Henry L. Morey to the Forty-eighth Congress; reelected to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses, and served from June 20, 1884, to March 3, 1889; was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; Governor of Ohio in 1889; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1891, and again in 1895; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1892, at San Francisco in 1920, and at New York City in 1924; served on the commission to codify the State laws 1908-1911; resumed the practice of law in Columbus, Ohio, and died there December 18, 1924; interment in Green Lawn Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, James Hepburn, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Williamsport, Lycoming County, Pa., February 8, 1820; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the law department of Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1841; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Pottsville, Pa.; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; elected to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); appointed by President Lincoln in May, 1864, United States minister to Sweden, and served until March 29, 1867; declined the diplomatic mission to Colombia in 1867; located in Philadelphia and practiced law; died in Wayne, Delaware County, Pa., April 12, 1895; interment in Woodlands Cemetery, Philadelphia, Pa.

CAMPBELL, James Romulus, a Representative from Illinois; born near McLeansboro, Hamilton County, Ill., May 4, 1853; attended the public schools and the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in McLeansboro, Ill.; owned and edited the McLeansboro Times 1870-1898; member of the State house of representatives 1884-1888; served in the State senate 1888-1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); served in the war with Spain in the Ninth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry; commissioned colonel June 28, 1898; after the muster out of that regiment was appointed lieutenant colonel of the Thirtieth Regiment United States Volunteers on July 5, 1899, and assigned to service in the Philippine Islands; commissioned brigadier general of Volunteers January 3, 1901, and was honorably discharged March 25, 1901; engaged in milling and banking in McLeansboro, Ill., and died there August 12, 1924; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, John, a Representative from Maryland; born near Port Tobacco, Charles County, Md., September 11, 1765; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; held several local offices; member of the State senate for three years; elected as a Federalist to the Seventh and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1811); judge of the orphans' court of Charles County; died at "Charleston" farm, Charles County, Md., June 23, 1828; interment in the private burying ground of Daniel Jenifer.

CAMPBELL, John (brother of Robert Blair Campbell), a Representative from South Carolina; born near Brownsville, Marlboro County, S. C.; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Brownsville, S. C.; moved to Parnassus, Marlboro District, and continued the practice of law; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1845); died in Parnassus (now Blenheim), Marlboro County, S. C., May 19, 1845; interment in a private cemetery near Blenheim, S. C.

CAMPBELL, John Goulder, a Delegate from the Territory of Arizona; born in Glasgow, Scotland, June 25, 1827; emigrated to the United States in 1841 and settled in the State of New York; attended the public and high schools; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in numerous occupations; moved to Prescott, Ariz., in 1863 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and stock raising; member of the Territorial house of representatives 1868-1874; county supervisor of Yavapai County; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); resumed his former business pursuits; also engaged in the hotel business and in stock raising; retired in 1901; died in Prescott, Ariz., December 22, 1903; interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, John Hull, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in York, York County, Pa., October 10, 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1823, and commenced practice in that city; member of the State house of representatives in 1831; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1846; resumed the practice of law; died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 19, 1868; interment in Monument Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, John Pierce, jr., a Representative from Kentucky; born near Hopkinsville, Christian County, Ky., December 8, 1820; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Lexington, Mo.; member of the Missouri House of Representatives 1848-1852; returned to Hopkinsville, Ky., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected by the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined to be a candidate for reelection; president of the Henderson & Nashville Railroad in 1870; organized the Mastodon Coal & Iron Co., which was succeeded by the St. Bernard Coal Co.; devoted the latter years of his life to his large landed estates; died in Hopkinsville, Ky., October 29, 1888; interment in Riverside Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, John Wilson, a Representative from Ohio; born near Miller's Iron Works, Augusta County, Va., February 23, 1782; attended the common schools; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1808, and commenced practice in West Union, Ohio; justice of the peace of Tiffin Township, Adams County, 1809-1815; prosecuting attorney of Adams County in 1809; member of the State house of representatives in 1810, 1813, and 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1827); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1829; judge of the United States Court for the District of Ohio from 1829 until his death in Delaware, Delaware County, Ohio, September 24, 1833; interment in the Old North Cemetery, Columbus, Ohio.

CAMPBELL, Lewis Davis (uncle of James Edwin Campbell), a Representative from Ohio; born in Franklin, Warren County, Ohio, August 9, 1811; attended the public schools; apprenticed to learn the art of printing 1828-1831; published a Clay Whig newspaper in Hamilton, Ohio, 1831-1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and practiced in Hamilton until 1850; engaged in agricultural pursuits; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1840, 1842, and 1844 to the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Twenty-ninth Congresses; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1857); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Thirty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1857, to May 25, 1858, when he was succeeded by Clement L. Vallandigham, who contested the election; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; served in the Union Army during the Civil War as colonel of the Sixty-ninth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry in 1861 and 1862; resigned on account of ill health; appointed by President Johnson envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Mexico on May 4, 1866, and served until June 16, 1867, when he resigned; elected to the State senate in 1869; resigned in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); was not a candidate for reelection in 1872; delegate to the third State constitutional convention in 1873; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Hamilton, Butler County, Ohio, November 20, 1882; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Philip Pitt, a Representative from Kansas; born in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, Canada, April 25, 1862; moved with his parents to Neosho County, Kans., in 1867; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Baker University, Baldwin, Kans., in 1888; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1889, and commenced practice in Pittsburg, Kans.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; parliamentarian of the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., with legal residence in Pittsburg, Kans.

CAMPBELL, Robert Blair (brother of John Campbell of South Carolina), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Marlboro County, S. C.; educated by a private tutor; attended school in Fayetteville, N. C., and was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1809; engaged in agricultural pursuits; commissioned captain in South Carolina Militia in 1814; served in the State senate 1821-1823; unsuccessful candidate in 1820 for election to the Seventeenth Congress; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1824 to the Nineteenth Congress and for election in 1826 to the Twentieth Congress and in 1830 to the Twenty-second Congress; elected to the State senate in 1830; reelected as a Nullifier to the Twenty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas B. Singleton; reelected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress, and served from February 27, 1834, to March 3, 1837; in 1833 during the nullification movement was commissioned general of South Carolina troops; moved to Lowndes County, Ala., about 1840; member of the State house of representatives 1840; appointed on September 28, 1842, consul at Habana, Cuba, and served until July 22, 1850; moved to San Antonio, Tex.; was appointed on March 16, 1853, a commissioner for the United States to aid in settlement of the disputed boundary line between Texas and Mexico; appointed consul at London, England, and served from August 8, 1854, to March, 1861, when he was recalled; moved to Ealing, London, England, where he died July 12, 1862; interment in the crypt of Kensington Church.

CAMPBELL, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Mansfield, Conn., July 11, 1773; attended the common schools; moved to Columbus, N. Y., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; supervisor of the town of Columbus in 1807, 1808, 1821, and 1840; member of the State assembly in 1806, 1809, 1812, and 1820; served on the staff of Maj. Gen. Nathaniel King as division quartermaster in the War of 1812; associate judge of Chenango County court in 1814; justice of the peace in Columbus for twenty-five years; sheriff of Chenango County 1815-1819; elected to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); affiliated with the Whig Party after its formation; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Columbus, near Sherburne, Chenango County, N. Y., June 2, 1853; interment in Lambs Corners Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Rhea County, Tenn., in 1786; attended the public schools; assistant inspector general to Major General Cole's division of the East Tennessee Militia from September 25, 1813, to March 12, 1814; clerk of the State house of representatives 1817-1819, 1821, and 1825-1831, and a member of that body 1833-1837; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; Clerk of the National House of Representatives in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from December 7, 1847, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 13, 1850; interment at Calhoun, McMinn County, Tenn.

CAMPBELL, Thompson, a Representative from Illinois; born in Ireland in 1811; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Chester County, Pa.; attended the public schools; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Pittsburgh, Pa.; moved to Galena, Ill., and engaged in mining; secretary of state of Illinois from 1843 until he resigned in 1846; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; appointed United States land commissioner for California by President Pierce in 1853 and served until he resigned in 1855; returned to Illinois; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Charleston in 1860; was nominated elector at large on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket in 1860; again emigrated to California, and served in the California House of Representatives as a member of the Union Party in 1863 and 1864; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; died in San Francisco, Calif., December 6, 1868; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, Timothy John, a Representative from New York; born in County Cavan, Ireland, January 8, 1840; emigrated with his parents to the United States in 1845; attended the public schools of New York City; learned the printer's trade; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the State assembly 1868-1873, 1875, and 1883; justice of the fifth district civil court in New York City 1875-1883; served in the State senate in 1884 and 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel S. Cox; reelected to the Fiftieth Congress, and served from November 3, 1885, to March 3, 1889; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifth-first Congress; elected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate in 1894 for reelection to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in New York City; died in New York City April 7, 1904; interment in Calvary Cemetery, Long Island City, N. Y.

CAMPBELL, William Bowen (cousin of Henry Bowen), a Representative from Tennessee; born near Hendersonville, Sumner County, Tenn., February 1, 1807; attended private schools; studied law in Abingdon and Winchester, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in Carthage, Smith County, Tenn.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits and banking; elected district attorney in 1831; member of the State house of representatives in 1835 and 1836; captain of a company in Trousdale's regiment of Tennessee Mounted Volunteers in the Florida War; mustered out January 14, 1837; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; elected colonel of the First Tennessee Volunteers in the Mexican War June 3, 1846, and was mustered out May 25, 1847; unanimously elected judge of the fourth circuit of Tennessee after his return from Mexico and served from 1847 to 1851; served as Governor of Tennessee from 1851 to 1853; declined renomination; elected judge of the circuit court in 1857; during the Civil War was appointed by President Lincoln brigadier general of Volunteers June 30, 1862; resigned January 26, 1863, on account of ill health; upon the readmission of the State of Tennessee to representation was elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from July 24, 1866, to March 3, 1867; resumed banking and agricultural pursuits; died near Lebanon, Wilson County, Tenn., August 19, 1867; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, William W., a Representative from New York; born in Cherry Valley, N. Y., June 10, 1806; attended the common schools; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in New York City; was appointed master in chancery in 1841; commissioner in bankruptcy; elected by the American Party to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); was not a candidate for renomination in 1846; justice of the superior court of New York City 1849-1855; returned to Cherry Valley in December, 1855; judge of the Supreme Court for the Sixth District of New York 1857-1865; retired from public life; author and engaged in historical work; died in Cherry Valley, Otsego County, N. Y., September 7, 1881; interment in the Cherry Valley Cemetery.

CAMPBELL, William Wildman, a Representative from Ohio; born in Rochester, Windsor County, Vt., April 2, 1853; attended the public schools, the Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vt., and Tufts College, Medford, Mass.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in Napoleon, Ohio; prosecuting attorney for Henry County, Ohio, 1894-1897; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress and for election in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law in Napoleon, Henry County, Ohio; member of the State constitutional convention of 1911-12; is a resident of Napoleon, Ohio.

CANBY, Richard Sprigg, a Representative from Ohio; born in Lebanon, Ohio, September 30, 1808; completed preparatory studies; attended Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, 1826-1828; engaged in mercantile pursuits and while thus employed studied law; was admitted to the bar about 1840 and commenced practice in Bellefontaine, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives in 1845 and 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); engaged in agricultural pursuits; upon its formation in 1856 affiliated with the Republican Party; moved to Olney, Richland County, Ill., in 1863, where he resumed the practice of law; elected judge of the Second Judicial Circuit Court of Illinois in 1867 and served for several years; again resumed the practice of his profession in Olney; discontinued active business pursuits in 1882, and lived in retirement until his death; died in Olney, Ill., July 27, 1895; interment in Haven Hill Cemetery.

CANDLER, Allen Daniel (cousin of Ezekiel Samuel Candler, Jr., and Milton Anthony Candler), a Representative from Georgia; born in Homer, Banks County, Ga., November 4, 1834; attended country schools, and was graduated from Mercer University, Macon, Ga., in 1859; studied law; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a private in Company H, Thirty-fourth Regiment of Georgia Infantry on May 12, 1862; was elected first lieutenant May 17, 1862; promoted to captain October 26, 1862; appointed lieutenant colonel May 10, 1864; promoted to colonel December 27, 1864; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1873-1877; served in the State senate in 1878 and 1879; engaged in manufacturing and was president of a railroad; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for reelection in 1890; secretary of state of Georgia from May 28, 1894, until March 1, 1898, when he resigned; Governor of Georgia 1898-1902; compiler of the records of the State of Georgia from 1903 until his death in Atlanta, Ga., October 26, 1910; interment in Alta Vista Cemetery, Gainesville, Ga.

CANDLER, Ezekiel Samuel, Jr. (nephew of Milton A. Candler and cousin of Allen Daniel Candler), a Representative from Mississippi; born in Belleville, Hamilton County, Fla., January 18, 1862; moved with his parents to Tishomingo County, Miss., in 1870; attended the common schools and Iuka (Miss.) Male Academy; was graduated from the law department of the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1881; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Iuka, Miss.; chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Tishomingo County in 1884; moved to Corinth in 1887 and continued the practice of law; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; member of the Democratic executive committee of Alcorn County for several years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1920; resumed the practice of his profession, and is a resident of Corinth, Miss.

CANDLER, John Wilson, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., February 10, 1828; attended the Marblehead Academy and Dummer Academy, Byfield, Mass.; entered a countingroom in Boston in 1845; merchant, engaged in shipping and commerce with the East and West Indies and South America; member of the State house of representatives in 1860; chairman of the commissioners of prisons of Massachusetts; president of the Boston Board of Trade and of the Commercial Club of Boston; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; again elected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; engaged in mercantile pursuits; retired from active business pursuits and political life in 1893; died at the home of his son-in-law in Providence, R. I., March 16, 1908; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

CANDLER, Milton Anthony (uncle of Ezekiel Samuel Candler, jr., and cousin of Allen Daniel Candler), a Representative from Georgia; born near Campbellton, Campbell County, Ga., January 11, 1837; attended private schools; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Cassville, Burrow County, Ga.; moved to Decatur in 1857; member of the State house of representatives, 1861–1863; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1865; served in the State senate 1868–1872; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872 and at St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1879); was a candidate for renomination in 1878, but withdrew because of the adoption of a free-silver plank by the district convention; resumed the practice of law; died in Decatur, De Kalb County, Ga., August 8, 1909; interment in the Decatur Cemetery.

CANFIELD, Harry Clifford, a Representative from Indiana; born near Moores Hill, Dearborn County, Ind., November 22, 1875; attended the public schools, Moores Hill College, Central Normal College, Danville, Ind., and Vorhies Business College, Indianapolis, Ind.; taught school in Dearborn County 1896–1898; moved to Batesville in 1899 and engaged in the manufacture of furniture; also interested in retailing and jobbing furniture and in farming and banking; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923–March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CANNON, Clarence, a Representative from Missouri; born in Elsberry, Lincoln County, Mo., April 11, 1879; attended the public schools; was graduated from La Grange Junior College (now at Hannibal, Mo.) in 1901, from William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., in 1903, and from the law department of the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1908; was admitted to the bar in 1908, and commenced practice in Troy, Mo.; parliamentarian of the House of Representatives in the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses; parliamentarian of the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and at New York in 1924; author of "A Synopsis of the Procedure of the House (1918)," of "Procedure in the House of Representatives (1920)," and "Cannon's Procedure (1928)," published by resolution of the House; editor and compiler of the "Precedents of the House of Representatives" by act of Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 3, 1923–March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CANNON, Frank Jenne (son of George Quayle Cannon), a Delegate from the Territory of Utah and a Senator from Utah; born in Salt Lake City, Utah, January 25, 1859; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of Utah at Salt Lake City in 1878; engaged as a printer and newspaper writer; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to January 4, 1896, when the Territory was admitted as a State into the Union; was then elected to the United States Senate, and served from January 22, 1896, to March 3, 1899; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1909, and is engaged in newspaper work and mining.

CANNON, George Quayle (father of Frank Jenne Cannon), a Delegate from the Territory of Utah; born in Liverpool, England, January 11, 1827; attended the common schools; emigrated to the United States in 1842 with his parents, who settled in Nauvoo, Ill.; moved to Great Salt Lake (then Mexican territory), Utah, in 1847; went to California in 1849 and a year later to the Hawaiian Islands as a missionary; returned to Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1854; learned the art of printing; editor of the Western Standard in 1856 and 1857 and of the Deseret News 1867–1874 and 1877–1879; member of the Territorial council 1865, 1866, and 1869–1872; member of the board of regents of the Deseret University (now the University of Utah) and later chancellor; elected by the constitutional convention in 1872 a delegate to present the constitution and memorial to Congress for admission of the Territory as a State into the Union; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1881); contested the election of Allen G. Campbell to the Forty-seventh Congress, but the House, on April 20, 1882, decided that neither was entitled to the seat; returned to Salt Lake City; director of the Union Pacific Railroad and a member of the board of directors of many important financial and industrial enterprises at the time of his death; died in Monterey, Monterey County, Calif., April 12, 1901; interment in Salt Lake City Cemetery, Salt Lake City, Utah.

CANNON, Joseph Gurney, a Representative from Illinois; born in Gullford, Guilford County, N. C., May 7, 1836; moved with his parents to Bloomingdale, Ind., in 1840; completed preparatory studies; studied law at the Cincinnati Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice in Terre Haute, Ind., in 1858; moved to Tuscola, Ill., in 1859; State's attorney for the twenty-seventh judicial district of Illinois from March, 1861, to December, 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1891); moved to Danville, Ill., in 1878; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; elected to the Fifty-third and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893–March 3, 1913); served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses; received fifty-eight votes for the presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; again elected to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1915–March 3, 1923); declined renomination for Congress at the end of the Sixty-seventh Congress; retired from public life; died in Danville, Vermillion County, Ill., November 12, 1926; interment in Spring Hill Cemetery.

CANNON, Marion, a Representative from California; born near Morgantown, Va. (now West Virginia), October 30, 1834; attended the district school; learned the blacksmith trade; moved to California in 1862 and engaged in mining in Nevada County for twenty-one years; elected county recorder of Nevada County in 1890 and served two years; moved to Ventura County, Calif., and settled near Ventura in 1874; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected first State president of the Farmers' Alliance November 20, 1890, and reelected October 22, 1891; organized the People's Party of California October 20, 1891; chosen a representative to the supreme council in Indianapolis November, 1891; selected by that body to represent California in the industrial conference at St. Louis February 22, 1892; chairman of the California delegation to the People's Party National Convention at Omaha in 1892; elected as the candidate of the People's and Democratic Parties to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; resumed agricultural pursuits near Ventura, Ventura County, Calif., until his death at "Ranch Home," near Ventura, August 27, 1920; interment in Ivy Lawn Cemetery, Ventura, Calif.

CANNON, Newton, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Guilford County, N. C., May 22, 1781; attended the common schools; moved to Tennessee at an early period and settled near Nashville, Williamson County; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1811 and 1812; enlisted in the War of 1812 and became colonel of a regiment of Tennessee Mounted Rifles; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Felix Grundy; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from September 16, 1814, to March 3, 1817; appointed by President Monroe a commissioner to negotiate a treaty with the Chickasaw Indians in 1819; elected to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); resumed agricultural pursuits; Governor of Tennessee 1835-1839; died in Nashville, September 10, 1841; interment in a cemetery on his estate near Allisona, Williamson County, Tenn.

CANTOR, Jacob Aaron, a Representative from New York; born in New York City December 6, 1854; attended the graded and high schools; reporter on the New York World for several years; was graduated from the law department of the College of the City of New York in 1875; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in New York City; served in the State assembly 1885-1887; member of the State senate 1887-1898 and served as president in 1893 and 1894; elected president of the Borough of Manhattan in 1901; declined to be a candidate for renomination; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Francis Burton Harrison, and served from November 4, 1913, to March 3, 1915; unsuccessfully contested the election of Isaac Stogel to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in New York City; president of the Tax Commission Board of New York City at the time of his death there on July 2, 1921; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Mount Hope, Westchester County, N. Y.

CANTRILL, James Campbell, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Georgetown, Scott County, Ky., July 9, 1870; attended the common schools, Georgetown (Ky.) College, and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; engaged in agricultural pursuits until his death; chairman of the Scott County Democratic committee in 1895; elected a member of the State house of representatives in 1897, and again in 1899; served in the State senate 1901-1905; was nominated for Congress in 1904, but declined; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; elected president of the American Society of Equity for Kentucky, an organization of farmers, in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, until his death during his campaign as the Democratic nominee for Governor of Kentucky; died in Louisville, Ky., September 2, 1923; interment in Georgetown Cemetery, Georgetown, Ky.

CAPEHART, James, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Point Pleasant, Mason County, Va. (now West Virginia), March 7, 1847; attended the public schools and Marietta College, Ohio; studied at Duff's Commercial College, Pittsburgh, Pa.; clerk and bookkeeper in his father's store; engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock breeding 1867-1908; president of Mason County court in 1871, 1872, and again in 1880-1885; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for reelection in 1894; president of the Point Pleasant National Bank in 1901; after 1903 he became interested in fruit growing in Brevard County, Fla.; resided in Cocoa, Fla., until his death on April 28, 1921; interment in Lone Oak Cemetery, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

CAPERTON, Allen Taylor (son of Hugh Caperton), a Senator from West Virginia; born near Union, Monroe County, Va. (now West Virginia), November 21, 1810; attended the public schools of Virginia and Huntsville, Ala., and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; was graduated from Yale College in 1832; studied law in Staunton, Va., was admitted to the bar, and practiced; Whig member of the Virginia House of Delegates in 1841 and 1842; served in the State senate 1844-1848; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Philadelphia in 1848; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1850 and 1861; again a member of the State house of delegates 1857-1861; elected by the Legislature of Virginia a member of the Confederate States Senate, and served until 1865; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate from West Virginia, and served from March 4, 1875, until his death in Washington, D. C., July 26, 1876; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Union, W. Va.

CAPERTON, Hugh (father of Allen Taylor Caperton), a Representative from Virginia; born in Greenbrier County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 17, 1781; was a planter and also engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Monroe County; sheriff of Monroe County in 1805; member of the State house of delegates 1810-1818 and again in 1826-1830; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); resumed agricultural and mercantile pursuits; died on his estate, "Elmwood," near Union, Monroe County, Va. (now West Virginia), February 9, 1847; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Union, Va.

CAPPER, Arthur, a Senator from Kansas; born in Garnett, Anderson County, Kans., July 14, 1865; attended the common and high schools; learned the art of printing and subsequently became a newspaper reporter; owner and publisher of the Topeka Daily Capital, Capper's Weekly, Kansas Farmer, and other agricultural publications; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; president of the board of regents, Kansas Agricultural College, 1910-1913; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Kansas in 1912; Governor of Kansas 1915-1919; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1918 for the term commencing March 4, 1919, and reelected in 1924 for the term ending March 3, 1931.

CAPRON, Adin Ballou, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Mendon, Worcester County, Mass., January 9, 1841; attended the Woonsocket High School and Westbrook Seminary, near Portland, Me.; settled in Stillwater, Providence County, R. I., and engaged in milling and dealing in grain; enlisted as a sergeant in the Second Regiment Rhode Island Volunteer Infantry in May, 1861; promoted to the rank of sergeant major July 11, 1861; commissioned lieutenant in September, 1861, and ordered on detached service in the Signal Corps in December, 1861; served in the Signal Corps until the close of the Civil War, having been commissioned first lieutenant on March 3, 1863, and subsequently promoted to the rank of captain and major by brevet; member of the State house of representatives 1887-1892 and served as speaker in 1891 and 1892; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1911); was not a candidate for renomination in 1910; resumed his former business activities in Stillwater, Providence County, R. I., where he died March 17, 1911; interment in Swan Point Cemetery, Providence, R. I.

CAPSTICK, John Henry, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Lawrence, Mass., September 2, 1856; attended the public schools of Lawrence; moved with his parents to Providence, R. I., in 1868; attended a business college; member of the Rhode Island Militia in 1870 and 1871; moved to Montville, N. J., in 1888, and engaged in the manufacture of textile fabrics the same year; member of the State sewerage commission 1905-1908; president of the State board of health 1908-1914; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1915, until his death in Montville, Morris County, N. J., March 17, 1918; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Boonton, N. J.

CARAWAY, Thaddeus H., a Representative and a Senator from Arkansas; born in Springhill, Stoddard County, Mo., October 17, 1871; attended the common schools in Tennessee, and was graduated from Dickson College, Tennessee, in 1896; taught in the country schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Lake City, Craighead County, Ark.; prosecuting attorney for the second judicial circuit of Arkansas 1908-1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); did not seek renomination, having become a candidate for Senator; elected to the United States Senate in 1920 for the term commencing March 4, 1921, and ending March 3, 1927. Reelected in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

CAREW, John Francis (nephew of Thomas Francis Magner), a Representative from New York; born in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1876; attended the public schools of Brooklyn and New York City and the College of the City of New York; was graduated from Columbia College in 1893 and from the Columbia University Law School at New York City in 1896; was admitted to the bar in 1897 and commenced practice in New York City; member of the State assembly in 1904; delegate to all Democratic State conventions from 1912 to 1924; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912 and at New York City in 1924; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CAREY, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Monongalia County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 5, 1792; moved with his parents to the Northwest Territory in 1798; at the age of twelve carried the United States mail on horseback between Chillicothe and Portsmouth, Ohio; served under General Hull in the War of 1812; associate judge 1825-1832; appointed Indian agent at the Wyandotte Reservation in 1829; member of the Ohio House of Representatives in 1828, 1836, 1843; promoter and first president of the Mad River Railroad, from Sandusky to Dayton, about 1845; established the town of Carey, Wyandot County, Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); died in Carey, Ohio, March 17, 1875; interment in the family burial ground on the home farm; reinterment in 1919 in Spring Grove Cemetery, Carey, Ohio.

CAREY, Joseph Maull, a Delegate from the Territory of Wyoming and a Senator from Wyoming; born in Milton, Sussex County, Del., January 19, 1845; attended the common schools, Fort Edward Collegiate Institute, and Union College, New York; was graduated from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1864; was admitted to the bar in 1867 and commenced practice in Philadelphia; United States attorney for the Territory of Wyoming on the organization of the Territory in 1869, and served until he resigned in 1871; associate justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Wyoming 1871-1876; retired from the bench and engaged in the cattle and ranching business; member of the United States Centennial Commission 1872-1876; member of the Republican National Committee 1876-1897; mayor of Cheyenne 1881-1885; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, until July 10, 1890, when the Territory became a State; was then elected to the United States Senate, and served from November 15, 1890, until March 3, 1895; unsuccessful candidate in 1895 for reelection; resumed the practice of law in Cheyenne, Wyo.; Governor of Wyoming 1911-1913; one of the organizers of the Progressive Party in 1912; vice president of the Federal Land Bank; member of the board of trustees of the University of Wyoming at Laramie; died in Cheyenne, Wyo., February 5, 1924; interment in Lakewood Cemetery.

CARLETON, Ezra Child, a Representative from Michigan; born in St. Clair, St. Clair County, Mich., September 6, 1838; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Port Huron High School in 1859; engaged in business as a hardware merchant in Port Huron, St. Clair County; mayor of Port Huron, Mich., in 1881 and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); engaged in his former mercantile pursuits in Port Huron, Mich., until his death there July 24, 1911; interment in Lakeside Cemetery.

CARLETON, Peter, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Haverhill, Mass., September 19, 1755; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; served in a Massachusetts regiment during the Revolutionary War; moved to Landaff, N. H., about 1789; member of the State constitutional convention in 1790; member of the State house of representatives in 1803 and 1804; served in the State senate in 1806 and 1807; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); died in Landaff, Grafton County, N. H., April 20, 1828; interment in the City Cemetery.

CARLILE, John Snyder, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Winchester, Va., December 16, 1817; educated by his mother; clerked in a store at the age of 14 and when 17 commenced business for himself; also studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Beverly, Va. (now West Virginia) in 1842; moved to Philippi and later to Clarksburg and continued the practice of law; member of the State senate 1847-1851; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); delegate to the State secession convention in February, 1861; elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress and served from March 4, 1861, until July 9, 1861, when he resigned to become Senator; elected as a Unionist to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Robert M. T. Hunter and served from July 9, 1861, to March 3, 1865; member of the convention that submitted the new State ordinance in August, 1861; died in Clarksburg, Harrison County, W. Va., October 24, 1878; interment in the Old Fellows Cemetery.

CARLIN, Charles Creighton, a Representative from Virginia; born in Alexandria, Va., April 8, 1866; attended the public schools and Alexandria Academy; was graduated from the National University Law School, Washington, D. C.; was admitted to the bar in 1891 and commenced practice in Alexandria, Va.; postmaster at Alexandria, Va., 1898-1897; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Parker and Davis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John F. Rixey; reelected to the Sixty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from November 5, 1907, to March 3, 1910, when he resigned before the commencement of the Sixty-sixth Congress, to which he had been reelected; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Alexandria, Va.

CARLISLE, John Griffin, a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Campbell (now Kenton) County, Ky., September 5, 1835; attended the common schools; taught school in Covington and elsewhere for five years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in March, 1858, and commenced practice in Covington, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives 1859-1861; nominated for presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1864, but declined to run; member of the State senate in 1866; reelected in August, 1869, and resigned in 1871; delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, and served from August, 1871, to September, 1875; editor of the Louisville Daily Ledger in 1872; alternate presidential elector at large in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, to May 26, 1890, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James B. Beck and took his seat May 26, 1890, and served until February 4, 1893, when he resigned to accept a Cabinet portfolio; Secretary of the Treasury 1893-1897; moved to New York City and resumed the practice of law; died in New York City July 31, 1910; interment in Linden Grove Cemetery, Covington, Ky.

CARLTON, Henry Hull, a Representative from Georgia; born in Athens, Ga., May 14, 1835; attended the public schools and the University of Georgia at Athens for two years; was graduated in medicine and surgery from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa., in 1857, and practiced until 1872; during the Civil War served four years in the Confederate Army under Gen. Robert E. Lee, holding the ranks of Lieutenant, captain, and major of artillery; member of the State house of representatives 1873-1877; served as speaker pro tempore in 1877; editor and proprietor of the Athens Banner (Banner Watchman) until 1880; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Athens, Ga.; city attorney of Athens in 1881 and 1882; member and president of the State senate in 1884 and 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); again a member of the State house of representatives in 1890; declined reelection; volunteered for service in the Spanish-American War and was made inspector general with the rank of major; engaged in the insurance business; died in Athens, Ga., October 26, 1905; interment in Oconee Cemetery.

CARMACK, Edward Ward, a Representative and a Senator from Tennessee; born near Castalian Springs, Sumner County, Tenn., November 5, 1858; attended Webb's School, Culleoka, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and practiced in Columbia, Tenn.; city attorney of Columbia in 1881; elected to the State house of representatives in 1884; joined the staff of the Nashville Democrat in 1888; editor in chief of the Nashville American when the papers were merged; editor of the Memphis Commercial in 1892; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896, at Kansas City in 1900, and at St. Louis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1907; unsuccessful candidate in 1907 for reelection; resumed the practice of law; was assassinated in Nashville, Tenn., November 9, 1908; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery, Columbia, Tenn.; an act of the State legislature of 1909 provided that a statue be erected to his memory on the capitol grounds in Nashville.

CARMICHAEL, Richard B., a Representative from Maryland; born in Centerville, Queen Annes County, Md., December 25, 1807; attended Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., and was graduated from Princeton College in 1828; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Centerville, Queen Annes County, Md.; member of the State house of delegates 1831 and 1841-1866; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); resumed the practice of law; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions in 1850, 1864, 1868, and 1876; judge of the circuit court 1858-1864; presiding judge of the county court of Queen Annes County in 1861; member and president of the State constitutional convention in 1867; died in Queen Annes County, Md., October 21, 1884.

CARMICHAEL, William, a Delegate from Maryland; born in that State; was in London, England, at the beginning of the Revolution; went to Paris, France, in November, 1777, as secretary to the commissioners of the American States; returned to America in May, 1778; Member of the Continental Congress 1778-1780; went to Spain in September, 1779, as secretary of legation; appointed chargé d'affaires at Madrid, Spain, April 20, 1782, and served until May, 1794; died in Madrid, Spain, February 9, 1795; interment in a lot adjoining the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

CARNES, Thomas Petters, a Representative from Georgia; born in Maryland in 1702; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Mill-Edgeville, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives 1786, 1787, 1789, and 1797; solicitor general for the western circuit of Georgia; attorney general of Georgia from December 22, 1789, until December 8, 1792, when he resigned; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); resumed the practice of law; judge of the Western Circuit Court of Georgia from January 27, 1798, until May 20, 1803, when he resigned, and from December, 1809, to November, 1810; member of the State constitutional convention in 1798; appointed one of the commissioners to settle the boundary disputes between the States of Georgia and North Carolina in 1806; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1807 and 1808; died on his farm in Franklin (now Hart) County, Ga., May 5, 1822; interment in the garden on his estate.

CARPENTER, Cyrus Clay, a Representative from Iowa; born near Harford, Susquehanna County, Pa., November 24, 1829; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Harford Academy in 1853; moved to Iowa in 1854 and engaged in teaching and afterwards in land surveying; studied law, but never practiced; county surveyor of Webster County in 1856; member of the State house of representatives 1856-1860; during the Civil War appointed captain of Volunteers March 24, 1862; lieutenant colonel from September 26, 1864, to July 14, 1865; brevetted colonel of Volunteers "for efficient and meritorious services" July 12, 1865; mustered out July 14, 1865; register of the State land office 1866-1868; Governor of Iowa 1872-1876; Second Comptroller of the Treasury from January, 1876, to September, 1877; appointed railroad commissioner of Iowa March 26, 1878; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for renomination; again served in the State house of representatives 1884-1886; postmaster of Fort Dodge 1889-1893; engaged in the management of his farm and the real-estate business; died in Fort Dodge, Iowa, May 26, 1898; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CARPENTER, Davis, a Representative from New York; born in Walpole, Cheshire County, N. H., December 25, 1799; studied medicine; was graduated from Middlebury (Vt.) College in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Brockport, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Azariah Boody, and served from November 8, 1853, to March 3, 1855; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; engaged in the practice of medicine in Brockport, Monroe County, N. Y., and died there October 22, 1878; interment in the High Street Cemetery.

CARPENTER, Edmund Nelson, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 27, 1865; attended the public schools in Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa.; interested in mining and the manufacture of sheet-metal products; enlisted as a private in 1898 and attained the rank of major in the National Guard of Pennsylvania; during the Spanish-American War served as first lieutenant and quartermaster in the Ninth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry from April 27, 1898, to October 29, 1898; chairman of the Wyoming Valley Chapter of the American Red Cross during the World War; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926 to the Seventieth Congress; resumed his former business activities, and resides in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

CARPENTER, Levi D., a Representative from New York; born in Waterville, Oneida County, N. Y., August 21, 1802; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Waterville, N. Y.; supervisor of the town of Sangerfield in 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel Beardsley, and served from November 5, 1844, to March 3, 1845; was not a candidate for reelection in 1844; resumed the practice of law in Waterville, N. Y., and died there October 27, 1856; interment in the City Cemetery.

CARPENTER, Lewis Cass, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Putnam, Conn., February 20, 1836; attended the public schools; moved to New Jersey, where he taught school; appointed State inspector of public schools in New Jersey in 1863; at an early age begun writing for the press, and was connected with the New York papers for several years; went to Washington, D. C., in 1864, and was employed in the Treasury Department; studied law at Columbian (now George Washington) University, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; Washington newspaper correspondent; moved to Charleston, S. C., in 1867 and became editor of the Charleston Courier; assisted in establishing the Charleston Republican in 1868; secretary to United States Senator William H. Buckingham, of Connecticut, 1868-1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert B. Elliott, and served from November 3, 1874, to March 3, 1875; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Forty-fifth Congress; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1878, and thence, in 1879, to Leadville, where he edited a newspaper; appointed supervisor of the census for Colorado in 1880; appointed United States post-office inspector in 1881 and resigned in 1883; engaged in the insurance business 1883-1890; resumed the practice of law; died in Denver, Colo., March 6, 1908; interment in Fairmount Cemetery.

CARPENTER, Matthew Hale, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Moretown, Washington County, Vt., December 22, 1824; attended the common schools; entered the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1843 and remained two years; studied law in the office of Rufus Choate, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and practiced in Boston, Mass.; moved to Beloit, Wis., in 1848; district attorney of Rock County 1850-1854; moved to Milwaukee in 1858; until the commencement of the Civil War belonged to the Douglas wing of the Democratic Party; represented the Government in the celebrated McCord case, and brought to trial the validity of the reconstruction act of March 7, 1867, for the government of the States then in rebellion, and won the case in the Supreme Court; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; elected President pro tempore of the Senate March 12, 1873, March 26, 1873, December 11, 1873, and December 22, 1874; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1875; resumed the practice of law in Washington and in Milwaukee; again elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1879, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 24, 1881; interment in Forest Home Cemetery, Milwaukee, Wis.

CARR, Francis (father of James Carr), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Newbury, Mass., December 6, 1751; attended the common schools; engaged in the mercantile business; member of the State house of representatives from Haverhill 1791-1795 and 1801-1808, and from Orrington, Me. (then Massachusetts), 1806-1808; served in the State senate 1809-1811; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Barzillai Ganett, and served from April 6, 1812, to March 3, 1813; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1812 to the Thirteenth Congress; resumed mercantile pursuits; died in Bangor, Me., October 6, 1821; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

CARR, James (son of Francis Carr), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bangor, Me. (then a part of Massachusetts), September 9, 1777; attended Exeter and Byfield Academies; clerk on U. S. S. Crescent; appointed as secretary of the United States consul at Algiers and served two years; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Orrington, Me. (then Massachusetts); member of the State house of representatives 1806-1811; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); was drowned in the Ohio River August 24, 1818; memorial headstone placed in Mount Hope Cemetery, Bangor, Me.

CARR, John, a Representative from Indiana; born in Uniontown, Perry County, Ind., April 9, 1798; moved with his parents to Clark County, Ind., in 1806; attended the public schools; fought in the Battle of Tippecanoe; appointed lieutenant in a company of United States Rangers, authorized by an act of Congress for defense of western frontiers, in 1812; brigadier general and major general of the Indiana Militia until his death; county clerk 1824-1830; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Calhoun in 1824; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1837); unsuccessful candidate in 1836 for reelection to the Twenty-fifth Congress; elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); died in Charlestown, Clark County, Ind., January 20, 1845; interment in the Old Cemetery.

CARR, Nathan Tracy, a Representative from Indiana; born in Corning, Steuben County, N. Y., December 25, 1838; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Starkey Academy in 1851; moved to Midland County, Mich.; studied law, was admitted to the Midland County bar in 1858, and commenced practice at Vassar, Mich.; member of the State house of representatives 1858-1860; recorder of Midland County in 1861 and 1862; during the Civil War served as a lieutenant in the Second Regiment Michigan Volunteer Infantry in 1862; moved to Columbus, Ind., in 1867; prosecuting attorney for Bartholomew, Shelby, Jackson, and Brown Counties in 1870; appointed as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Michael C. Kerr, and served from December 5, 1876, to March 3, 1877; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed the practice of law in Columbus, Bartholomew County, Ind.; appointed judge of the ninth judicial circuit court of Indiana in 1878; died in Columbus, Ind., May 28, 1885; interment in the City Cemetery.

CARR, Wooda Nicholas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allegheny City (now a part of Pittsburgh), Pa., February 6, 1871; attended the public schools and Madison College; was graduated from Monacaahela College, Pennsylvania, in 1891; editor of the Uniontown (Pa.) News and the Uniontown Democrat in 1892; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1895, and commenced practice in Uniontown; delegate to the Democratic State conventions in 1898, 1899, 1900, and 1904; chairman of the Democratic committee of Fayette County in 1901, 1902, and 1920; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; president of the Fayette County Bar Association in 1924; is a resident of Uniontown, Pa.

CARRINGTON, Edward, a Delegate from Virginia; born in Goochland County, Va., February 11, 1748; member of the county committee in 1775 and 1776; served in the Revolutionary Army; commissioned lieutenant colonel of Artillery November 30, 1776; served as quartermaster general on the staff of General Greene; commanded the Artillery at the Battle of Hobkirk's Hill, April 24, 1781, and at Yorktown; Member of the Continental Congress in 1785 and 1786; appointed by President Washington marshal of Virginia in 1789; foreman of the jury during the trial of Aaron Burr for treason in 1807; died in Richmond, Va., October 28, 1810; interment in St. John's Cemetery.

CARROLL, Charles (of Carrollton) (cousin of Daniel Carroll), a Delegate and a Senator from Maryland; born in Annapolis, Md., September 20, 1737; attended the Jesuits' College of Bohemia at Hermans Manor, Md., and the College of St. Omer in France; studied civil law at the College of Louis Le Grand in Rheims and the common law at the Temple in London; returned to Baltimore in 1764; delegate to the revolutionary convention of Maryland in 1775; Continental commissioner to Canada in 1778; Member of the Continental Congress from July 18, 1776, to 1778, when he resigned, having been elected to the State senate; signer of the Declaration of Independence; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate; reelected in 1781, and served from March 4, 1789, to November 30, 1792, when he resigned; member of the State Senate of Maryland from 1791 until 1801, when he retired to private life; set the stone marking the beginning of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad July 4, 1828; died in Baltimore, Md., November 14, 1832; at the time of his death he was the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence; interment in the chapel of Doughoregan Manor, near Ellicott City, Howard County, Md.

CARROLL, Charles Hobart, a Representative from New York; born in Bellevue, Georgetown Heights, D. C., May 4, 1794; was graduated from St. Mary's College, Baltimore, Md.; moved to Livingston County, N. Y.; studied law, but never practiced; engaged in agricultural pursuits; land agent; supervisor of Groveland, Livingston County, in 1817, 1818, 1822, 1839, 1840, and again in 1848; county judge 1823-1829; served in the State senate in 1827 and 1828; member of the State assembly in 1836; elected as a Clay Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); presidential elector on the American Party ticket of Fillmore and Donelson in 1856; died in Groveland, N. Y., June 8, 1865; interment in Williamsburgh Cemetery.

CARROLL, Daniel (cousin of Charles Carroll), a Delegate and a Representative from Maryland; born in Upper Marlboro, Prince Georges County, Md., July 22, 1780; attended the common schools; Member of the Continental Congress 1780-1784; delegate to the convention that framed the Federal Constitution; elected as a Federalist to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); member of the first State Senate of Maryland; took an active part in fixing the seat of government; appointed by President Washington in 1791 a commissioner for surveying the District of Columbia; engaged in agricultural pursuits, his farm being the site of the present city of Washington; died at Rock Creek, near Washington, D. C., June 19, 1796; interment in St. John's Catholic Cemetery, Forest Glen, Md.

CARROLL, James, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., December 2, 1791; was graduated from old St. Mary's College at Baltimore in 1808; studied law, but did not practice; settled on a farm on West River; returned to Baltimore, Md., in 1831; judge of the orphans' court; trustee of the poor; served as a director of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. and the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Maryland in 1844; retired from political life; died in Baltimore, Md., January 16, 1873; interment in St. Paul's Burying Ground.

CARROLL, John Michael, a Representative from New York; born in Springfield, Otsego County, N. Y., April 27, 1823; attended the public schools; was graduated from Fairfield Seminary, Fairfield, N. Y., and from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Broadalbin, Fulton County, N. Y.; prosecuting attorney of Fulton County 1859-1862; moved to Johnstown, N. Y., in 1862 and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1872; engaged in the practice of law in Johnstown, Fulton County, N. Y., until his death there on May 8, 1901; interment in Johnstown Cemetery.

CARSON, Samuel Price, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Pleasant Gardens, N. C., January 22, 1796; studied under private tutors in Pleasant Gardens; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State senate 1822-1824; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate in 1833 for reelection to the Twenty-third Congress on account of the sentiment against the nullification doctrine of Calhoun which he supported; again elected to the State senate in 1834; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1835; moved to Texas in 1836; member of the Texas convention that adopted the constitution of that Republic in 1836; appointed Secretary of State for the Republic of Texas in September, 1836, and served until 1838; sent as a commissioner to Washington, D. C., to intercede for the recognition of the independence of Texas in 1836; died at Hot Springs, Ark., November 2, 1838; interment in the Government Cemetery at Hot Springs, Ark.

CARSS, William Leighton, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Pella, Marion County, Iowa, February 15, 1805; moved with his parents to Des Moines, Iowa, in 1807; attended the public schools; studied civil and mechanical engineering and followed that profession for a number of years; moved to St. Louis County, Minn., in 1838 and settled near Duluth; engaged as a locomotive engineer; elected as an Independent to the Sixty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress, and for election in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; elected on the Farmer-Labor ticket to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CARTER, Albert Edward, a Representative from California; born near Visalia, Tulare County, Calif., July 5, 1881; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the San Jose State Normal School in 1903; taught school six years; was graduated from the law department of the University of California at Berkeley in 1913; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Oakland, Calif.; representative of the United States War Department Commission on Training Camps 1917-1918; attorney for the California State Board of Pharmacy in 1920 and 1921; commissioner of public works of Oakland 1921-1925, and while commissioner initiated the plan for a comprehensive development of the harbor on the east side of San Francisco Bay in 1923; president of the Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CARTER, Charles David, a Representative from Oklahoma; born near Boggy Depot, Choctaw Nation, Ind. T. (now Oklahoma), August 16, 1808; moved with his father to Mill Creek, a stage stand on the western frontier of the Chickasaw Nation, in April, 1876; attended the Indian day schools for two terms and the Chickasaw Manual Training Academy; employed on a ranch from 1887 to 1889 and in a mercantile establishment in Ardmore, Okla., from 1889 to 1892; auditor of public accounts of the Chickasaw Nation 1892-1894; member of the Chickasaw Council in 1895; superintendent of schools of the Chickasaw Nation in 1897; appointed mining trustee of Indian Territory by President McKinley in November, 1900, and served four years; secretary of the first Democratic executive committee of the proposed State of Oklahoma from June to December, 1906; upon the admission of Oklahoma as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and to the nine succeeding Congresses, and served from November 16, 1907, to March 3, 1927; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1926; appointed a member of the State highway commission on March 6, 1927, in which capacity he is now serving; resides in Ardmore, Okla.

CARTER, John, a Representative from South Carolina; born on the Black River, near Camden, Sumter District, S. C., September 10, 1792; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1814, and commenced practice in Camden, S. C.; served as commissioner in equity 1814-1820; elected to the Seventeenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Blair; reelected to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses, and served from December 11, 1822, to March 3, 1829; resumed the practice of law in Camden, S. C.; moved to Georgetown, D. C., in 1836, and died there June 20, 1850.

CARTER, Luther Cullen, a Representative from New York; born in Bethel, Me., February 25, 1805; moved to New York City and engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the Board of Education of New York City in 1853; retired from business and moved to Long Island City, where he engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Union Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; died in New York City January 8, 1875; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CARTER, Thomas Henry, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from Montana; born near Portsmouth, Scioto County, Ohio, October 30, 1854; while a child his parents moved to Pana, Ill.; attended the common schools in Illinois; engaged in farming, school teaching, and railroading and at the same time studied law and was admitted to the bar; in 1882 moved from Burlington, Iowa, to Helena, Mont.; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, to November 7, 1889, when the Territory was admitted as a State into the Union; elected as its first Representative, and served from November 8, 1889, to March 3, 1891; unsuccessful candidate in 1890 for reelection to the Fifty-second Congress; Commissioner of the General Land Office from March, 1891, to July, 1892, when he was elected chairman of the Republican National Committee; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896, at Philadelphia in 1900, and at Chicago in 1904; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1896, until March 3, 1901; caucus nominee for reelection by his party, who were in the minority; appointed by President McKinley a member of the board of commissioners of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and served as its president; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1906 to March 3, 1911; again the caucus nominee for reelection by his party, who were in the minority; chairman of the United States section of the International Joint Commission created to prevent disputes regarding the use of boundary waters between the United States and Canada from March 11, 1911, until his death in Washington, D. C., September 17, 1911; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

CARTER, Timothy Jarvis, a Representative from Maine; born in Bethel, in the Maine district of Massachusetts, August 18, 1800; attended the town schools of Bethel; studied law at Northampton, Mass., was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Rumford, Oxford County, Me.; moved to Paris, Oxford County, Me., in 1827 and continued the practice of law; secretary of the State Senate of Maine in 1833; county attorney 1833-1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from September 4, 1837, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 14, 1838; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

CARTER, William Blount, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Elizabethton, Carter County, Tenn., October 22, 1792; attended the public schools; during the War of 1812 served as a colonel; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1834 and served as its presiding officer; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); died in Elizabethton, Tenn., April 17, 1848; interment in the Carter Cemetery.

CARTER, William Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born at Needham Heights, Norfolk County, Mass., June 15, 1804; attended the Avery graded schools and Needham High School; was graduated from Comers Commercial College, Boston, Mass.; served as a mechanic, foreman, superintendent, and general superintendent in the knit-underwear manufacturing plant of the William Carter Co.; member of the State house of representatives in 1906; member of the Republican State committee in 1907 and 1908; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1919); was not a candidate for reelection in 1918; resumed manufacturing activities, and is now president of the William Carter Co.; also interested in real-estate development; resides at Needham Heights, Mass.

CARTER, David Kellogg, a Representative from Ohio; born in Jefferson County, N. Y., June 22, 1812; pursued preparatory studies; studied law in Rochester, N. Y., was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Rochester, N. Y.; four years later moved to Akron, Ohio, and then to Massillon, Ohio, and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1856 and continued the practice of his profession; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; appointed United States minister to Bolivia by President Lincoln, and served from March 27, 1861, to March 10, 1862; appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in 1863, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., April 18, 1887; interment in Lakeview Cemetery, Cleveland, Ohio.

CARUTH, Asher Graham, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Scottsville, Allen County, Ky., February 7, 1844; attended the public schools; was graduated from the high school of Louisville in June, 1864, and from the law department of the University of Louisville, Kentucky, in March, 1866; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Hopkinsville, Christian County, Ky.; established the Kentucky Weekly New Era; moved to Louisville in 1871, and continued the practice of law; attorney of the board of trustees of the public schools of Louisville from 1873 to 1880; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; elected Commonwealth attorney for the ninth judicial district of Kentucky in 1880 for six years and reelected in August, 1886; resigned the office in March, 1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1896); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Louisville, Ky.; judge of the criminal division of the Jefferson County circuit court in 1902; commissioner of the St. Louis Exposition in 1904; died in Louisville, Ky., November 25, 1907; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery.

CARUTHERS, Robert Looney, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Smith County, Tenn., July 31, 1800; engaged in mercantile pursuits 1817-1819; attended Woodward's Academy, near Columbia, Tenn., and Greenville College in 1820 and 1821; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1823; clerk of the State house of representatives in 1824; clerk of the chancery court of Smith County and editor of the Tennessee Republican; moved to Lebanon, Wilson County, Tenn., in 1826; State's attorney 1827-1832; member of the State house of representatives in 1835; was the founder of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., in 1842 and of its law department in 1847; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); appointed judge of the Supreme Court of Tennessee in 1852 to fill a vacancy and elected to the position in 1854, which he held until the beginning of the Civil War; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; elected governor in 1862, but on account of the occupation of the State by Federal forces never assumed the duties of the office; at the close of the Civil War became professor of law in Cumberland University, and served in that capacity until his death in Lebanon, Tenn., October 2, 1882; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

CARUTHERS, Samuel, a Representative from Missouri; born in Madison County, Mo., October 13, 1820; was graduated from Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Fredericktown, Madison County, Mo.; moved to Cape Girardeau, Mo., in 1844; held several local offices; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); reelected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); died in Cape Girardeau, Cape Girardeau County, Mo., July 20, 1860.

CARY, George, a Representative from Georgia; born near Allens Fresh, Charles County, Md., August 7, 1789; received a classical education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Frederick, Md.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Appling, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives 1819-1821; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1827); engaged in the newspaper business and edited the Hickory Nut; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1834; died in Thomaston, Upson County, Ga., September 10, 1843; interment in the Methodist Churchyard.

CARY, George Booth, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Bonny Doon," near Courtland, Southampton County, Va., in 1811; received a liberal education; engaged in planting; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Bethlehem, Va., March 5, 1850; interment in the family cemetery on his estate, "Bonny Doon," near Courtland, Southampton County, Va.

CARY, Jeremiah Eaton, a Representative from New York; born in Coventry, R. I., April 30, 1803; attended the public schools; moved to Cherry Valley, N. Y., in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); resumed the practice of law in New York City; moved to Plainfield, N. J., in 1880, where he continued the practice of law; died at Rockville Center, Long Island, N. Y., in June 1888; interment in Grace Episcopal Church Cemetery, Plainfield, N. J.

CARY, Samuel Fenton, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 18, 1814; attended the public schools of College Hill, a suburb of Cincinnati; was graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1835 and from the Cincinnati Law School in 1837; was admitted to the bar in the latter year and commenced practice in Cincinnati; elected judge of the State supreme court but declined; continued the practice of his profession until 1845, when he devoted himself to temperance and other reforms; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; paymaster general of Ohio under Governors Bartley and Bebb; collector of internal revenue for the first district of Ohio in 1865; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rutherford B. Hayes, and served from November 21, 1867, to March 3, 1869; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress; unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio in 1875; nominated in 1876 by the Greenback National Convention at Indianapolis as a candidate for Vice President; writer and lecturer for twenty years; died at the Cary homestead in College Hill, Cincinnati, Ohio, September 29, 1900; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

CARY, Shepard, a Representative from Maine; born in New Salem, Mass., July 3, 1805; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Houlton, Me., in 1822; engaged in extensive lumber operations and also in agricultural and mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1832, 1833, 1839-1842, 1848, 1849, and 1862; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Van Buren and Johnson in 1836; served in the State senate 1843 and 1850-1853; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress; took his seat May 10, 1844, and served until March 3, 1845; candidate of the Liberty Party for governor in 1854; died in Houlton, Aroostook County, Me., August 9, 1866; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CARY, William Joseph, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Milwaukee, Wis., March 22, 1805; educated in the public and parochial schools of his native city; was left an orphan at the age of eleven, when he became a messenger boy; studied telegraphy and employed as a telegraph operator in 1833; elected a member of the Board of Aldermen of Milwaukee in 1900; reelected in 1902 for the term ending in 1904; elected sheriff of Milwaukee County in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1918; elected county clerk of Milwaukee County in November, 1920, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Milwaukee.

CASE, Charles, a Representative from Indiana; born in Austinburg, Ohio, December 21, 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Fort Wayne, Ind.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel Brenton; reelected to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from December 7, 1857, to March 3, 1861; during the Civil War served as first lieutenant and adjutant of the Forty-fourth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry; subsequently became a major in the Third Regiment Indiana Volunteer Cavalry, and served from November 26, 1861, to August 15, 1862; died in Brighton, Washington County, Iowa, June 30, 1883; interment in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

CASE, Walter, a Representative from New York; born in Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1776; educated by private tutors; attended Newburgh Academy, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and commenced practice in Newburgh; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); affiliated with the Whig Party after its formation; resumed the practice of law; moved to New York City in 1844 and continued the practice of law until 1848, when he retired; died in Fishkill, Dutchess County, N. Y., October 7, 1859; interment in Fishkill Rural Cemetery.

CASEY, John Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wilkes-Barre Township, Luzerne County, Pa., May 26, 1875; attended the public schools and St. Mary's parochial schools; member of the State house of representatives 1907-1909; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; appointed a member of the advisory council to the Secretary of the United States Department of Labor in 1918; appointed labor adviser and executive of the labor adjustment division, Emergency Fleet Corporation, United States Shipping Board, during the World War; elected to the Sixty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920; elected to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924; business agent for the Plumbers and Steam Fitters' Union; is a resident of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CASEY, Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born at Ringgold Manor, Washington County, Md., December 17, 1814; studied law in Carlisle, Pa., was admitted to the bar in 1838, and commenced practice in Bloomfield, Perry County, Pa.; moved to New Berlin, Pa., and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1850; again engaged in the practice of his profession; in 1856 was appointed reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which position he held until 1861; was appointed in 1861 by President Lincoln one of the judges of the Court of Claims; upon the reorganization of that court in 1863 was appointed chief justice and was the first person to serve in that capacity, holding the position until December, 1870, when he resigned; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death, February 10, 1879; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

CASEY, Levi, a Representative from South Carolina; born in that State about 1752; served in the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War; elected brigadier general of militia; justice of Newberry County court in 1785; member of the State house of representatives; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1803, until his death, before the close of the Ninth Congress, in Washington, D. C., February 3, 1807; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

CASEY, Lyman Rufus, a Senator from North Dakota; born in York, Livingston County, N. Y., May 6, 1837; moved with his parents to Ypsilanti, Mich., in 1853; received a classical education; engaged in the hardware business for many years; moved to Carrington, Foster County, Dak., in 1882; engaged in agricultural pursuits and owned one of the largest ranches of North Dakota of that period, containing about 100,000 acres; chairman of the North Dakota Committee on Irrigation; commissioner of Foster County in 1887; upon the admission of North Dakota as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from November 25, 1889, to March 3, 1893; moved to New York City; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1893; returned to Washington, D. C., and died there January 26, 1914; interment in Greenmount Cemetery, Baltimore, Md.

CASEY, Samuel Lewis, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Caseyville, Union County, Ky., February 12, 1821; attended the country schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1860-1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the expulsion of Henry C. Burnett, and served from March 10, 1862, to March 3, 1863; retired from active business pursuits; died in St. Joseph, Mo., August 25, 1902; the remains were cremated in St. Louis, Mo., and the ashes interred in Caseyville Cemetery, Caseyville, Ky.

CASEY, Zadoc, a Representative from Illinois; born in Greene County, Ga., March 7, 1796; attended the common schools; moved to Illinois in 1819 and settled near the present site of Mount Vernon, Jefferson County; member of the State house of representatives 1822-1826; served in the State senate 1826-1830; elected Lieutenant Governor of Illinois in 1830; volunteer in the Black Hawk War in 1832; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1842 to the Twenty-eighth Congress; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1848 and 1860; again a member of the State house of representatives 1848-1852, and served as speaker in 1852; again served in the State senate 1860-1862; retired to his farm, "Elm Hill," near Mount Vernon, Ill.; died in Caseyville, St. Clair County, Ill., which was named after him, September 4, 1862; interment in the old Union Cemetery, near Mount Vernon, Ill.

CASKIE, John Samuels, a Representative from Virginia; born in Richmond, Va., November 8, 1821; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1842; studied law, was admitted to the bar about 1842, and practiced in Richmond; prosecuting attorney of the city of Richmond 1842-1846; judge of the Richmond and Henrico circuits 1846-1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1858; resumed the practice of law; died in Richmond, Va., December 16, 1869; interment in Hollywood Cemetery.

CASON, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from Indiana; born near Brownsville, Union County, Ind., September 13, 1828; moved to Boone County with his parents, who settled on a farm near Thorntown in 1832; attended the common schools; taught school in Boone County for several years; studied law in Crawfordsville, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Lebanon, Ind.; member of the State house of representatives 1861-1864; member of the State senate 1864-1867; appointed by Governor Baker common pleas judge of Boone County in April, 1867, and was subsequently elected to the same office in October, 1867, for a term of four years; declined reelection and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed the practice of law in Lebanon, Ind.; moved to Washington, D. C., in 1897, and abandoned the practice of law because of a physical breakdown; died in Washington, D. C., July 10, 1901; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Lebanon, Boone County, Ind.

CASS, Lewis, a Senator from Michigan; born in Exeter, N. H., October 9, 1782; attended Exeter Academy; moved with his parents to Wilmington, Del., in 1790 and taught school there; set out on foot for the Northwest Territory in 1801 and settled on a farm near Zanesville, Ohio; studied law under Governor Meigs in Marietta, Ohio, and was admitted to the bar in 1802; member of the State house of representatives in 1806; United States marshal for the district of Ohio from 1807 until 1812, when he resigned to enlist in the Army; colonel of the Twenty-seventh Regiment United States Infantry February 20, 1813; promoted to rank of brigadier general March 20, 1813; contributed much to General Harrison's decisive victory over the British under Proctor and the Indians under Tecumseh, his name being associated with that of Perry, who fought with him side by side; resigned May 1, 1814; military and civil Governor of Michigan Territory 1813-1831; settled in Detroit; appointed Secretary of War by President Jackson, and served in his Cabinet from August 1, 1831, to October 5, 1836, when he resigned, having been appointed to a diplomatic post; United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to France from October 24, 1836, to November 12, 1842; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1845, until May 20, 1848, when he resigned, having been nominated for President of the United States; unsuccessful candidate for President on the Democratic ticket in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation; was reelected, and served from January 20, 1849, to March 3, 1857; appointed Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Buchanan and served from March 6, 1857, until December 14, 1860, when he resigned; returned to Detroit, Mich., and engaged in literary pursuits; died in Detroit, Mich., June 17, 1866; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

CASSEDY, George, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hackensack, Bergen County, N. J., September 16, 1788; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and commenced practice in Hackensack, N. J.; postmaster of Hackensack from June 10, 1805, to January 1, 1806; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); died in Hackensack, Bergen County, N. J., December 31, 1842; interment in the cemetery of the First Reformed Church.

CASSEL, Henry Burd, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Marietta, Lancaster County, Pa., October 19, 1855; attended the public schools of Marietta and the Columbia Classical Institute; member of the Republican county committee in 1881; chairman of the county committee in 1898; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; member of the State house of representatives in 1898 and 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marriott Brosius; reelected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from November 5, 1901, to March 3, 1909; engaged in business as a manufacturer and contractor in Marietta, Pa., where he now resides.

CASSELY, Eugene, a Senator from California; born in Mullinger, County Westmeath, Ireland, November 13, 1820; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in New York in 1822; prepared for college by his father, who was a student of the classics; was graduated from Georgetown College, Washington, D. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and commenced practice in New York City; editor of the Freeman's Journal and contributor to newspapers in other cities; corporation counsel of New York City in 1846 and 1847; moved to San Francisco, Calif., in 1850 and published the Public Balance, the True Balance, and the Standard; elected State printer May 1, 1851; retired from journalism and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1860, until November 29, 1873, when he resigned; again engaged in the practice of law in San Francisco, Calif.; member of the constitutional convention of California in 1878 and 1879; died in San Francisco June 14, 1883; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

CASSIDY, George Williams, a Representative from Nevada; born near Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., April 25, 1836; attended the public schools and was educated by private tutors; studied law, but never practiced; moved to Eureka, Nev., in 1870; engaged in newspaper work; member of the State senate 1872-1879, and served as president during the session of 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; appointed national-bank examiner for Nevada, Utah, California, and Colorado by President Cleveland, and served from 1886 to 1890; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress and in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1892; nominated as a candidate for election to the Fifty-third Congress but died before the election; died in Reno, Nev., June 24, 1892; interment in Hillside Cemetery.

CASSIDY, James Henry, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cleveland, Ohio, October 28, 1869; attended the public schools; studied law at the Cleveland Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1899, and commenced practice in Cleveland, Ohio; clerk of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, House of Representatives, during the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served until January 11, 1909, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Theodore E. Burton, and served from April 20, 1909, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Cleveland, Ohio; receiver of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Coal Co.; moved to New York in 1915 and engaged in the business of a broker; president of an express company; died in Forest Hills Gardens, N. Y., August 23, 1926; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery, Kew Gardens, Long Island, N. Y.

CASSINGHAM, John Wilson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Coshocton, Coshocton County, Ohio, June 22, 1840; attended the public schools; deputy treasurer of the county 1857-1868; county auditor 1880-1887; engaged in coal mining and in the manufacture of paper; trustee of the public library of Coshocton; member of the board of education; president of the Coshocton Board of Trade; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1904 to the Fifty-ninth Congress; engaged in banking, and is a resident of Coshocton, Ohio.

CASTLE, Curtis Harvey, a Representative from California; born near Galesburg, Knox County, Ill., October 4, 1848; attended the public schools and Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.; was graduated from the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1872, and from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Keokuk, Iowa, in 1878; practiced his profession in Wayland, Henry County, Iowa, until 1882, when he moved to California and settled in Merced, Merced County, and continued the practice of medicine; served from 1894 to 1896 as a member of the American Academy of Medicine, as chairman of the Populist executive committee of Merced County, and as a member of the State executive committee; elected as the candidate of the Populist and Democratic Parties to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of medicine, and is a resident of Merced, Calif.

CASTLE, James Nathan, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Shefford, Province of Quebec, Canada, May 23, 1836; attended the public schools; studied law; moved to Afton, Washington County, Minn., in 1862 and taught school; completed his law studies, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Stillwater, Washington County, Minn., in 1865 and continued the practice of law; elected county attorney in 1866 to fill the unexpired term of his deceased brother; city attorney in 1868; elected to the State senate in 1868 and 1878, and again in 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; engaged in the practice of law until his death in Stillwater, Minn., January 2, 1903; interment in Fairview Cemetery.

CASTOR, George Albert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Holmesburg (a part of the city of Philadelphia), Pa., August 6, 1855; attended the public schools; entered a cloth house early in life and subsequently became a merchant tailor with large establishments in New York City, Boston, and Philadelphia; retired from active business pursuits in 1875; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination of Congressman at large in 1892; member of the Republican city committee for fifteen years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Burk; reelected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, and served from February 16, 1904, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., February 19, 1906; interment in the Emanuel Protestant Episcopal Cemetery, Holmesburg.

CASWELL, Lucien Bonaparte, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Swanton, Franklin County, Vt., November 27, 1827; moved to Wisconsin in 1837 with his parents, who settled on Lake Koshkonong, in Rock County; attended the common schools, Milton Academy, and Beloit College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Fort Atkinson, Wis.; district attorney of Jefferson County in 1855 and 1856; served on the local school board for nearly sixty-five years; organized the First National Bank of Fort Atkinson in 1868, serving as president at the time of his death; member of the State assembly in 1863, 1872, and 1874; during the Civil War served as commissioner of the second district board of enrollment from September, 1863, to May 5, 1865; organized the Northwestern Manufacturing Co. in 1866 and continued in its activities during his lifetime; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1882; organized the Ottumwa State Bank in 1885, serving as its president for many years; elected to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of law in Fort Atkinson, Jefferson County, Wis.; died in Fort Atkinson, Wis., April 26, 1919; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CASWELL, Richard, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Harford (now Baltimore) County, Md., August 8, 1729; moved to North Carolina in 1746; appointed deputy surveyor of the colony in 1750; clerk of the court of Orange County 1752-1754; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1754, and commenced practice in Hillsboro, N. C.; member of the colonial house of delegates 1754-1771, and served as speaker the last two years; commanded the right wing of Governor Tryon's army at the Battle of Alamance in 1771; served in the Revolutionary Army; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1776; commanded the patriots at the Battle of Moores Creek Bridge, North Carolina, February 23, 1776; appointed brigadier general of the New Bern District by the Provincial Congress in 1776; delegate to the State constitutional convention and its president in 1776; Governor of North Carolina 1776-1780, serving without pay from 1776 to 1778; commanded the North Carolina troops at the Battle of Camden in 1780; comptroller general in 1782; member of the State senate 1782-1784 and served as speaker; again elected governor in 1785 and served until 1788; appointed delegate from North Carolina to the convention that framed the Federal Constitution in 1787, but did not attend; member of the State convention at Fayetteville, N. C., that adopted the Federal Constitution in 1789; member and speaker of the State house of commons in 1789; and served until his death in Fayetteville, N. C., November 10, 1789; interment in the family cemetery on his estate near Kinston, Lenoir County, N. C.

CATCHINGS, Thomas Clendinen, a Representative from Mississippi; born near Brownsville, Hinds County, Miss., January 11, 1847; was tutored at home; attended the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1859 and Oakland College in 1861; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861 and served as a private in Company A, Eighteenth Mississippi Infantry, and subsequently in Company C, Eleventh (Perrin's) Mississippi Cavalry; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Vicksburg; elected to the State senate in 1875, but resigned in 1877, having been nominated as a candidate for attorney general; elected attorney general of Mississippi in 1877; reelected in 1881 and served until February 16, 1885, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law; also served as division counsel for the Southern Railway Co.; member of the Mississippi Code Commission by appointment of Governor Vardaman; died in Vicksburg, Miss., December 24, 1927; interment in City Cemetery.

CATE, George Washington, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Montpelier, Washington County, Vt., September 17, 1825; attended the common schools; studied law, and was admitted to the bar at Montpelier in 1845; moved to Wisconsin the same year and commenced the practice of law in Plover, Portage County; member of the State assembly in 1852 and 1853; moved to Stevens Point; elected judge of the circuit court in April, 1854, and served in that capacity until March 4, 1875, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as an Independent Reformer to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Stevens Point, Portage County, Wis., and died there March 7, 1905; interment in Forest Cemetery.

CATE, William Henderson, a Representative from Arkansas; born near Murfreesboro, Rutherford County, Tenn., November 11, 1839; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville in 1857; taught school in the South and West; served in the Confederate Army in the Civil War and was promoted to captain; moved to Jonesboro, Craighead County, Ark., in 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Jonesboro; member of the State house of representatives 1871-1878 and the extra session of 1874; elected prosecuting attorney in 1878; appointed and subsequently elected judge of the second judicial circuit of Arkansas in 1884; organized the Bank of Jonesboro in 1887; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, to March 5, 1890, when he was succeeded by Lewis P. Featherstone, who contested the election; elected to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); resumed the practice of law; died in Toledo, Ohio, August 23, 1899; interment in the City Cemetery, Jonesboro, Ark.

CATHCART, Charles William, a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Funchal, Island of Madeira, where his father was the United States consul, July 24, 1809; came to the United States with his parents in 1815; sailed with his parents to Cadiz, Spain, in 1817; attended private schools; returned to the United States in 1819; became a sailor before the mast; moved to Washington, D. C., in 1830, and was a clerk in the General Land Office; went with the ammunition team to Fort Dearborn (now Chicago), Ill., in 1832; joined a military company under the command of Captain Finch; justice of the peace at New Durham Township, Ind., in 1833; engaged in agricultural pursuits near La Porte, Ind., in 1837; United States land surveyor; member of the State senate 1837-1840; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Polk and Dallas in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Whitcomb, and served from December 6, 1852, to March 3, 1853; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; engaged in agricultural pursuits; died on his farm near La Porte, La Porte County, Ind., August 22, 1888; interment in Pine Lake Cemetery.

CATLIN, George Smith, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Harwinton, Conn., August 24, 1808; attended the common schools, Amherst (Mass.) College, and the Litchfield (Conn.) Law School; was admitted to the bar in 1828, and practiced in Windham, Conn., 1829-1851; member of the State house of representatives in 1831 and again in 1840; secretary to the governor 1831-1833; prosecuting attorney for Windham County in 1842 and 1843; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Governor of Connecticut in 1848; served in the State senate in 1850; judge of the Windham County court in 1850 and 1851; died in Windham, Conn., December 26, 1851; interment in Windham Cemetery.

CATLIN, Theron Ephron, a Representative from Missouri; born in St. Louis, Mo., May 16, 1878; attended private schools; was graduated from Harvard University in 1899 and from the law department of the same institution in 1902; was admitted to the bar in 1803 and commenced practice in St. Louis, Mo.; member of the State house of representatives 1807-1808; presented credentials as a Republican Member elect to the Sixty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1911, to August 12, 1912, when he was succeeded by Patrick F. Gill, who contested the election; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in St. Louis, Mo., where he now resides.

CATRON, Thomas Benton, a Delegate and a Senator from New Mexico; born near Lexington, Lafayette County, Mo., October 6, 1840; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1860; served four years in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; moved to New Mexico in 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and practiced; district attorney of the third district 1868-1869; in 1869 was appointed attorney general of the Territory; resigned to take the position of United States attorney, to which he was appointed by President Grant; member of the Territorial council in 1884, 1888, 1890, 1899, 1905, and 1909; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law in Santa Fe, N. Mex.; upon the admission of New Mexico as a State into the Union was elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 27, 1912, to March 3, 1917; died in Santa Fe, N. Mex., May 15, 1921; interment in Fairview Cemetery.

CATTELL, Alexander Gilmore, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Salem, N. J., February 12, 1810; received an academic education; engaged in mercantile pursuits in his native town until 1846; member of the New Jersey General Assembly in 1840, and served as clerk of that body 1842-1844; member of the State constitutional convention in 1844; moved to Philadelphia in 1846 and engaged in business and banking; member of the Philadelphia City Council 1848-1858; organized the Corn Exchange Bank and was president 1858-1871; moved to Merchantville, N. J., in 1863; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to succeed John P. Stockton, whose seat was declared vacant, and served from September 19, 1866, to March 3, 1871; was not a candidate for reelection; appointed by President Grant a member of the first United States Civil Service Commission and served two years, resigning to accept the position of United States financial agent in London and served 1873-74; member of New Jersey Board of Tax Assessors 1884-1891, and was president 1889-1891; appointed member of the State board of education in 1891 for a term of three years; died in Jamestown, Chautauqua County, N. Y., April 8, 1894; interment in the Colestown Cemetery, near Merchantville, Camden County, N. J.

CAULFIELD, Bernard Gregory, a Representative from Illinois; born in Alexandria, Va., October 18, 1828; received a classical education; was graduated from Georgetown College, Washington, D. C., in 1848 and from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1850; was admitted to the bar in 1850 and commenced the practice of law in Lexington, Ky.; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1853 and continued the practice of his profession; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John B. Rice; reelected to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from February 1, 1875, to March 3, 1877; was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed the practice of law; moved to Dakota Territory in 1878 and settled in Deadwood; continued the practice of law and became a large landowner; died in Deadwood, S. Dak., December 19, 1887; interment in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo.

CAULFIELD, Henry Stewart, a Representative from Missouri; born in St. Louis, Mo., December 9, 1873; attended the St. Louis public schools and St. Charles College, St. Charles, Mo.; was graduated from the law department of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., in 1895; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in St. Louis; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1904 to the Fifty-ninth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination in 1908; excise commissioner of St. Louis in 1909 and 1910; judge of the St. Louis court of appeals 1910-1912; member of the St. Louis Public Library Board 1918-1921; resumed the practice of law in St. Louis, Mo.; city counselor in 1921 and 1922; chairman of the board of freeholders to merge the city of St. Louis and St. Louis County, and served from June 5, 1925, to June 3, 1926; is a resident of St. Louis.

CAUSEY, John Williams, a Representative from Delaware; born in Milford, Kent County, Del., September 19, 1841; attended a private school and Albany Academy, New York, and was graduated from the Pennsylvania Agricultural College; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State senate 1875-1877; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884; appointed internal-revenue collector for Delaware by President Cleveland in 1885 and served until 1887; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; resumed agricultural pursuits; president of an insurance company; died in Milford, Del., October 1, 1908; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

CAUSIN, John M. S., a Representative from Maryland; born in St. Marys County, Md., in 1811; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Prince Georges County about 1836; returned to St. Marys County and commenced the practice of law in Leonardtown, Md.; member of the State house of representatives in 1837 and again in 1843; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); moved to Annapolis, Md.; delegate to the State constitutional convention; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Taylor and Fillmore in 1848; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1858 and resumed the practice of law; died in Cairo, Alexander County, Ill., January 30, 1861, while en route to his home after a visit with relatives in Little Rock, Ark.; interment in the City Cemetery, now Lincoln Park, Chicago.

CAVANAUGH, James Michael, a Representative from Minnesota and a Delegate from the Territory of Montana; born in Springfield, Mass., July 4, 1823; received an academic education; engaged in newspaper work; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and began practice in Davenport, Iowa; moved to Chatfield, Fillmore County, Minn., in 1854 and continued the practice of law; upon the admission of Minnesota as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress, and served from May 11, 1858, to March 3, 1859; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; moved to Colorado in 1861 and resumed the practice of law; also engaged in mining; member of the State constitutional convention in 1865; moved to Montana in 1866; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1870; engaged in the practice of law in New York City; returned to Colorado in 1879 and settled in Leadville, where he died October 30, 1879; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, New York City.

CELLER, Emanuel, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 6, 1888; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Boys' High School of Brooklyn in 1906, from Columbia College, New York City, in 1910, and from Columbia University Law School, New York City, in 1912; was admitted to the bar in 1912 and commenced practice in New York City; organized and served as vice president of the Madison State Bank of New York City; Government appeal agent on the draft board during the World War; trustee and joint counsel of the Queensboro Savings Bank; director and counsel for the Reliance Investment Co.; organized the Butchers' Mutual Casualty Co., the Retail Butchers' Corporation, and the Retail Butchers' Holding Co., and counsel for same; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1922 and 1924; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CESSNA, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Bedford County, Pa., June 29, 1821; attended the common schools and Hall's Military Academy, Bedford, Pa.; was graduated from Marshall College, Mercersburg, Pa., in 1842; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Bedford; member of the State house of representatives in 1850, 1851, 1862, and 1863, and served as speaker of the house in 1850 and 1863; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1856 and at Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; affiliated with the Republican Party in 1863; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1865; elected chairman of the Republican State central committee in 1865; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868, at Cincinnati in 1876, and again at Chicago in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; elected to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Bedford, Pa., where he died December 13, 1893; interment in Bedford Cemetery.

CHACE, Jonathan, a Representative and a Senator from Rhode Island; born at Fall River, Mass., July 22, 1829; attended the public schools and Friends' School at Providence, R. I.; moved to Central Falls, R. I.; engaged in cotton manufacturing; member of the State senate in 1876 and 1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1881, to January 20, 1885, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry B. Anthony; reelected, and served from January 20, 1885, to April 9, 1889, when he resigned; president of the Phoenix National Bank of Providence, R. I., and interested in several manufacturing enterprises; died in Providence, R. I., June 30, 1917; interment in the North Burial Ground.

CHAFFEE, Calvin Clifford, a Representative from Massachusetts; born at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 28, 1811; attended the common schools; studied medicine, and was graduated from the medical school of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., in 1835; settled in Springfield, Mass., where he began the practice of his profession; elected on the American Party ticket to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; librarian of the National House of Representatives 1859-1861; settled in Washington, D. C., and engaged in the practice of medicine until 1876, when he moved to Springfield, Mass.; president of the Union Relief Association 1880-1883; president of Hampden County Children's Aid Association; died in Springfield, Hampden County, Mass., August 8, 1896; interment in Springfield Cemetery.

CHAFFEE, Jerome Buntz, a Delegate from the Territory of Colorado and a Senator from Colorado; born in Niagara County, N. Y., April 17, 1825; attended the public schools of Lockport, N. Y.; moved to Adrian, Mich., in 1844, where he taught school and clerked in a store; moved in 1852 to St. Joseph, Mo., and later to Elmwood, Kans.; engaged in banking and the real-estate business in the two last-named places; moved to the Territory of Colorado in 1860 and engaged in mining and stamp-mill operations at Lake Gulch, Gilpin County; member of the Territorial house of representatives 1861-1868, and served in 1863 as speaker of the house; one of the founders of the city of Denver; president of the First National Bank of Denver from 1865 until 1880; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); upon the admission of Colorado as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from November 15, 1876, to March 3, 1879; was not a candidate for reelection; chairman of the Republican State executive committee in 1884; died in Salem Center, Westchester County, N. Y., March 9, 1886; interment in Adrian Cemetery, Adrian, Lenawee County, Mich.

CHALMERS, James Ronald (son of Joseph Williams Chalmers), a Representative from Mississippi; born near Lynchburg, Halifax County, Va., January 12, 1831; moved with his parents in 1835 to Jackson, Tenn., and in 1839 to Holly Springs, Miss.; attended St. Thomas Hall, Holly Springs, Miss., and was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1851; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice at Holly Springs; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; district attorney for the seventh judicial district of Mississippi in 1858; member of the secession convention of Mississippi in 1861; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a captain in March, 1861; elected colonel of the Ninth Mississippi Regiment in April, 1861; promoted to the rank of brigadier general in February, 1862; transferred to the Cavalry service in 1863; surrendered in May, 1865, in command of the first division of Forrest's cavalry corps; member of the State senate in 1876 and 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1881, to April 29, 1882, when he was succeeded by John R. Lynch, who contested the election; elected as an Independent to the Forty-eighth Congress, and, after a contest with Van H. Manning as to the legality of his election, took his seat June 25, 1884, and served until March 3, 1885; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Memphis, Tenn., where he died April 9, 1898; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

CHALMERS, Joseph Williams (father of James Ronald Chalmers), a Senator from Mississippi; born in Halifax County, Va., in 1807; studied law in the University of Virginia at Charlottesville and in Richmond, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Jackson, Tenn., in 1835, and subsequently, in 1839, to Holly Springs, Miss., and engaged in the practice of his profession in both places; vice chancellor of the northern Mississippi district in 1842 and 1843; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States

Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert J. Walker, and served from November 3, 1845, to March 3, 1847; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cass and Butler in 1848; engaged in the practice of law in Holly Springs, Marshall County, Miss., until his death there in June, 1858.

CHALMERS, William Wallace, a Representative from Ohio; born in Strathroy, Ontario, Canada, November 1, 1861; moved with his parents to Kent County, Mich., in 1865; attended the public schools, the Grand Rapids (Mich.) High School, and the Michigan State Normal School; was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1887, from Eureka (Ill.) College in 1889, and from Heidelberg University, Tiffin, Ohio, in 1904; teacher and principal of schools until 1890; superintendent of schools in Grand Rapids, Mich., 1890-1898, and Toledo, Ohio, 1898-1905; president of Toledo University in 1904; engaged at different periods in farming, lumbering, and in the real-estate and insurance business; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922; elected to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). *Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CHAMBERLAIN, Ebenezer Mattoon, a Representative from Indiana; born in Orrington, Me., August 20, 1805; attended the public schools; employed in his father's shipyard; studied law; moved to Connorsville, Ind., where he completed his studies; was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Elkhart County in 1833; member of the State house of representatives 1835-1837; served in the State senate 1839-1842; elected prosecuting attorney of the ninth judicial circuit in 1842; elected president judge of the ninth judicial district in 1843, reelected in 1851, and served until he resigned, having been elected to Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); engaged in the practice of law in Goshen, Elkhart County, Ind., until his death there March 14, 1861; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

CHAMBERLAIN, George Earle, a Senator from Oregon; born on a plantation near Natchez, Adams County, Miss., January 1, 1854; attended private and public schools in Natchez; clerk in a general merchandise store in Natchez 1870-1872; was graduated from the literary and law departments of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in June, 1876; moved to Oregon in December, 1876; taught school in Linn County; deputy clerk of Linn County from 1877 to 1879, when he resigned; was admitted to the bar in 1879 and commenced the practice of law in Albany, Linn County, Ore.; member of the State house of representatives 1880-1882; district attorney for the third judicial district 1884-1888; appointed and subsequently elected attorney general of Oregon, and served from 1891 to 1894, with residence in Portland; continued the practice of law in Portland; district attorney for the fourth judicial district 1900-1902; elected Governor of Oregon in 1902 and reelected in 1906; resigned as governor after serving two years of his second term, having been elected Senator; elected in 1908 as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1914, and served from March 4, 1909, to March 3, 1921; was chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs during the entire period of the World War; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Senate in 1920; member of the United States Shipping Board from June 13, 1921, to June 30, 1923, when he resigned; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., and died there on July 9, 1928; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

CHAMBERLAIN, Jacob Payson, a Representative from New York; born in Dudley, Mass., August 1, 1802; moved with his parents to Seneca Falls, N. Y., in 1807; attended the public schools; operated flour mills, malt houses, and woolen mills; organized the first savings bank of the village; supervisor of Seneca Falls; member of the board of education; member of the State assembly 1850-1861; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the flour-milling business; died at Seneca Falls, Seneca County, N. Y., October 5, 1878; interment in Restvale Cemetery.

CHAMBERLAIN, John Curtis, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Worcester, Mass., June 5, 1772; was graduated from Harvard College in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and commenced practice in Alstead, Cheshire County, N. H.; member of the State house of representatives 1802-1804; moved to Charlestown, N. H., in 1804; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1818; moved to Honeoye Falls, Monroe County, N. Y., in 1828, and thence to Utica, N. Y., where he died December 8, 1834.

CHAMBERLAIN, William, a Representative from Vermont; born in Hopkinton, Mass., April 27, 1755; attended the common schools; moved with his father to Loudon, N. H., in 1774; served as sergeant during the Revolutionary War; engaged in land surveying and farming; moved to Peacham, Vt., in 1780; clerk of the proprietors of the town the same year; town clerk 1785-1797; town representative twelve years; member of the State house of representatives 1785, 1787-1796, 1805, and 1808; justice of the peace 1789-1796; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1791; brigadier general of State militia in 1794; major general in 1799; assistant judge of Orange County in 1795 and chief judge of Caledonia County 1796-1803; secretary of the board of trustees of the Caledonia County Grammar School 1795-1812, and president 1813-1828; State councillor 1796-1803; Federalist presidential elector in 1800; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); reelected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); Lieutenant Governor of Vermont 1813-1815; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1814; died in Peacham, Caledonia County, Vt., September 27, 1828; interment in Peacham Cemetery.

CHAMBERS, David, a Representative from Ohio; born in Allentown, Pa., November 25, 1780; tutored by his father; was a confidential express rider for President Washington during the whisky insurrection in 1794; learned the art of printing; moved to Zanesville, Ohio, in 1810, where he established a newspaper and was elected State printer; volunteer aide-de-camp to General Cass in the War of 1812; served as recorder and mayor of Zanesville; member of the State house of representatives 1814, 1828, 1836-1838, 1841, and 1842; clerk of the State Senate of Ohio in 1817; clerk of the court of common pleas of Muskingum County 1817-1821; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress; subsequently elected to the Seventeenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Representative elect John C. Wright, and served from October 9, 1821, to March 3, 1823; was not a candidate for renomination; affiliated with the Whig Party after its formation; member of the State senate in 1843 and 1844; president of the senate in 1844; delegate to the State constitutional convention of 1850; engaged in agricultural pursuits until 1856; died in Zanesville, Muskingum County, Ohio, August 8, 1864; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CHAMBERS, Ezekiel Forman, a Senator from Maryland; born in Chestertown, Kent County, Md., February 28, 1788; was graduated from Washington College at Chestertown in 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1808, and commenced practice at Chestertown in 1808; served in the War of 1812, attaining the rank of brigadier general; member of the State senate in 1822; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Lloyd; reelected in 1831, and served from January 24, 1826, until his resignation in 1834; presiding judge of the second judicial circuit of Maryland and judge of the court of appeals 1834-1851; was offered the position of Secretary of the Navy by President Fillmore in 1852, but declined; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1864; died in Chestertown, Md., January 30, 1867; interment in Chester Cemetery.

CHAMBERS, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chambersburg, Pa., February 24, 1786; received a classical education and attended the Chambersburg Academy; was graduated from Princeton College in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and commenced practice in Chambersburg; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); resumed the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention in 1837; appointed a Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania April 12, 1851, which position he held until it was vacated by constitutional provision; died in Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pa., March 25, 1866; interment in the Falling Spring Presbyterian Churchyard.

CHAMBERS, Henry H., a Senator from Alabama; born near Kenbridge, Lunenburg County, Va., October 1, 1790; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1808 and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1811; moved to Madison, Ala., in 1812 and engaged in the practice of medicine; served in the earlier Indian wars as a surgeon on the staff of Gen. Andrew Jackson; returned to Alabama and settled in Huntsville; member of the State constitutional convention in 1819; member of the State house of representatives in 1820; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1821 and 1823; Democratic presidential elector on the Jackson ticket in 1824; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1825, until his death near Kenbridge, Lunenburg County, Va., February 24, 1826, while en route to Washington, D. C., to attend the opening session of the Twenty-seventh Congress; interment in the family burial ground near Kenbridge, Va.

CHAMBERS, John, a Representative from Kentucky; born at Bromley Bridge, Somerset County, N. J., October 6, 1780; attended the public schools and the Transylvania Seminary, Lexington, Ky.; moved with his father to Washington, Mason County, Ky., in 1794; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1800, and commenced practice in Washington, Ky.; served as aide-de-camp to General Harrison in the War of 1812 and was at the Battle of the Thames; member of the State house of representatives in 1812, 1815, 1830, and 1831; appointed judge of the court of appeals in 1825; resigned in 1827; elected as a Whig to the Twentieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Metcalfe, and served from December 1, 1828, to March 3, 1829; elected to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); Governor of the Territory of Iowa 1841-1845; commissioner to negotiate a treaty with the Sioux Indians in 1849; died near Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., September 21, 1852; interment in the family burial ground at Washington, Mason County, Ky.

CHAMPION, Epaphroditus, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Westchester parish, Colchester, Conn., April 6, 1756; educated by private tutors and in the common schools; served during the Revolutionary War in the commissary and purchasing departments of the American Army; moved to East Haddam, Conn., in 1782; served as captain in the Twenty-fourth Regiment of State militia 1784-1792, as major 1793 and 1794, as lieutenant colonel 1795-1798, and as brigadier general of the Seventh Brigade 1800-1803; merchant, shipowner, exporter, and importer; member of the State assembly 1791-1806; elected as a Federalist to the Tenth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1817); resumed his former business activities, but soon retired to private life; died in East Haddam, Conn., December 22, 1834; interment in River-view Cemetery.

CHAMPLIN, Christopher Grant, a Representative and a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., April 12, 1768; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Harvard College in 1786 and continued his studies at the College of St. Omer in France; elected to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1801); engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Francis Mulbone, and served from June 26, 1800, to October 2, 1811, when he resigned; president of the Rhode Island Bank until a short time before his death in Newport, Newport County, R. I., March 18, 1840; interment in the Common Burial Ground.

CHANDLER, John (brother of Thomas Chandler and uncle of Zachariah Chandler), a Representative from Massachusetts and a Senator from Maine; born in Epping, N. H., February 1, 1762; self-educated; served in the Revolutionary War; moved to the Maine district of Massachusetts and settled on a farm near Monmouth; member of the Massachusetts Senate 1803-1805; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1809); was not a candidate for renomination in 1808; appointed sheriff of Kennebec County the same year; during the War of 1812 was a major general of Maine Militia and was commissioned brigadier general July 8, 1812; honorably discharged June 15, 1815; member of the Massachusetts General Court in 1819; first president of the Maine Senate; member of the Maine constitutional convention 1819-20; upon the admission of Maine as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1823, and served from June 14, 1820, to March 3, 1829; was not a candidate for renomination; collector of customs at Portland 1829-1837; died in Augusta, Kennebec County, Me., September 25, 1841; interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CHANDLER, Joseph Ripley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kingston, Mass., August 22, 1792; attended the common schools; engaged in commercial work in Boston; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1815; founded a young ladies' seminary; editor of the United States Gazette 1822-1847; member of the Philadelphia City Council 1832-1848; member of the State constitutional convention in 1837; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; appointed by President Buchanan minister to the Two Sicilies, and served from June 15, 1858, to November 15, 1860; president of the board of directors of Girard College; interested in prison reform and was a delegate to the International Prison Congress held at London in 1872; died in Philadelphia, Pa., July 10, 1880; interment in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

CHANDLER, Thomas (brother of John Chandler and uncle of Zachariah Chandler), a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Bedford, N. H., August 10, 1772; attended the public schools; justice of the peace in 1808; captain of militia in 1815; member of the State house of representatives in 1818 and again in 1827; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); innkeeper and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Bedford, N. H., January 28, 1866; interment in Bedford Cemetery.

CHANDLER, Thomas Alberter, a Representative from Oklahoma; born near Eucha, Delaware County, Ind. T. (now Oklahoma), July 26, 1871; attended the common schools and Worcester Academy, Vinita, Ind. T., in 1888, and later Drury College, Springfield, Mo.; appointed a Cherokee revenue collector in 1891; Cherokee town-site commissioner 1895-1898; United States deputy clerk of the court for the northern district of Indian Territory 1900-1907; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1907, and commenced practice in Vinita, Ind. T.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; member of the first board of public affairs for the State of Oklahoma in 1909 and 1910; resumed the practice of law; also engaged in the production of oil and agricultural pursuits, and in the real-estate business; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Tulsa, Tulsa County, Okla.

CHANDLER, Walter Marion, a Representative from New York; born near Yazoo City, Yazoo County, Miss., December 8, 1867; attended the public schools, the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, and the University of Mississippi at Oxford; was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1897; studied history and jurisprudence at the Universities of Berlin and Heidelberg, Germany; was admitted to the bar in 1897 and commenced the practice of law in Dallas, Tex.; moved to New York City in 1900; elected as a Progressive to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessfully contested the election of Sol Bloom to the Sixty-eighth Congress; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; member of the faculty and lecturer at the American Expeditionary Forces University at Beaune, France, during the World War; resumed the practice of law in New York City, where he now resides.

CHANDLER, William Eaton, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Concord, N. H., December 28, 1835; attended the common schools and the academies in Theford, Vt., and Pembroke, N. H.; was graduated from Harvard Law School in 1854; was admitted to the bar in 1855 and commenced practice in Concord, N. H.; appointed reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire in 1859; member of the State house of representatives 1862-1864 and served as speaker during the last two years; appointed by President Lincoln Solicitor and Judge Advocate General of the Navy Department March 9, 1865; appointed First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury on June 17, 1865 and served until November 30, 1867, when he resigned; member of the State constitutional convention in 1876; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1881; appointed by President Arthur Secretary of the Navy on April 12, 1882, and served until March 7, 1885; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Austin F. Pike, and served from June 14, 1887, to March 3, 1889; subsequently elected for the term beginning March 4, 1889; reelected in 1895, and served from June 18, 1889, to March 3, 1901; unsuccessful candidate for renomination; appointed by President McKinley president of the Spanish Claims Treaty Commission in 1901; resigned in 1908 and resumed the practice of law in Concord, N. H., and Washington, D. C.; died in Concord, N. H., November 20, 1919; interment in Blossom Hill Cemetery.

CHANDLER, Zachariah (nephew of John Chandler and Thomas Chandler, grandfather of Frederick Hale), a Senator from Michigan; born in Bedford, N. H., December 10, 1813; attended the common schools; taught school; moved to Detroit, Mich., in December, 1833, and engaged in mercantile pursuits; mayor of Detroit in 1851; unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor in 1852; was prominent in the organization of the Republican Party in 1854; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1857; reelected in 1863 and again in 1869, and served from March 4, 1857, to March 3, 1875; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; appointed Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Grant, and served from October 19, 1875, to March 3, 1877; chairman of the Republican National Executive Committee in 1868 and 1876; again elected in 1879 to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Isaac P. Christlancy, and served from February 22, 1879, until his death while on a speaking tour in Chicago, Ill., November 1, 1879; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, Detroit, Mich.

CHANEY, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington County, Md., January 12, 1790; moved with his parents to Pennsylvania; received a limited schooling; moved to Ohio in 1810 and settled in Bloom Township, Fairfield County; engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace in 1821, 1824, and 1827; trustee of Bloom Township for twenty-three years; major, colonel, and paymaster in the Ohio State Militia; member of the State house of representatives 1828-1830; elected associate judge of Fairfield County in 1831; Democratic presidential elector on the Jackson ticket in 1832; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1839); returned to Ohio and settled in Canal Winchester, Franklin County; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1842 and served as speaker; member of the village council; served in the State senate in 1844 and 1845; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1855; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1851; died at Canal Winchester, Ohio, April 10, 1881; interment in Union Grove Cemetery.

CHANEY, John Crawford, a Representative from Indiana; born near New Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio, February 1, 1854; moved with his parents to Lafayette Township, Allen County, Ind., in 1854; attended the common schools; was graduated from Ascension Seminary, Sullivan County, Ind., in 1874, and later from the Terre Haute Commercial College; taught school and superintendent of schools for five years; in June, 1882, was graduated from the law school of the Cincinnati University; was admitted to the bar in 1883 and commenced practice in Sullivan, Ind.; member of the State central committee from the second district in 1884 and 1885; presidential elector on the Harrison and Morton ticket in 1888; appointed by President Harrison assistant to the Attorney General in the Department of Justice in July, 1889, which position he filled until August, 1888, when he resigned and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; continued the practice of law in Sullivan, Sullivan County, Ind.; trustee of Hanover College, Hanover, Ind.; president of the Sullivan County Historical Society; is a resident of Sullivan, Ind.

CHANLER, John Winthrop (father of William Astor Chanler), a Representative from New York; born in New York City September 14, 1826; received his early education from private tutors, and was graduated from Columbia College, New York City, in 1847; attended the University of Heidelberg, Germany; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State assembly in 1858 and 1859; was nominated as a candidate for State senator in 1860, but declined; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1869); died near Rhinebeck, Dutchess County, N. Y., October 19, 1877; interment in Trinity Cemetery, Red Hook, N. Y.

CHANLER, William Astor (son of John Winthrop Chanler), a Representative from New York; born in Newport, R. I., June 11, 1867; attended St. John's School, Ossining, N. Y., Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and Harvard University for two years; fellow of the Royal Geographic Society of London; member of the State assembly in 1897; during the Spanish-American War was appointed captain and assistant adjutant general of Volunteers May 10, 1898; served as acting ordnance officer, Cavalry Division, Fifth Army Corps, from May 23 to August 23, 1898; participated in the Battle of Santiago; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-Sixth Congress (March 4, 1899–March 3, 1901); was not a candidate for renomination in 1900; traveler, author, and explorer; resides in Paris, France.

CHAPIN, Alfred Clark, a Representative from New York; born in South Hadley, Hampshire County, Mass., March 8, 1848; resided in Springfield, Mass., in Keene, N. H., and in Rutland, Vt.; attended the public and private schools; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1869 and from Harvard Law School in 1871; was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the State assembly in 1882 and 1883, and served as speaker in the latter year; State comptroller 1884–1887; mayor of Brooklyn 1888–1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of David A. Boody, and served from November 3, 1891, to November 16, 1892, when he resigned; railroad commissioner of New York State 1892–1897; continued the practice of law until 1923, when he retired; is a resident of New York City.

CHAPIN, Chester Williams, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Ludlow, Mass., December 16, 1798; attended the common schools and Westfield Academy, Westfield, Mass.; engaged in mercantile pursuits; mill contractor, running post coaches and steamboats; member of the constitutional convention of Massachusetts in 1853; president and director of the Western Railroad Corporation 1854–1867; president of the Boston & Albany Railroad Co. 1868–1878, and one of the directors 1868–1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875–March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; died in Springfield, Hampden County, Mass., June 10, 1883; interment in Springfield Cemetery.

CHAPIN, Graham Hurd, a Representative from New York; born in Salisbury, Conn., February 10, 1799; moved to Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., in 1817; was graduated from Yale College in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and practiced in Lyons; surrogate of Wayne County 1826–1833; district attorney of Wayne County in 1829 and 1830; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1833; and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835–March 3, 1837); died in Mount Morris, Livingston County, N. Y., September 8, 1843.

CHAPMAN, Andrew Grant (son of John Grant Chapman), a Representative from Maryland; born in La Plata, Charles County, Md., January 17, 1839; after being tutored at home attended the Charlotte Hall Academy, St. Marys County, Md.; was graduated from St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., in 1858, and from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1860; moved to Baltimore, Md., in 1860; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in that city; moved to Port Tobacco, Md., in 1864, and continued the practice of law; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of delegates in 1867, 1868, 1870, 1872, and 1876; appointed aide and inspector with rank of brigadier general in 1874 on the staff of Governor Groome and reappointed by Governor Carroll; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881–March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law; appointed deputy collector of internal revenue in 1885 and collector in 1888; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1888; died at his home, "Normandy," near La Plata, Md., September 25, 1892; interment in Mount Rest Cemetery, La Plata, Md.

CHAPMAN, Augustus Alexandria, a Representative from Virginia; born in Union, Monroe County, Va. (now West Virginia), March 9, 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Union; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843–March 3, 1847); brigadier general of militia and served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Hinton, Summers County, W. Va., June 7, 1876; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Union, Monroe County, W. Va.

CHAPMAN, Bird Beers, a Delegate from the Territory of Nebraska; born in Salisbury, Litchfield County, Conn., August 24, 1821, attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Elyria, Lorain County, Ohio; moved to the Territory of Nebraska and settled in Omaha; editor of the Omaha Nebraskan 1855–1859; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1857); unsuccessfully contested the election of Fenner Ferguson to the Thirty-fifth Congress; died at Put in Bay, Ottawa County, Ohio, September 21, 1871; interment in Ridgeland Cemetery, Elyria, Ohio.

CHAPMAN, Charles, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Newtown, Conn., June 21, 1799; pursued academic studies; studied law at the Litchfield (Conn.) Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and commenced practice in New Haven, Conn., in 1827; moved to Hartford in 1832 and became editor of the New England Review; member of the State house of representatives in 1840, 1847, and 1848; United States attorney for the district of Connecticut 1841–1848; unsuccessful candidate in 1848 for election to the Thirty-first Congress; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for governor as a temperance candidate in 1854; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1862 and 1864, elected as a Democrat; resumed the practice of law; died in Hartford, Conn., August 7, 1869; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

CHAPMAN, Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Newtown, Pa., February 4, 1804; attended Doylestown Academy and Doctor Gummere's private boys' school near Burlington, N. J.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Doylestown; member of the State senate in 1843; judge of the fifteenth judicial district 1845-1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1858; judge of the Bucks County court in 1861; retired in 1871; died at "Frosterley," near Doylestown, Bucks County, Pa., April 11, 1891; interment in the graveyard of Doylestown Presbyterian Church.

CHAPMAN, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wrightstown Township, Bucks County, Pa., October 18, 1740; presumably studied medicine, as he styled himself a "practitioner of physic"; commissioned justice of the peace February 25, 1779, and was one of the justices commissioned judge of the court of common pleas of Bucks County the same year; moved to Upper Makefield, Pa., prior to 1776, his residence having been the headquarters of Col. Alexander Hamilton during the period that Washington's Army was encamped on the west bank of the Delaware just prior to the Battle of Trenton; member of the State assembly 1787-1790; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); died in Upper Makefield, January 27, 1800; interment in the Friends' Burying Ground, Wrightstown, Pa.

CHAPMAN, John Grant (father of Andrew Grant Chapman), a Representative from Maryland; born in La Plata, Charles County, Md., July 5, 1798; was tutored at home; attended St. James' College, Hagerstown, Md., in 1812 and 1813, and was graduated from Yale College in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1819, and commenced practice at Port Tobacco, Charles County, Md.; member of the State house of delegates 1824-1834; served in the State senate 1835-1844, and was president of that body in 1835; served in the State militia; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); resumed the practice of law; president of the State constitutional convention in 1851; president of the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1856; died on his sister's estate, "Waverly of the Potomac," Charles County, Md., December 10, 1856; interment at St. Johns, a family estate; reinterment in Mount Rest Cemetery, La Plata, Md.

CHAPMAN, Pleasant Thomas, a Representative from Illinois; born near Vienna, Johnson County, Ill., October 8, 1854; attended the public schools, and was graduated from McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., in June, 1878; engaged in banking and agricultural pursuits; superintendent of public schools of Johnson County 1877-1882; studied law, was admitted to the bar at Mount Vernon, Ill., in 1878, and practiced in Vienna, Ill.; judge of Johnson County 1882-1890; member of the State senate 1890-1902; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; again engaged in banking and agricultural pursuits; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; is a resident of Vienna, Ill.

CHAPMAN, Reuben, a Representative from Alabama; born in Bowling Green, Caroline County, Va., July 15, 1799; attended an academy in Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Somerville, Morgan County, Ala.; member of the State senate 1832-1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1847); Governor of Alabama 1847-1849; member of the State house of representatives in 1855; delegate to the Baltimore convention, held in the interest of peace, using his influence to bring about a reconciliation between northern and southern representatives; retired from public life; was a representative of the Southern Confederacy to France 1862-1865; resumed the practice of law; died in Huntsville, Madison County, Ala., May 16, 1882; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery.

CHAPMAN, Virgil Munday, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Middleton, Simpson County, Ky., March 15, 1895; attended the public schools of Franklin, Ky., and was graduated from the Franklin High School in 1913; delegate to all Democratic State conventions since 1915; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1917; editor in chief of the Kentucky Law Journal in 1917 and 1918; was graduated from the law department of the University of Kentucky at Lexington in 1918, and commenced practice at Irvine, Estill County, Ky., in June, 1918; city attorney of Irvine 1918-1920; moved to Paris, Ky., in June, 1920, and continued the practice of law, with offices at Lexington, Ky.; assisted in organizing the tobacco growers of Kentucky and near-by States into cooperative marketing associations 1921-1923; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CHAPMAN, William Williams, a Delegate from the Territory of Iowa; born in Clarksburg, Marion County, Va. (now West Virginia), August 11, 1808; attended the common schools; studied law while serving as clerk of the court, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Middleton; was one of the first settlers in Burlington, Iowa (then Michigan Territory), in 1835; prosecuting attorney of Michigan Territory in 1836; first district attorney when Wisconsin Territory was organized in July, 1836; when the Territory of Iowa was granted representation was elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses, and served from September 10, 1838, to October 27, 1840, when his term expired by law; moved to Agency City, an Indian village, in Wapello County, Iowa, in 1843; elected from that county as a delegate to the first constitutional convention in Iowa City in 1844; started across the plains to become a pioneer of Oregon in 1847; went to California in 1848; returned to Oregon; member of the Oregon House of Representatives; was one of the founders of the Oregonian, the first newspaper established in the Territory; surveyor general in 1858; died in Portland, Oreg., October 18, 1892; interment in Lone Fir Cemetery.

CHAPPELL, Absalom Harris (cousin of Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar), a Representative from Georgia; born at Mount Zion, Hancock County, Ga., December 18, 1801; attended the local academy at Mount Zion, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Georgia at Athens in 1821; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Sandersville, Washington County, Ga.; moved to Forsyth, Ga., in 1824 and practiced; member of the State senate in 1832 and 1833; served in the State house of representatives 1834-1839; moved to Macon, Ga., in 1836 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the Knoxville convention in 1836; promoter of the Monroe Railroad; appointed on the board of commissloners to arrange a State finance system in 1830; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Representative elect John G. Lamar, and served from December 4, 1843, to March 3, 1845; was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; member of the State senate in 1845 and served as president; resumed the practice of law; moved to Columbus, Ga., in 1857 and continued the practice of law; also engaged in literary pursuits; affiliated with the Democratic Party; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1865 and again in 1877; also a delegate to the Conservative convention at Macon in 1867; died in Columbus, Muscogee County, Ga., December 11, 1878; interment in Linwood Cemetery.

CHAPPELL, John Joel, a Representative from South Carolina; born on Little River, near Columbia, Fairfield District, S. C., where the family was on a visit, January 19, 1782; when an infant was taken by his parents to their home on the Congaree River, Richland District, S. C.; attended the common schools and was graduated from the law department of South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia; was admitted to the bar in 1805 and commenced practice in Columbia, Richland County, S. C.; appointed adjutant of the Thirty-third South Carolina Regiment in 1805 and elected a captain in and colonel of the same regiment in 1808; member of the State house of representatives in 1808; appointed trustee of South Carolina College in 1809; served in the War of 1812; elected as a State Rights War Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813–March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of law until 1837; director of the Columbia branch of the State Bank of South Carolina 1830–1858; moved to Lowndes County, Ala., and became a cotton planter; died in Lowndes County, Ala., May 23, 1871; interment in the First Baptist Church Cemetery, Columbia, S. C.

CHARLES, William Barclay, a Representative from New York; born in Glasgow, Scotland, April 3, 1802; attended private schools and high schools in Stirling and Glasgow; emigrated to the United States in 1884; spent two years ranching in Texas and Mexico; settled in Amsterdam, N. Y., in 1886 and engaged in textile manufacturing; member of the State assembly 1904–1906; director of the Amsterdam First National Bank; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915–March 3, 1917); was not a candidate for renomination in 1916; resumed the textile business; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Coolidge and Dawes in 1924; resides in Amsterdam, N. Y.

CHARLTON, Robert Milledge, a Senator from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., January 19, 1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Savannah; member of the State house of representatives; United States district attorney; elected a judge of the superior court in 1832; resigned to devote himself to his profession; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Macpherson Berrien, and served from May 31, 1852, to March 3, 1853; mayor of Savannah; died in Savannah, Chatham County, Ga., January 18, 1854; interment in Laurel Grove Cemetery.

CHASE, Dudley (uncle of Salmon Portland Chase and Dudley Chase Denison), a Senator from Vermont; born in Cornish, N. H., December 30, 1771; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1791; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1798, and practiced in Randolph, Vt.; prosecuting attorney for Orange County 1803–1812; member of the State house of representatives 1805–1812, and served as speaker 1808–1812; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1814 and 1822; elected as a Jeffersonian Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1813, to November 3, 1817, when he resigned; chief justice of the Supreme Court of Vermont 1817–1821; again served in the State house of representatives in 1823 and 1824; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1825, to March 3, 1831; engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Randolph Center, Orange County, Vt., February 23, 1846; interment in Randolph Cemetery.

CHASE, George William, a Representative from New York; born in the town of Maryland, Otsego County, N. Y.; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; also engaged in mercantile and milling pursuits at Schenectus, Otsego County, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); resumed agricultural and his former business pursuits; died in Chaseville, Maryland Township, N. Y., April 17, 1867; interment in the Chase vault in Schenectus Cemetery, Schenectus, N. Y.

CHASE, Jeremiah Townley, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., May 23, 1748; was a member of the committees of observation and correspondence in 1774; delegate to the Maryland constitutional convention of 1776; moved to Annapolis in 1779; member of the governor's council 1780–1784 and 1786–1788; mayor of Annapolis in 1783; Member of the Continental Congress in 1783 and 1784; an Anti-Federalist member of the convention of ratification of the United States Constitution in 1788; judge of the general court in 1789, and chief justice of the court of appeals until his resignation in 1824; died in Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, Md., May 11, 1828; interment in the City Cemetery.

CHASE, Lucien Bonaparte, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Derby Line, Vt., December 5, 1817; moved to Dover, Tenn., about 1838 and taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Charlotte, Dickson County, Tenn.; moved to Clarksville, Tenn., and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1848; moved to New York City in 1849; resumed the practice of law; died in Derby Line, Orleans County, Vt., December 4, 1864; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CHASE, Salmon Portland (nephew of Dudley Chase and cousin of Dudley Chase Denison), a Senator from Ohio; born in Cornish, N. H., January 13, 1808; attended school at Windsor, N. H., Worthington, Ohio, and the Cincinnati College, Ohio; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1826; taught school; studied law in Washington, D. C., and in 1829 was admitted to the bar; commenced practice in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1830; elected as a Whig to the Cincinnati City Council in 1840; identified himself in 1841 with the Liberty Party, and was a participant in its national convention at Buffalo in 1843 and at Cincinnati in 1847; member of the Free-Soil National Convention at Buffalo in 1848 which nominated Van Buren for President; elected to the United States Senate by a fusion of Democrats and Free-Soilers, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1855; elected Governor of Ohio in 1855 as a Free-Soil Democrat and reelected in 1857 as a Republican; elected to the United States Senate in 1880; took his seat March 4, 1861, but resigned two days later to become Secretary of the Treasury under President Lincoln, which position he held until July 1, 1864, when he resigned; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court December 6, 1864; member of the National Peace Convention in 1868; presided at the impeachment trial of President Johnson in 1868; died in New York City May 7, 1873; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Washington, D. C.; reinterment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHASE, Samuel, a Delegate from Maryland; born in Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md., April 17, 1741; was tutored privately and pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1761, and commenced practice in Annapolis, Md.; member of the General Assembly of Maryland 1764-1784; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1778, 1784, and 1785; sent on a special mission to Canada in 1774 to induce the Canadians to join in the revolution against Great Britain; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; went to England in 1783 as agent for the State of Maryland to recover the stock in the Bank of England which had been purchased when the State was a colony of Great Britain; moved to Baltimore, Md., in 1786; judge of the Baltimore criminal court in 1788; appointed judge of the General Court of Maryland in 1791; appointed by President Washington an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court in 1796; articles of impeachment were filed in 1804 on charges of malfeasance in office five years previous in the conduct of the trials of Fries and Callendar for sedition, and for a more recent address to a Maryland grand jury; tried by the Senate in 1805, and was acquitted of all the charges on March 5, 1805; resumed his seat on the bench, and retained it until his death in Washington, D. C., June 19, 1811; interment in Old St. Paul's Cemetery, Baltimore, Md.

CHASE, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Cooperstown, N. Y.; district attorney of Otsego County 1821-1829; elected as an Adams Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); died in Richfield, Otsego County, N. Y., August 3, 1838.

CHASTAIN, Elijah Webb, a Representative from Georgia; born near Pickens, Pickens County, S. C., September 25, 1813; moved with his parents to Habersham, Ga., in 1821; attended the common schools; served as captain and colonel in the Seminole Indian War; located on a farm in Union County, Ga.; served in the State senate 1840-1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and practiced in Blairsville, Union County, Ga.; elected as a Union Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); delegate to the secession convention at Milledgeville, Ga., in 1860; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as lieutenant colonel of the First Georgia Regiment; State's attorney for the Western & Atlantic Railroad in 1860 and 1861; died near Dalton, Murray County, Ga., April 9, 1874; interment in the family cemetery near Morganton, Fannin County, Ga.

CHAVES, Jose Francisco, a Delegate from the Territory of New Mexico; born in Padillas, Mexico (now New Mexico), June 27, 1833; attended schools in St. Louis, Mo.; studied medicine at the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons; engaged in the stock-raising business in the Territory of New Mexico; president of the Territorial council for eight sessions; major of the First New Mexico Infantry in the Union Army during the Civil War; promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel; took part in the Battle of Valverde in 1862; commanded the escort that accompanied the officials appointed to organize the Territory of Arizona in 1863; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); successfully contested the election of Charles P. Clever to the Fortieth Congress; reelected to the Forty-first Congress, and served from February 20, 1869, to March 3, 1871; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; engaged in farming and stock raising; district attorney of the second judicial district 1875-1877; member and president of the State constitutional convention in 1888; State superintendent of public instruction from 1903 until his death; appointed State historian of New Mexico in 1903, but died before his term of service began; assassinated in Pinoswell (near Cedar Vale, Torrance County), N. Mex., November 26, 1904; interment in the United States National Cemetery at Santa Fe, N. Mex.; a bronze bust of Colonel Chaves was unveiled in the capitol building at Santa Fe in March, 1925.

CHEADLE, Joseph Bonaparte, a Representative from Indiana; born in Perrysville, Vermillion County, Ind., August 14, 1842; attended the common schools; entered Ashbury (now De Pauw) University, Greencastle, Ind., but upon the organization of the Seventy-first Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company K and served until the close of the war; returned home and entered upon the study of law; was graduated from the Indianapolis Law College in 1867; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Newport, Ind.; continued in practice until 1873, when he entered upon newspaper work; elected as a Republican to the Fifteenth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890, 1892, and 1894; affiliated with the Democratic Party in 1896; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1896 and 1898 on the Democratic and Populist tickets; editor of the American Standard in 1896; died in Frankfort, Clinton County, Ind., May 28, 1904; interment in Greenlawn Cemetery.

CHEATHAM, Henry Plummer, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Henderson, Granville (now Vance) County, N. C., December 27, 1857; was of the Negro race; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., in 1883; principal of the State normal school for colored students at Plymouth, N. C., in 1883 and 1884; register of deeds of Vance County 1884-1888; studied law, but did not practice; delegate to the State convention at Raleigh in 1892; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892 and at Philadelphia in 1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia 1897-1901; moved to Oxford, N. C., in 1907; became superintendent of the North Carolina Colored Orphanage at Oxford in 1907; one of the founders, incorporators, and directors of the same institution, founded in 1887; is president of the Negro Association of North Carolina; also engaged in agricultural pursuits and lecturing; is a resident of Oxford, N. C.

CHEATHAM, Richard, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Springfield, Tenn., February 20, 1799; pursued preparatory studies; engaged in mercantile pursuits, stock raising, and operated a cotton gin; member of the State house of representatives in 1833; member of the State constitutional convention which met at Nashville from May 19 to August 30, 1834; served as general in the State militia; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); resumed his former pursuits; died in Springfield, Tenn., September 9, 1845; interment in the Old City Cemetery.

CHENEY, Person Colby, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Holderness (now Ashland), N. H., February 25, 1828; attended academies in Peterborough and Hancock, N. H., and in Parsenfield, Me.; engaged in the manufacture of paper in Peterborough until 1866; member of the State house of representatives in 1854; during the Civil War was first lieutenant and regimental quartermaster in the Thirteenth Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry from September 12, 1862, until August 6, 1863, when he was forced to resign on account of ill health; State railroad commissioner 1864-1867; moved to Manchester, N. H., in 1867 and engaged in business as a dealer in paper stock and continued the manufacture of paper at Goffstown, N. H.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected mayor of Manchester in 1871; Governor of New Hampshire 1875-1877; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Austin F. Pike, and served from November 24, 1886, to June 14, 1887, when a successor was elected and qualified; was not a candidate to succeed himself; resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888; member of the Republican National Committee 1888-1900; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Switzerland on December 13, 1892, and served until June 29, 1893; died in Dover, Strafford County, N. H., June 19, 1901; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery, Manchester, N. H.

CHESNUT, James, Jr., a Senator from South Carolina; born near Camden, S. C., January 18, 1815; was graduated from the law department of Princeton College in 1837; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Camden, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1842-1852; delegate to the southern convention at Nashville in 1850; served in the State senate 1854-1858; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Josiah J. Evans, and served from December 3, 1858, until November 10, 1860, when he withdrew, delegate to the Confederate Provisional Congress in 1861; during the Civil War served as colonel in the Confederate Army, and became aide-de-camp on the staff of President Jefferson Davis in 1861; appointed brigadier general in 1864 and assigned to the command of a brigade on the coast of South Carolina; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868, which nominated Seymour and Blair; resumed the practice of his profession in Camden, Kershaw County, S. C., and died there February 1, 1885; interment in Knights Hill Cemetery, near Camden, S. C.

CHETWOOD, William, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Elizabeth, N. J., June 17, 1771; was graduated from Princeton College in 1792; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and commenced practice in Elizabeth, N. J.; member of the State Council of New Jersey; was a major of militia in the whisky rebellion of 1794; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Philemon Dickerson, and served from December 5, 1836, to March 3, 1837; resumed the practice of law; died in Elizabeth, N. J., December 16, 1857; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CHEVES, Langdon, a Representative from South Carolina; born September 17, 1776, in Bulltown Fort, near Rocky River, Ninety Six District (now Abbeville County), S. C., where the settlers had taken refuge from the onslaught of the Cherokee Indians; received his early education at his home and Andrew Weed's School near Abbeville, S. C.; joined his father in Charleston, S. C., in 1798 and continued his schooling in that city; studied law, was admitted to the bar October 14, 1797, and commenced practice in Charleston; city alderman in 1802; member of the State house of representatives 1802-1810; presidential elector on the Madison ticket in 1808; elected attorney general of the State in 1808; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert Marion, having previously been elected to the Twelfth Congress; reelected to the Thirteenth Congress, and served from December 31, 1810, to March 3, 1815; succeeded Henry Clay as Speaker during the second session of the Thirteenth Congress; served as chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and the Naval Committee during the War of 1812; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1814 to the Fourteenth Congress and also the position of Secretary of the Treasury tendered by President Madison; resumed the practice of law; elected associate justice of law and appeal in December, 1816; resigned in 1819; declined to accept the appointment of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; elected president of the Bank of the United States March 6, 1819, and held this office until 1822, when he resigned; chief commissioner of claims under the treaty of Ghent; resided in Philadelphia and Washington 1819-1826 and in Lancaster, Pa., 1826-1829; returned to South Carolina in 1829; engaged extensively in the cultivation of rice in South Carolina and Georgia; tendered an appointment by the governor to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John C. Calhoun, but declined; delegate to the Southern convention at Nashville, Tenn., in 1850 and to the State convention at Columbia, S. C., in 1852; died in Columbia, S. C., June 26, 1857; interment in Magnolia Cemetery, Charleston, S. C.

CHICKERING, Charles Addison, a Representative from New York; born in Harrisburg, Lewis County, N. Y., November 26, 1843; attended the common schools and Lowville Academy and was for some time a teacher in that institution; engaged in business as a hardware merchant; school commissioner of Lewis County 1865-1875; member of the State assembly 1879-1881; clerk of the assembly 1884-1890; served as chairman of the Lewis County Republican Committee; member of the Republican State committee and served as secretary, also a member of its executive committee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1893, until his accidental death from injuries received in a fall from a window of the Grand Union Hotel in New York City while on a business trip February 13, 1900; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Copenhagen, Lewis County, N. Y.

CHILCOTT, George Miles, a Delegate from the Territory of Colorado and a Senator from Colorado; born near Cassville, Huntington County, Pa., January 2, 1828; moved with his parents to Jefferson County, Iowa, in 1844; studied medicine until 1850; sheriff of Jefferson County in 1853; moved to the Territory of Nebraska in 1856; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1856; moved to the Territory of Colorado in 1859; member of the Territorial council in 1861 and 1862; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1863; register of the United States land office 1863-1867; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); member of the Territorial council 1872-1874; member of the State house of representatives in 1878; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry M. Teller, and served from April 17, 1882, to January 27, 1883; died in St. Louis, Mo., March 6, 1891; interment in the Masonic Cemetery, Pueblo, Colo.

CHILD, Thomas, Jr., a Representative from New York; born in Bakersfield, near St. Albans, Vt., March 22, 1818; attended the common schools and entered the University of Vermont at Burlington at the age of fourteen; member of the State constitutional convention in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in September, 1839, and commenced practice in East Berkshire, Vt.; justice of the peace in 1840; moved to New York City about 1848 and engaged in the distilling business; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress, March 4, 1855, but never qualified or attended a session owing to illness, but by a resolution adopted on March 3, 1857, the House resolved that his salary be computed and paid to him from August 18, 1856, to March 3, 1857, as "though he had been in regular attendance at the sittings of the House"; started for Washington to attend the third session of the Thirty-fourth Congress and reached Philadelphia, when he was compelled to return on account of his illness; moved to Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., in 1857 and retired from active business; supervisor of the town of Northfield, N. Y., in 1865 and 1866; member of the State assembly in 1868; died in Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., March 9, 1899; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CHILDS, Robert Andrew, a Representative from Illinois; born in Malone, Franklin County, N. Y., March 22, 1845; moved to Illinois with his parents, who settled near Belvidere, Boone County, in 1852; attended the common schools; during the Civil War enlisted in Gen. Stephen A. Hurlbut's company, which subsequently became a part of the Fifteenth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and served throughout the war; after his discharge from the Army entered school, and was graduated from the Illinois State Normal University in 1870; principal and superintendent of the public schools in Amboy 1871-1873; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Belvidere, Ill.; settled in Hinsdale, a suburb of Chicago, in July, 1873; member of the village board of trustees and president of the school board; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Blaine and Logan in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for re-nomination in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, retaining his residence in Hinsdale, Ill.; died in Hinsdale, Ill., December 19, 1915, interment in the Bronswood Cemetery.

CHILDS, Timothy, a Representative from New York; born in Pittsfield, Mass., in 1785; moved to Rochester, N. Y.; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1811; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Rochester, N. Y.; prosecuting attorney of Monroe County 1821-1831; member of the State assembly in 1828 and again in 1833; elected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); resumed the practice of law; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); died in Santa Cruz, N. Mex., November 8, 1847.

CHILTON, Horace, a Senator from Texas; born near Tyler, Smith County, Tex., December 29, 1853; attended the local schools in Texas and Lynnland Institute, Glendale, Ky.; learned the printing business, and at the age of eighteen published a triweekly newspaper in Tyler; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Tyler, Tex.; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1888 and at Chicago in 1896; appointed assistant attorney general of Texas by Governor Roberts in 1881, and served until 1883; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John H. Rengan, and served from June 10, 1891, to March 22, 1892, when a successor was elected; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1895, to March 3, 1901; was a candidate for reelection in 1900, but in April of that year withdrew; after a long illness he resumed the practice of law in Tyler and Beaumont, Tex.; moved to Dallas, Tex., in 1906, where he now resides.

CHILTON, Samuel, a Representative from Virginia; born in Warrenton, Fauquier County, Va., September 7, 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Warrenton; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1850 and 1851; appointed to defend John Brown at Harpers Ferry, but was dismissed by his client because he advocated to the defendant to advance the plea of insanity as his defense; died in Warrenton, Va., January 14, 1867; interment in Warrenton Cemetery.

CHILTON, Thomas, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Garrard County, Ky., July 30, 1798; attended the common schools in Paris, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Owingsville, Bath County, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1819; moved to Elizabethtown, Ky.; was a candidate for election to the Twelfth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William S. Young, but owing to irregularity the votes of one county were eliminated and the credentials issued to his opponent, John Calhoun; subsequently both candidates renounced all claim to the seat and petitioned the governor for a new election, when he was duly elected to fill the foregoing vacancy; reelected to the Twenty-first Congress, and served from December, 22, 1827, to March 3, 1831; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); presidential elector in 1832 and voted for Clay and Sergeant; moved to Alabama and resumed the practice of law; was pastor of a church in Hopkinsville, Ky.; president of the Alabama Baptist State Convention in 1841; abandoned the practice of law and became general agent of the Alabama convention; pastor of churches in Montgomery, Greensboro, and Newbern, Ala.; moved to Houston, Tex., in 1851, and served as pastor of a Baptist church; died in Montgomery, Montgomery County, Tex., August 15, 1854; interment in the Old Cemetery.

CHILTON, William Edwin, a Senator from West Virginia; born in Kanawha County, W. Va. (then Virginia), March 17, 1858; attended public and private schools and was graduated from Shelton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Charleston, W. Va., in 1882; prosecuting attorney of Kanawha County in 1883; chairman of the Democratic State executive committee in 1892; appointed secretary of state by Governor MacCorkle, and served from March 4, 1893, to March 3, 1907; colonel in the National Guard of West Virginia in 1897; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1911, until March 3, 1917; unsuccessfully contested the election of Howard Sutherland to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1917; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Charleston, W. Va.

CHINDBLOM, Carl Richard, a Representative from Illinois; born in Chicago, Ill., December 21, 1870; attended the public schools; was graduated from Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., in 1890 and from the Kent College of Law (Lake Forest University) at Chicago in 1898; taught school in Chicago for several years; was admitted to the bar in 1900 and commenced the practice of law in Chicago; delegate to the Republican State conventions in 1904, 1908, 1912, and 1916; member of the Cook County Board of Commissioners 1900-1910; county attorney of Cook County 1912-1914; master in chancery of the circuit court of Cook County 1910-1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CHINN, Joseph William, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Epping Forest," near Nuttsville, Lancaster County, Va., November 16, 1798; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1819; studied law at Needham, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1821, and practiced in Lancaster County, Va.; member of the State house of delegates 1826-1828; served in the State senate 1829-1831; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); moved to Richmond, Va., and resumed the practice of law; died on his estate, "Wilna," near Richmond, Va., December 5, 1840; interment in the family burying ground at "Wilna."

CHINN, Thomas Wither, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Cynthiana, Harrison County, Ky., November 22, 1791; attended the common schools; served in the War of 1812 as a private with the Kentucky Volunteers; studied medicine, and commenced practice in St. Francisville, West Feliciana Parish, La., about 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Cypress Hall plantation, Baton Rouge, La., in 1831; continued the practice of law, and also engaged in sugar-cane planting; held several public offices; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); appointed by President Taylor minister to the Two Sicilies, and served from June 5, 1849, until October of the same year, when he resigned; returned to his plantation in West Baton Rouge Parish, La., where he died May 22, 1852; interment in the family cemetery on his plantation.

CHIPERFIELD, Burnett Mitchell, a Representative from Illinois; born in Dover, Bureau County, Ill., June 14, 1870; attended the public schools of Illinois and Hamlin University, St. Paul, Minn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and commenced practice at Canton, Ill.; member of the county, State, and American bar associations, prosecuting attorney of Fulton County, Ill., 1896-1900; member of the State house of representatives 1903-1913; secretary and trustee of the Western Illinois State Normal School at Macomb, Ill., 1904-1909; was connected with the Illinois National Guard for twenty years; organized a regiment for service in the Spanish-American War; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1917); did not seek renomination, having become a candidate for the Republican nomination of United States Senator and was unsuccessful; during the World War was assigned as division judge advocate of the Thirty-third Division at Camp Logan, Tex., in August, 1917; served in France as judge advocate with his division; promoted to lieutenant colonel, Judge Advocate General's Department, October 25, 1918; transferred on December 10, 1918, to the Third Army Corps with the Army of Occupation in Germany, and served as judge advocate of that corps; transferred on April 20, 1919, to the Thirty-third Division; honorably discharged at Camp Grant, Ill., June 4, 1919; was awarded a meritorious services citation certificate "for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services as division judge advocate of the Thirty-third Division," and also cited for gallantry in action; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in banking; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1920; appointed lieutenant colonel in the Judge Advocate General's Department, Officers' Reserve Corps, February 5, 1921, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Canton, Fulton County, Ill.

CHIPMAN, Daniel (brother of Nathaniel Chipman), a Representative from Vermont; born in Salisbury, Conn., October 22, 1765; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1788; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Rutland, Vt., 1790-1794; was a member of the State constitutional conventions in 1793, 1814, 1836, 1843, and 1850; moved to Middlebury, Vt., in 1794; member of the State house of representatives 1798-1808, 1812-1814, 1818, and 1821, and served as speaker during the sessions of 1813 and 1814; professor of law at Middlebury College 1806-1818; member of the governor's council in 1808; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1815, to May 5, 1816, when he resigned; appointed reporter of the superior court in 1824; moved to Ripton, Vt., in 1828 and continued the practice of law; engaged in literary pursuits; died in Ripton, Addison County, Vt., April 23, 1850; interment in West Cemetery, Middlebury, Vt.

CHIPMAN, John Logan (grandson of Nathaniel Chipman), a Representative from Michigan; born in Detroit, Mich., June 5, 1830; attended the public schools of that city and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor 1843-1845; engaged in the Lake Superior region as explorer for the Montreal Mining Co. in 1846; assistant clerk of the State house of representatives in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and practiced in the Lake Superior region; returned to Detroit; city attorney of Detroit 1857-1860; member of the State house of representatives in 1865 and 1866; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1866 to the Fortieth Congress; attorney of the Police Board of Detroit 1867-1879; elected judge of the superior court of Detroit May 1, 1879; reelected in 1885 and served until 1887, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftyeth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Detroit, Mich., August 17, 1893; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, Detroit, Mich.

CHIPMAN, John Smith, a Representative from Michigan; born in Shoreham, Vt., August 10, 1800; was graduated from Middlebury College, Vermont, in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Centerville, Mich., in 1838, where he held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); moved to Niles, Berrien County, Mich., and later, in 1850, to San Francisco, Calif., where he resumed the practice of law; died in San Jose, Santa Clara County, Calif., July 27, 1869; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

CHIPMAN, Nathaniel (brother of Daniel Chipman and grandfather of John Logan Chipman), a Senator from Vermont; born in Salisbury, Conn., November 15, 1752; prepared for college under private teacher; entered Yale College in 1773 and received his degree in 1777 while in the Army; served for a time as a lieutenant in the Revolutionary War; was at Valley Forge during the memorable winter of 1777-78 and fought at Monmouth; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1779, and commenced practice in Tinnmouth, Vt.; member of the State house of representatives in 1784 and 1785; elected as judge of the State supreme court in 1786 and chosen chief justice in 1789; appointed judge of the United States District Court in 1791 and served until 1794; again elected chief justice of the State supreme court in 1796; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Isaac Tichenor, and served from October 17, 1797, until March 3, 1808; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; again a member of the State house of representatives 1806-1811; chief justice of Vermont 1813-1815; died in Tlnmouth, Vt., January 15, 1843; interment in the Tlnmouth Cemetery; the State of Vermont caused a monument to be erected to his memory and it was dedicated October 3, 1873.

CHIPMAN, Norton Parker, a Delegate from the District of Columbia; born in Milford Center, Union County, Ohio, March 7, 1834; attended the public schools; moved to Iowa in 1845 and entered Washington College; afterwards attended the law school in Cincinnati; returned to Washington, Iowa; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in that city; entered the Union Army; commissioned major of the Second Iowa Infantry September 23, 1861; colonel April 17, 1862; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865, "for meritorious services in the Bureau of Military Justice"; mustered out November 30, 1865; settled in Washington, D. C.; upon the establishment of a Territorial form of government for the District of Columbia was appointed secretary, and subsequently was elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses, and served from April 21, 1871, until March 3, 1875; moved to California in 1876 and engaged in the lumber business; member of the California State Board of Trade and its president 1895-1906; appointed a commissioner of the Supreme Court of California in April, 1897; appointed presiding justice of the district court of appeals, third district, in 1905; elected in November, 1906, and served until his resignation December 18, 1922; a resident of Sacramento, Calif.; died in San Francisco, Calif., February 1, 1924; interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

CHITTENDEN, Martin, a Representative from Vermont; born in Salisbury, Conn., March 12, 1793; moved with his parents to Williston, Vt., in 1798; attended Mares School, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1780; engaged in agricultural and mercantile pursuits in Jericho, Vt.; appointed justice of the peace in October, 1789; delegate to the State convention that ratified the Federal Constitution; aide-de-camp to Lieutenant Governor Olcott in 1790; clerk of the county court of Chittenden County 1790-1793; member of the State house of representatives 1790-1796; judge of the Chittenden County court 1793-1795, and chief justice 1796-1813; captain of the First Militia in Jericho in 1793; lieutenant colonel commanding the First Regiment, Seventh Division, Vermont Militia, in 1794; brigadier general in 1799; major general 1799-1803; first collector of the census for Chittenden County; elected to the Eighth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1813); Governor of Vermont in 1814 and 1815; judge of probate 1821-1823; died in Williston, Chittenden County, Vt., September 5, 1840; interment in the Old Cemetery.

CHITTENDEN, Simeon Baldwin, a Representative from New York; born in Guilford, New Haven County, Conn., March 29, 1814; attended Guilford Academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits in New Haven 1829-1842; moved to New York City and engaged in mercantile pursuits in 1842; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1860 to the Fortieth Congress; vice president of the New York City Chamber of Commerce 1867-1869; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Wilson in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Stewart L. Woodford; reelected to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses, and served from November 3, 1874, to March 3, 1881; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; retired from public life; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 14, 1889; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CHITTENDEN, Thomas Cotton, a Representative from New York; born in Stockbridge, Mass., August 30, 1788; moved to Adams, Jefferson County, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); judge of Jefferson County 1840-1845; died in Watertown, Jefferson County, N. Y., August 22, 1866; interment in Brookside Cemetery.

CHOATE, Rufus, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Essex, Mass., October 1, 1799; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Danvers in 1823; member of the State house of representatives in 1825; served in the State senate in 1826; moved to Salem in 1828; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1831, to June 30, 1834, when he resigned; moved to Boston in 1834; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Webster, and served from February 23, 1841, to March 3, 1845; retired from political life to devote his time to his profession; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; attorney general of Massachusetts in 1853; died in Halifax, Nova Scotia, July 13, 1859; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

CHRISMAN, James Stone, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Monticello, Wayne County, Ky., September 14, 1818; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in Monticello, Wayne County, Ky.; unsuccessful candidate for election to the State house of representatives in 1845 and 1847 and for presidential elector in 1848 and 1852; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessfully contested the election of William C. Anderson to the Thirty-sixth Congress; Representative from Kentucky to the First and Second Confederate Congresses 1862-1865; member of the State house of representatives 1869-1871; resumed the practice of law in Monticello, Ky., where he died July 29, 1881; interment in a private cemetery on his farm.

CHRISTIANCY, Isaac Peckham, a Senator from Michigan; born near Johnstown, Fulton County, N. Y., March 12, 1812; attended the common schools and Johnstown and Ovid Academies; taught school; studied law; moved to Monroe, Mich., in 1836; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Monroe 1838-1858; prosecuting attorney for Monroe County 1841-1846; delegate to the National Free Soil Convention at Buffalo in 1848; Free Soil candidate for governor in 1852; served in the State senate 1850-1852; was a prime mover in the organization of the Republican Party in 1854; delegate to the first Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856; editor and proprietor of the Monroe Commercial in 1857; elected associate judge of the Supreme Court of Michigan, with residence in Lansing, in 1857; reelected in 1865 and 1873, and served from January 1, 1858, until his resignation on February 27, 1875, having been elected to the United States Senate; served as chief justice from January, 1872, to January 1, 1874; was elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1875, to February 10, 1879, when he resigned owing to ill health; appointed United States minister to Peru February 11, 1879, and served until August 2, 1881; returned to Lansing and continued the practice of law; died in Lansing, Mich., September 8, 1890; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Monroe, Monroe County, Mich.

CHRISTIE, Gabriel, a Representative from Maryland; born in Perryman, Harford County, Md., in 1755; during the Revolutionary War was a member of a company of militia organized September 12, 1778, by the provincial convention held at Annapolis on July 20, 1775; member of the State house of delegates; appointed by Gov. William Smallwood one of the commissioners to "straighten and amend the post road from Havre de Grace to Baltimore town" by authority of the act of 1787; elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797); elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); one of the commissioners of Havre de Grace in 1800 and 1801, and again in 1806; appointed collector of the port of Baltimore, and served until his death in Baltimore, Md., April 1, 1808; interment in Spessia Churchyard, Perryman, Harford County, Md.

CHRISTOPHERSON, Charles Andrew, a Representative from South Dakota; born in Amherst Township, Fillmore County, Minn., July 23, 1871; attended the public schools and the Sioux Falls Business College and Normal School; moved to Sioux Falls, S. Dak., in 1890; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Sioux Falls, S. Dak.; member of the Board of Education of Sioux Falls 1908-1918, and served as president of the board 1911-1915; member of the board of directors of the Union Savings Association in 1912, and was subsequently elected president; member of the State house of representatives 1912-1916, and served as speaker during the latter term; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CHURCH, Denver Samuel, a Representative from California; born in Folsom City, Sacramento County, Calif., December 11, 1896; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Healdsburg (Calif.) College in 1915; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Fresno, Fresno County, Calif.; district attorney of Fresno County 1907-1913; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1918; resumed the practice of law in Fresno, Calif.; elected superior judge of Fresno County in November, 1924, for a term of six years, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Fresno, Calif.

CHURCHILL, George Bosworth, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Worcester, Mass., October 24, 1866; attended the grammar and high schools, and was graduated from Amherst (Mass.) College in 1889; taught in the Worcester High School until 1892; moved to Philadelphia and taught in the William Penn Charter School, and at the same time took a postgraduate course at the University of Pennsylvania 1892-1894; went to Europe and entered the University of Strassburg, Germany, in 1894 and 1895, and then attended the University of Berlin, Germany, 1895-1897; returned to the United States and became assistant editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine in 1897 and 1898; member of the faculty of Amherst College 1898-1925; moderator of Amherst 1905-1925; member of the State senate 1917-1919; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1917 and 1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1925, until his death in Amherst, Mass., July 1, 1925; interment in Wildwood Cemetery.

CHURCHILL, John Charles, a Representative from New York; born in Mooers, Clinton County, N. Y., January 17, 1821; attended the Burr Seminary, Manchester, Vt., and was graduated from Middlebury College, Vermont, in 1843; teacher of languages in the Castleton Seminary, Vermont, and a tutor in Middlebury College; attended the Dane Law School of Harvard University; was admitted to the bar in 1847 and commenced practice in Oswego, Oswego County, N. Y., in 1848; member of the Oswego Board of Education 1853-1856; member of the Board of Supervisors of Oswego County in 1854 and 1855; prosecuting attorney 1857-1860; judge of Oswego County 1860-1864; appointed by Governor Morgan commissioner to superintend the draft for Oswego County 1862 and 1863; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1870; unsuccessful candidate for secretary of state of New York in 1877; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Garfield and Arthur in 1880; again a member of the Oswego Board of Education, and president of the board in 1879 and 1880; appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of New York to fill a vacancy January 17, 1881; was subsequently elected, and served until the expiration of his term by age limit December 31, 1891; died in Oswego, N. Y., June 4, 1905; interment in Riversdale Cemetery.

CHURCHWELL, William Montgomery, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Knoxville, Knox County, Tenn., February 20, 1826; attended private schools and Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., 1840-1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Knoxville; one of the judges for Knox County; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); provost marshal for the district of east Tennessee; during the administration of President Buchanan was sent on a secret mission to Mexico; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as colonel of the Fourth Tennessee Regiment; died in Knoxville, Tenn., August 18, 1862; interment in Old Gray Cemetery.

CILLEY, Bradbury (uncle of Jonathan Cilley and Joseph Cilley), a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Nottingham, Rockingham County, N. H., February 1, 1760; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; appointed by President John Adams United States marshal for the district of New Hampshire on March 19, 1798, and served until May 3, 1802; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); colonel and aide on the staff of Governor Gillman 1814-1816; retired from public life; died in Nottingham, N. H., December 17, 1831; interment in the General Joseph Cilley Burying Ground in Nottingham Square.

CILLEY, Jonathan (nephew of Bradbury Cilley and brother of Joseph Cilley), a Representative from Maine; born in Nottingham, Rockingham County, N. H., July 2, 1802; attended Atkinson Academy, New Hampshire; was graduated from New Hampton Academy and later, in 1825, from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Thomaston, Knox County, Me.; editor of the Thomaston Register 1829-1831; member of the State house of representatives 1831-1836, and served as speaker in 1835 and 1836; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1837, until February 24, 1838, when he was killed in a duel on the Marlboro Pike, near Washington, D. C., by William Graves, a Representative from Kentucky; interment in the Cilley Cemetery, Thomaston, Me.

CILLEY, Joseph (nephew of Bradbury Cilley and brother of Jonathan Cilley), a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Nottingham, Rockingham County, N. H., January 4, 1791; attended the common schools and was graduated from Atkinson Academy, New Hampshire; engaged in agricultural pursuits; commissioned ensign in the Eighteenth New Hampshire Regiment October 17, 1811, and in the Eleventh United States Infantry March 12, 1812; lieutenant in the Twenty-first Infantry March 17, 1814; resigned June 30, 1816, with brevet rank of captain; quartermaster of New Hampshire in 1817; division inspector in 1821; aide-de-camp to Gov. Benjamin Pierce in 1827; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Levi Woodbury, and served from June 13, 1846, until March 3, 1847; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1846; retired to his farm in Nottingham, N. H., and died there September 12, 1887; interment in the General Joseph Cilley Burying Ground in Nottingham Square.

CLAFLIN, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Milford, Mass., March 6, 1818; attended the public schools and Brown University, Providence, R. I.; engaged in the shoe and leather business in St. Louis, Mo., and Boston, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives 1849-1852; served in the State senate in 1860 and 1861, and was president of that body in the latter year; member of the Republican National Executive Committee 1864-1875, and served as chairman 1868-1872; Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts 1869-1868; Governor of Massachusetts 1869-1871; elected to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); died in Newton, Middlesex County, Mass., January 5, 1905; interment in Newton Cemetery, Newtonville, Mass.

CLAGETT, Clifton, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., December 3, 1762; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Litchfield in 1787; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); appointed a justice of the peace and quorum in 1808; appointed judge of probate for Hillsborough County in 1810 and served until his resignation in 1812, having been appointed to a judicial position; moved to Amherst in 1812; appointed a judge of the supreme court in 1812; member of the State house of representatives in 1816; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); appointed judge of probate August 5, 1823, and held the office until his death in Amherst, Hillsborough County, N. H., January 25, 1829.

CLAGETT, William Horace, a Delegate from the Territory of Montana; born in Upper Marlboro, Prince Georges County, Md., September 21, 1838; moved with his father to Keokuk, Iowa, in 1850; attended the public schools; studied law in Keokuk, and later attended the law school at Albany, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar in 1858 and commenced practice in Keokuk; moved to Carson City, Nev., in 1861; moved to Humboldt, Nev., in 1862, and continued the practice of law; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1862 and 1863 and the State house of representatives in 1864 and 1865; practiced law in Virginia City, Nev., in 1865 and 1866; moved to Helena, Mont., and later to Deer Lodge, Mont., and practiced law until 1871; elected as a Republican a Delegate from Montana to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Deer Lodge, Mont., and continued until 1877, when he moved to Denver, Colo., where he remained a short time, moving thence to Deadwood, in the Black Hills, and continued his law practice; left Deadwood in 1882 and engaged in mining in Butte, Mont.; shortly afterwards moved to Portland, Oreg., where he opened a law office, but soon moved to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and engaged in the practice of law and mining for several years; president of the constitutional convention of Idaho in 1890; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate from Idaho in 1891 and again in 1895, when he went East for a year or two on account of ill health; moved to Spokane, Wash., resumed the practice of law, and died there August 3, 1901; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CLAGUE, Frank, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Warrensville, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, July 13, 1865; attended the common schools; moved to Minnesota in 1881; attended the State normal school at Mankato 1882-1885; taught school at Springfield, Minn., 1886-1890; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and commenced practice in Lamberton, Redwood County, Minn., the same year; prosecuting attorney of Redwood County, Minn., 1895-1903; member of the State house of representatives from January 1, 1903, to January 1, 1907, and served as speaker in the session of 1905; served in the State senate from January 1, 1907, to December 31, 1915; judge of the ninth judicial district of Minnesota from January 1, 1919, to March 1, 1920, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CLAIBORNE, John (son of Thomas Claiborne), a Representative from Virginia; born in Brunswick County, Va., in 1777; pursued academic studies; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1798 and practiced; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1805, until his death in Brunswick County, Va., October 9, 1808; interment in the family burying ground of Parson Jarratt, Dinwiddie, Va.

CLAIBORNE, John Francis Hamtramck (nephew of William Charles Cole Claiborne and Nathaniel Herbert Claiborne and great-grandfather of Herbert Claiborne Pell, Jr.), a Representative from Mississippi; born in Natchez, Adams County, Miss., April 24, 1809; attended the public schools in Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice at Natchez, Miss.; member of the State house of representative 1830-1834; moved to Madison County, Miss.; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from July 18, 1837, until February 5, 1838, when the seat was declared vacant; engaged in newspaper work in Natchez, Miss.; moved to New Orleans, La., in 1844 and resumed newspaper interests; appointed United States timber agent for Louisiana and Mississippi in 1853; author of several historical works; returned to his estate, "Dumbarton," near Natchez, Miss., and died there May 17, 1884; interment in Trinity Churchyard, Natchez, Miss.

CLAIBORNE, Nathaniel Herbert (brother of William Charles Cole Claiborne and uncle of John Francis Hamtramck Claiborne), a Representative from Virginia; born in Chesterfield, Sussex County, Va., November 14, 1777; attended a local academy; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of delegates 1810-1812; served in the State senate 1821-1825; an executive councillor; elected as a Republican to the Nineteenth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1837); unsuccessful candidate in 1836 for reelection to the Twenty-fifth Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits; died near Rockymount, Franklin County, Va., August 15, 1859; interment in Claiborne Family Cemetery, near Rockymount, Va.

CLAIBORNE, Thomas (father of John Claiborne and Thomas Claiborne), a Representative from Virginia; born in Brunswick County, Va., February 1, 1749; member of the State house of delegates 1788-1788; served as colonel in command of the Brunswick County Militia in 1789; sheriff of Brunswick County 1789-1792; member of the State senate 1790-1792; elected to the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1799); again elected to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1805); died in Brunswick County, Va., in 1812.

CLAIBORNE, Thomas (son of the preceding), a Representative from Tennessee; born near Petersburg, Brunswick County, Va., May 17, 1780; attended the common schools in Virginia; served as major on the staff of Gen. Andrew Jackson in the Creek War; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Nashville, Tenn., in 1807; served for some years in the General Assembly of Tennessee; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); resumed the practice of law in Nashville, where he died January 7, 1856; interment in the Nashville City Cemetery.

CLAIBORNE, William Charles Cole (brother of Nathaniel Herbert Claiborne and uncle of John Francis Hamtramck Claiborne), a Representative from Tennessee and a Senator from Louisiana; born in Sussex County, Va., in 1775; moved in early youth to New York City; studied law in Richmond, Va., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Nashville, Sullivan County, Tenn.; delegate to the State constitutional convention from Sullivan County in 1796; appointed judge of the superior court in 1796; elected as a Jefferson Democrat to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1801); appointed Governor of the Territory of Mississippi in 1801; appointed on October 31, 1803, one of the commissioners to take possession of Louisiana when purchased from France, and served as Governor of the Territory of Orleans 1804-1812; Governor of Louisiana 1812-1816; elected as a Democrat from Louisiana to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1817, until his death, before the assembling of Congress, in New Orleans, La., November 23, 1817; interment in Basin St. Louis Cemetery; reinterment in Metairie Cemetery.

CLANCY, John Michael, a Representative from New York; born in County Queens, Ireland, May 7, 1837; emigrated with his parents to the United States and settled in New York City; attended the public schools of Brooklyn; engaged in the real-estate business; served as an alderman of the city of Brooklyn 1868-1875; member of the State assembly 1878-1881; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; resumed the real-estate business in New York City; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; died in Butte, Mont., while returning from a visit to Yellowstone Park, July 25, 1908; interment in Holy Cross Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CLANCY, John Richard, a Representative from New York; born in Syracuse, N. Y., March 8, 1859; attended the public schools; vice president of the board of trustees of the New York State College of Forestry; member of the Central New York State Park Commission; director of the Salt Spring National Bank and of the Onondaga Provident Loan Association; chairman of the executive committee, board of trustees, Onondaga County Savings Bank; engaged in the manufacturing of hardware specialties; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed manufacturing interests, and is a resident of Skaneateles, Onondaga County, N. Y.

CLANCY, Robert Henry, a Representative from Michigan; born in Detroit, Mich., March 14, 1882; attended the public schools; was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1907; studied law there one year; reporter on Detroit newspapers for three years; secretary to Congressman Frank E. Doremus 1911-1913; secretary to Assistant Secretary of Commerce E. F. Sweet 1913-1917; United States customs appraiser for Michigan 1917-1922; during the World War was manager of the War Trade Board at Detroit, chief inspector of purchases in Michigan for the Medical Corps of the War Department, and recruiting officer of the aviation division in Detroit, serving in all three positions without salary; field secretary of the University of Michigan Alumni 1920-1922; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; affiliated with the Republican Party in 1926; engaged in the real-estate business. Elected as a Republican to the Seventieth Congress.

CLAPP, Asa William Henry, a Representative from Maine; born in Portland, Me., March 6, 1805; was graduated from the Norwich (Vt.) Military Academy in 1823; engaged as a merchant in foreign and domestic commerce at Portland; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1848; resumed his former business pursuits; delegate at large to the convention at Baltimore that nominated Franklin Pierce for President in 1852; served as a director of the Maine General Hospital and of the Portland Public Library until his death in Portland, Me., March 22, 1891; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CLAPP, Moses Edwin, a Senator from Minnesota; born in Delphi, Carroll County, Ind., May 21, 1851; moved with his parents to Hudson, Wis., in 1857; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1873; was admitted to the bar in 1874 and commenced practice in Hudson, St. Croix County, Wis.; prosecuting attorney of St. Croix County, Wis., 1878-1880; moved to Fergus Falls, Minn., in 1881, and continued the practice of law; attorney general of Minnesota 1887-1893; moved to St. Paul, Minn., in 1891 and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Minnesota in 1896; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1901 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Cushman K. Davis; reelected in 1905 and 1911, and served from January 23, 1901, to March 3, 1917; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1916; practiced law in Washington, D. C., 1918-1923; became vice president and general counsel of the North American Development Corporation in 1923, and resides in Washington, D. C.

CLARDY, John Daniel, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Smith County, Tenn., August 30, 1828; moved with his parents to Christian County, Ky., in 1831; attended the county schools, and was graduated from Georgetown (Ky.) College in 1848; taught school one year; studied medicine at the University of Louisville, Kentucky, for one year, and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, in 1851; practiced his profession for a number of years, and then abandoned it to devote his time to scientific agriculture and stock raising; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1890; appointed as one of the State commissioners to the Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for re-election in 1898; retired from public life; died at his home, "Oakland," near Hopkinsville, Christian County, Ky., August 20, 1918; interment in Clardy's County Cemetery, Belts, Christian County, Ky.

CLARDY, Martin Linn, a Representative from Missouri; born in Farmington, Ste. Genevieve County, Mo., April 26, 1844; attended the St. Louis University and the University of Mississippi at Oxford; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; served in the Confederate Army until the close of the Civil War and retired with the rank of major; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Farmington, St. Francois County, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for re-election in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884, which nominated Cleveland and Hendricks; resumed the practice of his profession in Farmington, Mo.; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1894, having been appointed general attorney for the Missouri Pacific and St. Louis & Iron Mountain Railway Cos.; elected vice president and general solicitor in 1909 and served until his death in St. Louis, Mo., on July 5, 1914; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

CLARK, Abraham, a Delegate and a Representative from New Jersey; born near Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., February 15, 1726; attended private schools; studied law, but never practiced; sheriff of Essex County; member of the New Jersey Provincial Congress from May 23, 1775, to June 22, 1776, and was appointed assistant secretary October 9, 1775; Member of the Continental Congress from June 22, 1776, to December 1, 1778; reelected in May, 1779, but declined; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; delegate to the State conventions of 1780 and 1787; member of the State general assembly in 1776 and 1788-1785; member of the legislative council in 1778; again a Member of the Continental Congress from December 25, 1779, to November 5, 1783, and from November 2, 1787, to March 4, 1789; elected to the Second and Third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1791, until his death in Rahway, N. J., September 15, 1794; interment in the Rahway Cemetery.

CLARK, Alvah Augustus (cousin of James Nelson Piddcock), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Lebanon, Hunterdon County, N. J., September 13, 1840; attended public and private schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in New Germantown, N. J.; licensed as counselor in 1867; moved to Somerville, Somerset County, in 1867 and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for re-nomination in 1880; resumed the practice of law; appointed postmaster at Somerville on May 26, 1898, and served until his successor was appointed on June 15, 1899; again resumed the practice of law until his death in Somerville, N. J., on December 27, 1912; interment in the Somerville Cemetery.

CLARK, Ambrose Williams, a Representative from New York; born near Cooperstown, N. Y., February 19, 1810; attended the public schools; publisher of the Otsego Journal 1831-1836, of the Northern Journal in Lewis County 1836-1844, and of the Northern New York Journal at Watertown 1844-1860; surrogate for five years; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); appointed consul at Valparaiso by President Lincoln, and served from 1865 to 1869; acted as chargé d'affaires in Chile in the absence of the minister in 1869; died in Watertown, N. Y., October 13, 1887; interment in Brookside Cemetery.

CLARK, Amos, Jr., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 8, 1828; engaged in business in New York City, with residence in Elizabeth, where he was largely interested in real estate; member of the City Council of Elizabeth in 1865 and 1866; served in the State senate 1866-1869; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Wilson in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for re-election in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; retired to his residence in Norfolk County, Mass., but retained business interests in Elizabeth, N. J.; died in Boston, Mass., October 31, 1912; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Elizabeth, N. J.

CLARK, Champ (James Beauchamp), a Representative from Missouri; born near Lawrenceburg, Anderson County, Ky., March 7, 1850; attended the common schools and Kentucky University at Lexington; was graduated from Bethany (W. Va.) College in 1873 and from the Cincinnati Law School in 1875; president of Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., in 1873 and 1874; admitted to the bar in 1875; edited a country newspaper and practiced law; moved to Bowling Green, Pike County, Mo., in 1876; city attorney of Louisiana, Mo., and Bowling Green, Mo., 1878-1881; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English in 1880; deputy prosecuting attorney and prosecuting attorney of Pike County 1885-1889; member of the State house of representatives in 1880 and 1891; delegate to the Trans-Mississippi Congress at Denver in May, 1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for re-election in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; elected to the Fifty-fifth and to the eleven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death; unsuccessful candidate for re-election in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; Democratic minority leader of the House of Representatives in the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses; served as Speaker of the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses; chairman of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; led in the presidential nomination on twenty-nine ballots, and had a clear majority on eight; died in Washington, D. C., March 2, 1921; funeral services were held in the Hall of the House of Representatives; interment in the City Cemetery, Bowling Green, Mo., and a monument was erected to his memory by the State.

CLARK, Charles Benjamin, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Theresa, Jefferson County, N. Y., August 24, 1844; attended the common schools; moved to Wisconsin in 1855 with his widowed mother, who settled in Neenah, Winnebago County; enlisted in Company I, Twenty-first Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, at its organization, and served with the same during the Civil War; engaged in mercantile pursuits, banking, and the manufacture of paper; mayor of Neenah 1880-1883; member of the City Council of Neenah 1883-1885; member of the State assembly in 1885; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; died in Watertown, Jefferson County, N. Y., while on a visit to his old home, September 10, 1891; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Neenah, Wis.

CLARK, Charles Nelson, a Representative from Missouri; born in Cortland County, N. Y., August 21, 1827; attended Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.; moved to Illinois in 1859; when the Civil War broke out he assisted in raising a company of cavalry, which was made Company G, Third Illinois Cavalry, August 6, 1861, and went directly into service; became disabled and left the Army in 1863; settled in Hannibal, Marion County, Mo., in April, 1865; became interested in the Mississippi River bottom lands in Illinois and undertook their reclamation; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Hannibal, Mo., October 4, 1902; interment in Wauseon Cemetery, Wauseon, Fulton County, Ohio.

CLARK, Christopher Henderson (brother of James Clark and uncle of John Bullock Clark), a Representative from Virginia; born in Albemarle County, Va., in 1767; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va.; studied law in the office of Patrick Henry, was admitted to the bar in 1788, and commenced practice in New London (now Bedford Springs), Va.; member of the State house of delegates in 1790; elected as a Jeffersonian Democrat to the Eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Trigg; reelected to the Ninth Congress, and served from November 5, 1804, to July 1, 1806, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in New London, Va.; died near New London, Va., November 21, 1828; interment in a private cemetery at Old Lawyers Station, near Lynchburg, Va.

CLARK, Clarence Don, a Representative and a Senator from Wyoming; born in Sandy Creek, Oswego County, N. Y., April 16, 1851; attended the common schools and the University of Iowa at Iowa City; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1874; taught school and practiced law in Manchester, Delaware County, Iowa, until 1881, when he moved to Evanston, Wyo., and continued the practice of law; prosecuting attorney of Uinta County 1882-1884; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888, at Philadelphia in 1900, and again at Chicago in 1904, 1908, and 1912; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1889; upon the admission of Wyoming as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress; reelected to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from December 1, 1890, to March 3, 1893; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; elected to the United States Senate in 1895 to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1898, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect in 1892-93; reelected in 1899, 1905, and again in 1911, and served from January 23, 1896, until March 3, 1917; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; appointed on July 16, 1919, a member of the International Joint Commission, created by treaty, to adjust disputes regarding the use of boundary waters between the United States and Canada, and for other purposes; on April 15, 1923, was elected chairman of the United States section of the commission, in which capacity he is now serving; is located in Washington, D. C., and a resident of Evanston, Wyo.

CLARK, Daniel, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Stratham, N. H., October 24, 1809; attended the common schools and Hampton Academy; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Epping, N. H.; moved to Manchester in 1839; member of the State house of representatives in 1842, 1843, 1846, 1854, and 1855; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Bell; reelected in 1861, and served from June 27, 1857, to July 27, 1866, when he resigned; President pro tempore of the Senate February 9 and April 26, 1864; United States district judge from July 27, 1866, until his death; president of the New Hampshire constitutional convention in 1876; died in Manchester, N. H., January 2, 1891; interment in the Valley Cemetery.

CLARK, Daniel, a Delegate from the Territory of Orleans; born in Silgo, Ireland, about 1766; educated at Eton and other colleges in England; emigrated to the United States in 1786 and settled in New Orleans, La.; engaged in land speculation and banking; appointed a member of the first legislative council for the Territory of Orleans, but declined; elected to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses, and served from December 1, 1806, to March 3, 1809; unsuccessful candidate for renomination; died in New Orleans, La., August 16, 1813; interred in St. Louis Cemetery No. 1.

CLARK, Ezra, Jr., a Representative from Connecticut; born in Brattleboro, Vt., September 12, 1813; moved with his parents to Hartford, Conn., in 1819; attended the public schools; engaged in business as an iron merchant; member of the common council and the board of aldermen; president of the National Screw Co. of Hartford, later consolidated with the American Screw Co. of Providence, R. I.; director in the Exchange Bank; president of the Spring Grove Cemetery Association; judge of the municipal court; elected as the candidate of the American Party and the Republican Party to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress; president of the Hartford Board of Water Commissioners 1882-1896; president of the Young Men's Institute of Hartford for many years; died in Hartford, Conn., on September 20, 1896; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

CLARK, Frank, a Representative from Florida; born in Eufaula, Barbour County, Ala., March 28, 1860; attended the common schools of Alabama and Georgia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Newnan, Coweta County, Ga.; moved to Florida in 1884 and settled in Polk County; city attorney of Bartow, Fla., in 1885 and 1886; member of the State house of representatives 1888-1891 and in 1899; assistant United States attorney in 1898; United States attorney for the southern district of Florida 1894-1897; moved to Jacksonville in 1895; delegate to Democratic State conventions in 1888, 1890, 1892, 1896, and 1900; chairman of the Democratic State committee in 1900; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and chairman of the delegation; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1924; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Miami, Fla.

CLARK, Franklin, a Representative from Maine; born in Wiscasset, Me., August 2, 1801; attended the common schools; engaged in the lumber and shipping business in Wiscasset; member of the State senate in 1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); engaged in the manufacture of lumber; an executive councillor in 1855; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., August 24, 1874; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CLARK, Henry Alden, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Harborscreek Township, Erie County, Pa., January 7, 1850; attended the common schools and the Erie Academy in 1864, the State normal school, Edinboro, Pa., in 1865 and 1866, and Willoughby Collegiate Institute, Willoughby, Ohio, in 1866 and 1867; taught school; was graduated from the Erie Central High School in 1870, from Harvard University in 1874, and from Harvard Law School in 1877; was admitted to the bar in Fall River, Mass., in March, 1878; subsequently associated with the Edison electric light interests in New York; moved to Erie, Pa., in 1882, continuing with the Edison corporation until 1887; was admitted to the Pennsylvania bar May 9, 1884; member of the Common Council of Erie in 1888; bought and edited the Erie Gazette in 1890; chairman of the Republican city and county committees in 1890; delegate to several Republican State conventions; trustee of the Erie Academy in 1893; president of the Erie County Historical Society; director in the Art Club of Erie; city solicitor of Erie from July 11, 1896, until April 30, 1899; served in the State senate in 1911, 1913, and 1915; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); was not a candidate for renomination in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; appointed by Governor Sprout presiding judge of the orphans' court for Erie County May 24, 1921, and was elected on November 8, 1921, for a full term of ten years, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Erie, Pa.

CLARK, Henry Selby, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Leechville, Beaufort County, N. C., September 9, 1809; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1828; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Washington, Beaufort County, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1834-1836; solicitor for the district in 1842; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); moved to Greenville, Pitt County, N. C., and resumed the practice of law; died in Greenville, N. C., January 8, 1869; interment at his country home near Leechville, N. C.

CLARK, Horace Francis, a Representative from New York; born in Southbury, Conn., November 29, 1815; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New York City in 1837, where he was prominent in financial, political, and railroad circles; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); became director of the New York & Harlem Railroad, and subsequently was president of the Union Pacific, the Michigan Southern, and many other railroads; active manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. and president of the Union Trust Co.; died in New York City June 19, 1873; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

CLARK, James (brother of Christopher Henderson Clark and uncle of John Bullock Clark), a Representative from Kentucky; born near the Peaks of Otter in Bedford County, Va., January 16, 1770; moved with his parents to Clark County, Ky., in 1794; was educated by private tutors; attended Plagash Academy, Woodford County, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Winchester, Ky., in 1797; member of the State house of representatives in 1807 and 1808; appointed judge of the court of appeals in 1810; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1813, until his resignation in 1816; judge of the circuit court 1817-1824; elected to the Nineteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Clay; reelected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses, and served from August 1, 1825, to March 3, 1831; member of the State senate 1831-1835, elected, as a Whig, Governor of Kentucky in 1836, and served until his death in Frankfort, Ky., September 27, 1839; interment in the private burial ground of the old Clark home at Winchester, Clark County, Ky.

CLARK, James West, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Bertie County, N. C., October 15, 1779; was graduated from Princeton College in 1797; member of the State house of commons in 1802, 1803, and 1811; presidential elector on the Madison ticket in 1812; member of the State senate 1812-1814; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); appointed chief clerk of the Navy Department by Secretary Branch, and served from 1829 to 1831; died in Tarboro, Edgecomb County, N. C., December 20, 1843.

CLARK, John Bullock (nephew of Christopher Henderson Clark and James Clark), a Representative from Missouri; born in Madison County, Ky., April 17, 1802; attended the country schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1824, and practiced in Fayette, Mo.; clerk of the Howard County courts 1824-1834; colonel of Missouri Mounted Volunteers in the Black Hawk War in 1832; major general of militia in 1848; member of the State house of representatives 1850 and 1851; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James S. Green; reelected to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses, and served from December 7, 1857, until expelled July 13, 1861; a Senator from Missouri in the First Confederate Congress and a Representative in the Second Confederate Congress; brigadier general of Missouri Confederate State troops; practiced law until his death in Fayette, Howard County, Mo., October 29, 1865; interment in Fayette Cemetery.

CLARK, John Bullock, jr. (son of the preceding), a Representative from Missouri; born in Fayette, Howard County, Mo., January 14, 1831; attended Fayette Academy, and the University of Missouri at Columbia; spent two years in California for travel and adventure; returned to the East, and was graduated from the law department of Harvard University in 1854; was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Fayette, Mo., from 1855 until the commencement of the Civil War, when he entered the Confederate Army as a lieutenant; promoted successively to the rank of captain, major, colonel, and brigadier general; resumed the practice of law in Fayette, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1882; Clerk of the National House of Representatives 1883-1889; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death there, September 7, 1903; interment in Rock Creek Cemetery.

CLARK, John Chamberlain, a Representative from New York; born in Pittsfield, Mass., January 14, 1798; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1811; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Hamilton, N. Y.; moved to Bainbridge, Chenango County, about 1818; district attorney 1823-1827; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839), but changed his politics on the appearance of President Van Buren's message in 1837 favoring an independent Treasury for the safe-keeping and disbursement of the public moneys; reelected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); served as First Auditor of the Treasury from August 2 to October 31, 1849; moved to Chemung County, N. Y., and engaged in the lumber business; died in Elmira, Chemung County, N. Y., October 25, 1852; interment in St. Peter's Churchyard, Bainbridge, N. Y.

CLARK, Lincoln, a Representative from Iowa; born in Conway, Franklin County, Mass., August 9, 1800; attended the district and private schools; was graduated from Amherst (Mass.) College in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Pickensville, Pickens County, Ala.; member of the State house of representatives in 1834, 1835, and 1845; moved to Tuscaloosa in 1836; elected by the legislature attorney general in 1839; appointed by Governor Fitzpatrick circuit judge in 1846; moved to Dubuque, Iowa, in 1848; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate in 1852 and 1854 for reelection to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill.; appointed United States register in bankruptcy in 1860; retired from active business and returned to Conway, Mass., in 1869; died in Conway, Mass., September 16, 1886; interment in Howland Cemetery.

CLARK, Lot, a Representative from New York; born in Hillsdale, Columbia County, N. Y., May 23, 1788; moved with his parents to Otsego County in 1796; pursued academic studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1816, and practiced in Norwich, N. Y., and later in Lockport; president of the Lockport Bank; projector of the first wire-cable bridge over the Niagara chasm; president of the Suspension Bridge Co. until his death; member and agent of the so-called Albany Co., owners of all the unsold lands in Niagara and Orleans Counties and the north parts of Genesee and Erie Counties; district attorney of Chenango County in 1822 and 1823; elected as an old-line Whig to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); again served as district attorney of Chenango County 1828-1836; member of the State assembly in 1846; died in Buffalo, N. Y., December 18, 1862.

CLARK, Robert, a Representative from New York; born in Washington County, N. Y., June 12, 1777; was tutored privately; studied medicine in the office of his brother, and commenced practice in Galway, Washington County, N. Y., in 1799; moved to Stamford, Delaware County, and later settled near Delhi, Delaware County, where he continued the practice of his profession; member of the State assembly 1812-1815; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1821; moved to Monroe County, Mich., and settled on a farm near the village of Monroe, where he again engaged in the practice of his profession and was also interested in the scientific cultivation of fruits and grasses and the subject of drainage; appointed register of the land office for the second land district of Michigan Territory on May 26, 1823, and served until March 25, 1831; died October 1, 1837.

CLARK, Rush, a Representative from Iowa; born in Schellsburg, Bedford County, Pa., October 1, 1834; attended the common schools, the local academy at Ligonier, Pa., and was graduated from Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Iowa City, Iowa; member of the Iowa House of Representatives 1860-1864, and served as speaker in 1863 and 1864; served on the staff of the Governor of Iowa in 1861 and 1862, and aided in the organization of volunteer regiments from Iowa during the Civil War; trustee of Iowa University at Iowa City 1862-1868; again served in the State house of representatives in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 29, 1879; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Iowa City, Iowa.

CLARK, Samuel, a Representative from New York and a Representative from Michigan; born in Clarksville, Cayuga County, N. Y., January, 1800; attended Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.; was admitted to the bar, and commenced the practice of law in Waterloo, N. Y., in 1826; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1842 and resumed the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention in 1850; elected as a Democrat from Michigan to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Kalamazoo, Kalamazoo County, Mich., October 2, 1870; interment in Mountain Home Cemetery.

CLARK, Samuel Mercer, a Representative from Iowa; born near Keosauqua, Van Buren County, Iowa, October 11, 1842; attended the public schools and the Des Moines Valley College, West Point, Iowa; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1864, but did not engage in extensive practice; editor of the Keokuk Daily Gate City for 31 years; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872, at Cincinnati in 1876, and at Chicago in 1880; appointed commissioner of education to the Paris Exposition in 1889; postmaster of Keokuk from January 20, 1879, to November 2, 1885; member of the Keokuk Board of Education 1879-1894, and served as president 1882-1894; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed editorial duties; died in Keokuk, Lee County, Iowa, August 11, 1900; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CLARK, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Dauphin, Pa., February 18, 1774; captain of militia in Dauphin County in 1798 and 1795; went to Crawford County, Pa., early in life; was associate judge of Crawford County 1803-1818; participated in the War of 1812; brigade inspector of the western district of Pennsylvania 1800-1817; was on board the flagship Lawrence in her first engagement with the British fleet on Lake Erie; secretary of the Pennsylvania land office 1818-1821; State treasurer 1821-1827; Treasurer of the United States from June 4, 1828, to November, 1829; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); member of the State constitutional revision commission in 1837; engaged in agricultural pursuits; died near Dauphin, Pa., March 28, 1851; interment in the English Presbyterian Cemetery.

CLARK, William Andrews, a Senator from Montana; born near Connellsville, Fayette County, Pa., January 8, 1839; attended the common schools and the Laurel Hill Academy; moved with his parents to Iowa in 1856, where he taught school, and while teaching studied law at the Iowa Wesleyan University at Mount Pleasant; worked in the quartz mines around Central City, Gilpin County, Colo., in 1862, and went to Montana in 1863 and settled in Bannack, Beaverhead County, and engaged in placer mining for two years; engaged in various mercantile pursuits in Blackfoot and Helena and in banking at Deer Lodge; major of a battalion that pursued Chief Joseph and his band in the Nez Percés invasion of 1877; president of the State constitutional convention in 1884 and of the second constitutional convention in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1899, and took his seat December 4, 1899, at which time protests and a memorial were filed requesting that the election be investigated; vacated his seat in the Senate on May 15, 1900, while a resolution declaring his election void was pending, having previously tendered his resignation to the governor; appointed by the lieutenant governor, as acting governor, to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation, but did not qualify; again elected to the United States Senate in 1901, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1907; was not a candidate for reelection; personally superintended his extensive copper mining, banking, and railroad interests in Butte, Mont., with offices and winter residence in New York City; died in New York City March 2, 1925; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

CLARK, William Thomas, a Representative from Texas; born in Norwalk, Conn., June 29, 1834; attended schools in Connecticut and in New York City; taught school; studied law in New York City, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1855; moved to Iowa the same year and practiced law; during the Civil War served in the Union Army; commissioned first lieutenant and adjutant of the Thirtieth Iowa Infantry November 2, 1861; captain and assistant adjutant general March 6, 1862; major and adjutant general November 24, 1862; lieutenant colonel and assistant adjutant general, assigned, February 10, 1863, to April 22, 1865; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers July 22, 1864, "for gallant and distinguished services at the Battle of Atlanta, Ga."; major general November 24, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services during the war"; mustered out February 1, 1866; engaged in banking in Galveston, Tex.; upon the readmission of the State of Texas to representation was elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress, and served from March 31, 1870, to March 3, 1871; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1871, to May 13, 1872, when he was succeeded by De Witt C. Giddings, who contested his election; postmaster of Galveston from June 19, 1872, to May 7, 1874; died in New York City October 12, 1905; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

CLARKE, Archibald Smith (brother of Staley Nichols Clarke), a Representative from New York; born on a plantation in Prince Georges County, Md., in 1788; attended grammar and high schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Niagara County, N. Y.; surrogate of Niagara County in 1808 and 1809; member of the State assembly 1809-1811; served in the State senate 1813-1816; county clerk in 1815 and 1816; elected to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Peter B. Porter, and served from December 2, 1816, to March 3, 1817; died in Clarence, Erie County, N. Y., December 4, 1821.

CLARKE, Bayard, a Representative from New York; born in New York City March 17, 1815; was graduated from Geneva College in 1835; studied law and was admitted to the bar; attaché to General Cass, United States minister to France, 1836-1840; student in the Royal Cavalry School; appointed second lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry March 8, 1841; transferred to the Second Dragoons in September, 1841, and resigned December 15, 1843; settled in Westchester County, N. Y.; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; elected as an American Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in Schroon Lake, Essex County, N. Y., June 20, 1884; interment in a vault at Newtown, Long Island, N. Y.

CLARKE, Beverly Leonidas, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Winterfield, Chesterfield County, Va., February 11, 1809; attended the common schools; moved to Kentucky in 1823; studied law in Franklin, Ky., and was graduated from the Lexington Law School in 1831; was admitted to the bar in 1833 and commenced practice in Franklin, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1841 and 1842; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1849; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1849; unsuccessful Democratic nominee for governor in 1855; appointed by President Buchanan minister to Guatemala, and was also accredited to Honduras, and served from January 7, 1858, until his death in Guatemala, Central America, March 17, 1860; interment in the State Cemetery, Frankfort, Ky.

CLARKE, Charles Ezra, a Representative from New York; born in Saybrook, Conn., April 8, 1790; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Watertown, N. Y.; moved to Great Bend, Jefferson County, N. Y., in 1840; member of the State assembly in 1839 and 1840; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); resumed the practice of law; also built and operated a gristmill and engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Great Bend, N. Y., December 29, 1863; interment in Brookside Cemetery, Watertown, N. Y.

CLARKE, Frank Gay, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Wilton, Hillsborough County, N. H., September 10, 1850; attended Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and commenced practice in Peterboro; member of the State house of representatives in 1885; appointed colonel on the military staff of Governor Hale and served in that capacity from 1885 to 1887; served in the State senate in 1889; elected to the State house of representatives in 1891 and chosen speaker of that body; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Peterboro, Hillsborough County, N. H., January 9, 1901; interment in Pine Hill Cemetery.

CLARKE, Freeman, a Representative from New York; born in Troy, N. Y., March 22, 1809; attended the common schools; went into business for himself at the age of fifteen; began his financial career as cashier of the Bank of Orleans, Albion, N. Y.; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1845; became director and president of numerous banks, railroads, and telegraph and trust companies of Rochester and New York City; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; vice president of the first Republican State convention of New York in 1854; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Frémont and Dayton in 1856; appointed Comptroller of the Currency in 1865; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1867; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for renomination in 1864; Comptroller of the Currency from March 9, 1865, to February 6, 1867; again elected to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); resumed his former business pursuits; died in Rochester, N. Y., June 24, 1887; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

CLARKE, James Paul, a Senator from Arkansas; born in Yazoo City, Yazoo County, Miss., August 18, 1854; attended the public schools and Professor Tutwiler's Academy, Greenbrier, Ala.; was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1878, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in Helena, Phillips County, Ark.; member of the State house of representatives 1886-1888; served in the State senate 1888-1892; was president of that body in 1891 and ex officio Lieutenant governor; attorney general of Arkansas 1892-1894; declined to be a candidate for renomination; Governor of Arkansas in 1895 and 1896; moved to Little Rock, Ark., in 1897, and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1903; reelected in 1909 and again in 1915, and served from March 4, 1903, until his death; elected President pro tempore of the Senate in 1913 and again in 1915; member of the Democratic National Committee; died in Little Rock, Ark., October 1, 1916; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CLARKE, John Blades, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Augusta, Bracken County, Ky., April 14, 1833; attended the common schools and Augusta College; taught school 1851-1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Brooksville, Ky.; prosecuting attorney of Bracken County 1858-1862; member of the State senate in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); resumed the practice of his profession; died in Brooksville, Bracken County, Ky., May 23, 1911; interment in Mount Zion Cemetery, near Brooksville, Ky.

CLARKE, John Davenport, a Representative from New York; born in Hobart, Delaware County, N. Y., January 15, 1873; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., in 1898; took postgraduate courses in economics and history in Colorado College at Colorado Springs; studied law in the New York Law School, and was graduated from the Brooklyn Law School in 1911; was admitted to the bar in 1912 and commenced practice in New York City; engaged in work with the mining department of the Carnegie Steel Co.; assistant to the secretary of mines of the United States Steel Corporation 1901-1907; secretary and treasurer of other mining interests; moved to Delaware County in 1915 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits, and is a resident of Fraser, Delaware County, N. Y. Elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CLARKE, John Hopkins, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Elizabeth, N. J., April 1, 1789; when quite young he moved to Providence, R. I., where he studied under a private teacher; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Providence in 1812; clerk of the supreme court of Providence County in 1813; proprietor of a distillery in Cranston, R. I., until 1824, when he became a cotton manufacturer in Providence, Pontiac, and Woonsocket; member of the State house of representatives in 1836; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1847, to March 3, 1853; died in Providence, R. I., November 23, 1870; interment in the North Burial Ground.

CLARKE, Reader Wright, a Representative from Ohio; born in Bethel, Ohio, May 18, 1812; learned the art of printing; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Batavia, Ohio; published a Whig paper in Shawneetown, Ill., for a few years; returned to Batavia, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives 1840-1842; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; clerk of the court of Clermont County 1846-1852; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); Third Auditor of the Treasury from March 26, 1869, to March 28, 1870; appointed collector of internal revenue in Ohio; died in Batavia, Clermont County, Ohio, May 23, 1872; interment in Union Cemetery.

CLARKE, Richard Henry, a Representative from Alabama; born in Linden, Marengo County, Ala., February 9, 1843; attended private schools, and was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in July, 1861; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as a lieutenant in the First Battalion of Alabama Artillery; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Demopolis, Marengo County, Ala.; State solicitor (prosecuting attorney) for Marengo County 1872-1876; prosecuting attorney of the seventh judicial circuit in 1876 and 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1897); resumed the practice of law; died in St. Louis, Mo., September 26, 1906; interment in Magnolia Cemetery, Mobile, Ala.

CLARKE, Sidney, a Representative from Kansas; born in Southbridge, Worcester County, Mass., October 16, 1811; attended the public schools; publisher of the Southbridge Press in 1854; settled in Lawrence, Kans., in 1859; enlisted as a volunteer during the Civil War; appointed assistant adjutant general of Volunteers by President Lincoln February 9, 1863; captain and assistant provost marshal general for Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, and Dakota; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate in 1870 for reelection to the Forty-second Congress; member of the State house of representatives in 1879, and served as speaker; moved to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma County, Okla., in 1889, and engaged in railroad building; chairman of the statehood executive committee in 1891; member of the Territorial council 1898-1902; died in Oklahoma City, Okla., June 18, 1909; interment in Fairlawn Cemetery.

CLARKE, Staley Nichols (brother of Archibald Smith Clarke), a Representative from New York; born in Prince Georges County, Md., May 24, 1794; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1815; employed as a clerk in the Bank of Niagara; clerk in the office of the Holland Land Co., Batavia, N. Y., from 1819 to January, 1822, when he was transferred as their agent for the county of Cattaraugus to Ellipticville, N. Y.; treasurer of Cattaraugus County for seventeen years; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1848); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1842; died in Ellipticville, Cattaraugus County, N. Y., October 14, 1860; interment in the Jefferson Street Cemetery.

CLARKSON, Matthew, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in New York City in April, 1733; moved to Philadelphia, Pa.; was justice of the court of common pleas, quarter sessions of the peace, and the Philadelphia orphans' court in 1771 and 1772; elected to the Continental Congress in 1785, but did not accompany the other Pennsylvania Delegates to New York and may not have served; member of the board of aldermen in 1789; mayor of Philadelphia 1792-1796; died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 5, 1800; interment in Christ Church Burying Grounds.

CLASSON, David Guy, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Oconto, Oconto County, Wis., September 27, 1870; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1891; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Oconto, Wis.; judge of Oconto County 1894-1898; mayor of Oconto 1898-1900; city attorney 1900-1906; president of the board of education in 1912 and 1913; president of the board of fire and police commissioners in 1915 and 1916; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1923); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1922; resumed the practice of law in Oconto, Wis., where he now resides.

CLAWSON, Isalah Dunn, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Woodstown, Salem County, N. J., March 30, 1822; attended Delaware College, Newark, N. J., and Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.; was graduated from Princeton College in 1840 and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1843; commenced the practice of medicine in Woodstown, N. J.; member of the State house of assembly in 1854; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; resumed the practice of medicine in Woodstown, N. J., where he died October 9, 1879; interment in the Baptist Cemetery.

CLAY, Alexander Stephens, a Senator from Georgia; born near Powder Springs, Cobb County, Ga., September 25, 1853; attended the common schools and high school of Palmetto, Ga.; was graduated from Hiwassee (Tenn.) College in 1875; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in Marietta, Ga.; member of the city council in 1880 and 1881; member of the State house of representatives 1884-1887, 1889, and again in 1890; served as speaker pro tempore in 1886, 1887, 1889, and 1890; member of the State senate 1892-1894 and was president of that body for two years; elected in 1896 as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1902 and again in 1908, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Atlanta, Ga., November 13, 1910; interment in the City Cemetery, Marietta, Ga.

CLAY, Brutus Junius, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Richmond, Madison County, Ky., July 1, 1808; attended the common schools and was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky.; engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock raising; moved to Bourbon County in 1837 and continued former pursuits; member of State house of representatives in 1840; elected president of Bourbon County Agricultural Association in 1840 and served thirty years; president of the Kentucky Agricultural Association 1858-1861; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1890; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for reelection; resumed former pursuits; died near Paris, Ky., October 11, 1878; interment in the family burial ground at "Auvergne" near Paris, Ky.

CLAY, Clement Claiborne, jr. (son of Clement Comer Clay), a Senator from Alabama; born in Huntsville, Ala., December 13, 1816; was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1834 and from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1839; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Huntsville, Ala., in 1840; member of the State house of representatives in 1842, 1844, and 1845; judge of the county court of Madison County 1840-1848; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1853, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect; reelected in 1858 and served from November 29, 1853, to January 21, 1861, when he withdrew; member of the Confederate Senate 1861-1863; was a diplomatic agent of the Confederate States; arrested and imprisoned in Fortress Monroe in 1865; after the war settled on his plantation in Jackson County, Ala., and devoted himself to agricultural pursuits and to the practice of law; died at "Wildwood," near Gurley, Madison County, Ala., January 3, 1882; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery, Huntsville, Ala.

CLAY, Clement Comer (father of Clement Claiborne Clay, Jr.), a Representative and a Senator from Alabama; born in Halifax County, Va., December 17, 1789; moved with his parents to a farm near Knoxville, Tenn., when a child; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the East Tennessee University in 1807; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1809; moved to Huntsville, Ala., in 1811 and commenced practice; served in the war against the Creek Indians in 1813; member of the Territorial Council of Alabama in 1817 and 1818; elected a judge of the circuit court in 1819 and chief justice in 1820; resigned in 1823 and resumed the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives in 1827 and 1828, and served as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1835); Governor of Alabama in 1836 and 1837; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John McKinley, and served from June 10, 1837, until his resignation in the fall of 1841; associate judge of the State supreme court in 1843; codified the laws of Alabama in 1842 and 1843; died in Huntsville, Ala., September 9, 1866; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery.

CLAY, Henry (father of James Brown Clay), a Senator and a Representative from Kentucky; born in the district known as "the Slashes," Hanover County, Va., April 12, 1777; attended the public schools; studied law in Richmond, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1797, and commenced practice in Lexington, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1803; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Adair, and served from November 19, 1806, to March 3, 1807, which service was rendered in contravention of the thirty-year age requirement of the Constitution; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1808 and 1809, and served as speaker the last year; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Buckner Thruston, and served from January 4, 1810, to March 3, 1811; elected to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1811, to January 10, 1814, when he resigned; served as Speaker from November 4, 1811, until his resignation; appointed one of the commissioners to negotiate the treaty of peace with Great Britain in 1814; reelected to the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1821); elected Speaker of the House on December 4, 1815, and served until October 23, 1820, when he resigned the office; elected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses, and served from March 3, 1823, to March 6, 1825, when he resigned; again served as Speaker from December 1, 1823, until the close of the Eighteenth Congress; appointed Secretary of State by President John Quincy Adams, and served from March 7, 1825, to March 3, 1829; elected to the United States Senate on November 10, 1831, to fill the vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1831; reelected in 1836, and served until March 31, 1842, when he resigned; unsuccessful candidate on the Whig ticket for President of the United States in 1832 and again in 1844; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, until his death in Washington, D. C. June 29, 1852; interment in Lexington Cemetery, Lexington, Ky.

CLAY, James Brown (son of Henry Clay), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Washington, D. C., November 9, 1817; pursued preparatory studies; attended Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., and Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio; clerk in a countinghouse in Boston 1832-1834; studied law at Lexington Law School, was admitted to the bar, and practiced with his father in Lexington; chargé d'affaires to Portugal from August 1, 1849, to July 19, 1850; was a resident of Missouri in 1851 and 1852, when he returned to Lexington, Ky.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; declined the appointment by President Buchanan of a mission to Germany; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; during the Civil War identified himself with the Confederacy; died in Montreal, Canada, January 26, 1864, where he had gone for his health; interment in Lexington Cemetery, Lexington, Ky.

CLAY, James Franklin, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Henderson, Henderson County, Ky., October 29, 1840; attended public and private schools at Henderson; was graduated from Georgetown College, Kentucky, in June, 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and commenced practice in Henderson, Ky.; member of the State senate in 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed the practice of his profession in Henderson, Ky.; served as city attorney and as attorney for the St. Louis & Southern Railroad and the Ohio Valley Railway Co.; died in Henderson, Ky., August 17, 1921; interment in Fernwood Cemetery.

CLAY, Joseph (grandfather of William Henry Stiles), a Delegate from Georgia; born in Beverly, Yorkshire, England, October 16, 1741; emigrated to the United States and settled in Savannah, Ga., in 1760, where he engaged in the general commission business; elected a member of the council of safety June 22, 1775; delegate to the Provisional Congress which met in Savannah July 4, 1775; major in the Georgia Line of the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War; appointed by the Continental Congress deputy paymaster general in Georgia with the rank of colonel August 6, 1777; Member of the Continental Congress 1778-1780; original trustee of Franklin College, Athens, Ga.; elected treasurer of Georgia in July, 1782; judge of the United States Court for the District of Georgia 1786-1801; died in Savannah, Ga., November 15, 1804; interment in Colonial Park Cemetery.

CLAY, Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., July 24, 1769; elected to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1803, to 1808, when he resigned to engage in banking; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1804 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire; became cashier of the Farmers & Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 27, 1811; interment in Christ Church Burying Ground.

CLAY, Matthew, a Representative from Virginia; born in Halifax County, near Danville, Va., March 25, 1754; during the Revolutionary War entered the Ninth Virginia Regiment October 1, 1776, transferred to First Virginia Regiment in 1778, transferred to Fifth Virginia Regiment in 1781, successively promoted to first lieutenant, captain, and quartermaster, mustered out 1783; member State house of delegates 1790-1794; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1813); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1813 to the Thirteenth Congress; elected to the Fourteenth Congress and served from March 4, 1815, until his death; died at Halifax Court House, Va., May 27, 1815; interment in the old family burying ground in Pittsylvania County, Va.

CLAYPOOL, Horatio Clifford, a Representative from Ohio; born in McArthur, Vinton County, Ohio, February 9, 1859; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the normal school at Lebanon, Ohio, in 1880; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Ross County 1899-1903; probate judge of the county 1905-1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; elected to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Chillicothe, Ohio; died in Columbus, Ohio, January 19, 1921; interment in Grandview Cemetery, Chillicothe, Ross County, Ohio.

CLAYTON, Augustin Smith, a Representative from Georgia; born in Fredericksburg, Va., November 27, 1788; moved with his parents to Richmond County, Ga., in 1784; attended Richmond Academy, and was graduated from Franklin College, Athens, Ga., in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1800, and commenced practice in Carnesville, Franklin County; moved to Athens; selected by the legislature in 1810 to compile the statutes of Georgia from 1800; member of the State house of representatives 1810-1812; clerk of the State house of representatives 1813-1815; served in the State senate 1826 and 1827; judge of the superior court 1819-1825 and 1828-1831; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Calhoun in 1828; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Wilson Lumpkin; reelected to the Twenty-third Congress, and served from January 21, 1832, to March 3, 1835; resumed the practice of law in Athens, Ga., and died there June 21, 1839; interment in Oconee Cemetery.

CLAYTON, Bertram Tracy (brother of Henry De Lamar Clayton), a Representative from New York; born on the Clayton estate near Clayton, Barbour County, Ala., October 19, 1862; attended the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa; was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1886 and appointed a second lieutenant in the Eleventh Regiment United States Infantry; served until April 30, 1888, when he resigned to go into business as a civil engineer in Brooklyn; during the Spanish-American War was mustered into the United States volunteer service as captain of Troop C, New York Volunteers, May 20, 1898; was later placed in command of Troops A, B, and C of the New York Cavalry, and served throughout the Porto Rican campaign; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate in 1900 for reelection to the Fifty-seventh Congress; appointed by President Roosevelt a captain in the United States Regular Army April 17, 1901; quartermaster in the United States Army in the Philippine Islands 1901-1904; quartermaster and disbursing officer of the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., 1911-1914; during the World War was appointed colonel in the Quartermaster Corps of the American Army March 15, 1918; quartermaster of the First Division in France; killed in action at Noy, Department of the Oise, France, May 30, 1918; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

CLAYTON, Charles, a Representative from California; born in Devonshire, England, October 5, 1825; attended the public schools; emigrated to the United States and settled in Wisconsin in 1842; went to Oregon in 1847 and in the following year to San Francisco, Calif.; alcalde of Santa Clara in 1849 and 1850; built the Santa Clara flour mills in 1852; returned to San Francisco in 1853 and engaged in the grain and flour business; member of the State assembly 1863-1868; member of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, Calif., 1864-1869; appointed surveyor of customs of the port and district of San Francisco by President Grant on March 16, 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; State prison director in 1881 and 1882; died in Oakland, Calif., October 4, 1885; interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

CLAYTON, Henry De Lamar (brother of Bertram Tracy Clayton), a Representative from Alabama; born near Clayton, Barbour County, Ala., February 10, 1857; attended the common schools; graduated from the literary department of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1877 and from the law department in 1878; was admitted to the bar in the latter year and commenced practice in Clayton, Ala.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888 and of Cleveland and Stevenson in 1892; member of the State house of representatives in 1890 and 1891; United States district attorney for the middle district of Alabama 1893-1896; permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and to the eight succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until May 25, 1914, when he resigned to accept a commission as United States judge for the middle and northern districts of Alabama, in which capacity he is now serving; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1905 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Charles Swaine, judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida, and in 1912 against Robert W. Archbald, judge of the United States Commerce Court; chevalier of the Legion of Honor tendered by the French Government; is a resident of Montgomery, Ala.

CLAYTON, John Middleton (nephew of Joshua Clayton and cousin of Thomas Clayton), a Senator from Delaware; born in Dagsboro, Sussex County, Del., July 24, 1796; pursued preparatory studies at academies in Berlin, Md., and Milford, Del., and was graduated from Yale College in 1815; studied law at the Litchfield Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1819, and commenced practice in Dover; member of the State house of representatives in 1824; secretary of state of Delaware 1826-1828; elected as a National Republican to the United States Senate in 1829; reelected in 1835, and served from March 4, 1829, until December 29, 1836, when he resigned; chief justice of Delaware 1837-1839; again elected, as a Whig, to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1845, until February 23, 1849, when he resigned to accept a Cabinet position; appointed Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Taylor, and served from March 7, 1849, to July 22, 1850; while Secretary of State negotiated the Clayton-Bulwer treaty with Great Britain; reelected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1853, until his death in Dover, Del., November 9, 1856; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

CLAYTON, Joshua (father of Thomas Clayton and uncle of John Middleton Clayton), a Senator from Delaware; born at Bohemia Manor, Cecil County, Md., July 20, 1744; studied medicine in Philadelphia and practiced in Middletown, Del.; during the Revolutionary War served as major in the Bohemia battalion of the Maryland Line and was an aide on the staff of General Washington at the Battle of the Brandywine; delegate to the Provincial Congress 1782-1784; member of the State house of representatives in 1785 and 1787; judge of the court of appeals; elected State treasurer June 24, 1786; President of Delaware from May 30, 1789, to January 13, 1793; was elected the first Governor of Delaware, and served from January 13, 1793, to January 13, 1798; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Vinling, and served from January 19, 1798, until his death in Philadelphia, while attending a session of that body, August 11, 1798; interment in Bethel Cemetery, Cecil County, Md.

CLAYTON, Powell, a Senator from Arkansas; born in Bethel, Delaware County, Pa., August 7, 1833; attended the common schools and Partridge Military Academy, Bristol, Pa.; studied civil engineering in Wilmington, Del.; moved to Leavenworth, Kans., where he practiced his profession; appointed city engineer in 1857; at the outbreak of the Civil War entered the Union Army as captain of the First Regiment Kansas Volunteer Infantry; appointed lieutenant colonel of the Fifth Regiment Kansas Volunteer Cavalry December 28, 1861, and colonel March 7, 1862; commissioned brigadier general of Volunteers August 1, 1864; mustered out August 24, 1865; moved to Arkansas and became a planter; elected Governor of Arkansas in 1868; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1877; moved to Little Rock, Ark.; member of the Republican National Committee; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872 and at St. Louis in 1896; ambassador to Mexico 1897-1905; lived in retirement until his death in Washington, D. C., August 25, 1914; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

CLAYTON, Thomas (son of Joshua Clayton and cousin of John Middleton Clayton), a Representative and a Senator from Delaware; born in Masseys Cross Roads, Md., March 9, 1778; received a classical education at Newark Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1799, and commenced practice in New Castle; clerk of the State house of representatives in 1800, and a member of that body 1802-1806, 1810, 1812, and 1813; secretary of state of Delaware 1808-1810; served in the State senate in 1808; State attorney general 1810-1815; elected as a Federalist to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); again a member of the State senate in 1821; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Caesar A. Rodney, and served from January 8, 1824, to March 3, 1827; chief justice of the court of common pleas of Delaware in 1828; chief justice of the superior court of the State in 1832; again elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John M. Clayton; reelected in 1841, and served from January 9, 1837, to March 3, 1847; moved to New Castle and retired from public life; died in New Castle, New Castle County, Del., August 21, 1854; interment in the Presbyterian Church Cemetery, Dover, Kent County, Del.

CLEARY, William Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Ellenville, Ulster County, N. Y., July 20, 1849; attended the public schools and the Ellenville Academy; moved to Brooklyn in 1879 and engaged in water transportation; vice president of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel J. Griffin; reelected to the Sixty-sixth Congress, and served from March 5, 1918, to March 3, 1921; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; elected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927); was not a candidate for reelection in 1926; resumed his former business interests and resides in Brooklyn, N. Y.

CLEMENS, Jeremiah, a Senator from Alabama; born in Huntsville, Ala., December 28, 1814; attended La Grange College, and was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1833; studied law at Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., was admitted to the bar in 1834, and practiced in Huntsville; appointed United States district attorney for the northern district of Alabama in 1838; member of the State house of representatives 1839-1841; raised a company of riflemen in 1842, and served in the Texas war of independence; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1843 and 1844; served in the Mexican War and appointed major of the Thirteenth United States Infantry March 3, 1847; promoted to lieutenant colonel of the Ninth United States Infantry July 16, 1847; appointed chief of the department of civil and military purchases in Mexico in 1848; discharged from the Army and returned to Alabama; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dixon H. Lewis, and served from November 30, 1849, to March 3, 1853; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856 and of Breckinridge and Lane in 1860; moved to Memphis, Tenn., in 1858 and became editor of the Memphis Eagle and Enquirer January 1, 1859; returned to Alabama; delegate to the convention in 1861 in which Alabama voted to secede from the Union; held office under the Confederacy, but became a strong Union man in 1864; died in Huntsville, Madison County, Ala., May 21, 1865; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery.

CLEMENS, Sherrard, a Representative from Virginia; born in Wheeling, Va. (now West Virginia), April 28, 1820; appointed a cadet to the United States Military Academy at West Point, but resigned after six months; was graduated in law from Washington (now Washington and Jefferson) College, Washington, Pa.; was admitted to the bar in 1843 and commenced practice in Wheeling; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Thompson, and served from December 6, 1852, to March 3, 1853; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; elected to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army; resumed the practice of law in Wheeling, W. Va.; moved to St. Louis, Mo., and continued the practice of law; died in St. Louis, Mo., June 30, 1881; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

CLEMENTS, Andrew Jackson, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Clementsville, Clay County, Tenn., December 23, 1832; attended a private school and Burritt College, Sparta, Tenn.; studied medicine and commenced practice in Lafayette, Tenn.; during the Civil War served as surgeon with the First Regiment Tennessee Mounted Volunteer Infantry; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); member of the State house of representatives in 1866; resumed the practice of his profession; established a school on his estate for the people of that section of the Cumberland highlands; died in Glasgow, Barren County, Ky., November 7, 1913; interment in Glasgow Cemetery.

CLEMENTS, Isaac, a Representative from Illinois; born near Brookville, Franklin County, Ind., March 31, 1837; attended the common schools; was graduated from the Indiana Asbury College (now De Pauw University), Greencastle, Ind., in 1859; studied law in Greencastle; moved to Illinois and taught school; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in July, 1861, and served as second lieutenant of Company G, Ninth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry; remained in the service over three years; was twice promoted; appointed register in bankruptcy in June, 1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; appointed a United States penitentiary commissioner in 1877; United States pension agent at Chicago, Ill., from March 18, 1890, until November 4, 1893; moved to Normal, Ill., in 1899; superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Normal, Ill.; died in Danville, Vermillion County, Ill., May 31, 1909; interment in Home Cemetery.

CLEMENTS, Judson Claudius, a Representative from Georgia; born near Villanow, Walker County, Ga., February 12, 1846; attended the common schools; served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War as a first lieutenant in the First Regiment Georgia State Troops, Stovall's brigade; was wounded at Atlanta July 22, 1864; studied law at Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., was admitted to the bar in 1869, and commenced practice in La Fayette, Walker County, Ga.; served as school commissioner of Walker County in 1871 and 1872; member of the State house of representatives 1872-1876; served in the State senate 1877-1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; appointed on March 17, 1892, a member, and in 1911 became chairman, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and served until his death in Washington, D. C., June 18, 1917; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Ky.

CLEMENTS, Newton Nash, a Representative from Alabama; born in Tuscaloosa County, Ala., December 23, 1837; was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa in 1858; entered Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., in 1859; studied law, but never practiced; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a captain in the Twenty-sixth Alabama Regiment, afterwards the Fiftieth Alabama Regiment; successively promoted to major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel; member of the State house of representatives 1870-1872 and 1874-1878, serving as speaker in 1870, 1877, and 1878; elected to the Forty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Burwell B. Lewis, and served from December 8, 1880, to March 3, 1881; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1880; largely interested in planting and cotton manufactures; died in Tuscaloosa, Ala., February 20, 1900; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CLENDENIN, David, a Representative from Ohio; moved from Harford County, Md., to near Struthers in the Mahoning Valley, Ohio, about 1806; was a pioneer in the iron and steel industry, having built the second stack to be constructed in Ohio; lived in Trumbull County, Ohio; served as first lieutenant of Capt. James Hazlep's company of artillery attached to a regiment of the Ohio Militia in the War of 1812; also as lieutenant paymaster in the Second Regiment Ohio Militia from August 26, 1812, until January 19, 1813; assistant district paymaster in the United States Army from April 19, 1814; to December 19, 1814; elected to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Reasin Beall; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from October 11, 1814, to March 3, 1817.

CLEVELAND, Chauncey Fitch, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Canterbury, Conn., February 16, 1799; attended the common schools; taught school from the age of fifteen to twenty; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1819 and commenced practice in Hampton; member of the State house of representatives 1820-1829, 1832, 1835, 1836, 1838, 1847, and 1848; served as speaker in 1836 and 1838; State's attorney in 1832 and State bank commissioner in 1838; moved to Norwich, Conn., in 1841; Governor of Connecticut in 1842 and 1843; resumed the practice of law in Hampton; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); affiliated with the Republican Party; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856 and at Chicago in 1860; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1868 and 1869, and served as speaker in the former year; engaged in agricultural pursuits and the practice of law; died in Hampton, Windham County, Conn., June 6, 1887; interment in the South Cemetery.

CLEVELAND, Jesse Franklin, a Representative from Georgia; born in Greenville, S. C., October 25, 1804; elected as a Union Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); moved to Charleston, S. C., in 1839 and engaged in the mercantile business; died in Charleston, S. C., June 22, 1841.

CLEVELAND, Orestes, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Duanesburg, Schenectady County, N. Y., March 2, 1829; attended the common schools; moved to Jersey City, N. J., in 1845, later becoming identified with the Joseph Dixon Crucible Co. in the manufacture of black lead, stove polish, pencils, etc.; member of the Board of Aldermen of Jersey City in 1861 and 1862, and served as its president in the latter year; mayor of Jersey City 1864-1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; engaged in business with the Forbes Fibre Co. of Jersey City; again mayor of Jersey City 1886-1891; moved to Tenafly in 1892 and thence to Englewood, N. J.; died in Norwich, Windsor County, Vt., whether he had gone in search of health, March 30, 1896.

CLEVER, Charles P., a Delegate from the Territory of New Mexico; born in Cologne, Prussia, February 23, 1830; attended the Gymnasium of Cologne and the University of Bonn; emigrated to the United States in 1848 and settled in Santa Fe, N. Mex., in 1850; engaged in trade from 1855 to 1862; appointed United States marshal for New Mexico in 1857; became one of the owners of the Santa Fe Weekly Gazette, a paper published in English and Spanish, in 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1861, and commenced practice in Santa Fe, N. Mex.; appointed United States marshal and census enumerator in 1861; during the Civil War served as adjutant on the staff of General Canby at the Battle of Valverde; adjutant general of New Mexico 1861-1865 and in 1867 and 1868; attorney general 1862-1867; presented credentials as a Democratic Delegate elect to the Fortieth Congress, and served from September 2, 1867 (date of election), to February 20, 1869, when he was succeeded by J. Francisco Chaves, who contested the election; appointed one of the incorporators of the Centennial Exposition in 1869; served as a commissioner to revise and codify the laws of New Mexico; engaged in the practice of law until his death in Tome, Valencia County, N. Mex., July 8, 1874; interment in the National Cemetery, Santa Fe, N. Mex.

CLIFFORD, Nathan, a Representative from Maine; born in Rumney, N. H., August 18, 1803; attended the public schools of Rumney, the Haverhill (N. H.) Academy, and New Hampton Literary Institute; taught school and gave vocal lessons; studied law in New York, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Newfield, York County, Me., in 1824; member of the State house of representatives 1830-1834, and served as speaker the last two years; attorney general 1834-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; Attorney General of the United States in the Cabinet of President Polk, and served from October 17, 1846, to March 17, 1848; commissioner to Mexico, with the rank of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, from March 18, 1848, to September 6, 1849; through him the treaty was arranged with the Mexican Government by which California became a part of the United States; resumed the practice of law in Portland, Me.; appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States on January 28, 1858, and served until his death; president of the Electoral Commission convened in 1877; died in Cornish, York County, Me., July 25, 1881; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Portland, Me.

CLIFT, Joseph Wales, a Representative from Georgia; born in North Marshfield, Plymouth County, Mass., September 30, 1837; attended the common schools and Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.; was graduated from the medical school of Harvard University in 1862; immediately entered the Union Army at the outbreak of the Civil War and was acting surgeon from July 13, 1862, to August 7, 1865; served in the Army of the Potomac until November 18, 1866; practiced medicine in Savannah, Ga.; appointed registrar of the city of Savannah by Major General Pope under the reconstruction acts; upon the readmission of Georgia to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 25, 1868, to March 3, 1869; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-first Congress, but was not permitted to qualify; died in Rock City Falls, Saratoga County, N. Y., May 2, 1906; interment in the cemetery adjoining the Clift estate, North Marshfield, Mass.

CLINCH, Duncan Lamont, a Representative from Georgia; born at "Ard-Lamont," Edgecombe County, N. C., April 6, 1787; entered the United States Army as first lieutenant of the Third Infantry July 1, 1808; promoted to captain December 31, 1810; appointed lieutenant colonel of the Forty-Third Regiment United States Infantry August 4, 1813; appointed colonel of the Eighth Regiment United States Infantry April 20, 1819; attained the rank of brigadier general April 20, 1829; commanded at the Battle of Oulthacoochee against the Seminole Indians, December 31, 1835; resigned September 21, 1836, and settled on a plantation near St. Marys, Ga.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Millen, and served from February 15, 1844, to March 8, 1845; died in Macon, Ga., November 27, 1849; interment in Bonaventure Cemetery, Savannah, Ga.

CLINE, Cyrus, a Representative from Indiana; born near Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio, July 12, 1856; moved to Steuben County, Ind., in 1858 with his parents, who settled near Angola; attended the Angola High School, and was graduated from Hillsdale College, Michigan, in 1876; superintendent of the schools of Steuben County 1877-1883; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Angola, Steuben County, Ind., in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916; resumed the practice of law in Angola, Ind., and died there on October 5, 1923; interment in Circle Hill Cemetery.

CLINGAN, William, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born probably near Wagontown, West Coten Township, Chester County, Pa.; justice of the peace 1757-1786; Member of the Continental Congress 1777-1779; one of the first signers of the Articles of Confederation in 1779; president of the county courts 1780-1786; died May 9, 1790; interment in the Upper Octorara Burial Grounds, Chester County, Pa.

CLINGMAN, Thomas Lanier, a Representative and a Senator from North Carolina; born in Huntsville, N. C., July 27, 1812; educated by private tutors and in the public schools in Iredell County, N. C.; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and began practice in Huntsville, N. C.; elected to the State house of commons in 1835; moved to Asheville, Buncombe County, N. C., in 1839; member of the State senate in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-ninth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1847, to May 7, 1858, when he resigned to become Senator; appointed to the United States Senate on May 6, 1858, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Asa Briggs; reelected in 1861, and served from May 7, 1858, to March 23, 1861, when he withdrew; during the Civil War was appointed on May 17, 1862, a brigadier general in the Confederate service; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868; explored and measured mountain peaks; died in Morganton, Burke County, N. C., November 3, 1897; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Asheville, N. C.

CLINTON, De Witt (half brother of James Graham Clinton and nephew of George Clinton), a Senator from New York; born in Napanock, Ulster County, N. Y., March 2, 1769; was graduated from Columbia College in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1790, and commenced practice in New York City; private secretary to his uncle, Gov. George Clinton, 1790-1795; member of the State assembly from January to April, 1798; served in the State senate 1798-1802 and 1806-1811; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1801; member of the council of appointments in 1801, 1802, 1806, and 1807; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Armstrong, and served from February 9, 1802, to November 11, 1808, when he resigned; mayor of the city of New York 1803-1807, 1810, 1811, 1813, and 1814; while mayor he organized the Historical Society of New York in 1804 and was its president; also organized the Academy of Fine Arts in 1808; Lieutenant Governor of New York 1811-1813; unsuccessful candidate of the Peace Party for President of the United States in 1812; regent of the University of New York 1808-1825; in 1809 was a member of the commission to explore a route for a canal between Lake Erie and the Hudson River; prepared an elaborate petition to the legislature in 1815 asking for the immediate construction of the canal, which was begun two years later, and while governor he was the first to break ground for the commencement of work; served several years as canal commissioner; governor of the State 1817-1821 and 1825-1828; declined the mission to England offered him by President Adams in 1825; died in Albany, N. Y., February 11, 1828; interment in the Clinton Cemetery, Little Britain, Orange County, N. Y.

CLINTON, George (uncle of De Witt Clinton and James Graham Clinton), a Delegate from New York and a Vice President of the United States; born in Little Britain, Ulster (now Orange) County, N. Y., July 26, 1739; completed preparatory studies; served as lieutenant of rangers in the expedition against Fort Frontenac; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Little Britain; clerk of the court of common pleas in 1759 and district attorney in 1765; surveyor of New Windsor; member of the State assembly in 1768; served on the New York Committee of Correspondence in 1774; Member of the Continental Congress from May 15, 1775, to July 8, 1776, when he was ordered by General Washington to take the field as brigadier general of militia; appointed brigadier general by Congress March 25, 1777; Governor of New York 1777-1795; president of the State convention which ratified the Federal Constitution; unsuccessful candidate of the State Rights Democratic Party for Vice President of the United States in 1796; member of the State assembly in 1800 and 1801; again Governor of New York 1801-1804; elected Vice President in 1804 as a State Rights Democrat; reelected in 1808; died in Washington, D. C., April 20, 1812; interment in the Congressional Cemetery; reinterment in the First Dutch Reformed Church Cemetery, Kingston, N. Y., in May, 1908.

CLINTON, George (son of the preceding and cousin of De Witt Clinton and James Graham Clinton), a Representative from New York; born in New York City June 6, 1771; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1801; member of the State assembly 1804 and 1805; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Samuel L. Mitchell (who had been reelected to the Ninth Congress); reelected to the Tenth Congress, and served from February 14, 1805, to March 3, 1809; died in New York City September 16, 1809.

CLINTON, James Graham (half brother of De Witt Clinton and nephew of George Clinton), a Representative from New York; born in Little Britain, Orange County, N. Y., January 2, 1804; attended the common schools and Newburgh (N. Y.) Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and practiced in Newburgh; master in chancery of Orange County; judge of the court of common pleas of Orange County; director of the old Newburgh Whaling Co. and of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad project; colonel in the State militia; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for reelection in 1844; died in New York City May 28, 1849; interment in the family cemetery at Little Britain, New Windsor Township, N. Y.

CLOPTON, David, a Representative from Alabama; born in Putnam County, near Milledgeville, Ga., September 29, 1820; attended the county schools and Edenton (Ga.) Academy; was graduated from Randolph-Macon College, Oakland, Va., in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Milledgeville, Ga.; moved to Tuskegee, Ala., in 1844, and continued the practice of his profession; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, to January 21, 1861, when he withdrew; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in the Confederate Army in the Twelfth Alabama Infantry for one year; elected as a Representative to the First and Second Confederate Congresses, and served from 1862 to 1864; appointed judge of the Supreme Court of Alabama October 30, 1864, and served until his death; died in Montgomery, Ala., February 5, 1892; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

CLOPTON, John, a Representative from Virginia; born in St. Peter's parish, near Tunstall, New Kent County, Va., February 7, 1756; was graduated from the College of Philadelphia (now the University of Pennsylvania) in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served as first lieutenant and as captain in the Revolutionary War; wounded at the Battle of Brandywine; member of the Virginia House of Delegates 1789-1791; elected as a Democrat to the Fourth and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1799); member of the Virginia Privy Council 1799-1801; elected to the Seventh and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1801, until his death near Tunstall, New Kent County, Va., September 11, 1816; interment in the family burying ground on his plantation.

CLOUSE, Wynne F., a Representative from Tennessee; born near Cookeville, Putnam County, Tenn., August 29, 1883; attended the public schools and was graduated from Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1911, and commenced practice in Cookeville, Putnam County, Tenn., in 1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); resumed the practice of law in the city of Nashville; was appointed receiver of the Tennessee Central Railroad Co., and after winding up its affairs was appointed and is now the referee in bankruptcy for the Nashville division of the middle district of Tennessee; resides in Nashville, Tenn.

CLOVER, Benjamin Hutchinson, a Representative from Kansas; born near Jefferson, Franklin County, Ohio, December 22, 1837; attended the common schools; moved to Kansas in 1871 and located in Cambridge; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the board of school commissioners 1873-1888; twice president of the Kansas State Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union and twice vice president of the national organization of that order; elected as the candidate of the Farmers' Alliance Party to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Douglas, Butler County, Kans., December 30, 1899; interment in Douglas Cemetery.

CLOWNEY, William Kennedy, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Union County, S. C., March 21, 1797; attended private schools and an academy; was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1818; taught in the public schools of Unionville and in the University of South Carolina; member of the State house of representatives; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Union; commissioner in equity of South Carolina 1830-1833; elected as a Nullifier to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); member of the State senate in 1840; Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina; died in Union, Union County, S. C., March 12, 1851; interment in Fairforest Cemetery, Union County, S. C.

CLUNIE, Thomas Jefferson, a Representative from California; born in St. John's, Newfoundland, March 25, 1852, while his parents were on a visit there from Massachusetts; emigrated with his parents to California in 1854; returned to the East and settled in Maine, remained a few years, and then went back to California in 1861, where he afterwards resided; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in Sacramento in 1870; member of the State assembly in 1875; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884; served in the State senate 1887-1889; took an active part in the State militia, and was retired as brigadier general; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in San Francisco, Calif., June 30, 1903; interment in the City Cemetery, Sacramento, Calif.

CLYMER, George, a Delegate and a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 16, 1739; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Philadelphia; captain of a volunteer company at the outbreak of hostilities with Great Britain and a member of the committee of safety; Member of the Continental Congress 1776-1778 and 1780-1783; a signer of the Declaration of Independence; member of the State house of representatives 1785-1788; delegate to the convention which framed the Federal Constitution in 1787; elected as a Federalist to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); was not a candidate for renomination in 1790; appointed collector of excise duties in 1791, but resigned after the whisky insurrection; one of the commissioners to negotiate a treaty with the Cherokees and the Creeks June 20, 1796; died at his home, "Somerset," Morrisville, Pa., January 23, 1813; interment in the Friends Graveyard, Trenton, N. J.

CLYMER, Heister (nephew of William Heister and cousin of Isaac Ellmaker Heister), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Morgantown, Caernarvon Township, Berks County, Pa., November 3, 1827; attended primary schools at Reading, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar of Berks County April 6, 1849, and practiced in Reading and Berks County until 1851, when he moved to Pottsville, Schuylkill County; returned to Reading in 1856; represented Berks County on the board of revenue commissioners of the State in January, 1860; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Charleston and at Baltimore in 1860; member of the State senate from October, 1860, until March, 1866, when he resigned; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election as governor in 1866; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868; member of the State board of charities in 1870; president of the Democratic State convention which met in Reading in May, 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; after his retirement from Congress was vice president of the Union Trust Co. of Philadelphia and president of the Clymer Iron Co.; also a director of the Reading Fire Insurance Co. and a trustee of the Charles Evans Cemetery; died in Reading, Pa., June 12, 1884; interment in the Charles Evans Cemetery.

COADY, Charles Pearce, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., February 22, 1868; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Baltimore City College in 1886; engaged in mercantile pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1894, and commenced practice in Baltimore, Md., in the same year; member of the State senate for the term 1908-1912; reelected for the four-year term ending in 1916, but resigned in 1913, having been nominated as a candidate for Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Koenig; reelected to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses, and served from November 4, 1913, to March 3, 1921; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law in Baltimore, Md., where he now resides.

COBB, Amasa, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Crawford County, Ill., September 27, 1823; attended the public schools; moved to the Territory of Wisconsin in 1842 and engaged in lead mining; served in the Mexican War as a private in the United States Army; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Mineral Point, Iowa County, Wis.; district attorney 1860-1864; member of the State senate in 1855 and 1856; adjutant general of Wisconsin 1855-1858; member of the State assembly in 1860 and 1861 and served as speaker during the last year; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as colonel of the Fifth Wisconsin Infantry July 12, 1861; became colonel of the Forty-third Wisconsin Infantry on September 29, 1864; brevetted brigadier general March 18, 1865, "for gallant and distinguished services at the Battles of Williamsburg, Goldin's Farm, Va., and Antietam, Md."; mustered out June 24, 1865; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1871); moved to Lincoln, Nebr., and continued the practice of law; appointed mayor of Lincoln, Nebr., in 1873; associate justice of the State supreme court 1878-1892 and served as chief justice for four years; died in Los Angeles, Calif., July 5, 1905; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Lincoln, Nebr.

COBB, Clinton Levering, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Elizabeth City, Pasquotank County, N. C., August 25, 1842; attended the common schools and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Elizabeth City, N. C.; engaged in the mercantile business; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Elizabeth City, N. C., and died there on April 30, 1879; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery.

COBB, David, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Attleboro, Mass., September 14, 1748; was graduated from Harvard College in 1766; studied medicine in Boston and afterwards practiced in Taunton, Mass.; member of the Provincial Congress in 1775; lieutenant colonel of Jackson's regiment in 1777 and 1778, serving in Rhode Island and New Jersey; was aide-de-camp on the staff of General Washington; appointed major general of militia in 1786 and rendered conspicuous service during Shay's rebellion; judge of the Bristol County court of common pleas 1784-1796; member of the State house of representatives 1789-1798 and served as speaker; elected as a Federalist to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); moved to the district of Maine in 1796 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected to the State Senate of Massachusetts from the eastern district of Maine in 1802 and served as president; elected to the State council in 1808; lieutenant governor in 1809; member of the board of military defense in 1812; chief justice of the Hancock County court of common pleas; returned to Taunton, Mass., in 1817, where he died April 17, 1880; interment in Plain Cemetery.

COBB, George Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morristown, N. J., October 13, 1813; became an orphan when six years of age and received very little schooling; employed at an early age as a clerk in a store at Denville, N. J., and later employed by Capt. William Scott, who owned the iron works at Powerville and Boonton, N. J.; transferred to a store in New York City; engaged in the foreign trade; retired from active business pursuits after having amassed a fortune; returned to New Jersey; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1862; affiliated with the Republican Party in 1863 and as such was elected a member of the State senate in 1865 and again in 1868; mayor of Morristown 1865-1869; became a trustee of Drew Theological Seminary in 1868 and served until his death; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1869; president of the Sabbath School Association of Morris County; was killed in an accident on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad at Jerrys Run, near White Sulphur Springs, Va., August 12, 1870; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Morristown, Morris County, N. J.

COBB, Howell, a Representative from Georgia; born in Granville County, N. C., August 3, 1772; moved to Georgia and settled near Louisville, Jefferson County, where he engaged in agricultural pursuits; served in the United States Army as ensign and lieutenant in the Second Sub Legion and as captain in the Artillerists and Engineers from February 23, 1793, until January 31, 1806, when he resigned; elected to the Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1807, to 1812, when he resigned; returned to his plantation in Jefferson County, Ga., and resumed agricultural pursuits; died on his plantation, "Cherry Hill," nine miles northwest of Louisville, Jefferson County, Ga., May 26, 1818; interment in the family cemetery on his estate.

COBB, Howell (nephew of the preceding), a Representative from Georgia; born at "Cherry Hill," Jefferson County, Ga., September 7, 1815; moved with his father to Athens, Ga., in childhood; was graduated from Franklin College (then a part of the University of Georgia), at Athens in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Athens, Ga., in 1836; presidential elector on the Van Buren and Johnson ticket in 1836; solicitor general of the western judicial circuit of Georgia 1837-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1851); served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Thirty-first Congress; Governor of Georgia 1851-1853; elected to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Buchanan, and served from March 6, 1857, to December 10, 1860, when he resigned; chairman of the convention of delegates from the seceded States which assembled in Montgomery, Ala., on February 24, 1861, to form a Confederate Government; during the Civil War was appointed a brigadier general in the Confederate Army February 13, 1862, and promoted to major general September 9, 1863; surrendered at Macon, Ga., April 20, 1864; died in New York City October 9, 1868; interment in Oconee Cemetery, Athens, Clarke County, Ga.

COBB, James Edward, a Representative from Alabama; born in Thomaston, Upson County, Ga., October 5, 1835; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Emory College, Oxford, Ga., in June, 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Texas in 1857; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as lieutenant in Company F, Fifth Texas Regiment, and served in the Army of Northern Virginia until he was made prisoner at the Battle of Gettysburg; after his release settled in Tuskegee, Ala., and practiced law until 1874; circuit judge from 1874 to 1886; reelected in 1886, but before qualifying was elected to Congress; elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1895); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to April 21, 1896, when he was succeeded by Albert T. Goodwyn, who contested his election; resumed the practice of law in Tuskegee, Macon County, Ala.; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1901; died in East Las Vegas, San Miguel County, N. Mex., June 2, 1903; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Tuskegee, Ala.

COBB, Seth Wallace, a Representative from Missouri; born near Petersburg, Southampton County, Va., December 5, 1838; attended the common schools; joined a volunteer company from his native county in 1861 and served throughout the Civil War in the Army of Northern Virginia; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1867 and was employed as a clerk in a grain commission house for three years; in 1870 became engaged in the same business on his own account; president of the Merchants' Exchange in 1880; president of the corporation which built the Merchants' Bridge across the Mississippi River at St. Louis; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second, Fifty-third, and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; resumed the grain commission business in St. Louis; vice president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904; died in St. Louis, Mo., May 22, 1909; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

COBB, Stephen Alonzo, a Representative from Kansas; born in Madison, Somerset County, Me., June 17, 1833; attended the common schools; moved with his father to Minnesota in 1850; studied the languages and prepared for college; entered Beloit College, Beloit, Wis., in 1854, where he was a student for two years; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1858; settled in Wyandotte, Wyandotte County, Kans., in 1859 and commenced the practice of law; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in 1862; became captain and commissary sergeant of Volunteers on May 18, 1864; brevetted major August 16, 1865, "for efficient and meritorious services," and honorably discharged on September 23, 1865; mayor of Wyandotte in 1862 and again in 1868; served in the State senate in 1862, 1869, and 1870; member of the State house of representatives in 1872 and served as speaker; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; died in Wyandotte (now a part of Kansas City), Kans., August 24, 1878; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery, Kansas City, Kans.

COBB, Thomas Reed, a Representative from Indiana; born in Springville, Lawrence County, Ind., July 2, 1828; attended Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Bedford, Ind.; commissioned major of Indiana Militia in 1852; moved to Vincennes, Ind., in 1867; member of the State senate 1858-1866; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Seymour and Blair in 1868; president of the Democratic State convention in 1876; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; retired from public life; died in Vincennes, Knox County, Ind., June 23, 1892; interment in Old Vincennes Cemetery.

COBB, Thomas Willis, a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Columbia County, Ga., in 1794; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Lexington, Ga.; moved to Greensboro, Greene County; elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Seventeenth Congress; elected to the Eighteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1823, to December 6, 1824, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Nicholas Ware, and served from December 6, 1824, until his resignation in 1828; judge of the Superior Court of Georgia; died in Greensboro, Ga., February 1, 1830.

COBB, Williamson R. W., a Representative from Alabama; born in Rhea County, Tenn., June 8, 1807; moved with his father to Bellefonte, Jackson County, Ala., in 1809; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected a member of the State house of representatives in 1844 and 1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1847, to January 30, 1861, when he withdrew; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1861 to the Confederate States Congress; elected in 1863 to the Confederate Congress but was not allowed to take his seat; was killed by the accidental discharge of his pistol in Bellefonte, Jackson County, Ala., November 1, 1864.

COBURN, Frank Potter, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Hamilton, La Crosse County, Wis., December 6, 1858; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits near West Salem in the same county; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; retired capitalist, and is a resident of West Salem, Wis.

COBURN, John, a Representative from Indiana; born in Indianapolis, Ind., October 27, 1825; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in Indianapolis; member of the State house of representatives in 1850; judge of the court of common pleas from 1859 to 1861, when he resigned to enter the Union Army; during the Civil War became colonel of the Thirty-third Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry on September 16, 1861, and was mustered out September 20, 1864; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services during the war"; appointed as the first secretary of the Territory of Montana in March, 1865, but resigned at once; elected judge of the fifth judicial circuit of Indiana in October, 1865, and resigned in July, 1866; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; appointed justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Montana February 19, 1884, and served until December, 1885; returned to Indianapolis, and resumed the practice of law; died in Indianapolis, Ind., January 23, 1906; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

COBURN, Stephen, a Representative from Maine; born in Bloomfield (now Skowhegan), Me., November 11, 1817; attended Waterville and China Academies; was graduated from Waterville (now Colby) College, Waterville, Me., in 1839; taught a plantation school in Tarboro, N. C., in 1839 and 1840; principal of Bloomfield (Me.) Academy 1840-1844; studied law at the Harvard Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Skowhegan; member of the State board of education in 1849 and 1850; delegate to several Republican State conventions; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress on November 6, 1860, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Israel Washburn, Jr., and served from January 2 to March 3, 1861; was not a candidate for the Thirty-seventh Congress, that election having been held in September, 1860, previous to his election to the Thirty-seventh Congress; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; resumed the practice of law; postmaster of Skowhegan from July 25, 1868, to January 23, 1877; was drowned in the Kennebec River, at Skowhegan, Me., July 4, 1882; interment in the South Cemetery, Skowhegan, Me.

COCHRAN, Alexander Gilmore, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Allegheny City (now a part of Pittsburgh), Pa., March 20, 1840; attended private and public schools of that city, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Columbia Law School, New York City; was admitted to the bar in 1868 and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law at Pittsburgh; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1879, where he continued the practice of law, and for more than twenty years was general solicitor for the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. and head of the legal department in the West; also served as vice president of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain Railway; served as judge advocate with rank of lieutenant colonel in the Missouri National Guard; died in St. Louis, Mo., May 1, 1928; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

COCHRAN, Charles Fremont, a Representative from Missouri; born in Kirksville, Adair County, Mo., September 27, 1840; moved to Atchison, Kans., in 1860; attended public and private schools; apprenticed to the printer's trade; editor and publisher of the Atchison Patriot in 1868 and 1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1873, and practiced until 1885; prosecuting attorney of Atchison County, Kans., 1880-1884; returned to Missouri in 1885 and settled in St. Joseph; served in the State senate 1890-1894; editor of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905); was a contestant for renomination in 1904 but finally withdrew as a candidate; resumed the practice of law; died in St. Joseph, Mo., in December, 1906; interment in Mount Vernon Cemetery, Atchison, Kans.

COCHRAN, James, a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., February 11, 1769; was graduated from Columbia College, New York City, in 1788; studied law and was admitted to the bar; commissioned major in the Army by President John Adams; regent of the University of the State of New York 1796-1820; elected to the Fifth Congress (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1799); member of the State senate 1814-1818; moved to Oswego, N. Y., in 1826; postmaster of Oswego from September 27, 1841, to July 21, 1845; editor of the Oswego Democratic Gazette for several years; died in Oswego, N. Y., November 7, 1848; interment in Riverside Cemetery.

COCHRAN, James (grandfather of James Cockrane Dobbin), a Representative from North Carolina; born near Mount Tirzah Township, Person County, N. C., about 1767; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits near Helena, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1802-1806; served in the State senate in 1807; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1813); died in Roxboro, Person County, N. C., April 7, 1813; interment in the burial ground at Leas Chapel, five miles west of Roxboro, N. C.

COCHRAN, John Joseph, a Representative from Missouri; born in Webster Grove, St. Louis County, Mo., August 11, 1880; attended the public schools; employed in the editorial department of various St. Louis newspapers for several years; assistant to the election commissioners of St. Louis 1911-1913; secretary to Representative William L. Igoe, of Missouri, from March 4, 1913, to November 30, 1917; private secretary to Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri, and clerk to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the United States Senate from December 1, 1917, to May 10, 1918; again became secretary to Representative Igoe, serving from May 11, 1918, to March 3, 1921; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1921 at St. Louis, Mo., but did not engage in extensive practice; secretary to Representative Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, from March 4, 1921, to November 2, 1923, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-ninth Congress, and served from November 2, 1926, to March 3, 1927. Elected on the same day (November 2, 1926) to the Seventieth Congress.

COCHRANE, Aaron Van Schaick (nephew of Isaac Whitlock Van Schaick), a Representative from New York; born in Cossack, Greene County, N. Y., March 14, 1853; attended the common schools and Claverack (N. Y.) Academy; was graduated from Yale College in 1879; moved to Hudson, N. Y., in 1879; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Hudson, N. Y.; police justice of the city of Hudson in 1887 and 1888; district attorney of Columbia County 1889-1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); did not seek renomination, having become a candidate for the judiciary; elected associate justice of the Supreme Court of New York in 1901; reelected in 1915 for the term ending in 1928, in which capacity he is now serving; designated by Governor Miller presiding justice of the appellate division of the State supreme court in 1922; is a resident of Hudson, N. Y.

COCHRANE, Clark Betton, a Representative from New York; born in New Boston, N. H., May 31, 1815; moved to Montgomery County, N. Y.; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and practiced in Amsterdam 1841-1851, Schenectady 1851-1855, and Albany, N. Y., from 1855 until his death; elected as a Democrat a member of the State assembly in 1844; trustee of Union College 1853-1867; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1860; resumed the practice of law in Albany; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; again a member of the State assembly in 1866; died in Albany, N. Y., March 5, 1867; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Amsterdam, Montgomery County, N. Y.

COCHRANE, John, a Representative from New York; born in Palatine, N. Y., August 27, 1813; pursued preparatory studies, attended Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., and was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and practiced in Palatine, Oswego, and Schenectady, N. Y.; moved to New York City in 1846; surveyor of the port of New York 1853-1857; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate in 1860 for reelection to the Thirty-seventh Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as colonel of the Sixty-fifth New York Infantry June 11, 1861; became brigadier general July 17, 1862, and served until his resignation on February 25, 1863, on account of physical disability; chairman of the Independent Republican National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1864, which nominated him for Vice President on the ticket with Frémont for President but withdrew, with General Frémont, before the election; attorney general of New York 1863-1865; collector of internal revenue for the sixth district of New York in 1869; declined the position of United States minister to Uruguay and Paraguay tendered by President Grant in 1869; delegate to the Liberal Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1872; member of the board of aldermen and served as president in 1872 and again a member in 1883; appointed police justice of New York May 22, 1889, but resigned after serving a few weeks; died in New York City February 7, 1898; interment in the Rural Cemetery, Albany, N. Y.

COCKE, John (son of William Cocke and uncle of William Michael Cocke), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Brunswick, Nottoway County, Va., in 1772; moved with his parents to Tennessee, where he attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1793, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives in 1796, 1797, 1807, 1809, and 1812, and served as speaker in 1812; served in the State senate 1799-1801; served as major general of Tennessee Volunteers in the Creek War in 1813 and as colonel of a regiment of Tennessee riflemen, under Gen. Andrew Jackson, at New Orleans; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1827); engaged in agricultural pursuits; founded a school for deaf-mutes in Knoxville, Tenn.; again a member of the State senate in 1843; died in Rutledge, Grainger County, Tenn., February 16, 1854; interment in the Methodist Church Cemetery.

COCKE, William (father of John Cocke and grandfather of William Michael Cocke), a Senator from Tennessee; born in Amelia County, Va., in 1747; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; in company with Daniel Boone explored the territory of eastern Tennessee and western Kentucky; led four companies of Virginians against hostile Indians in 1776 and gave them a crushing defeat at Cockes Fort, Tenn.; member of the Virginia House of Burgesses and a colonel of militia; moved to Tennessee in 1776; member of the State constitutional convention in 1796; upon the admission of Tennessee as a State into the Union was elected to the United States Senate, and served from August 2, 1796, to March 3, 1797; was appointed his own successor, as there had been no election by the legislature, and served under this appointment from April 22, 1797, to September 26, 1797, when a successor was elected; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1799, to March 3, 1805; appointed judge of the first circuit in 1809; moved to Mississippi, and was elected to the State legislature in 1813; served under Gen. Andrew Jackson in the War of 1812; appointed by President Madison Indian agent for the Chickasaw Nation in 1814; died in Columbus, Miss., August 22, 1828; interment in that city under a tombstone erected to his memory by the State of Mississippi.

COCKE, William Michael (grandson of William Cocke and nephew of John Cocke), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Rutledge, Grainger County, Tenn., July 16, 1815; pursued classical studies and was graduated from the East Tennessee College at Knoxville; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Rutledge and Nashville; member of the State house of representatives; elected to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for reelection in 1848; held many local and State offices; died in Nashville, Tenn., February 6, 1896; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

COCKERILL, Joseph Randolph, a Representative from Ohio; born in Loudoun County, Va., January 2, 1818; moved to Scott Township, Adams County, Ohio, in 1837 and settled in Youngstown; attended the public schools; taught school; county surveyor in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in West Union, Ohio; clerk of the court of common pleas; member of the State house of representatives in 1853 and 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); entered the Union Army during the Civil War and served as colonel of the Seventieth Ohio Volunteer Infantry; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865; again a member of the State house of representatives 1868-1871; resumed the practice of law; died in West Union, Adams County, Ohio, October 23, 1875; interment in West Union Cemetery.

COCKRAN, William Bourke, a Representative from New York; born in County Sligo, Ireland, February 28, 1854; was educated in France and in his native country; emigrated to the United States when seventeen years of age; soon after his arrival received an appointment as teacher in a private academy; principal of a public school in Westchester County, N. Y.; while teaching he studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and commenced practice in Mount Vernon, N. Y.; two years later moved to New York City and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions in 1884, 1892, 1904, and 1920; member of the commission to revise the judiciary article of the constitution of the State of New York in 1890; elected to the Fifty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Francis B. Spinola; reelected to the Fifty-third Congress, and served from November 3, 1891, to March 3, 1895; was not a candidate for renomination in 1896, on account of his opposition to the free-silver platform of Bryan and Sewall and campaigned for McKinley; in 1900 on the issue of anti-imperialism returned to the Democratic Party and supported Bryan; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George B. McClellan; reelected to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from February 23, 1904, to March 3, 1909; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law in New York City; supported the Progressive Party ticket of Roosevelt and Johnson in 1912; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1921, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 1, 1923; had been reelected to the Sixty-eighth Congress; interment in the Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Mount Hope, Westchester, N. Y.

COCKRELL, Francis Marion (brother of Jeremiah Vardaman Cockrell), a Senator from Missouri; born in Warrensburg, Johnson County, Mo., October 1, 1834; attended the common schools; was graduated from Chapel Hill College, Lafayette County, Mo., in July, 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and practiced in Warrensburg, Mo.; served in the Confederate Army, and was promoted from the rank of captain to that of brigade commander; appointed brigadier general July 18, 1863; captured at Fort Blakeley, Ala., April 9, 1865; paroled May 14, 1865; at the close of the Civil War resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected four times, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1905; appointed by President Roosevelt a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission on March 6, 1905, and served until December 31, 1910; appointed in 1911 a United States commissioner to reestablish the boundary line between Texas and New Mexico; civilian member of the Board of Ordnance in the War Department, which position he held until his death in Washington, D. C., December 13, 1915; interment in Warrensburg Cemetery, Warrensburg, Mo.

COCKRELL, Jeremiah Vardaman (brother of Francis Marion Cockrell), a Representative from Texas; born near Warrensburg, Johnson County, Mo., May 7, 1832; attended the common schools and Chapel Hill College, Lafayette County, Mo.; went to California in 1849; returned to Missouri in 1853; engaged in agricultural pursuits and studied law; entered the Confederate Army as a lieutenant and served throughout the Civil War, attaining the rank of colonel; at the close of the war he settled in Sherman, Grayson County, Tex., and engaged in the practice of law; chief justice of Grayson County in 1872; delegate to the Democratic State conventions in 1878 and 1880; moved to Jones County; appointed judge of the thirty-ninth judicial district court in 1885, to which position he was elected in 1886 and reelected in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; engaged in farming and stock raising in Jones County, Tex.; died in Abilene, Taylor County, Tex., March 18, 1915; interment in the Masonic Cemetery.

COCKS, William Willets, a Representative from New York; born in Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., July 24, 1861; attended private schools and Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected commissioner of highways of the town of North Hempstead in 1894; reelected in 1896 and again in 1898; served in the State senate in 1901 and 1902; member of the State assembly in 1904; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; again engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the board of managers of Swarthmore College; president of the Friends Academy, Locust Valley, Nassau County; vice president of the Roslyn Savings Bank; a director of the Bank of Westbury and the Bank of Hicksville; elected mayor of the village of Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., in 1924, in which capacity he is now serving.

CODD, George Pierre, a Representative from Michigan; born in Detroit, Mich., December 7, 1869; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1891; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1892, and commenced practice in Detroit in 1893; assistant city attorney 1894-1897; member of the board of aldermen 1902-1904; mayor of Detroit in 1905 and 1908; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; circuit judge of Wayne County 1911-1921; regent of the University of Michigan in 1910 and 1911; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1922; resumed the practice of law; again elected circuit judge of Wayne County in 1924, and served until his death in Detroit, Mich., February 16, 1927; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

CODDING, James Hodge, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pike Township, Bradford County, Pa., July 8, 1849; moved to Towanda, Pa., in 1854; attended the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute, Towanda, Pa., and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; engaged in the hardware business at Towanda in 1868; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Towanda, Pa., in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Myron B. Wright; reelected to the Fifty-fifth Congress, and served from November 5, 1895, to March 3, 1899; was not a candidate for reelection in 1898; resumed the practice of law in Towanda; moved to New York City in 1903; grand secretary general of the northern Masonic jurisdiction for the Scottish Rite bodies from 1902 until his death in Brooklyn, N. Y., September 12, 1919; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Towanda, Bradford County, Pa.

COFFEE, John, a Representative from Georgia; born in Prince Edward County, Va., December 3, 1782; received a good schooling; moved with his father to Hancock County, Ga., in 1800; settled in Telfair County in 1807 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; general of the State militia during the Creek War; cut a road through the State of Georgia (called Coffee Road) to carry munitions of war to Florida Territory to fight the Indians; member of the State senate 1819-1827; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1833, until his death; was reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress on October 3, 1836, announcement of his death not having been received; died near Jacksonville, Telfair County, Ga., September 25, 1836; interment on his plantation near Jacksonville, Ga.; reinterment in McRae Cemetery, McRae, Ga., in 1921.

COFFEEN, Henry Asa, a Representative from Wyoming; born near Gallipolis, Gallia County, Ohio, February 14, 1841; moved with his parents to Indiana, and thence to Homer, Champaign County, Ill., in 1853; attended the country schools and was graduated from the scientific department of Abingdon College (afterwards consolidated with Eureka College), Illinois; engaged in teaching; member of the faculty of Hiram College, Ohio; moved to Sheridan, Wyo., in 1884; delegate from Wyoming to the World's Fair Congress of Bankers and Financiers at Chicago in June, 1893; member of the constitutional convention that framed the constitution of the new State of Wyoming in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; engaged in literary pursuits until his death in Sheridan, Sheridan County, Wyo., December 9, 1912; interment in the Sheridan Cemetery.

COFFIN, Charles Dustin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Newburyport, Mass., September 9, 1805; attended the public schools; moved with his parents to New Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar in September, 1823, and commenced practice in New Lisbon; clerk of the courts of Columbiana County in 1828; was elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Andrew W. Loomis, and served from December 20, 1837, to March 3, 1839; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1838; resumed the practice of law and engaged in banking; president of the Columbiana Bank of New Lisbon; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1842 and continued the practice of law; elected judge of the superior court in 1845 and served seven years; was appointed to the same position by Governor Denison in 1861; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 28, 1880; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

COFFIN, Charles Edward, a Representative from Maryland; born in Boston, Mass., July 18, 1841; attended the Boston grammar and high schools; moved to Maryland in 1863 and settled in Muirkirk, Prince Georges County, where deposits of iron ore were found; took charge of the ironworks erected in 1847 by the Ellicotts and conducted the same; member of the State house of delegates in 1884; served in the State senate 1890-1894; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Barnes Compton; reelected on the same day to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from November 6, 1894, to March 3, 1897; engaged in the manufacture of charcoal pig iron, and subsequently became the owner of the Muirkirk blast furnaces; died in Muirkirk, Md., May 24, 1912; interment in St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church Cemetery, Beltsville, Md.

COFFIN, Peleg, Jr., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Nantucket, Mass., November 3, 1766; completed academic studies; president of the New England Marine Insurance Co.; member of the State house of representatives in 1783, 1784, and 1789; served in the State senate 1785, 1786, 1790-1792, 1795, 1796, and 1802; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); State treasurer 1797-1802; died in Boston, Mass., March 6, 1805; interment probably in Friends Burial Grounds; reinterment in Mount Auburn Cemetery in 1833.

COFFROTH, Alexander Hamilton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Somerset, Somerset County, Pa., May 18, 1828; attended the public schools and Somerset Academy; published a Democratic paper in Somerset for five years; studied law in the law office of Hon. Jeremiah S. Black, was admitted to the bar in February, 1851, at Somerset, Pa., where he practiced his profession; delegate to several Democratic State conventions; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions which assembled in Charleston and Baltimore in 1860; an assessor of internal revenue in 1867; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); claimed reelection to the Thirty-ninth Congress; was seated on February 19, 1866, and served until July 18, 1866, when he was succeeded by William H. Koontz, who contested the election; elected to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; resumed the practice of law in Somerset, Pa.; he was the last surviving pallbearer at the funeral of President Lincoln; died in Markleton, Somerset County, Pa., September 2, 1906; interment in Union Cemetery, Somerset, Pa.

COGHLAN, John Maxwell, a Representative from California; born in Louisville, Ky., December 8, 1835; moved with his parents to Illinois in 1847, and in 1850 they moved to California and settled in Suisun City; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Suisun City; member of the State assembly in 1865 and 1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; engaged in the practice of law until his death in Oakland, Calif., March 26, 1879; interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

COGSWELL, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bradford, Mass., August 23, 1838; attended Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; was graduated from the Dane Law School, Harvard University, in 1860; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Salem; served in the Union Army throughout the Civil War; was commissioned a captain in the Second Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry May 11, 1861; lieutenant colonel October 23, 1862; colonel June 25, 1863; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers December 15, 1864; mustered out July 24, 1865; resumed the practice of his profession; mayor of Salem 1867-1869, 1873, and 1874; member of the State house of representatives 1870, 1871, and 1881-1883; served in the State senate in 1885 and 1886; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fiftyeth and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 22, 1895; interment in Harmony Grove Cemetery, Salem, Mass.

COIT, Joshua, a Representative from Connecticut; born in New London, Conn., October 7, 1758; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., in 1776; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New London in 1779; member of the State house of representatives in 1784, 1785, 1789, 1790, 1792, and 1793; served as clerk during several terms and as speaker in 1793; elected as a Federalist to the Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1793, until his death in New London, Conn., September 5, 1798; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

COKE, Richard, a Senator from Texas; born in Williamsburg, James City County, Va., March 13, 1829; attended the common schools, and was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and commenced practice in Waco, McLennan County, Tex.; entered the Confederate Army as a private; was promoted to the rank of captain and served throughout the Civil War; appointed district judge in June, 1865; elected judge of the State supreme court in 1866; after serving one year was removed by General Sheridan as "an impediment to reconstruction"; resumed the practice of law in Waco, Tex.; elected Governor of Texas in December, 1873; reelected in February, 1876, and served until December 1, 1877, when he resigned; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1877; reelected in 1883 and again in 1889, and served from March 4, 1877, to March 3, 1895; was not a candidate for renomination; died in Waco, Tex., May 14, 1897; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

COKE, Richard, Jr. (uncle of the preceding), a Representative from Virginia; born in Williamsburg, Va., November 16, 1760; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Gloucester County, Va.; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); died on his plantation, "Abingdon Place," in Gloucester County, Va., March 31, 1851; interment in the family burying ground on the estate.

COLOOCK, William Ferguson, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Beaufort, S. C., November 5, 1804; attended Hurlburt's School, Charleston, S. C., and was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Coosawhatchie, Jasper County, S. C.; also engaged in planting; member of the State house of representatives 1831-1848 and served as speaker from 1841 to 1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); a Regent of the Smithsonian Institution 1850-1853; collector of the port of Charleston 1853-1865, and was the first appointment from the United States Government, and subsequently under the Confederate States; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Charleston in 1860; resumed the practice of law; died in McPhersonville, Hampton County, S. C., June 13, 1889; interment in Stoney Creek Cemetery, Beaufort County, S. C.

COLDEN, Cadwallader David, a Representative from New York; born in Springhill, near Flushing, N. Y., April 4, 1769; prepared for college by a private tutor and pursued classical studies in London; returned to the United States in 1785; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1791, and commenced practice in New York City; moved to Poughkeepsie in 1793, and in 1796 relocated in New York City; appointed district attorney in 1798 and again in 1810; colonel of Volunteers in the War of 1812; member of the State assembly in 1818; mayor of the city of New York in 1819; successfully contested the election of Peter Sharpe to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from December 12, 1821, to March 3, 1823; member of the State senate 1824-1827; died in Jersey City, N. J., February 7, 1834.

COLE, Cornelius, a Representative and a Senator from California; born in Lodi, Seneca County, N. Y., September 17, 1822; attended the common schools, Ovid Academy at Ovid, Lima Seminary at Lima, and Hobart College at Geneva, N. Y.; was graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1847; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Auburn, Cayuga County, N. Y., May 1, 1848; went to California in 1849, and after working a year in the gold mines commenced the practice of law in San Francisco in 1850; moved to Sacramento in 1851; district attorney of Sacramento city and county 1859-1862; member of the Republican National Committee 1856-1860; moved to Santa Cruz in 1862; during the Civil War was commissioned as a captain in the Union Army in 1863; elected as a Union Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1867, to March 3, 1873; resumed the practice of law; moved to Colegrove, Los Angeles County, Calif., in 1880, and retired from active practice; when he had nearly attained one hundred years of age he came to Washington, D. C., and visited the Capitol, and during a recess of five minutes taken for that purpose by the House of Representatives he addressed that body on June 26, 1922; died in Hollywood, Calif., November 3, 1924; interment in Hollywood Cemetery.

COLE, Cyrenus, a Representative from Iowa; born on a farm near Pella, Marion County, Iowa, January 13, 1863; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Central University, Pella, Iowa, in 1887; engaged in newspaper work, and was connected with the Des Moines Register from 1887 to 1898, during seven years as editorial writer; acquired an interest in the Cedar Rapids Republican in 1898, and was connected with that paper until 1921, during which period he founded the Times as an evening edition of the Republican; is the author of many publications; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James W. Good; reelected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from July 19, 1921, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COLE, George Edward, a Delegate from the Territory of Washington; born in Trenton (now Trenton Falls), Oneida County, N. Y., December 23, 1826; attended the public schools and Hobart Hall Institute; employed as clerk in a country store; moved to Illinois, thence to California in 1849, and later to Oregon in 1850; member of the Oregon House of Representatives in 1852 and 1853; engaged in mercantile pursuits and steamboat transportation on the Willamette River; clerk of the United States District Court of Oregon in 1859 and 1860; moved to Walla Walla, Wash., in 1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for renomination in 1864; appointed governor of the Territory by President Johnson in November, 1866, and served until March 4, 1867; returned to Portland, Oreg., in 1867; engaged in railroad construction 1869-1872; postmaster of Portland, Oreg., 1873-1881; moved to Spokane, Wash., in 1880; treasurer of Spokane County 1890-1892; had extensive interests in mining, manufacturing, and farming; died in Portland, Oreg., December 3, 1900; interment in Lone Fir Cemetery.

COLE, Nathan, a Representative from Missouri; born in St. Louis, Mo., July 26, 1825; attended the common schools and took a partial course at Shurtleff College, Alton, Ill.; engaged in mercantile pursuits in St. Louis; a director of the Bank of Commerce for forty-three years, most of which time he was vice president; director in a number of insurance and other corporations; mayor of St. Louis 1869-1871; president of the Merchants' Exchange in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1878 to the Forty-sixth Congress; resumed his former business activities in St. Louis, Mo., where his death occurred on March 4, 1904; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

COLE, Orsamus, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Cazenovia, Madison County, N. Y., August 23, 1819; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Chicago, Ill.; moved to Potosi, Grant County, Wis., the same year and continued the practice of law; member of the State constitutional convention in 1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Potosi until 1855; associate justice of the State supreme court 1855-1880, and chief justice from April, 1881, to January 4, 1892; resumed the practice of law; retired from public life and lived with his son in Milwaukee, Wis., where he died on May 5, 1903; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, Madison, Wis.

COLE, Ralph Dayton (brother of Raymond Clinton Cole), a Representative from Ohio; born in Vanlue, Hancock County, Ohio, November 30, 1873; attended the common schools; was graduated from Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio, in 1896 and from the Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, in 1900; deputy clerk of courts of Hancock County 1897-1899; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Findlay, Hancock County, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives 1800-1804; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); resumed the practice of law in Findlay, Toledo, and Columbus, Ohio; legal adviser to the Comptroller of the Currency in 1912 and 1913; chairman of the speakers' bureau, Republican National Committee, in 1916; delegate to many State conventions; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1916 and at Cleveland in 1924; during the World War enlisted in the United States Army June 6, 1917, and served overseas as major and lieutenant colonel in the Thirty-seventh Infantry Division, taking part in many major engagements; discharged from the service April 6, 1919; one of the founders of the American Legion at Paris February 16, 1919; is a resident of Findlay, Ohio.

COLE, Raymond Clinton (brother of Ralph Dayton Cole), a Representative from Ohio; born in Biglick Township, near Findlay, Hancock County, Ohio, August 21, 1872; attended the common schools and Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio; taught school nine years; was graduated from the law department of Ohio Northern University at Ada in 1900; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice in Findlay, Ohio, in 1901; member of the National Guard 1908-1913; city solicitor 1912-1916; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, and Sixty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Findlay, Ohio.

COLE, William Hinson, a Representative from Maryland; born in Baltimore, Md., January 11, 1837; attended a private school; studied medicine, and then studied law; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Baltimore in 1857; moved to Kansas City, Kans., and continued the practice of law; member of the Territorial house of representatives; graduated from the University of Louisiana in 1890; enlisted in the Confederate Army and was appointed surgeon of Bartow's Eighth Georgia Regiment; served in the Battle of Gettysburg, then took charge of the wounded in Longstreet's corps; prisoner in Fort McHenry, Baltimore, for six months; returned South and acted as surgeon on the staff of Gen. Bradley Johnson, of Maryland, until the close of the war; returned to Baltimore; appointed deputy register of Baltimore in 1870; resigned when elected chief clerk of the first branch of the city council; reading clerk of the Maryland State House of Delegates 1874-1878; became a reporter on the Baltimore Evening Commercial, and later its proprietor; retired, but in a few months became connected with the Baltimore Gazette, and afterwards with its successor, The Day, continuing with the press until his election to Congress in 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1885, until his death in Washington, D. C., July 8, 1886; interment in Bonnie Brae Cemetery, Baltimore, Md.

COLEMAN, Hamilton Dudley, a Representative from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., May 12, 1845; attended public and private schools; enlisted in 1861 as a private in the Washington Artillery, Army of Northern Virginia, and served throughout the Civil War, surrendering at Appomattox with Gen. Robert E. Lee; manufacturer and dealer in plantation machinery at New Orleans; organized and was head of the Coleman Machinery Co. in New Orleans, La.; one of the organizers of the first electric lighting company established in New Orleans in 1880, serving as vice president and in 1881 as president of the company; active in the organization of the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition in 1884 and 1885; member of the Republican State central committee in 1884; election commissioner in 1886; president of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce in 1887 and 1888; one of the vice presidents of the National Board of Trade in 1888 and 1889; vice president of the New Orleans Board of Trade in 1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1890-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress and for election in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1890 and 1894 and for lieutenant governor in 1892; delegate to the Republican League Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, in 1895; delegate to the Republican State conventions in 1896, 1900, and 1904; appointed melter and refiner of the United States mint at New Orleans in 1899 and served until March 1, 1905; member of the United States Assay Commission in 1912; died in Biloxi, Harrison County, Miss., March 16, 1926; interment in Metairie Cemetery, New Orleans, La.

COLEMAN, Nicholas Daniel, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Cynthiana, Ky., April 22, 1800; attended the grammar and high schools; was graduated from Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives in 1824 and 1825; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); moved to Vicksburg, Miss., where he resumed the practice of law; postmaster of Vicksburg 1841-1844; again resumed the practice of law; died in Vicksburg, Warren County, Miss., May 11, 1874; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

COLEMAN, William Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in North Versailles Township, Allegheny County, Pa., December 28, 1871; attended the public schools; mayor of McKeesport, 1906-1909; clerk of courts, Allegheny County, 1909-1915; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; studied law, was admitted to the bar on November 10, 1913, and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of McKeesport, Pa.

COLERICK, Walpole Gillespie, a Representative from Indiana; born in Fort Wayne, Ind., August 1, 1845; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice at Fort Wayne, Ind.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); supreme court commissioner from 1883 to 1885; again engaged in the practice of law at Fort Wayne, Ind., until his death there January 11, 1911; interment in Lindenwood Cemetery.

COLES, Isaac (father of Walter Coles), a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia; pursued preparatory studies; member of the State house of delegates 1780, 1781, and 1783-1788; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); again elected to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797).

COLES, Walter (son of Isaac Coles), a Representative from Virginia; born at Coles Ferry, Halifax County, Va., December 8, 1790; moved with his parents to Pittsylvania County, Va., in 1798; attended the Hampden-Sidney College, Prince Edward County, Va., and the old Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va.; served as a second lieutenant in the Second Regiment of Light Dragoons in the War of 1812; promoted to the rank of captain of riflemen on the northern frontier; was honorably discharged in 1815 and returned to Virginia, where he engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace; member of the State house of delegates 1817, 1818, 1833, and 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1845); resumed farming; died at his home, "Coles Hill," near Chatham, Va., November 9, 1857; interment in the family burying ground at "Coles Hill."

COLFAX, Schuyler, a Representative from Indiana and a Vice President of the United States; born in New York City March 23, 1823; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to New Carlisle, Ind., in 1836, where he was appointed deputy auditor of St. Joseph County in 1841 by his stepfather, George W. Mathews, with office in South Bend; became a legislative correspondent in Indianapolis; purchased an interest in the South Bend Free Press, and changed its name in 1845 to the St. Joseph Valley Register, the Whig organ of northern Indiana; delegate to the Whig National Conventions at Philadelphia in 1848 and at Baltimore in 1852; member of the State constitutional convention in 1850; unsuccessful Whig candidate for election to the Thirty-second Congress; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1869); was not a candidate for renomination in 1868, having become the Republican nominee for Vice President; served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses; elected Vice President of the United States on the Republican ticket headed by Gen. U. S. Grant in 1868, was inaugurated March 4, 1869, and served until March 3, 1873; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1872; declined the chief editorship of the New York Tribune the same year; fully exonerated from charges of corruption brought against Members of Congress in 1873 in connection with the Crédit Mobilier of America; devoted his time to lecturing; died in Mankato, Blue Earth County, Minn., January 13, 1885; interment in the City Cemetery, South Bend, Ind.

COLHOUN, John Ewing, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Staunton, Augusta County, Va., in 1760; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1774; member of the State house of representatives 1778-1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1783, and commenced practice in Charleston, S. C., but soon returned to Ninety Six District; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected a member of the privy council and also a commissioner of confiscated estates in 1785; served in the State senate in 1801; member of the committee which was instructed to report a modification of the judiciary system of the United States; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1801, until his death in Pendleton, S. C., October 26, 1802; interment in Old Stone Churchyard.

COLLAMER, Jacob, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born in Troy, N. Y., January 8, 1792; moved with his father to Burlington, Vt.; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Vermont at Burlington in 1810; served in the War of 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1813, and practiced in Woodstock, Vt., from 1813 to 1833; member of the State house of representatives 1821, 1822, 1827, and 1828; State's attorney for Windsor County 1822-1824; judge of the superior court 1833-1842; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1849); appointed Postmaster General in the Cabinet of President Taylor, and served from March 7, 1849, to July 20, 1850; again judge of the Superior Court of Vermont from November 8, 1850, to October 3, 1854; elected in 1855 as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1861 and served from March 4, 1865, until his death in Woodstock, Windsor County, Vt., November 9, 1865; interment in the River Street Cemetery.

COLLIER, James William, a Representative from Mississippi; born on the Glenwood plantation, near Vicksburg, Warren County, Miss., September 28, 1872; attended the graded and high schools; was graduated from the law department of the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1894; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Vicksburg; member of the State house of representatives 1896-1899; circuit clerk of Warren County from 1900 until 1909, when he resigned to become a Member of Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COLLIER, John Allen, a Representative from New York; born in Litchfield, Conn., November 13, 1787; attended Yale College in 1803; studied law in the Litchfield Law School, was admitted to the bar at Troy, N. Y., in 1809, and commenced practice in Binghamton, Broome County, N. Y.; district attorney of Broome County June 11, 1818, to February 25, 1822; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1832 to the Twenty-third Congress; comptroller of the State of New York January 27, 1841, to February 7, 1842; appointed a commissioner to revise the statutes in 1847; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Taylor and Fillmore in 1848; resumed his law practice; died in Binghamton, N. Y., March 24, 1873; interment in Spring Forest Cemetery.

COLLIN, John Francis, a Representative from New York; born in Hillsdale, N. Y., April 30, 1802; attended the common schools and Lenox Academy, Massachusetts; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State assembly in 1834; supervisor of Hillsdale; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Hillsdale, Columbia County, N. Y., September 16, 1889; interment in Hillsdale Rural Cemetery.

COLLINS, Ela (father of William Collins), a Representative from New York; born in Meriden, Conn., February 14, 1786; attended Clinton Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lowville, N. Y., in 1807; member of the State assembly in 1815; district attorney for Lewis, Jefferson, and St. Lawrence Counties 1815-1818, and for Lewis County from June 11, 1818, to March 24, 1840; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); resumed the practice of law; died in Lowville, Lewis County, N. Y., November 23, 1848; interment in the Jackson Street Cemetery.

COLLINS, Francis Dolan, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Saugerties, Ulster County, N. Y., March 5, 1841; attended St. Joseph's College, near Montrose, Susquehanna County; moved with his parents to Dinsmore, Lackawanna County, Pa.; attended Wyoming Seminary at Kingston, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Scranton, Pa.; elected district attorney of the mayor's court district in 1869; served in the State senate 1872-1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); resumed the practice of law; died in Scranton, Lackawanna County, Pa., November 21, 1891; interment in the Cathedral Cemetery, Hyde Park (Scranton).

COLLINS, John, a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., June 8, 1717; member of the committee sent by the general assembly in September, 1776, to inform General Washington of the condition of the colony and obtain his views upon the best method to adopt for its defense; Member of the Continental Congress 1778-1783; Governor of Rhode Island 1788-1790; as governor he cast the deciding vote in the senate, thereby assuring the calling of a convention to decide upon the acceptance of the Constitution of the United States; elected to the First Congress, but did not take his seat; died in Newport, R. I., March 4, 1795; interment on his farm, "Brenton Neck," near Newport, R. I.

COLLINS, Patrick Andrew, a Representative from Massachusetts; born near Fermoy, County Cork, Ireland, March 12, 1844; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Chelsea, Mass., in 1848; attended the common schools; learned the upholstery trade; member of the State house of representatives in 1868 and 1869; served in the State senate in 1870 and 1871; studied law at the Harvard Law School and in Boston, was admitted to the bar in 1871, and practiced in Boston; judge advocate general of Massachusetts in 1875; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876, Cincinnati in 1880, St. Louis in 1888, and Chicago in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed the practice of law; consul general at London from May 6, 1893, to May 17, 1897, under President Cleveland's administration; again engaged in the practice of law; mayor of Boston 1902-1905; died while on a visit at Hot Springs, Va., September 13, 1905; interment in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline, Norfolk County, Mass.

COLLINS, Ross Alexander, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Collinsville, Lauderdale County, Miss., April 25, 1880; attended the public schools of Meridian, Miss., and the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College; was graduated from the University of Kentucky at Lexington in 1900 and from the law department of the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1901; was admitted to the bar in 1901 and commenced practice in Meridian, Lauderdale County, Miss.; attorney general of Mississippi 1912-1920; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Mississippi in 1919; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COLLINS, William (son of Ella Collins), a Representative from New York; born in Lowville, Lewis County, N. Y., February 22, 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lowville; district attorney for Lewis County 1845-1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1848; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1853 and continued the practice of law; also engaged in banking; served as a director of the Lake Shore Railroad and East Cleveland Railroad; affiliated with the Republican Party upon its organization in 1856; died in Cleveland, Ohio, June 18, 1878; interment in Lake View Cemetery.

COLQUITT, Alfred Holt (son of Walter Terry Colquitt), a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Monroe, Walton County, Ga., April 20, 1824; attended school in Monroe, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1844; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and commenced practice in Monroe, Ga.; served as a staff officer with the rank of major during the Mexican War; elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; member of the State house of representatives in 1859; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Breckinridge and Lane in 1860; member of the State secession convention in 1861; entered the Confederate service as captain, and was later commissioned colonel of the Sixth Georgia Infantry; promoted successively to the rank of brigadier general and major general and served throughout the Civil War; Governor of Georgia 1876-1880; reelected under a new constitution for two years; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1883; reelected in 1888, and served from March 4, 1883, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 23, 1894; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery, Macon, Bibb County, Ga.

COLQUITT, Walter Terry (father of Alfred Holt Colquitt), a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Halifax County, Va., December 27, 1799; moved with his parents to Mount Zion, Carroll County, Ga.; attended the common schools and Princeton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1820, and commenced practice in Sparta, Hancock County, Ga.; moved to Cowpens, Ga.; elected judge of the Chattahoochee circuit in 1826, and reelected in 1829; was licensed a Methodist preacher in 1827; member of the State senate in 1834 and 1837; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1839, to July 21, 1840, when he resigned, having refused to support General Harrison for President; elected as a Van Buren Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill in part vacancies caused by the resignations of Julius C. Alford, William C. Dawson, and Eugenius A. Nisbet, and served from January 3, 1842, to March 3, 1843; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1843, until his resignation in February, 1848; member of the Nashville convention in 1850; died in Macon, Ga., May 7, 1855; interment in Linnwood Cemetery, Columbus, Ga.

COLSON, David Grant, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Yellow Creek (now Middlesboro), Knox (now Bell) County, Ky., April 1, 1861; attended the common schools and the academies at Tazewell and Mossy Creek, Tenn.; studied law at the University of Kentucky at Lexington in 1879 and 1880, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Pineville; examiner and special examiner in the Pension Bureau of the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., from September, 1882, to June, 1886; returned to Kentucky in 1887; member of the State house of representatives in 1887 and 1888; mayor of Middlesboro 1898-1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); colonel of a Kentucky regiment during the Spanish-American War; retired; died in Middlesboro, Ky., September 27, 1904; interment in Colson Cemetery.

COLSTON, Edward, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Honeywood," near Martinsburg, Berkeley County, Va. (now West Virginia), December 25, 1796; studied under private teachers, and was graduated from Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; served in the War of 1812; member of the State house of delegates 1812-1814, 1816, 1817, 1828-1829, and 1833; high sheriff of Berkeley County 1844 and 1845; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); died at "Honeywood," Berkeley County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 23, 1852; interment in the family burying ground on his estate, "Honeywood," near Hedgesville, Berkeley County, W. Va.

COLT, LeBaron Bradford, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Dedham, Dedham County, Mass., June 25, 1846; attended the public schools and Williston Seminary; was graduated from Yale University in 1868 and from the law department of Columbia College, New York City, in 1870; devoted a year to European travel; upon his return to the United States in 1871 was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Chicago, Ill.; moved to Bristol, R. I., in 1875 and practiced law in Providence, R. I.; member of the State house of representatives 1879-1881; appointed by President Garfield United States district judge for the first judicial district on March 21, 1881, and served until July, 1884, when he was appointed by President Arthur presiding judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit; elected in 1913 as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1919, and served from March 4, 1913, until his death in Bristol, R. I., August 18, 1924; interment in Juniper Hill Cemetery.

COLTON, Don Byron, a Representative from Utah; born near Mona, Juab County, Utah, September 15, 1876; moved with his parents to Uintah County, Utah, in 1879; attended the public schools and the Uintah Academy, Vernal, Utah; was graduated from the commercial department of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, in 1896; engaged in teaching in 1898, 1901, and 1902; member of the State house of representatives in 1903; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1905; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Vernal, Utah; also engaged in ranching, sheep raising, and other business enterprises; receiver of the United States land office at Vernal 1905-1914; delegate to all Republican State conventions 1914-1924; member of the State senate 1915-1917; during the World War served on the county council of national defense, was local food and fuel administrator, and chairman of the county Red Cross Society; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904 and at Cincinnati in 1924; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COMEGYS, Joseph Parsons, a Senator from Delaware; born in "Cherbourg," Kent County, near Dover, Del., December 29, 1813; attended the old academy at Dover; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Dover; member of the State house of representatives in 1842 and 1848; member of the commission to revise the State statutes in 1852; declined appointment as associate justice for Kent County tendered by Governor Causey in 1855; appointed as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John M. Clayton, and served from November 18, 1856, to January 14, 1857, when a successor was elected; declined renomination; resumed the practice of law in Dover; delegate to the Constitutional Union National Convention at Baltimore in 1860; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; appointed by Governor Cochran chief justice of the Supreme Court of Delaware on May 18, 1876, and served until January 23, 1893, when he resigned owing to ill health; died in Dover, Del., February 1, 1893; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

COMER, Braxton Bragg, a Senator from Alabama; born in Spring Hill, Barbour (now Mobile) County, Ala., November 7, 1848; attended the common schools, the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa, and the University of Georgia at Athens; was graduated from Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., in 1869; engaged as a planter, merchant, banker, and cotton manufacturer; member of the commissioners' court of Barbour County, Ala., 1874-1880; moved to Anniston, Ala., and engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Birmingham, Ala., in 1880 and became president of the City National Bank and the Birmingham Corn & Flour Mills; later became president of the Avondale Cotton Mills and served in that capacity until his death; president of the Railroad Commission of Alabama in 1905 and 1906; Governor of Alabama 1907-1911; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John H. Bankhead, and served from March 5 to November 2, 1920, when a successor was elected; resumed his former business pursuits in Birmingham, Jefferson County, Ala., and died there on August 15, 1927; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

COMINGO, Abram, a Representative from Missouri; born near Harrodsburg, Mercer County, Ky., January 9, 1820; attended the common and high schools and was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky.; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Harrodsburg, Ky., in 1847; moved to Independence, Mo., in 1848 and commenced the practice of law; delegate to the Missouri State convention in February, 1861; appointed provost marshal of the sixth district of Missouri in May, 1863; elected recorder of deeds of Jackson County in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; resumed the practice of law in Independence, Mo.; appointed by President Grant in 1876 a member of the commission to arbitrate with the Sioux Indians for the possession of Sioux lands in Dakota bordering on the Black Hills; moved to Kansas City, Mo., in 1881; retired from public life; died in Kansas City, Mo., November 10, 1889; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

COMINS, Linus Bacon, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Chariton, Mass., November 20, 1817; attended the common schools at Brookfield, Mass., and was graduated from Worcester County Manual Training High School; engaged in manufacturing in Roxbury, Mass.; member of the Roxbury City Council 1846-1848, and served as its president in 1847 and 1848; mayor of Roxbury in 1854; elected by the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); resumed manufacturing pursuits; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; died in Jamaica Plain, Mass., October 14, 1892; interment in Forest Hills Cemetery, Boston, Mass.

COMPTON, Barnes (great-grandson of Philip Key), a Representative from Maryland; born in Port Tobacco, Charles County, Md., November 16, 1830; attended Charlotte Hall Academy, St. Marys County, Md., and was graduated from Princeton College in June, 1851; engaged in agricultural pursuits and as a planter; member of the State house of delegates in 1860 and 1861; member of the State senate in 1867, 1868, 1870, and 1872, and served as president in 1868 and 1870; State tobacco inspector in 1873 and 1874; State treasurer 1874-1883; moved to Laurel, Prince Georges County, Md., in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); presented credentials as Member elect to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, to March 20, 1890, when he was succeeded by Sydney Mudd, who contested the election; elected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until his resignation, effective May 15, 1894; appointed by President Cleveland naval officer at Baltimore, Md., and served from 1894 to 1898; died in Laurel, Md., December 4, 1898; interment in Loudon Park Cemetery, Baltimore, Md.

COMSTOCK, Charles Carter, a Representative from Michigan; born in Sullivan, Cheshire County, N. H., March 5, 1818; attended the common schools; moved to Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1833; engaged in agricultural pursuits, lumbering, and the manufacture of furniture and woodenware; mayor of Grand Rapids in 1863 and 1864; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1870; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1873 to the Forty-third Congress; elected as a Fusion Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1886; died in Grand Rapids, Mich., February 20, 1900; interment in the Fulton Street Cemetery.

COMSTOCK, Daniel Webster, a Representative from Indiana; born in Germantown, Montgomery County, Ohio, December 16, 1840; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, in 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1861, and commenced practice in New Castle, Ind.; district attorney in 1862; during the Civil War enlisted in the Ninth Indiana Cavalry and was successively promoted to regimental sergeant major, first lieutenant, captain, and acting assistant adjutant general in the military division of Mississippi; settled in Richmond, Ind., in 1866; city attorney in 1866; prosecuting attorney of the Wayne circuit court 1872-1874; member of the State senate in 1878; judge of the seventeenth judicial circuit 1880-1895; judge of the appellate court 1896-1911; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1917, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 19, 1917; interment in Earlham Cemetery, Richmond, Wayne County, Ind.

COMSTOCK, Oliver Cromwell, a Representative from New York; born in Warwick, R. I., March 1, 1780; moved with his parents to Schenectady, N. Y., when a child; received a liberal schooling; studied medicine and practiced in Trumansburg, N. Y.; member of the State assembly 1810-1812; first judge of common pleas for Seneca County, N. Y., 1812-1815; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1819); was not a candidate for renomination in 1818; first judge of court of common pleas for Tompkins County in 1817 and 1818; abandoned the practice of medicine and studied theology; was licensed to preach and ordained to the Baptist ministry; installed as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rochester, N. Y., and served in that capacity from 1825 to 1834; elected Chaplain of the National House of Representatives on December 20, 1836, and served until March 3, 1837; moved to Michigan; resumed his ministerial duties at Detroit in 1839; was a regent of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor 1841-1843; State superintendent of public instruction 1843-1845; died in Marshall, Calhoun County, Mich., January 11, 1860; interment in Oakridge Cemetery.

COMSTOCK, Solomon Gilman, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Argyle, Penobscot County, Me., May 9, 1842; moved to Passadumkeag, Me., with his parents in 1845; completed a preparatory course in the Maine Wesleyan Seminary at Kents Hill; studied law in Bangor, Me., and later, in 1868 and 1869, continued his studies at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; moved to Nebraska in 1869 and settled in Omaha, where he was admitted to the bar in that year and commenced practice; moved to Minneapolis, Minn., in 1870, and to Moorhead, Clay County, Minn., in 1871, where he continued the practice of his profession; prosecuting attorney for Clay County 1872-1878; member of the State house of representatives in 1875, 1876, 1878, and 1881; served in the State senate 1882-1888; resigned; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Moorhead, Minn.; member of the State normal school board 1897-1905; member of the board of regents of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis in 1904 and 1905; retired from business pursuits and the practice of law, and is a resident of Moorhead, Clay County, Minn.

CONARD, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester Valley, Chester County, Pa., in November, 1778; educated at the Friends School; moved to Germantown about 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; professor of mathematics at the local academy in Germantown; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1814; although a member of the Society of Friends, his sympathy for the patriots and his eagerness to repel the British during the War of 1812 acquired for him the sobriquet of "The Fighting Quaker"; after his term in Congress had expired he was made associate judge of the district court; appointed United States marshal for the eastern district of Pennsylvania by President Monroe; reappointed by President Adams and served two years under President Jackson; retired from public life in 1832; moved to Maryland about 1834 and settled in Cecil County near Port Deposit, where he lived until 1851, when he moved to Philadelphia; did not engage in active pursuits, but lived in retirement until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., May 9, 1857; interment in St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal Churchyard, North East, Cecil County, Md.

CONDIOT, Lewis (nephew of Silas Condict), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morristown, Morris County, N. J., March 3, 1772; attended the common schools; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1794 and commenced practice in Morristown; sheriff of Morris County, N. J., 1801-1803; member of the commission for adjusting the boundary line between the States of New York and New Jersey in 1804; member of the State house of assembly 1805-1809, and served as speaker the last two years; elected as an Anti-Federalist to the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1817); president of the State medical society in 1816 and 1819; elected to the Seventeenth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1833); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1832; elected trustee of the College of New Jersey (now Princeton University) in 1827, and served in this capacity until 1861, when he resigned; one of the incorporators of the Morris & Essex Railroad Co. and became its first president in 1835; again a member of the State house of assembly in 1837 and 1838 and served as speaker; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; died in Morristown, N. J., May 28, 1862; interment in the cemetery of the Presbyterian Church.

CONDIOT, Silas (uncle of Lewis Condict and great-grandfather of Augustus William Cutler), a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Morristown, Morris County, N. J., March 7, 1788; completed preparatory studies; was a large landholder in Morristown and vicinity; member of the State council from its organization in 1776 until 1780; member of the committee of safety; Member of the Continental Congress 1781-1784; served in the State general assembly 1791-1794, 1796-1798, and in 1800, and served as speaker 1792-1794 and again in 1797; died in Morristown, N. J., September 6, 1801; interment in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian Church.

CONDIT, John (father of Silas Condit), a Representative and a Senator from New Jersey; born in Orange, N. J., July 8, 1785; attended the public schools; studied medicine and practiced; served as surgeon in the Revolutionary War in Colonel Van Cortlandt's battalion, Hardy brigade; one of the founders and a trustee of the Orange Academy in 1785; member of the State general assembly in 1788 and 1789; elected as a Democrat to the Sixth and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1799–March 3, 1803); appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1803, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect; subsequently elected, and served from September 1, 1803, to March 3, 1809; again appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Aaron Kitchell; subsequently elected, and served from March 21, 1809, to March 3, 1817; elected to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from March 4 to November 4, 1819, when he resigned to accept a Treasury position; appointed assistant collector of the port of New York, with his office in Jersey City, N. J., and served from November 4, 1819, until January, 1830; died in Orange Township, N. J., May 4, 1834; interment in the Old Graveyard, Orange, Essex County, N. J.

CONDIT, Silas (son of John Condit), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Orange, N. J., August 18, 1778; was graduated from Princeton College, New Jersey, in 1795; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Orange; moved to Newark, N. J.; clerk of Essex County 1804–1811; sheriff of Essex County 1813–1816; member of the State general assembly 1812, 1813, and 1816; served in the State council 1819–1822; president of the Newark Banking Co. 1820–1842; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1833); engaged in banking; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1844; died in Newark, N. J., November 29, 1861; interment in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian Church.

CONGER, Edwin Hurd, a Representative from Iowa; born in Knox County, Ill., March 7, 1843; was graduated from Lombard University, Galesburg, Ill., in 1862; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company I, One hundred and second Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and served until the close of the war; attained the rank of captain and received the brevet of major for "gallant and meritorious conduct in the field"; studied law, and was graduated from the Albany Law School in 1866; was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Galesburg, Ill., until 1868; moved to Dexter, Dallas County, Iowa, in 1868 and engaged in stock growing, banking, and agricultural pursuits; elected treasurer of Dallas County in 1877 and reelected in 1879; elected State treasurer in 1880 and reelected in 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, to October 3, 1890, when he resigned to accept a diplomatic mission; minister to Brazil from September 27, 1890, to September 13, 1893; appointed minister to China January 19, 1898, and served until his resignation on March 8, 1905, on which day he was appointed ambassador to Mexico and served until his resignation on October 18, 1905; died in Pasadena, Los Angeles County, Calif., May 18, 1907; interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

CONGER, Harmon Sweatland, a Representative from New York; born in Freeport, Cortland County, N. Y., April 9, 1816; attended the local academy at Cortland in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1844, and commenced practice in Cortland, N. Y.; editor and owner of the Cortland County Whig 1840–1845; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847–March 3, 1851); resumed the practice of law in Cortland, N. Y.; moved to Janesville, Wis., in 1855 and continued the practice of law; elected judge of the circuit court in 1870; reelected in 1877 and served until his death in Janesville, Rock County, Wis., October 22, 1893; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

CONGER, James Lockwood, a Representative from Michigan; born in Trenton, N. J., February 18, 1805; moved to New York in 1809 with his parents, who settled in Canandaigua, Ontario County; attended the district schools and Canandaigua Academy; studied medicine; moved to Lancaster, Ohio, in 1822; taught school for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Lancaster, Ohio; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, and continued the practice of law from 1826 to 1837, when he moved to Macomb County, Mich., and laid out the town of Belvidere; engaged in banking and mercantile pursuits until 1850; moved to Mount Clemens, Mich.; elected as a Free-Soil Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851–March 3, 1853); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed his former business pursuits; supported Greeley and Brown in 1872; owing to ill health retired from active business pursuits; died in St. Clair, St. Clair County, Mich., April 10, 1876; interment in Green Lawn Cemetery, Columbus, Ohio.

CONGER, Omar Dwight, a Representative and a Senator from Michigan; born in Cooperstown, Otsego County, N. Y., April 1, 1818; moved with his father to Huron County, Ohio, in 1824; pursued academic studies at Huron Institute, Milan, Ohio, and was graduated from Western Reserve College, Hudson, Ohio, in 1841; engaged in mineral explorations of the Lake Superior copper and iron regions in connection with the Michigan State Geological Survey 1845–1847; engaged in the practice of law in Port Huron, Mich., in 1848; elected judge of the St. Clair County court in 1850; member of the State senate 1855–1859 and served as president pro tempore in 1859; member of the State military board during the Civil War, holding the rank of colonel; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; member of the State constitutional convention in 1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1869, until March 3, 1881, when he resigned to become Senator; had been reelected to the Forty-seventh Congress; alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880; elected in 1881 to the United States Senate and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1887; unsuccessful candidate for renomination; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; died while on a visit in Ocean City, Worcester County, Md., July 11, 1898; interment in Lakeside Cemetery, Port Huron, Mich.

CONKLING, Alfred (father of Frederick Augustus Conkling and Roscoe Conkling), a Representative from New York; born in Amagansett, N. Y., October 12, 1789; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and commenced practice in Canajoharie; prosecuting attorney for Montgomery County 1818–1821; elected as an anti-Jackson Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821–March 3, 1823); moved to Albany, N. Y., about 1824 and to Auburn, N. Y., in 1839; appointed United States district judge for the northern district of New York, and served from 1825 to 1852; appointed United States minister to Mexico, and served from August 6, 1852, to August 17, 1853; settled in Omaha, Nebr., and practiced law until 1861, when he resided successively in Rochester, Genesee, and Utica, N. Y., moving to the latter city in 1872; devoted much time to literary pursuits; died in Utica, Onondaga County, N. Y., February 5, 1874; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

CONKLING, Frederick Augustus (son of Alfred Conkling and brother of Roscoe Conkling), a Representative from New York; born in Canajoharie, Montgomery County, N. Y., August 22, 1816; pursued classical studies and attended the Albany Academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits in New York City; member of the State assembly in 1854, 1859, and 1860; during the Civil War organized the Eighty-fourth Regiment New York Volunteers in June, 1861, and became its colonel; served throughout the Shenandoah campaign, and in 1863 his regiment was on provost-guard duty in Baltimore, Md.; one of the organizers of the West Side Savings Bank of New York City and served as its president for many years; subsequently he became president of the Etna Fire Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., and served until its dissolution in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; unsuccessful Republican candidate for mayor of New York City in 1868; member of the New York Chamber of Commerce, the New York Historical Society, and the Geographical Society; was the oldest governor of the New York Hospital and a trustee of the College of Physicians and Surgeons; author of numerous pamphlets on political, commercial, and scientific subjects; died in New York City September 18, 1891; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CONKLING, Roscoe (son of Alfred Conkling and brother of Frederick Augustus Conkling), a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., October 3, 1829; moved with his parents to Auburn, N. Y., in 1839; completed an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and commenced practice in Utica, N. Y.; district attorney for Onondaga County in 1850; mayor of Utica in 1858; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate in 1862 for reelection to the Thirty-eighth Congress; elected to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1865, until his resignation, effective March 4, 1867, before the beginning of the Fortieth Congress, to become Senator; had been reelected to the latter Congress; elected in 1867 as a Union Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1873 and again in 1879, and served from March 4, 1867, until May 16, 1881, when he resigned as a protest against the Federal appointments made in New York State; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation; resumed the practice of law in New York City; appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States in February, 1882, and was confirmed by the Senate, but declined to accept; died in New York City April 18, 1888; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, Utica, N. Y.

CONN, Charles Gerard, a Representative from Indiana; born in Phelps, Ontario County, N. Y., January 29, 1844; moved with his parents to Elkhart, Ind., in 1851; attended the common schools; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army and served in the band of the Fifteenth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry; discharged September 10, 1862; reenlisted in Company G, First Michigan Sharpshooters, November 18, 1862; served as private, sergeant, second lieutenant, and captain in this company; was taken prisoner, and released from Columbia (S. C.) prison camp at the close of hostilities; discharged from the service July 28, 1865; engaged in the manufacture of band instruments at Elkhart, Ind.; mayor of Elkhart 1880-1883; member of the State house of representatives in 1889; established the Elkhart Daily Truth in 1890; was owner of the Washington Times during the major portion of his congressional term; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for reelection in 1894; resumed the manufacture of band instruments at Elkhart, Ind., and in 1916 disposed of all his interests and moved to Los Angeles, Calif., where he retired from active business pursuits and now resides.

CONNALLY, Thomas (Tom) Terry, a Representative from Texas; born near Hewitt, McLennan County, Tex., August 19, 1877; attended the public schools and the Eddy High School, Eddy, Tex.; was graduated from Baylor University, Waco, Tex., in 1896 and from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin in 1898; was admitted to the bar in 1898 and commenced practice in Waco, Tex.; moved to Marlin, Falls County, Tex., in 1899 and continued the practice of law; served as sergeant major in the Second Regiment Texas Volunteer Infantry during the Spanish-American War; member of the State house of representatives 1901-1904; prosecuting attorney of Falls County, Tex., 1906-1910; during the World War became captain and adjutant of the Twenty-second Infantry Brigade, Eleventh Division, United States Army, in 1918; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and also to many State conventions; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CONNELL, Charles Robert (son of William Connell), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Scranton, Lackawanna County, Pa., September 22, 1864; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass., in 1884; engaged in mercantile pursuits with his father; became interested in the Lackawanna Mills and subsequently served as president and treasurer of the Scranton Button Co. from 1888 until his death; also interested in other manufacturing enterprises and banking; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1921, until his death in Scranton, Pa., September 20, 1922; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

CONNELL, Richard Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, N. Y., November 6, 1857; attended St. Peter's Parochial School and the public schools of Poughkeepsie; reporter and editor on the Poughkeepsie News Press 1887-1910; police commissioner of Poughkeepsie in 1892; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Fifty-fifth Congress in 1896; unsuccessful candidate for member of the State assembly in 1898 and 1900; inheritance tax appraiser 1907-1909; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City in 1900 and at St. Louis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1911, until his death; had been nominated in 1912 as the Democratic candidate for reelection to the Sixty-third Congress; died in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., October 30, 1912; interment in St. Peter's Cemetery.

CONNELL, William (father of Charles Robert Connell), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sidney, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, September 10, 1827; received a limited schooling; moved with his parents to Hasleton, Luzerne County, Pa., in 1844; in early youth was a driver boy in the coal mines; subsequently became a miner, and in 1856 was appointed super-Intendent of the mines of the Susquehanna & Wyoming Valley Railroad & Coal Co., with offices in Scranton; upon the expiration of that company's charter in 1870 he purchased its property and became one of the largest independent coal operators in the Wyoming region; one of the founders of the Third National Bank of Scranton in 1872, and in 1879 was chosen its president; was also identified with many other industries and commercial enterprises of Scranton; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; member of the Pennsylvania Republican committee; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1903); successfully contested the election of George Howell to the Fifty-eighth Congress, and served from February 10, 1904, to March 3, 1905; died in Scranton, Lackawanna County, Pa., March 21, 1909; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

CONNELL, William James, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Cowansville, Province of Quebec, Canada, July 6, 1846; moved to Schroon Lake, N. Y., in 1857; thence to Vermont in 1862; completed a preparatory course; moved to Omaha, Nebr., in 1867; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1869, and engaged in practice; district attorney of the third judicial district of Nebraska 1872-1876; city attorney of Omaha 1883-1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; reappointed city attorney of Omaha, Nebr., in 1892; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Atlantic City, N. J., August 16, 1924; interment in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Omaha, Douglas County, Nebr.

CONNELLY, John Robert, a Representative from Kansas; born near Mount Sterling, Brown County, Ill., February 27, 1870; attended the common schools and the Salina Normal University; moved to Thomas County, Kans., in 1888; homesteaded there in 1892; began teaching school when nineteen years of age; superintendent of schools for Thomas County 1894-1898; owner and editor of the Colby Free Press 1897-1919; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed his former business pursuits; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 which nominated Cox and Roosevelt; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; engaged in the real-estate business at Colby, Thomas County, Kans.

CONNER, James Perry, a Representative from Iowa; born in Delaware County, Ind., January 27, 1851; attended the Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1873; was admitted to the bar and practiced; district attorney of the thirteenth judicial district of Iowa 1880-1884; circuit judge of the thirteenth judicial district in 1884; district judge of the sixteenth judicial district in 1886; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jonathan P. Dolliver; reelected to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from December 4, 1900, to March 3, 1909; unsuccessful candidate in 1908 for reelection to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law in Denison, Crawford County, Iowa, where he died March 19, 1924; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CONNER, John Coggeswell, a Representative from Texas; born in Noblesville, Hamilton County, Ind., October 14, 1842; attended the Noblesville public schools and Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind.; admitted to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., September 20, 1861, and remained during the academic year 1861-62; during the Civil War was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Sixty-third Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry on August 30, 1862, and a first lieutenant on September 3, 1862; honorably discharged June 20, 1864; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Indiana House of Representatives in 1860; commissioned a captain in the Forty-first Regiment United States Infantry on July 23, 1863, and served in Texas until November 29, 1869, when he resigned, having received the nomination for Congress; upon the readmission of Texas to representation was elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress; reelected to the Forty-second Congress, and served from March 31, 1870, to March 3, 1873; owing to failing health was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; died in Washington, D. C., December 10, 1873; interment in the Old Cemetery, Noblesville, Ind.

CONNER, Samuel Shepard, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Exeter, N. H., about 1783; attended Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., in 1794; was graduated from Yale College in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Waterville, Me. (at that time a district of Massachusetts), in 1810; served in the War of 1812 as major of the Twenty-first Infantry; promoted to lieutenant colonel of the Thirteenth Infantry March 12, 1813; resigned July 14, 1814; resumed the practice of law in Waterville, Me.; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); appointed surveyor general of the Ohio land district in 1819; died in Covington, Ky., December 17, 1820.

CONNERY, William Patrick, jr., a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lynn, Mass., August 24, 1888; attended St. Mary's School at Lynn, Montreal College in Canada 1902-1904, and Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., 1904-1908; entered the theatrical profession as actor and afterwards became manager; during the World War enlisted as a private in the One hundred and first Regiment and served nineteen months in France; promoted to regimental color sergeant for meritorious service; secretary to the mayor of Lynn from January 1, 1922, to February 25, 1923; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CONNES, John, a Senator from California; born in Abbey, County Galway, Ireland, September 22, 1821; emigrated to the United States in 1833; learned the art of pianoforte making in New York; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in mining and mercantile pursuits; member of the State assembly in 1853 and 1854 and again in 1860 and 1861; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of California in 1861; elected as a Union Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1863, to March 3, 1869; moved to Boston, Mass., in 1869; retired from active business pursuits; died in Jamaica Plain, Mass., January 10, 1909; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester, Mass.

CONNOLLY, Daniel Ward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cocheaton, Sullivan County, N. Y., April 24, 1847; moved with his parents to Scranton, Pa., in 1849; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in June, 1870, and commenced practice in Scranton; elected president judge of Lackawanna County in 1878, but did not serve because the State supreme court held that there was no vacancy; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; appointed postmaster of Scranton, Pa., on May 2, 1885, and served until March 29, 1889; died in Scranton, Pa., December 4, 1894; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

CONNOLLY, James Austin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Newark, N. J., March 8, 1848; moved to Chesterville, Ohio, with his parents in 1850; attended the common schools and Selby Academy, Chesterville, Ohio; assistant clerk of the State senate in 1858 and 1859; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and practiced in Mount Gilead, Ohio; moved to Charleston, Ill., in 1861; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army as a private in the One hundred and twenty-third Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry in 1862, and was afterwards captain, major, and brevet lieutenant colonel; member of the State house of representatives 1872-1876; United States attorney for the southern district of Illinois from 1879 to 1885 and again from 1889 to 1898; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1886 to the Fiftyeth Congress; again nominated in 1888, but declined to run; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; resumed the practice of law in Springfield, Ill., where he died December 15, 1914; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

CONNOLLY, James Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., September 24, 1881; attended the high schools of that city; member of the Republican State committee; served as financial secretary of the Republican city committee of Philadelphia; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CONNOLLY, Maurice, a Representative from Iowa; born in Dubuque, Iowa, March 13, 1877; attended the common schools; was graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., in 1897 and from the law department of New York University, New York City, in 1898; was admitted to the bar in 1899; did postgraduate work at Balliol College, Oxford, England, and the University of Heidelberg, Germany; engaged in the insurance business and banking; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1914; chairman of the Iowa State Democratic convention in 1914; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1916; major in the Aviation Corps during the World War; died in an airplane accident near Indianhead, Md., May 28, 1921; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Dubuque, Iowa.

CONNOR, Henry William, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Amelia Court House, Prince George County, Va., August 5, 1798; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1812; served as aide-de-camp to Brig. Gen. Joseph Graham with rank of major in the expedition against the Creek Indians in 1814; settled in Falls Town, Iredell County, N. C.; engaged in planting; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth and to the nine succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; resumed his former occupation; member of the State senate 1848-1860; died at Beatties Ford, Lincoln County, N. C., January 6, 1868; interment in Rehoboth Methodist Church Cemetery near Sherrills Ford, Catawba County, N. C.

CONOVER, Simon Barclay, a Senator from Florida; born in Middlesex County, N. J., September 23, 1840; attended an academy in Trenton, N. J.; studied medicine at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; during the Civil War was appointed acting assistant surgeon in 1863; served in the Union Army of the Cumberland and was stationed at Nashville, Tenn.; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Nashville, Tennessee, in 1864 and the same year was assigned to duty at Haddington Hospital in Philadelphia; transferred to Cincinnati in 1865 in charge of Woodward Military Hospital; resigned in the fall of 1865; was again appointed acting assistant surgeon in 1866, being assigned to Lake City, Fla.; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1868; resigned from the Medical Department of the Army upon readmission of the State into the Union and was appointed State treasurer by Gov. Harrison Reed in 1868, serving one term; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868 and was elected a member of the Republican National Committee, which position he held for four years; member of the State house of representatives in 1873 and served as speaker; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1873, to March 3, 1879; resumed the practice of his profession; was not a candidate for reelection; unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1880; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1885; appointed United States surgeon at Port Townsend, Wash., in 1889; became president of the board of regents of the Agricultural College and School of Sciences of the State of Washington in 1891; vice president of the State's commission to the Chicago World's Fair in 1893; practiced medicine in Port Townsend, Wash., until his death, April 19, 1908; interment in the Masonic Cemetery.

CONRAD, Charles Magill, a Senator and a Representative from Louisiana; born in Winchester, Frederick County, Va., December 24, 1804; moved with his father to Mississippi, and thence to the Teche country in Louisiana; educated in a private school in New Orleans; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in New Orleans, La.; was a Jackson Democrat, but became a Whig over the bank issue; member of the State house of representatives; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alexander Mouton, and served from April 14, 1842, to March 3, 1848; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1849, to August 17, 1850, when he resigned; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Fillmore, and served from August 15, 1850, to March 7, 1853; delegate from Louisiana to the Provisional Confederate Congress at Montgomery, Ala., in 1861; delegate to the First and Second Confederate Congresses 1862-1864; after the war resumed the practice of law; died in New Orleans, La., February 11, 1878; interment in the Girod Street Cemetery.

CONRAD, Frederick, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Worcester Township, Montgomery County, Pa., in 1759; attended the common schools; elected to the State assembly in 1798, 1800, and 1802; paymaster of the Fifty-first Regiment of Pennsylvania Militia in 1804 and 1805; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1807); appointed justice of the peace in 1807; appointed prothonotary and clerk of the courts in 1811, and reappointed in 1824; resided near Center Point and was interested in agricultural pursuits; moved to Norristown, and died there August 3, 1827; interment in Wentz's Reformed Church Cemetery, Center Point, Montgomery County, Pa.

CONRY, Joseph Aloysius, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Brookline, Mass., September 12, 1868; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Boston; president of the Boston Common Council in 1896 and 1897; chairman of the board of aldermen in 1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1908); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in Boston, Mass.; recognized as consul of Russia in September, 1912, in which capacity he is now serving; decorated by Nicholas II, the Czar of Russia, and made a member of the Knights of St. Anne; director of the port of Boston, Mass., 1911-1916; is a resident of Boston, Mass.

CONRY, Michael Francis, a Representative from New York; born in Shenandoah, Schuylkill County, Pa., April 2, 1870; employed in the coal mines until crippled for life; attended the public schools; engaged in teaching for seven years; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1896; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Scranton, Pa.; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1900 to the Fifty-seventh Congress; moved to New York City and resumed the practice of law; served two years as assistant corporation counsel of the city of New York; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first, Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, until his death; had been reelected to the Sixty-fifth Congress; died at Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C., March 2, 1917; interment in Calvary Cemetery, New York City.

CONSTABLE, Albert, a Representative from Maryland; born near Charlestown, Md., June 3, 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and settled in Bel Air, Harford County, Md.; moved to Baltimore and practiced law; later moved to Perryville, Cecil County, Md.; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); judge of the Circuit Court of Maryland in 1861; died in Camden, N. J., September 18, 1865.

CONTEE, Benjamin (uncle of Alexander Contee Hanson and granduncle of Thomas Contee Worthington), a Delegate and a Representative from Maryland; born at "Brookefield," near Nottingham, Prince Georges County, Md., in 1755; attended a private school; served in the Revolutionary War as lieutenant and captain in the Third Maryland Battalion; member of the State house of delegates 1785-1787; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; elected to the First Congress (March 4, 1789-March 3, 1791); was not a candidate for renomination in 1790; traveled in various European countries, and studied theology, which he completed on his return to the United States, and was ordained a Minister of the Episcopal Church in 1803; was pastor of the Episcopal Church at Port Tobacco, Charles County; presiding judge of the Charles County orphans' court at the time of his death; died in Charles County, Md., November 30, 1815; interment at "Bromont," his former home, near Port Tobacco, Md.

CONVERSE, George Leroy, a Representative from Ohio; born in Georgesville, Franklin County, Ohio, June 4, 1827; attended the common schools and Central College, Ohio, and was graduated from Denison University, Granville, Ohio, in 1849; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Columbus, Ohio, in 1852; prosecuting attorney of Franklin County in 1857; member of the State house of representatives 1860-1863 and 1874-1876 and speaker of the house in 1874; member of the State senate in 1864 and 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1886); was not a candidate for renomination in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; delegate to the Nicaraguan Canal Convention in 1892, and made chairman of this and the subsequent convention held in New Orleans; died in Columbus, Ohio, March 30, 1897; interment in Green Lawn Cemetery.

CONWAY, Henry Wharton (cousin of Ambrose Hendley Sevier), a Delegate from the Territory of Arkansas; born near Greenville, Greene County, Tenn., March 18, 1793; educated by private tutors; enlisted as an ensign in the War of 1812 and was promoted to lieutenant in 1813; clerk in the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., in 1817; moved to Missouri Territory in 1818 and to Arkansas Territory in 1820; receiver of public moneys in 1820 and 1821; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1823, until his death near Arkansas Post, Ark., then the Territorial seat of government, November 9, 1827; interment in the Arkansas Post Cemetery.

CONWAY, Martin Franklin, a Representative from Kansas; born at "Bretons Hill," near Fallston, Harford County, Md., November 19, 1827; received a liberal schooling; moved to Baltimore, Md., in 1843; learned the art of printing and became an organizer of the National Typographical Union; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and commenced practice in Baltimore; moved to Kansas in 1853 and continued the practice of law; also an agent in Kansas for the Massachusetts Abolition Society; member of the first legislative council July 2, 1854; member of the Kansas Free State Convention in 1855; chief justice of the supreme court under the Topeka constitution of provisional government in 1856 and 1857; president of the Leavenworth constitutional convention of 1858; upon the admission of Kansas as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses, and served from January 29, 1861, to March 3, 1863; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; appointed by President Johnson United States consul at Marseille, France, on June 10, 1866, and served until April 18, 1869, when he retired from public life because of ill health; returned to Washington, D. C., where he died February 15, 1882; interment in Rock Creek Cemetery.

COOK, Burton Chauncey, a Representative from Illinois; born in Pittsford, Monroe County, N. Y., May 11, 1810; attended the Collegiate Institute, Rochester, N. Y.; studied law, and in 1835 moved to Ottawa, Ill., where he commenced the practice of law in 1840; elected by the legislature in 1846 State's attorney for the ninth judicial district for two years; reelected by the people in 1848 for four years; member of the State senate 1852-1860; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860, where he seconded the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for President, and at Baltimore in 1864, where he nominated Abraham Lincoln for President; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1865, to August 26, 1871, when he resigned; resumed the practice of his profession in Evanston, Cook County, Ill., and died there August 18, 1894; interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

COOK, Daniel Pope, a Representative from Illinois; born in Scott County, Ky., in 1794; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Kaskaskia, Ill., in 1815; moved to Edwardsville, Ill., in 1816 and engaged in newspaper work; editor of the Illinois Intelligencer; auditor of public accounts in 1816; judge of the western circuit; appointed the first attorney general of Illinois, and served from March 15 to October 15, 1819; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1818 to the Fifteenth Congress; elected to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1827); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1826 to the Twentieth Congress; directed in 1827 by President Adams to proceed to Cuba and report on political condition; a county in the State of Illinois was named in his honor; died in Scott County, Ky., October 16, 1827.

COOK, George Washington, a Representative from Colorado; born in Bedford, Lawrence County, Ind., November 10, 1861; at the age of eleven ran away from home and enlisted in the Fifteenth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry in the Union Army and served as a drummer boy; was transferred to the One hundred and forty-fifth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry and served as chief regimental clerk; at the close of the Civil War attended the public schools, Bedford Academy, and the Indiana University at Bloomington; moved to Chicago in 1880 and entered the employ of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway; moved to Leadville, Colo., in 1880 and became division superintendent of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad; mayor of Leadville 1885-1887; moved to Denver in 1888 and became general sales agent for the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.; department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for Colorado and Wyoming in 1891 and 1892; became an independent mining operator in 1893; senior vice commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1905 and 1906; organized and commanded the famous Cook Drum Corps, of Denver; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination in 1908; resumed mining operations in Colorado; died in Pueblo, Colo., December 18, 1916; interment in the Fairmount Cemetery, Denver, Colo.

COOK, Joel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 20, 1842; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Central High School of Philadelphia in 1859; studied law at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and practiced; correspondent with the Army of the Potomac and a Washington correspondent during the Civil War; on the editorial staff of the Philadelphia Public Ledger from 1865 to 1882; financial editor 1883-1907; president of the board of wardens for the port of Philadelphia 1891-1907; president of the board of trade and of the Vessel Owners and Captains' Association; member of the Union League of Philadelphia; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John E. Reyburn; re-elected to the Sixty-first Congress, and served from November 5, 1907, until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., December 15, 1910; interment in North Laurel Hill Cemetery.

COOK, John Calhoun, a Representative from Iowa; born in Seneca, Seneca County, Ohio, December 26, 1846; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Newton, Jasper County, Iowa; judge of the sixth judicial district of Iowa in 1878; successfully contested the election of Marsena E. Cutts to the Forty-seventh Congress, and took his seat March 3, 1883, the closing day of the Congress; elected as an Independent Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marsena E. Cutts, and served from October 9, 1883, to March 3, 1885; resumed the practice of law in Newton, Iowa; moved to Webster City, Iowa, where he became attorney for a railroad company; died in Algona, Kosciusko County, Iowa, June 7, 1920; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

COOK, John Parsons, a Representative from Iowa; born in Whitestown, Onondaga County, N. Y., August 31, 1817; moved with his father to Davenport, Iowa, in 1836; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Tipton, Cedar County, Iowa; member of the Iowa Territorial Council 1842-1845; served in the State senate 1848-1851; returned to Davenport, Iowa, in 1851 and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate in 1850 for election to the Thirty-second Congress; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; continued the practice of law and also engaged in banking in Davenport until his death there on April 17, 1872; interment in Oakdale Cemetery.

COOK, Orchard, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., March 24, 1763; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; assessor of Fownd Borough in 1786; town clerk of New Milford, district of Maine, 1795-1797; justice of the peace; judge of the court of common pleas for Lincoln County 1799-1810; appointed assistant assessor of twenty-fifth district in November, 1798; overseer of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., 1800-1805; elected to the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1811); was not a candidate for renomination in 1810; sheriff of Lincoln County in 1811; postmaster of Wiscasset, Lincoln County, Me., from 1811 until his death there August 12, 1819; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

COOK, Philip, a Representative from Georgia; born in Twiggs County, Ga., July 30, 1817; was graduated from Oglethorpe University, Georgia, and from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1840; practiced in Forsyth, Ga., in 1841 and 1842; moved successively to Sumter, Lanier, and Oglethorpe Counties, and continued the practice of law until 1899; served in the State senate in 1859, 1860, 1863, and 1864; entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as a private; was successively commissioned as first lieutenant, lieutenant colonel, colonel, and, in August, 1863, brigadier general, and served throughout the Civil War; member of the State convention in 1865; moved to Americus, Sumter County, Ga., in 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law in Americus, Ga.; State capitol commissioner 1883-1889; elected secretary of state of Georgia in 1890, and served until his death in Atlanta, Ga., May 24, 1894; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery, Macon, Ga.

COOK, Samuel Andrew, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Ontario, Canada, January 28, 1849; moved with his parents to Calumet County, Wis., in 1856; attended the common schools in Fond du Lac and Calumet Counties; enlisted as a private in Company A, Second Wisconsin Cavalry, under General Cuater, and served until the end of the Civil War; lived on a farm in Calumet County until 1872, when he located in Marathon County and engaged in business; moved to Neenah, Winnebago County, in 1881; elected mayor of Neenah in 1889; member of the State assembly in 1891 and 1892; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); declined renomination in 1896; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1897 and 1907; commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the Department of Wisconsin 1915-16; became a manufacturer of print paper at Menasha, Wis., with residence in Neenah, Wis.; president of the Alexandria Paper Co., at Alexandria, Ind.; died at Neenah, Wis., April 4, 1918; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

COOK, Samuel Ellis, a Representative from Indiana; born on a farm in Huntington County, Ind., September 30, 1860; attended the common schools in Whitley County and the normal schools at Columbia City, Ind., and Ada, Ohio; taught school and engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, and was graduated from the law department of Valparaiso University, Indiana, in 1888; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Huntington, Ind.; prosecuting attorney for Huntington County 1892-1894; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; editorial writer for the Huntington News-Democrat 1896-1900; judge of the Huntington circuit court for the fifty-sixth judicial district 1906-1918; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Huntington, Ind., where he now resides.

COOK, Zadock, a Representative from Georgia; born in Virginia February 18, 1769; moved to Hancock County, Ga., in early life, and was one of the first settlers in Clark County; self-educated, having attended school only three weeks; ensign in the Washington County Militia in 1793; captain of the Eleventh Company Hancock County Militia in 1796; member of the State house of representatives in 1806, 1807, and again in 1822; served in the State senate 1810-1814, 1823, and 1824; elected to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alfred Cuthbert; reelected to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from December 2, 1816, to March 3, 1819; retired from public life and settled on his plantation near Watkinsville, Ga., and engaged in agricultural pursuits until his death on August 3, 1863; interment in the Jackson Cemetery, Clark (now Oconee) County, Ga.

COOKE, Bates, a Representative from New York; born in Wallingford, Conn., December 28, 1787; attended the public schools; moved to Lewiston, N. Y., studied law, was admitted to the bar about 1815, and commenced practice in Lewiston; participated in the War of 1812; supervisor of the town of Cambria in 1814; elected as an Anti-Mason to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); was not a candidate for renomination in 1832; elected comptroller of the State of New York in February, 1839; bank commissioner from May 14, 1840, until his death in Lewiston, Niagara County, N. Y., May 31, 1841; interment in Oak Wood Cemetery.

COOKE, Edward Dean, a Representative from Illinois; born in Cascade, Dubuque County, Iowa, October 17, 1849; attended the common schools, the local academy, and the high school at Dubuque; studied law at Dubuque and in the law department of Columbian (now George Washington) University, Washington, D. C., and was graduated from that institution in 1873; was admitted to the bar in the same year and commenced practice in Chicago, Ill.; member of the State house of representatives in 1883; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Washington, D. C., June 24, 1897; interment in Rosehill Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

COOKE, Eleutherios, a Representative from Ohio; born in Granville, Washington County, N. Y., December 25, 1787; attended the country schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Granville; moved to Indiana in 1817, and thence to Sandusky, Erie County, Ohio, in 1819; member of the State house of representatives in 1822, 1823, and 1825; obtained from the Ohio Legislature in 1826 the first charter granted to a railroad in the United States—the Mad River & Lake Erie Railroad—and ground was broken for it in 1832; elected as a National-Republican to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1840; died in Sandusky, Ohio, December 27, 1864; interment on his estate, "Ogontz" near Philadelphia, Pa.

COOKE, Josiah Platt, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Stratford (now Bridgeport), Conn., January 4, 1780; was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1790; from 1763 to 1788 he represented the town in about thirty sessions of the general assembly; justice of the peace in 1764; appointed colonel of the Sixteenth Regiment of Militia in 1771; during the Revolutionary War accompanied General Wolcott's force to New York in 1776; was in command of Continental forces when the British burned Danbury in April, 1777; resigned his colonelcy early in 1778; member of the council of safety in 1778; member of the State house of representatives in 1776, 1778, 1780-1782, and 1784; Member of the Continental Congress 1784-1788; judge of the probate court for Danbury district 1776-1813; served as one of the governor's council in 1803; died in Danbury, Conn., February 3, 1816; interment in Wooster Cemetery.

COOKE, Thomas Burrage, a Representative from New York; born in Wallingford, Conn., November 21, 1778; moved to New York about 1802 and settled in Catskill; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); elected president of what is now the Catskill National Bank in 1813; took the oath of office as justice of the peace September 2, 1818; engaged in the water freighting business in 1823 and also interested in agricultural pursuits; became one of the incorporators of the Catskill & Canajoharie Railway on April 19, 1830; member of the State assembly in 1838 and 1839; died in Catskill, Greene County, N. Y., November 20, 1833; interment in the Village Cemetery.

COOLIDGE, Calvin, a Vice President and a President of the United States; born in Plymouth, Windsor County, Vt., July 4, 1872; attended the public schools, Black River Academy, Ludlow, Vt., and St. Johnsbury Academy; was graduated from Amherst College, Massachusetts, in 1895; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1897, and commenced practice in Northampton, Mass.; member of the city council in 1899; city solicitor in 1900 and 1901; clerk of courts in 1904; member of the State house of representatives in 1907 and 1908; resumed the practice of his profession in Northampton; mayor of Northampton in 1910 and 1911; member of the State senate 1912-1915, and served as president of that body in 1914 and 1915; Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts 1916-1918 and Governor in 1919 and 1920; elected Vice President of the United States on the Republican ticket headed by Warren G. Harding in 1920, was inaugurated on March 4, 1921, and served until August 3, 1923; upon the death of President Warren G. Harding became President of the United States on August 3, 1923; elected President of the United States in 1924 for the term expiring March 3, 1929.

COOLIDGE, Frederick Spaulding, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Westminster, Worcester County, Mass., December 7, 1841; attended the common schools; became manager of the Boston Chair Manufacturing Co. and of the Leominster Batten Works; selectman of his native town for three years; member of the Democratic State central committee; member of the State house of representatives in 1875; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); retired from active business pursuits; died in Fitchburg, Mass., June 8, 1906; interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Westminster, Mass.

COOMBS, Frank L., a Representative from California; born in Napa, Napa County, Calif., December 27, 1853; attended the public schools in California; attended the Dorchester High School, Boston, Mass., and was graduated from the law department of Columbian (now George Washington) University, Washington, D. C. in 1875; was admitted to the bar in 1875 and commenced practice in Napa, Calif.; district attorney of Napa County, Calif., 1880-1885; member of the State assembly 1887-1889 and 1891-1897 and served as speaker in 1891 and again in 1897; on the death of John F. Swift was appointed United States minister to Japan and served from June, 1892, to August, 1893; State librarian of California from April 1, 1898, to April 1, 1899; United States attorney for the northern district of California from April 1, 1899, to March 1, 1901; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902; resumed the practice of law in Napa, Calif.; member of the State assembly 1921-1923 and 1925-1927; is a resident of Napa, Calif.

COOMBS, William Jerome, a Representative from New York; born in Jordan, Onondaga County, N. Y., December 24, 1833; attended the Jordan Academy, Jordan, N. Y.; moved to New York City in 1850, and in 1855 took up his residence in Brooklyn; in 1856 entered upon the business of exporting American goods and continued in this business for thirty-seven years, dealing with practically every market in the world; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; appointed a director of the Union Pacific Railroad by President Cleveland in 1894, with special commission to collect the debts due the United States Government from the various Pacific railroads; president of the Manufacturers' Terminal Co., later consolidated with the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. of Brooklyn; in 1904 became president of the South Brooklyn Savings Bank, in which capacity he served until his death in Brooklyn, N. Y., January 12, 1922; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

COONEY, James, a Representative from Missouri; born in County Limerick, Ireland, July 28, 1848; emigrated to the United States in 1852 with his parents, who settled near Troy, N. Y.; moved to Missouri where he attended the public schools and the University of Missouri at Columbia; taught school in Illinois for several years; in 1875 settled in Marshall, Mo.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and engaged in the practice of law; elected probate judge in 1880 and prosecuting attorney of Saline County in 1882 and 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed the practice of law; died in Marshall, Saline County, Mo., November 16, 1904; interment in Ridge Park Cemetery.

COOPER, Allen Foster, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Franklin Township, Fayette County, Pa., June 16, 1862; attended the public schools of his native township, and was graduated from the State normal school, California, Pa., in 1882; attended Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio, in 1883; taught school for six years; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1888; was admitted to the bar December 4, 1888, and commenced practice in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1911); resumed business and the practice of law in Uniontown, Pa.; died in Uniontown April 20, 1917; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

COOPER, Charles Merian, a Representative from Florida; born in Athens, Clarke County, Ga., January 10, 1856; moved with his parents to Florida in 1864; pursued academic studies at Gainesville Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in St. Augustine, Fla.; member of the State house of representatives in 1880; served in the State senate in 1884; attorney general of Florida 1885-1889; appointed in 1889 one of the three commissioners to revise the statutes of the State; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Jacksonville, Fla., until his death there November 14, 1923; interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

COOPER, Edmund (brother of Henry Cooper), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Franklin, Williamson County, Tenn., September 11, 1821; was graduated from Jackson (Tenn.) College in 1839; studied law at Harvard University, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Shelbyville, Bedford County, Tenn., in 1841; member of the State house of representatives in 1849; presidential elector on the Constitutional Union ticket of Bell and Everett in 1860 and on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; Union delegate to the State constitutional convention of 1861; again elected to the State house of representatives, but in 1865 resigned; upon the readmission of the State of Tennessee to representation was elected as a Conservative to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from July 24, 1866, to March 3, 1867; appointed by President Johnson Assistant Secretary of the Treasury November 20, 1867, and served until March 20, 1869; resumed the practice of law at Shelbyville, and died there July 21, 1911; interment in Willow Mount Cemetery.

COOPER, Edward, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Treverton, Northumberland County, Pa., February 26, 1873; moved with his parents to Fayette County, W. Va., in 1875; attended public and private schools; was graduated from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1892, and subsequently from the law department of the same university; was admitted to the bar in 1894 and practiced law for three years in Bramwell, Mercer County, W. Va.; member of the town council for eight years; on the death of his father abandoned the practice of law and engaged in the development of coal properties in West Virginia; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; again engaged in the production of coal in Mercer and McDowell Counties, W. Va., and served as a director in several coal companies; died in a hospital at Bluefield, W. Va., March 1, 1923; interment in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

COOPER, George B., a Representative from Michigan; born at Long Hill, Morris County, N. J., June 6, 1808; attended the public schools; moved to Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1830, and later, in 1835, to Jackson, Mich., where he engaged in mercantile pursuits; postmaster of Jackson from 1836 to 1846; member of the State senate 1837 and 1838; established an iron foundry at Jackson in 1840; served in the State house of representatives in 1842; State treasurer of Michigan from March 17, 1846 to March 13, 1850; engaged in banking at Jackson in 1851; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, to May 15, 1860, when he was succeeded by William A. Howard, who successfully contested the election; returned to New Jersey, and died in New Bedford, Wall Township, Monmouth County, August 29, 1866; interment probably at Shark River, N. J.

COOPER, George William, a Representative from Indiana; born near Columbus, Bartholomew County, Ind., May 21, 1851; attended the country schools, and was graduated in the academic and law courses from the Indiana University at Bloomington in 1872; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Columbus, Ind.; prosecuting attorney of Columbus in 1872; mayor of Columbus in 1877; city attorney of Columbus 1879-1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Columbus, Ind.; died in Chicago, Ill., November 27, 1899; interment in Garland Brook Cemetery, Columbus, Ind.

COOPER, Henry (brother of Edmund Cooper), a Senator from Tennessee; born in Columbia, Maury County, Tenn., August 22, 1827; attended Dixon Academy, Shelbyville, Tenn., and was graduated from Jackson (Tenn.) College in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and commenced practice in Shelbyville; member of the State house of representatives 1853-1860; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1860; appointed judge of the seventh judicial circuit of Tennessee in April, 1862, and resigned in January, 1866; chosen professor in the law school at Lebanon, Tenn., September 1, 1866; resigned in June, 1867, and moved to Nashville, where he resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate in 1869 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1877; was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; was killed by bandits in Tierra Blanca, Guadalupe y Calvo, Mexico, February 3, 1884, where he was engaged in mining operations; interment where he was killed.

COOPER, Henry Allen, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Spring Prairie, Walworth County, Wis., September 8, 1850; moved with his parents to Burlington, Wis., in 1851; attended the common schools; was graduated from the Burlington High School in June, 1869, from the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1878, and from the Union College of Law (then the legal department of Northwestern University and of the old University of Chicago) in 1875; was admitted to the bar and engaged in practice; elected district attorney of Racine County in November, 1880; moved to the city of Racine in January, 1881; reelected district attorney without opposition in 1882 and 1884; member of the State senate 1887-1889 and author of the bill which became the law first establishing the Australian secret ballot system in the State of Wisconsin; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884 and at Cleveland in 1894; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1906; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and to the twelve succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; again elected to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COOPER, James, a Representative and a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Frederick County, Md., May 8, 1810; pursued academic studies, and was graduated from Washington (now Washington and Jefferson) College, Washington, Pa., in 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and commenced practice in Gettysburg, Pa.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1848); member of the State house of representatives in 1843, 1844, 1846, and 1848, and served as speaker one term; moved to Pottsville, Pa.; attorney general of Pennsylvania in 1848; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1855; moved to Philadelphia; authorized by President Lincoln to raise a brigade of loyal Marylanders, and commissioned brigadier general May 7, 1861; served in West Virginia under General Fremont; appointed commandant at Camp Chase, near Columbus, Ohio, and died there March 28, 1863; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Frederick, Md.

COOPER, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born near Woodbury, Gloucester County, N. J., February 5, 1729; received a liberal education; member of the committee on correspondence for Gloucester County in 1774; member of the Provincial Congress in 1775 and 1776 and served on the committee that drafted the first constitution of New Jersey; appointed by the Provincial Congress treasurer of the western division of New Jersey and served from October 28, 1775, to August 31, 1776; served on the legislative council from Gloucester County 1776-1780 and 1784; Member of the Continental Congress and served from February 14 to June 22, 1776; member of the State council of safety in 1778; elected judge of the pleas for Gloucester County courts on December 25, 1779; reelected in 1784, and served until his death in Woodbury, N. J., April 1, 1785; interment in the Quaker Cemetery.

COOPER, John Gordon, a Representative from Ohio; born in Wigan, England, April 27, 1872; emigrated to the United States in 1880 with his parents, who settled in Youngstown, Ohio; attended the public schools; began work in the steel mills in 1885; in 1896 entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. as fireman and was afterwards advanced to engineer; member of the Republican county committee in 1906; delegate to the Republican State convention in 1910; member of the State house of representatives 1910-1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COOPER, Mark Anthony (cousin of Eugenius Aristides Nibbet), a Representative from Georgia; born near Powellton, Hancock County, Ga., April 20, 1800; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and commenced practice in Eatonton, Putnam County, Ga.; moved to Columbus, Ga.; served in the campaign against the Seminole Indians in Florida in 1825, and again in 1836; member of the State house of representatives in 1833; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful can-candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William C. Dawson; reelected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress, and served from January 3, 1842, to June 23, 1843, when he resigned to become a candidate for governor, but was unsuccessful; president of the Etowah Manufacturing & Mining Co. of Etowah, Ga., in 1859; died at his home, "Glen Holly," near Cartersville, Bartow County, Ga., March 17, 1885; interment on his estate.

COOPER, Richard Matlack, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Gloucester County, N. J., February 29, 1786; completed a preparatory course of studies; engaged in banking; coroner 1795-1799; judge and justice of Gloucester County courts 1803-1823; member of the State general assembly 1807-1810; president of the State Bank of New Jersey at Camden 1813-1842; elected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); declined to be a candidate for reelection; died in Camden, N. J., March 10, 1843; interment in the Newton Burying Ground.

COOPER, Samuel Bronson, a Representative from Texas; born near Eddyville, Caldwell County, Ky., May 30, 1850; moved with his parents to Texas the same year and located in Woodville, Tyler County; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1871, and commenced practice in Woodville in January, 1872; prosecuting attorney of Tyler County 1876-1880; member of the State senate 1880-1884; appointed collector of internal revenue for the first district of Texas by President Cleveland in 1885, and served until 1888; unsuccessful candidate for district judge in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-ninth Congress; again elected to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Sixty-first Congress; appointed a member of the United States Board of General Appraisers at the port of New York City by President Taft in 1910; died in New York City August 21, 1918; interment in Magnolia Cemetery, Beaumont, Jefferson County, Tex.

COOPER, Thomas, a Representative from Delaware; born in Little Creek Hundred, Sussex County, Del., in 1764; completed preparatory studies; member of the State house of representatives 1803-1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1805, and practiced; served in the State senate in 1808; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of law in Georgetown, Del., where he died in 1829; interment in the Cooper family cemetery near Laurel, Del.

COOPER, Thomas Buchecker, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Coopersburg, Pa., December 29, 1823; attended the public schools and Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, in 1843 and commenced practice in Coopersburg; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1861, until his death in Coopersburg, Pa., April 4, 1862; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

COOPER, William, a Representative from New York; born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 2, 1754; moved to Burlington, N. J., in 1780; founded Cooperstown, Otsego County, N. Y., in 1780; appointed first judge of the court of common pleas for Otsego County on February 17, 1791; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth Congress (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1797); again elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); died in Albany, N. Y., December 22, 1809; interment in Christ Churchyard, Cooperstown, N. Y.

COOPER, William Craig, a Representative from Ohio; born in Mount Vernon, Ohio, December 18, 1832; attended the public schools and Mount Vernon Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced; prosecuting attorney of Knox County 1859-1863; mayor of Mount Vernon 1862-1864; member of the State house of representatives 1872-1874; judge advocate general of Ohio 1879-1884; member of the Board of Education of Mount Vernon and president of the board; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); died in Mount Vernon, Ohio, August 29, 1902; interment in Mound View Cemetery.

COOPER, William Raworth, a Representative from New Jersey; born near Bridgeport, Gloucester County, N. J., February 20, 1793; attended the local schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State general assembly 1839-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); resumed agricultural pursuits until his death near Bridgeport, Woolwich Township, N. J., September 22, 1856; interment in the Cooper family burying ground near Bridgeport, N. J.

COPELAND, Royal Samuel, a Senator from New York; born in Dexter, Washtenaw County, Mich., November 7, 1868; attended the public schools and the Michigan State Normal School, Ypsilanti, Mich.; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1889; took postgraduate courses in Europe; was house surgeon in the University of Michigan Hospital in 1889 and 1890; practiced medicine in Bay City, Mich., 1890-1895; professor in the medical school of the University of Michigan 1895-1908; during his residence in Ann Arbor, Mich., was mayor 1901-1903, president of the board of education, president of the park board 1905-6, and a member of the Michigan State tuberculosis board of trustees and of the United States pension examining board; moved to New York City in 1908; dean of the New York Flower Hospital Medical College 1908-1918; commissioner of public health and president of the New York Board of Health 1918-1923; author of several scientific works; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1922 for the term commencing March 4, 1923, and ending March 3, 1929.

COOPLY, Ira Clifton (nephew of Richard Henry Whiting), a Representative from Illinois; born near Galesburg, Knox County, Ill., October 25, 1864; moved with his parents to Aurora, Ill., in 1867; attended the public schools and Jennings Seminary at Aurora; was graduated from Yale University in 1887 and from the Union College of Law at Chicago in 1889; became connected with the gas and electric business in Aurora, Ill., in 1889; owner and publisher of the Beacon-News at Aurora in 1905, the Courier-News at Elgin in 1908, and the Herald-News at Joliet in 1913; elected as a Republican (Progressive) to the Sixty-second and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for renomination in 1922; continued the development and publishing of daily newspapers, acquiring the Illinois State Journal at Springfield, the Union and the Tribune at San Diego, Calif., and fifteen other dailies in southern California, including the News-Press at Glendale, the News at Hollywood, and the News-Pilot at San Pedro; is a resident of Aurora, Ill.

CORBETT, Henry Winslow, a Senator from Oregon; born in Westboro, Mass., February 18, 1827; moved with his parents to White Creek, Washington County, N. Y., in 1831; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Cambridge, N. Y., in 1840 and attended Cambridge Academy; moved to New York City in 1843, and was employed in mercantile business there until 1851; went with a stock of goods around Cape Horn to Portland, Oreg., in 1851, and engaged in a general merchandising business, later changing to wholesale hardware; became largely interested in banking and investments; city treasurer, member of the city council, and chairman of the Republican State central committee; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; elected as a Union Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1867, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for reelection in 1873; resumed business interests; appointed to the United States Senate March 6, 1897, to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1897, the legislature having failed to elect, but was not permitted to qualify; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1901; died in Portland, Oreg., March 31, 1903; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

CORKER, Stephen Alfestus, a Representative from Georgia; born near Waynesboro, Burke County, Ga., May 7, 1830; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Waynesboro, Ga.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1861, and served as captain of Company A, Third Georgia Regiment; resumed the practice of law in Waynesboro, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the House declaring Charles H. Prince not entitled to the seat, and served from December 22, 1870, to March 3, 1871; resumed the practice of law in Waynesboro, Ga., and died there October 18, 1879; interment in the Old Cemetery, Waynesboro, Ga.

CORLETT, William Wellington, a Delegate from the Territory of Wyoming; born in Concord, Ohio, April 10, 1842; attended the district schools, and was graduated from the Willoughby (Ohio) Collegiate Institute in 1861; enlisted in the Union Army in 1862, and served in the Twenty-eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry a short time; was transferred to the Eighty-seventh Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry and was captured with the command at Harpers Ferry September 15, 1862; paroled, and returned to Ohio, where he taught school in Kirkland and Painesville; reentered the Army with the Twenty-fifth Ohio Battery, was later placed on detached service with the Third Iowa Battery, and served until the close of the Civil War; returned to Ohio in 1865; attended the law school of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and was graduated from Union Law College, Cleveland, Ohio, in July, 1866; was admitted to the bar the same year; professor in elementary law at the State University and Law College and lecturer at several commercial colleges in Cleveland; settled in Cheyenne, Wyo., August 20, 1867, and engaged in the practice of law; unsuccessful Republican candidate for Delegate to the Forty-first Congress in 1869; postmaster of Cheyenne in 1870; member of the Territorial senate in 1871; prosecuting attorney of Laramie County 1872-1876; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law; declined the appointment of chief justice of Wyoming Territory in 1879; member of the legislative council 1880-1882; died in Cheyenne, Wyo., July 22, 1890; interment in Lakeview Cemetery.

CORLEY, Manuel Simeon, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Lexington County, S. C., February 10, 1823; was a student in Lexington Academy four years; engaged in business in 1838; opposed the first attempt at secession of South Carolina in 1852, when an effort was made to expel him from the State; editor of the South Carolina Temperance Standard in 1855 and 1856; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in 1863; captured by the National troops at Petersburg, Va., April 2, 1865; took the oath of allegiance June 5, 1865; delegate to the constitutional convention of South Carolina in 1867; upon the readmission of South Carolina to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 25, 1868, to March 3, 1869; special agent of the United States Treasury in 1869; commissioner of agricultural statistics of South Carolina in 1870; treasurer of Lexington County in 1874; died in Lexington, S. C., November 20, 1902; interment in St. Stephen's Lutheran Cemetery.

CORLISS, John Blaisdell, a Representative from Michigan; born in Richford, Vt., June 7, 1851; was graduated from the Vermont Methodist University in 1871 and from the law department of Columbian College (now George Washington University), Washington, D. C., in 1875; settled in Detroit, Mich., in 1875; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in that city; city attorney of Detroit, 1882-1886; prepared the first complete charter for Detroit, which was passed by the legislature in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; served three years as a member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association; member of the board of governors of the American Bar Journal; resumed the practice of law in Detroit, Mich., where he resides.

CORNELL, Ezekiel, a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Scituate, R. I., in 1732; attended the public schools; employed as a mechanic; appointed lieutenant colonel in Hitchcock's Rhode Island Regiment in 1775; was present at the siege of Boston; became deputy adjutant general on October 1, 1776; appointed brigadier general of State troops in 1776, and served until March 16, 1780; Member of the Continental Congress 1780-1783; retired to his farm at Scituate; died in Milford, Mass., April 25, 1800.

CORNELL, Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in White Plains, N. Y., January 27, 1814; attended the public schools; engaged in steamboat transportation business between Rondout and New York City in 1843, also in the railroad business and banking; commissioned major in the New York Militia during the Civil War; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress; again elected to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; resumed the transportation business and banking in Kingston, N. Y.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Harrison and Morton in 1888; died in Kingston, N. Y., March 30, 1890; interment in Montrepose Cemetery.

CORNING, Erastus (grandfather of Parker Corning), a Representative from New York; born in Norwich, Conn., December 14, 1794; moved to Troy, N. Y., and thence, in 1814, to Albany, where he established himself in iron manufacturing; served in the State senate 1842-1845; alderman of Albany; mayor 1834-1837; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1860); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-sixth Congress; member of the peace conference of 1861; elected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1861, to October 5, 1863, when he resigned; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1867; died in Albany, N. Y., April 9, 1872; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

CORNING, Parker (grandson of Erastus Corning), a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., January 22, 1874; attended the public schools, the Boys' Academy in Albany, and St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.; was graduated from Yale University in 1895; engaged in the manufacture of steel and woollens; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CORNISH, Johnston, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Bethlehem Township, Hunterdon County, N. J., June 18, 1858; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Washington, N. J., in 1870; was graduated from the Easton (Pa.) Business College; engaged in the manufacture of pianos and organs; elected mayor of Washington, N. J., in 1884, and reelected in 1885 and 1886; declined a renomination in 1887 and in 1888; member of the State senate 1891-1893; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894; again a member of the State senate 1900-1902 and 1906-1911; president of the Cornish Piano Co. in 1910; member of the Democratic State Committee; president of the First National Bank, the Washington Water Co., the Warren County Bankers' Association, and the Washington Cemetery Association at the time of his death in Washington, N. J., June 26, 1920; interment in the Cornish family plot in Washington Cemetery.

CORWIN, Franklin (nephew of Moses Bledso Corwin and Thomas Corwin), a Representative from Illinois; born in Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio, January 12, 1818; attended private schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1839, and practiced in Wilmington, Ohio; member of the Ohio House of Representatives in 1846 and 1847; served in the State senate 1847-1849; moved to Peru, La Salle County, Ill., in 1857; member of the Illinois House of Representatives, and served as speaker; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Peru, Ill., where he died June 15, 1879.

CORWIN, Moses Bledso (brother of Thomas Corwin and uncle of Franklin Corwin), a Representative from Ohio; born in Bourbon County, Ky., January 5, 1790; spent the early part of his life on a farm; attended the rural schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and commenced practice in Urbana, Champaign County, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1839; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); again elected to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); engaged in the practice of law until his death in Urbana, Ohio, April 7, 1872; interment in Oak Dale Cemetery.

CORWIN, Thomas (brother of Moses Bledso Corwin and uncle of Franklin Corwin), a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Bourbon County, Ky., July 29, 1794; moved with his parents to Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio, in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1817 and commenced practice in Lebanon, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Warren County 1818-1828; member of the State house of representatives in 1822, 1823, and again in 1829; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1831, until his resignation, effective May 30, 1840, having become a candidate for governor; Governor of Ohio 1840-1842; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1842 and declined to be a candidate for the nomination in 1844; president of the Ohio Whig convention in 1844; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1845, to July 20, 1850, when he resigned to enter the Cabinet; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Fillmore and served in that capacity from July 23, 1850, to March 7, 1853; again elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1859, to March 12, 1861, when he again resigned to enter the Diplomatic Service; appointed by President Lincoln United States minister to Mexico, and served from March 22, 1861, until September 1, 1864, when he resigned; settled in Washington, D. C., and practiced law until his death, December 18, 1865; interment in the Lebanon Cemetery, Lebanon, Ohio.

COSDEN, Jeremiah, a Representative from Maryland; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1821, to March 19, 1822, when he was succeeded by Philip Reed, who contested his election.

'COSGROVE, John, a Representative from Missouri; born near Alexandria Bay, Jefferson County, N. Y., September 12, 1839; attended the district schools and the Redwood (N. Y.) School; studied law in Watertown, was admitted to the bar in October, 1863, and commenced practice in New York; moved to Boonville, Mo., in 1865 and continued the practice of law; city attorney of Boonville in 1870 and 1871; elected prosecuting attorney of Cooper County in 1872; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872 and at San Francisco in 1920; again city attorney of Boonville from April, 1877, to April, 1878, and from April, 1879, to April, 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); was renominated in 1884, but withdrew before election day; resumed the practice of law in Boonville, Mo., where his death occurred on August 15, 1925; interment in Walnut Grove Cemetery.

COSTELLO, Peter Edward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Boston, Mass., June 27, 1854; attended the public schools of Boston; moved to Philadelphia in 1877; engaged in various manufacturing industries, also general construction work and real estate development; member of the Common Council of Philadelphia 1895-1903; director of the department of public works of the city of Philadelphia 1903-1905; again a member of the common council 1908-1915; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); was not a candidate for renomination in 1920; engaged in the real-estate and investment brokerage business, and is a resident of Philadelphia, Pa.

COTHRAN, James Sproull, a Representative from South Carolina; born near Abbeville, Abbeville County, S. C., August 8, 1830; attended the country schools; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1852; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Abbeville, S. C.; entered the Confederate service as a private at the beginning of the Civil War and was with his company at the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia at Appomattox.

tox, having attained the rank of captain; resumed the practice of law in Abbeville; elected solicitor of the eighth judicial circuit in 1876 and 1880; appointed to the judgeship of that circuit to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Judge Thomson in 1881; elected by the legislature to the same office the following winter, and reelected in 1885; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; again resumed the practice of law in Abbeville and Greenville, S. C.; died in a sanitarium in New York City, whither he had gone for treatment, on December 5, 1897; interment in Upper Long Cane Cemetery, Abbeville, S. C.

COTTMAN, Joseph Stewart, a Representative from Maryland; born near Allen, Somerset (now Wicomico) County, Md., August 16, 1808; completed preparatory studies; attended Princeton College in 1821 and Yale College in 1822 and 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Princess Anne, Md.; member of the State house of delegates in 1831, 1832, and again in 1839; served in the State senate in 1837; presidential elector on the Taylor and Fillmore ticket in 1848; elected as an Independent Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law; also engaged in agricultural and literary pursuits; died on his farm, "Mortherton," near Allen, Wicomico County, Md., January 28, 1863; interment in St. Andrew's Episcopal Churchyard, Princess Anne, Md.

COTTON, Aylett Rains, a Representative from Iowa; born in Austintown, Ohio, November 29, 1823; attended the local public schools and Cottage Hill Academy, Ellsworth, Ohio, in 1842 and 1843; taught school; moved to Iowa with his father, who settled near Dewitt, Clinton County, in 1844; attended Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in 1845; taught school at Union Academy, Fayette County, Tenn., 1845-1847; returned to Iowa in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the Clinton County bar in 1848, and practiced; went to California in 1849 and engaged in mining on the Feather River; returned to Iowa in 1851 and settled in Lyons; county judge of Clinton County 1851-1853; prosecuting attorney of Clinton County in 1854; mayor of Lyons 1855-1857; member of the State constitutional convention in 1857; member of the State house of representatives 1868-1870, and served as speaker during the last term; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; returned to California in 1883 and engaged in the practice of law in San Francisco, Calif., where he died October 30, 1912; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, San Mateo County, Calif.

COTTRELL, James La Fayette, a Representative from Alabama; born near King William, King William County, Va., August 25, 1808; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Hayneville, Ala.; member of the Alabama House of Representatives in 1834, 1836, and 1837; served in the State senate 1838-1841, and was president of that body in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William L. Yancey, and served from December 7, 1846, to March 3, 1847; was nominated on the Cass electoral ticket in 1848, but resigned; moved to Florida in 1854; served in the Florida Senate 1855-1856; appointed collector of customs at Cedar Keys, Levy County, Fla., and served until his death in that city September 7, 1885; interment in the Old Town Cemetery, Old Town, Dixie County, Fla.

COUDREY, Harry Marcy, a Representative from Missouri; born in Brunswick, Charlton County, Mo., February 28, 1867; moved with his parents to St. Louis, Mo., in 1878; attended the public schools of Brunswick and St. Louis, and was graduated from the Manual Training School at St. Louis in 1886; elected a member of the Municipal House of Delegates of St. Louis and served from 1897 to 1899, inclusive; became interested in various business enterprises in St. Louis; successfully contested as a Republican the election of Ernest E. Wood to the Fifty-ninth Congress; reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from June 23, 1906, to March 3, 1911; was not a candidate for renomination in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; moved to New York City in 1911; engaged in the real-estate, insurance, and publishing business, and is a resident of New York City.

COUGHLIN, Clarence Dennis, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kingston, Luzerne County, Pa., July 27, 1883; attended the public schools of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Wesleyan College, Middletown, Conn., and Harvard College; taught in the Wilkes-Barre High School 1900-1910; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1910, and practiced law in Luzerne County 1910-1920; engaged in manufacturing, banking, and the development of real estate in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton; member of the committee of public safety of the State and county in 1918; served six years as a member of the commission to revise the penal code of Pennsylvania; chairman of the Republican county committee of Luzerne County 1915-1917; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; appointed judge of the court of common pleas of Luzerne County October 6, 1925, to fill an unexpired term caused by the death of Judge Woodward; elected in November, 1927, for a ten-year term; is a resident of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

COULTER, Richard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Westmoreland County, Pa., in March, 1788; attended Jefferson College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1811, and commenced the practice of his profession in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1820; elected as an Independent to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses and as a Democrat to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1834 to the Twenty-fourth Congress; elected judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and served from 1846 until his death on April 21, 1862, in Greensburg, Pa.; interment in St. Clair Cemetery.

COUSINS, Robert Gordon, a Representative from Iowa; born at "Indian Lodge," Cedar County, Iowa, January 31, 1859; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, in 1881; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and engaged in practice in Tipton, Iowa; member of the State house of representatives in 1886; elected by the State house of representatives as one of the managers to conduct the impeachment proceedings of John L. Brown before the State senate in 1886; prosecuting attorney of Cedar County 1888-1890; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Harrison and Morton in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1909); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1908; resumed the practice of law, and is also a Chautauqua lecturer, with residence in Tipton, Cedar County, Iowa.

COUZENS, James, a Senator from Michigan; born in Chatham, Province of Ontario, Canada, August 26, 1872; attended the public schools; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1890; became interested in the manufacture of automobiles in 1903; president of the Bank of Detroit; director of the Detroit Trust Co.; commissioner of the street railways 1913-1915; commissioner of the metropolitan police department 1916-1918; mayor of Detroit 1919-1922; during the World War served as chairman for Wayne County of the United States Fuel Administration; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate on November 29, 1922, and subsequently elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Truman H. Newberry; reelected in 1924 for the term ending March 3, 1931.

COVERT, James Way, a Representative from New York; born at Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. Y., September 2, 1842; attended the public schools and received an academic education in Locust Valley, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and commenced practice in Flushing, Long Island, N. Y.; district school commissioner 1867-1870; assistant prosecuting attorney of Queens County; surrogate of Queens County 1870-1874; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); member of the State senate in 1882 and 1883; elected to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1896 and resumed the practice of law; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 16, 1910; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Maspeth, N. Y.

COVINGTON, George Washington, a Representative from Maryland; born in Berlin, Worcester County, Md., September 12, 1838; attended the common schools, Buckingham Academy, and the law school of Harvard University; was admitted to the bar in 1861 and practiced in Berlin and Snow Hill, Md.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for re-nomination in 1884; resumed the practice of law in Snow Hill, Worcester County, Md.; died in New York City April 6, 1911; interment in All Hallows Cemetery, Snow Hill, Md.

COVINGTON, James Harry, a Representative from Maryland; born in Easton, Talbot County, Md., May 3, 1870; received an academic training in the public schools of Talbot County and the Maryland Military Academy at Oxford; entered the law department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1891, attending at the same time special lectures in history, literature, and economics, and was graduated from that institution in 1894; commenced the practice of law in Easton, Md.; unsuccessful Democratic nominee for the State senate in 1901; State's attorney for Talbot County 1903-1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first, Sixty-second, and Sixty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, until his resignation on September 30, 1914, to accept a judicial position; chief justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia from October 1, 1914, to June 1, 1918, when he resigned; professor of law in Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., 1914-1919; appointed by President Wilson a member of the United States Railroad Commission in January, 1918; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.

COVINGTON, Leonard, a Representative from Maryland; born in Aquasco, Md., October 30, 1768; received a liberal schooling; entered the United States Army as a cornet of Cavalry March 14, 1792; commissioned Lieutenant of Dragoons by General Washington in 1798, and joined the Army under General Wayne; distinguished himself at Fort Recovery and the Battle of Miami, and was mentioned in the official report of General Wayne; promoted to a captaincy, and resigned September 12, 1793; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of delegates for many years; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807); appointed by President Jefferson lieutenant colonel of Light Dragoons January 9, 1809, and colonel February 15, 1809; was in command at Fort Adams on the Mississippi in 1810 and took possession of Baton Rouge and a portion of west Florida; was ordered to the northern frontier in 1813, and appointed brigadier general by President Madison August 1, 1813; mortally wounded at the Battle of Chryslers Field November 11, 1813, and died at Frenchs Mills, N. Y., on November 14, 1813; remains were removed to Sackets Harbor, Jefferson County, N. Y., August 13, 1820; place of burial now known as Mount Covington.

COVODE, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near West Fairfield, Westmoreland County, Pa., March 18, 1808; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits, manufacturing, and transportation; largely interested in the coal trade; elected as an Anti-Masonic Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1863); delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; elected to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); contested with Henry D. Foster the election to the Forty-first Congress, neither being sworn pending the contest, as no credentials were issued by the governor; on February 9, 1870, the House declared him duly elected, whereupon he qualified and served until his death; was not a candidate for reelection in 1870; died in Harrisburg, Pa., January 11, 1871; interment in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery, West Fairfield, Pa.

COWAN, Edgar, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Westmoreland County, Pa., September 19, 1815; was graduated from Franklin College, Ohio, in 1839; by turn became a raftsmen, boat builder, schoolmaster, and a student of medicine; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pa., in 1842; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1861, to March 3, 1867; he disagreed with his party on the reconstruction policy, and was the unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Senate; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1868; appointed by President Johnson minister to Austria in January, 1867, but was not confirmed by the Senate; resumed the practice of law; died in Greensburg, Pa., August 29, 1885; interment in St. Clair Cemetery.

COWAN, Jacob Pitzer, a Representative from Ohio; born in Florence, Washington County, Pa., March 20, 1823; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Steubenville, Ohio, in 1835; engaged in the manufacture of woollens until 1843; studied medicine; moved to Ashland County, Ohio, in 1846, where he commenced the practice of his profession; was graduated from Starling Medical College, Columbus, Ohio, March 6, 1855; member of the State house of representatives 1855-1857; resumed the practice of medicine in 1859; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for re-nomination in 1876; again engaged in the practice of medicine in Ashland, Ashland County, Ohio, where he died July 9, 1895; interment in Ashland Cemetery.

COWEN, Benjamin Sprague, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington County, N. Y., September 27, 1798; attended the common schools; studied medicine; served in the War of 1812 as a private; moved to Moorefield, Ohio, in 1820, where he practiced medicine and studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1829 and commenced practice in St. Clairsville, Ohio; edited the Belmont Chronicle 1836-1840; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Harrisburg, Pa., in 1839; elected as an antislavery Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); member of the State house of representatives in 1845 and 1846; presiding judge of the court of common pleas in 1847; died in St. Clairsville, Belmont County, Ohio, September 27, 1900.

COWEN, John Kissig, a Representative from Maryland; born near Millersburg, Holmes County, Ohio, October 23, 1844; attended the public schools and the local academies at Fredericksburg and Hayessville, Ohio; was graduated from Princeton College in 1866 and from the law department of the Michigan University at Ann Arbor; was admitted to the bar of Ohio in 1868 and commenced practice in Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Holmes County; moved to Baltimore, Md., in February, 1872, and was appointed counsel of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; from 1876 to 1896 was general counsel of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. from January, 1896, to June, 1901; died in Chicago, Ill., April 26, 1904; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Millersburg, Holmes County, Ohio.

COWGILL, Calvin, a Representative from Indiana; born in Clinton County, Ohio, January 7, 1819; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Indiana in 1836; studied law in Winchester, Randolph County; moved to Wabash County, Ind., in 1846; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Wabash; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and again during the special session of 1865; treasurer of Wabash County 1855-1859; during the Civil War was provost marshal of the eleventh district of Indiana 1862-1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in Wabash, Wabash County, Ind., where he died February 10, 1903; interment in Falls Cemetery.

COWHERD, William Strother, a Representative from Missouri; born near Lees Summit, Jackson County, Mo., September 1, 1800; attended the public schools in the town of Lees Summit, and was graduated from the literary department of the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1881 and from the law department of the same institution in 1882; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Kansas City, Mo.; appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of Jackson County in 1885, and served four years; appointed first assistant city counselor of Kansas City in 1890; mayor of Kansas City in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1904 to the Fifty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Kansas City, Mo.; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1909; moved to Pasadena, Los Angeles County, Calif., and continued the practice of his profession; died in Pasadena June 20, 1915; interment in Lees Summit Cemetery, near Lees Summit, Mo.

COWLES, Charles Holden (nephew of William Henry Harrison Cowles), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Charlotte, N. C., July 16, 1875; moved with his parents to Wilkesboro, Wilkes County, in December, 1885; attended private schools, Wilkesboro Academy, and completed a commercial college course; member of the Board of Aldermen of Wilkesboro in 1897 and again in 1914; deputy clerk of the United States court at Statesville and Charlotte 1890-1901; private secretary to Representative Edmond S. Blackburn 1901-1903; member of the State house of representatives 1904-1906 and 1920-1924; reelected in 1928; delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1904, 1908, 1912, and 1916; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; established and published the Wilkes Patriot, Wilkesboro, N. C., which he disposed of in 1919 to devote his time to other business interests; during the World War served as a member of the Wilkes County council of defense; is a resident of Wilkesboro, N. C.

COWLES, George Washington, a Representative from New York; born in Otisco, Onondaga County, N. Y., December 6, 1823; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1845; taught school until 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Clyde, N. Y.; judge of Wayne County court from January 1, 1864, to October 30, 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); was not a candidate for renomination in 1870; again judge of Wayne County court from January 1, 1874, to January 1, 1880, and from January 1, 1880, until his death in Clyde, N. Y., January 20, 1901; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery.

COWLES, Henry Booth, a Representative from New York; born in Hartford, Conn., March 18, 1798; moved with his father to Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1809; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Putnam County; member of the State assembly 1826-1828; elected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); moved to New York City in 1834, and practiced law until his death there on May 17, 1873; interment in Rhinebeck Cemetery, Rhinebeck, Dutchess County, N. Y.

COWLES, William Henry Harrison (uncle of Charles Holden Cowles), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Hamptonville, Yadkin County, N. C., April 22, 1840; attended the common schools and academies of his native county; during the Civil War entered the Confederate service as a private in Company A, First North Carolina Cavalry, and served from the spring of 1861 to the close of the war with the Army of Northern Virginia, holding successively the ranks of captain, major, and lieutenant colonel of his regiment; twice wounded severely; entered upon the study of law in Richmond Hill, Yadkin County, in 1866; obtained a county court license in January, 1867, and that of the superior court in January, 1868; moved to Wilkesboro, Wilkes County, where he commenced the practice of law; reading clerk of the State Senate of North Carolina 1872-1874; elected solicitor of the tenth judicial district in 1874 and served for four years; member of the Democratic State executive committee for eight years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; engaged in agricultural pursuits and also interested in other business activities; died in Wilkesboro, N. C., December 30, 1901; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

COX, Edward Eugene, a Representative from Georgia; born near Camilla, Mitchell County, Ga., April 8, 1880; attended the graded schools and Camilla High School; attended the academic department of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., for nearly four years, and was graduated from the law department of that institution in 1902; was admitted to the bar in the same year and commenced practice at Camilla, Ga.; mayor of Camilla 1904-1906; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; appointed and subsequently elected judge of the superior court of the Albany circuit and served from 1912 until he resigned in 1916, having become a candidate for Congress; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

COX, Isaac Newton, a Representative from New York; born in Fallsburg, Sullivan County, N. Y., August 1, 1846; moved to Ellenville in 1864 and engaged in the lumber business; supervisor of the town of Wawarsing in 1875 and 1883-1886, and served as chairman of the board during the last year; served four years on the Democratic State committee; delegate to Democratic State and local conventions; appointed by President Cleveland chairman of the commission to examine and report upon the condition of the Northern Pacific Railroad in 1886; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; appointed a member of the State commission on fisheries, and served from 1894 to 1899; engaged in mercantile pursuits, lumbering, and banking in Ellenville, Ulster County, N. Y., where he died September 28, 1916; interment in Fantinekill Cemetery.

COX, Jacob Dolson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Montreal, Canada, October 27, 1828; moved with his parents to New York City in 1829; attended private schools; moved to Lorain, Ohio, in 1846; was graduated from Oberlin (Ohio) College in 1851; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Warren, Trumbull County, Ohio; member of the State senate in 1860 and 1861; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as brigadier general of Ohio Volunteers April 23, 1861; commissioned major general of Volunteers October 6, 1862; resigned January 1, 1863, having been elected Governor of Ohio in October, 1865; served as governor 1866-1868; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and resumed the practice of law; Secretary of the Interior in the first Cabinet of President Grant, and served from March 5, 1869, to November 1, 1870, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Cincinnati; president of the Wabash Railroad 1873-1878; moved to Toledo, Ohio, in 1874; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1878; returned to Cincinnati in 1878; dean of the Cincinnati Law School 1881-1897; president of the University of Cincinnati 1885-1889; was an author and writer on Civil War subjects; died in Magnolia, near Gloucester, Mass., August 4, 1900; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

COX, James, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Monmouth, N. J., June 14, 1753; attended the public schools; commanded a company of militia at the Battles of Germantown and of Monmouth and attained the rank of brigadier general; member of the State general assembly 1801-1807, and served as speaker 1804-1807; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1809, until his death in Monmouth, N. J., September 12, 1810; interment in the Yellow Meeting House Cemetery, Upper Freehold Township, N. J.

COX, James Middleton, a Representative from Ohio; born near Jacksonburg, Butler County, Ohio, March 31, 1870; attended country schools and the high school in Amanda, Ohio; engaged in teaching; worked on a farm and also in the mechanical and editorial departments of a daily newspaper; became owner and publisher of the Dayton Daily News in 1898, the Springfield Daily News in 1908, and the Miami Metropolis and the Canton News in 1923; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1909, until January 12, 1913, when he resigned, having been elected governor; Governor of Ohio 1913-1915 and 1917-1921; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election as President of the United States in 1920; retired from political life and resides at "Trailsend," Dayton, Ohio.

COX, Leander Martin, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Cumberland County, Va., May 7, 1812; completed academic studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Flemingsburg, Fleming County, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives 1843-1845; captain in the Third Kentucky Volunteers in the Mexican War in 1847; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Scott and Graham in 1852; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress and by the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Flemingsburg, Ky., March 10, 1865; interment in Fleming County Cemetery.

COX, Nicholas Nichols, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford County, Tenn., January 6, 1837; moved with his parents to Seguin, Tex., in childhood; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Lebanon (Tenn.) Law School in 1858; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice at Linden, Tenn.; colonel in the Confederate Army during the Civil War and served during most of the time with General Forrest; settled in Franklin, Williamson County, Tenn.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Breckinridge and Lane in 1860 and of Greeley and Brown in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1901); resumed the practice of law in Franklin, Tenn., where he died May 2, 1912; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

COX, Samuel Sullivan, a Representative from Ohio and from New York; born in Zanesville, Muskingum County, Ohio, September 30, 1824; attended the Ohio University at Athens, and was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1846; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Zanesville in 1849; owner and editor of the Columbus (Ohio) Statesman in 1853 and 1854; appointed secretary of the legation at Lima, Peru, on February 19, 1855, and served until August 11, 1855, when he resigned; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1864 and at New York in 1868; elected as a Democrat from Ohio to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; moved to New York City on March 4, 1865, and resumed the practice of law; elected from New York to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans for reelection in 1872 as Representative at large to the Forty-third Congress; subsequently elected to the Forty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Brooks; reelected to the Forty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from November 4, 1873, to May 20, 1886, when he resigned, having accepted a diplomatic position; elected Speaker pro tempore of the House on February 17, May 12, and June 19, 1876, and appointed to that office on May 1 and June 7, 1876; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Turkey by President Cleveland, and served from May 21, 1885, to October 22, 1886, when he resigned; was again elected to the Forty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Pulitzer; reelected to the Fiftyeth and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from November 2, 1886, until his death in New York City September 10, 1889; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

COX, William Elijah, a Representative from Indiana; born near Birdseye, Dubois County, Ind., September 3, 1831; attended the common and high schools of Huntingburg and Jasper, Ind.; was graduated from Lebanon University, Tennessee, in 1858 and from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1859; was admitted to the bar July 10, 1859, and commenced practice at Rockport, Spencer County, Ind.; prosecuting attorney for the eleventh judicial district of Indiana 1862-1868; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Jasper, Dubois County, Ind.

COX, William Ruffin, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Scotland Neck, Halifax County, N. C., March 11, 1831; attended Vine Hill Academy in his native town; moved with his mother to Nashville, Tenn.; was graduated from Franklin College in 1851 and from the Lebanon College Law School in 1853; was admitted to the bar in 1853, and practiced in Nashville, Tenn., 1853-1857; returned to North Carolina in 1857 and engaged in agricultural pursuits in Edgecombe County; moved to Raleigh, N. C., in 1859; early in the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as major of the Second North Carolina State Troops; became brigadier general and commanded his brigade in the last charge at Appomattox; resumed the practice of law at Raleigh, N. C., in 1865; solicitor of the sixth district 1866-1870; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; judge of the superior court for the sixth district in 1877 and 1878, when he resigned; chairman of the Democratic State committee 1875-1877; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reappointment; elected Secretary of the United States Senate April 6, 1893, qualified August 7, 1893, and served until January 31, 1900; resumed agricultural pursuits, with residence at Penelo, Edgecombe County, N. C.; president of the State agricultural society in 1900 and 1901; member of the board of trustees of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.; died in Richmond, Va., December 26, 1919; interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Raleigh, N. C.

COXE, Tench, a Delegate from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 22, 1755; received a liberal schooling; engaged in mercantile pursuits; resigned from the Pennsylvania Militia in 1770, turned Loyalist, and joined the British Army under Howe in 1777; was arrested, paroled, joined the patriot cause, and began a long political career; commissioner to the Federal Convention at Annapolis in 1786; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; became a Federalist and was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury on September 11, 1789, and served until the office was abolished on May 8, 1792; was appointed revenue commissioner June 30, 1792, and served until removed by President Adams; joined the Democratic Party and was appointed by President Jefferson purveyor of public supplies and served from 1803 to 1812; was a writer on political and economic subjects; was called the father of the cotton industry in America; died in Philadelphia, Pa., July 17, 1824; interment in Christ Church Burying Ground.

COXE, William, Jr., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Burlington, N. J., May 3, 1782; member of the State general assembly 1796-1804, 1806-1809, and again in 1816 and 1817; served as speaker 1798-1800 and again in 1802; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); author; died in Burlington, Burlington County, N. J., February 25, 1881; interment in St. Mary's Churchyard.

COYLE, William Radford, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Washington, D. C., July 10, 1878; attended the public schools and Columbian College (now George Washington University), Washington, D. C., in 1896 and 1899; field assistant in the United States Geological Survey 1896-1899; attended the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., in 1900; served in the United States Marine Corps as second lieutenant, first lieutenant, and captain 1900-1906; attended the law department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, in 1906 and 1907; moved to Germantown, Pa., in 1906 and to Bethlehem, Pa., in 1908; school director of Bethlehem, Pa., 1912-1918; captain of the Fourth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, in 1913; during the World War was commissioned a captain in the United States Marine Corps in 1918, and later in the same year a major; president of the American Wholesale Coal Association in 1921 and 1922; trustee to settle the affairs of the Tidewater Coal Exchange 1922-1925; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926 to the Seventieth Congress; vice president of Weston Dodson & Co. (Inc.), and is a resident of Bethlehem, Northampton County, Pa.

CRABB, George Whitfield, a Representative from Alabama; born in Botetourt County, Va., February 22, 1804; attended the public schools; moved to Tuscaloosa, Ala.; elected assistant secretary of the State senate and comptroller of public accounts in 1829; served in the Florida Indian War of 1836 and was lieutenant colonel of the Alabama Volunteers; member of the State house of representatives in 1836 and 1837; served in the State senate in 1837 and 1838; major general of militia; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Joab Lawler; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from September 4, 1838, to March 3, 1841; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-seventh Congress; appointed judge of the county court of Mobile in 1840; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 15, 1846; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

CRABB, Jeremiah, a Representative from Maryland; born in Montgomery County, Md., in 1760; served in the Revolutionary War as second lieutenant in the First Maryland Regiment; promoted to the rank of first lieutenant on December 15, 1777, and served as such until April 1, 1778, when he resigned on account of ill health occasioned by the winter hardships endured at Valley Forge; was an extensive landowner in Montgomery County; served as general with Gen. Harry Lee in Pennsylvania during the whisky rebellion; elected as a Democrat to the Fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1795, until his resignation in 1796; returned to his home near Rockville, Montgomery County, Md., and died there in 1800; interment in the family burying ground near Derwood, Montgomery County, Md.

CRADLEBAUGH, John, a Delegate from the Territory of Nevada; born in Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio, February 22, 1819; attended the common schools, Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, and Oxford (Ohio) University; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1840; appointed United States associate justice for the district of Utah on June 4, 1858; moved to Carson City, Nev.; upon the formation of the Territory of Nevada was elected a Delegate to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and served from December 2, 1861, to March 3, 1863; served in the Union Army during the Civil War as colonel of the One hundred and fourteenth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry and served from April 27, 1862, until honorably discharged October 20, 1863, on tender of resignation; wounded at Vicksburg; returned to Nevada and settled in Eureka; engaged in the mining business until his death in Eureka, Nev., February 22, 1872; interment in Forest Cemetery, Circleville, Ohio.

CRAFTS, Samuel Chandler, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born in Woodstock, Conn., October 6, 1768; was graduated from Harvard College in 1790; moved in 1791 to Vermont with his father, who founded the town of Craftsbury; town clerk 1799-1829; was the youngest delegate in the Vermont constitutional convention of 1793; member of the State house of representatives in 1796, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, and 1805, and clerk of the house in 1798 and 1799; register of probate 1796-1815; assistant judge of the Orleans County court 1800-1810 and 1825-1828; made an extensive botanical reconnaissance of the Mississippi Valley in 1802; member of the State council 1809-1813; chief judge of the Orleans County court 1810-1816; elected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1825); again served as State councilor in 1825 and 1826; Governor of Vermont 1828-1831; member of the Vermont constitutional convention of 1829 and served as president; clerk of Orleans County 1836-1839; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Samuel Prentiss, and served from April 23, 1842, until March 3, 1843; retired to his farm in Craftsbury, Orleans County, Vt., where he died November 19, 1853; interment in North Craftsbury Cemetery, North Craftsbury, Vt.

CRAGIN, Aaron Harrison, a Representative and a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Weston, Windsor County, Vt., February 3, 1821; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Albany, N. Y., in 1847, and commenced practice in Lebanon, N. H.; member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives 1852-1855; elected by the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1859; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; elected by the American Party to the United States Senate; reelected, and served from March 4, 1865, to March 3, 1877; appointed by President Hayes one of the commissioners for the purchase of the Hot Springs Reservation in Arkansas and served as chairman 1877-1879; died in Washington, D. C., May 10, 1898; interment in the School Street Cemetery, Lebanon, N. H.

CRAGO, Thomas Spencer, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Carmichaels, Greene County, Pa., August 3, 1868; attended Greene Academy and Waynesburg College; was graduated from Princeton College in 1893; studied law, was admitted to the bar of Greene County in 1894, and commenced practice in Waynesburg, Pa.; served as captain of Company K in the Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry during the Spanish-American War and the Philippine insurrection; after the war helped to reorganize the Pennsylvania National Guard and was elected major and later lieutenant colonel of the Tenth Infantry; resigned his commission while in Congress but was later retired with the rank of colonel; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of McKinley and Roosevelt in 1900; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1914 and 1915; elected to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); was not a candidate for renomination in 1920, but was subsequently elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mahlon M. Garland, and served from September 20, 1921, to March 3, 1923; was not a candidate for renomination in 1922; appointed special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States on March 7, 1923, and assigned to the War Frauds Division, resigned August 15, 1924; member of the board of trustees of Waynesburg College and Waynesburg Hospital; vice president of the Union Deposit & Trust Co. of Waynesburg; died in Waynesburg, Pa., September 12, 1925; interment in Green Mount Cemetery.

CRAIG, Alexander Kerr, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Claysville, Buffalo Township, Washington County, Pa., February 21, 1828; attended the common schools and was educated by a private tutor; became a teacher at the age of sixteen; began the study of law, but through the force of adverse circumstances he abandoned his chosen profession and devoted himself to agricultural pursuits; taught school in winter months and subsequently became principal of the Claysville public schools; during the Civil War enlisted in February, 1865, in the Eighty-seventh Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry and was present at the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox; resumed agricultural pursuits near Claysville; school director and justice of the peace; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Andrew Stewart to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from February 28, 1892, until his death in Claysville, Pa., July 29, 1892; interment in the Claysville Cemetery.

CRAIG, George Henry, a Representative from Alabama; born in Cahaba, Dallas County, Ala., December 25, 1845; attended the Cahaba Academy; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a private in Colonel Byrd's regiment, Alabama Volunteers, at Mobile, in 1862; at the expiration of his term of enlistment attended the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa as a cadet in 1863; promoted to first lieutenant of Infantry, and in 1863 again entered the Confederate service and remained until the end of the war; resumed his studies at the University of Alabama in 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in December, 1867, and commenced practice in Selma, Ala.; elected solicitor of Dallas County in 1868; appointed sheriff of Dallas County in March, 1869; elected as judge of the criminal court of Dallas County in March, 1870; appointed by the governor in July, 1874, judge of the first judicial circuit to fill an unexpired term and was elected to this position on November 4, 1874, and served until 1880; resumed the practice of law in Selma, Ala.; successfully contested as a Republican the election of Charles M. Shelley to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from January 9, 1885, to March 3, 1885; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; appointed United States attorney for the middle and northern districts of Alabama by President Arthur; was appointed by President Cleveland a member of the Board of Visitors to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Selma, Ala., and died there January 26, 1923; interment in Live Oak Cemetery.

CRAIG, Hector, a Representative from New York; born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1775; emigrated to the United States and settled in Orange County, N. Y., in 1790; founded the town of Craigville, where he built a paper mill and grist and saw mills; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); elected to the Twenty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1829, to July 12, 1830, when he resigned; appointed surveyor of the port of New York by President Jackson in 1830; United States Commissioner of Insolvency in 1832; surveyor of customs in New York 1833-1839; died in Craigville, Orange County, N. Y., January 31, 1842; interment in a private cemetery on the Caldwell estate in Blooming Grove, N. Y.

CRAIG, James, a Representative from Missouri; born in Washington County, Pa., February 28, 1813; attended the public schools; moved to Mansfield, Ohio, in 1821; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in New Philadelphia, Ohio, in 1839; moved to St. Joseph, Mo., in 1844, where he commenced the practice of law; captain of a volunteer company in the Mexican War, and served until 1845; State's attorney for the twelfth judicial circuit 1852-1856; member of the State house of representatives in 1856 and 1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1860; resumed the practice of law; during the Civil War was commissioned brigadier general of Volunteers by President Lincoln March 21, 1862; was the first president of the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad and the first comptroller of the city of St. Joseph; negotiated the Platt purchase, which comprised all of northwest Missouri; died in St. Joseph, Mo., October 22, 1888; interment in Mount Mora Cemetery.

CRAIG, Robert, a Representative from Virginia; born near Christiansburg, Montgomery County, Va., in 1792; attended the rural schools, Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and was graduated from Lewisburg Academy in Greenbrier County; engaged in planting; served in the State house of delegates in 1817, 1818, and again in 1825-1829; member of the Virginia Board of Public Works 1820-1823; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1832 to the Twenty-third Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits; elected to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; moved to Roanoke County, Va., in 1842 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; again a member of the State house of delegates 1850-1852; died on his estate, "Green Hill," near Salem, Roanoke County, Va., November 25, 1852; interment in the family burying ground at "Green Hill."

CRAIG, Samuel Alfred, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Brookville, Jefferson County, Pa., November 19, 1839; attended the common schools of his native town and Washington and Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa.; learned the printer's trade and taught school; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army as a private April 19, 1861; promoted successively to second lieutenant, first lieutenant, and captain of Company B, One hundred and fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; was severely wounded three times; commissioned captain in the Veteran Reserve Corps, United States Army, and served continuously four years and three months; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and commenced practice in Brookville, Pa.; elected district attorney of Jefferson County in 1878; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of law in Brookville, Pa., where he died March 17, 1920; interment in the Brookville Cemetery.

CRAIG, William Benjamin, a Representative from Alabama; born in Selma, Dallas County, Ala., November 2, 1877; attended the public and high schools of Selma and was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar in 1898 and commenced practice in Selma, Ala.; served an apprenticeship as a machinist in the shops of the Southern Railway at Selma from 1898 to 1897; served in the Alabama National Guard as a private, noncommissioned officer, and captain; member of the State senate 1903-1907; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1910; resumed the practice of law in Selma, Ala.; president of the Dallas County Bar Association in 1923; died in Selma, Ala., November 27, 1925; interment in Live Oak Cemetery.

CRAIGE, Francis Burton, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Salisbury, Rowan County, N. C., March 13, 1811; attended a private school in Salisbury, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1829; editor and proprietor of the Western Carolinian 1829-1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Salisbury; one of the last borough representatives in the State house of representatives 1832-1834; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1861); delegate to the State secession convention in 1861 and introduced the ordinance of secession in the form in which it was adopted; delegate to the Provisional Congress of the Confederate States which met in Richmond, Va., in July, 1861; died in Concord, Cabarrus County, N. C., while attending the courts of that county, December 30, 1875; interment in the Old English Cemetery, Salisbury, N. C.

CRAIK, William, a Representative from Maryland; born near Port Tobacco, Md., October 31, 1761; attended Delamere School in Frederick County; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Port Tobacco and Leonardtown; moved to Baltimore; appointed chief justice of the fifth judicial district of Maryland January 13, 1793, and served until his resignation in 1796; elected to the Fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jeremiah Crabb; reelected to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses, and served from December 5, 1796, to March 3, 1801; again appointed chief justice of the fifth judicial district of Maryland and served from October 20, 1801, to January 28, 1802; resided in Frederick; died prior to 1814.

CRAIN, William Henry, a Representative from Texas; born in Galveston, Tex., November 25, 1848; attended the Christian Brothers' School, New York City, until the age of fourteen, and was graduated from St. Francis Xavier's College, New York City, in 1867; returned to Texas and lived on a ranch for two years; studied law in Indiana, Tex., while teaching school; was admitted to the bar in 1871 and commenced practice in Indiana, Tex.; member of the State senate 1876-1878; district attorney of the twenty-third judicial district of Texas 1873-1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 10, 1896; interment in the Hillside Cemetery, Cuero, De Witt County, Tex.

CRAMER, John, a Representative from New York; born in Waterford, N. Y., May 17, 1779; attended the rural schools and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1801; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Waterford, N. Y.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jefferson and Clinton in 1804; appointed a master in chancery in 1805; member of the State assembly in 1806 and 1811; served in the State senate 1823-1825; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); again a member of the State assembly in 1842; died in Waterford, Saratoga County, N. Y., June 1, 1870; interment in the Waterford Rural Cemetery.

CRAMTON, Louis Convers, a Representative from Michigan; born in Hadley Township, Lapeer County, Mich., December 2, 1875; attended the common schools of his county; was graduated from the Lapeer High School in 1893 and from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1899; was admitted to the bar in 1899, and commenced the practice of law in Lapeer, Mich.; discontinued the practice of his profession in 1905 and became the publisher of the Lapeer County Clarion 1905-1923; law clerk of the State senate three terms; deputy commissioner of railroads of Michigan in 1907; secretary of the Michigan Railroad Commission from September, 1907, to January 1, 1909; member of the State house of representatives in 1909 and 1910; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927.) Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

CRANE, Joseph Halsey (grandson of Stephen Crane), a Representative from Ohio; born in Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., August 31, 1782; was a student at Princeton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar of New Jersey in 1802, and practiced; moved to Dayton, Ohio, in 1804 and continued the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives in 1809; prosecuting attorney of Montgomery County 1813-1816; elected president judge of the court of common pleas in 1817; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1837); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1836; resumed the practice of his profession in Dayton; associate justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio at the time of his death in Dayton, Ohio, November 13, 1851; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

CRANE, Stephen (grandfather of Joseph Halsey Crane), a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., July, 1709; sheriff of Essex County under George the Third; was chosen by the Elizabethtown Associates to go to England and lay a petition before the King in 1743; member of the town committee in 1750; judge of the court of common pleas during the agitation over the stamp act; member of the State general assembly 1766-1773 and served as speaker in 1771; mayor of Elizabethtown 1772-1774; was appointed chairman of the county committee of New Brunswick in 1774; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1776; chairman of the town committee in 1776; member of the State council in 1776, 1777, and 1779; died in Elizabeth, N. J., July 1, 1780; interment in the First Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

CRANE, Winthrop Murray, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Dalton, Mass., April 23, 1853; attended the public schools of Dalton, Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham, Mass., and Williston Seminary, Easthampton, Mass.; engaged in the manufacture of paper at Dalton; delegate at large to the Republican National Conventions of 1892, 1896, 1904, 1908, 1916, and 1920; member of the Republican National Committee in 1892, 1896, 1904, and 1908; lieutenant governor of Massachusetts 1897-1899; governor 1900-1902; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Roosevelt in 1902, but declined; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George F. Hoar; reelected in 1907, and served from October 12, 1904, to March 3, 1918; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1912; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Dalton, Berkshire County, Mass., October 2, 1920; interment in the Dalton Cemetery.

CRANFORD, John Walter, a Representative from Texas; born near Grove Hill, Clarke County, Ala., in 1802; attended the common and high schools of Alabama and finished preparatory studies under a private tutor; moved to Texas about 1860 and settled at Sulphur Springs; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Texas; member of the State senate 1888-1896; elected president pro tempore of the twenty-second senate; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 3, 1899; interment in the City Cemetery, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

CRANSTON, Henry Young (brother of Robert Bennie Cranston), a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., October 9, 1789; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in New Bedford, Mass.; moved to Newport, R. I., in 1810, and engaged in the commission business until 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1819, and commenced practice in Newport; clerk of the court of common pleas 1818-1833; member of the State house of representatives 1827-1843; member and vice president of the convention that framed the State constitution in 1842; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); again a member of the State house of representatives 1847-1854, and served three years as speaker; died in Newport, R. I., February 12, 1864; interment in Island Cemetery.

CRANSTON, Robert Bennie (brother of Henry Young Cranston), a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., January 14, 1791; attended the public schools; employed in the collection of internal revenue 1812-1815; sheriff of Newport County 1818-1827; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); postmaster of Newport in 1827; member of the State house of representatives 1843-1847, and served one year as speaker; served in the State senate; elected as a Law and Order Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was elected the first mayor of Newport on June 9, 1853; resigned the same day; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; died in Newport, R. I., January 27, 1873; interment in the Common Burial Ground.

CRapo, William Wallace, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Dartmouth, Mass., May 18, 1830; moved with his parents to New Bedford, Mass., in 1832; attended private and public schools of New Bedford, and was graduated from the local high school in 1845; attended Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and later the Friends' Academy at New Bedford; was graduated from the latter institution in 1848 and from Yale College in 1852; studied law at Harvard Law School for one year, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in New Bedford; city solicitor of New Bedford 1855-1867; member of the State house of representatives in 1857; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Buffington; reelected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses, and served from November 2, 1875, to March 3, 1883; was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in banking and in the manufacture of fine cotton goods; member of the Republican National Committee in 1884; appointed by Governor Wolcott in 1897 a member of the commission to revise street railway regulations; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Roosevelt and Fairbanks in 1904; died in New Bedford, Mass., February 28, 1926; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

CRARY, Isaac Edwin, a Representative from Michigan; born in Preston, New London County, Conn., October 2, 1804; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., in its first class in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Marshall, Mich., in 1833; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1835; upon the admission of Michigan as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses, and served from January 26, 1837, to March 3, 1841; regent of Michigan University 1837-1844; founded the public-school system of Michigan; member of the State board of education 1850-1852; editor of the Marshall Exponent for several years; member of the State house of representatives 1842-1846, and speaker of the house in 1846; died in Marshall, Calhoun County, Mich., May 8, 1854; interment in Oakridge Cemetery.

CRAVENS, James Addison (second cousin of James Harrison Cravens), a Representative from Indiana; born in Rockingham County, Va., November 4, 1813; moved with his father to Indiana in 1820 and settled near Hardinsburg, Madison Township, Washington County; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock raising; served in the war with Mexico as major of the Second Indiana Volunteers in 1846 and 1847; member of the State house of representatives in 1848 and 1849; served in the State senate 1850-1853; commissioned brigadier general of militia in 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for renomination in 1864; delegate to the Union National Convention of Conservatives at Philadelphia in 1866 and to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Hardinsburg, Washington County, Ind., June 20, 1898; interment in the Hardin Cemetery.

CRAVENS, James Harrison (second cousin of James Addison Cravens), a Representative from Indiana; born in Harrisonburg, Rockingham County, Va., August 2, 1802; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Harrisonburg, Va.; moved to Franklin, Pa., in 1823 and resumed the practice of law; moved to Madison, Ind., in 1829 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1831 and 1832; moved to Ripley County, Ind., in 1833, where he practiced law and managed a farm; member of the State senate in 1839; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); unsuccessful candidate of the Free-Soll Party for Governor of Indiana in 1852; member of the State house of representatives in 1856; unsuccessful candidate for election to the attorney generalship of the State in 1856; lieutenant colonel of the Eighty-third Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry in the Civil War; during Morgan's raid in Indiana he and his soldiers were taken captive; died in Osgood, Ripley County, Ind., December 4, 1876; interment in the Versailles Cemetery, Versailles, Ind.

CRAVENS, Jordan Edgar, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Fredericktown, Madison County, Mo., November 7, 1830; moved with his father to Arkansas the following year; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Cane Hill Academy at Boonsboro (now Canehill), Washington County, Ark., in 1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Clarksville, Ark.; member of the State house of representatives in 1860; entered the Confederate Army in 1861 as a private, promoted to colonel in 1862, and continued in the service until the close of the Civil War; returned to Clarksville; prosecuting attorney of Johnson County in 1865 and 1866; member of the State senate 1866-1868; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Greeley and Brown in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Clarksville, Ark.; judge of the circuit court 1890-1894; died in Fort Smith, Ark., April 8, 1914; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Clarksville, Ark.

CRAVENS, William Ben, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Fort Smith, Sebastian County, Ark., January 17, 1872; attended the common schools, the Louisville (Ky.) Military Academy, and the Staunton (Va.) Military Academy; was graduated from the law department of the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1893; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Fort Smith, Ark.; city attorney of Fort Smith 1898-1902, prosecuting attorney for the twelfth judicial district of Arkansas 1902-1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1913); was not a candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Fort Smith, Ark.

CRAWFORD, Coe Isaac, a Senator from South Dakota; born near Volney, Allamakee County, Iowa, January 14, 1858; attended the common and graded schools and was instructed by a private tutor; was graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1882; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Independence, Iowa; moved to Pierre, Dak., in 1883 and continued the practice of law; prosecuting attorney of Hughes County in 1887 and 1888; member of the last Territorial council in 1889; upon the admission of South Dakota as a State into the Union was elected as a member of the first State senate; attorney general of South Dakota 1892-1896; unsuccessful Republican candidate in 1896 for Representative at large to the Fifty-fifth Congress; attorney for the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. for the State of South Dakota in 1897 and served until 1903, when he resigned; moved to Huron in 1897; president of the South Dakota State Bar Association in 1899; Governor of South Dakota in 1906 and 1907; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1909, to March 3, 1915; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1914; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Huron, S. Dak.

CRAWFORD, George Washington, a Representative from Georgia; born in Columbia County, Ga., December 22, 1796; was graduated from Princeton College in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and commenced practice in Augusta, Ga.; attorney general of the State 1827-1831; member of the State house of representatives 1837-1842; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Richard W. Habersham, and served from January 7, 1843, to March 3, 1843; Governor of Georgia 1843-1847; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Taylor, and served from March 8, 1849, to July 23, 1850; presided over the State secession convention in 1861; died on his estate, "Bel Air," near Augusta, Ga., July 22, 1872; interment in Summerville Cemetery.

CRAWFORD, Joel, a Representative from Georgia; born in Columbia County, Ga., June 15, 1763; completed preparatory studies; studied law at the Litchfield Law School, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Sparta in 1808; moved to Milledgeville, Ga., in 1811; served in the war against the Creek Indians as second lieutenant and aide-de-camp to Brigadier General Floyd in 1813 and 1814; resumed the practice of law in Milledgeville; member of the State house of representatives 1814-1817; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); returned to Sparta, Hancock County, in 1828; member of the State senate in 1827 and 1828; appointed a commissioner to run the boundary line between Alabama and Georgia in 1826; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Georgia in 1828 and 1831; delegate to the International Improvement Convention in 1831; elected in 1837 a State commissioner to locate and construct the Western & Atlantic Railroad; died near Blakely, Early County, Ga., April 5, 1858; interment in the family burying ground on his plantation in Early County, Ga.

CRAWFORD, Martin Jenkins, a Representative from Georgia; born in Jasper County, Ga., March 17, 1820; attended Brownwood Institute and Mercer University, Macon, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1839, and practiced in Hamilton, Ga.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1845-1847; moved to Columbus, Ga., in 1849; delegate to the Southern convention at Nashville in May, 1850; judge of the superior courts of the Chattahoochee circuit from February 1, 1854, to November, 1854; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1855, until January 23, 1861, when he withdrew; elected to the Confederate Provisional Congress, and served from January, 1861, to February 22, 1862; appointed by President Davis a special commissioner to the Government of the United States at Washington; ruled the Third Georgia Cavalry Regiment in May, 1862; served with it one year, and was then placed on the staff with Maj. Gen. Howell Cobb, where he served until the close of the Civil War; appointed judge of the superior court of the Chattahoochee circuit to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge James Johnson on October 1, 1875; reappointed in 1877 and served until February 9, 1880, when he resigned; appointed February 10, 1890, to the Supreme Court of Georgia to fill a vacancy; reappointed, and served until his death in Columbus, Ga., July 23, 1883; interment in Linwood Cemetery.

CRAWFORD, Thomas Hartley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chambersburg, Pa., November 14, 1796; was graduated from Princeton College in 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and commenced practice in Chambersburg; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1834; appointed a commissioner to investigate alleged frauds in the sale of the Creek Reservation in 1836; appointed by President Van Buren Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and served from October 22, 1838, to October 30, 1845; appointed by President Polk judge of the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia in 1845, and served until 1861, when the court was reorganized; died in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1863; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

CRAWFORD, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1760; received a liberal schooling; studied medicine at the University of Edinburgh, and in 1781 received his degree; emigrated to the United States and settled near Gettysburg, Pa.; purchased a farm on Marsh Creek in 1785, where he spent the rest of his life practicing medicine; associate judge for Adams County 1801-1808; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1817); resumed the practice of medicine near Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., where he died October 23, 1823; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg, Pa.

CRAWFORD, William Harris, a Senator from Georgia; born in Nelson County, Va., February 24, 1772; moved with his father to Edgefield District, S. C., in 1779 and to Columbia County, Ga., in 1783; pursued classical studies in a private school and in Richmond Academy, Augusta, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lexington, Ga., in 1799; appointed to prepare a digest of the laws of Georgia in 1799; member of the State house of representatives 1803-1807; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Abraham Baldwin, and served from November 7, 1807, to March 23, 1813, when he resigned; elected President pro tempore of the Senate March 24, 1812; declined the portfolio of Secretary of War tendered by President Madison in 1813; United States minister to France from April 3, 1813, to April 22, 1815; returned home to act as agent for the sale of the land donated by Congress to Lafayette; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Madison on August 1, 1815; was transferred to the Treasury October 22, 1816, and served under Presidents Madison and Monroe until March 7, 1825; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President of the United States in 1824; on account of illness refused the tender of President Adams that he remain Secretary of the Treasury; his course as Secretary of the Treasury was criticized and was made the subject of congressional investigation, but the committee unanimously declared the charges unfounded; returned to Georgia and was appointed judge of the northern circuit court in 1827, which position he held until his death in Oglethorpe County, Ga., September 15, 1834; interment on his estate, "Woodlawn," near Crawford, Oglethorpe County, Ga.

CRAWFORD, William Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Waynesville, Haywood County, N. C., June 1, 1856; attended the public schools and Waynesville Academy; member of the State house of representatives 1884-1888; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; engrossing clerk of the State house of representatives in 1889; was graduated from the law department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1890; was admitted to the bar in 1891 and commenced practice in Waynesville; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); delegate to the American Bimetallic League in Washington, D. C., in 1888; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, to May 10, 1900, when he was succeeded by Richmond Pearson, who contested the election; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1900 to the Fifty-seventh Congress; delegate to the Democratic State conventions 1900-1912; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Parker and Davis in 1904; delegate to the gubernatorial convention in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law in Waynesville, N. C., where he died November 16, 1913; interment in Green Hill Cemetery.

OREAGER, Charles Edward, a Representative from Oklahoma; born near Dayton, Montgomery County, Ohio, April 28, 1873; attended the public schools; engaged in the newspaper business; enlisted as sergeant major in the Fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry in the Spanish-American War, and served under General Miles in the Porto Rico campaign; city editor of the Columbus Press-Post 1899-1901; editor of the Daily Leader, Marietta, Ohio, 1902-1904; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; employed in the United States Indian Service, and is a resident of Muskogee, Okla.

CREAMER, Thomas James, a Representative from New York; born near Garudice Lake, Ireland, May 26, 1843; emigrated to the United States and took up his residence in New York City; attended the public schools; shipping clerk in a dry-goods house in 1860; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State assembly 1865-1867; served in the State senate 1868-1871; city tax commissioner for five years; acted as counsel for State commissions to revise the tax laws; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; delegate to three Democratic National Conventions; elected to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1903); was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed the practice of law in New York City, and died there August 4, 1914; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CREBS, John Montgomery, a Representative from Illinois; born in Middleburg, Loudoun County, Va., April 9, 1830; moved to Illinois in 1837 with his parents, who settled in White County; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and commenced practice in White County, Ill.; during the Civil War served in the Union Army, and was commissioned lieutenant colonel Eighty-seventh Regiment Illinois Infantry in 1862; took part in the Mississippi, Vicksburg, and Arkansas campaigns; commanded a brigade of Cavalry in the Department of the Gulf; after the close of the war resumed the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1872; engaged in the practice of his profession until his death in Ormai, White County, Ill., June 26, 1890; interment in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

CREELY, John Vandain, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., November 14, 1839; received a classical education; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and practiced in Philadelphia; during the Civil War served with the Union Army as an officer of Light Artillery; member of the Philadelphia City Council for four years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); before his term of service had expired he mysteriously disappeared, and upon the application of his sister, Adelaide G. Creely, to whom was awarded his estate, he was declared legally dead on September 28, 1900, by the orphans' court of Philadelphia.

OREIGHTON, William, Jr., a Representative from Ohio; born in Berkeley County, Va., October 29, 1778; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1798, and commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio; secretary of state 1803-1808; member of the State house of representatives in 1810; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Duncan McArthur; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from May 4, 1813, to March 3, 1817; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1815 to the United States Senate; elected to the Twentieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1827, until his resignation in 1828; was appointed during the recess of Congress and nominated by President John Quincy Adams on December 11, 1828, as a United States judge of the district court, but the Senate on February 16, 1829, passed a resolution that it was "not expedient to fill the vacancy at the present session of Congress"; reelected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); resumed the practice of law; died in Chillicothe, Ross County, October 8, 1851; interment in Grand View Cemetery.

CRESWELL, John Andrew Jackson, a Representative and a Senator from Maryland; born at Creswells Ferry (now Port Deposit), Cecil County, Md., November 18, 1828; attended the local academy at Port Deposit; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1848; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Baltimore in 1850, and commenced practice in Elkton, Md.; unsuccessful candidate for election on the Whig ticket in 1850 to the Reform State Convention; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1856; member of the State house of delegates in 1861; affiliated with the Republican Party in 1861; adjutant general of the State in 1862 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas H. Hicks, and served from March 9, 1865, to March 3, 1867; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864 and at Chicago in 1868; delegate to the Philadelphia Loyalists' Convention in 1866 and to the Border State Convention at Baltimore in 1867; was elected Secretary of the United States Senate in 1868, but declined; appointed Postmaster General in the Cabinet of President Grant, and served from March 5, 1869, until July 3, 1874, when he resigned; counsel of the United States before the Alabama Claims Commission 1874-1876; resumed the practice of law; one of the commissioners to close up the affairs of the Freedman's Savings & Trust Co.; president of two banks; died near Elkton, Cecil County, Md., December 23, 1891; interment in the Elkton Presbyterian Cemetery.

CRISFIELD, John Woodland, a Representative from Maryland; born near Chestertown, Kent County, Md., November 8, 1806; was educated at Washington College, Chestertown; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Princess Anne, Somerset County; member of the State house of representatives in 1836; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850; member of the peace conference of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; elected as a Union Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; located and founded the town of Orisfield, Somerset County, Md., in 1866; instrumental in building the Eastern Shore Railroad and served as president; died in Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md., January 12, 1897; interment in the Manokin Presbyterian Cemetery.

CRISP, Charles Frederick (father of Charles Robert Crisp), a Representative from Georgia; born in Sheffield, England, January 29, 1845; later in that year his parents emigrated to the United States and settled in Georgia; attended the common schools of Savannah and Macon, Ga.; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in May, 1861; commissioned Lieutenant in Company K, Tenth Regiment Virginia Infantry, and served with that regiment until the 12th of May, 1864, when he became a prisoner of war; upon his release from Fort Delaware in June, 1865, joined his parents at Ellaville, Schley County, Ga.; studied law at Americus, Ga., was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Ellaville; appointed solicitor general of the southwestern judicial circuit in 1872, and reappointed in 1873 for a term of four years; appointed judge of the superior court of the same circuit in June, 1877; elected by the general assembly to the same office in 1878; reelected judge for a term of four years in 1880; resigned that office in September, 1882, to accept the Democratic nomination for Congress; permanent president of the Democratic convention which assembled at Atlanta in April, 1883, to nominate a candidate for governor; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1883, until his death; was Speaker of the House of Representatives during the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses; nominated for United States Senator in the State primary of 1896; died in Atlanta, Ga., October 23, 1896; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

CRISP, Charles Robert (son of Charles Frederick Crisp), a Representative from Georgia; born in Ellaville, Schley County, Ga., October 19, 1870; attended the public schools of Americus, Ga.; clerk in the Interior Department, Washington, D. C., 1889-1891; parliamentarian of the National House of Representatives 1891-1895; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1895, and commenced practice in Americus, Sumter County, Ga.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, Charles F. Crisp, and served from December 19, 1896, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; resumed the practice of law in Americus, Ga.; judge of the city court of Americus 1900-1912; again parliamentarian of the House of Representatives in the Sixty-second Congress; parliamentarian of the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912; elected to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927); member of the American World War Debt Funding Commission. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CRIST, Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania County, Va., October 20, 1794; moved with his father to Pennsylvania, where he attended the public schools; moved to Bullitt County, Ky., in 1788 and engaged in the manufacture of salt; member of the State house of representatives in 1795 and 1806; served in the State senate 1800-1804; elected to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); was a Whig after the organization of that party; died near Shepherdsville, Bullitt County, Ky., August 11, 1844; interment in the State Cemetery, Frankfort, Ky.

CRITCHEER, John, a Representative from Virginia; born at Oak Grove, Westmoreland County, Va., March 11, 1820; attended Brent's Preparatory School; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1839, and later pursued higher studies in France for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Westmoreland County, Va.; served in the State senate 1861 and 1874-1877; member of the State secession convention in 1861; served as lieutenant colonel of Cavalry in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; appointed judge of the eighth judicial circuit of Virginia, but was removed under the resolution of Congress dated February 18, 1869, which provided that anyone who has borne arms against the United States should be dismissed from office within thirty days; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); died in Alexandria, Va., September 27, 1901; interment in the Episcopal Cemetery.

CRITTENDEN, John Jordan (uncle of Thomas Theodore Crittenden), a Senator and a Representative from Kentucky; born near Versailles, Woodford County, Ky., September 10, 1787; completed preparatory studies; attended Pisgah Academy, Woodford County, Ky., Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1806; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Woodford County, Ky., in 1807; attorney general of Illinois Territory in 1809 and 1810; served in the War of 1812 as aide to Governor Shelby; resumed the practice of law in Russellville, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives 1811-1817, and served as speaker the last term; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1817, to March 3, 1819, when he resigned; moved to Frankfort, Ky., in 1819; again a member of the State house of representatives 1825 and 1829-1832; appointed United States district attorney in 1827, but was removed by President Jackson in 1829; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1835, to March 3, 1841; appointed Attorney General of the United States by President Harrison, and served from March 5 to September 13, 1841; appointed and subsequently elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Clay, and served from March 31, 1842, to June 12, 1848, when he resigned; elected Governor of Kentucky in 1848, and served until July 22, 1850, when he resigned; again appointed Attorney General, this time by President Fillmore, and served from July 22, 1850, to March 7, 1853; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1855, to March 3, 1861; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); was a candidate for reelection at the time of his death; died in Frankfort, Ky., July 26, 1863; interment in the State Cemetery, Frankfort, Ky.

CRITTENDEN, Thomas Theodore (nephew of John Jordan Crittenden), a Representative from Missouri; born near Shelbyville, Shelby County, Ky., January 1, 1832; attended the primary schools at Cloverport, Ky.; was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1855; served as registrar of Franklin County in 1858; studied law in Frankfort, Ky., was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice in Lexington, Mo.; served in the Union Army during the Civil War from 1862 to 1864, being commissioned captain and later Lieutenant colonel of the Seventh Missouri Cavalry Militia Regiment; was wounded at the Battle of Westport, near Kansas City, Mo., October 23, 1864; moved to Warrensburg in 1865 and continued the practice of law; appointed attorney general of Missouri by Gov. Willard P. Hall in 1864 to fill out the unexpired term of Alkman Welch, deceased; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873–March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; again elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877–March 3, 1879); Governor of Missouri 1881–1885; moved to Kansas City in 1885 and continued the practice of law; United States consul general at the City of Mexico from April 5, 1893, to 1897; referee in bankruptcy from 1898 until his death in Kansas City, Mo., May 29, 1909; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

CROCHERON, Henry (brother of Jacob Crocheron), a Representative from New York; born on Staten Island, Richmond County, N. Y., December 26, 1772; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Northfield; supervisor of Northfield 1808–1814; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815–March 3, 1817); captain of militia in 1818; died in New Springfield, Richmond County, N. Y., on November 8, 1819; interment in St. Andrew's Churchyard, Richmond County, Staten Island, N. Y.

CROCHERON, Jacob (brother of Henry Crocheron), a Representative from New York; born on Staten Island, Richmond County, N. Y., August 23, 1774; engaged in agricultural pursuits; sheriff of Richmond County in 1802, 1811, and again in 1821; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1820–March 3, 1831); presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Van Buren and Johnson in 1836; died in Richmond County, Staten Island, December 27, 1849; interment in St. Andrew's Churchyard, Richmond County, Staten Island, N. Y.

CROCKER, Alvah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Leominster, Mass., October 14, 1801; attended the public schools and Groton Academy; proprietor of paper manufactories at Fitchburg; president of the Boston & Fitchburg Railroad; member of the Hoosac Tunnel Commission; member of the State house of representatives in 1836, 1842, and 1843; served in the State senate for two terms; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William B. Washburn; reelected to the Forty-third Congress, and served from January 2, 1872, until his death in Fitchburg, Mass., December 26, 1874; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

CROCKER, Samuel Leonard, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Taunton, Mass., March 31, 1804; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1822; engaged in manufacturing; member of the Executive Council of Massachusetts in 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; president of the Taunton Copper Manufacturing Co.; died in Boston, Mass., February 10, 1883; interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Taunton, Bristol County, Mass.

CROCKETT, David (father of John Wesley Crockett), a Representative from Tennessee; born at Limestone, Greene County, Tenn., August 17, 1786; attended the common schools for a short time; moved to Lincoln County about 1808 and to what is now Gibson County in 1822; commanded a battalion of mounted riflemen under General Jackson in the Creek campaign in 1813 and 1814; member of the State house of representatives 1821–1823; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1825 to the Nineteenth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827–March 3, 1831); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1830 to the Twenty-second Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833–March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1834 to the Twenty-fourth Congress; went to Texas to aid the Texans in their struggle for independence in 1836; joined a band of 140 men in the defense of the Alamo, San Antonio de Bexar; was one of the six survivors who surrendered to Santa Anna and were shot down by his orders March 6, 1836; his remains are supposed to be buried in an unmarked grave in that vicinity.

CROCKETT, John Wesley (son of David Crockett), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Trenton, Tenn., July 10, 1807; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Paris, Tenn.; held various local and State offices; was elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837–March 3, 1841); elected by the State legislature attorney general for the ninth district of Tennessee, and served from 1841 to 1843; moved to New Orleans in 1843 and engaged in business as a commission merchant; became editor of the National May 22, 1848, and established the Crescent in 1850; moved to Memphis, Tenn., in 1852, where he died November 24, 1862; interment in the Old City Cemetery, Paris, Tenn.

CROFT, George William (father of Theodore Gaillard Croft), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Newberry County, S. C., December 20, 1840; attended the common schools in Greenville, S. C.; entered the South Carolina Military Academy at Charleston in 1863; the cadets of that institution were mustered into the Confederate Army in 1864 and served until the close of the Civil War; attended the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1866 and 1867; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1869, and commenced practice in Aiken, S. C., in 1870; president of the State bar association; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1903, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 10, 1904; interment in St. Thaddeus' Episcopal Churchyard, Aiken, S. C.

CROFT, Theodore Gaillard (son of George William Croft), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Aiken, Aiken County, S. C., November 26, 1874; attended the common schools; was graduated from Bethel Military Academy, Warrenton, Va., in 1895 and from the law department of the University of South Carolina at Columbia in 1897; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Aiken, S. C.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, George W. Croft, and served from May 17, 1904, to March 3, 1906; was not a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law in Aiken, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives in 1907 and 1908; served in the State senate 1909–1912; during the World War was a member of the draft board for his district from 1917 until he volunteered for service in the United States Army in June, 1918; applied for admission to the officers' training camp in August, 1918; enlisted October 29, 1918; was assigned to duty as a private in the Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School, Camp Zachary Taylor, and served until December 5, 1918, when he was honorably discharged; resumed the practice of law; died in Aiken, S. C., March 28, 1920; interment in St. Thaddeus' Episcopal Churchyard.

CROLL, William Martin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Upper Macungie Township, Lehigh County, Pa., April 9, 1866; attended the public schools and the Keystone State Normal School, Kutztown, Pa.; was graduated from the Eastman Business College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; taught school; moved to Reading, Pa., in 1897 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and banking; treasurer of Berks County 1909-1912; served as naval officer, port of Philadelphia, from 1913 to 1918; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912 and at San Francisco in 1920; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; engaged in mercantile pursuits, and is a resident of Reading, Pa.

CROMER, George Washington, a Representative from Indiana; born near Anderson, Madison County, Ind., May 13, 1856; attended the common schools and Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, and was graduated from the Indiana University at Bloomington in 1882; became editor of the Muncie (Ind.) Times in 1883; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and commenced practice in Muncie, Delaware County, Ind.; prosecuting attorney for the forty-sixth judicial circuit of Indiana 1886-1890; member of the State Republican committee in 1892 and 1894; mayor of Muncie 1894-1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession, and resides in Muncie, Ind.

CROCKE, Philip Schuyler, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 2, 1810; was graduated from Dutchess Academy in Poughkeepsie; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Brooklyn, N. Y.; moved to Flatbush (now a part of Greater New York City) in 1838; member of the Board of Supervisors of Kings County 1844-1852 and 1858-1870, and chairman of the board in 1861, 1862, 1864, and 1865; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected a member of the general assembly as a Republican in 1863; served forty years in the National Guard of the State of New York, from private to brigadier general, and during the Civil War commanded the Fifth Brigade, National Guard, in Pennsylvania in June and July, 1863; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); died in Flatbush March 17, 1881; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CROSBY, John Crawford, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Sheffield, Berkshire County, Mass., June 15, 1859; attended the public schools of Pittsfield; was graduated from the Boston University Law School, Boston, Mass.; was admitted to the bar in 1882 and commenced practice in Pittsfield, Berkshire County, Mass.; elected a member of the school committee of Pittsfield in 1885; member of the State house of representatives in 1886 and 1887; served in the State senate in 1888 and 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; mayor of Pittsfield, Mass., in 1894 and 1895; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896 which nominated Bryan and Sewall; city solicitor 1896-1900; appointed justice of the superior court on January 25, 1906, and served until December 31, 1913, when he was appointed justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Pittsfield, Mass.

CROSS, Edward, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Hawkins City, Tenn., November 11, 1798; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Arkansas in 1826; appointed on May 26, 1830, United States judge for the Territory of Arkansas; served as United States surveyor general for Arkansas from April 30, 1836, until September 1, 1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination; judge of the State supreme court from July, 1845, to 1855; president of the Cairo & Fulton (now the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern) Railway 1855-1862; appointed attorney general of Arkansas in 1874; retired to private life; died at his country residence, "Marlbrook," near Washington, Hempstead County, Ark., April 6, 1887; interment on his estate.

CROSSER, Robert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Holytown, Lanarkshire, Scotland, June 7, 1874; emigrated to the United States with his parents and settled in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1881; attended the public schools of Salineville, Ohio; was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1897; studied law at Columbia University in New York City and the Cincinnati Law School, and was graduated from the latter in 1901; admitted to the bar in 1901 and commenced practice in Cleveland, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives 1911 and 1912; member of the fourth constitutional convention in 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1918 and for election in 1920; elected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CROSSLAND, Edward, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Hickman County, Ky., June 30, 1827; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and began practice at Clinton, Hickman County, Ky.; sheriff of Hickman County in 1851 and 1852; member of the State house of representatives 1857 and 1858; during the Civil War enlisted as captain in the First Kentucky Regiment, Confederate Army; was elected colonel of the Seventh Kentucky Regiment and served until the end of the war; elected judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the First Judicial District of Kentucky in August, 1867, for six years, but resigned November 1, 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); resumed the practice of law in Mayfield, Graves County, Ky.; elected judge of the Circuit Court for the First Judicial District of Kentucky in August, 1880, and served until his death in Mayfield, Ky., September 11, 1881; interment in the Maplewood Cemetery.

CROUCH, Edward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born at Walnut Hill, near Highspire, Paxtang Township, Lancaster (now Dauphin) County, Pa., November 9, 1794; attended the common schools; at the age of seventeen enlisted in the Revolutionary War; commanded a company in the whisky insurrection of 1794; engaged in mercantile pursuits at Walnut Hill; member of the State house of representatives 1804-1806; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Madison and Gerry in 1812; appointed associate judge of Dauphin County on April 16, 1813, but resigned upon being elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Gioninger, and served from October 12, 1813, until March 8, 1815; was not a candidate for renomination; returned to Walnut Hill, Paxtang Township, Dauphin County, Pa., and resided there until his death, February 2, 1827; interment in the Paxtang Cemetery.

CROUNSE, Lorenzo, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Sharon, Schoharie County, N. Y., January 27, 1834; attended a seminary at Charlottesville, N. Y.; taught school; moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1855; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1857; during the Civil War raised a battery of light artillery in 1861 and entered the Army as its captain; wounded, and resigned after a year's service; moved to Nebraska Territory in 1864; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1866; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1866; elected associate justice of the State supreme court in 1867; at the expiration of his term was elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1876; collector of internal revenue for the district of Nebraska from March 15, 1879, to March 30, 1883; appointed Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury on April 27, 1891, and served until his resignation on October 31, 1892; Governor of Nebraska 1892-1895; died in Omaha, Nebr., May 13, 1909; interment in the City Cemetery, Fort Calhoun, Washington County, Nebr.

CROUSE, George Washington, a Representative from Ohio; born in Tallmadge, Summit County, Ohio, November 23, 1832; attended the common schools; taught school for five years; moved to Akron, Ohio; deputy in offices of county auditor and treasurer 1855-1858; auditor of Summit County 1858-1863; served as county treasurer in 1863; manager in 1863 of the Akron branch of C. Altman & Co., dealers in farming implements; upon the organization of Altman, Miller & Co. in 1865, as a separate corporation, became secretary and treasurer, and later its president; during the Civil War served as sergeant in Company F, One hundred and sixty-fourth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served in fortifications around Washington in 1864; trustee for the children's home; member and president of the city council for four years and of the board of education of the city of Akron four years; served as commissioner of Summit County in 1874 and 1875; member of the State senate 1885-1887; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed former business activities; died in Akron, Ohio, January 5, 1912; interment in Glendale Cemetery.

CROW, Charles Augustus, a Representative from Missouri; born in Sikeston, Scott County, Mo., March 31, 1873; attended the common schools; moved to a farm near Bernie, Stoddard County, Mo., in August, 1896, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Caruthersville, Pemiscot County, in 1901; postmaster of Caruthersville from May 19, 1902, to January 14, 1909; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits and also engaged in the real-estate business; is a resident of Campbell, Mo.

CROW, William Evans, a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in German Township, Fayette County, Pa., March 10, 1870; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Southwestern State Normal School in 1890, and also attended Waynesburg College; engaged in newspaper work for three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1895, and commenced practice in Uniontown, Pa.; appointed assistant district attorney in 1896; was elected district attorney in November, 1898, and served three years; chairman of the Republican county committee 1899-1901; delegate to various Republican State conventions; chairman of the Republican State committee in 1913, 1916, and 1918; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1916 and 1920; member of the State senate from 1907 until October 24, 1921, when he resigned, having been appointed United States Senator; elected president pro tempore in 1909 and 1911; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate on October 17, 1921, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Philander C. Knox, and served from October 24, 1921, until his death at his home, "Chalk Hill," near Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa., August 2, 1922; interment in the Uniontown Cemetery.

CROWELL, John, a Delegate and a Representative from Alabama; born in Halifax County, N. C., September 18, 1780; attended the public schools; elected as a Delegate to the Fifteenth Congress, and served from January 29, 1818, to March 3, 1819; upon the admission of Alabama as a State into the Union was elected as a Representative to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from December 14, 1819, until March 3, 1821; appointed agent for the Creek Indians, then inhabiting western Georgia and eastern Alabama, and occupied that position until they were moved to the Indian Territory in 1836; died at Fort Mitchell, Russell County, Ala., June 25, 1846; interment in a private cemetery at Fort Mitchell, Ala.

CROWELL, John, a Representative from Ohio; born in East Haddam, Middlesex County, Conn., September 15, 1801; moved to Ohio in 1806 with his parents, who settled in Rome, Ashtabula County; attended the district school; moved to Warren, Ohio, in 1822; attended Warren Academy 1822-1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and commenced practice in Warren; was also part owner and editor of the Western Reserve Chronicle at Warren; member of the State senate in 1840; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1852 and resumed the practice of law; served in the State militia for twenty years, holding the rank of brigadier general and subsequently that of major general; became editor of the Western Law Monthly, published in Cleveland, and a member of the faculty of the Homeopathic Medical College; president of the Ohio State and Union Law College of Cleveland from 1862 to 1876, when he retired to private life owing to failing health; died in Cleveland, Ohio, March 8, 1883; interment in Lake View Cemetery.

CROWLEY, Joseph Burns, a Representative from Illinois; born in Coshocton, Coshocton County, Ohio, July 19, 1858; moved with his parents to Robinson, Ill., in 1872; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits 1876-1880; studied law, was admitted to the bar in May, 1883, and began practice at Robinson, Crawford County, Ill.; president of the Robinson city school board 1884-1888; master in chancery 1888-1890; elected judge of Crawford County in November, 1888, and reelected in 1890; appointed United States special Treasury agent in charge of the seal fisheries of Alaska in April, 1898, and served until his resignation in April, 1899; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Robinson, Ill.

CROWLEY, Miles, a Representative from Texas; born in Boston, Mass., February 22, 1859; attended the common schools; employed as a longshoreman; moved to Galveston in the seventies; assistant chief of the Galveston Fire Department; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1892, and commenced practice; member of the State house of representatives in 1892; served in the State senate in 1893 and 1894; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for reelection in 1896; resumed the practice of law in Galveston, Tex.; prosecuting attorney of Galveston County 1904-1912; elected judge of Galveston County court in 1920, in which capacity he was serving at the time of his death in Galveston, Tex., September 22, 1921; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

CROWLEY, Richard, a Representative from New York; born in Pendleton, near Lockport, Niagara County, N. Y., December 14, 1836; attended the public schools and Lockport Union School; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Lockport; city attorney of Lockport in 1865 and 1866; admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1865; member of the State senate 1866-1870; appointed by President Grant United States district attorney for the northern district of New York on March 23, 1871; reappointed March 3, 1876, and served in that capacity until March 3, 1879, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); resumed the practice of law in Lockport, N. Y.; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; appointed by Governor Morton in 1896 as counsel for the State of New York in Civil War claims cases, in which capacity he was serving at the time of his death at Olcott Beach, near Lockport, Niagara County, N. Y., July 22, 1908; interment in Glenwood Cemetery.

CROWNINSHIELD, Benjamin Williams (brother of Jacob Crowninshield), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., December 27, 1772; prepared for college; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Salem, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1811; served in the State senate in 1812; appointed Secretary of the Navy by President Madison December 19, 1814; reappointed by President Monroe, and served in this capacity until October 1, 1818, when he resigned; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Monroe and Tompkins in 1820; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1831); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1830 to the Twenty-second Congress; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1833; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Boston, Mass., February 3, 1851; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

CROWNINSHIELD, Jacob (brother of Benjamin Williams Crowninshield), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salem, Mass., March 31, 1770; engaged in mercantile pursuits; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1798 to the Sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dwight Foster; member of the State senate in 1801; was tendered the position of Secretary of the Navy by President Jefferson, but never entered upon his duties on account of ill health; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1803, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 15, 1808; interment in the Howard Street Burying Ground, Salem, Mass.; reinterment in Harmony Grove Cemetery.

CROWTHER, Frank, a Representative from New York; born in Liverpool, England, July 10, 1870; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Canton, Mass., in 1872; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Lowell School of Design, a branch of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in 1888; was a designer of fabrics, carpets, and rugs for seven years; was graduated from the Harvard Dental School in 1898 and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; moved to Perth Amboy, N. J., in 1901 and continued the practice of dentistry; member of the New Jersey House of Assembly in 1904 and 1905; member of the Middlesex County Board of Taxation 1906-1909; moved to Schenectady, N. Y., in 1912 and continued the practice of his profession until elected to Congress; president of the Common Council of Schenectady in 1917 and 1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CROWTHER, George Calhoun, a Representative from Missouri; born in Lancashire, England, January 28, 1849; emigrated to the United States in 1855 with his parents, who settled in Dakota City, Nebr.; attended the public schools until his tenth year, when he became a printer's apprentice at Sioux City, Iowa; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in 1862, and was mustered out of the service July 14, 1865; moved to Kansas in 1866 and engaged in newspaper work until 1873; elected secretary of the Kansas State Senate in January, 1869, and reelected in 1871 and 1873; again engaged in the printing and publishing of a newspaper 1875-1886; moved to St. Joseph, Mo., in 1877; appointed deputy sheriff of Buchanan County, Mo., in 1887; elected city treasurer of St. Joseph in 1888 and reelected in 1890; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; unsuccessful candidate for mayor of St. Joseph in 1904; engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel in St. Joseph, Mo., until his death there on March 18, 1914; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

CROXTON, Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Tappahannock, Essex County, Va., March 8, 1822; attended the primary schools and the Tappahannock and Rappahannock Academies; was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1842, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Tappahannock, Essex County, Va.; served as attorney for the Commonwealth from 1852 to 1865, when he resigned; during the Civil War served on the staff of Gen. George E. Pickett; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1886 to the Fiftieth Congress; elected judge of Essex County, Va., and served from 1892 until 1901; resumed the practice of his profession and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; died in Tappahannock, Va., July 8, 1903; interment in St. John's Episcopal Churchyard.

CROZIER, John Hervey, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Knoxville, Tenn., February 10, 1812; attended the public schools; was graduated from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville in 1829; studied law and was admitted to the Tennessee bar and practiced in Knoxville; member of the State house of representatives 1837-1839; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); resumed the practice of his profession in Knoxville; affiliated with the Democratic Party in 1856; retired from active practice about 1866 and engaged in literary pursuits and historical research; died in Knoxville, Knox County, Tenn., October 25, 1889; interment in the Old Gray Cemetery.

CROZIER, Robert, a Senator from Kansas; born in Cadiz, Harrison County, Ohio, October 13, 1827; attended the public schools and an academy; studied law in Carrollton, Ohio, and was admitted to the bar October 18, 1848; prosecuting attorney of Carroll County 1848-1850; moved to Leavenworth, Kans., in 1856, where he established the Leavenworth Daily Times and also engaged in the practice of law; member of the Territorial council in 1857 and 1858; appointed United States attorney for the district of Kansas by President Lincoln October 24, 1861, and served until January, 1864, when he resigned; elected chief justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas November 3, 1863, and served from January 5, 1864, until January 14, 1867; cashier and manager of the First National Bank of Leavenworth; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alexander Caldwell, and served from November 24, 1873, to February 12, 1874, when a successor was elected; was not a candidate for election; resumed the practice of his profession in Leavenworth, Kans.; district judge of the first judicial district of Kansas 1870-1892; member of the board of directors of the Kansas Historical Society 1886-1889; died in Leavenworth, Leavenworth County, Kans., October 2, 1895; interment in Mount Muncie Cemetery.

CRUDUP, Josiah, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Wakelon, Wake County, N. C., January 13, 1791; attended a private school in Lousburg, N. C., and Columbian College (now George Washington University), Washington, D. C.; studied theology, was ordained as a Baptist minister, and, excepting the service in Congress, continued in the ministry until his death; engaged in farming; served in the State senate in 1820; member of the State house of representatives 1821-1823; elected as a Whig to the Seventeenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1823); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1822 to the Eighteenth Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits; delegate to State constitutional convention in 1835; died near Kittrell, Vance County, N. C., May 20, 1872; interment in the family burial ground at his home near Kittrell, N. C.

CRUGER, Daniel, a Representative from New York; born in Sunbury, Pa., December 22, 1780; attended the public schools; learned the printer's trade; published the Owego Democrat at Owego, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1805, and commenced practice in Bath, N. Y.; served as major in the War of 1812; member of the State assembly 1814-1816 and again in 1820 and served as speaker in 1816; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); district attorney of the Seventh district of New York 1815-1818, and of Steuben County 1818-1821; resumed the practice of law; moved to Wheeling, Va. (now West Virginia); died in Wheeling July 12, 1843; interment in the Stone Church Cemetery.

CRUMP, George William, a Representative from Virginia; born in Powhatan County, Va.; attended Washington College (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., and was graduated from Princeton College in 1805; studied medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa., 1806-1808; member of the State house of delegates 1817-1822 and 1825-1828; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Randolph, and served from January 21, 1826, to March 3, 1827; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1828 to the Twentieth Congress; appointed by President Jackson chief clerk of the Pension Bureau in 1832, which position he held until his death in Washington, D. C., October 1, 1848.

CRUMP, Rousseau Owen, a Representative from Michigan; born in Pittsford, Monroe County, N. Y., May 20, 1848; attended the public schools in Pittsford and Rochester; moved to Plainwell, Mich., in 1869 and engaged in the lumber business in Allegan and Kalamazoo Counties; moved to West Bay City in 1881 and established a sawmill and box factory; member of the board of aldermen 1889-1892; mayor of West Bay City 1893-1895; member of the State house of representatives 1895-1901; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in West Bay City, Mich., May 1, 1901; interment in Elm Lawn Cemetery, Bay City, Bay County, Mich.

CRUMPACKER, Edgar Dean (father of Maurice Edgar Crumpacker), a Representative from Indiana; born in Westville, La Porte County, Ind., May 27, 1851; attended the common schools and Valparaiso Academy, Valparaiso, Ind.; studied law in the law department of Indiana University at Bloomington, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and commenced practice in Valparaiso, Ind.; prosecuting attorney for the thirty-first judicial district of Indiana 1884-1888; served as appellate judge, by appointment of Governor Hovey, from March, 1891, to January 1, 1898; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law in Valparaiso, Porter County, Ind., where he died May 19, 1920; interment in Graceland Cemetery.

CRUMPACKER, Maurice Edgar (son of Edgar Dean Crumpacker), a Representative from Oregon; born in Valparaiso, Porter County, Ind., December 19, 1886; attended the public schools of Valparaiso, Ind., and Washington, D. C.; was graduated from the Culver (Ind.) Military Academy in 1905 and from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1909; studied law at Harvard University, was admitted to the bar in 1912, and commenced practice in Portland, Oreg.; during the World War was commissioned on December 31, 1917, as first lieutenant in the aviation section of the Signal Reserve Corps; accepted appointment as captain in the Air Service (production), National Army, on July 8, 1918, and served until December 27, 1918, when he was honorably discharged as captain in the Air Service (aircraft production); special deputy district attorney for Multnomah County, Oreg., in 1921; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in 1922; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth and Seventieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1925, until his death in San Francisco, Calif., July 24, 1927; interment in Riverview Cemetery, Portland, Oreg.

CRUTCHFIELD, William, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Greenville, Greene County, Tenn., November 16, 1824; attended the common schools; moved to McMinn County, Tenn., in 1840 and remained there four years; settled in Jacksonville, Ala., in 1844 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; became a permanent resident of Chattanooga in 1850; during the Civil War never enlisted but served in the Union Army as honorary captain in the Chickamauga campaign, was with General Thomas during the siege of Chattanooga, and was an active and important assistant to General Steedman and other commanders until the close of the war; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Chattanooga, Tenn., January 24, 1890; interment in the family lot in the Old Citizens Cemetery.

CULBERSON, Charles Allen (son of David Browning Culberson), a Senator from Texas; born in Dadeville, Tallapoosa County, Ala., June 10, 1855; moved to Texas with his parents, who settled first in Gilmer and later in Jefferson; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington in 1874; studied law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1876 and 1877, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in Jefferson, Tex.; moved to Dallas, Tex., in 1887; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1890; attorney general of Texas 1890-1894; Governor of Texas 1894-1898; delegate to all Democratic National Conventions from 1896 to 1916; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate January 25, 1899; reelected in 1905, 1911, and again in 1916, and served from March 4, 1899, to March 3, 1923; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922; retired from public life, and owing to failing health did not engage in active business pursuits; lived in retirement until his death in Washington, D. C., March 19, 1925; interment in East Oakwood Cemetery, Fort Worth, Tex.

CULBERSON, David Browning (father of Charles Allen Culberson), a Representative from Texas; born in Troup County, Ga., September 20, 1830; pursued preparatory studies in Brownwood College, Lagrange, Ga.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Dadeville, Ala.; moved to Texas in 1850; settled in Jefferson, Marion County, in 1861 and continued the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives in 1859; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a private; promoted to the rank of colonel of the Eighteenth Texas Infantry; assigned to duty in 1864 as adjutant general of the State of Texas with the rank of colonel; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1864; elected to the State senate in 1873 and served until his resignation, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the ten succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1897); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1896; appointed by President McKinley on June 21, 1897, as one of the commissioners to codify the laws of the United States, and served in this capacity until his death in Jefferson, Tex., May 7, 1900; interment in Oaklawn Cemetery.

CULBERTSON, William Constantine, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Edinboro, Erie County, Pa., November 25, 1825; attended the common schools of his native town; engaged in lumbering on the Allegheny River in Jefferson County, Pa.; also operated a mill and a sash, door, and blind factory at Covington, Ky.; moved to Girard, Pa., in 1833; purchased extensive tracts of timberland in Michigan, Wisconsin, and other States; later became interested in agricultural pursuits in Minnesota and in his native county; president of the Citizens' National Bank of Corry, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed his former business activities; died in Girard, Erie County, Pa., May 24, 1906; interment in Girard Cemetery.

CULBERTSON, William Wirt, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Lewistown, Mifflin County, Pa., September 22, 1835; moved with his parents to Kentucky; attended the common schools; engaged in the manufacture of iron; enlisted as a private in the Union Army during the Civil War in Company F, Twenty-seventh Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, on July 10, 1861; promoted to the rank of captain on August 2, 1861; resigned March 3, 1864; member of the State house of representatives in 1870; served in the State senate in 1873; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876 and at Chicago in 1880 and 1884; mayor of Ashland, Ky., in 1882 and 1883; resigned; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); died in Oxford, Butler County, Ohio, October 31, 1911; interment in Ashland Cemetery, Ashland, Ky.

CULBRETH, Thomas, a Representative from Maryland; born in Kent County, Del., eight miles northeast of Greensboro, Md., April 13, 1786; attended the public schools and studied under private tutors; moved to Denton, Caroline County, Md., in 1806; was clerk in a store in Denton; member of the congressional committee at Hillsboro in 1810; member of the State house of delegates in 1812 and 1813; cashier of the State Bank at Denton in 1813; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress and for election in 1822 to the Eighteenth Congress; appointed chief judge of the Caroline County orphans' court in 1822; clerk of the Executive Council of Maryland 1825-1838, and resided in Annapolis, Md.; returned to Denton, Md., in 1838 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; soon afterwards moved to "Orrell Farm," near Greensboro, where he died April 16, 1843; interment in the family cemetery on the farm.

CULLEN, Elisha Dickerson, a Representative from Delaware; born in Millsboro, Sussex County, Del., April 23, 1799; attended Princeton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and commenced practice in Georgetown, Del.; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Georgetown, Del., February 8, 1862; interment in the Presbyterian Churchyard, Lewes, Del.

CULLEN, Thomas Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., March 20, 1808; attended the local parochial schools, and was graduated from St. Francis College, Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1830; became engaged in the marine insurance and shipping business; member of the State assembly 1806-1898; served in the State senate 1800-1918; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions in 1912, 1916, 1920, and 1924; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CULLEN, William, a Representative from Illinois; born in County Donegal, Ireland, March 4, 1820; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1832; attended the public schools and the Allegheny Academy at Pittsburgh; moved to Adams Township, La Salle County, Ill., in 1846 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; sheriff of La Salle County in 1864 and 1865; moved to Ottawa, La Salle County, Ill., in 1865; political editor of the Ottawa Republican 1871-1887; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1884; lived in retirement in Ottawa, Ill., until his death there, January 17, 1914; interment in the Ottawa Avenue Cemetery.

CULLOM, Alvan (brother of William Cullom and uncle of Shelby Moore Cullom), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Monticello, Ky., September 4, 1797; received a liberal schooling; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Monroe, Overton County, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives in 1835 and 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); resumed the practice of law; circuit judge of the fourth judicial circuit of Tennessee 1850-1852; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; died in Livingston, Overton County, Tenn., July 20, 1877; interment in Bethlehem Cemetery, near Livingston.

CULLOM, Shelby Moore (nephew of Alvan Cullom and William Cullom), a Representative and a Senator from Illinois; born in Wayne County, Ky., November 22, 1829; moved with his father to Tazewell County, Ill., in 1830; received an academic and university training; moved to Springfield, Ill., in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Springfield; elected city attorney in 1856; presidential elector in 1856; member of the State house of representatives in 1856, 1860, and 1861, and served as speaker of the house during the second year; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); again a member of the State house of representatives in 1873 and 1874, and served as speaker in 1873; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872 and placed General Grant in nomination for President; also a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884 and at Minneapolis in 1892; elected Governor of Illinois in 1876 and 1880, and served from January 8, 1877, until February 5, 1883, when he resigned; elected to the United States Senate in 1882; reelected in 1888, 1894, 1900, and 1906, and served from March 4, 1883, to March 3, 1913; Regent of the Smithsonian Institution from March 24, 1885, to March 3, 1913; chairman and resident commissioner of the Lincoln Memorial Commission in 1913 and 1914; member of the commission appointed to prepare a system of laws for the Hawaiian Islands; died in Washington, D. C., January 28, 1914; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Springfield, Ill.

CULLOM, William (brother of Alvan Cullom and uncle of Shelby Moore Cullom), a Representative from Tennessee; born near Monticello, Wayne County, Ky., June 4, 1810; attended the public schools; studied law in Lexington, Ky., was admitted to the bar, and practiced in the courts of Kentucky and Tennessee; moved to Carthage, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives; served in the State senate; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; appointed Clerk of the National House of Representatives in the Thirty-fourth Congress, and served from February 4, 1856, to December 6, 1857; resumed the practice of law; died in Clinton, Anderson County, Tenn., December 6, 1896; interment in Clinton Cemetery.

CULLOP, William Allen, a Representative from Indiana; born near Oaktown, Knox County, Ind., March 28, 1853; attended the common schools; was graduated from Hanover (Ind.) College in June, 1878; professor for two years in Vincennes (Ind.) University; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1881, and commenced practice in Vincennes, Ind.; prosecuting attorney of the twelfth judicial circuit 1883-1886; member of the State house of representatives 1891-1893; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Chicago in 1892 and 1896; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Bryan and Stevenson in 1900; chairman of the committee on resolutions at the Indiana Democratic State convention in 1904 and reported the platform to the convention; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1917); resumed the practice of law, and was also interested in various business enterprises; died in Vincennes, Ind., October 9, 1927; interment in Greenlawn Cemetery.

CULPEPPER, John, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Wadesboro, Anson County, N. C., in 1761; attended the public schools; became a minister in the Baptist Church; presented credentials as a Federalist Member elect to the Tenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1807, until January 2, 1808, when the seat was declared vacant as the result of a contest on account of alleged irregularities; subsequently reelected to fill the vacancy caused by the decision of the House of Representatives, and served from February 23, 1808, to March 3, 1809; elected to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1817); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1816 to the Fifteenth Congress; elected to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1824 to the Nineteenth Congress; elected to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); declined to be candidate for reelection in 1828 and retired from public life; died at the residence of his son in Darlington County, S. C., in January, 1841; interment in the cemetery at Society Hill, S. C.

CULVER, Charles Vernon, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Logan, Hocking County, Ohio, September 6, 1830; received a liberal preparatory schooling and attended the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio; moved to Pennsylvania and settled in Reno, Venango County, and engaged in mercantile pursuits; also became interested in the development of oil in Venango County, Pa., and the establishment of national banks in thirteen cities throughout the East; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; while a Member of Congress became bankrupt and was imprisoned in 1866, but after a prolonged trial was acquitted; resumed operations in the oil business, with headquarters in Franklin, Venango County, Pa.; died, while on a business trip, in Philadelphia, Pa., January 10, 1900; interment in Franklin Cemetery, Franklin, Pa.

CULVER, Erastus Dean, a Representative from New York; born in Champlain, Washington County, N. Y., March 15, 1803; was graduated from the University of Vermont at Burlington in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Fort Ann, N. Y.; moved to Greenwich, N. Y., in 1836; member of the State assembly 1838-1840; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1850; judge of the city court of Brooklyn 1854-1861; appointed by President Lincoln United States minister resident to Venezuela, and served in that capacity from 1862 to 1866; died in Greenwich, Washington County, N. Y., October 13, 1889; interment in the Culver vault in Greenwich Cemetery.

CUMBACK, William, a Representative from Indiana; born near Mount Carmel, Franklin County, Ind., March 24, 1829; attended the common schools and was graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; taught school two years; studied law at the Cincinnati Law School, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Greensburg, Ind., in 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; appointed a paymaster in the Army and served throughout the Civil War; member of the State senate in 1866; Lieutenant Governor of Indiana in 1868; United States revenue collector 1871-1883; trustee of the De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind.; died in Greensburg, Ind., July 31, 1905; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CUMMING, Thomas William, a Representative from New York; born in Frederick, Md., in 1814 or 1815; moved to Georgia; appointed a midshipman in the United States Navy on May 19, 1832; promoted to passed midshipman on June 23, 1838, and served until February 23, 1841, when he resigned; while in the Navy was a member of the Wilkes exploring expedition in 1838; moved to Brooklyn, N. Y.; became a druggist and importer of drugs in New York City and subsequently engaged in mercantile pursuits in Brooklyn, N. Y., 1843-1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); died in Brooklyn, N. Y., October 13, 1855; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

CUMMING, William, a Delegate from North Carolina; born in Edenton, N. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the North Carolina Provincial Congress in 1776; member of the State house of commons in 1781, 1783, 1784, and 1788; Member of the Continental Congress in 1784-1786; nominated for judge in 1790.

CUMMINGS, Amos Jay, a Representative from New York; born in Conkling, Broome County, N. Y., May 15, 1841; attended the common schools; apprenticed to the printing trade when twelve years of age; was with Walker in the last invasion of Nicaragua in October, 1858; during the Civil War served as sergeant major of the Twenty-sixth New Jersey Regiment, Second Brigade, Sixth Corps, Army of the Potomac; filled editorial positions on the New York Tribune under Horace Greeley, the New York Sun, and the New York Express; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1888, but was subsequently elected to the Fifty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel S. Cox; reelected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from November 5, 1889, to November 21, 1894, when he resigned; again elected to the Fifty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative elect Andrew J. Campbell; reelected to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from November 5, 1895, until his death in Baltimore, Md., May 2, 1902; interment in Clinton Cemetery, Irvington, N. J.

CUMMINGS, Henry Johnson Brodhead, a Representative from Iowa; born in Newton, Sussex County, N. J., May 21, 1831; attended the public schools of Muncy, Pa.; edited a newspaper in Schuylkill County, Pa., in 1850; studied law, and was admitted to the bar at Williamsport, Pa., in 1855; moved to Iowa in 1856 and settled in Winterset, Madison County; prosecuting attorney of Madison County 1856-1858; during the Civil War entered the Union Army in July, 1861; was made captain of Company F, Fourth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry, August 15, 1861, to date from July 20, 1861; honorably discharged September 4, 1862, to enable him to accept the commission of colonel of the Thirty-ninth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry on September 12, 1862, and was honorably discharged December 22, 1864; became editor and proprietor of the Winterset Madisonian in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1878; died in Winterset, Iowa, April 16, 1909; interment in the Winterset Cemetery.

CUMMINGS, Herbert Wesley, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Chillisquaque Township, Northumberland County, Pa., July 13, 1873; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Lewisburg (Pa.) High School in 1890; studied law, was admitted to the bar on May 7, 1897, and commenced practice in Sunbury, Pa.; district attorney of Northumberland County in 1901 and 1904-1908; elected judge of the common pleas court of Northumberland County in 1911, and served ten years as president judge; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Sunbury, Northumberland County, Pa.

CUMMINS, Albert Baird, a Senator from Iowa; born near Carmichaels, Greene County, Pa., February 15, 1850; attended the public schools, a preparatory academy, and three years at Waynesburg (Pa.) College; moved to Iowa; engaged in carpenter's work for a short time; clerked in the office of the recorder of Clayton County; assistant surveyor of Allen County; engaged in railroad building; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Chicago; returned to Des Moines, Iowa, in 1878, where he continued the practice of law; delegate to every Republican State and National convention from 1880 until his death; member of the State house of representatives 1888-1890; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Harrison and Reld in 1892; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1894 and 1900; member of the Republican National Committee from 1896 to 1900; Governor of Iowa from January, 1902, until November 24, 1908, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; unsuccessful candidate for Senator in March, 1908; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1908 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William B. Allison; reelected in 1909, 1914, and again in 1920, and served from November 24, 1908, until his death; President pro tempore of the Senate from May 19, 1919, to March 3, 1925; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1926; died in Des Moines, Iowa, July 30, 1926; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

CUMMINS, John D., a Representative from Ohio; born in Pennsylvania in 1791; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New Philadelphia, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Tuscarawas County 1836-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); died in Milwaukee, Wis., while attending a session of the circuit court, September 11, 1849.

CUNNINGHAM, Francis Alanson, a Representative from Ohio; born in Abbeville District, S. C., November 9, 1804; moved to Eaton, Ohio, in 1823; taught school; studied medicine, and commenced practice in 1829; clerk of the court of Preble County in 1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1846 to the Thirtieth Congress; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and began practice in Eaton; appointed additional paymaster of Volunteers by President Polk December 30, 1847; was commissioned paymaster in the Regular Army March 2, 1849, and was retired from active service August 27, 1863; died in Eaton, Preble County, Ohio, August 16, 1864; interment in Mount Hill Cemetery.

CURLEY, James Michael, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., November 20, 1874; attended the public, grammar, and high schools of Boston; engaged in the real-estate and insurance business; member of the Boston Common Council in 1900 and 1901; served in the State house of representatives in 1902 and 1903; member of the Boston Board of Aldermen 1904-1909; member of the City Council of Boston in 1910 and 1911; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1911, until his resignation, effective February 4, 1914, having been elected mayor of Boston, in which capacity he served from 1914 to 1918; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1917; engaged in banking in 1918; again elected mayor in December, 1921, for a term of four years; resumed banking and is serving as president of the Hibernia Savings Bank, and resides in Jamaica Plain, Boston, Mass.

CURRIE, Gilbert Archibald, a Representative from Michigan; born in Midland Township, Midland County, Mich., September 19, 1882; attended the district school and Midland (Mich.) High School, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1905; was admitted to the Michigan bar the same year and commenced practice in Midland; member of the State house of representatives 1900-1915 and served as speaker in 1913 and 1914; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; engaged in the practice of his profession; and resides in Midland, Mich.

CURRIER, Frank Dunklee, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Canaan, Grafton County, N. H., October 30, 1853; attended the common schools, Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., and Doctor Hixon's School, Lowell, Mass.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874, and commenced practice in Canaan, N. H.; member of the State house of representatives in 1879; secretary of the Republican State committee 1882-1890; clerk of the State senate in 1883 and 1885; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884; member of the State senate in 1887 and served as president of that body; naval officer of customs at the port of Boston, Mass., 1890-1894; speaker of the State house of representatives in 1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; retired from public life and active business pursuits on account of failing health; died in Canaan, N. H., November 25, 1921; interment in the Canaan Street Cemetery.

CURRY, Charles Forrest, a Representative from California; born in Naperville, Du Page County, Ill., March 14, 1858; attended the common schools and the Episcopal Academy, Mineral Point, Wis.; studied one year at the University of Washington at Seattle, and also was educated by a private tutor; moved with his parents to Seattle, Wash., in 1872, and thence to San Francisco, Calif., in 1873; engaged in agricultural pursuits and the cattle, lumber, and mining business; member of the State assembly in 1887 and 1888; was admitted to the bar of San Francisco in 1888; superintendent of Station B post office, San Francisco, 1890-1894; clerk of San Francisco city and county 1894-1898; secretary of state of California 1900-1910; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1910; appointed building and loan commissioner of California in 1911; representative to the Panama Pacific International Exposition for the Pacific Coast and Intermountain States in 1911; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

CURRY, George, a Representative from New Mexico; born on Greenwood plantation, near Bayou Sara, La., April 8, 1863; attended the public schools; moved to the Territory of New Mexico in 1879 and worked on a cattle ranch until 1881; acted as post trader at Fort Stanton; engaged in the mercantile and stock business until 1886; deputy treasurer of Lincoln County in 1886 and 1887; elected county clerk in 1888, county assessor in 1890, and sheriff in 1892; member of the Territorial senate in 1894 and 1896, and served as president of the senate in the latter year; lieutenant of the First Volunteer Cavalry, known as "Roosevelt's Rough Riders," in the Spanish-American War; appointed first lieutenant May 2, 1898; promoted to captain May 7, 1898; mustered out September 15, 1898; sheriff of Otero County in 1899; resigned to join the Eleventh Volunteer Cavalry; lieutenant, provost marshal, and provost judge, with service in the Philippine Islands from December 16, 1899, to March 20, 1901; Governor of the Province of Camarines in 1901; chief of police of the city of Manila, P. I., and organized the first police force on August 1, 1901; Governor of the Province of Isabela 1903-1905; Governor of the Province of Samar from 1905 to 1907, when he resigned; Governor of the Territory of New Mexico 1907-1911; upon the admission of New Mexico as a State into the Union was elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second Congress, and served from January 8, 1912, to March 3, 1913; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1912; engaged in the hotel business in Socorro, N. Mex.; delegate to many State conventions; food director and member of the Council of National Defense during the World War; private secretary to United States Senator Holm O. Bursum, of New Mexico, in 1921 and 1922; member of the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, created to carry out the provisions of various treaties dealing with the boundary between the United States and Mexico, since August 11, 1922; is a resident of Socorro, Socorro County, N. Mex.

CURRY, Jabez Lamar Monroe, a Representative from Alabama; born near Double Branches, Lincoln County, Ga., June 5, 1825; moved with his father to Talladega County, Ala., in 1833; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1843; studied law at Harvard University, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Talladega County in 1845; served in the war with Mexico as a private in the Texas Rangers in 1846, but resigned on account of ill health; member of the State house of representatives in 1847, 1853, and 1855; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, to January 21, 1861, when he withdrew; deputy from Alabama to the Provisional Confederate Congress and a Representative in the First Confederate Congress; during the Civil War served as lieutenant colonel of Cavalry in the Confederate Army; after the war became a Baptist preacher; chosen president of Howard College, Alabama, in 1865; professor in Richmond College, Virginia, 1868-1881; agent of the Peabody and States Funds from 1881 until his death; appointed United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Spain on October 7, 1885, and served until August 6, 1888, when he resigned; appointed ambassador extraordinary on special mission to Spain (the coming of age of the King) February 3, 1902; died in Victoria, near Asheville, N. C., February 12, 1908; interment in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

CURTIN, Andrew Gregg, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bellefonte, Pa., April 22, 1817; pursued preparatory studies in Milton (Pa.) Academy, and was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1837; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Bellefonte; supported General Harrison for the Presidency in 1840; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Taylor and Fillmore in 1848 and of Scott and Graham in 1852; secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and superintendent of public instruction; Governor of Pennsylvania from January 15, 1861, to January 15, 1867; was most active in support of the Union Army throughout the period of the Civil War and in raising and equipping 270 regiments, besides a number of detached companies, that Pennsylvania furnished for the northern armies; United States minister to Russia 1869-1872; delegate to the constitutional convention of Pennsylvania; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of law; died in Bellefonte, Center County, Pa., October 7, 1894; interment in Union Cemetery.

CURTIS, Carlton Brandaga, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Madison County, N. Y., December 17, 1811; pursued an academic course; moved to Mayville, N. Y.; studied law; moved to Erie, Pa., where he continued the study of law, and was admitted to the bar in 1834; moved to Warren, Pa., the same year and commenced practice; member of the State house of representatives 1836-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); affiliated with the Republican Party in 1855; during the Civil War entered the Union Army February 13, 1862, as lieutenant colonel of the Fifty-eighth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, to take effect from January 29, 1862, for a period of three years; promoted to colonel of that regiment May 23, 1863; on account of illness was honorably discharged as colonel July 2, 1863; returned to Warren and practiced law; moved to Erie, Pa., in 1868 and continued the practice of law; also interested in banking and the production of oil, and was one of the originators and builders of the Dunkirk & Venango Railroad; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Erie, Erie County, Pa., March 17, 1883; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Warren, Pa.

CURTIS, Charles, a Representative and a Senator from Kansas; born in Topeka, Kans., January 25, 1830; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1851, and commenced practice in Topeka; prosecuting attorney of Shawnee County 1855-1859; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1893, until January 28, 1907, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; had been reelected to the Sixtieth Congress, but on January 23, 1907, was elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term ending March 3, 1907, caused by the resignation of Joseph E. Burton, and on the same day was reelected for the term commencing March 4, 1907, and served from January 29, 1907, to March 3, 1913; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912; was President pro tempore of the Senate December 4-12, 1911; chairman of the Kansas delegation to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1908; delegate to several Republican State conventions; again elected to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1915; reelected in 1921 for the term ending March 3, 1927; elected Republican whip of the Senate in 1915 and occu-pled that position until elected majority leader of the Senate in 1924, in which capacity he is now serving. Reelected to the Senate in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

CURTIS, Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Windsor, Vt., October 25, 1801; was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1824, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the common council in 1834, and was elected president of the board of assistant aldermen; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination; appointed collector of the port of New York City March 18, 1841, and served in that office until July 7, 1844; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; died in New York City August 2, 1856; place of interment unknown.

CURTIS, George Martin, a Representative from Iowa; born near Oxford, Chenango County, N. Y., April 1, 1844; moved to Ogle County, Ill., in 1856 with his parents, who settled on a farm near Rochelle; attended the common schools and Rock River Seminary, Mount Morris, Ill.; engaged as clerk in Rochelle, Ill., 1863-1865, and subsequently for two years in Cortland, Ill.; moved to Clinton, Iowa, in 1867 and engaged in the manufacture of lumber; one of the incorporators of the City National Bank of Clinton, and served as a director since its organization in 1880; elected vice president of the bank in 1890, and served in that capacity until his death; director in a number of lumber companies; member of the State house of representatives in 1888 and 1889; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1898; resumed his former business activities in Clinton, Clinton County, Iowa, and died there February 9, 1921; interment in Springdale Cemetery.

CURTIS, Newton Martin, a Representative from New York; born in Depewster, St. Lawrence County, N. Y., May 21, 1835; attended the common schools and Gouverneur Wesleyan Seminary; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as captain of Company G, Sixteenth Regiment New York Infantry, May 15, 1861; lieutenant colonel of the One hundred and forty-second Regiment New York Infantry October 23, 1862; colonel January 21, 1863; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers October 28, 1864, "for distinguished services on the enemy's works near New Market, Va."; brigadier general January 15, 1865; brevetted major general of Volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services at the capture of Fort Fisher, N. C."; awarded the congressional medal of honor "for being the first man at Fort Fisher, N. C., January 15, 1865, to pass through the stockade, and for personally leading each assault on the traverses, where he was wounded several times"; mustered out and honorably discharged as brigadier general of Volunteers January 15, 1868; appointed collector of customs, district of Oswegatchie, N. Y., in 1866; appointed special agent of the United States Treasury Department in 1867, which position he resigned in 1880; employed by the Department of Justice 1880-1882; member of the State assembly 1884-1890; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Leslie W. Russell; reelected to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses, and served from November 3, 1891, to March 3, 1897; was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; assistant inspector general of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers 1910; died in New York City January 8, 1910; interment in Ogdensburg Cemetery, Ogdensburg, N. Y.

CURTIS, Samuel Ryan, a Representative from Iowa; born near Champlain, Clinton County, N. Y., February 3, 1805; moved to Ohio, where he attended the public schools; appointed a cadet in the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1827, and was graduated in July, 1831, as brevet second lieutenant in the Seventh Infantry; resigned in June, 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Zanesville, Ohio; chief engineer of the Muskingum River improvements from April, 1837, to May, 1839; served in the war with Mexico as adjutant general of Ohio and colonel of the Third Regiment Ohio Infantry; honorably discharged June 24, 1847; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, to August 4, 1861, when he resigned; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; during the Civil War served in the Union Army; appointed colonel of the Second Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry June 1, 1861; brigadier general of Volunteers May 17, 1861; major general of Volunteers March 21, 1862; mustered out April 30, 1866; appointed United States peace commissioner to treat with the Indians in 1865; appointed commissioner to examine and report on the condition of the Union Pacific Railroad, and served from November, 1865, to April, 1866; died in Council Bluffs, Iowa, December 25, 1866; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Keokuk, Iowa.

CUSACK, Thomas, a Representative from Illinois; born in Kilrush, County Clare, Ireland, October 5, 1858; emigrated to the United States in 1861 with his parents, who settled in New York City; after the death of his parents moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1863; attended private and public schools; learned the sign-painting trade; organized an outdoor advertising company in 1875; member of the board of education 1891-1898 and served as vice president of the board 1896-1898; served as colonel on the staff of Gov. John P. Altgeld 1893-1897; member of the Democratic State central committee 1896-1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); was not a candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed his former business pursuits in Chicago, Ill.; retired from political life and active business pursuits in 1924; died in Chicago, Ill., November 19, 1926; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

CUSHING, Caleb, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Salisbury, Mass., January 17, 1800; was graduated from Harvard University in 1817; studied law, and was admitted to the bar at Newburyport in 1823; member of the State house of representatives in 1825; served in the State senate in 1827; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1833 and 1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; appointed by President Tyler envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to China on May 8, 1843, and also commissioner on the same date; resigned March 4, 1845; while serving as commissioner to China was empowered to negotiate a treaty of navigation and commerce with Japan; again a member of the State house of representatives 1845 and 1846; colonel of a Massachusetts regiment which served in the war with Mexico; appointed brigadier general by President Polk April 14, 1847; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1847 and again in 1848; again elected to the State house of representatives in 1850; offered the position as attorney general of Massachusetts in 1851, but declined; mayor of Newburyport, Mass., in 1851 and 1852; appointed judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts in 1852; appointed by President Pierce Attorney General of the United States on March 7, 1853, and served until March 3, 1857; chairman of the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore and Charleston in 1860; appointed by President Johnson a commissioner to codify the laws of the United States and served from 1866 to 1870; instructed on November 25, 1868, in concert with the minister resident to Colombia, to negotiate a treaty for a ship canal across the Isthmus; appointed in 1872 by President Grant counsel for the United States before the Geneva Tribunal of Arbitration on the Alabama claims; nominated by President Grant in 1874 to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, but was not confirmed by the Senate; United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Spain from January 6, 1874, to April 9, 1877; died in Newburyport, Essex County, Mass., January 2, 1879; interment in Highland Cemetery.

CUSHING, Thomas, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 24, 1725; attended Boston Latin School; was graduated from Harvard College in 1744; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Boston; member of the provincial assembly 1761-1774 and served as speaker; delegate to the Provincial Congress in 1774; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1776; commissary general of Massachusetts in 1775; declined to be a candidate for election to the Continental Congress in 1779; Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts 1780-1788 and acting governor in 1785; delegate to the State constitutional convention which ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; one of the founders of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; died in Boston, Mass., February 28, 1788; interment in Granary Burial Ground.

CUSHMAN, Francis Wellington, a Representative from Washington; born in Brighton, Washington County, Iowa, May 8, 1867; attended the public schools in Brighton and Pleasant Plain Academy in Pleasant Plain, Jefferson County, Iowa; moved to Albany County, Wyo., in 1885; employed as a ranch hand and as a teacher; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1889, and commenced practice in Bassett, Rock County, Nebr.; moved to Tacoma, Wash., in 1891 and continued the practice of law; member of Troop B, First Cavalry, Washington National Guard, 1896-1903; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in New York City, July 6, 1909; the remains were cremated and the ashes interred in Tacoma Cemetery, Tacoma, Wash.

CUSHMAN, John Paine, a Representative from New York; born in Pomfret, Conn., March 8, 1784; attended the common schools and Plainfield Academy, and was graduated from Yale College in 1807; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and commenced practice in Troy, N. Y.; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); was not a candidate for renomination in 1818; resumed the practice of law; regent of the State University from April, 1830, until April, 1834, when he resigned; trustee of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., from 1833 until his death; recorder of Troy, N. Y., 1834-1838; judge of the circuit court of the third circuit 1838-1844; engaged in the real-estate business and was interested in civic improvements; died in Troy, N. Y., September 16, 1848; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

CUSHMAN, Joshua, a Representative from Massachusetts and from Maine; born in Halifax, Mass., April 11, 1761; served in the Revolutionary Army from April 1, 1777, until March, 1780; was graduated from Harvard University in 1787; studied theology, was ordained to the ministry, and licensed to preach; located in Winslow, Me. (then a district of Massachusetts), and was pastor of the Congregational Church for nearly twenty years; served in the Massachusetts Senate in 1810; member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1811 and 1812; elected as a Democrat from Massachusetts to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); when the State of Maine was separated from Massachusetts and admitted as a State into the Union was elected a Representative from Maine to the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1825); served in the Maine Senate in 1828; member of the Maine House of Representatives in 1834; died in Augusta, Me., January 27, 1834; interment in a tomb on the State grounds, Augusta, Me.

CUSHMAN, Samuel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., June 8, 1783; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Portsmouth; served as judge of the Portsmouth police court; county treasurer 1823-1828; member of the State house of representatives 1833-1835; nominated by President Jackson to be United States attorney for the district of New Hampshire, but was not confirmed; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1839); United States Navy officer at Portsmouth 1845-1849; died in Portsmouth, N. H., May 20, 1851; interment in Proprietors' Burial Ground.

CUTCHEON, Byron M., a Representative from Michigan; born in Pembroke, Merrimack County, N. H., May 11, 1836; attended the common schools and Pembroke Academy; taught school in Pembroke for several years; moved to Ypsilanti, Mich., in 1855; principal of Birmingham Academy, Oakland County, in 1857; attended Ypsilanti Seminary, and was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1861; professor of ancient languages in the Ypsilanti High School 1861 and 1862; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army in 1862, and served in the Twentieth Regiment Michigan Infantry, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel; brevetted colonel of Volunteers October 18, 1864, "for gallant service in the Battles of the Wilderness and Spotsylvania Court House, Va."; commissioned colonel of the Twenty-seventh Regiment Michigan Infantry November 12, 1864; owing to the death of his superior officer he commanded the Second Brigade, Second Division, Ninth Army Corps, from October 16, 1864, until his resignation on March 6, 1865; brevet brigadier general of United States Volunteers March 13, 1865; was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1866; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Ionia, Mich.; president of the Michigan Soldiers' Home Commission in 1863 and 1867; moved to Manistee, Mich., in 1867; member of the board of control of railroads of Michigan 1867-1883; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; city attorney of Manistee, Mich., 1870-1873; prosecuting attorney of Manistee County, Mich., in 1878 and 1874; regent of Michigan University 1875-1881; postmaster of Manistee, Mich., 1877-1888; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; awarded a medal of honor by Congress June 29, 1891, "for distinguished gallantry at the Battle of Horseshoe Bend, Ky., May 10, 1863"; appointed civilian member of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications by President Harrison in July, 1891, and served until March 25, 1895; editorial writer for the Detroit Daily Tribune and Detroit Journal 1895-1897; resumed the practice of law in Grand Rapids, Mich.; died in Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Mich., April 12, 1908; interment in Highland Cemetery.

CUTHBERT, Alfred (brother of John Alfred Cuthbert), a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., December 23, 1785; instructed by private tutors, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar about 1805, but did not practice; captain of a company of volunteer infantry in 1809; member of the State house of representatives 1810-1813; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William W. Bibb; reelected to the Fourteenth Congress, and served from December 13, 1813, to November 8, 1816, when he resigned; served in the State senate 1817-1819; elected to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1827); was not a candidate for renomination in 1826; member of the State convention in 1832; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Forsyth; reelected in 1837, and served from January 12, 1835, to March 3, 1843; was not a candidate for reelection in 1843; retired from active business pursuits and lived on his estate near Monticello, Jasper County, Ga., until his death on July 9, 1856; interment in Summerville Cemetery, Augusta, Ga.

CUTHBERT, John Alfred (brother of Alfred Cuthbert), a Representative from Georgia; born in Savannah, Ga., June 8, 1788; was graduated from Princeton College in 1805; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and commenced practice in Eatonton, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives in 1811, 1813, and 1817; commanded a volunteer company during the War of 1812; served in the State senate in 1814 and 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); appointed by President Monroe a commissioner to treat with the Creek and Cherokee Indians in 1822; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1822; secretary of the State senate in 1830, 1833, and 1834; editor and subsequently proprietor of the Federal Union at Milledgeville, Ga., 1831-1837; moved to Mobile, Ala., in 1837 and practiced law; elected judge of the county court of Mobile County in 1840, and appointed by the governor judge of the circuit court of the same county in 1852; after retiring from the bench he continued the practice of his profession until his death at "Sans Souci," on Mon Luis Island, near Mobile, Ala., September 22, 1881; interment in a private burying ground on Mon Luis Island.

CUTLER, Augustus William (great-grandson of Silas Condict), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Morristown, Morris County, N. J., October 22, 1827; spent the early part of his life on a farm; attended the common schools and Yale College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in Morristown, N. J.; prosecutor of the pleas for Morris County 1856-1861; elected president of the board of education in 1870; member of the State senate 1871-1874; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1873; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law at Morristown; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1890 to the Forty-seventh Congress, and again in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; died in Morristown, N. J., January 1, 1897; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

CUTLER, Manasseh, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Killingly, Conn., May 13, 1742; was prepared for college by private teacher and was graduated from Yale College in 1765; taught school in Dedham, Mass., for a short time; engaged in the whaling business at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, Mass.; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1767, but did not practice; studied theology, and was licensed to preach in 1770; ordained to the ministry by the Congregational Society at Hamilton, Mass., September 11, 1771; appointed chaplain of Colonel Francis's regiment September 5, 1776, and of General Titcomb's brigade in 1778; began the study of medicine the same year and became a skilled physician; taught navigation and held high rank for his knowledge of botany and astronomy; one of the projectors of the Ohio Company in 1787 formed for the purpose of colonizing the new Territory; drafted the ordinance of 1787; appointed judge of the United States court for Ohio in 1796 by President Washington, but declined; member of the State house of representatives in 1800; elected as a Federalist to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1805); was not a candidate for renomination in 1804; engaged in literary pursuits; died in Hamilton, Mass., July 28, 1823; interment in the Main Street Cemetery.

OUTLER, William Parker, a Representative from Ohio; born in Marietta, Ohio, July 12, 1812; attended the common schools and Ohio University at Athens; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1844–1847 and served as speaker during the last term; trustee Marietta College 1845–1889; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850; president of the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad 1850–1880; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; resumed agricultural pursuits and also engaged in railroad building; died in Marietta, Washington County, Ohio, April 11, 1889; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

CUTTING, Francis Brockholst, a Representative from New York; born in New York City August 6, 1804; attended Bensch School and was also tutored privately; studied law in the Litchfield (Conn.) Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the State assembly in 1836 and 1837; was not a candidate for reelection; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1836 to the Twenty-fifth Congress; member of the board of aldermen in 1843; city recorder; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; resumed the practice of law; died in New York City June 26, 1870; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

CUTTING, John Tyler, a Representative from California; born in Westport, Essex County, N. Y., September 7, 1844; was left an orphan at 10 years of age, when he journeyed westward; resided in Wisconsin and Illinois from 1855 to 1860; worked on a farm, and while employed as a clerk in a mercantile establishments attended the public schools of Illinois; enlisted in Taylor's Chicago Battery on the outbreak of the Civil War and served until July 20, 1862; discharged for disability, the result of service in the field; reenlisted January 4, 1864, in the Chicago Mercantile Battery, in which he served until the close of the war; moved to California in 1877 and established a wholesale fruit and commission business; was a member of the National Guard of California, and subsequently assisted in the organization of the Coast Guard, of which he later became brigadier general in command of the Second Brigade; identified himself with State and National politics; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891–March 3, 1893); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1892; returned to the East in 1894 and settled in New York City, where he became interested in the automobile industry; retired to his old home in Westport, N. Y., in 1907; died in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, whither he had gone to recuperate his health, on November 24, 1911; interment in Hillside Cemetery, Westport, N. Y.

CUTTS, Charles, a Senator from New Hampshire; born in Portsmouth, N. H., January 31, 1769; was graduated from Harvard University in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1795, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives 1803–1810, and served as speaker in 1807, 1808, and 1810; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Nahum Parker, and served from June 21, 1810, to March 3, 1813; subsequently appointed to fill the vacancy occurring at the close of his term, and served from April 2, 1813, to June 10, 1813, when a successor was elected; elected Secretary of the United States Senate, and served from October 11, 1814, to December 12, 1825; moved to Fairfax County, Va., and settled near Lewinsville, Va., where he died January 25, 1846; interment in a private cemetery near Lewinsville, Fairfax County, Va.

CUTTS, Marsena Edgar, a Representative from Iowa; born in Orwell, Addison County, Vt., May 22, 1833; attended the common schools of his native village and St. Lawrence Academy, Potsdam, N. Y.; moved to Sheboygan Falls, Wis., in 1853; taught school for two years, at the same time studying law; moved to Oskaloosa, Iowa, in June, 1855, and completed his law studies; was admitted to the bar in August and commenced practice in Montezuma, Iowa; prosecuting attorney of Poweshiek County in 1857 and 1858; member of the State house of representatives at the extra session in May, 1861; served in the State senate from January, 1864, until August, 1866, when he resigned and returned to Oskaloosa; again a member of the State house of representatives 1870–1872; attorney general of Iowa 1872–1877; presented credentials as a Republican Member elect to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1883 (the closing day of Congress), when he was succeeded by John C. Cook, who contested the election; elected to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from March 4, 1883, until his death in Oskaloosa, Mahaska County, Iowa, September 1, 1883, before the assembling of the Congress; interment in Forest Cemetery.

CUTTS, Richard, a Representative from Massachusetts; born on Cutts Island, Saco, Mass. (now Maine), June 28, 1771; attended rural and private schools; was graduated from Harvard University in 1790; studied law; engaged extensively in navigation and commercial pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1799 and 1800; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1801–March 3, 1813); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1812 to the Thirteenth Congress; superintendent general of military supplies 1813–1817; appointed Second Comptroller of the United States Treasury on March 6, 1817, and served until March 21, 1829; died in Washington, D. C., April 7, 1845; interment in St. John's Graveyard; reinterment in Oak Hill Cemetery in 1857.

DAGGETT, David, a Senator from Connecticut; born in Attleboro, Mass., December 31, 1764; pursued preparatory studies and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1788; taught in a private school and also in the Hopkins Grammar School; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1786, and commenced practice in New Haven, Conn.; member of the State house of representatives 1791–1796, and served as speaker 1794–1796; member of the State council, or upper house, in 1797; Federalist presidential elector in 1804, 1808, and 1812; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1806; again served in the State council from 1808 until 1813, when he was elected a Senator of the United States; State's attorney for New Haven County 1811-1813; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chauncey Goodrich, and served from May 13, 1813, to March 3, 1819; was not a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; became an associate instructor in the New Haven Law School in 1824; was appointed in 1826 to the Kent professorship of law in Yale College, in which capacity he served until 1848; judge of the State supreme court 1826-1832, and then served as chief judge until 1884; mayor of New Haven in 1828, and held other municipal offices; retired from public life; died in New Haven, Conn., April 12, 1851; interment in the Grove Street Cemetery.

DAGGETT, Rollin Mallory, a Representative from Nevada; born in Richville, St. Lawrence County, N. Y., February 22, 1831; moved with his father to northwestern Ohio in 1837; attended school in Defiance, where he also learned the printing business; crossed the plains to the Pacific coast in 1849; followed mining until 1852, and in that year started the Golden Era at San Francisco; with others established the San Francisco Mirror in 1860, and united it with the San Francisco Herald; moved to Nevada in 1862 and settled in Virginia City; elected a member of the Territorial council in 1863; became connected editorially in 1864 with the Territorial Enterprise; clerk of the United States district court 1867-1876; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Hayes and Wheeler in 1876, and was selected as the messenger to deliver the electoral vote of the State of Nevada; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; appointed United States minister resident to Hawaii July 1, 1882, and served until April 10, 1885, when he resigned; engaged in editorial work in San Francisco, Calif., until his death there November 12, 1901; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

DAHLE, Herman Bjorn, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Perry, Dane County, Wis., March 30, 1855; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1877; moved to Mount Vernon, Wis., in 1877 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Mount Horeb in 1887, where he continued in the mercantile business and also, in 1890, engaged in banking; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1903); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1902; resumed mercantile pursuits and banking in Mount Horeb, Dane County, Wis., where he died April 25, 1920; interment in the Lutheran Cemetery.

DAILY, Samuel Gordon, a Delegate from the Territory of Nebraska; born in Trimble County, Ky., in 1823; moved with his parents to Jefferson County, Ind., in 1824; attended the common schools and Hanover (Ind.) College; studied law, was admitted to the bar at Indianapolis, and commenced practice in Madison, Ind.; unsuccessful candidate of the Free-Soll Party for election to the State legislature; moved to Indianapolis and engaged in the cooperative business; moved to Nebraska Territory in 1857 and settled in Peru, Nemaha County; built a sawmill on the Missouri River; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1858; successfully contested as a Republican the election of Experience Estabrook to the Thirty-sixth Congress; reelected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses, and served from May 18, 1860, to March 3, 1865; appointed deputy collector of customs in New Orleans at the special request of President Lincoln in March, 1865, which position he held until his death in New Orleans, La., August 15, 1866; interment in Walnut Grove Cemetery, Brownville, Nemaha County, Nebr.; reinterment in Mount Vernon Cemetery, Peru, Nebr., in 1890.

DALE, Harry Howard, a Representative from New York; born in New York City December 3, 1868; moved with his parents to Brooklyn in 1870; attended the public schools of Brooklyn and the New York Law School; was admitted to the bar May 14, 1891, and commenced practice in Brooklyn, N. Y.; member of the State assembly; attorney for the State comptroller in 1911 and 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1913, to January 6, 1919, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DALE, Porter Hinman, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born at Island Pond, Essex County, Vt., March 1, 1867; attended the public schools and Eastman Business College; studied in Philadelphia and Boston and for two years with the Shakespearean scholar and actor, James E. Murdoch; taught in Bates College, Lewiston, Me.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1890, and commenced practice at Island Pond with his father; was admitted to practice before the United States courts in 1900; chief deputy collector of customs at Island Pond from 1897 to 1910, when he resigned; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1898 and 1919; appointed judge of the Brighton municipal court by Governor Mead in 1910; member of the State senate 1910-1914; served in the State militia and as colonel on the staff of Governor Grout; before election to Congress was interested in the lumber, electric, and banking business; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, and Sixty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1915, until August 11, 1923, when he resigned to become a candidate for the United States Senate; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate on November 7, 1923, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William P. Dillingham in the term ending March 3, 1927. Reelected in 1926 for the term ending March 3, 1933.

DALE, Thomas Henry, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Daleville, Lackawanna County, Pa., June 12, 1846; attended the public schools and Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa.; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army in 1863; after discharge from the service engaged in business as a coal operator; also engaged in the wholesale beef business; interested in various other business enterprises in Scranton, Pa.; instrumental in organizing the Scranton Board of Trade and was its president for several terms; chairman of the Republican county committee for several years; prothonotary of Lackawanna County 1882-1892; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress; president of the Anthracite Trust Co., Scranton, Pa.; died in Daleville, Pa., August 21, 1912; interment in Dunmore Cemetery, Scranton, Pa.

DALLAS, George Mifflin, a Senator from Pennsylvania and a Vice President of the United States; born in Philadelphia, Pa., July 10, 1792; was graduated from Princeton College in 1810; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1813; private secretary to Albert Gallatin, minister to Russia; returned in 1814 and commenced the practice of law in New York City; was solicitor of the United States Bank 1815-1817; returned to Philadelphia, and was appointed deputy attorney general in 1817; mayor of Philadelphia in 1829; United States district attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania 1829-1831; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Isaac D. Barnard, and served from December 13, 1831, to March 3, 1833; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1832; resumed the practice of law; attorney general of the State 1833-1835; appointed by President Van Buren envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Russia, and served from March 7, 1837, to July 29, 1839, when he was recalled at his own request; elected Vice President of the United States on the Democratic ticket in 1844 with James K. Polk, and served from March 4, 1845, to March 3, 1849; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain by President Pierce, and served from February 4, 1856 to May 16, 1861; returned to Philadelphia, and died there December 31, 1864; interment in St. Peter's Churchyard.

DALLINGER, Frederick William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Mass., October 2, 1871; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Cambridge Latin School in 1889 and from Harvard University in 1893; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1897, and commenced practice in Boston; member of the State house of representatives in 1894 and 1895; served in the State senate 1896-1899; served as public administrator of Middlesex County 1897-1928; president of the Cambridge Board of Trade; lecturer on government at Harvard University in 1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1925); did not seek renomination in 1924 on account of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States Senator; subsequently elected to the Sixty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Harry I. Thayer, and served from November 2, 1926, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DALTON, Tristram, a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Newbury, Mass., May 28, 1738; attended Dummer Academy, Byfield, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard College in 1755; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but did not practice; engaged in mercantile pursuits; delegate from Massachusetts to the convention of committees of New England Provinces which met in Providence, R. I., December 25, 1776; member of the State house of representatives 1782-1788 and served as speaker in 1784 and 1785; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1791; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1790; surveyor of the port of Boston from November 10, 1814, until his death in Boston, Mass., May 30, 1817; interment in the churchyard of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newburyport, Essex County, Mass.

DALY, William Davis, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Jersey City, N. J., June 4, 1851; attended the public schools; from the age of fourteen until he was nineteen was employed as an iron molder; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874, and commenced practice in Hudson County, N. J.; assistant United States district attorney for New Jersey 1885-1888; member of the State house of assembly 1889-1891; judge of the district court of Hoboken from 1891 until his resignation in 1892; member of the State senate 1892-1898; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896; chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1896 and member of the State committee 1896-1898; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in Hoboken, N. J., July 31, 1900; interment in New York Bay Cemetery.

DAIZELL, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New York City April 19, 1845; moved with his parents to Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1847; attended the common schools and the Western University of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Pa.; was graduated from Yale College with the class of 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and to the twelve succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1912; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904 and 1908; Regent of the Smithsonian Institution 1906-1918; withdrew from public life and business activities and resided in Washington, D. C.; died while on a visit to Altadena, Los Angeles County, Calif., October 2, 1927; interment in Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DAMBELL, William Shapleigh, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Portsmouth, N. H., November 29, 1809; attended the public schools; learned the art of printing and became the proprietor of a large printing establishment in Boston; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); suffered a paralytic stroke before the expiration of his term; was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; resumed business activities; died in Dedham, Norfolk County, Mass., May 17, 1860; interment in Forest Hills Cemetery.

DANA, Amasa, a Representative from New York; born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., October 10, 1792; attended private schools and Dana Academy, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; studied law in Owego, N. Y., was admitted to the bar in 1817, and practiced; moved to Ithaca, N. Y., in 1821 and continued the practice of law; district attorney of Tompkins County 1823-1837; member of the State assembly in 1828 and 1829; president and trustee of the village of Ithaca in 1835, 1836, and 1839; elected judge of the court of common pleas of Tompkins County in 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; resumed the practice of law; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); resumed the practice of his profession and also engaged in banking; died in Ithaca, Tompkins County, N. Y., December 24, 1897; interment in the Ithaca City Cemetery.

DANA, Francis, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Charlestown, Mass., June 13, 1743; was graduated from Harvard College in 1762; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Boston in 1767; delegate to the Provincial Congress in 1774; spent two years in England endeavoring to adjust differences between Great Britain and the American Colonies; State councillor 1776-1780; Member of the Continental Congress 1776-1778 and was one of the signers of the Articles of Confederation July 9, 1778; elected September 28, 1779, secretary to accompany John Adams, who was appointed a commissioner to negotiate a treaty of peace with Great Britain and a treaty of commerce with Holland; appointed December 19, 1780, minister resident in Russia, but was never received as such; again a Member of the Continental Congress in 1794; judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts 1785-1791; appointed chief justice November 29, 1791, and served for fifteen years; member of the State convention which adopted the Federal Constitution in 1788; presidential elector in 1788, 1792, 1800, and 1808; a founder of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; died in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Mass., April 25, 1811; interment in the Old Cambridge Cemetery.

DANA, Judah, a Senator from Maine; born in Pomfret, Conn., April 25, 1772; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1795; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1798, and practiced in Fryeburg, Me. (at that time a district of Massachusetts); prosecuting attorney of Oxford County 1805-1811 and judge of probate 1811-1822; judge of the court of common pleas 1811-1823; was also a circuit judge; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1819 at which a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for Maine; member of the Maine Executive Council in 1834; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ether Shepley, and served from December 7, 1836, to March 3, 1837, when a successor was elected and qualified; died in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Me., December 27, 1845; interment in the Village Cemetery.

DANA, Samuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Groton, Mass., June 26, 1767; attended the district school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1789, and commenced practice in Groton; appointed postmaster of Groton January 1, 1801; member of the State house of representatives in 1803; attorney for Middlesex County 1807-1811; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William M. Richardson, and served from September 22, 1814, to March 3, 1815; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1814 to the Fourteenth Congress; member of the State senate 1805-1812 and 1817 and served as its president in 1807, 1811, and 1812; chief justice of the court of common pleas in 1811 and 1812; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1820; again a member of the State house of representatives 1825-1827; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Charlestown, Mass., November 20, 1835; interment in Groton Cemetery.

DANA, Samuel Whittlesey, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Wallingford, Conn., February 13, 1760; pursued academic studies, and was graduated from Yale College in 1775; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1778, and practiced in Middletown, Conn.; member of the general assembly 1789-1796; elected as a Federalist to the Fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Uriah Tracy; reelected to the Fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from January 3, 1797, to May 10, 1810, when he resigned to become Senator; elected in 1810 to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Hillhouse; reelected in 1815, and served from May 10, 1810, to March 3, 1821; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1798 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against William Blount, a Senator from Tennessee; mayor of Middletown, Conn., from 1822 until his death; accepted in 1825 the office of presiding judge of the Middlesex County court, which he also held until his death in Middletown July 21, 1830; interment in the Washington Street Cemetery.

DANE, Joseph, a Representative from Maine; born in Beverly, Essex County, Mass., October 25, 1778; received his early education in Beverly, Mass.; attended Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and commenced practice in Kennebunk, Me. (until 1820 a district of Massachusetts); delegate to the Massachusetts constitutional conventions in 1816 and 1819; chosen a member of the Executive Council of Massachusetts in 1817, but declined the office; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Holmes, a Representative from Massachusetts but residing in the new State of Maine, thus becoming the first Representative from Maine; reelected to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from November 6, 1820, to March 8, 1823; was not a candidate for renomination in 1822; member of the Maine House of Representatives in 1824, 1825, 1832, 1833, 1839, and 1840; served in the State senate in 1829; declined to serve as executive councillor of Maine in 1841; died in Kennebunk, York County, Me., May 1, 1858; interment in Hope Cemetery, Hope, Knox County, Me.

DANE, Nathan, a Delegate from Massachusetts; born in Ipswich, Mass., December 29, 1752; was graduated from Harvard College in 1778; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Beverly, Mass., in 1782; member of the State house of representatives 1782-1785; Member of the Continental Congress 1785-1788; served in the State senate in 1790, 1791, and 1794-1797; judge of the court of common pleas for Essex County in 1794; commissioner to codify the laws of Massachusetts in 1795; presidential elector on the Clinton ticket in 1812; was selected the same year to make a new publication of the statutes; member of the Hartford convention of 1814; elected delegate to the State constitutional convention of 1820, but did not serve; died in Beverly, Essex County, Mass., February 15, 1835; interment in the Central Cemetery.

DANFORD, Lorenzo, a Representative from Ohio; born in Washington Township, Belmont County, Ohio, October 18, 1829; attended the common schools and for two years a college at Waynesburg, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar at St. Clairsville, Belmont County, Ohio, in September, 1854, and commenced practice there; presidential elector on the American Party ticket of Fillmore and Donelson in 1856; prosecuting attorney of Belmont County from 1857 to 1861, when he resigned to enlist in the Union Army; during the Civil War enlisted in the Fifteenth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry as a private; commissioned lieutenant and later captain and served until honorably discharged in August, 1864; resumed the practice of his profession in St. Clairsville; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864 and of Harrison and Reld in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of his profession; elected to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in St. Clairsville, Ohio, June 19, 1899; interment in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery.

DANFORTH, Henry Gold, a Representative from New York; born in the town of Gates (now part of Rochester), Monroe County, N. Y., June 14, 1854; attended private schools in Rochester, N. Y., and Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.; was graduated from the collegiate department of Harvard University in 1877 and from the law department in 1880; was admitted to the bar in the latter year and commenced practice in Rochester; director of the Rochester General Hospital 1880-1918; member of the board of managers of the New York State Reformatory, Elmira, N. Y., 1900-1902; trustee of the Reynolds Library 1906-1918; president of the Rochester Bar Association in 1909; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1916; resumed the practice of law; died in Rochester, N. Y., April 8, 1918; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

DANIEL, Henry, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Louisa County, Va., March 15, 1798; attended the public schools; moved to Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Mount Sterling, Montgomery County, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1812; served in the War of 1812 as captain of the Eighth Regiment United States Infantry 1813-1815; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1819 and 1826; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1832 to the Twenty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Mount Sterling, Ky., October 5, 1873; interment in Macphelah Cemetery.

DANIEL, John Reeves Jones, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Halifax, Halifax County, N. C., January 13, 1802; instructed privately at home; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Halifax, N. C.; member of the State house of commons 1832-1834; elected attorney general of North Carolina in 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law; moved to Louisiana in 1860 and settled near Shreveport; continued the practice of law and also engaged in planting; died in Shreveport, Caddo Parish, La., June 22, 1868.

DANIEL, John Warwick, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Lynchburg, Va., September 5, 1842; attended private schools, Lynchburg College, and Dr. Gessner Harrison's University School; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in May, 1861, as second lieutenant in the Provisional Army of Virginia and drillmaster in the Twenty-seventh Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade; became second lieutenant and later first lieutenant of Company A, Eleventh Virginia Infantry, also adjutant of the same regiment; wounded in the first Battle of Manassas and at Boonsboro, Md.; raised a company of Cavalry and was elected captain in 1862, but the conscription act of the Confederate Congress remanded officers and men to their old regiments; major and chief of staff of Gen. Jubal A. Early until crippled in the Battle of the Wilderness May 6, 1864; studied law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice at Lynchburg, Va.; published his legal work on Attachments in 1869 and on Negotiable Instruments in 1876; member of the State house of delegates 1869-1872; served in the State senate 1875-1881; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; delegate at large to the Democratic National Conventions in 1880, 1888, 1892, 1896, and 1900; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); did not seek renomination in 1886, having been elected Senator; elected in 1885 to the United States Senate; reelected in 1891, 1897, 1904, and 1910, but the credentials of his last election were never presented to the Senate owing to his demise before the commencement of the session; served from March 4, 1887, until his death in Lynchburg, Va., June 29, 1910; interment in Spring Hill Cemetery.

DANIELL, Warren Fisher, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Newton Lower Falls, Middlesex County, Mass., June 20, 1826; attended the common schools; moved with his parents to Franklin, Merrimack County, N. H., in 1834; continued his studies until fourteen years of age, when he entered his father's paper mill as an apprentice; constructed a paper mill at Waterville, Me., in 1852, and in the following year managed a similar mill in Pepperell, Mass.; returned to Franklin, N. H., in 1854 and engaged in the manufacture of paper; also engaged in agricultural pursuits, the breeding of blooded stock, and banking; member of the State house of representatives in 1861, 1862, and 1870-1877; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; served in the State senate in 1873 and 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; continued his activities in the manufacture of paper at Franklin, N. H., until 1898, being interested in the Winnepesaukee Paper Co.; died in Franklin, N. H., July 30, 1913; interment in Franklin Cemetery.

DANIELS, Charles, a Representative from New York; born in New York City March 24, 1825; at an early age he was taken to Toledo, Ohio, and learned his father's trade of shoemaker; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1842, where he studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1847 and commenced practice in Buffalo; elected associate justice of the State supreme court in 1863; appointed by Governor Seymour to hold the office of justice of that court until January 1, 1864, when the term to which he had been elected commenced; twice reelected, and served until December, 1891, when he reached the age limit and was retired; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; died in Buffalo, N. Y., December 20, 1897; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

DANIELS, Milton John, a Representative from California; born in Cobleskill, Schoharie County, N. Y., April 18, 1838; attended the public schools; when a boy moved to Bradford County, Pa., and engaged with his father in the lumber business; moved to Rochester, Minn., in 1856; appointed deputy postmaster of Rochester in 1859; entered Middlebury Academy, Wyoming County, N. Y., in 1860; left the academy and volunteered April 23, 1861, for service in the Civil War; returned to Minnesota and raised a company in August, 1862, and was commissioned second lieutenant of Company F, Ninth Regiment Minnesota Volunteers; took command of the Third Minnesota Mounted Infantry in the Indian war of 1862; joined his company at St. Louis in 1863, and was commissioned captain; in March, 1865, commissioned captain and commissary of subsistence by President Lincoln and assigned to duty by General Canby at Baton Rouge, La.; commissioned major by brevet by President Johnson in 1865; mustered out and returned home in January, 1866; engaged in banking; member of the State house of representatives 1862-1866; served in the State senate 1866-1890; president of the Minnesota State Board of Asylums for the Insane 1882-1888; moved to California in 1889 and located in Riverside; engaged in horticultural pursuits; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); was not a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed his occupation as horticulturist in Riverside, Riverside County, Calif., until his death there December 1, 1914; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DANNER, Joel Buchanan, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Liberty, Md., in 1804; engaged in the hardware business and carriage building at Gettysburg, Pa.; justice of the peace; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Nes, and served from December 2, 1850, to March 3, 1851; resumed his former business pursuits in Gettysburg, Pa., where he died July 29, 1885; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DARBY, Ezra, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Scotch Plains, N. J., June 7, 1768; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; held offices as chosen freeholder, assessor, and justice of the peace from 1800 to 1804; member of the State house of assembly 1802-1804; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1805, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1806; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

DARBY, John Fletcher, a Representative from Missouri; born in Person County, N. C., December 10, 1803; attended the public schools; moved with his father to Missouri in 1818, where he worked on a farm; moved to Frankfort, Ky., in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and afterwards practiced in St. Louis, Mo.; mayor of St. Louis 1835-1841; member of the Missouri Senate in 1838; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); returned to St. Louis and engaged in banking; died near Pendleton Station, Warren County, Mo., May 11, 1882; interment in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo.

DARGAN, Edmund Strother, a Representative from Alabama; born near Wadesboro, Montgomery County, N. C., April 15, 1805; pursued preparatory studies at home; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Wadesboro in 1829; moved to Washington, Ala., where he commenced the practice of law and was for several years a justice of the peace; moved to Montgomery in 1833 and to Mobile in 1841; judge of the circuit court, Mobile district, in 1841 and 1842; served in the State senate in 1844; mayor of Mobile in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1846; associate justice of the State supreme court in 1847, and in 1849 became chief justice; resigned in December, 1852, and resumed the practice of law; delegate to the State convention in 1861 and voted for the ordinance of secession; Member of the first Confederate House of Representatives; resumed the practice of law in Mobile, Ala., and died there November 22, 1879; interment in Magnolia Cemetery.

DARGAN, George William (great-grandson of Lemuel Benton), a Representative from South Carolina; born at "Sleepy Hollow," near Darlington, Darlington County, S. C., May 11, 1841; attended the schools of his native county and the South Carolina Military Academy; served in the Confederate Army throughout the Civil War; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and practiced in Darlington, S. C.; elected to the State house of representatives in 1877; solicitor of the fourth judicial circuit of South Carolina in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of law; died in Darlington, S. C., June 29, 1898; interment in the First Baptist Churchyard.

DARLING, Mason, C., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Elmhurst, Mass., May 18, 1801; attended the public schools; taught school in the State of New York; studied medicine, was graduated from the Berkshire Medical College in 1824, and practiced medicine for thirteen years; moved to Wisconsin in 1837 and was one of the original settlers at Fond du Lac; member of the Territorial legislative assembly 1840-1846; member of the Territorial council in 1847 and 1848; upon the admission of Wisconsin as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth Congress, and served from June 9, 1848, to March 3, 1849; resumed the practice of medicine and was a dealer in real estate at Fond du Lac until 1864, when he moved to Chicago; was elected the first mayor of Fond du Lac in 1852; died in Chicago, Ill., March 12, 1886; interment in Rienzi Cemetery, Fond du Lac, Wis.

DARLING, William Augustus, a Representative from New York; born in Newark, N. J., December 27, 1817; attended the public schools; moved to New York City, where he was employed as a clerk and afterwards engaged in the wholesale grocery business; director of the Mercantile Library Association; served eleven years as a private and officer in the New York National Guard; deputy receiver of taxes for the city of New York 1847-1854; served as president of the Third Avenue Railroad 1854-1865; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1866 to the Fortieth Congress; unsuccessful candidate for mayor of New York City in 1866; served as collector of internal revenue for the ninth district of New York from April 26, 1869, to April 17, 1871, and as appraiser from April 18, 1871, to April 1, 1876; engaged in banking and served as president of the Murray Hill Bank; died in New York City May 26, 1895; interment in Trinity Cemetery.

DARLINGTON, Edward (cousin of Isaac Darlington and William Darlington), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in West Chester, Chester County, Pa., September 17, 1795; moved in early youth with his parents to Delaware County; attended the common schools and was graduated from West Chester Academy; taught school 1817-1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and commenced practice in Chester, Pa.; deputy attorney general 1824-1830; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses and as an Anti-Mason to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1839); was not a candidate for renomination in 1838; resumed the practice of law; attorney for county commissioners 1840-1856; moved to Media, Pa., in 1851; district attorney of Delaware County 1851-1854; died in Media, Delaware County, Pa., November 21, 1884; interment in Chester Rural Cemetery, Chester, Pa.

DARLINGTON, Isaac (cousin of Edward Darlington and William Darlington), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near West Chester, Chester County, Pa., December 13, 1781; attended the common schools; taught in the country schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1801, and commenced practice in West Chester, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives in 1807, 1808, and 1816; lieutenant and adjutant of the Second Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers in 1814 and 1815; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1818; appointed deputy attorney general for Chester County in 1820; president judge of the judicial district comprising the counties of Chester and Delaware from May, 1821, up to the time of his death in West Chester, Chester County, Pa., April 27, 1839; interment in the Friends Burying Ground, Birmingham, Huntingdon County, Pa.

DARLINGTON, Smedley (second cousin of Edward Darlington, Isaac Darlington, and William Darlington), a Representative from Pennsylvania; was born in Pocopson Township, Chester County, Pa., December 24, 1827; attended the common schools and the Friends' Central School, Philadelphia; teacher in the latter school for several years; while teaching he made stenographic reports of sermons, lectures, and speeches for the morning dailies of Philadelphia; established a school for boys in Erdldown in 1851, which he conducted for three years; changed to a girls' school and presided over it for nine years; enlisted in the Civil War as a private and subsequently promoted to the rank of captain in Beaumont's Independent company of Cavalry, Pennsylvania Volunteer Emergency Militia; discharged with the company September 24, 1862; moved to West Chester in 1864; conducted an extensive banking and brokerage business; delegate to the Liberal Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1872 which nominated Horace Greeley for President and the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifteenth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); resumed the brokerage business and banking; died in West Chester, Chester County, Pa., June 24, 1899; interment in Oakland Cemetery near that city.

DARLINGTON, William (cousin of Edward Darlington and Isaac Darlington), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Birmingham, Chester County, Pa., April 28, 1782; spent his youth on a farm; became a botanist at an early age; studied medicine, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1804; went to the East Indies as ship's surgeon in 1806; returned to West Chester in 1807 and was a practicing physician there for a number of years; raised a company of Volunteers at the beginning of the War of 1812 and was major of a volunteer regiment raised after the burning of the Capitol in Washington; elected to the Fourteenth Congress (March 4, 1815-March 3, 1817); elected to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); appointed canal commissioner in 1825; president of the West Chester Railroad; established a natural history society in West Chester in 1826; became noted as a botanist, and was made a corresponding member of some forty literary and scientific societies in Europe and America; published several works on botany and natural history; director and president of the National Bank of Chester County 1830-1863; died in West Chester, Chester County, Pa., April 23, 1863; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

DARRAGH, Archibald Bard, a Representative from Michigan; born in La Salle Township, Monroe County, Mich., December 23, 1840; attended the common schools and a private academy in Monroe, Mich.; entered the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1857 and pursued a classical course for two years; moved to Claiborne County, Miss., and became a teacher; returned to Michigan upon the outbreak of the Civil War; enlisted in Company H, Eighteenth Regiment Michigan Volunteer Infantry, in 1862; commissioned second Lieutenant Company D, Ninth Regiment Michigan Volunteer Cavalry, in 1863; first lieutenant in 1864; promoted to captain June 9, 1865, and honorably discharged July 21, 1865, at Jackson, Mich.; superintendent of the public schools of Jackson in 1867; reentered the University of Michigan and was graduated in 1868; moved to St. Louis, Gratiot County, Mich., in 1870 and engaged in banking; elected treasurer of Gratiot County in 1872; member of the State house of representatives in 1882 and 1883; mayor of St. Louis, Mich., in 1893; member of the board of control of the State asylum; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1909); was not a candidate for renomination in 1908; again engaged in banking; died in St. Louis, Mich., February 21, 1927; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

DARRAGH, Cornelius, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1809; attended the Western University of Pennsylvania, and was graduated with the class of 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Pittsburgh; member of the State senate 1836-1839; United States district attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania 1841-1844; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Wilkins; reelected to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from March 26, 1844, to March 3, 1847; attorney general of Pennsylvania from January 4, 1849, to April 28, 1851; died in Pittsburgh, Pa., December 22, 1854; interment in Allegheny Cemetery.

DARRALL, Chester Bidwell, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Addison, Somerset County, Pa., June 24, 1842; attended the common schools; studied medicine and was graduated from the Albany (N. Y.) Medical College; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as assistant surgeon of the Eighty-sixth Regiment New York Volunteers and later was promoted to surgeon; resigned from the Army while on duty in Louisiana in 1867 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and planting in Brashear (now Morgan City), La.; member of the State Senate of Louisiana in 1868; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1872 and at Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1877); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1877, to February 20, 1878, when he was succeeded by Joseph H. Acklen, who contested the election; was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; moved to Morgan City, St. Mary Parish, La.; elected to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; register of the United States land office, New Orleans, La., 1883-1885; engaged in sugar-cane planting; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1888 to the Fiftieth Congress; withdrew from public life and moved to Washington, D. C., where he died on January 1, 1908; interment in Glenwood Cemetery.

DARROW, George Potter, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Waterford, New London County, Conn., February 4, 1850; attended the common schools of New London, Conn.; was graduated from Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., in 1880; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in 1898 and engaged in banking, the manufacture of paints, and the insurance business; president of the Twenty-second Sectional School Board of Philadelphia 1906-1909; member of the Common Council of Philadelphia 1910-1915; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DAUGHERTY, James Alexander, a Representative from Missouri; born in Athens, McMinn County, Tenn., August 30, 1847; attended the common schools; moved to Missouri with his parents, who settled near Cartersville, Jasper County, in 1867; active in all civic enterprises of the State and county; engaged in farming, stock raising, and mining; assisted in developing the lead and zinc fields of Missouri; associate judge for the western district of Jasper County 1890-1892, and presiding judge 1892-1896; member of the State house of representatives in 1897; served as president of the First National Bank of Cartersville 1907-1920; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1912; resumed former business activities; served as fuel administrator for Jasper County during the World War; appointed on May 17, 1919, presiding judge of Jasper County and served until his death; died in Cartersville, Jasper County, Mo., January 26, 1920; interment in Webb City Cemetery, Webb City, Mo.

DAVEE, Thomas, a Representative from Maine; born in Plymouth, Mass., December 9, 1797; attended the common schools; moved to Maine, where he engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1820 and 1827; served in the State senate 1830-1832; high sheriff of Somerset County in 1835; postmaster of Blanchard from November 6, 1838, to March 24, 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; resumed mercantile pursuits; again a member of the State senate in 1841 and served until his death in Blanchard, Piscataquis County, Me., December 9, 1841; interment in the Village Cemetery, Monson, Me.

DAVENPORT, Franklin (nephew of Benjamin Franklin), a Senator and a Representative from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in September, 1755; received an academic education; studied law in Burlington, N. J., was admitted to the bar in 1776, and commenced practice in Gloucester City, N. J.; clerk of Gloucester County court in 1776; during the Revolutionary War enlisted as a private in Capt. James Sterling's company of New Jersey Militia; was made brigade major on December 22, 1776; participated in the Battles of Trenton and Princeton; appointed brigade quartermaster on February 25, 1778, and in the same year assistant quartermaster for Gloucester County; served in the latter capacity until the winter of 1778-79; appointed colonel in the New Jersey Militia in 1779 and subsequently major general, which latter position he held until his death; prosecutor of pleas in 1777; moved to Woodbury, N. J., in 1781, and continued the practice of law; appointed first surrogate of Gloucester County in 1785; member of the State general assembly 1786-1789; presidential elector in 1792 and 1812; colonel in the New Jersey Line during the whisky insurrection of 1794 and marched with the troops to Pittsburgh, Pa.; appointed brigadier general of Gloucester County Militia in 1796; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Rutherford, and served from December 5, 1798, to March 3, 1799, when a successor was elected and qualified; elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); was not a candidate for renomination in 1800; resumed the practice of law; appointed master in chancery in 1826; died in Woodbury, Gloucester County, N. J., July 27, 1832; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery, North Woodbury, N. J.

DAVENPORT, Frederick Morgan, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, Mass., August 27, 1806; attended the public schools; moved with his parents to Pennsylvania in 1874 and settled in New Milford and from there to Yonkers, N. Y., in 1893; was graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1889 and from Columbia University, New York City, in 1905; member of the faculty of political science of Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., 1905-1927; served in the State senate 1909-1911; unsuccessful Progressive candidate for Lieutenant Governor of New York in 1912 and for Governor of New York in 1914; chairman of the New York State Legislative Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment 1919-1925; again a member of the State senate 1919-1925; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DAVENPORT, Ira, a Representative from New York; born in Hornellsville, Steuben County, N. Y., June 28, 1841; moved with his father to Bath, N. Y., in 1847; attended Haverling Academy, Bath, N. Y., and Russell Collegiate School, New Haven, Conn.; upon the death of his father in 1868 assumed the management of the large estate and business affairs; member of the State senate 1878-1881; comptroller of the State of New York 1881-1883; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1883; unsuccessful Republican candidate for Governor of New York in 1885; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; retired from public life and devoted his time to the management of his private affairs; died in Bath, Steuben County, N. Y., October 6, 1904; interment in the family cemetery on his estate, "Riverside," Bath, N. Y.

DAVENPORT, James (brother of John Davenport of Connecticut), a Representative from Connecticut; born in Stamford, Conn., October 12, 1758; was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1777; served in the commissary department of the Continental Army in the Revolutionary War; judge of the court of common pleas; member of the State house of representatives 1785-1790; served in the State senate 1790-1797; judge of Fairfield County court from 1792 until 1796; elected to the Fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Hillhouse; reelected to the Fifth Congress, and served from December 5, 1793, until his death in Stamford, Conn., August 8, 1797; interment in North Field (now Franklin Street) Cemetery.

DAVENPORT, James Sanford, a Representative from Oklahoma; born near Gaylesville, Cherokee County, Ala., September 21, 1864; moved with his parents to Conway, Faulkner County, Ark., in 1880; attended the common schools, Vilonia (Ark.) High School, and Greenbrier (Ark.) Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar of Faulkner County February 14, 1890, and commenced practice in Conway; in October of that year moved to Muskogee, Ind. T. (now Oklahoma), and in 1893 to Vinita, where he engaged in the practice of law; member of the Territorial council 1897-1901 and served as speaker the last two years of his term; was selected one of the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation in 1901 and held that position until 1907; mayor of Vinita in 1903 and 1904; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress on September 17, 1907, and served from November 16, 1907, when Oklahoma was admitted as a State into the Union, until March 3, 1909; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; elected to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Vinita; was elected judge of the Criminal Court of Appeals of Oklahoma in November, 1926, and was sworn in on January 10, 1927, for the term ending the second Monday in January, 1933.

DAVENPORT, John (brother of James Davenport), a Representative from Connecticut; born in Stamford, Conn., January 16, 1752; pursued academic studies; was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1770; engaged in teaching there in 1773 and 1774; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1773, and practiced in Stamford, Conn.; member of the State house of representatives 1776-1790; served in the commissary department of the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, attaining the rank of major in 1777; elected as a Federalist to the Sixth and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1817); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1816 and withdrew from public life; died in Stamford, Fairfield County, Conn., November 28, 1830; interment in North Field (now Franklin Street) Cemetery.

DAVENPORT, John, a Representative from Ohio; born near Winchester, Jefferson County, Va., January 9, 1788; attended the common schools; moved to Ohio in 1818 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1824, 1827, and 1830; member of the State senate in 1825 and 1826; elected as a supporter of John Quincy Adams to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1828 to the Twenty-first Congress; twice elected by the legislature judge of the Monroe judicial circuit; died in Woodsfield, Monroe County, Ohio, July 18, 1855; interment in Green Mount Cemetery, Barnesville, Ohio.

DAVENPORT, Samuel Arza, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Watkins, Schuylar County, N. Y., January 15, 1834; moved to Pennsylvania with his parents, who settled in Erie, Erie County, in 1839; attended the Erie Academy; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1854; subsequently, in 1855, was graduated from the Harvard Law School, and commenced the practice of his profession in Erie, Pa., the same year; elected district attorney for the county of Erie in 1860; owner and publisher of the Erie Gazette 1865-1890; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888 and at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1901); was not a candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed the practice of law in the county, State, and Federal courts; also interested in the Erie Car Works and in the manufacture of organs and boots and shoes; died in Erie, Erie County, Pa., August 1, 1911; interment in Erie Cemetery.

DAVENPORT, Stanley Woodward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Plymouth, Luzerne County, Pa., July 21, 1861; attended the public schools and Wyoming Seminary; was graduated from the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1884; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1890, and commenced practice in Plymouth, Pa., in 1891; appointed a director of the poor for the central district of Luzerne County in 1893; secretary and treasurer of the poor district; register of wills of Luzerne County 1894-1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1900; resumed the practice of law in Plymouth, Luzerne County, Pa., and died in that city September 26, 1921; interment in Plymouth Cemetery.

DAVENPORT, Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Cumberland County, Va.; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Meadville, Va.; elected as a Federalist to the Nineteenth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1835); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1834 to the Twenty-fourth Congress; died near Meadville, Halifax County, Va., November 18, 1838.

DAVEY, Martin Luther, a Representative from Ohio; born in Kent, Portage County, Ohio, July 25, 1884; attended the public schools and Oberlin College; associated with his father in tree surgery in 1906; organized and became general manager of the Davey Tree Expert Co. (Inc.) in 1909; became president in 1923, in which capacity he is now serving; president of the Kent Board of Trade in 1913; mayor of Kent 1913-1918; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ellsworth R. Bathrick; re-elected to the Sixty-sixth Congress, and served from November 5, 1918, to March 3, 1921; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; resumed his former business pursuits; elected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DAVEY, Robert Charles, a Representative from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., October 22, 1853; attended the public schools, and was graduated from St. Vincent's College, Cape Girardeau, Mo., in 1871; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected to the State senate in 1879, 1884, and again in 1892; served as president pro tempore of the senate during the sessions of 1884 and 1886; judge of the first recorder's court in New Orleans 1880-1888; unsuccessful candidate for mayor of New Orleans in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1894; elected to the Fifty-fifth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death; had been reelected to the Sixty-first Congress, but died in New Orleans, La., December 23, 1908, before the close of the Sixtieth Congress; interment in Metairie Cemetery.

DAVIDSON, Alexander Caldwell, a Representative from Alabama; born near Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, N. C., December 26, 1826; attended the public schools of Marengo County, Ala., and was graduated from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa July 11, 1848; studied law in Mobile, Ala., but never practiced; engaged in cotton planting near Uniontown, Perry County, Ala.; member of the State house of representatives in 1880 and 1881; served in the State senate 1882-1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed agricultural pursuits; died at "Westwood," near Uniontown, Ala., November 6, 1897; interment in Holy Cross Cemetery of Davidson Memorial Church, Uniontown, Perry County, Ala.

DAVIDSON, James Henry, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Colchester, Delaware County, N. Y., June 18, 1858; attended the public schools and Walton (N. Y.) Academy; taught school in Delaware and Sullivan Counties, N. Y.; was graduated from the Albany Law School in 1884 and was admitted to the bar the same year; moved to Green Lake County, Wis., and commenced practice in Princeton in 1887; also taught school; elected district attorney of Green Lake County in 1888; chairman of the Republican congressional committee for the sixth district of Wisconsin in 1890; moved to Oshkosh, Wis., January 1, 1892, and continued the practice of law; appointed city attorney in May, 1895, for two years; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third and for election in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congresses; resumed the practice of his profession; elected to the Sixty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1917, until his death in Washington, D. C., August 6, 1918; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Oshkosh, Wis.

DAVIDSON, Robert Hamilton McWhorta, a Representative from Florida; born near Quincy, Gadsden County, Fla., September 23, 1832; attended the common schools and the Quincy Academy in Quincy, Fla.; studied law at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Quincy, Fla.; member of the State house of representatives 1856-1859; served in the State senate 1860-1862; retired from the State senate in 1862, and served during the Civil War in the Confederate Army as captain of Infantry and attained the rank of lieutenant colonel; member of the State constitutional convention in 1855; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Greeley and Brown in 1872; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; member of the State railroad commission in 1897 and 1898; engaged in the practice of his profession until his death in Quincy, Fla., January 18, 1906; interment in Western Cemetery.

DAVIDSON, Thomas Green, a Representative from Louisiana; born at Coles Creek, Jefferson County, Miss., August 3, 1805; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Greensburg, La.; appointed register of the United States land office; member of the State house of representatives 1833-1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); resumed the practice of his profession; president of the Democratic State convention in 1855; served again in the State house of representatives 1874-1878, 1880, and 1883; died in Springfield, Livingston Parish, La., September 11, 1883; interment in the Springfield Cemetery.

DAVIDSON, William, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., September 12, 1778; completed preparatory studies; moved with his parents to North Carolina in early youth and settled in Mecklenburg County; engaged extensively in planting; member of the State senate in 1813, 1815-1819, and 1825; moved to Charlotte, N. C., in 1820; elected as a Federalist to the Fifteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel M. Forney; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from December 2, 1818, to March 3, 1821; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress; again elected a member of the State senate and served from 1827 to 1830; retired from active political life and devoted his time to his former pursuits; died in Charlotte, N. C., September 16, 1857; interment in the Old Cemetery.

DAVIES, Edward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Churchtown, Caernarvon Township, Lancaster County, Pa., in November, 1779; attended rural schools; engaged in agricultural and mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1834 and 1835; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); resumed his former business activities; died in Churchtown, Pa., May 18, 1853; interment in Bangor Episcopal Church Cemetery; reinterment in the cemetery at Pottstown, Pa.

DAVILA, Felix Cordova, a Resident Commissioner from Porto Rico; born in Vega Baja, P. R., November 20, 1878; attended the public schools at Manati; came to Washington, D. C., and was graduated from the National University Law School; was admitted to the bar in 1903 and commenced practice in San Juan, P. R.; judge of the municipal court of Caguas in 1904; judge of the municipal court of Manati 1904-1908; renominated as judge and also as candidate for the Porto Rico House of Representatives; declined both offices; district attorney for the district of Aguadilla in 1908; judge of the district court of Guayama 1908-1910; judge of the district court of Arecibo in 1910 and 1911; judge of the district court of San Juan 1911-1917; elected as a Unionist a Resident Commissioner to the United States on July 18, 1917, for the term commencing August 7, 1917; reelected in 1920, and again in 1924 for the term ending March 3, 1929.

DAVIS, Alexander M., a Representative from Virginia; born in Old Mount Airy, Wythe County, Va., near Marlon, Smyth County, Va., January 17, 1833; attended the old field schools and was privately tutored; was graduated from Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Wytheville, Va.; moved to Independence, Grayson County, Va.; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as captain of Company C, Forty-fifth Virginia Infantry, in 1861; major in 1862; lieutenant colonel in 1864; captured near the close of the war and held prisoner on Johnson's Island, Lake Erie; member of the State senate 1869-1871; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1873, to March 5, 1874, when he was succeeded by Christopher Y. Thomas, who contested his election; resumed the practice of law; died in Independence, Va., September 25, 1889; interment in the Davis family burial ground, Independence, Va.

DAVIS, Amos (brother of Garrett Davis), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Mount Sterling, Ky., August 15, 1794; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Mount Sterling; was sheriff of Montgomery County, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1819, 1825, 1827, and 1828; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twentieth and Twenty-second Congresses; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); was a candidate for reelection, but died in Owingsville, Ky., while campaigning, June 11, 1835; interment in the City Cemetery, Mount Sterling, Ky.

DAVIS, Charles Russell, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Pittsfield, Pike County, Ill., September 17, 1849; moved with his parents to Le Sueur County, Minn., in 1854; attended the public schools and was instructed by private tutor; was graduated from the business college at St. Paul, Minn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar March 6, 1872, and commenced practice in St. Peter, Minn.; city attorney 1878-1898; city clerk of St. Peter 1878-1898; prosecuting attorney of Nicollet County 1879-1889 and 1901-1903; served as captain in the Minnesota National Guard; member of the State house of representatives in 1889 and 1890; served in the State senate 1891-1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and to the ten succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1924; resumed the practice of law in St. Peter, Nicollet County, Minn., but is temporarily residing in Washington, D. C.

DAVIS, Cushman Kellogg, a Senator from Minnesota; born in Henderson, Jefferson County, N. Y., June 16, 1838; moved with his parents to Waukesha, Wis.; attended the public schools, Carroll College in Waukesha, and was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in June, 1857; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Waukesha; during the Civil War served as first lieutenant in the Twenty-eighth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry in 1861 and 1862; assistant adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Willis A. Gorman 1862-1864; moved to St. Paul, Minn., in 1865; member of the State house of representatives in 1867; United States district attorney 1868-1873; Governor of Minnesota in 1874 and 1875; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1893 and again in 1899, and served from March 4, 1887, until his death; member of the commission which met in Paris, France, September, 1898, to arrange terms of peace after the war between the United States and Spain; died in St. Paul, Minn., November 27, 1900; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

DAVIS, David (cousin of Henry Winter Davis), a Senator from Illinois; born near Cedilton, Cecil County, Md., March 9, 1815; attended the public schools of Maryland, and was graduated from Kenyon College, Ohio, in 1832; studied law in Lenox, Mass., and at the law school in New Haven; was admitted to the bar in 1835 and commenced practice in Pekin, Tazewell County, Ill.; moved to Bloomington, Ill., in 1836, and continued the practice of law; member of the State house of representatives in 1844; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1847; elected judge of the eighth judicial circuit of Illinois in 1848, and held the office by repeated elections until his resignation in October, 1862; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; appointed by President Lincoln an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States in October, 1862, and served until March 4, 1877, when he resigned to become a Senator; was a candidate for the nomination of President at Cincinnati in 1872 on the Liberal-Republican ticket and received ninety-two and a half votes on the first ballot; elected by the Independents and Democrats to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1877, until March 3, 1883; was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; elected President pro tempore of the Senate October 13, 1881, and served nearly two years; retired from public life; died in Bloomington, McLean County, Ill., June 26, 1886; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DAVIS, Ewin Lamar, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Bedford County, Tenn., February 5, 1876; attended various schools, including the Webb School, Bellbuckle, Tenn., and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., 1895-1897, and was graduated from Columbian (now George Washington) University Law School, Washington, D. C., in 1899; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Tullahoma, Tenn., in 1899; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Parker and Davis in 1904; judge of the seventh judicial circuit of Tennessee 1910-1918; chairman of the district exemption board for the middle district of Tennessee in 1917 and 1918; director in the Traders National Bank of Tullahoma; trustee of the Tennessee College for Women; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DAVIS, Garrett (brother of Amos Davis), a Representative and a Senator from Kentucky; born in Mount Sterling, Ky., September 10, 1801; completed preparatory studies; employed in the office of the county clerk of Montgomery County and afterwards of Bourbon County; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in Paris, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives 1833-1835; elected as a Henry Clay Whig to the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1847); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1846 to the Thirtieth Congress; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; declined to be a candidate for lieutenant governor on the ticket headed by John J. Crittenden in 1848; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1849, but resigned on account of his opposition to an elective judiciary; nominated by the American Party as a candidate for President of the United States in 1856, but declined; was opposed to secession; supported the Constitutional Union ticket of Bell and Everett in 1860; elected as an old-line Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the expulsion of John C. Breckinridge; reelected as a Democrat in 1867, and served from December 10, 1861, until his death in Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., September 22, 1872; interment in the Paris Cemetery.

DAVIS, George Royal, a Representative from Illinois; born in Palmer, Hampden County, Mass., January 8, 1840; completed classical studies at Williston Seminary, Easthampton, Mass., and was graduated in 1860; studied law, but upon the outbreak of the Civil War entered the Union Army in July, 1862, and served as captain in the Eighth Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry and as major in the Third Regiment Rhode Island Volunteer Cavalry; engaged in manufacturing, the insurance business, and as financial agent at Chicago Ill.; member of the State militia and senior colonel of the First Regiment Illinois National Guard; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed his former business pursuits; treasurer of Cook County, Ill., 1886-1890; director general of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893; died in Chicago, Ill., November 25, 1899; interment in Rosehill Cemetery.

DAVIS, George Thomas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Sandwich, Mass., January 12, 1810; was graduated from Harvard University in 1829; studied law at Cambridge and at Greenfield, Mass., was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Greenfield, Franklin County; established the Franklin Mercury in 1833; member of the State senate in 1839 and 1840; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed the practice of law in Taunton and Greenfield, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1861; retired to private life; moved to Portland, Me., where he died June 17, 1877; interment in Green River Cemetery, Greenfield, Mass.

DAVIS, Henry Gassaway (brother of Thomas Beall Davis and grandfather of Davis Elkins), a Senator from West Virginia; born in Baltimore, Md., November 16, 1823; moved to Howard County, Md., where he attended the country schools; lived and worked upon a farm until 1843; employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. for fourteen years as brakeman, conductor, and later had charge of the Piedmont terminal and shops; commenced the banking business and mining coal at Piedmont, W. Va., in 1858; engaged in railroad building and manufacturing lumber; elected to the House of Delegates of West Virginia in 1865; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868 and at Baltimore in 1872; served in the State senate in 1868 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1871; reelected in 1877, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1883; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1882; settled in Elkins, Randolph County, W. Va., where he resumed banking and became president of the West Virginia Central Railroad; president of the Davis Coal & Coke Co.; represented the United States at the Pan American conferences of 1889 and 1901; unsuccessful candidate for Vice President of the United States on the Democratic ticket with Alton B. Parker in 1904; chairman of the permanent Pan American Railway Committee from its organization in 1901 until his death in Washington, D. C., March 11, 1916; interment in Maplewood Cemetery, Elkins, W. Va.

DAVIS, Henry Winter (cousin of David Davis), a Representative from Maryland; born in Annapolis, Md., August 16, 1817; was tutored privately; upon the removal of his father as president of St. John's College at Annapolis was sent to Alexandria, Va., and resided with his aunt; subsequently went to Wilmington and was instructed under the supervision of his father; returned to Maryland in 1827 with his father, who settled in Anne Arundel County; attended Wilmington College in 1826 and 1827, St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., and Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia; was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1837; studied law at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Alexandria, Va.; moved to Baltimore, Md., in 1850, where he continued the practice of law and also engaged in literary pursuits; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and reelected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; elected on the Unconditional Union Party ticket to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for renomination in 1864; retired from professional and public life; died in Baltimore, Md., December 30, 1865; interment in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Cemetery, reinterment in Greenmount Cemetery.

DAVIS, Horace, a Representative from California; born in Worcester, Mass., March 16, 1831; attended the public schools of Worcester and Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.; was graduated from Harvard University in 1849; studied law in the Dane Law School of Harvard University, but did not engage in professional pursuits by reason of failing eyesight; moved to California in 1852 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to San Francisco in 1860 and engaged in the flour milling business; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed his former business pursuits; member of the Republican National Committee 1880-1888; president of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco in 1883 and 1884; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Blaine and Logan in 1884; president of the board of trustees of Leland Stanford Junior University 1885-1916; president of the University of California at Berkeley 1887-1890; died in San Francisco, Calif., July 12, 1916; interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

DAVIS, Jacob Cunningham, a Representative from Illinois; born near Staunton, Augusta County, Va., September 16, 1820; attended the common schools and William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; moved to Warsaw, Hancock County, Ill., in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Warsaw; clerk of Hancock County; appointed circuit clerk in 1841; served in the State senate 1842-1848, and again from 1850 until his resignation in 1856, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William A. Richardson, and served from November 4, 1856, to March 3, 1857; was not a candidate for the Thirty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Clark County, Mo.; died in Alexandria, Clark County, Mo., December 25, 1883; interment in Mitchell Cemetery, near Alexandria, Mo.

DAVIS, James Harvey, a Representative from Texas; born near Walhalla, Pickens District, S. C., December 24, 1853; moved to Texas with his parents, who settled in Wood County, near Winnsboro, in 1857; attended the common schools; taught school from 1875 to 1878; elected judge of Franklin County in 1878; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in Mount Vernon, Tex.; lecturer for the Farmers' Alliance for three years; president of the Texas Press Association 1886-1888; unsuccessful Populist candidate for attorney general of Texas in 1892; was influential in the formation of the Populist Party and served as organizer and committeeman from 1892 to 1900; unsuccessful Populist candidate for election in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; declined the appointment of superintendent of agriculture for the Philippine Islands in 1914; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1916 for the Sixty-fifth Congress; returned to his home in Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Tex., where he is now engaged in agricultural pursuits and Chautauqua work.

DAVIS, Jeff, a Senator from Arkansas; born near Richmond, Little River County, Ark., May 6, 1862; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., in 1884; studied law and was admitted to the bar in Pope County, Ark., at the age of nineteen years; prosecuting attorney of the fifth judicial district 1892-1896; attorney general of the State 1898-1900; Governor of Arkansas 1901-1906; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1907, until his death in Little Rock, Ark., January 3, 1913; interment in Mount Holly Cemetery.

DAVIS, Jefferson, a Representative and a Senator from Mississippi; born in what is now Fairview, Todd (formerly Christian) County, Ky., June 3, 1808; moved with his parents to a plantation near Woodville, Wilkinson County, Miss.; attended the country schools, St. Thomas College, Washington County, Ky., Jefferson College, Adams County, Miss., the Wilkinson County Academy, and Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky.; was graduated from the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., in 1828; served in the Black Hawk War in 1830 and 1831; promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the First Dragoons March 4, 1833, "for gallant service," and served until June 30, 1835, when he resigned; moved to his plantation, "Brierfield," in Warren County, Miss., and engaged in cotton planting; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Polk and Dallas in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1845, until June, 1846, when he resigned to command the First Regiment of Mississippi Riflemen in the war with Mexico; sailed with the regiment from New Orleans July 21, 1846; was with General Taylor in the three days' siege of Monterey, where he greatly distinguished himself, as he afterwards did at Buena Vista; appointed brigadier general May 27, 1847, but declined; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jesse Speight; subsequently elected, and served from August 10, 1847, until November, 1851, when he resigned; unsuccessful as a State Rights Democratic candidate for governor in 1851; appointed Secretary of War by President Pierce, and served from March 7, 1853, to March 3, 1857; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1857, until January 21, 1861, when he withdrew with other Senators, after explaining his purpose to the Senate; commissioned major general of the State militia January 25, 1861; chosen President of the Confederacy by the Provisional Congress, and inaugurated in Montgomery, Ala., February 18, 1861; elected President of the Confederacy for a term of six years, and inaugurated in Richmond, Va., February 22, 1862; captured by the Union troops in Irwinsville, Ga., May 10, 1865; imprisoned two years in Fortress Monroe, and indicted for treason May 8, 1866; released on bail May 14, 1867; a nolle prosequi was ordered by the Government in December, 1868; returned to Mississippi and spent the remaining years of his life in writing; died in New Orleans, La., December 6, 1889; interment in Metairie Cemetery, New Orleans, La.; reinterment on May 31, 1893, in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

DAVIS, John, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Northboro, Mass., January 13, 1787; attended Leicester Academy, and was graduated from Yale College in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Worcester, Mass., in 1815; elected as a National-Republican to the Nineteenth and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1825, to January 14, 1834, when he resigned, having been elected governor by the legislature, the popular election having failed; Governor of Massachusetts in 1834 and 1835; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1835, to January 5, 1841, when he resigned; again Governor of Massachusetts 1841-1843; nominated for Vice President by a Whig mass meeting held in Dayton, Ohio, in 1842, but the action was not ratified by the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1844; again elected in 1845 to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Isaac C. Bates; reelected in 1847, and served from March 24, 1845, to March 3, 1853; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1852 and retired from public life; died in Worcester, Mass., April 19, 1854; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

DAVIS, John, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Solebury Township, Bucks County, Pa., August 7, 1788; moved to Maryland and settled on a farm at Rock Creek Meeting House in 1795; attended the common schools; returned to Pennsylvania in 1812 and settled in what is now Davisville; engaged in agricultural and mercantile pursuits; served as captain in the War of 1812; rose to the rank of major general of militia; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; appointed surveyor of the port of Philadelphia by President Polk and served from March 17, 1845, to March 18, 1849; resumed his former business activities; delegate to several Democratic State and National Conventions; died in Davisville, Pa., April 1, 1878; interment in the Davisville Baptist Church Cemetery, Bucks County, Pa.

DAVIS, John, a Representative from Kansas; born near Springfield, Sangamon County, Ill., August 9, 1826; moved with his parents to Macon County in 1830; attended the country schools, Springfield Academy, and Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill.; engaged in agricultural and horticultural pursuits near Decatur, Ill.; moved to Kansas in 1872 and located on a farm near Junction City; secretary of the Central Kansas Horticultural Society for many years; elected president of the first distinctive farmers' convention held in Kansas in 1873, out of which grew the Farmers' Cooperative Association, of which he was the first president; president of the Grange convention in 1874; became proprietor and editor of the Junction City Tribune in 1875; unsuccessful candidate of the Greenback Party for election in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress and in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; elected as a candidate of the People's Party to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; devoted his time to literary work until his death in Topeka, Kans., August 1, 1901; interment in the Topeka Cemetery.

DAVIS, John Givan, a Representative from Indiana; born near Flemingsburg, Fleming County, Ky., October 10, 1810; moved to Indiana with his parents, who settled in Rockville, Parke County, in 1819; attended the country schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; sheriff of Parke County from 1830 to 1833, when he resigned; clerk of the county court 1833-1850; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; reelected as an Anti-Lecompton Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; engaged in mercantile pursuits and meat packing in Montezuma, Parke County, Ind.; moved to Terre Haute, Ind., and engaged in business as a dry-goods merchant; died in Terre Haute, Ind., January 18, 1866; interment in Highland Lawn Cemetery.

DAVIS, John James (father of John William Davis), a Representative from West Virginia; born in Clarksburg, Va. (now West Virginia), May 5, 1835; attended the Northwestern Virginia Academy at Clarksburg, and was graduated from the Lexington Law School (now the law department of Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., in 1856; was admitted to the bar in 1856 and commenced practice in Clarksburg, Va.; member of the Virginia House of Delegates in 1861; member of the first convention looking toward the formation of a new State loyal to the Union, from counties of western Virginia, held April 22, 1861; delegate from Harrison County to the Wheeling convention June 11, 1861; candidate for presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of McClellan and Pendleton in 1864; delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868; member of the West Virginia House of Delegates in 1869 and 1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination in 1874; resumed the practice of law in Clarksburg, W. Va.; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876 and at Chicago in 1892; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876 and of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; president of the State bar association in 1901; died in Clarksburg, Harrison County, W. Va., March 19, 1916; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

DAVIS, John Wesley, a Representative from Indiana; born in New Holland, Lancaster County, Pa., April 16, 1799; moved to Cumberland County, Pa., with his parents, who settled near Shippensburg; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine, and was graduated from the Baltimore Medical College in 1821; moved to Carlisle, Ind., in 1823 and practiced medicine; surrogate of Sullivan County 1829-1831; member of the State house of representatives 1831-1833, and served as speaker in 1831; commissioner to negotiate an Indian treaty in 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1836 on account of ill health; elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; again a member of the State house of representatives 1841-1843, and served as speaker in 1841; elected to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Twenty-ninth Congress; was not a candidate for renomination in 1846; appointed by President Polk United States Commissioner to China, and served from 1848 to 1851, when his successor was appointed; member of the State house of representatives in 1851, 1852, and again in 1857; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1862, which nominated Pierce and King, and served as president of the convention; appointed by President Pierce Governor of Oregon Territory, and served in 1853 and 1854; member of the Board of Visitors to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1868; died in Carlisle, Sullivan County, Ind., August 22, 1859; interment in the City Cemetery.

DAVIS, John William (son of John James Davis), a Representative from West Virginia; born in Clarksburg, Harrison County, W. Va., April 13, 1873; attended various private schools; was graduated from the literary department of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1892; taught school; reentered the university, and was graduated from its law department in 1895; was admitted to the bar in the same year and commenced practice in Clarksburg, W. Va.; professor of law at Washington and Lee University in 1896 and 1897; resumed the practice of law in Clarksburg, W. Va., in 1897; member of the State house of delegates in 1899; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; president of West Virginia Bar Association in 1906; appointed a member of the West Virginia Commission on Uniform State Laws in 1909; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1911, to August 29, 1913, when he resigned; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1912 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Robert W. Archbald, judge of the United States Commerce Court; Solicitor General of the United States 1913-1918; appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Great Britain, and served from November 21, 1918, to March 31, 1921; member of the American delegation for conference with Germany on the treatment and exchange of prisoners of war, held in Berne, Switzerland, in September, 1918; honorary bencher of the Middle Temple, London, England; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President of the United States in 1924; is a resident of Nassau County, N. Y., and practices law in New York City.

DAVIS, Joseph Jonathan, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Lousburg, Franklin County, N. C., April 13, 1828; attended Lousburg Academy, Wake Forest (N. C.) College, and William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; was graduated from the law department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1850; was admitted to the bar the same year and practiced in Oxford, N. C., and later in Lousburg, N. C.; served as captain of Company G, Forty-seventh Regiment Confederate Army, during the Civil War; member of the State house of representatives 1868-1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1881); resumed the practice of law; appointed a justice of the State supreme court in 1887, and subsequently elected in 1888; died in Lousburg, N. C., August 7, 1892; interment in Oaklawn Cemetery.

DAVIS, Lowndes Henry, a Representative from Missouri; born in Jackson, Cape Girardeau County, Mo., December 13, 1836; was graduated from Yale College in 1860 and from the Louisville University Law School in 1863; admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Jackson, Mo.; State attorney for the tenth judicial district of Missouri 1868-1872; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Greeley and Brown in 1872; member of the State constitutional convention in 1875; member of the State house of representatives 1876-1878; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); engaged in agricultural pursuits and in stock raising; died in Cape Girardeau, Mo., February 4, 1920; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery, Huntsville, Ala.

DAVIS, Noah, a Representative from New York; born in Haverhill, N. H., September 10, 1818; moved with his parents to Albion, N. Y., in 1825; attended the common schools and Lima Seminary, Buffalo, N. Y.; studied law in Lewiston, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Gainesville and Buffalo; returned to Albion in February, 1844, where he continued the practice of law until May, 1858; appointed and subsequently twice elected judge of the supreme court for the eighth judicial district, and served from 1857 to 1868; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1869, until July 15, 1870, when he resigned; appointed by President Grant United States attorney for the southern district of New York, and served from July 20, 1870, until December 31, 1872, when he resigned, having been elected a judge of the supreme court of the State, in which position he served until 1887; resumed the practice of law in New York City; member of the council of the University of the City of New York (now New York University); died in New York City March 20, 1902; interment in Mount Albion Cemetery, Albion, Orleans County, N. Y.

DAVIS, Reuben, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Winchester, Tenn., January 18, 1813; moved with his parents to Alabama about 1818; attended the public schools; studied medicine, but practiced only a few years, when he abandoned the profession; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and commenced practice in Aberdeen, Miss.; prosecuting attorney for the sixth judicial district 1835-1839; judge of the high court of appeals in 1842, but after four months' service resigned; served as colonel of the Second Regiment of Mississippi Volunteers in the war with Mexico; member of the State house of representatives 1855-1857; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, to January 12, 1861, when he withdrew; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as brigadier general; resumed the practice of law; died in Huntsville, Ala., October 14, 1890; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Aberdeen, Monroe County, Miss.

DAVIS, Richard David, a Representative from New York; born at Stillwater, Saratoga County, N. Y., in 1799; was graduated from Yale College in 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and commenced practice in Poughkeepsie; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; withdrew from political and professional life; engaged in agricultural pursuits in Watford, Saratoga County, N. Y., where he died on June 17, 1871; interment in Watford Rural Cemetery.

DAVIS, Robert Thompson, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in County Down, Ireland, August 28, 1823; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Amesbury, Essex County, Mass., in 1826; attended the Amesbury Academy and the Friends' School in Providence, R. I.; was graduated from the medical department of Harvard University in 1847; dispensary physician in Boston; practiced medicine in Waterville, Me.; moved to Fall River, Mass., in 1850; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; served in the State senate 1859-1861; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860, at Cincinnati in 1876, and at Philadelphia in 1900; member of the State board of charities when organized in 1863; appointed a member of the State board of health upon its organization in 1869; mayor of Fall River in 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; resumed the practice of medicine at Fall River and also engaged in the cotton manufacturing industry; member of the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission of Massachusetts when established in 1891; died at Fall River, Mass., October 29, 1906; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

DAVIS, Robert Wycho, a Representative from Florida; born near Albany, Lee County, Ga., March 15, 1849; attended the common schools; during the Civil War enlisted in the Fifth Georgia Regiment of the Confederate Army in 1863 at the age of fourteen years, and served until the surrender of his company under Gen. Joseph E. Johnston on April 26, 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1869, and commenced practice in Blakeley, Ga.; moved to Florida in 1879 and located in Gainesville, Alachua County; member of the State house of representatives from Clay County in 1884 and 1885 and served as speaker in the latter year; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1905); was not a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law in Palatka, Tampa, and Gainesville, Fla.; editor of the Gainesville Sun; register of the United States land office at Gainesville 1914-1922; mayor of Gainesville in 1924 and 1925; is a resident of Gainesville, Fla.

DAVIS, Roger, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Charlestown village, Chester County, Pa., October 2, 1762; studied medicine at the University of Pennsylvania and commenced practice about 1785 in Charlestown; member of the State house of representatives 1809-1811; elected as a Democrat to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1815); resumed the practice of medicine in Charlestown, Chester County, Pa., where he died November 20, 1815; interment in the Great Valley Presbyterian Churchyard.

DAVIS, Samuel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Bath, Me. (until 1820 a district of Massachusetts), in 1774; engaged in mercantile pursuits; became a shipowner in 1801; member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1803 and 1808-1812; overseer of Bowdoin College 1813-1818; president of the Lincoln Bank, Bath, Me., in 1813; elected as a Federalist to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); again a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1815 and 1816; merchant in African and West Indian trade; died in Bath, Me., April 20, 1831; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery.

DAVIS, Thomas, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Dublin, Ireland, December 18, 1806; attended private schools; emigrated to the United States and located in Providence, R. I., in 1817; engaged in manufacturing jewelry; member of the State senate 1845-1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Thirty-sixth, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-sixth Congresses; again served in the State senate in 1877 and 1878; member of the State house of representatives 1887-1890; member of Providence school committee; died in Providence, R. I., July 26, 1895; interment in Swan Point Cemetery.

DAVIS, Thomas Beall (brother of Henry Cassaway Davis), a Representative from West Virginia; born in Baltimore, Md., April 25, 1828; moved to Howard County, Md., where he attended the common schools; moved to Piedmont, W. Va., in 1854 and entered the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; a few years later he moved to Keyser, W. Va., and engaged in the mercantile business, lumbering, banking, mining, and finally the building of railroads; in later years devoted much attention to farming and raising fine stock and race horses; member of the Democratic State executive committee 1876-1907; member of the State house of delegates 1898-1900; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alston G. Dayton, and served from June 6, 1905, to March 3, 1907; was not a candidate for reelection in 1906; resumed agricultural pursuits and coal mining; died in Keyser, Mineral County, W. Va., November 26, 1911; interment in Maplewood Cemetery, Elkins, W. Va.

DAVIS, Thomas Terry, a Representative from Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar on June 28, 1789, and commenced practice in Mercer County, Ky.; deputy attorney for the Commonwealth and the first prosecuting attorney for his district; member of the State house of representatives 1795-1797; elected to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1803); appointed United States judge of Indiana Territory February 8, 1803; served as chancellor of Indiana Territory from March 1, 1806, until his death; died in Jeffersonville, Clark County, Ind., November 15, 1807.

DAVIS, Thomas Treadwell (grandson of Thomas Treadwell), a Representative from New York; born in Middlebury, Addison County, Vt., August 22, 1810; moved to New York in 1817 with his parents, who settled in Clinton, Oneida County; attended the Clinton (N. Y.) Academy, and was graduated from Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., in 1831; moved to Syracuse, Onondaga County, in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Syracuse; was also interested in railroad and coal mining; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; resumed the practice of law in Syracuse; died in Washington, D. C., May 2, 1872; remains were cremated and the ashes deposited in Oakwood Cemetery.

DAVIS, Timothy, a Representative from Iowa; born in Newark, N. J., March 29, 1794; attended the public schools; moved to Kentucky in 1816; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Missouri and engaged in the practice of law, and later, in 1837, moved to Dubuque, Iowa, and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1848 to the Thirty-first Congress; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); resumed the practice of his profession and also engaged in business activities in Dubuque; was also interested in merchant milling at Elkader, Iowa, Galesville, Wis., and Pickwick, Minn.; died in Elkader, Clayton County, Iowa, April 27, 1872; interment in the Elkader Cemetery.

DAVIS, Timothy, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Gloucester, Mass., April 12, 1821; attended the public schools; served two years in a printing office; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Boston; member of the State house of representatives in 1870 and 1871; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; appointed assistant appraiser in the Boston customhouse in 1861; engaged in the prosecution of claims against the Government; died in Boston, Mass., October 23, 1888; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

DAVIS, Warren Ransom, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Columbia, S. C., May 8, 1793; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1814, and practiced in Pendleton, S. C.; State solicitor of the western circuit 1818-

1824; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1827, until his death; had been reelected to the Twenty-fourth Congress; died in Washington, D. C., January 29, 1835; interment in Congressional Cemetery.

DAVIS, William Morris, a Representative from Pennsylvania; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863).

DAVISON, George Mosby, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Stanford, Lincoln County, Ky., March 23, 1855; attended the common schools, Stanford Academy, and Meyers Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in Stanford, Ky.; appointed collector of internal revenue for the sixth Kentucky district, and served from July 20, 1885, to June 30, 1889; appointed master of chancery or commissioner of the Lincoln circuit court in 1886, and served until 1893, when he resigned; member of the State house of representatives 1886-1888; judge of the Lincoln County court 1894-1899; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Stanford, Ky.; assistant United States attorney for the eastern district of Kentucky 1900-1910; retired from public life; died in Stanford, Ky., December 18, 1912; interment in Buffalo Springs Cemetery.

DAVY, John Madison, a Representative from New York; born in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, June 29, 1835; moved to New York with his parents, who settled near Rochester, Monroe County, in 1835; attended the common schools and the Monroe Academy, East Henrietta, N. Y.; served in the Union Army during the Civil War as a first lieutenant in Company G, One hundred and eighth Regiment Volunteer Infantry, in 1862 and 1863; studied law in Rochester, was admitted to the bar in 1863, and commenced practice in Rochester, N. Y.; district attorney of Monroe County 1868-1872; collector of customs for the port of Genesee from 1872 until his resignation in 1875, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law; elected justice of the Supreme Court of New York and served from January 1, 1889, until his retirement in 1905; again resumed the practice of law; died while on a week-end visit in Atlantic City, N. J., April 21, 1909; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Rochester, N. Y.

DAWES, Beman Gates (son of Rufus Dawes and brother of Vice President Charles Gates Dawes), a Representative from Ohio; born in Marietta, Washington County, Ohio, January 14, 1870; attended the common schools and Marietta Academy and College, Marietta, Ohio; engaged in agricultural pursuits and engineering and became interested in public utilities; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1909); after his retirement from Congress became interested in the production of oil and the building of electric railways, and is a resident of Columbus, Ohio.

DAWES, Charles Gates (son of Rufus Dawes and brother of Beman Gates Dawes), a Vice President of the United States; born in Marietta, Washington County, Ohio, August 27, 1865; attended the common schools; was graduated from Marietta College in 1884 and from the Cincinnati Law School in 1886; was admitted to the bar in 1886, and practiced in Lincoln, Nebr., 1887-1894; interested in public utilities and banking 1894-1897; Comptroller of the Currency, United States Treasury Department, 1898-1901; during the World War was commissioned major of the Seventeenth Engineers on June 11, 1917; lieutenant colonel on July 16, 1917; colonel on January 16, 1918; brigadier general on October 15, 1918; appointed to the administrative staff of the commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces on September 27, 1917, as chief of supply procurement; member of the military supply board of allied supply, American Expeditionary Forces, and of the liquidation commission, War Department; resigned from the Army August 31, 1919; was awarded the distinguished-service medal of the United States for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services," the French Legion of Honor and the croix de guerre with palm, the Order of the Bath from the British Government, the Order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus from the Italian Government, and the Order of Leopold from the Belgian Government; brigadier general in the Officers' Reserve Corps 1921-1926; upon the creation of the Bureau of the Budget was appointed its first Director in 1921; appointed by the Reparations Commission as chairman of the first committee of experts in 1923; elected on November 5, 1924, Vice President of the United States on the Republican ticket with President Calvin Coolidge, and was inaugurated March 4, 1925, for the term ending March 3, 1929.

DAWES, Henry Laurens, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Cummington, Mass., October 30, 1816; attended the common schools and received private instruction in preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1839; became a teacher and edited the Greenfield Gazette and North Adams Transcript; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in North Adams, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1848, 1849, and 1852; served in the State senate in 1850; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; district attorney for the western district of Massachusetts 1853-1857; elected to the Thirty-fifth and to the eight succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1875); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1874; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1875; reelected in 1881 and again in 1887, and served from March 4, 1875, to March 3, 1893; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1893; settled in Pittsfield, Mass.; chairman of the commission created to administer the tribal affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians in the Indian Territory 1893-1903; died in Pittsfield, Berkshire County, Mass., February 5, 1903; interment in the Pittsfield Cemetery.

DAWES, Rufus (father of Vice President Charles Gates Dawes and Beman Gates Dawes), a Representative from Ohio; born in Malta, Morgan County, Ohio, July 4, 1838; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Marietta College, Ohio, in 1860; during the Civil War volunteered on April 25, 1861, and was chosen captain of Company K, Sixth Wisconsin Regiment, in the Army of the Potomac; appointed major June 21, 1862, and as such served in the Battles of the Rappahannock, Gainesville, Bull Run (second battle), South Mountain, Antietam, and Fredericksburg; appointed lieutenant colonel March 24, 1863, and took part in the Battles of Fitz Hugh's Crossing, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Mine Run, the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, Laurel Hill, Jericho Ford, North Anna, Bethesda Church, and Petersburg; was appointed colonel on July 6, 1864, and brevet brigadier general March 13, 1865; was sixty-two days under fire; commanded his regiment in the Battles of Antietam, Gettysburg, Spotsylvania, Laurel Hill, Jericho Ford, Petersburg, and in the operations thereabout; during the Battle of Antietam sixty-two per cent of his men were killed or wounded, and at Gettysburg he charged and captured the Second Mississippi Regiment, losing 200 men killed and wounded from his own regiment; after the close of the war engaged in the wholesale lumber business in Marietta, Ohio; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; resumed the wholesale lumber business in Marietta, Washington County, Ohio, and died there August 2, 1899; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

DAWSON, Albert Foster, a Representative from Iowa; born in Spragueville, Jackson County, Iowa, January 26, 1872; attended the common schools and the University of Wisconsin at Madison; engaged in newspaper work in Preston, Iowa, in 1891 and 1892 and in Clinton, Iowa, from 1892 to 1894; served as a clerk on the clerical staff of the United States Congress 1895-1905; studied finance at George Washington University, Washington, D. C.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1910, and also the appointment of private secretary to President William H. Taft tendered in 1910; engaged in banking, and is president of the First National Bank of Davenport, Iowa, in which capacity he is now serving.

DAWSON, John, a Delegate and a Representative from Virginia; born in that State in 1762; was graduated from Harvard University in 1782; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of delegates 1788-1789; Member of the Continental Congress in 1788 and 1789; delegate to the State convention in 1788 that ratified the Federal Constitution; elected privy counselor December 16, 1789; presidential elector on the Washington ticket in 1792; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth and to the eight succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1797, until his death; was the bearer of dispatches from President John Adams to the Government of France in 1801; served as aide to Gen. Jacob Brown and to Gen. Andrew Jackson in the War of 1812; died in Washington, D. C., March 31, 1814; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

DAWSON, John B., a Representative from Louisiana; born in Nashville, Tenn., in 1800; attended Centre College, Danville, Ky.; moved to Louisiana and became a planter; member of the State house of representatives; judge of the parish court; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); died in St. Francisville, La., June 26, 1845; interment in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

DAWSON, John Littleton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa., February 7, 1813; moved with his parents to Brownsville, Pa., in early youth; was graduated from Washington (Pa.) College in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar September 9, 1835, and commenced practice in Brownsville, Pa.; deputy attorney general of Fayette County in 1838; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore in 1844, 1848, and 1860, and at New York City in 1868; United States district attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania 1845-1848; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1848 to the Thirty-first Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1854; appointed Governor of Kansas Territory by President Pierce, but declined the office; elected to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination; retired from public life and resided on his estate, "Friendship Hill," in Springfield Township, Fayette County, Pa., until his death there on September 18, 1870; interment in Christ Episcopal Churchyard, Brownsville, Fayette County, Pa.

DAWSON, William, a Representative from Missouri; born in New Madrid, New Madrid County, Mo., March 17, 1848; was graduated from the Christian Brothers' College, St. Louis, Mo., in 1869; elected sheriff and collector of New Madrid County in 1870 and 1872; member of the State house of representatives in 1878; reelected in 1880 and 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); engaged in the land business in New Madrid, Mo., where he now resides.

DAWSON, William Crosby, a Representative and a Senator from Georgia; born in Greensboro, Greene County, Ga., January 4, 1798; attended the common schools; was graduated from Franklin College, Athens, Ga., in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1816, and commenced practice in Greensboro, Ga.; member of the State house of representatives; elected as a State Rights Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Coffee; reelected to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses, and served from November 7, 1836, to November 13, 1841, when he resigned; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1841; judge of the Ocmulgee circuit court from February 1 to November 11, 1845; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1849, to March 3, 1855; presided over the southern convention at Memphis in 1853; died in Greensboro, Ga., May 6, 1856; interment in the Greensboro Cemetery.

DAWSON, William Johnston, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Edenton, N. C.; member of the State house of commons in 1791; member of the committee appointed in 1791 to fix a permanent place for the seat of government of North Carolina; elected to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); died in Bertie County, N. C., in 1798.

DAY, Rowland, a Representative from New York; born in Chester, Mass., March 6, 1779; moved with his parents to Skaneateles, N. Y., in 1805, and from thence to Moravia, N. Y., in 1810; engaged in mercantile pursuits; served in the State assembly in 1816 and 1817; member of the convention to revise the constitution of the State of New York in 1821; held several local offices in Sempronius, where he resided; elected as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); elected to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); resumed mercantile pursuits; died in Moravia, Cayuga County, N. Y., December 23, 1853; interment in Indian Mound Cemetery.

DAY, Timothy Crane, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, January 8, 1819; attended the public schools; printer and engraver 1838-1840; engaged in literary pursuits; became one of the editors and proprietors of the Cincinnati Enquirer in 1849; disposed of his interests in that paper in 1852 and made a tour of Europe; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); declined a renomination in 1856 on account of ill health, and retired from active business; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, April 15, 1869; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

DAYAN, Charles, a Representative from New York; born in Amsterdam, Montgomery County, N. Y., July 8, 1792; attended the common schools and was tutored privately; was graduated from Lowville Academy, Lewis County, N. Y.; engaged in teaching; commissioned a lieutenant colonel in the War of 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1817, and practiced in Lowville; member of the State senate in 1827 and 1828 and served as president pro tempore in the latter year; acting lieutenant governor from October 17 to December 31, 1828; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Calhoun in 1828; supreme court commissioner 1830-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); member of the State assembly in 1835 and 1836; master and examiner in chancery for several years, terminating in 1838; district attorney for Lewis County 1840-1845; retired from public life on account of ill health, but continued the practice of law for a number of years; died in Lowville, Lewis County, N. Y., December 25, 1877; interment in Lowville Rural Cemetery.

DAYTON, Alston Gordon, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Philippi, Va. (now West Virginia), October 18, 1857; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown in June, 1878; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in Philippi; appointed to fill out an unexpired term as prosecuting attorney of Upshur County, W. Va., in 1879; prosecuting attorney for Barbour County 1882-1886; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1885, until his resignation March 16, 1905, to accept a judicial position; appointed United States district judge for the northern district of West Virginia March 5, 1905, and served until his death in Battle Creek, Mich., July 30, 1920; interment in the Fraternity Cemetery, Philippi, Barbour County, W. Va.

DAYTON, Jonathan, a Delegate, a Representative, and a Senator from New Jersey; born in Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., October 16, 1760; was graduated from Princeton College in 1776; studied law and was admitted to the bar; during the Revolutionary War entered the Continental Army as ensign in the Third New Jersey Regiment on February 7, 1776; promoted to regimental paymaster August 26, 1776; first lieutenant January 1, 1777; captain-lieutenant April 7, 1779; aide-de-camp to Maj. Gen. John Sullivan May 1, 1779; captain in the Third New Jersey Regiment March 30, 1780; was taken prisoner at Elizabethtown, N. J., on October 5, 1780, and later exchanged; transferred to the Second New Jersey Regiment on January 1, 1781; honorably discharged November 3, 1783; member of the State general assembly in 1786, 1787, and 1790, and served as speaker in the last-named year; delegate to the Federal Constitutional Convention in 1787; elected as a Delegate to the Continental Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the declination of William Paterson; reelected in 1788, and served from November 6, 1787, to March 3, 1789; served in the State council in 1790; elected as a Federalist to the Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1799); served as Speaker during the Fourth and Fifth Congresses; was not a candidate for renomination in 1798, having become a candidate for the United States Senate; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1799, to March 3, 1805; was arrested in 1807 on the charge of conspiring with Aaron Burr in treasonable projects; gave bail and was subsequently released, but never brought to trial; died in Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., October 9, 1824; interment in a vault in St. John's Churchyard; the city of Dayton, Ohio, was named for him.

DAYTON, William Lewis, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Basking Ridge, Somerset County, N. J., February 17, 1807; attended Trenton (N. J.) Academy, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1825; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and commenced practice in Freehold, N. J.; member of the State council in 1837 and 1838; associate judge of the State supreme court from February 28, 1838, to November 1, 1841, when he resigned; appointed and subsequently elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel L. Southard; reelected in 1845, and served from July 2, 1842, to March 3, 1851; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; nominated in 1856 by Republican Party as its candidate for Vice President on the ticket with John C. Frémont; attorney general of New Jersey 1857-1861; appointed United States minister to France on March 18, 1861, and served until his death in Paris, December 1, 1864; interment in Riverview Cemetery, Trenton, N. J.

DEAL, Joseph Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born near Surry, Va., November 19, 1860; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington in 1882; engaged in civil engineering and lumber manufacturing in Surry County in 1883; moved to Norfolk, Va., in 1891; acquired large lumber holdings and is president of important lumber manufacturing plants; interested in planting and stock raising on the James River; chairman of the Improvement Board of Norfolk 1905-1910; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; member of the State house of delegates 1910-1912; served in the State senate in 1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DEAN, Benjamin, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Clitheroe, England, August 14, 1824; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Lowell, Mass.; attended Lowell schools and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Lowell; moved to Boston in 1852 and continued the practice of law; served in the State senate in 1862, 1863, and 1869; member of the common council 1865-1866 and 1872-1873; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Walbridge A. Field to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 28, 1878, to March 3, 1879; was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Boston; member of the board of park commissioners for several years and served as chairman; died in South Boston, Mass., April 9, 1897; interment in Lowell Cemetery, Lowell, Mass.

DEAN, Ezra, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hillsdale, Columbia County, N. Y., April 9, 1798; attended the common schools; in the War of 1812 was appointed ensign in the Eleventh Regiment of United States Infantry April 17, 1814; commissioned lieutenant October 1, 1814, for meritorious conduct at the sortie of Fort Erie; at the close of the war was placed in command of a revenue cutter on Lake Champlain and rendered effective service against smugglers; resigned to study law, and was admitted to the bar in Plattsburg, N. Y., in 1823; moved to Ohio in 1824, settled in Wooster, and commenced the practice of law; postmaster of Wooster 1828-1832; president judge of the court of common pleas 1834-1841; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; resumed the practice of law in Wooster; moved to Ironton, Ohio, in 1867, and died there January 25, 1872; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

DEAN, Gilbert, a Representative from New York; born in Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County, N. Y., August 14, 1819; attended the common schools and Amenia Seminary, Dutchess County, N. Y.; was graduated from Yale College in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in 1844; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1851, to July 3, 1854, when he resigned; appointed justice of the Supreme Court of New York on June 26, 1854, to fill a vacancy, and served until December 31, 1855; moved to New York City in 1856 and continued the practice of law; died in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., October 12, 1870; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery, Pleasant Valley, N. Y.; reinterment in the Portland Evergreen Cemetery, Brocton, Chautauqua County, N. Y.

DEAN, Josiah, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Raynham, Mass., March 6, 1748; attended the common schools; engaged in the rolling-mill and shipbuilding business; selectman in 1781; town clerk in 1805; presidential elector on the Jefferson ticket in 1804; served in the State senate 1804-1807; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); member of the State house of representatives in 1810 and 1811; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Raynham, Mass., October 14, 1818; interment in the Pleasant Street Cemetery.

DEAN, Sidney, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Glastonbury, Conn., November 16, 1818; attended the common schools and Wilbraham and Suffolk Academies; minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church from 1843 to 1853, when he retired from the ministry on account of impaired health; engaged in manufacturing in Putnam, Conn.; member of the Connecticut House of Representatives in 1854 and 1855; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1858; traveled for a short time, and on his return home in 1860 reentered the ministry, with pastorates in Pawtucket, Providence, and finally in Warren, R. I.; took up journalism in 1864; during the period 1865-1880 engaged as editor of the Providence Press, Providence Star, and Rhode Island Press; served in the Rhode Island Senate in 1870 and 1871; engaged in literary pursuits and lecturing; died in Brookline, Norfolk County, Mass., October 29, 1901; interment in the South Cemetery, Warren, R. I.

DEANE, Silas, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Groton, Conn., December 24, 1737; received a classical training, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1758; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1761, and commenced practice in Wethersfield, Conn.; afterwards engaged in mercantile pursuits in the same town; deputy of the general assembly 1768-1775; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1776; ordered to France in March, 1776, as a secret political and financial agent, and in September was commissioned as ambassador with Franklin and Lee; negotiated and signed the treaty between France and the United States in Paris on February 6, 1778; personally secured the services of Lafayette, De Kalb, and other foreign officers, for which he was accused of extravagance, and was recalled in 1777 and investigated by Congress; returned to France to procure transcripts of his transactions there, and found that the publication of some of his confidential dispatches had embittered that Government against him, and he was compelled to go to Holland, and thence to Great Britain, greatly impoverished; died on board ship sailing from Gravesend to Boston September 23, 1789; interment in Deal, on the Kentish coast, England; in 1842 Congress vindicated his memory by deciding that a considerable sum of money was due him, which was paid to his heirs.

DEARBORN, Henry (father of Henry Alexander Scammell Dearborn), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in North Hampton, N. H., February 23, 1751; attended the public schools; studied medicine, and commenced practice in Nottingham Square in 1772; during the Revolutionary War was a captain in Stark's regiment and participated in the Battle of Bunker Hill, where he covered the retreat of the American forces; accompanied Arnold's expedition to Canada and took part in the storming of Quebec; was taken prisoner, but was released on parole in May, 1776; fought in the Battles of Stillwater, Saratoga, Monmouth, and Newton; joined Washington's staff in 1781 as deputy quartermaster general with rank of colonel, and served at the siege of Yorktown; moved to Monmouth, Me. (then a district of Massachusetts), in June, 1784; elected brigadier general of militia in 1787 and made major general in 1789; appointed United States marshal for the district of Maine in 1789; elected as a Democrat from a Maine district of Massachusetts to the Third and Fourth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1797); appointed Secretary of War by President Jefferson, and served from March 4, 1801, to March 7, 1809; appointed collector of the port of Boston by President Madison in 1809, which position he held until January 27, 1812, when he was appointed senior major general in the United States Army; was in command at the capture of York (now Toronto) April 27, 1813, and Fort George May 27, 1813; recalled from the frontier July 6, 1813, and placed in command of the city of New York; appointed United States minister plenipotentiary to Portugal by President Monroe, and served from May 7, 1822, to June 30, 1824, when, by his own request, he was recalled; returned to Roxbury, Mass., where he died June 6, 1829; interment in Forest Hills Cemetery, Boston, Mass.

DEARBORN, Henry Alexander Scammell (son of Henry Dearborn), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Exeter, N. H., March 3, 1783; attended the common schools and Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., for two years; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Salem, Mass., and Portland, Me. (then a district of Massachusetts); collector of customs in Boston 1812-1829; served as brigadier general commanding the Volunteers in the defenses of Boston Harbor in the War of 1812; member of the State constitutional convention in 1820; member of the State house of representatives in 1829; served in the State senate in 1830; elected to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1832 to the Twenty-third Congress; adjutant general of Massachusetts 1834-1848; mayor of Roxbury 1847-1851; president of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society; author of many books; died in Portland, Me., July 29, 1851; interment in Forest Hills Cemetery, Roxbury, Mass.

DE ARMOND, David Albaugh, a Representative from Missouri; born in Altoona, Blair County, Pa., March 18, 1844; attended the common schools and Williamsport Dickinson Seminary; moved to Davenport, Iowa, in 1866; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Davenport; moved to Missouri in 1869 and settled in Greenfield, Dade County; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; member of the State senate 1879-1883; Missouri Supreme Court commissioner in 1884; judge of the twenty-second judicial circuit of Missouri 1886-1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and to the nine succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until his death; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1905 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Charles Swayne, judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida; died in Butler, Bates County, Mo., November 23, 1909; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

DEBERRY, Edmund, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Lawrenceville (now Mount Gilead), Montgomery County, N. C., August 14, 1787; attended school at High Shoals; engaged in agricultural pursuits and also in the operation of cotton mills and flour mills; member of the State senate 1806-1811, 1813, 1814, 1820, 1821, and 1826-1828; served as justice of the peace; elected to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1830 to the Twenty-second Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844; elected to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; resumed agricultural and his former business pursuits; died at his home in Pee Dee Township, Montgomery County, N. C., December 12, 1859; interment in the family cemetery on his plantation near Mount Gilead.

DEBOE, William Joseph, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Crittenden County, Ky., June 30, 1849; attended the public schools of the State and Ewing College, Illinois; studied law and medicine; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Louisville and practiced a few years, when his health failed; renewed the study of law, was admitted to the bar in 1889, and commenced practice in Marion, Crittenden County, Ky.; served as superintendent of schools of Crittenden County; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888, at St. Louis in 1896, where he was chairman of the delegation, and at Chicago in 1912; member of the Republican State central committee twelve years; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; member of the State senate 1893-1898; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1903; was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; engaged in mining; appointed acting postmaster of Marion on March 28, 1923, and postmaster on June 6, 1924; served until May 23, 1927, when he resigned on account of ill health; died in Marion, Crittenden County, Ky., June 15, 1927; interment in Maple View Cemetery.

DE BOLT, Rezin A., a Representative from Missouri; born near Basil, Fairfield County, Ohio, January 20, 1828; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio; moved to Trenton, Grundy County, Mo., in 1858 and continued the practice of his profession; appointed in 1859 and elected in 1860 commissioner of common schools for Grundy County, and served until the commencement of the Civil War; entered the Union Army as captain in the Twenty-third Regiment Missouri Volunteers in 1861; captured at the Battle of Shiloh April 6, 1862, and held as prisoner until the following October; resigned his commission in 1863 on account of impaired health; elected judge of the circuit court for the eleventh judicial circuit of Missouri in November, 1863, which position he held by reelection until January 1, 1875; in 1864 again entered the United States service as major in the Forty-fourth Regiment Missouri Volunteer Infantry; mustered out in August, 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed the practice of law; died in Trenton, Grundy County, Mo., October 30, 1891; interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

DECKER, Peril D., a Representative from Missouri; born in Athens County, Ohio, September 10, 1875; moved with his parents to a farm near Hollis, Kans., in 1879; attended the common schools and Park College, Parkville, Mo., from which he was graduated in 1897; was graduated in law from the University of Kansas at Lawrence in 1899, was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice at Joplin, Jasper County, Mo.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Joplin, Mo.

DEEMER, Elias, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Durham, Bucks County, Pa., January 3, 1838; attended public and private schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Lycoming County and in Philadelphia in 1860; during the Civil War enlisted in July, 1861, as a private in Company E, One hundred and fourth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and served until the middle of May following, when he was discharged because of disabilities; moved to Milford, N. J., in 1862 and engaged in business; moved to Williamsport, Pa., in 1868 and engaged in the manufacture of lumber; president of the common council 1888-1890; president of the Williamsport National Bank 1893-1918; also interested in the publication of several newspapers at Williamsport; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress and for election in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed lumber operations in Pennsylvania, and at Deemer, Miss., which town he founded and was named after him; died in Williamsport, Pa., March 20, 1918; interment in Wildwood Cemetery.

DEERING, Nathaniel Cobb, a Representative from Iowa; born in Denmark, Oxford County, Me., September 2, 1827; attended the common schools and was graduated from North Bridgeton Academy; member of the State house of representatives from Penobscot County in 1855 and 1856; moved to Iowa, and settled in Osage, Mitchell County, in 1857; engaged in the lumber business and built and operated a sawmill; for several years a clerk in the United States Senate, but resigned in 1865; special agent of the Post Office Department for the district of Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska from 1865 to 1869, when he resigned; national-bank examiner for the State of Iowa 1872-1877; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1882; engaged in agricultural pursuits; also interested in cattle raising in Montana, and at the time of his death served as president of a large cattle company in that territory; died in Osage, Mitchell County, Iowa, December 11, 1887; interment in the Osage Cemetery.

DE FOREST, Henry Schermerhorn, a Representative from New York; born in Schenectady, N. Y., February 16, 1847; attended the public schools of his native town and Eastman Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; engaged in the real-estate, banking, and contracting business; city recorder 1888-1885; mayor of Schenectady 1885-1887 and 1889-1891; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; resumed the real-estate business and banking; unsuccessful candidate for nomination in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress and for election in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; died in Schenectady, N. Y., February 13, 1917; interment in the Yale Cemetery.

DE FOREST, Robert Elliott, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Guilford, New Haven County, Conn., February 20, 1845; attended the common schools and was graduated from Guilford Academy in 1863, and from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1867; moved to Royalton, Vt., in 1867 and became an instructor in the Royalton Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice in Bridgeport, Conn.; prosecuting attorney for Bridgeport in 1872; judge of the court of common pleas for Fairfield County in 1874-1877; mayor of Bridgeport in 1878; member of the State house of representatives in 1880; served in the State senate in 1882; corporation counsel for Bridgeport; again elected mayor in 1889 and 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; served two terms as judge of the common pleas court; resumed the practice of law in Bridgeport, Conn., where he died October 1, 1924; interment in Mountain Grove Cemetery.

DEFREES, Joseph Hutton, a Representative from Indiana; born in Sparta, White County, Tenn., May 13, 1812; moved to Ohio with his parents, who settled in Piqua in 1819; attended the common schools; apprenticed to the blacksmith trade 1826-1829; learned the art of printing; moved to Indiana and settled in South Bend in 1831, where he established the Northwestern Pioneer; moved to Goshen, Elkhart County, Ind., in 1833 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and later in banking; appointed county agent; sheriff of Elkhart County 1835-1840; member of the State house of representatives in 1849 and again in 1872; served in the State senate 1850-1854; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; resumed his former business pursuits; also interested in milling, the manufacture of linseed oil, and the construction of the Goshen Hydraulic Works; director of the Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan Railroad and served as its first president; died at Goshen, Ind., December 21, 1885; interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

DEGENER, Edward, a Representative from Texas; born in Brunswick, Germany, October 20, 1809; pursued an academic course in Germany and in England; twice a member of the legislative body in Anhalt-Dessau and a member of the first German National Assembly in Frankfurt on the Main in 1848; emigrated to the United States in 1850 and located in Sisterdale, Kendall County, Tex.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; during the Civil War was court-martialed and imprisoned by the Confederates on account of his devotion to the Union cause; after his release from imprisonment engaged in the wholesale grocery business in San Antonio; member of the Texas constitutional conventions in 1866 and 1868; upon the readmission of the State of Texas to representation was elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress, and served from March 31, 1870, to March 3, 1871; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; member of the City Council of San Antonio, Tex., 1872-1878; died in San Antonio, Bexar County, Tex., September 11, 1890; interment in the City Cemetery.

DEGETAU, Federico, a Resident Commissioner from Porto Rico; born in Ponce, P. R., December 5, 1862; attended the common schools and Central College of Ponce; completed an academic course at Barcelona, Spain, and was graduated from the law department of Central University of Madrid; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Madrid, Spain; returned to Porto Rico; one of the four commissioners sent by Porto Rico to ask Spain for autonomy; settled in San Juan and continued the practice of law; member of the Municipal Council of San Juan in 1897; mayor of San Juan in 1898; deputy to the Spanish Cortes of 1898; appointed by General Henry secretary of the interior of the first American cabinet that was formed in Porto Rico in 1899; appointed by General Davis a member of the insular board of charities; writer and author; first vice president of the Municipal Council of San Juan in 1899 and 1900; president of the Board of Education of San Juan in 1900 and 1901; elected as a Porto Rican Republican Resident Commissioner to the United States in 1900; reelected in 1902, and served from March 4, 1901, until March 3, 1905; was not a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law; died in Santurce, Porto Rico., January 20, 1914; interment in the Cemetery of San Juan.

DE GRAFF, John Isaac, a Representative from New York; born in Schenectady, N. Y., October 2, 1783; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Schenectady; served in the War of 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth Congress (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1829); mayor of Schenectady 1832-1834 and 1836; elected to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); tendered the portfolio of Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Van Buren, but declined the office; again served as mayor of Schenectady in 1842 and 1845; engaged in banking; died in Schenectady, N. Y., July 26, 1848.

DE GRAFFENREID, Reese Calhoun, a Representative from Texas; born in Franklin, Williamson County, Tenn., May 7, 1859; attended the common schools of Franklin and the University of Tennessee at Knoxville; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; was admitted to the bar in 1879 and commenced practice in Franklin; moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where he practiced his profession for one year, moving thence to Texas; helped in the construction of the Texas & Pacific Railroad; resumed the practice of law at Longview, Tex., in 1883; elected county attorney and resigned two months afterwards; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Washington, D. C., August 29, 1902; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Longview, Gregg County, Tex.

DE HART, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth), N. J., in 1729; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced; was one of the signers of the Articles of Association, as the nonimportation agreement was called, in 1774; Member of the Continental Congress, and served from July 3, 1774, until his resignation on November 22, 1776; again elected on February 14, 1776, but resigned on June 13, 1776; elected chief justice of the State supreme court September 4, 1776, and his declination was accepted February 5, 1777; mayor of Elizabethtown under the revised charter, and served from November, 1789, until his death; died in Elizabethtown, N. J., June 1, 1795; interment in St. John's Churchyard.

DE HAVEN, John Jefferson, a Representative from California; born in St. Joseph, Buchanan County, Mo., March 12, 1849; moved to California in 1853 with his parents, who settled in Humboldt County; attended the common schools; became a printer, and pursued that vocation for four years; studied law, and was admitted to the bar of the district court in Humboldt in 1866 and commenced practice at Eureka; elected district attorney of Humboldt County in 1867; member of the State House of representatives in 1869; served in the State senate 1871-1875; unsuccessful candidate for delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1878; appointed city attorney of Eureka in 1878, and served two years; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; elected judge of the superior court of Humboldt County in 1884; served as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress, and elected from March 4, 1889, until October 1, 1890, when he resigned; elected associate justice of the Supreme Court of California to fill an unexpired term of four years; United States district judge for the northern district of California from June 8, 1897, until his death at Yountville, Napa County, Calif., January 26, 1913; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Francisco, Calif.

DETRICK, Frederick Simpson, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Brighton, Beaver County, Pa., April 9, 1875; attended the public schools; was graduated from Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., in 1895 and from Harvard Law School in 1898; was admitted to the bar in 1899 and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; member of the Board of Aldermen of Cambridge in 1908 and 1909; member of the State house of representatives 1902-1905; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law at Boston, Mass., and is a resident of Cambridge, Mass.

DE JARNETTE, Daniel Coleman, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Spring Grove Manor," near Bowling Green, Caroline County, Va., October 18, 1822; studied under a private teacher and attended Bethany College, Bethany, Va. (now West Virginia); engaged in agricultural pursuits; served in the State house of representatives 1853-1858; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); reelected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, but did not present his credentials; Representative from Virginia to the First and Second Confederate Congresses 1862-1865; was an arbitrator in 1871 to define the boundary line between Maryland and Virginia; died at White Sulphur Springs, Greenbrier County, W. Va., August 20, 1881; interment in private burying ground on his estate, "Spring Grove," Caroline County, Va.

DE LA MATYR, Gilbert, a Representative from Indiana; born in Pharsalia, Chenoaga County, N. Y., July 8, 1825; pursued an academic course; studied theology, and was graduated in the theological course of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1854; itinerant elder in that church; member of the general conference in 1868, and for one term filled the office of presiding elder; during the Civil War helped enlist the Eighth Regiment of New York Heavy Artillery in 1862, and was its chaplain for three years; after holding pastorates in several large cities he settled in Indianapolis, Ind., and continued his ministerial duties; elected as a National and Democrat to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; moved to Denver, Colo., in 1881 and again engaged in preaching; pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Akron, Ohio, from 1889 until his death in that city May 17, 1892; interment in Mount Albion Cemetery, Albion, Orleans County, N. Y.

DE LA MONTANYA, James, a Representative from New York; born in New York City March 20, 1798; resided in Haverstraw, Rockland County, N. Y.; supervisor of Haverstraw in 1832 and 1833; member of the State assembly in 1833; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); died in New York City April 20, 1840; interment in the Barnes family burial ground, Stony Point, Rockland County, N. Y.

DELANEY, John Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., August 21, 1878; attended St. Ann's Parochial School and St. James' Academy, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Manhattan College, New York City; became engaged in the diamond business in 1897; was graduated from Brooklyn Law School of the St. Lawrence University in 1914, admitted to the bar in 1915, and commenced practice in New York City; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John J. Fitzgerald, and served from March 5, 1918, to March 3, 1919; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1918; resumed his former business pursuits; delegate to the Democratic State conventions in 1922 and 1924; appointed deputy commissioner of public markets of New York City in 1924; reappointed January 1, 1926, in which office he is still serving; is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DELANO, Charles, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Braintree, Worcester County, Mass., June 24, 1820; moved with his parents to Amherst, Mass., in 1833; attended the common schools and was graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Amherst, Mass.; moved to Northampton, Mass., in 1848 and continued the practice of law; treasurer of Hampshire County 1849-1858; declined the offer of a professorship at the Harvard Law School in 1853; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; resumed the practice of law; trustee of the Clarke School for the Education of the Deaf 1877-1883; appointed by Governor Rice in 1878 to act as special counsel for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in matters relating to the Hoosac Tunnel and the Troy & Greenfield Railroad, and served in this capacity until his death in Northampton, Mass., January 23, 1883; interment in the Bridge Street Cemetery.

DELANO, Columbus, a Representative from Ohio; born in Shorcham, Vt., June 4, 1809; moved with his parents to Mount Vernon, Ohio, in 1817; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Mount Vernon; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); was not a candidate for renomination in 1846; unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for governor at the Whig State convention in 1847; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860 and seconded the nomination of Abraham Lincoln as a candidate for President of the United States; served as State commissary general of Ohio in 1861; unsuccessful candidate by two votes for the United States Senate in 1862; member of the State house of representatives in 1863; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); successfully contested the election of George W. Morgan at the Fortieth Congress, and served from June 3, 1868, to March 3, 1869; was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; Commissioner of Internal Revenue from March 11, 1869, to October 31, 1870; appointed Secretary of the Interior by President Grant on November 1, 1870, which position he held until October 19, 1875, when he resigned; retired to his farm near Mount Vernon, Ohio, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; president of the First National Bank of Mount Vernon until his death in Mount Vernon, Knox County, Ohio, October 23, 1896; interment in Mount View Cemetery.

DE LANO, Milton, a Representative from New York; born in Wampsville, Madison County, N. Y., August 11, 1844; attended the common schools; settled in Canastota, N. Y., and engaged in mercantile pursuits for eight years; town clerk of Lenox 1867-1869; sheriff of Madison County, N. Y., 1873-1875 and 1879-1881; engaged in banking, the real-estate business, and in the manufacture of window glass; member of the Canastota Board of Education 1883-1905, and served as president 1893-1905; aided in the organization of the Canastota Northern Railroad Co.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1884, where Blaine and Logan were nominated; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed banking; receiver of the Hudson River Power Co. 1908-1912; became president of the State Bank of Canastota, N. Y., in 1912; died at the Syracuse Memorial Hospital, Syracuse, Onondaga County, N. Y., January 2, 1922; interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Canastota, N. Y.

DELAPLAINE, Isaac Clason, a Representative from New York; born in New York City October 27, 1817; pursued an academic course; was graduated from Columbia College (now Columbia University), New York City, in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar about 1840, and commenced practice in New York City; elected as a Fusionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); died in New York City July 17, 1866; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DE LARGE, Robert Carlos, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Aiken, S. C., March 15, 1842; was of the Negro race; received such an education as was then attainable and was graduated from Wood High School; engaged in agricultural pursuits; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1868; member of the State house of representatives 1868-1870; was one of the State commissioners of the sinking fund; elected State land commissioner in 1870, and served until elected to Congress; presented credentials as a Republican Member elect to the Forty-second Congress and served from March 4, 1871, until January 24, 1873, when the seat was declared vacant, the election having been contested by Christopher C. Bowen; local magistrate until his death in Charleston, S. C., February 14, 1874; interment in the Brown Fellowship Graveyard.

DELLET, James, a Representative from Alabama; born in Camden, N. J., February 18, 1788; when quite young moved to South Carolina; was graduated from the University of South Carolina, at Columbia, in 1810; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1813; moved to Alabama in 1818 and settled in Claiborne; elected to the first State House of Representatives of Alabama under the State government in 1819, and served as its speaker; reelected in 1821 and 1825; unsuccessful as the Whig candidate for Congress in 1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); died in Claiborne, Monroe County, Ala., December 21, 1848; interment in a private cemetery at Claiborne, Ala.

DEMING, Benjamin F., a Representative from Vermont; born in Danville, Caledonia County, Vt., in 1790; pursued an academic course; engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the governor's council 1827-1832; clerk of the Caledonia County court 1817-1833; county judge of probate 1821-1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1833, until his death at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., en route home, July 11, 1834; interment in the Danville Green Cemetery, Danville, Caledonia County, Vt.

DEMING, Henry Champion, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Colchester, New London County, Conn., May 23, 1815; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1836 and from the Harvard Law School in 1839; was admitted to the bar in 1839 and began practice in New York City but devoted his time chiefly to literary work; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1847; member of the State house of representatives in 1849, 1850, and 1859-1861; member of the State senate in 1851; mayor of Hartford, Conn., 1854-1858 and 1890-1892; entered the Union Army in September, 1861, as colonel of the Twelfth Regiment Connecticut Volunteers; mayor of New Orleans under martial law from October, 1862, to February, 1863, when he resigned from the Army; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1866 to the Fortieth Congress; appointed collector of internal revenue in 1869, and served until his death in Hartford, Conn., October 8, 1872; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

DE MOTT, John, a Representative from New York; born in Readington, Hunterdon County, N. J., October 7, 1790; moved to Herkimer County, N. Y., in 1793 with his parents, who settled in what is now the town of Lodi, Seneca County; attended the common schools; pursued an academic course; major general of the Thirty-eighth Brigade of the State militia; supervisor in the town of Covert in 1823 and 1824 and of Lodi in 1826, 1827, 1829, and 1830; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Lodi, N. Y., for more than forty years, and was a prominent merchant and grain buyer; member of the State assembly in 1833; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); was not a candidate for renomination in 1846; resumed his former business pursuits; also engaged in banking; died in Lodi, Seneca County, N. Y., July 31, 1870; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Ovid, N. Y.

DE MOTTE, Mark Lindsey, a Representative from Indiana; born in Rockville, Parke County, Ind., December 28, 1832; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from the literary department of Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University, Greencastle, Ind., in 1853 and from the law department of the same university in 1855; was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Valparaiso in 1855; elected prosecuting attorney of the sixty-seventh judicial district in 1856; served in the Union Army during the Civil War with the rank of first lieutenant in 1861; promoted to captain in 1862; at the close of the war moved to Lexington, Mo., and resumed the practice of law; editor and proprietor of the Lexington Register; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election to Congress in 1872 and 1878; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; returned to Valparaiso, Ind., in 1877 and resumed the practice of law; organized the Northern Indiana Law School in 1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; member of the State senate 1886-1890; appointed postmaster of Valparaiso March 24, 1890, and served until March 20, 1894; dean of the Northern Indiana Law School 1890-1908; died in Valparaiso, Porter County, Ind., September 23, 1908; interment in Maplewood Cemetery.

DEMPSEY, Stephen Wallace, a Representative from New York; born in Hartland, Niagara County, N. Y., May 8, 1862; attended the district school of his native town and was graduated from the De Veaux School, Niagara Falls, N. Y., in 1880; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and commenced practice in Lockport, Niagara County, N. Y.; assistant United States attorney 1889-1907; special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States from 1907 to 1912, and was in charge of the prosecution of the Standard Oil Co. and certain railroads; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DENBY, Edwin (grandson of Graham Newell Fitch), a Representative from Michigan; born in Evansville, Vanderburg County, Ind., February 18, 1870; attended the public schools; went to China with his father, then United States minister, in 1885; employed in the Chinese Imperial maritime customs service 1887-1894; returned to the United States in 1894; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1896; moved to Detroit, Mich.; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1896; served as a gunner's mate, third class, United States Navy, on the Yosemite in the war with Spain in 1898; member of the State house of representatives in 1903; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Detroit; president of the Detroit Charter Commission in 1913 and 1914; president of the Detroit Board of Commerce in 1916 and 1917; during the World War enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps in 1917; retired as major in the United States Marine Corps Reserve in 1919; appointed chief probation officer in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit and the circuit court of Wayne County in 1920; appointed by President Harding Secretary of the Navy, and served from March 4, 1921, until March 10, 1924, when he resigned; again resumed the practice of law in Detroit, where he is also engaged in various business enterprises.

DENEEN, Charles Samuel, a Senator from Illinois; born in Edwardsville, Madison County, Ill., May 4, 1863; reared in Lebanon, St. Clair County, Ill.; attended the public schools, and was graduated from McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., in 1882; subsequently studied law at the same college and at the Union College of Law (now Northwestern University), Chicago, Ill.; was admitted to the bar in 1886 and commenced practice in Chicago; member of the State house of representatives in 1892; attorney for the Sanitary District, Chicago, in 1895 and 1896; State's attorney for Cook County, Ill., 1896-1904; elected Governor of Illinois and served from 1905 to 1913; resumed the practice of his profession in Chicago; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate on February 20, 1925, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Medill McCormick in the term ending March 3, 1925; had been previously elected in 1924 for the term commencing March 4, 1925, and ending March 3, 1931.

DE NIVERNAIS, Edward James, a Representative from California. (See LIVERNASH, Edward James.)

DENISON, Charles (nephew of George Denison), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Wyoming Valley, Pa., January 23, 1818; received a liberal education, and was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Wilkes-Barre; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1863, until his death in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 27, 1867; interment in Forty Fort Cemetery, Kingston, Pa.

DENISON, Dudley Chase (nephew of Dudley Chase and cousin of Salmon Portland Chase), a Representative from Vermont; born in Royalton, Vt., September 13, 1819; attended Royalton Academy, and was graduated from the University of Vermont at Burlington in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Royalton; member of the State senate in 1853 and 1854; State's attorney 1858-1860; served in the State house of representatives 1861-1863; United States district attorney for the district of Vermont 1865-1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law; died in Royalton, Windsor County, Vt., February 10, 1905; interment in North Royalton Cemetery.

DENISON, Edward Everett, a Representative from Illinois; born in Marlon, Williamson County, Ill., August 28, 1877; attended the public schools; was graduated from Baylor University at Waco, Tex., in 1895, from Yale University in 1896, and from the Columbian (now George Washington) University Law School at Washington, D. C., in 1899; was admitted to the bar at Springfield, Ill., in 1900 and commenced practice in Marlon, Ill.; member of the State bar association 1900-1925; engaged in the banking business; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DENISON, George (uncle of Charles Denison), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Kingston, Luzerne County, Pa., February 22, 1790; engaged in mercantile pursuits; attended the Wilkes-Barre Academy; clerk of the Wilkes-Barre Borough Council 1811-1814, and member of the council for many years, serving as president in 1823 and 1824; recorder and registrar of Luzerne County 1812-1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1813, and commenced practice in Luzerne County; member of the State house of representatives in 1815 and 1816; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law; deputy attorney general for Luzerne County in 1824; again elected to the State house of representatives in 1827, and served until his death; Burgess of Wilkes-Barre Borough in 1829 and 1830; died in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., August 20, 1831; interment in Hollenback Cemetery.

DENNING, William, a Representative from New York; born probably in St. John's, Newfoundland, in April, 1740; moved to New York City in early youth and engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the Committee of One Hundred in 1775; deputy to the New York Provincial Congress 1775-1777; member of the convention of State representatives in 1776 and 1777; served in the State assembly 1784-1787 and in the State senate 1798-1808; member of the council of appointment in 1799; elected to the Eleventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1809, until his resignation in 1810, never having qualified; devoted himself to private affairs until his death in New York City October 30, 1819; interment in St. Paul's Churchyard.

DENNIS, George Robertson, a Senator from Maryland; born in Whitehaven, Somerset County, Md., April 8, 1822; was graduated from the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., and then entered the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; studied medicine at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, was graduated in 1843, and practiced in Kingston, Md., for many years; later devoted himself to agricultural pursuits; member of the State senate in 1854; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856 and to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; served in the State house of delegates in 1867; again a member of the State senate in 1871; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1873, until March 3, 1879; died in Kingston, Somerset County, Md., August 13, 1882; interment in St. Andrew's Churchyard, Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md.

DENNIS, John (uncle of Littleton Purnell Dennis), a Representative from Maryland; born at "Beverly," Worcester County, Md., December 17, 1771; completed preparatory studies in Washington Academy; attended Yale College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1793, and commenced practice in Somerset County; served two terms in the State house of delegates; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1805); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1798 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against William Blount, a Senator from Tennessee; died in Philadelphia, Pa., August 17, 1807; interment in the Old Christ Church Graveyard.

DENNIS, John (son of the preceding), a Representative from Maryland; born at "Beckford," near Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md., in 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; served in the State house of delegates; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850; died at "Beckford," near Princess Anne, Somerset County, Md., November 1, 1859.

DENNIS, Littleton Purnell (nephew of John Dennis), a Representative from Maryland; born at "Beverly," Worcester County, Md., July 21, 1786; attended Washington Academy, Somerset County, Md.; was graduated from Yale College in 1803; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State house of delegates in 1815, 1816, and 1819-1827; presidential elector in 1800, 1812, 1816, 1824, and 1828; member of the Executive Council of Maryland in 1829; an elector of the Maryland State Senate in 1831; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1833, until his death in Washington, D. C., April 14, 1834; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

DENNY, Arthur Armstrong, a Delegate from the Territory of Washington; born in Salem, Washington County, Ind., June 20, 1822; the following year his parents settled near Greencastle, Putnam County, Ind.; attended the public schools; moved to Illinois with his parents, who settled in Knox County in 1834; surveyor of Knox County from 1843 until his resignation in 1851; moved to Oregon Territory in 1851 and settled at Ald Point on Elliott Bay; engaged in cutting timber for market until 1854, when he engaged in mercantile pursuits; served as county commissioner of Thurston County, Ore., and also of King County, Wash., when the latter was formed; first postmaster of Seattle 1853-1855; upon the organization of Washington Territory in 1853 was elected a member of the Territorial house of representatives and served until 1861; elected speaker in 1857; during the Indian war of 1855 served in the Volunteer Army for six months; register of the land office in Olympia 1861-1865; member of the Territorial council in 1862 and 1863; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; entered the banking business in 1872, and continued in active business until a few years before his death; also engaged as an author; died in Seattle, Wash., January 9, 1899; interment in Lakeview Cemetery.

DENNY, Harmar, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., May 13, 1794; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1816, and commenced practice in Pittsburgh, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives 1824-1829; elected as an Anti-Mason to the Twenty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Wilkins; reelected to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses and as a Whig to the Twenty-fourth Congress, and served from December 15, 1829, to March 3, 1837; was not a candidate for renomination in 1836; resumed the practice of law in Pittsburgh, Pa.; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1837; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; commissioner under act of incorporation of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. April 13, 1846; incorporator of Ohio & Pennsylvania Railroad Co., act of April 11, 1848; declined the nomination to be a candidate for Congress in 1850; president of the Pittsburgh & Steubenville Railroad Co. in 1851 and 1852; trustee of the Western University of Pennsylvania and director of the Western Theological Seminary; died in Pittsburgh, Pa., January 20, 1852; interment in Allegheny Cemetery.

DENNY, James William, a Representative from Maryland; born in Frederick County, Va., November 20, 1838; attended the academy of the Rev. William Johnson, Berryville, Clarke County, Va.; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; principal of Osage Seminary, Osceola, St. Clair County, Mo.; during the Civil War he returned to his native State and enlisted in Company A, Thirty-ninth Virginia Battalion of Cavalry, Confederate Army, in which he served until 1863, when he was detailed for service at Gen. R. E. Lee's headquarters, where he continued until the surrender at Appomattox Court House; returned to his home in Clarke County, Va., and began the study of law in Winchester, Va.; was admitted to the bar in Baltimore, Md., in 1868 and commenced practice in that city; elected to the first branch of the city council in 1881; reelected in 1882 and became its president; member of the State house of delegates 1888-1890; colonel on the staff of Gov. E. E. Jackson; member of the Baltimore School Board for eight years; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1901); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1900 to the Fifty-seventh Congress; elected to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); engaged in the practice of law until his death in Baltimore, Md., April 12, 1923; interment in Loudon Park Cemetery.

DENNY, Walter McKennon, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Moss Point, Jackson County, Miss., October 28, 1853; attended the common schools and Roanoke College, Salem, Va.; was graduated from the law department of the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1874; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Pascagoula, Jackson County, Miss.; clerk of the circuit and chancery courts of Jackson County, Miss., from November, 1883, until January 1, 1895, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1896; joined the Republican Party in 1896; resumed the practice of law at Pascagoula, Miss., and for fifteen years was legal adviser to the Jackson County Board of Supervisors; died in Pascagoula November 5, 1920; interment in Machpelah Cemetery.

DENOYELLES, Peter, a Representative from New York; born in Haverstraw, Rockland County, N. Y., in 1796; completed preparatory studies; engaged in the manufacture of brick; member of the State assembly in 1802 and 1803; held several local offices; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; died in Haverstraw, Rockland County, N. Y., May 6, 1829; interment in Mount Repose Cemetery.

DENSON, William Henry, a Representative from Alabama; born in Uchee, Russell County, Ala., March 4, 1846; attended the common schools and the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa; left the University of Alabama in 1863 to join the Confederate Army; worked on his father's farm and studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in Union Springs, Ala.; moved to Lafayette, Chambers County, Ala., in October, 1870; mayor of Lafayette in 1874; member of the State house of representatives in 1876; moved to Gadsden, Etowah County, in 1877 and continued the practice of his profession; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; appointed by President Cleveland United States district attorney for the northern and middle districts of Alabama, and served from June 30, 1885, to June 3, 1889; chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; moved to Birmingham, Ala., where he resumed the practice of law; died in Birmingham, Ala., September 26, 1906; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

DENT, George, a Representative from Maryland; born on his father's estate, "Windsor Castle," on the Mattawoman, Charles County, Md., in 1756; completed preparatory studies; during the Revolutionary War served as first lieutenant of militia of Charles and St. Marys Counties under Capt. Thomas H. Marshall, and as first lieutenant in the Third Battalion of the Flying Camp Regular Troops of Maryland in 1776; captain in the Twenty-sixth Battalion, Maryland Militia, in 1778; member of the Maryland House of Assembly 1782-1790, and served as speaker pro tempore in 1788 and as speaker in 1789; unanimously reelected speaker in 1790; justice of the Charles County court in 1791 and 1792; member of the State senate in 1791 and 1792, and served as president in the latter year; resigned December 21, 1792; elected as a Democrat to the Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1801); Speaker pro tempore of the House at various times from 1797 to 1799; appointed by President Jefferson United States marshal of the United States District Court for the Potomac District at Washington, D. C., on April 4, 1801; moved to Georgia in 1802 and settled about twelve miles from Augusta, where he died December 2, 1813; interment on his plantation.

DENT, Stanley Hubert, Jr., a Representative from Alabama; born in Eufaula, Barbour County, Ala., August 16, 1869; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Southern University, Greensboro, Ala., in 1886; was graduated from the University of Virginia Law School at Charlottesville in 1889; was admitted to the bar the same year and practiced in Eufaula, Ala., until 1899; moved to Montgomery, Ala., in 1899 and continued the practice of his profession; prosecuting attorney for Montgomery County 1902-1909; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1920; was chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs of the House of Representatives during the entire period of the World War; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Montgomery, Ala.

DENT, William Barton Wade, a Representative from Georgia; born in Bryantown, Charles County, Md., September 8, 1806; attended a private school in Charlotte Hall, St. Marys County, Md., and was graduated from Charlotte Hall Military Academy in 1823; moved to Malloryville, Wilkes County, Ga., in 1824 and taught school; engaged in mercantile pursuits at Bullsboro, Ga., in 1827; took an active part in founding the city of Newnan, Ga., in 1828; subsequently engaged in agricultural pursuits and milling in Coweta, Carroll, and Heard Counties; became interested in large land holdings in Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Texas; served as a colonel in the State militia during the Creek War; member of the State house of representatives in 1843; returned to Newnan in 1849 and served as judge of the inferior court of Coweta County; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination in 1854; died in Newnan, Coweta County, Ga., September 7, 1855; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

DENTON, George Kirkpatrick, a Representative from Indiana; born near Sebree, Webster County, Ky., November 17, 1864; attended the public schools and Van Horn Institute; was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware in 1891 and from the law department of Boston (Mass.) University in 1893; was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Evansville, Ind.; served as counsel for the Intermediate Life Insurance Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Evansville, Ind.; unsuccessful candidate in 1924 for judge of the Supreme Court of Indiana; candidate for the Democratic nomination of United States Senator in 1926, but died before the primary election; died in Evansville, Ind., on January 4, 1926; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

DENVER, James William (father of Matthew Rombach Denver), a Representative from California; born in Winchester, Va., October 23, 1817; attended the public schools; moved to Ohio, with his parents, who settled near Wilmington in 1830; taught school in Missouri in 1841; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1844; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Xenia, Ohio; also published the Thomas Jefferson; moved to Platte City, Mo., in 1845 and continued the practice of law; served as captain in the Twelfth Regiment United States Infantry during the war with Mexico; moved to California in 1850; elected to the State senate in 1851; appointed secretary of state in 1852; elected as an Anti-Broderick Democrat to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); was not a candidate for renomination in 1856; appointed Commissioner of Indian Affairs April 17, 1857; resigned to become Governor of the Territory of Kansas June 17, 1857, and during his administration gold was found on Cherry Creek, and the present capital of Colorado (then Kansas Territory) was founded and named "Denver" for the chief executive; reappointed Commissioner of Indian Affairs November 8, 1858, and served until his resignation on March 31, 1859; during the Civil War was commissioned brigadier general in the Union Army on August 14, 1861; resigned from the Army March 5, 1863; resumed the practice of his profession in Washington, D. C., and Wilmington, Ohio; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876, at Cincinnati in 1880, and at Chicago in 1884; died in Washington, D. C., August 9, 1892; interment in Sugar Grove Cemetery, Wilmington, Clinton County, Ohio.

DENVER, Matthew Rombach (son of James William Denver), a Representative from Ohio; born in Wilmington, Clinton County, Ohio, December 21, 1870; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., in 1892; engaged in agricultural pursuits, banking, and the manufacture of furnaces, air compressors, and wood-boring tools; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896, at Denver in 1908, at Baltimore in 1912, at San Francisco in 1920, and at New York City in 1924; member of the Democratic State committee 1896-1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1913); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; returned to Wilmington, Ohio, and resumed banking pursuits; president of the Ohio Bankers' Association in 1918 and 1919; again elected a member of the Democratic State committee for the term 1926-1928; engaged in banking and is a resident of Wilmington, Ohio.

DEPEW, Chauncey Mitchell, a Senator from New York; born in Peekskill, N. Y., April 23, 1834; attended the private school of a Mrs. Westbrook; was graduated from the Peekskill Military Academy in 1852 and from Yale College in 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice at Peekskill, N. Y., in 1859; member of the State assembly in 1861 and 1862; secretary of state of New York in 1863; refused a renomination; appointed United States minister to Japan by President Johnson November 11, 1865, and was confirmed by the Senate, but declined; appointed county clerk of Westchester County by Governor Fenton in 1867, and resigned; elected immigration commissioner in 1870, but declined; unsuccessful candidate for election as Lieutenant governor on the Liberal Republican or Greeley ticket in 1872; colonel and judge advocate of the fifth division of the New York National Guard 1873-1881; appointed a member of the commission to build the State capitol in 1874; appointed boundary commissioner in 1875 for fixing the State line with adjoining States; regent of New York University 1877-1904; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1881; orator on the occasion of the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor October 28, 1886; appointed president of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Co. in 1885, but resigned in 1899 to become chairman of the board of directors of that railroad system; candidate for the presidential nomination in the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888 and received ninety-nine votes; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888, at Minneapolis in 1892, at St. Louis in 1896, at Philadelphia in 1900, and at Chicago in 1904; delegate to all succeeding Republican National Conventions to 1924, inclusive; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1899; reelected in 1905, and served from March 4, 1899, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910; resumed his legal and corporate business pursuits in New York City, where he died on April 5, 1926; interment in Hillside Cemetery, Peekskill, N. Y.

DEBSHEM, Franklin Lewis, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near New Columbia, Union County, Pa., March 5, 1865; attended the common schools; was graduated from Palm's National Business College, Philadelphia, in 1887; appointed postmaster at Kelly Point, Union County, Pa., on March 9, 1888, and served until January 13, 1891; engaged in agricultural pursuits, and was also interested in the hardware business 1891-1913; member of the board of trustees of Albright College, Myerstown, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives in 1907, 1908, and again in 1911 and 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; appointed as an auditor in the Philadelphia division of the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue on October 1, 1915, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of Lewisburg, Union County, Pa.

DE SAUSSURE, William Ford, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., February 22, 1792; was graduated from Harvard University in 1810; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Charleston and Columbia, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives in 1846; judge of the chancery court in 1847; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore in 1852 and 1860; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. Barnwell Rhett, and served from May 10, 1852, to March 3, 1853; resumed the practice of law in Columbia; trustee of South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia for many years; died in Columbia, Richland County, S. C., March 13, 1870; interment in the Presbyterian Churchyard.

DESHA, Joseph (brother of Robert Desha), a Representative from Kentucky; born in Monroe County, Pa., December 9, 1768; pursued preparatory studies; moved to Kentucky with his parents, who settled in Fayette County in 1779, and later, in 1782, they moved to Tennessee and settled near Gallatin, Sumner County; returned to Kentucky in 1792 and settled in Mason County; served in the Indian wars under Gen. Anthony Wayne and Gen. William H. Harrison in 1794; returned to Kentucky and engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1797 and 1799-1802; served in the State senate 1803-1807; elected as a Democrat to the Tenth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1819); was not a candidate for renomination in 1818; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Kentucky in 1820; was an enthusiastic supporter of the War of 1812 and served as major general of Volunteers under Gen. William H. Harrison at the Battle of the Thames; on his return to civil life he was elected Governor of Kentucky and served from 1824 to 1828; retired from public life and lived on his farm in Harrison County until his death near Georgetown, Ky., October 11, 1842; interment in Georgetown Cemetery.

DESHA, Robert (brother of Joseph Desha), a Representative from Tennessee; born near Gallatin, Sumner County, Tenn., January 14, 1791; attended the public schools; engaged in the mercantile business at Gallatin; appointed on March 12, 1812, a captain in the Twenty-fourth Regiment United States Infantry in the War of 1812; also served as brevet major; honorably discharged on June 15, 1815; elected to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1830 for the Twenty-second Congress; moved to Mobile, Ala., and continued mercantile pursuits until his death there February 6, 1849; interment in Magnolia Cemetery.

DESTREHAN, John Noel, a Senator from Louisiana; born in that section of Louisiana fronting the Mississippi River in what was afterwards called St. Charles Parish in 1780; one of a committee of three Creoles who protested to Congress against the provisions in the first Territorial government, which resulted in the formulation of a second with more liberal provisions; member of the legislative council of the Territory of Orleans and served as its president from March 25 to May 22, 1806, and from February to April, 1811; although opposed to the admission of the Territory to statehood was a delegate to the convention and helped to draft the constitution of the State of Louisiana; served in the State senate 1812-1817; upon the admission of Louisiana as a State into the Union was elected to the United States Senate on September 3, 1812, but resigned on October 1, 1812, without having qualified; died in 1824; interment near Destrehan, La.

DEUSTER, Peter Victor, a Representative from Wisconsin; born near Aix la Chapelle, Rhenish Prussia, February 18, 1831; pursued an academic course; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled on a farm near Milwaukee, Wis., in May, 1847; worked in a printing office; moved to Port Washington, Wis., in 1854 and edited a newspaper; also served simultaneously as postmaster, clerk of the circuit court, clerk of the land office, and notary public; returned to Milwaukee in 1856 and edited the Milwaukee See-Bote, a Democratic daily paper, until 1860, when he became proprietor; member of the State assembly in 1863; served in the State senate in 1870 and 1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed newspaper interests; appointed chairman of a commission to diminish the Umatilla Indian Reservation in Oregon in 1887; appointed consul at Crefeld, Germany, February 19, 1896, and served until a successor was appointed October 16, 1897; died in Milwaukee, Wis., December 31, 1904; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

DE VEYRA, Jaime Carlos, a Resident Commissioner from the Philippine Islands; born in Tanawan, Province of Leyte, P. I., November 4, 1873; attended public and private schools, and was graduated from the College of San Juan de Letran in Manila in 1893; studied law, philosophy, and letters in the University of St. Thomas at Manila 1895-1897; secretary to the Military Governor of Leyte in 1898 and 1899; engaged in newspaper work; member of the municipal council of Cebu; Governor of Leyte in 1906 and 1907; member of the Philippine House of Representatives 1907-1909; member of the Philippine Commission 1913-1916; executive secretary of the Philippine Islands in 1916 and 1917; elected as a Nationalist a Resident Commissioner to the United States in 1917; reelected in 1920, and served from March 4, 1917, to March 3, 1923; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1922; engaged in journalistic work during 1923; at present head of the department of Spanish, University of the Philippines, Manila, P. I.

DE VRIES, Marion, a Representative from California; born near Woodbridge, San Joaquin County, Calif., August 15, 1865; attended the public schools; was graduated from the San Joaquin Valley College, Woodbridge, Calif., in 1888, and from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1888; was admitted to the bar in 1887 and commenced practice in Stockton, Calif., in 1889; assistant district attorney of San Joaquin County from January, 1893, to February, 1897, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, to August 20, 1900, when he resigned to accept a court position; appointed on June 9, 1900, a member of the Board of General Appraisers (now United States Customs Court) at New York City, and served until his resignation effective April 1, 1910; was president of the board 1900-1910; associate judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals from April 2, 1910, to June 30, 1921, and served as presiding judge from July 1, 1921, until October 31, 1922, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C., and New York City.

DEWALT, Arthur Granville, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Bath, Northampton County, Pa., October 11, 1854; attended the common schools; was graduated from Keystone State Normal School in 1870 and from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., in 1874; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice at Allentown, Pa., in 1878; district attorney of Lehigh County 1880-1883; member of the State senate 1902-1910; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904 and delegate at large to the convention at Denver in 1908; chairman of the Democratic State committee in 1909 and 1910; adjutant of the Fourth Regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania for ten years; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1920; resumed the practice of his profession; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1926 to the Seventieth Congress; is a resident of Allentown, Lehigh County, Pa.

DEWART, Lewis (father of William Lewis Dewart), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sunbury, Pa., November 14, 1780; attended the common schools; clerked in his father's store for several years and later became a coal operator and bunker; postmaster at Sunbury 1806-1818; member of the State house of representatives 1812-1820; elected to the State senate in 1823 and served three years; one of the organizers and builders of the Danville & Pottsville Railroad, and served as one of the first directors; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); again a member of the State house of representatives 1835-1840 and served as speaker in 1840; chief Burgess of Sunbury in 1837; member of the school board; unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania in 1840; retired from public life and active business pursuits in 1840; died in Sunbury, Northumberland County, Pa., April 26, 1852; interment in the Sunbury Cemetery.

DEWART, William Lewis (son of Lewis Dewart), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Sunbury, Northumberland County, Pa., June 21, 1821; attended the common schools of Sunbury and Harrisburg, Pa.; was graduated from Dickinson Preparatory School, Carlisle, Pa., and from Princeton College in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the Northumberland County bar in January 3, 1843, and commenced practice in Sunbury, Pa.; chief Burgess of Sunbury in 1845 and 1846; president of the school board; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Baltimore in 1832 and in 1860, at Cincinnati in 1866, and at Chicago in 1884; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in Sunbury, Pa.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Douglas and Johnson in 1860; died in Sunbury, Pa., April 19, 1888; interment in the family vault in Sunbury Cemetery.

DEWEESE, John Thomas, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Van Buren, Crawford County, Ark., June 4, 1835; his early education was received from his mother; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1850, and commenced practice in Henderson, Ky.; resident of Denver, Colo., for some years; moved to Pike County, Ind., in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Union Army July 6, 1861, as second lieutenant of Company E, Twenty-fourth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and served with that command until February 15, 1862, when he resigned; mustered in as captain of Company F, Fourth Indiana Cavalry, August 8, 1862; promoted to the rank of major February 12, 1863, and lieutenant colonel May 17, 1863; promoted to the rank of colonel, but never served in that capacity; honorably discharged March 11, 1864; moved to North Carolina; upon the reorganization of the Army was appointed second lieutenant, Eighth United States Infantry, July 24, 1866; resigned August 14, 1867, having been elected to Congress; appointed register in bankruptcy for North Carolina in 1868; upon the readmission of North Carolina to representation was elected as a Democrat to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses, and served from July 6, 1868, to February 28, 1870, when he resigned, pending the investigation of certain appointments to the United States Military and Naval Academies; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; resumed the practice of law; died in Washington, D. C., July 4, 1900; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

DEWEY, Daniel, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Sheffield, Mass., January 20, 1796; attended Yale College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1787, and commenced practice in Williamstown, Mass.; treasurer of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., 1798-1814; member of the governor's council 1809-1812; elected as a Whig to the Thirteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1813, until February 24, 1814, when he resigned, having been assigned to a judicial position; appointed by Governor Strong an associate judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts on February 24, 1814, and served until his death in Williamstown, Mass., May 26, 1815; interment in West Lawn Cemetery.

DE WITT, Alexander, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in New Braintree, Mass., April 2, 1798; pursued an academic course; engaged in textile manufacturing in Oxford; member of the State house of representatives 1830-1836; served in the State senate in 1842, 1844, 1850, and 1851; member of the State constitutional convention in 1853; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; resumed the manufacture of textiles; died in Oxford, Worcester County, Mass., January 13, 1879; interment in the South Cemetery.

DE WITT, Charles (grandfather of Charles Gerrit De Witt), a Delegate from New York; born in Kingston, Ulster County, N. Y., in 1727; pursued classical studies; colonel of militia; member of the colonial assembly 1768-1776; delegate to the provisional convention in 1775; member of the Provisional Congress which approved the Declaration of Independence 1775-1777, served on the constitutional committee in 1776, and on the committee of safety in 1777; Member of the Continental Congress from February to October, 1784; editor of the Ulster Sentinel for several years; member of the State assembly in 1781, 1785, and 1786; member of the committee to draft the State constitution; died in Kingston, N. Y., August 27, 1787; interment in the Dutch Reformed Cemetery, Hurley, N. Y.

DE WITT, Charles Gerrit (grandson of Charles De Witt) a Representative from New York; born in Greenhill, Ulster County, N. Y., November 7, 1789; studied law and practiced; clerk in the Navy Department; edited the Ulster Sentinel; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); was not a candidate for renomination in 1830; resumed the practice of law; appointed chargé d'affaires to Central America on January 29, 1838; returned home in February, 1839; died on board a river steamer opposite Newburgh, N. Y., April 12, 1839; interment in the Dutch Reformed Cemetery, Hurley, Ulster County, N. Y.

DE WITT, David Miller, a Representative from New York; born in Paterson, Passaic County, N. J., November 25, 1837; moved to New York in 1845 with his parents, who settled in Brooklyn; attended the public schools of Brooklyn, a select school at Saugerties, and the local academy at Kingston; was graduated from Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., in 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1858, and commenced practice in Kingston, N. Y.; principal of New Paltz Academy (now a State normal school) in 1861 and 1862; district attorney of Ulster County 1863-1870; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in literary pursuits; assistant corporation counsel of Brooklyn, N. Y., 1878-1881; member of the State assembly in 1883; corporation counsel of Kingston in 1884; surrogate of Ulster County from November 20, 1885, to December 31, 1886; again engaged in the practice of law; died in Kingston, N. Y., June 23, 1912; interment in Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery.

DE WITT, Francis Byron, a Representative from Ohio; born in Jackson County, Ind., March 11, 1849; moved with his parents in 1854 to a farm in Delaware County, Ohio; during the Civil War enlisted in the Forty-sixth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry at the age of twelve and was present during the Battle of Shiloh and the Corinth campaign; mustered out for temporary disability and reenlisted in 1862 in the One hundred and twenty-first Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry and served until the close of the war; prisoner of war in Salisbury, Danville, and Libby Prisons; attended the common schools and high school in Galena, Ohio, the National Normal School, Lebanon, Ohio, and the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio; taught school for five terms; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and practiced his profession in Paulding, Paulding County, until 1891, when he engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1892-1895; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896; resumed agricultural pursuits near Paulding, Ohio; moved to Standish, Arenac County, Mich., in 1923 and resumed the practice of law; member of the Michigan House of Representatives 1920-1922; elected prosecuting attorney of the county in 1926, and resides in Standish, Mich.

DE WITT, Jacob Hasbrouck, a Representative from New York; born in Marbletown, Ulster County, N. Y., October 2, 1784; attended the rural schools and Kingston (N. Y.) Academy; engaged in agricultural pursuits; served as adjutant in the War of 1812; elected as a Clinton Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); was not a candidate for renomination in 1820; resumed agricultural pursuits; supervisor of Ulster County in 1827 and again in 1840; member of the State assembly in 1839 and again in 1847; died in Kingston, Ulster County, N. Y., January 30, 1867; interment in the Sharpe Cemetery on Albany Avenue.

DE WOLF, James, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Bristol, R. I., March 18, 1784; during the Revolutionary War shipped as a sailor boy on a private armed vessel; participated in several naval encounters and was twice captured by the enemy; confined for some time on the island of Bermuda; before he was twenty years old became captain of a ship; engaged in extensive commercial ventures, principally with Cuba and other West Indian islands; member of the State house of representatives 1787-1801 and 1803-1812; fitted out a privateer in the War of 1812; one of the pioneers in cotton manufacturing; built the Arkwright Mills in Coventry, R. I., in 1812; again a member of the State house of representatives 1817-1821 and 1829-1837, and served as speaker 1819-1821; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1821, to October 31, 1825, when he resigned; died in New York City December 21, 1837; interment in the De Wolf private cemetery, Woodlawn Avenue, Bristol, R. I.

DEXTER, Samuel, a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., May 14, 1761; was graduated from Harvard University in 1781; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1784, and commenced practice in Lunenburg, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives 1788-1790; elected as a Federalist to the Third Congress (March 4, 1793-March 3, 1795); elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1799, until May 30, 1800, when he resigned to enter the Cabinet; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Adams May 13, 1800; appointed Secretary of the Treasury January 1 and served until May 6, 1801; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; moved to Boston, Mass., in 1805 and continued the practice of law; declined the appointment of minister to Spain tendered by President Madison in 1815; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1816; died in Athens, Greene County, N. Y., May 3, 1816, where he had gone to attend the marriage of his son; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Boston, Mass.

DEZENDORF, John Frederick, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lansburg, Rensselaer County, N. Y., August 10, 1834; pursued an academic course; learned the carpenter's trade; studied architecture and civil engineering; engaged in railroad and other building at Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio, 1850-1860, and later, from 1860 to 1862, in mercantile pursuits; moved to Norfolk, Va., in 1863 and engaged in the shipping business until 1866; surveyor of Norfolk city and county 1866-1869; assistant assessor of the United States Internal revenue from September 9, 1870, to August 6, 1872; appraiser of merchandise at the Norfolk customhouse from August 7, 1872, until the position was abolished in 1877; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election in 1878 to the Forty-sixth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); engaged in the construction business; died in Norfolk, Va., June 22, 1894; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

DIAL, Nathaniel Barksdale, a Senator from South Carolina; born near Laurens, Laurens County, S. C., April 24, 1802; attended the common schools, Richmond College, Richmond, Va., and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; studied law at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Laurens, S. C.; mayor of Laurens 1887-1891 and again in 1895; member of the Democratic State executive committee for several terms; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1888; declined the office of consul to Zurich, Switzerland, tendered by President Cleveland in 1893; engaged in banking and various manufacturing enterprises; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1912; elected in 1918 as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1919, to March 3, 1923; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924; appointed on March 28, 1925, a member of the commission to report the most practical method of utilizing the nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and served until November 14, 1925, when the commission automatically dissolved, having submitted its conclusions to the President; resumed the practice of law in South Carolina and Washington, D. C.

DIBBLE, Samuel, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., September 16, 1837; pursued an academic course in Bethel, Conn., and Charleston, S. C.; attended the College of Charleston for two years, and was graduated from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., in 1859; engaged in teaching 1856-1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Orangeburg, S. C.; served in the Confederate Army throughout the Civil War; resumed the practice of law in Orangeburg, S. C.; also edited the Orangeburg News; member of the State house of representatives in 1877 and 1878; trustee of the University of South Carolina at Columbia in 1878; member of the Board of School Commissioners of Orangeburg County; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880 and presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English the same year; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Forty-seventh Congress to fill a vacancy thought to exist by reason of the death (pending a contest) of Michael P. O'Connor, and served from June 9, 1881, to May 31, 1882, when the seat was awarded to Edmund W. M. Mackey under the original election; elected to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1891); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1890; engaged in banking and other business interests in Orangeburg, Orangeburg County, S. C.; died near Baltimore, Md., September 10, 1913; interment in Sunny Side Cemetery, Orangeburg, S. C.

DIBRELL, George Gibbs, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Sparta, White County, Tenn., April 12, 1822; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the East Tennessee University, Knoxville, Tenn., in 1843; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and practiced; engaged in agricultural and mercantile pursuits; member of the State secession convention in 1861; justice of the peace and county court clerk of White County, Tenn., for many years; during the Civil War volunteered in the Confederate Army and served from 1861 to 1865; rose from private to lieutenant colonel of Infantry and colonel of Cavalry, and was discharged as brigadier general; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed agricultural and mercantile pursuits; died in Sparta, Tenn., May 9, 1888; interment in the Old Sparta Cemetery.

DICK, Charles William Frederick, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born in Akron, Summit County, Ohio, November 3, 1858; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1894, and commenced practice in Akron, Ohio; served in the Eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry in Cuba during the war with Spain; resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Stephen A. Northway; reelected to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses, and served from November 8, 1898, to March 23, 1904, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; elected March 2, 1904, to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marcus A. Hanna; on the same day also was elected for the ensuing term, and served from March 23, 1904, to March 3, 1911; nominee of his party, who were in the minority, for reelection in 1911; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator in 1922; is a legal resident of Akron, Ohio.

DICK, John (father of Samuel Bernard Dick), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pittsburgh, Pa., June 17, 1794; moved with his parents to Meadville, Pa., in December of that year; attended the common schools; major of the First Battalion in 1821; colonel of the First Regiment in 1825; brigadier general Second Brigade, Sixteenth Division, Pennsylvania Militia, in 1831; engaged in mercantile pursuits and banking; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Harrison and Tyler in 1840; established the banking house of J. & J. R. Dick in 1850; associate judge of Crawford County in 1850; prominent in promoting the Atlantic & Great Western Railroad; trustee of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.; president of the Crawford Mutual Insurance Co. and of Greendale Cemetery; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1859); was nominated as a candidate for reelection in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth Congress, but subsequently withdrew; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Meadville, Crawford County, Pa., May 20, 1872; interment in Greendale Cemetery.

DICK, Samuel, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in Nottingham, Prince Georges County, Md., November 14, 1740; received a classical education; studied medicine in Scotland, and commenced practice in Salem, N. J., in 1770; member of the New Jersey Provincial Congress in 1776; during the Revolutionary War was appointed colonel of the First Battalion Salem County Militia in 1776; assistant surgeon in the Continental Army in the Canadian campaign; member of the first State general assembly; appointed collector of customs for the western district of New Jersey in 1778; Member of the Continental Congress in 1783 and 1784; delegate to the New Jersey State convention in 1787 to ratify the Federal Constitution; surrogate of Salem County 1785-1804; died in Salem, Salem County, N. J., November 16, 1812; interment in St. John's Episcopal Churchyard.

DICK, Samuel Bernard (son of John Dick), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Meadville, Crawford County, Pa., October 26, 1836; attended the public schools and Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.; engaged in banking; during the Civil War was in command of Company F, Ninth Regiment Pennsylvania Reserve Corps; severely wounded in Dranesville, Va., December 20, 1861; subsequently served as colonel of the regiment to February, 1863, when he resigned; commanded the Fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Militia and proceeded to Newcreek, W. Va., in July, 1863; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; mayor of Meadville in 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; president of the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad Co. until April, 1900; president of Phoenix Iron Works Co.; trustee of Allegheny College; member of the board of incorporators of Greendale Cemetery; died in Meadville, Pa., May 10, 1907; interment in Greendale Cemetery.

DICKENS, Samuel, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Roxboro, Person County, N. C.; pursued an academic course; member of the State house of commons 1818-1815; elected to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Richard Stanford, and served from December 2, 1816, to March 3, 1817; again a member of the State house of commons in 1818; moved to Madison County, Tenn., in 1820; died in Madison County in 1840.

DICKERMAN, Charles Heber, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Harford, Susquehanna County, Pa., February 3, 1848; attended the public schools of his native village, and was graduated from Harford University, Harford, Pa., in 1860; taught school for several years; studied law, but before qualifying for admission to the bar became bookkeeper for a large coal company at Beaver Meadow, Pa.; interested in the coal commission business and slate quarrying in 1868 at Bethlehem, Pa.; secretary and treasurer of a concern engaged in the manufacture of railroad equipment at Milton, Pa., 1880-1890; chairman of Northumberland County Democratic committee for three years; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1891; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1892; interested in banking at Mauch Chunk, Sunbury, and Bethlehem, and in 1897 became president of the First National Bank at Milton, in which capacity he served until his death; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1904; appointed by President Roosevelt a delegate to the Brussels Peace Congress in 1905; again engaged in banking; died in Milton, Northumberland County, Pa., December 17, 1915; interment in Milton Cemetery.

DICKERSON, Mahlon (brother of Philemon Dickerson), a Senator from New Jersey; born in Hanover, N. J., April 17, 1770; educated by private tutors, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1789; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1793; during the whisky rebellion served as a private in the Second Regiment Cavalry New Jersey Detached Militia; settled in Philadelphia, Pa., and was admitted to practice in the Pennsylvania courts in 1797; State commissioner of bankruptcy in 1802; adjutant general 1805-1808; recorder of the city 1808-1810; moved to Morris County, N. J., in 1810; member of the State general assembly 1811-1813; law reporter for the State supreme court in 1813 and 1814; justice of the State supreme court 1813-1815; governor 1815-1817; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1828, and served from March 4, 1817, to January 30, 1829, when he resigned; immediately reelected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ephraim Bateman, and served under this election from January 30, 1829, to March 3, 1833; member of the State council in 1833 and served as its vice president; declined appointment as minister to Russia in 1834; appointed Secretary of the Navy in the Cabinet of President Jackson; reappointed by President Van Buren, and served from June 30, 1834, to June 25, 1838; United States district judge for New Jersey in 1840; delegate to the State constitutional convention of 1844; died in Succasunna, Morris County, N. J., October 5, 1853; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

DICKERSON, Philemon (brother of Mahlon Dickerson), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Succasunna, Morris County, N. J., January 11, 1788; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1813, and commenced practice in Paterson, N. J., the same year; admitted as a counselor in 1817; member of the State general assembly from Essex County in 1821 and 1822; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1833, until November 3, 1836, when he resigned, having been chosen governor by the legislature; served as governor and ex officio chancellor from November 3, 1836, to October 27, 1837; appointed sergeant of law in 1834, being the last person in New Jersey to hold that title; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twenty-seventh Congress; appointed judge of the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey on March 2, 1841, and served until his death; president of the City Council of Paterson, Passaic County, N. J., in 1851; died in Paterson, N. J., December 10, 1862; interment in the Presbyterian Burial Grounds; reinterment in Cedar Lawn Cemetery.

DICKERSON, William Worth, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Sherman, Grant County, Ky., November 29, 1851; attended the public schools and the private academy of N. M. Lloyd in Crittenden, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1872, and commenced practice in Williamstown, Ky.; prosecuting attorney of Grant County 1872-1876; member of the State house of representatives 1885-1887; served in the State senate 1887-1891; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John G. Carlisle; reelected to the Fifty-second Congress, and served from June 21, 1890, to March 3, 1893; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Williamstown, Grant County, Ky.; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1902 and continued the practice of his profession until his death on January 31, 1923; remains were cremated and the ashes temporarily placed in a crematory at Cincinnati.

DICKEY, Henry Luther, a Representative from Ohio; born in South Salem, Ross County, Ohio, October 29, 1832; moved with his parents to Washington Court House, Ohio, in 1836; moved to Greenfield, Ohio, in 1847; attended Greenfield Academy; pursued the vocation of civil engineer, and in that capacity had charge of the construction of the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad in Vinton County, Ohio; resigned in 1855; studied law, and was admitted to the bar at Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1857; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1859; commenced practice in Greenfield; member of the State house of representatives in 1861; served in the State senate in 1868 and 1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; resumed the practice of law; was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1877; president of the Commercial Bank of Greenfield; died in Greenfield, Ohio, May 23, 1910; interment in Greenfield Cemetery.

DICKEY, Jesse Column, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New Castle, Lawrence County, Pa., February 27, 1808; moved with his parents to New London, Chester County, in 1812; attended the common schools, and was graduated from New London Academy; taught school at Hopewell Academy in 1808; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1842-1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed his agricultural pursuits; quartermaster and later paymaster in the United States Army during the Civil War; continued agricultural pursuits; died in New London, Pa., February 19, 1890; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

DICKEY, John (father of Oliver James Dickey), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pa., June 23, 1794; completed preparatory studies; appointed postmaster of Old Brighton, Pa., on April 11, 1818, and served until May 17, 1821; served as sheriff 1824-1827; member of the State senate in 1835 and 1837; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); elected to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); appointed United States marshal for the western district of Pennsylvania on January 22, 1852; died in Beaver, Beaver County, Pa., March 14, 1853; interment in the Old Cemetery.

DICKEY, Oliver James (son of John Dickey), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Old Brighton, Beaver County, Pa., April 6, 1823; completed preparatory studies; attended Beaver Academy and Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar at Lancaster, Lancaster County, Pa., in 1844, and practiced; district attorney of Lancaster County 1850-1859; during the Civil War served as lieutenant colonel of the Tenth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thaddeus Stevens, and on the same day was elected to the Forty-first Congress; reelected to the Forty-second Congress, and served from December 7, 1868, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; delegate to the State constitutional convention at Harrisburg in 1873; delegate to several Republican National Conventions; resumed the practice of law in Lancaster, Pa., and died there April 21, 1876; interment in Woodward Hill Cemetery.

DICKINSON, Clement Cabell, a Representative from Missouri; born at Prince Edward Court House, Prince Edward County, Va., December 6, 1849; tutored privately and also attended private schools; was graduated from Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia, in June, 1869; taught school in Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri; settled in Clinton, Mo., in September, 1872; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Clinton, Mo.; prosecuting attorney of Henry County, Mo., 1877-1882; city attorney of Clinton 1882-1884; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Bryan and Sewall in 1896; member of the State house of representatives 1900-1902; served in the State senate 1902-1906; member of the board of regents of the State normal school at Warrensburg, Mo., 1907-1913; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David A. De Armond; reelected to the Sixty-second and to the four succeeding Congresses, and served from February 1, 1910, to March 3, 1921; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law at Clinton, Mo.; again elected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DICKINSON, Daniel Stevens, a Senator from New York; born in Goshen, Conn., September 11, 1800; moved with his parents to Guilford, Chenango County, N. Y., in 1806; attended the common schools; was apprenticed to a clothier or cloth dresser, and while so engaged studied Latin, mathematics, and some of the sciences; taught school for several years, and subsequently engaged in land surveying; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Guilford, N. Y.; appointed postmaster of Guilford on August 20, 1827, and served until February 3, 1832, when he moved to Binghamton, N. Y.; first president of Binghamton in 1834; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1835; member of the State senate 1837-1840; lieutenant governor and ex officio president of the senate and president of the court of errors 1842-1844; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1844; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Polk and Dallas in 1844; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Nathaniel P. Tallmadge; reelected in 1845, and served from November 30, 1844, to March 3, 1851; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1848 and 1852; appointed collector of the port of New York, but declined the position; elected attorney general of the State in 1861; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; appointed on June 27, 1864, United States commissioner for the final settlement of the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural Cos.' claims; appointed by President Lincoln on April 10, 1865, United States attorney for the southern district of New York, and served until his death in New York City on April 12, 1866; interment in Spring Forest Cemetery, Binghamton, Broome County, N. Y.

DICKINSON, David W., a Representative from Tennessee; born in Franklin, Tenn., June 10, 1808; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); was unable to attend the last session on account of his falling health; died at "Grantland," his father's home, near Murfreesboro, Rutherford County, Tenn., April 27, 1845; interment in the family burying ground on the estate.

DICKINSON, Edward, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Amherst, Mass., January 1, 1803; attended the public schools and Amherst Academy; was graduated from Yale College in 1823; studied law in the law school of Northampton, Mass., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Amherst in 1820; treasurer of Amherst College 1835-1873; member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1839; served in the State senate in 1842 and 1843; member of the governor's council in 1846 and 1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); declined to be a candidate for the Republican nomination of lieutenant governor in 1861; again elected a member of the State house of representatives in 1873; died in Boston, Mass., June 16, 1874; interment in the West Cemetery, Amherst, Hampshire County, Mass.

DICKINSON, Edward Fenwick, a Representative from Ohio; born in Fremont, Sandusky County, Ohio, January 21, 1820; attended the public schools; was graduated from St. Xavier College, Cincinnati, Ohio; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Fremont, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Sandusky County, Ohio, from 1852 until his resignation in 1854; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as a lieutenant; promoted to captain and served as regimental quartermaster of Company G, Eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; served as probate judge of Sandusky County 1866-1869; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; elected mayor of Fremont in 1871, 1873, and 1875; again served as probate judge of Sandusky County from 1877 to 1879 and from 1885 until his death; died in Fremont, Ohio, August 25, 1891; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

DICKINSON, John (brother of Philemon Dickinson), a Delegate from Pennsylvania and from Delaware; born on his father's estate, "Crosiadoré," near Trappe, Talbot County, Md., November 8, 1732; moved with his parents in 1740 to Dover, Del., where he studied under a private teacher; studied law in Philadelphia and at the Middle Temple in London; was admitted to the bar 1757 and commenced practice in Philadelphia; member of the Assembly of "Lower Counties," as the State of Delaware was then called, in 1760; member of the Pennsylvania Assembly in 1762 and 1764; delegate to the Colonial Congress in 1765; Member from Pennsylvania to the Continental Congress 1774-1776 and from Delaware in 1776, 1777, 1779, and 1780; brigadier general of Pennsylvania Militia; President of the State of Delaware in 1781; returned to Philadelphia and served as President of Pennsylvania 1782-1785; returned to Delaware; was a member of the Federal convention of 1787 which framed the Constitution and was one of the signers from Delaware; died in Wilmington, New Castle County, Del., February 14, 1808; interment in the Friends Burial Ground.

DICKINSON, John Dean, a Representative from New York; born in Middletown, Conn., June 28, 1787; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College in 1785; moved to Lansingburg, Rensselaer County, N. Y., in 1790, was admitted to the bar in April, 1791, and commenced the practice of law in Lansingburg; moved to Troy, N. Y.; served as president of the Farmers' Bank of Troy, N. Y., from its foundation in 1801 until his death; a director and founder of the Rensselaer & Saratoga Insurance Co. in 1814; member of the State assembly from November, 1816, to April, 1817; first president of the Troy Lyceum of Natural History in 1818; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1823); one of the original board of trustees of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1824; member of the committee which received Lafayette on his visits to Troy in 1824 and 1825; elected as a Whig to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); resumed the practice of law in Troy, N. Y., and died there January 28, 1841; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

DICKINSON, Lester Jesse (cousin of Fred Dickinson Letts), a Representative from Iowa; born in Derby, Lucas County, Iowa, October 29, 1873; is a direct descendant of Nathaniel Dickinson, of Hadley, who settled in Massachusetts in 1630; attended the public schools; was graduated from the Danbury (Iowa) High School in 1892, from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, in 1898, and from the law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1899; was admitted to the bar in the last-named year and commenced practice in Algona, Iowa; director of the First National Bank of Algona; city clerk of Algona 1900-1904; prosecuting attorney of Kosciusko County 1900-1913; member of the Republican State central committee 1914-1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DICKINSON, Philemon (brother of John Dickinson), a Delegate from Delaware and a Senator from New Jersey; born at "Crosiadoré," near Trappe, Talbot County, Md., April 5, 1739; moved with his parents to Dover, Del., in 1740; where he received his education from a private tutor, and was graduated in the first class to emerge from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1757; superintended his father's estates in Delaware until 1760; studied law in Philadelphia and was admitted to the bar, but never practiced; moved to Trenton, N. J., in 1767; delegate to the New Jersey Provincial Congress in 1776; served in the Revolutionary War; was commissioned brigadier general in 1776, and in 1777 major general commanding the New Jersey Militia, serving in the latter capacity throughout the Revolution; was Cadwalader's second in the latter's duel with General Conway; Member of the Continental Congress from Delaware in 1782 and 1783; vice president of the Council of New Jersey in 1783 and 1784; member of the commission to choose a site for the National Capital in 1784; elected to the United States Senate from New Jersey to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Paterson, and served from November 23, 1790, to March 3, 1793; was not a candidate for renomination; after leaving the Senate devoted his time to the care of his estates; died at his home, "The Hermitage," near Trenton, N. J., February 4, 1800; interment in the Friends Meeting House Burying Ground, Trenton, N. J.

DICKINSON, Rudolphus, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hatfield, Mass., December 28, 1797; attended the public schools and Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., 1818-1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Tiffin, Ohio; appointed prosecuting attorney for Seneca County in 1824, for Williams County in 1826, and for Sandusky County in 1827; moved to Lower Sandusky, Ohio, in 1826; member of the Board of Public Works of Ohio 1836-1845; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1847, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 20, 1849; interment in Washington, D. C.; reinterment in Oakwood Cemetery, Fremont, Sandusky County, Ohio.

DICKSON, David, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Georgia; moved to Mississippi; studied medicine and practiced extensively in Pike County; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1817; brigadier general of militia in 1818; member of the State senate in 1820 and 1821; Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi in 1821; postmaster of Jackson, Miss., in 1822; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1823; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1832 and was an unsuccessful candidate for president of the convention; secretary of the State senate in 1833; secretary of state in 1835; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1835, until his death at Hot Springs, Ark., July 31, 1836.

DICKSON, Frank Stoddard, a Representative from Illinois; born in Hillsboro, Montgomery County, Ill., October 6, 1876; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the high school at Decatur, Ill., in 1896; taught school at Ramsey, Ill.; served as a private in the Fourth Regiment Illinois Infantry during the war with Spain; again engaged in teaching at Ramsey, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1906 to the Sixtieth Congress; assistant adjutant general of Illinois 1908-1910; adjutant general of Illinois from January 1, 1910, to January 1, 1922; assistant to the director of finance, United States Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation, 1922-1924; secretary to Senator Medill McCormick 1924-1926; is at present associated with the National Board of Fire Underwriters at Chicago, and is a resident of Ramsey, Ill.

DICKSON, John, a Representative from New York; born in Keene, N. H., June 1, 1738; was graduated from Middlebury (Vt.) College in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1812, and commenced practice in West Bloomfield, N. Y.; member of the State assembly in 1820 and 1830; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1835); resumed the practice of law in West Bloomfield, Ontario County, N. Y., where he died February 22, 1852; interment in Pioneer Cemetery.

DICKSON, Joseph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Chester County, Pa., in April, 1745; moved with his parents to Rowan County, N. C., and was reared and educated there; engaged in cotton and tobacco planting; member of the committee of safety of Rowan County in 1775; commissioned captain in the Colonial Army the same year; served under Colonel McDowell in 1780, and at the Battle of Kings Mountain as major of the "Lincoln County Men" rendered heroic service; opposed Lord Cornwallis's invasion of the State in 1781, and for brave and efficient conduct was promoted to the rank of colonel, and before the close of the war was made brigadier general; clerk of Lincoln County court in 1781; member of the State senate 1788-1795, and during this time was appointed one of a commission to establish the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; elected to the Sixth Congress (March 4, 1799-March 3, 1801); when the election of President of the United States devolved upon the House of Representatives his vote assisted to elect Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr; moved to Tennessee in 1803 and settled in that portion of Davidson County which subsequently became Rutherford County; member of the State house of representatives 1807-1811 and served as speaker the last two years; died in Rutherford County, Tenn., April 14, 1825; interment on his plantation northeast of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

DICKSON, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Onondaga County, N. Y., March 3, 1807; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine and practiced in New Scotland, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); died in New Scotland, Albany County, N. Y., May 3, 1858; interment in the New Scotland Rural Cemetery.

DICKSON, William, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Duplin County, N. C., May 5, 1770; educated at Grove Academy, Kenansville, N. C.; moved with his parents to Tennessee in 1796; studied medicine and practiced in Nashville for many years; member of the State house of representatives 1799-1803, and served as speaker; elected to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1807); trustee of the University of Nashville 1806-1816; died in Nashville, Tenn., in February, 1816; interment in a rural cemetery near Nashville.

DICKSON, William Alexander, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Centerville, Wilkinson County, Miss., July 20, 1861; attended private and public schools, Pleasant Grove School, Centenary College, Jackson, La., and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, but did not practice; supervisor 1886-1888; member of the State house of representatives 1887-1893; school commissioner of Wilkinson County; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Parker and Davis in 1904; member of the board of trustees of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Starkville, Miss., and of the Edward Magehee College, Woodville, Miss., for five years; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1913); engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected supervisor of the third district of Wilkinson County and superintendent of its highways in 1927, and is a resident of Centerville, Miss.

DICKSTEIN, Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Vilna, Russia, February 5, 1885; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in New York City in 1887; attended the public schools in New York City, the College of the City of New York, and was graduated from the New York City Law School in 1906; was admitted to the bar in 1908 and commenced the practice of law in New York City; special deputy attorney general of the State of New York 1911-1914; member of the board of aldermen in 1917; member of the State assembly 1919-1922; member of the Democratic county committee; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DIEKEMA, Gerrit John, a Representative from Michigan; born in Holland, Ottawa County, Mich., March 27, 1859; attended the common schools; was graduated from Hope College, Holland, Mich., in 1881 and from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1883; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Holland in 1883; city attorney; member of the State house of representatives 1885-1891 and served as speaker in 1889; mayor of Holland in 1895; was chairman of the Michigan Republican State central committee for ten years; delegate to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896; member of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission from 1901 until he resigned in 1907; elected April 27, 1907, as a Republican to the Sixtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Alden Smith; reelected to the Sixty-first Congress, and served from March 17, 1908, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Holland, Mich.; manager of the Republican Speakers' Bureau in Chicago in 1912; chairman of the Republican State central committee in 1927; resides in Holland, Mich.

DIES, Martin, a Representative from Texas; born in Jackson Parish, La., March 13, 1870; moved with his parents to Freestone County, Tex., in 1876; attended the common schools and was graduated from the law department of the University of Texas at Austin; was admitted to the bar in 1893 and commenced practice in Woodville, Tex.; edited a newspaper in Freestone County; was county marshal; county judge of Tyler County in 1894; district attorney of the first judicial district of Texas 1898-1900; moved to Colorado, Tex., and engaged in the practice of law; moved to Beaumont, Tex., in 1902 and was employed as counsel for the Gulf Refining Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1919); was not a candidate for reelection in 1918; retired to his ranch on Turkey Creek, Tyler County, Tex.; moved to Kerrville, Tex., in 1921 and died there July 13, 1922; interment in Glenwood Cemetery, Houston Tex.

DIETRICH, Charles Henry, a Senator from Nebraska; born in Aurora, Kane County, Ill., November 26, 1853; attended the public schools; moved to Deadwood, Dak. (now South Dakota), in 1875, and engaged in mercantile pursuits, delivering goods on pack animals through the Black Hills until he located the "Aurora" mine; disposed of this property and then settled in Hastings, Adams County, Nebr., in 1878 and engaged in banking; organized the German National Bank in 1887 and was elected president of the same; elected Governor of Nebraska in 1900 and served from January 3 to May 1, 1901, when he resigned to become Senator; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Monroe L. Hayward, and served from March 28, 1901, to March 3, 1905; retired from active business pursuits and public life in 1906; died in Hastings, Nebr., April 10, 1924; interment in Parkview Cemetery.

DIETZ, William, a Representative from New York; born in Schoharie, N. Y., June 28, 1778; attended the district schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; town clerk in 1804 and 1805; supervisor of Schoharie in 1812; served in the State assembly in 1814, 1815, and 1823; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); member of the State senate 1830-1833; resumed agricultural pursuits; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Van Buren in 1832; colonel of the militia; died in Schoharie, Schoharie County, N. Y., August 24, 1848; interment in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery.

DIFFENDERFER, Robert Edward, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Lewisburg, Union County, Pa., June 7, 1849; attended the common schools; worked on a farm in early life and later took up the trade of house painting; studied dentistry and practiced this profession for fourteen years in Lewisburg and Pottsville, Pa.; built and operated the first woolen mill at Tientsin in the Chinese Empire; survived through the Chinese Boxer Insurrection in 1900; returned to the United States in August, 1900; engaged in the wholesale lumber business and as a contractor at Jenkintown; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1914, in 1916, and 1918; engaged in the retail confectionery business at Jenkintown; died in Philadelphia, Pa., April 27, 1923; interment in Westminster Cemetery.

DILL, Clarence Cleveland, a Representative and a Senator from Washington; born near Fredericktown, Knox County, Ohio, September 21, 1884; attended the public schools; engaged in teaching 1901-1903; was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, in 1907; newspaper reporter in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1907; taught in the high school at Dubuque, Iowa, in 1907 and 1908, and in Spokane, Wash., 1908-1910; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1910, and commenced practice in Spokane, Wash.; deputy prosecuting attorney of Spokane County 1911-1913; chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1912; private secretary to Gov. Ernest Lister in 1913; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Spokane, Wash.; elected to the United States Senate in 1922 for the term commencing March 4, 1923, and ending March 3, 1929.

DILLINGHAM, Paul, Jr. (father of William Paul Dillingham), a Representative from Vermont; born in Shutesbury, Mass., August 10, 1799; moved with his father to Waterbury, Vt., in 1805; attended the district school in Waterbury; studied law, was admitted to the bar in March, 1823, and commenced practice in Waterbury, Vt.; justice of the peace 1826-1844; town clerk of Waterbury 1829-1844; member of the State house of representatives 1833-1835 and 1837-1840; prosecuting attorney of Washington County 1835-1838; delegate to the State constitutional conventions of 1836, 1857, and again in 1870; served in the State senate in 1841, 1842, and 1861; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); was not a candidate for renomination in 1846; lieutenant governor 1862-1865; Governor of Vermont in 1865 and 1866; resumed the practice of law; retired in 1875; died at his home in Waterbury, Washington County, Vt., July 26, 1891; interment in the Village Cemetery.

DILLINGHAM, William Paul (son of Paul Dillingham, Jr.), a Senator from Vermont; born in Waterbury, Washington County, Vt., December 12, 1843; attended the public schools of Waterbury, Newbury Seminary, and Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Waterbury; prosecuting attorney of Washington County 1872-1876; secretary of civil and military affairs 1874-1876; member of the State house of representatives in 1876 and 1884; served in the State senate in 1878 and 1880; State tax commissioner 1882-1888; Governor of Vermont 1888-1890; president of the Waterbury National Bank 1890-1923; trustee of the University of Vermont at Burlington; president of the board of trustees of Montpelier Seminary; delegate to several Republican National Conventions; chairman of the United States Immigration Commission 1907-1910; elected in 1900 as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justin S. Morrill; reelected in 1903, 1909, 1914, and 1920, and served from October 13, 1900, until his death in Montpelier, Vt., July 12, 1923; interment in the Village Cemetery, Waterbury, Vt.

DILLON, Charles Hall, a Representative from South Dakota; born near Jasper, Dubois County, Ind., December 18, 1853; attended the public schools; was graduated from the academic department of Indiana University at Bloomington in 1874 and from the law department in 1878; was admitted to the bar in 1876 and commenced practice in Jasper, Ind.; moved to Mitchell, S. Dak. (then Dakota Territory), in 1882 and to Yankton, S. Dak., in 1894 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1900 and at Chicago in 1908; vice president and acting president of the State bar association in 1901; member of the State senate 1903-1911; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); was not a candidate for reelection in 1918; resumed the practice of law in Yankton; elected associate justice of the State supreme court in 1922 and served until November 15, 1926, when he resigned; is a resident of Vermillion, S. Dak.

DIMMICK, Milo Melancthon (brother of William Harrison Dimmick), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Milford, Wayne (now Pike) County, Pa., October 30, 1811; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and commenced practice in Stroudsburg, Pa.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for president judge of the twenty-second judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1853; moved to Mauch Chunk, Carbon County, Pa., in 1853 and continued the practice of law; also engaged in banking; died in Mauch Chunk, Pa., November 22, 1872; interment in Mauch Chunk Cemetery.

DIMMICK, William Harrison (brother of Milo Melancthon Dimmick), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Milford, Wayne (now Pike) County, Pa., December 20, 1815; attended private schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Bethany, Pa.; moved to Honesdale, Pa., in 1842 and continued the practice of law; prosecuting attorney of Wayne County in 1836 and 1837; member of the State senate 1845-1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); resumed the practice of law; died in Honesdale, Wayne County, Pa., August 2, 1861; interment in Glen Dyberry Cemetery.

DIMOCK, Davis, Jr., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Exeter, near Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pa., September 17, 1801; attended the schools of the pioneer settlement of Montrose, Pa., and the Susquehanna County Academy at Montrose; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Montrose, Susquehanna County; also engaged in editorial work; appointed county treasurer in 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1841, until his death in Montrose, Pa., January 13, 1842; interment in Montrose Cemetery.

DINGLEY, Nelson, Jr., a Representative from Maine; born in Durham, Androscoggin County, Me., February 15, 1832; attended the common schools at Unity, Me., Waterville Seminary, and Waterville College; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1855; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but left the profession and became proprietor and editor of the Lewiston (Me.) Journal in 1856; member of the State house of representatives 1862-1865, 1868, and again in 1873, and served as speaker in 1863 and 1864; Governor of Maine in 1874; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876 and at Chicago in 1880; delegate to many Republican State conventions; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William P. Frye; reelected to the Forty-eighth and to the seven succeeding Congresses, and served from September 12, 1881, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 13, 1898, before the close of the Fifty-fifth Congress; had also been reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, near Auburn, Me.

DINSMOOR, Samuel, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Windham, N. H., July 1, 1766; pursued classical studies; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1789; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Keene, N. H.; elected as a War Democrat to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1812 to the Thirteenth Congress; State councilor in 1821; presidential elector on the Monroe ticket in 1820; judge of probate of Cheshire County 1823-1831; member of the commission to establish the boundary line between the States of New Hampshire and Massachusetts in 1825; Governor of New Hampshire 1831-1833; died in Keene, Cheshire County, N. H., March 15, 1835; interment in the Washington Street Cemetery.

DINSMORE, Hugh Anderson, a Representative from Arkansas; born at Cave Springs, Benton County, Ark., December 24, 1850; attended private schools in Benton and Washington Counties; studied law in Bentonville; appointed clerk of the circuit court for Benton County in 1873; was admitted to the bar in 1874; moved to Fayetteville in 1875, and pursued the practice of law 1878-1884; prosecuting attorney of the fourth judicial district; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; in January, 1887, was appointed by President Cleveland minister resident and consul general to the Kingdom of Korea, and served until May 25, 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Fayetteville, Washington County, Ark.

DISNEY, David Tiernan, a Representative from Ohio; born in Baltimore, Md., August 25, 1803; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1807; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Cin-nati; became a writer for a newspaper in 1825; member of the State house of representatives in 1829, 1831, and 1832, and served as speaker in the last-named year; served in the State senate in 1833, 1834, 1843, and 1844, and was president of the senate in 1833; one of the commissioners to adjust the boundary lines between the States of Ohio and Michigan in 1834; chairman of the commission to adjust taxes of the counties of Ohio in 1840; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1854; tendered the appointment of minister to Spain by President Buchanan, but declined; died in Washington, D. C., March 14, 1857; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DIVEN, Alexander Samuel, a Representative from New York; born in Catharine (now Watkins), N. Y., February 10, 1809; attended the common schools and the academies in Penn Yan and Ovid, N. Y.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Elmira; member of the State senate in 1838; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861–March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; during the Civil War entered the Army on August 13, 1862, as Lieutenant colonel of the One hundred and seventh Regiment New York Volunteer Infantry; promoted to colonel on October 21, 1862; was granted leave of absence from the Army for ninety days to take his seat in Congress; honorably discharged as colonel May 11, 1863; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers April 30, 1864, for meritorious services during the war; engaged in railroad building and operation 1865–1875; prominently identified with the Erie Railroad; died in Elmira, Chemung County, N. Y., June 11, 1896; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

DIX, John Adams (son-in-law of John Jordan Morgan), a Senator from New York; born in Boscawen, N. H., July 24, 1798; completed preparatory studies; during the War of 1812 was appointed a cadet; promoted to ensign in 1813 and took part in the operations on the Canadian frontier; promoted to second lieutenant in March, 1814, in the Twenty-first Infantry, stationed at Port Constitution, N. H., and served as adjutant; transferred to the Third Artillery; appointed in 1819 aide-de-camp to General Brown, then in command of the northern military department at Brownsville, where he studied law; later admitted to the bar in Washington, D. C.; resigned his commission in the Army July 20, 1828, having attained the rank of captain; settled in Cooperstown, N. Y., and began the practice of law; moved to Albany in 1830, having been appointed adjutant general of the State by Governor Throop, and served from 1831 to 1833; secretary of the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1832; regent of the University of the State of New York, member of the council, and canal commissioner; member of the State house of representatives in 1842; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Silas Wright, Jr., and served from January 27, 1845, to March 3, 1849; was not a candidate for reelection, having become a candidate for governor; unsuccessful Free-Soil candidate for governor in 1848; assistant treasurer of the United States at New York City from May 20 to November 4, 1853; appointed postmaster of the city of New York May 17, 1860, and served until January 10, 1861; appointed Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Buchanan on January 11, 1861, and served until March 3, 1861; served in the Union Army as major general 1861–1865; United States minister to France from September 24, 1868, to May 23, 1869; served at different times as president of the Mississippi & Missouri Railway Co., the Union Pacific Railroad Co., and the Erie Railroad Co.; elected as a Republican Governor of New York and served from 1873 to 1875; unsuccessful candidate for reelection as governor in 1874 and as the Republican candidate for mayor of New York City in 1876; died in New York City April 21, 1879; interment in Trinity Churchyard; reinterment in Trinity Cemetery, Riverside Drive and One hundred and fifty-third Street, June 28, 1879.

DIXON, Archibald, a Senator from Kentucky; born near Redhouse, Caswell County, N. C., April 2, 1802; moved with his parents to Henderson County, Ky., in 1805; was educated by his mother and attended the common schools for six months; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1824 and commenced practice in Henderson, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1830 and again in 1841; served in the State senate in 1836; Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky in 1843; member of the State constitutional convention in 1849; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Clay, and served from September 1, 1852, until March 3, 1855; was not a candidate for reelection in 1854; resumed the practice of law; also engaged as a planter; delegate to the Frankfort peace convention in 1863; was author of the bill to repeal the Missouri Compromise; died in Henderson, Henderson County, Ky., April 23, 1876; interment in Fernwood Cemetery.

DIXON, James, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Enfield, Hartford County, Conn., August 5, 1814; pursued preparatory studies, was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1834, and commenced practice in Enfield, Conn.; member of the State house of representatives in 1837, 1838, and 1844, and served as speaker in 1837; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1839 and continued the practice of law; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849); again a member of the State house of representatives in 1854; declined the nomination for Governor of Connecticut in 1854; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1854; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1856; reelected in 1863, and served from March 4, 1857, to March 3, 1869; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the United States Senate in 1868 and as a Democratic candidate for election the same year to the Forty-first Congress; delegate from Connecticut to the convention held at Philadelphia August 14, 1866, in support of the policies of President Johnson; appointed minister to Russia in 1869 but declined; engaged in literary pursuits and extensive traveling until his death in Hartford, Conn., March 27, 1873; interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

DIXON, Joseph, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Greene County, near Farmville, Pitt County, N. C., April 9, 1828; attended the public schools and was tutored privately; engaged in agricultural pursuits and also in the mercantile business; appointed colonel of the North Carolina State Militia soon after the Civil War; judge of the county court in 1864 and 1865; member of the State house of commons 1865–1867; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David Heaton; took his seat December 5, 1870, and served until March 3, 1871; was not a candidate for renomination in 1870; United States Commissioner of Claims in 1871 and 1872; resumed agricultural pursuits; delegate from Greene County to the State constitutional convention in 1875; died near Fountain Hill, Pitt County, N. C., March 3, 1883; interment in Edwards Chapel Cemetery in Lenoir County.

DIXON, Joseph Moore, a Representative and a Senator from Montana; born in Snow Camp, Alamance County, N. C., July 31, 1867; attended Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., and was graduated from Guilford College, North Carolina, in May, 1889; moved to Missoula, Missoula County, Mont., in 1891; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in December, 1892; assistant prosecuting attorney of Missoula County 1893-1895; prosecuting attorney 1895-1897; member of the State house of representatives in 1900; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); delegate at large to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904 and 1916; elected to the United States Senate in 1906, and served from March 4, 1907, to March 3, 1913; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912; chairman of the National Progressive Convention in 1912; resumed the practice of law; Governor of Montana 1921-1925; resides in Missoula, Mont.

DIXON, Lincoln, a Representative from Indiana; born in Vernon, Jennings County, Ind., February 9, 1860; attended the Vernon Academy, and was graduated from Indiana University at Bloomington in 1880; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in North Vernon; prosecuting attorney for the sixth judicial circuit 1884-1892; member of the Democratic State committee 1897-1904 and 1920-1927; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; resumed the practice of law; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and at New York City in 1924; in charge of the Democratic campaign in the West in 1924; appointed a member of the United States Tariff Commission in 1927; maintains his legal residence at North Vernon, Ind.

DIXON, Nathan Fellows, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Plainfield, Conn., December 13, 1774; attended Plainfield Academy, and was graduated from the College of Rhode Island (now Brown University) in 1799; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1801, and commenced practice in New London County, Conn.; moved to Westerly, R. I., in 1802; member of the State house of representatives 1813-1830; served as colonel in the State militia; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1839, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 29, 1842; interment in River Bend Cemetery, Westerly, Washington County, R. I.

DIXON, Nathan Fellows (son of the preceding), a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Westerly, R. I., May 1, 1812; attended Plainfield (Conn.) Academy, and was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1833; later pursued the study of law at the Cambridge (Mass.) and New Haven (Conn.) Law Schools; was admitted to the bar in 1837 and commenced practice in Westerly, R. I.; member of the State house of representatives 1841-1849, 1851-1854, 1858-1862, and 1871-1877; appointed a member of the governor's council in 1842; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Clay and Frelinghuysen in 1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1871); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1870; delegate to the Union National Convention at Philadelphia in 1860; resumed the practice of law; died in Westerly, Washington County, R. I., April 11, 1881; interment in River Bend Cemetery.

DIXON, Nathan Fellows (son of the preceding), a Representative and a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Westerly, Washington County, R. I., August 28, 1847; attended the common schools of Westerly and Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1869 and from the Albany (N. Y.) Law School in 1871; was admitted to the bar in 1871 and commenced practice in Westerly, R. I.; United States district attorney for the district of Rhode Island 1877-1885; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jonathan Chace, and served from February 12 to March 3, 1885; was not a candidate for renomination; member of the State senate 1885-1889; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jonathan Chace, and served from April 10, 1889, to March 3, 1895; was not a candidate for reelection; died in Westerly, R. I., November 8, 1897; interment in River Bend Cemetery.

DIXON, William Wirt, a Representative from Montana; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 3, 1838; moved to Illinois in 1843 and to Keokuk, Iowa, in 1849; pursued preparatory studies; studied law in Keokuk, and was admitted to the bar in 1858; moved to Tennessee in 1860, in the same year to Arkansas, then to California in 1862, and thence to Humboldt County, Nev.; in 1866 moved to Montana and resided in Helena and later in Deer Lodge until 1879; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1871 and 1872; spent two years in the Black Hills; returned to Montana in 1881, settled in Butte, and engaged in the practice of law; delegate to the constitutional conventions of Montana in 1884 and 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fifty-third Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; candidate for election to the United States Senate, but the legislature failed to make a choice; died in Los Angeles, Calif., November 13, 1910; interment in Calvary Cemetery; reinterment in Rock Creek Cemetery, Washington, D. C., March 15, 1911.

DOAN, Robert Eachus, a Representative from Ohio; born near Wilmington, Clinton County, Ohio, July 23, 1831; attended the common schools and completed an academic course; taught school three years in southern Ohio; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1857; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Wilmington, Ohio; editor of the Wilmington Watchman in 1859 and 1860; prosecuting attorney of Clinton County in 1862; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Garfield and Arthur in 1880; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed the practice of law in Washington, D. C.; died in Wilmington, Ohio, February 24, 1919; interment in Sugar Grove Cemetery.

DOAN, William, a Representative from Ohio; born in Maine April 4, 1792; attended the common schools; moved with his parents in 1812 to Ohio and settled near Lindale, Clermont County; studied medicine at New Richmond and commenced practice in 1818 at Withamsville, Clermont County; was graduated from the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati in 1827; member of the State house of representatives in 1831 and 1832; served in the State senate in 1833 and 1834; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; resumed the practice of medicine; died in Withamsville, Clermont County, Ohio, June 22, 1847; interment in Union Township (Mount Moriah) Cemetery, Toluoso, Clermont County, Ohio.

DOBBIN, James Cochrane (grandson of James Cochrane of North Carolina), a Representative from North Carolina; born in Fayetteville, N. C., January 17, 1814; attended the Fayetteville Academy and the William Bingham School, Hillsboro, N. C.; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Fayetteville; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1846; resumed the practice of law; member of the State house of commons in 1848, 1850, and 1852, serving as speaker in 1850; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1852; Secretary of the Navy in the Cabinet of President Pierce from March 7, 1853, to March 6, 1857; died in Fayetteville, Cumberland County, N. C., August 4, 1857; interment in Cross Creek Cemetery.

DOBBINS, Samuel Atkinson, a Representative from New Jersey; born near Vincentown, Burlington County, N. J., April 14, 1814; attended private and public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; moved to Mount Holly, N. J., in 1838 and continued farming; high sheriff of Burlington County 1854-1857; member of the State house of assembly 1859-1861; delegate to the Republican National Convention; trustee of Pennington (N. J.) Seminary 1866-1886, serving as president of the board of trustees for ten years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Mount Holly, Burlington County, N. J., May 26, 1886; interment in Mount Holly Cemetery.

DOCKERY, Alexander Monroe, a Representative from Missouri; born near Gallatin, Daviess County, Mo., February 11, 1845; attended the common schools and Macon Academy, Macon, Mo.; studied medicine, was graduated from the St. Louis (Mo.) Medical College March 2, 1865, and commenced practice near Linneus, Linn County; attended lectures at Bellevue College, New York City, and Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, during the winter of 1865-66; returned to Missouri and settled in Chillicothe, where he continued the practice of his profession for seven years; president of the Board of Education of Chillicothe, Mo., 1870-1872; served as county physician of Livingston County; abandoned medicine in March, 1874, and returned to Gallatin, Mo., where he assisted in organizing the Farmers' Exchange Bank, of which he was cashier; one of the curators of the University of Missouri at Columbia 1872-1882; chairman of the congressional committee of his district; member of the City Council of Gallatin 1878-1881; mayor 1881-1883; delegate to and chairman of the Democratic State conventions in 1886 and 1901; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; Governor of Missouri 1901-1906; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1904; appointed Third Assistant Postmaster General on March 17, 1913, and served until his resignation on March 31, 1921, owing to failing health; died in Gallatin, Mo., December 26, 1926; interment in Edgewood Cemetery, Chillicothe, Livingston County, Mo.

DOCKERY, Alfred (father of Oliver Hart Dockery), a Representative from North Carolina; born near Rockingham, Richmond County, N. C., December 11, 1797; attended the public schools; engaged in planting; member of the State house of commons in 1822; member of the State constitutional convention in 1835; served in the State senate 1836-1844; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1846 to the Thirtieth Congress; elected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); unsuccessful Whig candidate for Governor of North Carolina in 1854; died near Rockingham, Richmond County, N. C., December 7, 1875; interment in the family cemetery.

DOCKERY, Oliver Hart (son of Alfred Dockery), a Representative from North Carolina; born near Rockingham, Richmond County, N. C., August 12, 1830; attended the public schools and Wake Forest (N. C.) College; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1848; studied law, but never practiced; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1858 and 1859; served for a short time in the Confederate service, but withdrew and advocated sustaining the Federal Government; upon the readmission of North Carolina to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress; reelected to the Forty-first Congress, and served from July 13, 1868, to March 3, 1871; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; again engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State constitutional convention in 1875; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1888; appointed United States consul general at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, on June 14, 1889, and served until July 1, 1893; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in a hospital in Baltimore, Md., March 21, 1906; interment in the family cemetery at Mangum, Richmond County, N. C.

DODD, Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, Washington County, N. Y., August 25, 1805; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Argyle, N. Y., in 1835; county clerk of Washington County 1835-1844; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); United States marshal for the northern district of New York from April, 1863, to April, 1869; editor of the County Post for thirty years; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Blaine and Logan in 1884; trustee of the Argyle Academy for fifty-one years; president of the village of Argyle for eight years; member of the Republican State committee for many years; died in Argyle, Washington County, N. Y., March 1, 1891; interment in Prospect Hill Cemetery.

DODDRIDGE, Philip, a Representative from Virginia; born in Bedford County, Va., May 17, 1773; reared on a farm; moved to Brooke County, Va. (now West Virginia); attended school in Wellsburg (then Charleston), Va. (now West Virginia); studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1797; member of the House of Delegates of Virginia in 1815, 1816, 1822, 1823, 1828, and 1829; delegate to the Virginia constitutional convention in 1829; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1822 to the Eighteenth Congress, and in 1824 to the Nineteenth Congress; elected to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses, and served from March 4, 1829, until his death in Washington, D. C., November 19, 1832; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

DODDS, Francis Henry, a Representative from Michigan; born in Louisville, St. Lawrence County, N. Y., June 9, 1858; attended the local schools; moved with his parents to Isabella County, Mich., in 1866; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1880 and was admitted to the bar the same year; graduated from Olivet (Mich.) College in 1882; commenced the practice of law at Mount Pleasant, Mich., in 1882; moved to Bay City, Mich., in 1884 and continued the practice of his profession until 1886; returned to Mount Pleasant, Mich., where he has since practiced; served as city attorney of Mount Pleasant 1892-1894; member of the board of education 1894-1897; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1912; resumed the practice of law, and resides in Mount Pleasant, Isabella County, Mich.

DODDS, Ozro John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 22, 1840; attended the common schools and Cincinnati College; during the Civil War enlisted, on April 18, 1861, as captain of Company B, Twentieth Ohio Volunteer Regiment; captain of Company F, Eighty-first Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and acting assistant quartermaster from September 1, 1861, to January 1, 1863; became lieutenant colonel of the First Alabama Cavalry October 18, 1863, and was honorably discharged from the service as such May 2, 1864; at the close of the war studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1866, and commenced practice in Cincinnati; member of the State house of representatives in 1870 and 1871; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Aaron F. Perry, and served from October 8, 1872, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; resumed the practice of law; died in Columbus, Ohio, April 18, 1882; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DODGE, Augustus Caesar (son of Henry Dodge), a Delegate and a Senator from Iowa; born in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., January 2, 1812; self-educated, having attended school less than six months; moved to Illinois in 1827 with his parents, who settled in Galena; was employed there in various capacities in his father's lead mines; served in the Black Hawk and other Indian wars; moved to Burlington, Iowa, in 1837, where he served as register of the land office from 1838 to 1840; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Twenty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the act of March 3, 1839; reelected to the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Twenty-ninth Congresses, and served from October 28, 1840, to December 28, 1846, when the Territory of Iowa was admitted as a State into the Union; was then elected to the United States Senate; reelected in 1849, and served from December 7, 1848, to February 22, 1855, when he resigned, having previously been appointed minister to Spain, serving from February 23, 1855, to March 12, 1859; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Iowa in 1859; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1864; mayor of Burlington in 1874 and 1875; withdrew from political activities and engaged in lecturing at pioneer gatherings; died in Burlington, Des Moines County, Iowa, November 20, 1883; interment in Aspen Grove Cemetery.

DODGE, Grenville Mellen, a Representative from Iowa; born in Danvers, Essex County, Mass., April 12, 1831; attended the Danvers public schools and Durham Academy, New Hampshire; was graduated as a civil engineer from Norwich University, Vermont, in 1851; moved to Iowa and settled in Council Bluffs; member of the City Council of Council Bluffs in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as colonel of the Fourth Iowa Volunteer Infantry on July 6, 1861; promoted to brigadier general of Volunteers March 21, 1862, and major general June 7, 1864; resigned from the Army May 30, 1866; chief engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad 1866-1870; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1868; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868, at Philadelphia in 1872, and at Cincinnati in 1876; settled in New York City, but retained his residence in Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie County, Iowa; president of the commission to inquire into the management of the war with Spain; extensively interested in western railroad building and management; died in Council Bluffs, Iowa, January 3, 1916; interment in Walnut Hill Cemetery.

DODGE, Henry (father of Augustus Caesar Dodge), a Delegate and a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Vincennes, Ind., October 12, 1782; received a limited schooling; moved to Missouri in 1796 and settled at Ste. Genevieve; sheriff of Cape Girardeau County in 1808; moved to Galena, Ill., and operated a lead mine; moved to Wisconsin in 1827 when it was a part of Michigan Territory, and settled near the present site of Dodgeville; served in the Black Hawk and other Indian wars, was commissioned major of United States Rangers on June 21, 1832; left the Army as colonel of the First United States Dragoons in July, 1836; appointed Governor of the Territory of Wisconsin in 1836, and served until 1841; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate for renomination in 1844, having again accepted the appointment of Governor of the Territory of Wisconsin, and served from 1845 until 1848; upon the admission of Wisconsin as a State into the Union in 1848 was elected to the United States Senate; reelected in 1851, and served from June 8, 1848, to March 3, 1857; declined the appointment of Governor of Washington Territory by President Pierce in 1857; retired to private life; died in Burlington, Des Moines County, Iowa, June 19, 1867; interment in Aspen Grove Cemetery.

DODGE, William Earle, a Representative from New York; born in Hartford, Conn., September 4, 1805; completed preparatory studies; moved to New York City in 1818; became a clerk; established in 1826 the house of Phelps, Dodge & Co., of which he was the head for forty years; delegate to the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; successfully contested as a Republican the election of James Brooks to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and served from April 7, 1866, to March 3, 1867; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1866; resumed business interests; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Wilson in 1872; died in New York City February 9, 1883; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

DOE, Nicholas Bartlett, a Representative from New York; born in New York City June 10, 1786; was graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; settled in Saratoga County, N. Y.; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Anson Brown, and took his seat on December 7, 1840, and served until March 3, 1841; resumed the practice of law; trustee of the village of Watford, Saratoga County, in 1841; died at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., December 6, 1856; interment in Greenridge Cemetery.

DOIG, Andrew Wheeler, a Representative from New York; born in Salem, Washington County, N. Y., July 24, 1799; pursued an academic course; moved to Lowville, N. Y., and engaged in mercantile pursuits; town clerk of Lowville in 1825; county clerk of Lewis County 1825-1831; member of the State assembly in 1832; moved to Martinsburg, N. Y., in 1833; cashier of the Lewis County Bank in 1833 and 1834; returned to Lowville; surrogate of Lewis County 1835-1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); member of the board of directors and vice president of the Bank of Lowville 1843-1847; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in mining; returned in 1850 to Lowville, Lewis County, N. Y., where he resided until late in life; clerk in the customhouse, New York City, 1853-1857; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 11, 1875; interment in the Rural Cemetery, Lowville, N. Y.

DOLLIVER, Jonathan Prentiss, a Representative and a Senator from Iowa; born near Kingwood, Preston County, Va. (now West Virginia), February 6, 1858; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown in 1876; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in Fort Dodge, Iowa; city solicitor of Fort Dodge 1880-1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1889, to August 22, 1900, when he resigned to become Senator; appointed to the United States Senate in 1900 to fill the vacancy in the term ending March 3, 1901, caused by the death of John H. Gear; reappointed and subsequently elected for the term beginning March 4, 1901; reelected in 1907, and served from August 22, 1900, until his death in Fort Dodge, Iowa, October 15, 1910; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

DOLPH, Joseph Norton (uncle of Frederick William Mulkey), a Senator from Oregon; born in Dolphsburg, Tompkins (now Schuyler) County, N. Y., October 18, 1835; attended the common schools and the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, N. Y.; taught school and studied law; was admitted to the bar in Binghamton, N. Y., in November, 1861, and commenced practice in Schuyler County, N. Y.; enlisted in Capt. M. Crawford's company, known as the Oregon Escort, in 1862, raised under an act of Congress for the purpose of protecting against hostile Indians emigrants crossing the Plains that year to the Pacific coast; filled the position of orderly sergeant; settled in Portland, Oreg., in October, 1862; city attorney in 1864 and 1865; United States district attorney 1865-1868; member of the State senate in 1866, 1868, 1872, and 1874; engaged in various enterprises; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1882; reelected in 1888, and served from March 4, 1888, to March 3, 1895; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894; resumed the practice of law in Portland, Oreg., where he died March 10, 1897; interment in Riverview Cemetery.

DOMINICK, Frederick Haskell, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Peak, Newberry County, S. C., February 20, 1877; attended the public schools of Columbia, the Newberry (S. C.) College, and South Carolina College at Columbia; was admitted to the bar in 1898, and commenced practice in Newberry, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1900-1902; delegate to every Democratic State convention since 1900, with the exception of the year 1914; chairman of the Democratic county committee 1906-1914; assistant attorney general of South Carolina 1913-1916; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and at New York City in 1924; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1927); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1926 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against George W. English, Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Illinois. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DONLEY, Joseph Benton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Mount Morris, Greene County, Pa., October 10, 1838; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Waynesburg (Pa.) College in 1859; member of the faculty of Abingdon (Ill.) College 1860-1862; entered the Union Army during the Civil War as a captain in the Eighty-third Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry in 1862 and served throughout the war; was graduated from the Albany (N. Y.) Law School in 1866; was admitted to the bar in 1867 and commenced practice in Waynesburg, Greene County, Pa.; referee in bankruptcy in 1867 and 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in Waynesburg, Green County, Pa., and died there January 23, 1917; interment in Green Mount Cemetery.

DONNAN, William G., a Representative from Iowa; born in West Charlton, N. Y., June 30, 1834; attended the district schools and Cambridge Academy; was graduated from Union College, New York, in 1856; moved to Independence, Iowa, in 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice at Independence in 1857; treasurer and recorder of Buchanan County 1857-1862; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as a private in Company H, Twenty-seventh Iowa Infantry, in 1862; promoted to the grade of first lieutenant and brevetted captain and major for efficient service in the field; was adjutant on the staff of Gen. James J. Gilbert; member of the State senate in 1868 and 1870; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1874; resumed the practice of law at Independence; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1894; chairman of the Republican State central committee 1884-1886; again a member of the State senate 1884-1886; died in Independence, Buchanan County, Iowa, December 4, 1908; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

DONNELL, Richard Spaight (grandson of Richard Dobbs Spaight), a Representative from North Carolina; born in New Bern, N. C., September 20, 1820; attended New Bern Academy and Yale College; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1839; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in New Bern, N. C.; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; resumed the practice of law in Washington, N. C.; delegate to the State secession convention in 1861 and to the State constitutional convention in 1865; member of the State house of commons in 1862 and 1864, and served as speaker; died in New Bern, Craven County, N. C., June 3, 1867; interment in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

DONNELLY, Ignatius, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Philadelphia, Pa., November 3, 1831; attended the public schools and was graduated from the high school of that city; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1852, and commenced practice in Philadelphia; moved to Minnesota in 1857 and settled in Nininger, Dakota County; engaged in literary pursuits; Lieutenant Governor of Minnesota 1859-1868; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress and for election in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; member of the State senate 1874-1878; resumed the practice of law; also engaged in literary pursuits; was nominated by the People's Party in 1890 for Vice President of the United States; died in Minneapolis, Minn., January 1, 1901; interment in Calvary Cemetery. St. Paul, Minn.

DONOHUE, Michael, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Killeshandra, County Cavan, Ireland, February 22, 1864; attended the schools of Ireland and a private classical school; taught as principal of a national school from January, 1885, until October, 1886, when he resigned; emigrated to the United States and settled in Philadelphia, Pa., November 8, 1886; engaged in banking and in the manufacture of glassware; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; appointed real-estate assessor for the city of Philadelphia on April 15, 1916, in which capacity he is now serving, with residence in Philadelphia.

DONOVAN, Dennis D., a Representative from Ohio; born near Texas, Henry County, Ohio, January 31, 1859; attended the common schools and the Northern Indiana Normal School, Valparaiso, Ind.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and commenced practice in Deshler, Ohio; taught school; engaged in the mercantile and timber business; appointed postmaster of Deshler by President Cleveland on July 21, 1885, and served until January 27, 1888; member of the State house of representatives in 1887 and 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1894; after retirement from Congress engaged in the practice of law, and is a resident of Napoleon, Henry County, Ohio.

DONOVAN, Jeremiah, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Ridgefield, Fairfield County, Conn., in 1854; attended the public schools and was graduated from Ridgefield Academy; delegate to several Democratic National Conventions; member of the State house of representatives in 1903 and 1904; served in the State senate 1905-1909; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; mayor of the city of Norwalk, Conn., 1917-1921; retired, and is a resident of South Norwalk, Fairfield County, Conn.

DONOVAN, Jerome Francis, a Representative from New York; born in New Haven, Conn., February 1, 1872; attended the public schools and the Hillhouse High School; was graduated from the law department of Yale University in 1894; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in New Haven; captain in the Connecticut National Guard 1897-1903; member of the State assembly 1901-1903; auditor of the city of New Haven 1902-1904; secretary of the New Haven Civil Service Commission 1904-1906; moved to New York City in 1910, and was admitted to the bar of that State the same year; special deputy attorney general of New York 1911-1913; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Murray Hulbert; reelected to the Sixty-sixth Congress, and served from March 5, 1918, to March 3, 1921; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; deputy attorney general in charge of the legal work of the State labor department of New York in 1923 and 1924; resumed the practice of law in New York City, where he now resides.

DOOLING, Peter Joseph, a Representative from New York; born in New York City February 15, 1857; attended the public schools; held many appointive and elective offices in the city and State of New York; member of the State senate 1908-1905; clerk of the city and county of New York 1906-1909; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; sheriff of New York County in 1924; commissioner of the department of purchases of New York City in 1926; engaged in the real-estate business in New York City, where he now resides.

DOOLITTLE, Dudley, a Representative from Kansas; born at Cottonwood Falls, Chase County, Kans., June 21, 1881; attended the public schools and the University of Kansas at Lawrence; was graduated from the law department of that institution in 1903; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice at Cottonwood Falls, Kans.; prosecuting attorney of Chase County 1908-1912; mayor of Strong City in 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; representative of the United States Treasury Department to Italy in 1919; engaged in the practice of law in Strong City, Kans., and Kansas City, Mo.; elected a member of the Democratic National Committee in 1925; president of the Strong City State Bank, and resides in Strong City, Chase County, Kans.

DOOLITTLE, James Rood, a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Hampton, N. Y., January 3, 1815; attended the common schools and Middlebury (Vt.) Academy, and was graduated from Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Rochester, N. Y.; moved to Warsaw, N. Y., in 1841; district attorney of Wyoming County, N. Y., 1847-1850; moved to Racine, Wis., in 1851; elected judge of the first judicial circuit of Wisconsin in 1853, and held the office until 1856, when he resigned; the repeal of the Missouri Compromise caused him to leave the Democratic Party; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in January, 1857; reelected in 1863, and served from March 4, 1857, to March 3, 1869; left the Republican Party and was unsuccessful candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket in 1871; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill., but retained his residence in Racine, Wis.; permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; trustee of the University of Chicago, serving one year as its president, and was for many years a professor in its law school; died in Edgewood, Providence, R. I., July 23, 1897; interment in Mound Cemetery, Racine, Wis.

DOOLITTLE, William Hall, a Representative from Washington; born near North East in Erie County, Pa., November 6, 1848; moved with his parents to Portage County, Wis., in 1859; worked in the pharmacies of that State; attended the district school; early in 1865, during the Civil War, enlisted as a private in the Ninth Wisconsin Battery; discharged the following summer and returned to Wisconsin; went to Pennsylvania in 1867 and pursued an academic course; studied law in Chautauqua County, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar in 1871; moved to Nebraska in 1872 and commenced practice in Tecumseh, Johnson County; member of the State house of representatives 1874-1876; assistant United States district attorney 1876-1880; moved to Washington Territory in 1880 and settled in Colfax, Whitman County; engaged in the practice of law; moved to Tacoma in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Tacoma, Wash., and died there on February 26, 1914; interment in Tacoma Cemetery.

DOREMUS, Frank Ellsworth, a Representative from Michigan; born in Venango County, Pa., August 31, 1835; attended the public schools of Portland, Mich., and the Detroit (Mich.) College of Law; established the Portland Review in 1855, editing it until 1859; member of the State house of representatives 1859-1862; postmaster of Portland 1865-1869; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Detroit in 1869; assistant corporation counsel of Detroit 1903-1907; city comptroller 1907-1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1921); mayor of Detroit, Mich., in 1923 and 1924, and is a resident of that city.

DORR, Charles Phillips, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Miltonsburg, Monroe County, Ohio, August 12, 1852; moved with his parents to Woodsfield, Ohio, in 1866; attended the common schools; taught school in Ohio and West Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1874, and commenced practice in West Virginia the same year; member of the Town Council of Webster Springs, W. Va.; elected a member of the State house of delegates in 1884 and 1888; sergeant at arms of that body in 1887; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); was not a candidate for renomination in 1898; after retirement from Congress resumed the practice of law at Webster Springs, W. Va.; died on his estate, "Clover Lick Farms," at Clover Lick, near Marlinton, Pocahontas County, W. Va., October 8, 1914; interment in Clover Lick Cemetery.

DORSEY, Clement, a Representative from Maryland; born near Oaklands in Anne Arundel County, Md., in 1778; attended St. Johns College, Annapolis, Md.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice; major in the Maryland Militia 1812-1818; elected to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1831); resumed the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1832 to the Twenty-third Congress; judge of the fifth circuit court of Maryland until his death in Leonardtown, St. Marys County, Md., August 6, 1848; interment in a private burial ground at "Summerseat," near Laurel Grove, Md.

DORSEY, George Washington Emery, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Loudoun County, Va., January 25, 1842; moved with his parents to Preston County, Va. (now West Virginia), in 1856; attended private schools and Oak Hill Academy; recruited a company and entered the Union Army in August, 1861, as first lieutenant in the Sixth Regiment West Virginia Infantry; promoted to captain and major, and was mustered out with the Army of the Shenandoah in August, 1865; moved to Nebraska in 1866; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1869; engaged in banking; member of the board of trustees of the hospital for the insane; vice president of the State board of agriculture; chairman of the Republican State central committee; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; engaged in mining enterprises in Nevada and Utah; died in Salt Lake City, Utah, June 12, 1911; interment in the City Cemetery, Fremont, Dodge County, Nebr.

DORSEY, Stephen Wallace, a Senator from Arkansas; born in Benson, Rutland County, Vt., February 28, 1842; moved to Ohio and settled in Oberlin; attended the public schools; during the Civil War served in the Union Army under General Grant at Shiloh, General Buell at Perryville, General Rosecrans at Stone River and Chattanooga, and General Thomas at Missionary Ridge; was transferred to the Army of the Potomac in 1864; took part in the Battles of the Wilderness and Cold Harbor, and served until the close of the war; returned to Ohio and settled in Sandusky; was employed by the Sandusky Tool Co. and subsequently became its president; elected president of the Arkansas Railway Co.; moved to Arkansas and settled in Helena; chairman of the Republican county committee; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1878, to March 3, 1879; was not a candidate for reelection; chairman of the Republican State executive committee in 1878 and a member of the Republican National Committee in 1880; after his service in the Senate devoted himself to cattle raising and mining in New Mexico and Colorado, and resided in Colfax County, N. Mex., and later in Denver, Colo.; later moved to Los Angeles, Calif., and resided there until his death on March 20, 1916; interment in Fairmont Cemetery, Denver, Colo.

DORSHEIMER, William, a Representative from New York; born in Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., February 5, 1832; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., with his parents in 1836; attended the common schools, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Harvard University; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Buffalo, N. Y.; during the Civil War appointed a major in the United States Army in August, 1861, and served as aide-de-camp on the staff of General Frémont; United States attorney for the northern district of New York 1867-1871; delegate to the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati in 1872; member of the first Board of Park Commissioners of Buffalo; Lieutenant Governor of New York 1875-1880; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; commissioner of the State survey in 1876 and president of the commission in 1883; moved to New York City in 1880 and continued the practice of law; appointed commissioner of the State reservation at Niagara, N. Y., in 1883; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1884; appointed United States district attorney for the southern district of New York in 1885; resigned the same year, having become owner of the New York Star; died, while en route for a visit to Florida, in Savannah, Ga., March 26, 1888; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo, N. Y.

DOTY, James Duane (cousin of Morgan Lewis Martin), a Delegate and a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Salem, Washington County, N. Y., November 5, 1799; attended the common schools; studied law; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1818; was admitted to the bar in 1819 and commenced practice in Detroit; secretary of the legislative council and clerk of court of Michigan Territory; United States judge for northern Michigan 1823-1832; member of the legislative council in 1834 and 1835; assisted in bringing about the division of Michigan Territory into the three Territories of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Iowa; preempted several tracts of Government land in the Territory of Wisconsin; laid out the capital of Wisconsin and named it Madison; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of George W. Jones as a Delegate to the Twenty-fifth Congress; reelected to the Twenty-sixth Congress, and served from January 14, 1839, to March 3, 1841; Governor of the Territory of Wisconsin 1841-1844; delegate to the first constitutional convention of 1846; elected as a Democrat a Representative to the Thirty-first Congress and as a Free-Soiler to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); appointed superintendent of Indian affairs for Utah Territory in 1861, and treasurer and governor of that Territory in 1863 and served until his death in Salt Lake City, Utah, June 13, 1865; interment in Fort Douglas Cemetery.

DOUBLEDAY, Ulysses Freeman, a Representative from New York; born in Otsego County, N. Y., December 15, 1792; received a limited schooling; learned the art of printing and worked as a printer in Cooperstown, Utica, and Albany, N. Y.; served at Sackett's Harbor in the War of 1812; established the Saratoga Courier at Ballston Spa; moved to Auburn, N. Y., where he published the Cayuga Patriot 1819-1839; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-second Congress (March 4, 1831-March 3, 1833); appointed inspector of Auburn Prison in 1834; elected to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); engaged in agricultural pursuits in Scipio, N. Y., 1837-1846; moved to New York City and engaged in mercantile pursuits 1846-1890; died in Belvidere, Boone County, Ill., March 11, 1898; interment probably in the North Street Cemetery, Auburn, N. Y.

DOUGHERTY, Charles, a Representative from Florida; born in Athens, Ga., October 15, 1850; attended the public schools of Athens and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; followed the sea; moved to Florida in 1871 and settled near Port Orange; engaged in planting; member of the State house of representatives 1877-1885, and served as speaker in 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); resumed agricultural pursuits; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1891, 1892, 1911, and 1912; served in the State senate 1895-1898; died at Daytona Beach, Volusia County, Fla., October 11, 1915; interment in Pinewood Cemetery.

DOUGHERTY, John, a Representative from Missouri; born in Iatan, Platte County, Mo., February 25, 1857; moved with his parents the same year to Liberty, Clay County, Mo.; attended the public schools and William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1889, and commenced practice at Liberty, Mo.; elected city attorney of Liberty, Mo., in 1881 and served five years; editor and proprietor of the Liberty Tribune 1885-1888; elected prosecuting attorney of Clay County Mo., in 1888 and served six years; unsuccessful candidate for nomination in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1905); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of law; died in Liberty, Mo., August 1, 1905; interment in Fairview Cemetery.

DOUGHTON, Robert Lee, a Representative from North Carolina; born at Laurelsprings, Alleghany County, N. C., November 7, 1863; was educated in the public schools and the high schools at Laurelsprings and Sparta; engaged in agricultural pursuits and the raising of livestock at Laurelsprings; also interested in banking; member of the State board of agriculture 1906-1909; served in the State senate in 1908 and 1909; director of the State prison board 1909-1911; president of the Deposit & Savings Bank, North Wilkesboro, N. C., since 1911; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and to the seven succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DOUGLASS, Albert, a Representative from Ohio; born in Chillicothe, Ohio, April 25, 1852; attended the public schools of Chillicothe and a preparatory school; was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1872 and from the law department of Harvard University in 1874; was admitted to the bar in 1874 and commenced practice in Chillicothe, Ohio; prosecuting attorney of Ross County 1877-1881; presidential elector at large on the Republican ticket of McKinley and Hobart in 1896 and served as president of the Electoral College; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; appointed ambassador to represent the United States at the centennial of the independence of Peru in 1921; retired, and is a resident of Washington, D. C.

DOUGLAS, Beverly Browne, a Representative from Virginia; born at Providence Forge, New Kent County, Va., December 21, 1822; attended Rumford Academy in King William County, William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., Yale College, and the University of Edinburgh, Scotland; upon his return to the United States reentered William and Mary College, and was graduated from the law department, under Judge Beverly Tucker, in 1843; was admitted to the bar in 1844 and commenced practice in Norfolk, Va.; moved to King William County in 1846 and continued the practice of his profession; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850-51; member of the State senate 1852-1865; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Breckinridge and Lane in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as first lieutenant in Lee's Rangers, and was successively promoted to the rank of major of the Fifth Virginia Cavalry; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-fourth Congress and as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1875, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 22, 1878; interment in the family burying ground at "Zoar," near Aylett, King William County, Va.

DOUGLAS, Stephen Arnold, a Representative and a Senator from Illinois; born in Brandon, Vt., April 23, 1813; completed preparatory studies in Brandon Academy; learned the cabinetmaker's trade; moved to a farm near Clifton Springs, N. Y.; entered Canandaigua Academy in 1832 and studied law; in 1833 moved to Cleveland, Ohio, where he was sick for four months; he then visited several western cities, finally settling in Winchester, Ill., where he taught school and resumed the study of law; was admitted to the bar in 1834 and commenced practice in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Ill.; elected State's attorney for the Morgan circuit in 1835; member of the State house of representatives in 1836 and 1837; register of the land office at Springfield in 1837; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1838 to the Twenty-sixth Congress; appointed secretary of state of Illinois during the session of the legislature 1840-41, and at the same session was elected one of the judges of the State supreme court; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1843, until his resignation on March 3, 1847, at the close of the Twenty-ninth Congress, having been elected Senator; elected to the United States Senate in 1847; reelected in 1853 as a Popular Sovereignty Democrat, and again in 1859, defeating Abraham Lincoln, and served from March 4, 1847, until his death; unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket in 1852 and 1856; nominated for President by the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1860 and received twelve electoral votes for President of the United States; died in Chicago, Ill., June 3, 1861; interment in Douglas Monument Park.

DOUGLAS, William Harris, a Representative from New York; born in New York City December 5, 1853; attended private schools and the College of the City of New York; entered the exporting and importing trade; senior member and president of the firm of Arkell & Douglas (Inc.), having branches in London, England, Sydney and Melbourne, Australia, Cape Town and Port Elizabeth, South Africa, and elsewhere; member of the National and State chambers of commerce, the

New York Produce Exchange, Maritime Exchange, Merchants' Association, and various other institutions; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed his former business pursuits; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1908, 1912, and 1916; is a resident of New York City.

DOUGLASS, John Joseph, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in East Boston, Suffolk County, Mass., February 9, 1873; attended the public schools; was graduated from East Boston High School in 1889, from Boston College in 1893, and from the law department of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., in 1896; was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1897 and commenced practice in Boston; member of the State house of representatives in 1899, 1900, 1906, and again in 1913; delegate to the Massachusetts constitutional convention 1917-1919; past president of the East Boston and Winthrop Bar Association; author and playwright; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

DOVENER, Blackburn Barrett, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Tays Valley, Cabell County, Va. (now West Virginia), April 20, 1842; attended the common schools; taught school 1858-1861; at the age of nineteen raised a company of loyal Virginians and served as captain of Company A, Fifteenth Regiment West Virginia Volunteer Infantry, during the Civil War; became captain of an Ohio River steamboat in 1867; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1873, and commenced practice in Wheeling, W. Va.; member of the State house of delegates in 1883 and 1884; unsuccessful Republican candidate for election to the Fifty-second Congress; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1907); unsuccessful candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Wheeling; moved to Maryland, and lived in retirement with his son at Glen Echo, Md., until his death on May 9, 1914; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

DOWD, Clement, a Representative from North Carolina; born at Richland Creek, near Carthage, Moore County, N. C., August 27, 1832; attended the common schools; was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1850; engaged in teaching in 1857 and 1858; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Charlotte, N. C.; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army; after the war resumed the practice of law; mayor of Charlotte 1869-1871; president of the Merchants & Farmers' National Bank 1871-1874; president of the Commercial National Bank of Charlotte, N. C., 1874-1880; delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1885); was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; State bank examiner in 1885 and 1886; collector of Internal revenue for the district of North Carolina in 1886 and 1887; again engaged in the practice of law; died in Charlotte, N. C., April 15, 1898; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

DOWDELL, James Ferguson, a Representative from Alabama; born near Monticello, Jasper County, Ga., November 26, 1818; completed preparatory studies, and in 1840 was graduated from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Greenville, Ga.; moved to Chambers County, Ala., in 1846 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; unsuccessful candidate for election to the State house of representatives in 1849 and 1851; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1859); during the Civil War served as colonel of the Thirty-seventh Regiment Alabama Volunteer Infantry under General Price from 1862 until the close of the war; president of the East Alabama College at Auburn 1868-1870; died near Auburn, Lee County, Ala., September 6, 1871; interment in the City Cemetery, Auburn, Ala.

DOWDNEY, Abraham, a Representative from New York; born in Youghal, Ireland, October 31, 1841; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in New York City; attended private schools; engaged in the building and contracting business; served in the Civil War as captain in the One hundred and thirty-second Regiment New York Volunteer Infantry in 1862 and 1863; chairman of the public-school trustees of New York City 1882-1885; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress, and served from March 4, 1885, until his death in New York City December 10, 1886; interment in Calvary Cemetery, Long Island City, N. Y.

DOWELL, Cassius C., a Representative from Iowa; born near Summerset, Warren County, Iowa, February 29, 1864; attended the public schools, the Baptist College at Des Moines, Iowa, Simpson College at Indianola, Iowa, and was graduated from the liberal arts department of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, in 1886 and from the law department of the same institution in 1887; was admitted to the bar in 1888 and commenced practice in Des Moines; member of the State house of representatives 1894-1898; served in the State senate 1902-1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

DOWNEY, Stephen Wheeler, a Delegate from the Territory of Wyoming; born in Western Port, Allegany County, Md., July 25, 1839; pursued an academic course; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company C, Third Regiment Potomac Home Brigade Maryland Infantry, October 31, 1861; promoted to first lieutenant January 1, 1862; lieutenant colonel March 1, 1862; colonel September 8, 1862, and was honorably discharged November 6, 1862, on tender of resignation; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Washington, D. C., in 1863; moved to the Territory of Wyoming in 1869 and practiced law in Laramie; prosecuting attorney of Albany County in 1869 and 1870; elected a member of the Territorial council in 1871, 1875, and 1877; treasurer of the Territory 1872-1875; auditor of the Territory 1877-1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1880; elected a member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1886 and again in 1890; trustee of the University of Wyoming at Laramie 1891-1897 and served as its president; member of the State house of representatives in 1893 and 1895 and served as speaker in the latter year; member of the State constitutional convention in 1899; again prosecuting attorney of Albany County from 1899 until his death in Denver, Colo., August 3, 1902; interment in Green Hill Cemetery, Laramie, Albany County, Wyo.

DOWNING, Charles, a Delegate from Florida; born in Virginia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in St. Augustine, Fla.; member of the Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida in 1837; elected to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); died in St. Augustine, Fla., in 1845.

DOWNING, Pinal Ewing, a Representative from Illinois; born in Virginia, Cass County, Ill., August 24, 1846; attended public and private schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Virginia, Ill., 1865-1890; member of the board of aldermen 1876-1878; mayor 1878-1880; clerk of the circuit court of Cass County 1880-1892; studied law, was admitted to the bar in December, 1887, and commenced practice at Virginia, Ill.; engaged in the newspaper business in 1891; secretary of the State senate in 1892 and 1893; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, to June 5, 1896, when he was succeeded by John I. Rinaker, who contested his election; unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1896; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for secretary of state of Illinois in 1896; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Virginia, Ill.

DOWNS, Solomon Weathersbee, a Senator from Louisiana; born in Montgomery County, Tenn., in 1801; pursued classical studies, and was graduated from the Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Bayou Sara, West Feliciana Parish, La.; moved to Ouachita, La., and thence to New Orleans, La., in 1845, where he engaged in the practice of law; United States attorney for the district of Louisiana 1845-1847; member of the State constitutional convention; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1847, to March 3, 1853; appointed by President Pierce collector of the port of New Orleans in 1853; died at Crab Orchard Springs, Lincoln County, Ky., August 14, 1854; interment in the Old City Cemetery, Monroe, Ouachita Parish, La.

DOWSE, Edward, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Charlestown, Mass., October 22, 1756; moved to Dedham, Mass.; after the Revolution was a shipmaster and engaged in the East Indian and China carrying trade; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from March 4, 1819, until May 20, 1820, when he resigned; retired from active business pursuits; died in Dedham, Mass., September 3, 1828; interment in the Old Cemetery.

DOX, Peter Myndert (grandson of John Nicholas), a Representative from Alabama; born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., September 11, 1813; attended Geneva Academy, and was graduated from Hobart College at Geneva in 1833; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice at Geneva, N. Y.; member of the State assembly in 1842; judge of the Ontario County courts from November, 1855, until his resignation on March 18, 1856; moved to Alabama in the same year and settled in Madison County; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State constitutional convention in 1865; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-first and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); retired from public life; died in Huntsville, Madison County, Ala., April 2, 1891; interment in Maple Hill Cemetery.

DOXEY, Charles Taylor, a Representative from Indiana; born in Tippecanoe County, Ind., July 13, 1841; moved with his mother to Minnesota in 1855 and worked on a farm; later moved to Fairbury, Ill., where he attended the public schools; moved to Anderson, Ind.; during the Civil War entered the service as first sergeant of Company A, Nineteenth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry, July, 1861; promoted to second lieutenant, subsequently resigned, and then became captain of Company K, Sixteenth Indiana Infantry, in which capacity he served until the close of the war; engaged in the manufacture of staves and headings; member of the State senate in 1876; member of the board of directors in the first natural-gas companies of Anderson; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Godlove S. Orth, and served from January 17 to March 3, 1883; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed former business activities; died in Anderson, Madison County, Ind., April 30, 1898; interment in Maplewood Cemetery.

DOYLE, Thomas Aloysius, a Representative from Illinois; born in Chicago, Ill., January 9, 1886; attended the grammar and high schools of his native city; was graduated from the McCallister Evening High School, Chicago, Ill., in 1903; engaged in the real estate and insurance business and since 1926 in the automobile business; member of the Chicago City Council 1914-1918; member of the State house of representatives 1918-1923; commissioner on the Chicago Board of Local Improvements in 1923; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John W. Rainey; reelected to the Sixty-ninth Congress, and served from November 6, 1923, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DRAKE, Charles Daniel, a Senator from Missouri; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, April 11, 1811; attended St. Joseph's College, Bardonia, Ky., in 1823 and 1824, and Patridge's Military Academy, Middletown, Conn., in 1824 and 1825; appointed midshipman in the United States Navy in 1825 and served four years, when he resigned; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Cincinnati in 1833; moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1834 and continued the practice of his profession; member of the State house of representatives in 1859 and 1860; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; member of the State constitutional convention in 1865; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1867, to December 10, 1870, when he resigned to accept a judicial position; appointed chief justice of the Court of Claims and served until January, 1885, when he retired; died in Washington, D. C., April 1, 1892; remains were cremated and the ashes interred in Bellefontaine Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo.

DRAKE, John Reuben, a Representative from New York; born in Pleasant Valley, N. Y., November 28, 1782; completed preparatory studies; engaged in mercantile and agricultural pursuits; supervisor of the town of Owego in 1813; elected to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); judge of the court of common pleas for Tioga County 1833-1838; member of the State assembly in 1834; president of Owego village 1841-1845; died in Owego, Tioga County, N. Y., March 21, 1857; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DRANE, Herbert Jackson, a Representative from Florida; born in Franklin, Simpson County, Ky., June 20, 1863; attended the public schools of Louisville, Ky., and Brevards Academy, Franklin, Ky.; moved to Macon, Ga., in 1881, and to Lakeland, Polk County, Fla., in November, 1888, and was one of the founders of the village of Lakeland, in Polk County; constructed the railway system which operates through that section; engaged in the real-estate and insurance business and in the growing of citrus fruits; mayor of Lakeland 1888-1892; county commissioner of Polk County 1896-1899; chief engrossing clerk of the State house of representatives 1899-1901; member of the State house of representatives 1903-1905; served in the State senate 1913-1917, and was its president from 1913 to 1915; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DRAPER, Joseph, a Representative from Virginia; born in Virginia; member of the State senate 1828-1830; elected to the Twenty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alexander Smyth, and served from December 6, 1830, to March 3, 1831; unsuccessfully contested the election of Charles C. Johnston to the Twenty-second Congress; subsequently elected to the Twenty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles C. Johnston, and served from December 6, 1832, to March 3, 1833.

DRAPER, William Franklin, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Lowell, Mass., April 9, 1842; attended public, private, and high schools; studied mechanical engineering and cotton manufacturing; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in the Twenty-fifth Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry on September 8, 1861; promoted to second lieutenant October 7, 1861; first lieutenant April 15, 1862; captain in the Thirty-sixth Massachusetts Infantry August 27, 1862; major September 1, 1863; lieutenant colonel August 9, 1864; brevetted colonel and brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865, "for gallant and meritorious services in the field during the war"; was shot through the body at the Battle of the Wilderness May 6, 1864, and again slightly wounded at Pegram Farm September 30, 1864; mustered out October 12, 1864; became a manufacturer of cotton machinery at Hopedale, Worcester County, and made and patented many improvements; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876; colonel on the staff of Governor Long from 1880 to 1883; presidential elector at large on the Republican ticket of Harrison and Morton in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for renomination in 1896; president of the Draper Co. upon its incorporation in 1896; United States ambassador and minister plenipotentiary to Italy 1897-1899; died in Washington, D. C., January 23, 1910; interment in the Village Cemetery, Hopedale, Mass.

DRAPER, William Henry, a Representative from New York; born in Rochdale, Worcester County, Mass., June 24, 1841; moved with his parents to Troy, N. Y., in 1847; attended the public schools until 1856; engaged in mercantile pursuits; trustee of the village of Lansingburgh for ten years; commissioner of jurors for Rensselaer County 1896-1900; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1913); was not a candidate for reelection in 1912; engaged in the manufacture of cordage and twine and was president of the W. H. Draper & Sons (Inc.); died in Troy, N. Y., December 7, 1921; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

DRAYTON, William, a Representative from South Carolina; born in St. Augustine, Fla., December 30, 1776; attended preparatory schools in England; returned to the United States in 1790 and settled in Charleston, S. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar December 12, 1797, and commenced practice in Charleston; member of the State house of representatives 1806-1808; during the War of 1812 entered the United States Army as lieutenant colonel of the Tenth Infantry March 12, 1812; became colonel of the Eighteenth Infantry July 23, 1812; inspector general August 1, 1814, and served throughout the war; resumed the practice of law in Charleston, S. C.; recorder of Charleston 1819-1824; elected as a Union Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Joel R. Poinsett; reelected to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses, and served from May 17, 1825, to March 3, 1833; declined the appointment of Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Jackson and also as minister to England; opposed nullification in 1830; moved to Philadelphia, Pa., in August, 1833; president of the Bank of the United States in 1840 and 1841; died in Philadelphia, Pa., May 24, 1846; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

DRAYTON, William Henry, a Delegate from South Carolina; born at Drayton Hall, on Ashley River, S. C., in September, 1742; pursued classical studies; attended Westminster School and Balliol College, Oxford, England; returned to South Carolina in 1764; studied law and was admitted to the bar; visited England again in 1770 and was appointed by King George III privy councillor for the Province of South Carolina; while on his way home was appointed assistant judge, but took such an active part in the pre-Revolutionary movement that he was deprived of both positions; president of the council of safety in 1775, and in 1776 was chief justice; Member of the Continental Congress in 1778, and served until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., September 3, 1779; interment in Christ Church Cemetery.

DRESSER, Solomon Robert, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Litchfield, Hillsdale County, Mich., February 1, 1842; attended the common schools and Hillsdale College; engaged in agricultural pursuits until 1865; became an inventor of oil and gas well equipment; moved to Pennsylvania in 1872 and engaged in the production of oil and gas; founder and president of the S. R. Dresser Manufacturing Co.; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for renomination in 1906; resumed former business pursuits; died in Bradford, McKean County, Pa., January 21, 1911; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

DREW, Irving Webster, a Senator from New Hampshire; born at Colebrook, Coos County, N. H., January 8, 1845; attended Kimball Union Academy, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in June, 1870; moved to Lancaster, N. H., where he studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1871, and commenced practice in Lancaster; appointed major of the New Hampshire National Guard in 1876 and served three years; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880 and at Chicago in 1892 and 1896; member of the State senate in 1883 and 1884; left the Democratic Party in 1896, when he refused to accept the free-silver plank, and later became an active member of the Republican Party; delegate to the State constitutional conventions in 1902 and 1912; engaged in banking and the railroad business; elected president of the State bar association in 1899; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jacob H. Gallinger, and served from September 2 to November 5, 1913, when a successor was elected; was not a candidate for election; retired from active business pursuits; died in Montclair, Essex County, N. J., April 10, 1922; interment in the Summer Street Cemetery, Lancaster, Coos County, N. H.

DREWRY, Patrick Henry, a Representative from Virginia; born in Petersburg, Dinwiddie County, Va., May 24, 1875; attended the public schools, Petersburg High School, and McCabe's University School; was graduated from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va., in 1896; studied law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, was admitted to the bar in 1901, and commenced practice in Petersburg; director of the Petersburg Savings & American Trust Co., of Petersburg; member of the State senate 1912-1920; delegate to the Democratic State conventions in 1912, 1916, 1920, and 1924; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1916; chairman of the Economy and Efficiency Commission of Virginia 1916-1918; chairman of the State auditing committee 1916-1920; chairman of the State advisory board in 1919; member of the Democratic National Congressional Committee 1923-1927; member of the Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1925; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Walter A. Watson; reelected to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from April 27, 1920, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DRIGGS, Edmund Hope, a Representative from New York; born in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 2, 1865; attended the public schools and Adelphi College in Brooklyn; became engaged in the casualty insurance business; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Francis H. Wilson; reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from December 6, 1897, to March 3, 1901; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1900 to the Fifty-seventh Congress; resumed the casualty insurance business and also engaged in safety engineering; is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DRIGGS, John Fletcher, a Representative from Michigan; born in Kinderhook, N. Y., March 8, 1813; completed preparatory studies; moved with his parents to Tarrytown, N. Y., in 1825; moved to New York City in 1827; was apprenticed to learn the trade of sash, door, and blind manufacturing in 1829; journeyman for two years; commenced business as a master mechanic and continued in it until 1856; superintendent of the New York penitentiary and public institutions on Blackwells Island in 1844; moved to Michigan in 1856; engaged in the real-estate business and salt manufacturing; president of the Common Council of East Saginaw, Mich., in 1858; member of the State house of representatives in 1859 and 1860; was tendered an appointment as colonel during the Civil War; organized the Twenty-ninth Michigan Infantry July 29, 1864, which was mustered into service October 3, 1864; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for election in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; one of the committee appointed to accompany the body of President Lincoln to Springfield, Ill., for interment; injured by a fall on the ice in the winter of 1875-76, as a result of which he died in East Saginaw, Mich., December 17, 1877; interment in Brady Hill Cemetery, Saginaw, Mich.; reinterment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

DRISCOLL, Daniel Angelus, a Representative from New York; born in Buffalo, N. Y., March 6, 1875; attended the public schools; engaged in the undertaking business with his father and also in other business enterprises; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first, Sixty-second, Sixty-third, and Sixty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1917); retired to private life and resides in Buffalo, N. Y.

DRISCOLL, Michael Edward, a Representative from New York; born in Syracuse, N. Y., February 9, 1851; moved with his parents to the town of Camillus, Onondaga County, in 1852; attended the district schools, Monro Collegiate Institute, in Elbridge, Onondaga County, and was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1877; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in Syracuse, N. Y., the same year; appointed one of five commissioners to draft a uniform charter for second-class cities in the State; appointed attorney for the State superintendent of insurance in 1906; member of the Taft party that visited the Philippine Islands and oriental countries in 1905; chairman of the Republican State convention in 1906; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1918); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; engaged in the practice of law, traveling, and lecturing on his travels, and is a resident of Syracuse, N. Y.

DRIVER, William Joshua, a Representative from Arkansas; born near Osceola, Mississippi County, Ark., March 2, 1873; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1894, and commenced practice in Osceola, Ark.; member of the State house of representatives 1897-1899; judge of the second judicial circuit of Arkansas 1911-1918; member of the State constitutional convention in 1918; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

DROMGOOLE, George Coke, a Representative from Virginia; born in Lawrenceville, Brunswick County, Va., May 15, 1797; completed preparatory studies; studied law and was admitted to the bar and practiced; member of the State house of representatives 1823-1826; member of the State senate 1826-1835; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1829; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1841); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1840; elected to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1843, until his death on his estate in Brunswick County, Va., April 27, 1847; interment in the family burying ground south of the Meherrin River.

DRUKKER, Dow Henry, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Sneek, Holland, February 7, 1872; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Grand Rapids, Mich., the same year; attended the public schools of Grand Rapids, Mich.; moved to New Jersey in 1897 and settled in Passaic; engaged in building operations; member of the Passaic County Board of Chosen Freeholders 1906-1913, and served as director of the board 1908-1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert Gunn Bremner; reelected to the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Congresses, and served from April 7, 1914, to March 3, 1919; was not a candidate for renomination in 1918; resumed his former business pursuits and is also interested in banking, manufacturing, and publishing; resides in Passaic, N. J.

DRUM, Augustus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Greensburg, Pa., November 26, 1815; received private instruction at home and then attended Greensburg Academy; was graduated from Jefferson College (now Washington and Jefferson), Canonsburg, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Greensburg; member of the State senate in 1852 and 1853; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pa., and died there September 15, 1858; interment in St. Clair Cemetery.

DRYDEN, John Fairfield, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Temple, Franklin County, Me., August 7, 1830; moved to Massachusetts in 1846 with his parents, who settled in Worcester; attended Worcester High School and Yale College; made a special study of life insurance, and in 1875, in Newark,

N. J., founded the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, becoming its first secretary and in 1881 its president, and served in the latter position until 1911; one of the founders of the Fidelity Trust Co.; identified with the management of various street railways, the establishment of banks, and other financial enterprises in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of McKinley and Hobart in 1896 and of McKinley and Roosevelt in 1900; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William J. Sewell, and served from January 29, 1902, to March 3, 1907; was a candidate for reelection, but withdrew because of a deadlock in the legislature; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Newark, N. J., November 24, 1911; interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

DUANE, James, a Delegate from New York; born in New York City February 6, 1733; completed preparatory studies; studied law, and was admitted to the bar August 3, 1754; clerk of the chancery court in 1762; attorney general of New York in 1767; boundary commissioner in 1768 and 1784; State Indian commissioner in 1774; delegate to the provincial convention in 1775; member of the Revolutionary Committee of One Hundred in 1775; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1784; member of the Provincial Congress in 1776 and 1777; served in the State senate 1782-1785 and 1788-1790; chosen a member of the Annapolis Commercial Convention in 1786, but did not attend; mayor of New York City 1784-1789; delegate to the State convention which ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; United States district judge for the district of New York 1789-1794; died in Duaneburg, Schenectady County, N. Y., February 1, 1797; interment under Christ Church.

DUBOIS, Fred Thomas, a Delegate and a Senator from Idaho; born in Crawford County, Ill., May 29, 1851; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Yale College in 1872; secretary of the Board of Railway and Warehouse Commissioners of Illinois 1875 and 1876; moved to Idaho Territory in 1880 and engaged in business; United States marshal of Idaho from August 25, 1882, until September 1, 1886; elected as a Republican a Delegate from the Territory of Idaho to the Fiftieth and Fifty-first Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, to July 3, 1890, having assisted in securing the admission of the Territory of Idaho to the Union on that date; chairman of the first delegation from the new State to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1891, to March 3, 1897; unsuccessful Silver Republican candidate for reelection to the United States Senate in 1896; chairman of the Republican delegation from Idaho to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896, but left the convention and the party when they declared for the single gold standard; elected as a Silver Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1901, to March 3, 1907; after retirement from Congress took up his residence in Washington, D. C., retaining Blackfoot, Idaho, as his legal residence; civilian member of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications 1918-1920; appointed by President Coolidge on July 15, 1924, as a Democratic member of the International Joint Commission created to prevent disputes regarding the use of the boundary waters between the United States and Canada, in which capacity he is now serving, and is located in Washington, D. C.

DU BOSE, Dudley McIver, a Representative from Georgia; born in Shelby County, Tenn., October 28, 1834; attended the University of Mississippi at Oxford, and was graduated from the Lebanon (Tenn.) Law School in 1856; was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced the practice of law in Memphis, Tenn.; moved to Augusta, Ga., in 1860; served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War as colonel of the Fifteenth Regiment Georgia Volunteer Infantry and subsequently became brigadier general in the Western Army; moved to Washington, Wilkes County, Ga.; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); resumed the practice of law; died in Washington, Ga., March 2, 1883; interment in Rest Haven Cemetery.

DUDLEY, Charles Edward, a Senator from New York; born in Johnston Hall, Staffordshire, England, May 23, 1790; emigrated to the United States with his mother, who settled in Newport, R. I., in 1794; entered a counting room as clerk; moved to Albany, N. Y., where he engaged in the mercantile business; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Monroe and Tompkins in 1816; member of the State senate 1820-1825; mayor of Albany 1821-1824, 1828, and 1829; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Martin Van Buren, and served from January 15, 1829, to March 3, 1833; became interested in astronomical science; died in Albany, N. Y., January 23, 1841; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

DUDLEY, Edward Bishop, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Jacksonville, Onslow County, N. C., December 15, 1709; attended the local academy; member of the State house of commons 1811 and 1813; served in the State senate in 1814; during the War of 1812, as lieutenant colonel of the Onslow Regiment of Volunteers, he was stationed at Wilmington, N. C., to defend that region from an expected attack by Admiral Cockburn; member of the State house of commons from Wilmington in 1816 and 1817; elected as a National Republican to the Twenty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gabriel Holmes, and served from November 10, 1829, to March 3, 1831; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1830; again a member of the State house of commons in 1834 and 1835; organized the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Co. and was its first president; Governor of North Carolina 1837-1841, being the first governor elected by popular vote instead of by the legislature; resumed his former railroad pursuits; died in Wilmington, N. C., October 30, 1855; interment in Oak Dale Cemetery.

DUELL, Robert Holland, a Representative from New York; born in Warren, Herkimer County, N. Y., December 20, 1824; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in Fabius, N. Y.; moved to Cortland, N. Y., in 1847; district attorney of Cortland County 1850-1855; judge of Cortland County 1855-1859; assessor of internal revenue for the twenty-third district of New York from 1869 to 1871; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); resumed the practice of law in Cortland; elected to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); appointed by President Grant United States Commissioner of Patents on October 1, 1875, and served until January 30, 1877; resumed the practice of law in Cortland, N. Y., where he died February 11, 1891; interment in the Cortland Rural Cemetery.

DUER, William, a Delegate from New York; born in Devonshire, England, March 18, 1747; completed preparatory studies and attended Eton College (England); in 1765 became aide-de-camp to Lord Clive, Governor General of India; emigrated to America in 1768 and settled in Fort Miller, Washington County, N. Y.; appointed justice of the peace, by royal authority, on July 1, 1773; first judge of Charlotte (now Washington) County; built the first saw and grist mills at Fort Miller, and later erected a snuff mill and a powder mill; was prominent in ante-Revolutionary movements; member of the Provincial Congress in 1776 and 1777; served in the State senate in 1777; appointed judge of the court of common pleas in 1777 and reappointed in 1778; moved to Fluskill, N. Y., and later to what is now Paterson, N. J., where he erected the first cotton mill; also built a cotton mill in Westchester County, N. Y.; Member of the Continental Congress in 1777 and 1778; moved to New York City in 1783; member of the State assembly in 1786; assisted Alexander Hamilton in organizing the United States Treasury Department in 1789 and 1790; died in New York City April 18, 1799; interment in the family vault under the old church of St. Thomas; reinterment in Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y.

DUER, William (grandson of the preceding), a Representative from New York; born in New York City May 25, 1805; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Columbia College, New York City, in 1824; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Oswego, N. Y., in 1828; unsuccessful candidate for the State assembly in 1832; returned to New York City, and then, in 1833, moved to New Orleans, La., where he continued the practice of law; returned to Oswego, N. Y., in 1835; member of the New York State Assembly in 1840 and 1841; district attorney of Oswego County 1845-1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); appointed by President Fillmore United States consul to Valparaiso, Chile, on March 18, 1851, and served until May 23, 1853; on his return to the United States settled in San Francisco, Calif., in 1854 and practiced his profession; served as clerk of San Francisco County in 1858 and 1859; returned to Staten Island, N. Y., in 1859, and lived in retirement until his death in New Brighton, Richmond County, N. Y., August 25, 1870; interment in Silver Mount Cemetery, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y.

DUGRO, Philip Henry, a Representative from New York; born in New York City October 3, 1855; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the school of arts of Columbia College, New York City, in 1876 and from the law department of the same institution in 1878; was admitted to the bar in the latter year and commenced practice in New York City; member of the State assembly in 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); was not a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law in New York City and also interested in the real-estate business; declined the office of State commissioner of Immigration in 1885; judge of the superior court of New York County from 1887 to 1896, when the superior court was merged into the supreme court; associate justice of the Supreme Court of New York 1896-1901; reelected in 1901 and again in 1915, and served until his death in New York City March 1, 1920; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

DUKE, Richard Thomas Walker, a Representative from Virginia; born near Charlottesville, Albemarle County, Va., June 6, 1822; attended private schools; was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va., in 1844; was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., in 1850; elected Commonwealth attorney for the county of Albemarle in 1858 and continued in that office until 1869; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army; became colonel of the Forty-sixth Regiment Virginia Infantry; was captured at Sailors Creek, Va., and confined in Johnsons Island Prison, Lake Erie, until July, 1865; elected as a Conservative to the Forty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert Ridgway; reelected to the Forty-second Congress, and served from November 8, 1870, to March 3, 1873; member of the State house of delegates in 1879 and 1880; died on his estate, "Sunny Side," near Charlottesville, Albemarle County, Va., July 2, 1898; interment in Maplewood Cemetery, Charlottesville, Va.

DUMONT, Ebenezer, a Representative from Indiana; born in Vevay, Ind., November 23, 1814; pursued classical studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Vevay; member of the State house of representatives in 1838; treasurer of Vevay 1839-1845; lieutenant colonel of Volunteers in the Mexican War; member of the State house of representatives in 1850 and 1853; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Pierce and King in 1852; colonel of the Seventh Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War; promoted to brigadier general of Volunteers September 3, 1861, and served until February 28, 1863, when he resigned; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; appointed by President Grant Governor of Idaho Territory, but died in Indianapolis, Ind., April 16, 1871, before taking the oath of office; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

DUNBAR, James Whitson, a Representative from Indiana; born in New Albany, Floyd County, Ind., October 17, 1860; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the New Albany High School in 1878; engaged in mercantile pursuits; manager of public utilities in New Albany and Jeffersonville; secretary-treasurer of the Western Gas Association 1894-1900; secretary of the American Gas Institute 1900-1909; president of the Indiana Gas Association 1908-1910; secretary of Indiana Gas Association 1914-1919; elected a presidential elector from the State at large on the Republican ticket of Hughes and Fairbanks in 1916; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for reelection in 1922; resumed his former business pursuits; is a resident of New Albany, Ind.

DUNBAR, William, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Virginia; completed preparatory studies; moved to Alexandria, Va., and engaged in the practice of law in the early thirties; moved to Louisiana in 1852; appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of Louisiana to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Preston and served from September 1, 1852, to May 4, 1853; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); retired to his sugar plantation in the parish of St. Bernard and resided there until his death in 1860.

DUNCAN, Alexander, a Representative from Ohio; born in Bottle Hill (now Madison), Morris County, N. J., in 1788; studied and practiced medicine; moved to Ohio and settled in Cincinnati; member of the State house of representatives 1828, 1829, 1831, and 1832; served in the State senate 1832-1834; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful Whig candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); was not a candidate in 1844 for reelection to the Twenty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Madisonville (now a part of Cincinnati), Hamilton County, Ohio, March 23, 1853; interment in Laure Cemetery.

DUNCAN, Daniel, a Representative from Ohio; born in Shippensburg, Pa., July 22, 1806; completed preparatory studies; attended Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1825; moved to Newark, Ohio, in 1828; engaged in mercantile pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1843; unsuccessful Whig candidate for election to the State senate in 1844, elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848 to the Thirty-first Congress; died in Washington, D. C., May 18, 1819; interment in the Newark Graveyard, Newark, Ohio.

DUNCAN, James, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1756; attended the common schools and Princeton College; first prothonotary of Adams County; during the Revolutionary War was appointed on November 3, 1776, a lieutenant in Colonel Hazen's regiment, and on March 25, 1778, was promoted to captain; elected to the Seventeenth Congress, but resigned before Congress assembled; died in Mercer County, Pa., June 24, 1844.

DUNCAN, James Henry, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Haverhill, Mass., December 5, 1793; attended Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Harvard University in 1812; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1815, and commenced practice in Haverhill; an active militia officer, and attained the rank of colonel; president of the Essex Agricultural Society; member of the State house of representatives in 1827, 1837, 1838, and again in 1857; served in the State senate 1828-1831; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Harrisburg, Pa., in 1839; appointed commissioner in bankruptcy in 1841; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); engaged in the real-estate business; died in Haverhill, Essex County, Mass., February 8, 1869; interment in the Linwood Cemetery.

DUNCAN, Joseph, a Representative from Illinois; born in Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., February 22, 1794; pursued classical studies; during the War of 1812 was commissioned ensign in the Seventeenth Infantry March 12, 1812; second lieutenant March 13, 1813; first lieutenant in the Forty-Sixth Infantry July 16, 1814; transferred to the Seventeenth Infantry July 16, 1814; honorably discharged June 15, 1815; received, by resolution of Congress, February 13, 1835, the testimonial of a sword for being engaged in the defense of Fort Stephenson, Ohio; moved to Illinois in 1818 and settled in Kaskaskia, later in Jackson County; engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace in Jackson County 1821-1823; appointed major general of State militia in 1822 and commanded Illinois troops in the Black Hawk War in 1831; member of the State senate 1824-1826; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1827, until September 21, 1834, when he resigned, having been elected Governor of Illinois; moved to Jacksonville, Ill., in 1829; Governor of Illinois 1834-1838; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1842; lived in retirement until his death in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Ill., January 15, 1844; interment in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

DUNCAN, William Addison, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cashtown, Franklin Township, Adams County, Pa., February 2, 1836; attended the public schools; was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, in 1857; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Gettysburg, Pa.; elected district attorney in 1862 and 1868; served as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress, and elected from March 4, 1883, until his death; had been reelected to the Forty-ninth Congress; died in Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., November 14, 1884; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DUNCAN, (William) Garnett, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Louisville, Ky., March 2, 1800; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and commenced practice in Louisville; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1848; moved to Louisiana and settled in New Orleans in 1850, where he continued the practice of law; retired from active law practice in 1860 and traveled in Europe; resided for a while in Paris, France; returned to the United States in 1875 and resided with his son in Louisville, Ky., until his death in that city on May 25, 1875; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery.

DUNCAN, Irvine, a Representative from Ohio; born in Canonsburg, Washington County, Pa., May 29, 1844; attended the common schools; received an academic education at Denmark Academy and Washington College, both in Iowa; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1868, and commenced practice in Jackson, Jackson County, Ohio; during the Civil War served as color sergeant in the Nineteenth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry; was captured and confined ten months in a military prison; superintendent of schools of Jackson, Ohio, and city and county school examiner in 1867 and 1868; mayor of Jackson in 1869; member of the State senate 1877-1879; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; delegate to many State conventions; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress; attorney in the Interior Department 1893-1895; returned to Jackson, Ohio, and resumed the practice of law; elected city solicitor in 1913; is engaged in the practice of his profession.

DUNHAM, Cyrus Livingston, a Representative from Indiana; born in Dryden, Tompkins County, N. Y., January 16, 1817; attended the common schools; taught school; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Salem, Washington County, Ind., in 1841 and commenced practice; elected prosecuting attorney of Washington County in 1845; member of the State house of representatives in 1846 and 1847; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cass and Butler in 1848; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; appointed by Governor Willard secretary of state, and served in 1859 and 1860; served in the Union Army during the Civil War as colonel of the Fiftieth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry 1861-1863; resumed the practice of law in New Albany, Floyd County, Ind.; elected a member of the State house of representatives in 1864 and 1865; moved to Jeffersonville, Ind., in 1871; judge of Clark County criminal court 1871-1874; resumed the practice of law; died in Jeffersonville, Clarke County, Ind., November 21, 1877; interment in Walnut Ridge Cemetery.

DUNHAM, Ransom Williams, a Representative from Illinois; born in Savoy, Berkshire County, Mass., March 21, 1838; attended the common schools and the high school in Springfield, Mass.; engaged as a clerk for a life insurance company 1855-1857; moved to Chicago in 1857; became a grain and provision commission merchant; president of the Board of Trade of Chicago in 1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1889); retired from active business pursuits; died in Springfield, Hampden County, Mass., while en route to attend the centennial celebration of his native town, Savoy, on August 19, 1896; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

DUNLAP, George Washington, a Representative from Kentucky; born at Walnut Hills, near Lexington, Fayette County, Ky., February 22, 1813; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in 1834; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lancaster, Ky.; commissioner of the circuit court 1843-1874; member of the State house of representatives in 1853; elected as a Unionist to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); member of the border State convention in 1861; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1862 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against West H. Humphreys, United States judge for the several districts of Tennessee; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of McClellan and Pendleton in 1864; resumed the practice of law; died in Lancaster, Garrard County, Ky., June 6, 1880; interment in Lancaster Cemetery.

DUNLAP, Robert Pinckney, a Representative from Maine; born in Brunswick, Me., August 17, 1794; educated by private tutors; was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and commenced practice in Brunswick; member of the State house of representatives 1821-1823; president of the board of overseers of Bowdoin College from 1821 until his death; member of the State militia, and was delegated to receive General Lafayette when he visited in Maine in 1824; served in the State senate 1824-1828 and 1831-1833; president of the State senate for four years; executive councillor 1829-1833; Governor of Maine 1834-1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1847); collector of customs in Portland, Me., in 1848 and 1849; postmaster of Brunswick 1853-1857; died in Brunswick, Me., October 20, 1859; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery.

DUNLAP, William Claiborne, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Knoxville, Tenn., February 25, 1798; attended the Ebenezer Academy and Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., 1813-1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Knoxville in 1819; served in the Indian campaign in 1818 and 1819; moved to Bolivar, Hardeman County, Tenn., in 1828; held a commission in the United States Volunteers in 1830; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1837); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1836 to the Twenty-fifth Congress; judge of the Eleventh Circuit Court of Tennessee from 1840 to 1849, when he resigned and resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate in 1851, 1853, and 1857; served in the State house of representatives 1857-1859; died near Memphis, Shelby County, Tenn., November 16, 1872; interment in Elmwood Cemetery, Memphis, Tenn.

DUNN, George Grundy, a Representative from Indiana; born in Washington County, Ky., December 20, 1812; moved to Monroe County, Ind.; completed preparatory studies and attended the Indiana University at Bloomington; moved to Bedford, Lawrence County, Ind., in 1833, where he taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Bedford, Ind.; prosecuting attorney of Lawrence County in 1842; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848; served in the State senate from 1850 until 1852, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); was not a candidate for renomination in 1856; died in Bedford, Ind., September 4, 1857; interment in Green Hill Cemetery.

DUNN, George Hedford, a Representative from Indiana; born in New York City, N. Y., November 15, 1794; moved to Lawrenceburg, Dearborn County, Ind., in 1817; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and commenced practice in Lawrenceburg; member of the State house of representatives in 1828, 1832, and 1833; promoter of the first railway in Indiana; unsuccessful candidate for election to the Twenty-fourth Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; State treasurer 1841-1844; judge of Dearborn County, Ind.; president of the Cincinnati & Indianapolis Railroad at the time of his death in Lawrenceburg, Ind., January 12, 1854; interment in the New Town Cemetery.

DUNN, John Thomas, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Tipperary, Ireland, June 4, 1838; emigrated to the United States with his father, who settled in New Jersey in 1845; owing to the death of his mother when only four years of age he was placed with a farmer for rearing and private tutoring, but being unable to endure the hardship and abuse he ran away at the age of eleven and shipped as a cabin boy on a vessel trading with the West Indies; two years later his older brother took him to Gloucester City, where he became engaged as a bobbin boy in a silk factory; learned iron molding at the age of sixteen and subsequently learned brass turning and silver burnishing and was also apprenticed as a painter; completed elementary studies at home; engaged in business in 1862 and acquired a competency; elected a member of the board of aldermen of Elizabeth in 1878; member of the State house of assembly 1879-1882 and speaker of the house in 1882; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1882, and commenced practice in Elizabeth, N. J.; again elected a member of the city council; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died in Elizabeth, N. J., February 22, 1907; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Newark, N. J.

DUNN, Poindexter, a Representative from Arkansas; born near Raleigh, Wake County, N. C., November 3, 1834; moved with his father to Limestone County, Ala., in 1837; attended the country schools, and was graduated from Jackson College, Columbia, Tenn., in 1854; studied law; moved to St. Francis County, Ark., in 1856; elected to the State house of representatives in 1858; engaged in cotton growing until 1861; served as a captain in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; was admitted to the bar in 1867 and commenced the practice of law in Forrest City, Ark.; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Greeley and Brown in 1872 and of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-sixth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination in 1888; moved to Los Angeles, Calif., in 1888 and continued the practice of law; appointed a special commissioner for the prevention of frauds on the customs revenue, New York City, in 1893; moved to Baton Rouge, La., in 1895 and engaged in the construction of railroads; settled in Texarkana, Bowie County, Tex., in 1905, and died there on October 12, 1914; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery.

DUNN, Thomas B., a Representative from New York; born in Providence, R. I., March 16, 1853; moved with his parents to Rochester, N. Y., in 1858; attended the public schools and the De Graff Military Institute of Rochester; engaged in the manufacture of perfumes and extracts; president of the chamber of commerce in 1905 and 1906; member of the State senate in 1907; chief commissioner for New York to the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition, Jamestown, Va., in 1907; State treasurer in 1908; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1913–March 3, 1923); was not a candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; retired to private life; died in Rochester, N. Y., July 2, 1924; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

DUNN, William McKee, a Representative from Indiana; born in Hanover, Jefferson County, Territory of Indiana, December 12, 1814; attended school in the first schoolhouse in Hanover; was graduated from Indiana State College in 1832 and from Yale College in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and practiced; member of the State house of representatives in 1848; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1850; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as a volunteer aide-de-camp to General McClellan from June 19, 1861, to August, 1861, in the campaign in western Virginia; major and judge advocate of Volunteers, Department of the Missouri, from March 13, 1863, to July 6, 1864; appointed lieutenant colonel and Assistant Judge Advocate General of the United States Army June 22, 1864, and brigadier general and Judge Advocate General December 1, 1875; brevetted brigadier general March 13, 1865, for faithful, meritorious, and distinguished services in his department; retired January 22, 1881; died at his summer residence, "Maplewood," Dunn Loring, Fairfax County, Va., July 24, 1887; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

DUNNELL, Mark Hill, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Buxton, York County, Me., July 2, 1823; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Waterville College (now Colby University), Waterville, Me., in 1849; for five years was principal of Norway and Hebron Academies; member of the Maine House of Representatives in 1854; served in the State senate in 1855; State superintendent of common schools in 1855 and 1857–1859; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Portland, Me., in 1860; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as colonel of the Fifth Regiment Maine Volunteer Infantry May 6, 1861; mustered out August 31, 1861; United States consul at Vera Cruz, Mexico, in 1861 and 1862; trustee of Waterville College for 10 years; declined the appointment as secretary of Montana Territory in 1864; moved to Minnesota and settled in Winona in 1865, and later, in 1867, in Owatonna; member of the Minnesota House of Representatives in 1867; State superintendent of public instruction from April 2, 1867, to August, 1870, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1871–March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for Speaker of the Forty-seventh Congress; was not a candidate for renomination in 1882; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1883; elected to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892 at which Harrison and Reid were nominated; one of the founders and a member of the board of trustees of Pillsbury Academy; died in Owatonna, Steele County, Minn., August 9, 1904; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

DUNPHY, Edward John, a Representative from New York; born in New York City May 12, 1856; attended the public schools and St. Francis Xavier College, New York City; was graduated from Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., in 1876; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in New York City; connected with the law department of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Co.; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for reelection in 1894; continued the practice of law in New York City until his death there on July 29, 1926; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

DUNWELL, Charles Tappan, a Representative from New York; born in Newark, Wayne County, N. Y., February 13, 1852; moved with his parents to Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., in 1854; attended the Lyons Union School; entered Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., in the class of 1873; at the close of his junior year entered Columbia College Law School in the city of New York, and was graduated in 1874; was admitted to the bar in 1874 and commenced practice in New York City; general agent for the New York Life Insurance Co. in 1889; unsuccessful candidate for comptroller of the city of Brooklyn in 1890; member of the New York Republican State committee in 1891 and 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, and Sixtieth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1903, until his death, in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 12, 1908; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DU PONT, Henry Algernon, a Senator from Delaware; born at Eleutheran Mills, New Castle County, Del., July 30, 1838; attended private schools; entered the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia in 1855, where he spent a year in the sophomore and junior classes; was graduated from the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., May 6, 1861; during the Civil War was commissioned second lieutenant, Corps of Engineers; first lieutenant, Fifth Regiment United States Artillery, May 14, 1861; adjutant July 8, 1861, to March 24, 1864; captain March 24, 1864; brevetted major September 19, 1864, "for gallant service at the Battles of Opequan and Fishers Hill, Va.," and lieutenant colonel October 19, 1864, "for distinguished service at the Battle of Cedar Creek, Va.," awarded a medal of honor March 22, 1898, "for gallant conduct" at the last-named battle (October 19, 1904), "while chief of artillery, Army of West Virginia, by his brave bearing, most distinguished gallantry, and voluntary exposure to the enemy's guns at a critical moment, when the Union line had been broken and defeated, he encouraged his men to stand to their guns, checked the advance of the enemy, and brought off the most of his guns"; resigned March 1, 1875; was president and general manager of the Wilmington & Northern Railroad Co. from 1879 to 1899; retired from active business and engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected on June 13, 1900, as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1905, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect; reelected in 1911, and served until March 3, 1917; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916; retired from public life and engaged in literary pursuits; died at Winterthur, near Wilmington, Del., December 31, 1926; interment in the Du Pont Cemetery, Christiana Hundred, New Castle County, Del.

DU PONT, Thomas Coleman, a Senator from Delaware; born in Louisville, Ky., December 11, 1808; attended the public schools, Urbana University, Urbana, Ohio, Chamcy Hall School, Boston, Mass., and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.; engaged in engineering; formerly interested in coal mining, street railways, steel manufacturing, explosives, hotels, office buildings, road building, and various other industries; retired from business activities in 1915; member of the Republican National Committee since 1908 and has the longest continuous service thereon; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Josiah O. Wolcott, and served from July 7, 1921, to November 7, 1922, when a successor was elected; elected to the United States Senate in 1924 for the term commencing March 4, 1925, and ending March 3, 1931.

DUPRÉ, Henry Garland, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Opelousas, St. Landry Parish, La., July 28, 1873; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Tulane University, New Orleans, La., in 1892; was subsequently graduated from the law school of the same university, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New Orleans in 1895; assistant city attorney of New Orleans 1900-1910; member of the State house of representatives 1900-1910 and served as speaker 1908-1910; chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel L. Gillmore; reelected to the Sixty-second and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from November 3, 1910, until his death in Washington, D. C., February 21, 1924; interment in the Catholic Cemetery, Opelousas, La.

DURAND, George Harman, a Representative from Michigan; born in Cobleskill, Schoharie County, N. Y., February 21, 1838; attended the common schools and Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at Lima, N. Y.; moved to Oxford, Oakland County, Mich., in 1856; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice at Flint, Genesee County, Mich., in 1858; member of the board of education; member of the board of aldermen 1862-1867; mayor of Flint in 1873 and 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; appointed temporarily justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan in 1892; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Stevenson in 1892; president of the Michigan State Bar Association in 1893; president of the State board of law examiners for many years; appointed special assistant United States attorney in Chinese and opium smuggling cases in Oregon and served from 1893 to 1896; died in Flint, Mich., June 8, 1908; interment in Glenwood Cemetery.

DURBOROW, Allan Cathcart, Jr., a Representative from Illinois; born in Philadelphia, Pa., November 10, 1857; moved to Indiana with his parents, who settled in Williamsport, Warren County, in 1862; attended the public schools; entered Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., in the fall of 1872; was graduated from Indiana University at Bloomington in 1877; after residing in Indianapolis moved to Chicago in 1880, and in 1887 became business manager of the Western Electrician, a trade magazine; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; engaged in the insurance business; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; died in Chicago, Ill., March 10, 1908; interment in Graceland Cemetery.

DURELL, Daniel Meserve, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Lee, N. H., July 20, 1769; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1794; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1797, and commenced practice in Dover, N. H.; elected to the Tenth Congress (March 4, 1807-March 3, 1809); member of the State house of representatives in 1816; chief justice of the district court of common pleas 1816-1821; United States attorney for the District of New Hampshire 1830-1834; resumed the practice of law; died in Dover, Strafford County, N. H., April 20, 1841; interment in Pine Hill Cemetery.

DUREY, Cyrus, a Representative from New York; born in Caroga, Fulton County, N. Y., May 16, 1804; attended the common schools and Johnstown Academy; was supervisor's clerk; supervisor of Caroga in 1889 and 1890; engaged in the lumber and real-estate business; appointed postmaster of Johnstown on August 19, 1898, and served until February 28, 1907; member of the Republican State committee 1904-1906 elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; appointed on March 20, 1911, collector of internal revenue, fourteenth district of New York, and served until September 30, 1914; reappointed on September 30, 1921, in which capacity he is now serving; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1912 and 1920; is a resident of Caroga, N. Y.

DURFEE, Job, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Tiverton, R. I., September 20, 1790; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1813; studied law, was admitted to the bar at Newport, R. I., in 1817, and commenced practice in Tiverton; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1820; elected as the People's candidate to the Seventeenth Congress and as a Democrat to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1825); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1824 to the Nineteenth Congress and for election in 1828 to the Twenty-first Congress; again a member of the State house of representatives 1826-1829, and served as speaker 1827-1829; declined to be a candidate for reelection; resumed the practice of law; elected associate justice of the State supreme court in 1833; chief justice of the State supreme court from June, 1835, until his death in Tiverton, Newport County, R. I., July 20, 1847; interment in the family burying ground at Quaket Neck, near Tiverton, R. I.

DURFEE, Nathaniel Briggs, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Tiverton, R. I., September 29, 1812; completed preparatory studies; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives for eleven years; elected by the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress and as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); died in Tiverton, Newport County, R. I., November 12, 1872.

DURHAM, Milton Jameson, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Perryville, Mercer County (now Boyle County), Ky., May 10, 1824; attended the common schools; was graduated from Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University, Greencastle, Ind., in 1844; taught school for several years; was graduated from the Louisville (Ky.) Law School in 1850; was admitted to the bar in the same year and commenced practice in Danville, Boyle County, Ky.; circuit judge of the eighth judicial district in 1861 and 1862; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law in Danville, Ky.; appointed First Comptroller of the Treasury of the United States on March 20, 1885, and served until the office was discontinued on April 22, 1889; moved to Lexington, Ky., in 1890 and engaged in banking; appointed deputy clerk, Internal Revenue Service, at Lexington, Ky., in 1901 and served until his death in that city February 12, 1911; interment in Bellevue Cemetery, Danville, Ky.

DURKEE, Charles, a Representative and a Senator from Wisconsin; born in Royalton, Windsor County, Vt., December 10, 1805; attended the common schools and the Burlington (Vt.) Academy; engaged in mercantile pursuits; moved to Wisconsin in 1836 and was one of the founders of Southport, now Kenosha; engaged in agricultural pursuits and lumbering; member of the Territorial legislature 1836-1838 and again elected in 1847 and 1848; elected as a Free-Soiler to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); delegate to the World's Peace Convention in Paris; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1855, to March 3, 1861; appointed Governor of Utah Territory July 15, 1865, and served until failing health compelled him to resign; died in Omaha, Nebr., January 14, 1870; interment in Green Ridge Cemetery, Kenosha, Kenosha County, Wis.

DUVAL, Gabriel, a Representative from Maryland; born in Prince Georges County, Md., December 6, 1752; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; elected as a Democrat to the Third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John F. Mercer; reelected to the Fourth Congress, and served from November 11, 1794, to March 28, 1796, when he resigned; elected judge of the Supreme Court of Maryland; presidential elector in 1796 and 1800; appointed First Comptroller of the Treasury December 15, 1802, and resigned November 18, 1811, having been appointed to a judicial position; appointed by President Madison Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States and served from 1811 until his resignation in 1836 on account of deafness; died near Glenn Dale, in Prince Georges County, Md., March 6, 1844; interment in the private burying ground on his estate.

DUVAL, Isaac Harding, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Wellsburg, Brooke County, Va. (now West Virginia), September 1, 1824; attended the common schools; as a youth he went to Fort Smith, Ark., and joined an elder brother, who was conducting a trading post; became a scout on the western plains; crossed the plains in 1849 for the gold fields of California; was a member of the historic Lopez expedition to Cuba in an attempt to aid the Cubans in gaining national independence; returned to Virginia in 1853 and engaged in mercantile pursuits at Wellsburg; during the Civil War was commissioned major of the First Regiment West Virginia Volunteer Infantry June 1, 1861; promoted to the colonelcy of the Ninth Regiment West Virginia Volunteer Infantry September 6, 1862; promoted to brigadier general October 20, 1864, and subsequently brevetted major general; member of the State senate 1867-1869; adjutant general of West Virginia 1867-1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); declined to be candidate for renomination in 1870; United States assessor of internal revenue in 1871 and 1872; collector of internal revenue for the first district of West Virginia 1872-1884; member of the State house of delegates 1887-1889; died in Wellsburg, Brooke County, W. Va., July 10, 1902; interment in Brooke Cemetery.

DUVAL, William Pope, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Mount Comfort, near Richmond, Va., in 1784; completed preparatory studies; moved to Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar about 1804, and practiced; during the Indian hostilities of 1812 commanded a company of mounted Volunteers; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); resumed the practice of law in Bardstown, Ky.; appointed on May 18, 1821, United States judge, east Florida district; Governor of the Territory of Florida under Presidents Monroe, Adams, and Jackson, serving from April 17, 1822, to 1834; appointed on November 4, 1841, law agent in Florida; moved to Texas in 1848; was the original of "Ralph Ringwood" of Washington Irving and "Nimrod Wildfire" of James K. Paulding; died in Washington, D. C., March 19, 1854; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

DWIGHT, Henry Williams, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Stockbridge, Mass., February 26, 1788; attended Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and commenced practice in Stockbridge; during the War of 1812 served as aide-de-camp with the rank of colonel on the staff of General Whiton; member of the State house of representatives in 1818; elected to the Seventeenth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1831); was not a candidate for renomination in 1830; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1834; interested in the breeding of purebred sheep and cattle; died in New York City February 21, 1845; interment in Stockbridge Cemetery, Stockbridge, Berkshire County, Mass.

DWIGHT, Jeremiah Wilbur (father of John Wilbur Dwight), a Representative from New York; born in Cincinnati, Cortland County, N. Y., April 17, 1819; moved with his parents in 1830 to Caroline, and in 1836 to Dryden, Tompkins County, N. Y.; attended the district schools and the Burban's School in Dryden; engaged in mercantile pursuits, in farming, real-estate business, and in the manufacture and sale of lumber; chairman of the board of supervisors of the town of Dryden in 1857 and 1858; member of the State assembly in 1860 and 1861; appointed by Governor Morgan a member of the senatorial district war committee in 1861; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868, at Philadelphia in 1872, at Cincinnati in 1876, and at Chicago in 1880 and in 1884; director, member of the executive committee, and vice president of the Southern Central Railroad for many years; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1882; resumed former business activities; died in Dryden, Tompkins County, N. Y., November 26, 1885; interment in Green Hills Cemetery.

DWIGHT, John Wilbur (son of Jeremiah Wilbur Dwight), a Representative from New York; born in Dryden, Tompkins County, N. Y., May 24, 1859; attended the public schools and the Dryden High School; pursued further studies at New Haven, Conn., in preparation for entering Yale College, but abandoned this plan to engage in the lumber business at Clinton, Iowa, in 1879; shortly thereafter moved to northern Wisconsin, where he continued in the lumber business and also engaged in farming; returned to Dryden, N. Y., in 1884; upon the death of his father in 1885 became president of the Dwight Farm & Land Co.; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1888, 1904, and 1920, at Minneapolis in 1892, and at Philadelphia in 1900; acquired extensive land holdings in Minnesota and South Dakota; elected as a Republian to the Fifty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Ray; reelected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses, and served from November 2, 1902, to March 3, 1913; retired voluntarily from political life and resided in Washington, D. C.; became president of the Virginia Blue Ridge Railway Co. in 1913, in which capacity he served until his death in Washington, D. C., January 19, 1928; interment in Rock Creek Cemetery.

DWIGHT, Theodore (cousin of Aaron Burr), a Representative from Connecticut; born in Northampton, Mass., December 15, 1764; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1787, and began practice in Haddam, Conn.; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1791 and continued the practice of law; editor of the Hartford Courant and of the Connecticut Mirror; member of the State council 1809-1815; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Cotton Smith, and served from December 1, 1806, to March 3, 1807; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1806; secretary of the Hartford Convention in 1814; moved to Albany, N. Y., in 1815; published the Albany Daily Advertiser 1815-1817; moved to New York City in 1817 and established the New York Daily Advertiser, with which he was connected until the great fire of 1835; returned to Hartford, Conn., and resided there until about three years before his death, when he returned to New York City; died in New York City, June 12, 1840; interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DWIGHT, Thomas, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Springfield, Mass., October 29, 1758; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Harvard College in 1778; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Springfield, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1794 and 1795; served in the State senate 1796-1803; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); selectman of the town of Springfield 1806-1809 and in 1811; member of the governor's council in 1808 and 1809; retired from political life, and engaged in the practice of his profession in Springfield, Hampden County, until his death January 2, 1819; interment in the Old Cemetery; reinterred in Peabody Cemetery.

DWINELL, Justin, a Representative from New York; born in Shaftsbury, Vt., October 28, 1785; attended a local private school and Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.; was graduated from Yale College in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1811, and commenced practice in Cazenovia, N. Y., the same year; member of the State assembly in 1821 and 1822; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); judge of the common pleas court of Madison County, N. Y., 1823-1833; resumed the practice of law; district attorney of Madison County 1837-1845; died in Cazenovia, Madison County, N. Y., September 17, 1850; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DYER, David Patterson (uncle of Leonidas Carstarphen Dyer), a Representative from Missouri; born in Henry County, Va., February 12, 1838; moved with his parents to Lincoln County, Mo., in 1841; completed preparatory studies; studied law in Bowling Green, Pike County, Mo., and was admitted to the bar in March, 1859; elected prosecuting attorney for the third judicial circuit in 1880; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Captain Hardin's company, Pike County Regiment, Missouri Home Guard, June 17, 1861, and was discharged September 2, 1861; commissioned lieutenant colonel of the Forty-ninth Regiment Missouri Volunteer Infantry September 20, 1864; promoted to colonel February 9, 1865, and honorably discharged August 5, 1865; member of the State house of representatives 1862-1865; secretary of the State senate in 1866; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1868 which nominated the presidential ticket of Grant and Colfax; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; resumed the practice of his profession in St. Louis, Mo.; unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1880; appointed by President Roosevelt United States attorney for the eastern district of Missouri, reappointed, and served from March 9, 1902, to March 31, 1907, when he resigned, having been appointed judge; served as United States judge for the eastern district of Missouri from April 1, 1907, to November 3, 1919, when he retired; died in St. Louis, Mo., April 29, 1924; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

DYER, Eliphalet, a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Windham, Conn., September 14, 1721; pursued preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1740; served as town clerk; appointed captain in the militia in 1745; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1746, and commenced practice in Windham; justice of the peace in 1746; elected a deputy to the general assembly in 1747, 1749, 1752, and 1753, and was advanced to the rank of major in the last-named year; was active in the project of establishing a Connecticut colony in the Susquehanna Valley, being an original member of the Susquehanna Co. formed in 1753, and served as a member of the committee to purchase the Indian title to the lands selected for the proposed colony at Wyoming, which were then believed to be within the charter limits of Connecticut; in 1755, during the French and Indian War, was appointed a lieutenant colonel of one of the regiments sent by Connecticut to assist in the reduction of Crown Point, and later, in 1758, was made colonel of a regiment sent against Canada; again a member of the general assembly 1756-1784, serving as deputy from 1756 to 1762 and as assistant from 1762 to 1784; went to England in 1763 to obtain confirmation of the Susquehanna Co.'s title to the Wyoming region, but was unsuccessful; appointed comptroller of the port of New London in 1764; delegate to the Stamp-Act Congress in 1765; judge of the superior court 1766-1793, and served as chief judge from 1789 until 1793; Member of the Continental Congress 1774-1779 and 1780-1783; member of the committee of safety in 1775; retired from public life in 1793; died in Windham, Windham County, Conn., May 13, 1807; interment in Windham Cemetery.

DYER, Leonidas Carstarphen (nephew of David Patterson Dyer), a Representative from Missouri; born near Warrenton, Warren County, Mo., June 11, 1871; attended the common schools, Central Wesleyan College, Warrenton, Mo., and Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1892, and commenced practice at St. Louis, Mo.; served in the Spanish-American War on the staff of Governor Hadley of Missouri, with the rank of colonel; commander in chief of the Spanish War Veterans in 1915 and 1918; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Sixty-third Congress, and served from March 4, 1913, to June 19, 1914, when he was succeeded by Michael J. Gill, who contested his election; elected to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

EAGAN, John Joseph, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Hoboken, N. J., January 22, 1872; was graduated from public, parochial, and private schools; founder and president of the Eagan Schools of Business in Hoboken, Union Hill, and Hackensack, N. J., and of Brooklyn, N. Y.; first vice president of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Trust Co.; collector of taxes of Union, N. J., 1896-1899; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); delegate to the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco in 1920; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; elected to the Sixty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1924; resumed his former business pursuits, and is a resident of Weehawken, N. J.

EAGER, Samuel Watkins, a Representative from New York; born in Neelytown, Orange County, N. Y., April 8, 1789; attended Montgomery Academy, Montgomery, N. Y., and was graduated from Princeton College in 1809; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1811, and commenced practice in Newburgh, N. Y.; moved to Montgomery, N. Y., in 1826, and continued the practice of his profession; elected as a Republican to the Twenty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hector Craig, and served from November 2, 1830, to March 3, 1831; was not a candidate at the election held the same day for the Twenty-second Congress; returned to Newburgh in 1836 and engaged in literary pursuits; died in Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y., December 23, 1860; interment in St. George Cemetery.

EAGLE, Joe Henry, a Representative from Texas; born in Tompkinsville, Monroe County, Ky., January 23, 1870; was graduated from the local high school in 1883 and obtained a first-grade teacher's certificate in 1884; was also graduated from Burrill College, Spencer, Tenn., in 1887; moved to Texas; taught school 1887-1893, and served as superintendent of the city schools of Vernon, Tex., 1889-1891; studied law at night and during vacations, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Wichita Falls, Tex.; city attorney of Wichita Falls in 1894 and 1895; moved to Houston in 1895 and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1920; resumed the practice of his profession and is a resident of Houston, Tex.

EAMES, Benjamin Tucker, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Dedham, Norfolk County, Mass., June 4, 1818; attended the common schools of Providence, R. I., and some of the leading academies of Massachusetts and Connecticut; employed as a bookkeeper for several years; was graduated from Yale College in 1843; engaged as a teacher in the academy at North Attleboro, studying law at the same time; was admitted to the bar in 1845 and commenced practice in Providence, R. I.; recording and reading clerk of the State house of representatives 1845-1850; member of the State senate 1854-1857, 1863, and again in 1884; one of the commissioners on the revision of the public laws of the State of Rhode Island in 1857; served in the State house of representatives in 1859, 1860, 1868, and 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination; again a member of the State house of representatives 1879-1881; again served in the State senate in 1884 and 1885; died in East Greenwich, R. I., October 6, 1901; interment in Swan Point Cemetery, Providence, R. I.

EARLE, Elias (uncle of Samuel Earle and John Baylis Earle and great-grandfather of John Laurens Manning Irby and Joseph Haynsworth Earle), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Frederick County, Va., June 19, 1762; attended private school; moved to Greenville County, S. C., in September, 1787; was one of the earliest ironmasters of the South, and prospected and negotiated in the iron region of Georgia; member of the State senate in 1800; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807); elected to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1815); again elected to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); died in Centerville, S. C., May 19, 1823; interment in the Old Earle Cemetery, Buncombe Road, Greenville, S. C.

EARLE, John Baylis (nephew of Elias Earle and cousin of Samuel Earle), a Representative from South Carolina; born on the North Carolina side of the North Pacolet River, near Landrum, Spartanburg County, S. C., October 23, 1766; moved to South Carolina; completed preparatory studies; served as a drummer boy and soldier during the Revolutionary War; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected to the Eighth Congress (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1805); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1804; resumed agricultural pursuits; adjutant and inspector general of South Carolina for sixteen years; served throughout the War of 1812; member of the nullification convention of 1832 and 1833; died in Anderson County, S. C., February 3, 1863; interment in the cemetery on his plantation, "Silver Glade," in Anderson County, S. C.

EARLE, Joseph Haynsworth (great-grandson of Elias Earle, cousin of John Laurens Manning Irby, and nephew of William Lowndes Yancey), a Senator from South Carolina; born in Greenville, Greenville County, S. C., April 30, 1847; was left an orphan at an early age and was reared by his aunt at "Engleside," Sumter County; attended private schools in Sumter, S. C.; at the outbreak of the Civil War enlisted in the service of the Confederate Army at the age of fifteen years; at the close of the war returned home, and was graduated from Furman University, Greenville, S. C., in 1867; engaged in teaching for two years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice in Anderson, S. C.; returned to Sumter, S. C., in 1875; continued the practice of law and also interested in the logging business and in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1878-1882; served in the State senate 1882-1886; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880 and at Chicago in 1884; attorney general of South Carolina 1886-1890; declined the nomination for governor in 1888; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1890; returned to Greenville in 1892; elected circuit judge in 1894; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Greenville, S. C., May 20, 1897; interment in Christ Churchyard.

EARLE, Samuel (nephew of Elias Earle and cousin of John Baylis Earle), a Representative from South Carolina; born in Frederick County, Va., November 28, 1760; moved to South Carolina in 1774; participated in the Revolutionary War, entering the service as an ensign in 1777 and leaving as captain of a company of rangers in 1782; member of the State house of representatives 1784-1788; delegate to the State convention that ratified the Federal Constitution May 12, 1788; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1790; elected to the Fourth Congress (March 4, 1795-March 3, 1797); died in Pendleton District, S. C., November 24, 1838; interment in Beaverdam Cemetery, Oconee County, S. C.

EARLL, Jonas, jr. (cousin of Nehemiah Hezekiah Earll), a Representative from New York; born in 1786; resided in Onondaga County, N. Y., and attended the common schools; sheriff of Onondaga County 1815-1819; member of the State assembly in 1820 and 1821; served in the State senate from January, 1823, to January, 1827; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth and Twenty-first Congresses (March 4, 1827-March 3, 1831); elected a canal commissioner, and served from January, 1832, to February, 1840; postmaster of Syracuse, N. Y., from June 26, 1840, until March 10, 1842; again elected a canal commissioner and served from February 8, 1842, until his death in Syracuse, N. Y., October 28, 1846; interment in Walnut Grove Cemetery, Onondaga Hill, Onondaga County, N. Y.

EARLL, Nehemiah Hezekiah (cousin of Jonas Earll, jr.), a Representative from New York; born in Whitehall, Washington County, N. Y., October 5, 1787; moved with his parents to Onondaga Valley in 1793; nine months later moved to Onondaga County and resided in Skaneateles until 1804; attended the public schools and Fairfield Academy for two years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1809, and commenced practice in Salina (which in 1848 became a part of Syracuse), Onondaga County; adjutant in the Army during the War of 1812 at Oswego; resumed the practice of law at Onondaga Hill, N. Y., in 1814; postmaster of Onondaga Hill in 1816; justice of the peace 1816-1820; master in chancery for six years; appointed first judge of Onondaga County, and served from 1823 until his resignation in 1831; superintendent of the Onondaga Salt Springs 1831-1836, with residence in Syracuse, N. Y.; resigned, and engaged in the milling business in Jordan; moved to Syracuse, N. Y., in 1838; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1840 to the Twenty-seventh Congress; retired to private life, being blind for many years; died in Mottville, Onondaga County, N. Y., August 26, 1872; interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Syracuse, N. Y.

EARLY, Peter, a Representative from Georgia; born near Madison, Madison County, Va., June 20, 1773; attended the Lexington Academy (now Washington College) in Rockbridge County; was graduated from Princeton College in 1792; studied law in Philadelphia, Pa., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Wilkes County, Ga., in 1796; moved to Greene County in 1801 and continued the practice of law; elected to the Seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Milledge; reelected to the Eighth and Ninth Congresses, and served from January 10, 1803, to March 3, 1807; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in January, 1804, to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire, and in December of the same year against Samuel Chase, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; declined to be a candidate for reelection; first judge of the superior court of the Ocmulgee circuit 1807-1813; Governor of Georgia 1813-1815; elected to the State senate in 1815, and served until his death near Scull Shoals, Greene County, Ga., August 15, 1817; interment on the west bank of the Oconee River near his mansion; reinterment in the City Cemetery, Greensboro, Ga.

EARNSHAW, Manuel, a Resident Commissioner from the Philippine Islands; born in Cavite, P. I., November 19, 1862; attended the Ateneo de Manila, Manila, P. I., and the Nauti School, Manila, P. I.; became engaged in engineering and the dry-docking business in 1884; founder, president, and general manager of the Earnshaw Shipways & Engineering Co.; elected as an Independent candidate a Resident Commissioner to the United States, and served from March 4, 1913, to March 3, 1917; discontinued his former business pursuits in 1921 and is living in retirement with residence in Cavite, P. I.

EASTMAN, Ben C., a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Strong, Me., October 24, 1812; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and practiced in Green Bay, Wis.; moved to Platteville, Wis., the same year and continued the practice of law; secretary of the Legislative Council of Wisconsin Territory 1843-1846; district attorney of Grant County; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1854; resumed the practice of law; died in Platteville, Grant County, Wis., February 2, 1856; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, Madison, Wis.

EASTMAN, Ira Allen (nephew of Nehemiah Eastman), a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Gilmanton, N. H., January 1, 1800; attended the local school, was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1820; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1832, and commenced practice in Troy, N. H.; returned to Gilmanton in 1834 and continued the practice of law; clerk of the State house of representatives in 1835; member of the State house of representatives 1836-1838, and served as speaker in 1837 and 1838; register of probate from 1836 to 1839, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; judge of the court of common pleas 1844-1849; associate judge of the supreme court 1849-1855; judge of the superior judicial court from 1855 to 1859, when he retired; chosen trustee of Dartmouth College in 1859; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1863 and for United States Senator in 1866; resumed the practice of law in Concord and Manchester; died in Manchester, N. H., March 21, 1881; interment in the Valley Cemetery.

EASTMAN, Nehemiah (uncle of Ira Allen Eastman), a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Gilmanton, Belknap County, N. H., June 16, 1782; attended the local academy in Gilmanton; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and commenced practice in Farmington, N. H.; member of the State house of representatives in 1813; served in the State senate 1820-1825; elected as a Democrat to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1827); resumed the practice of law; died in Farmington, Strafford County, N. H., January 11, 1856; interment in the Farmington Cemetery.

EASTON, Rufus, a Delegate from the Territory of Missouri; born in Litchfield, Conn., May 4, 1774; completed an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Rome, N. Y.; started west and settled in Vincennes, Ind., in 1804; moved to St. Louis, Mo. (then the District of Louisiana), and was appointed judge of the District of Louisiana in 1805; appointed the first postmaster of St. Louis, and served from January 1, 1805, to January 1, 1815; elected as a Democrat a Delegate from the Territory of Missouri on September 17, 1814, and served until August 5, 1816; unsuccessfully contested the election of John Scott for the succeeding term; upon the organization of the State government in 1821 was appointed attorney general and served until 1826; engaged in the practice of law and in the real-estate business; died in St. Charles, St. Charles County, Mo., July 5, 1884; interment in Lindenwood College Cemetery.

EATON, Charles Aubrey, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Nova Scotia March 29, 1898; attended the public schools; was graduated from Acadia University, Nova Scotia, in 1890 and from Newton Theological Institution, Newton Center, Mass., in 1893; pastor of the First Baptist Church, Natick, Mass., 1892-1895, of the Bloor Street Church, Toronto, Canada, 1895-1901, and of the Euclid Avenue Church, Cleveland, Ohio, 1901-1909; moved to Watchung, Somerset County, N. J., in 1909; pastor of the Madison Avenue Church, New York City, 1909-1919; sociological editor of the Toronto Globe, Toronto, Canada, 1896-1901; associate editor, Westminster, Toronto, Canada, 1899-1901; was head of the national service section of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation from November, 1917, to January, 1919; editor of Leslie's Weekly in 1919 and 1920; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

EATON, John Henry, a Senator from Tennessee; born near Scotland Neck, Halifax County, N. C., June 18, 1790; attended the common schools and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1803 and 1804; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Franklin, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives in 1815 and 1816; appointed in 1818 and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Campbell, and served from September 5, 1818, to March 3, 1821; reelected in September, 1821, and again in 1826, and served from September 27, 1821, until March 9, 1829, when he resigned to accept a Cabinet position; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Jackson, and served from March 9, 1829, to June 18, 1831, when he resigned; Governor of the Territory of Florida 1834-1836; envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Madrid, Spain, 1836-1840; declined to support Van Buren for President in 1840; died in Washington, D. C., November 17, 1856; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

EATON, Lewis, a Representative from New York; born in that State; sheriff of Schenectady County in 1821 and 1822; resided in Duaneburg; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); member of the State senate 1829-1832.

EATON, William Wallace, a Senator and a Representative from Connecticut; born in Tolland, Conn., October 11, 1810; educated in the schools of his native town, supplemented by private instruction; moved to Columbia, S. C., and engaged in mercantile pursuits for four years; returned to Tolland, Conn.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1837, and commenced practice in Tolland; clerk of courts of Tolland County in 1840 and 1847; member of the State house of representatives in 1847, 1848, 1853, 1863, 1868, 1870, 1871, 1873, and 1874; served as speaker in 1853 and 1873; served in the State senate in 1850; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1851; clerk of courts of Hartford County in 1851 and 1854; city attorney in 1857 and 1858; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for United States Senator in 1860; chief judge of the city court of Hartford 1863, 1864, and 1867-1872; appointed and subsequently elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William A. Buckingham, and served from February 5, 1875, to March 3, 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Hartford, Hartford County, Conn., September 21, 1898; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

ECHOLS, Leonard Sidney, a Representative from West Virginia; born in Madison, Boone County, W. Va., October 30, 1871; attended the public schools; was graduated from the commercial department of the University of Kentucky at Lexington in 1894, from the Concord State Normal School, Athens, W. Va., in 1898, and from the law department of the Southern Normal University, Huntingdon, Tenn., in 1900; was admitted to the bar in 1900, and commenced practice in Point Pleasant, W. Va., in 1903; prosecuting attorney of Mason County 1904-1909; assistant State tax commissioner for West Virginia 1909-1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress and for election in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; member of the committee on appeals and review of the United States Treasury Department from May 1, 1923, to September 15, 1924; delegate to the Republican State convention in 1924; appointed postmaster at Charleston, W. Va., March 1, 1925, in which capacity he is now serving.

ECKERT, George Nicholas, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Womelsdorf, Berks County, Pa., July 4, 1802; was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1824 and commenced practice in Reading, Pa.; one of the organizers of Berks County Medical Society in 1824; moved to Pine Grove, Schuylkill County, Pa., and engaged in the coal and iron trade; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); appointed Director of the United States Mint at Philadelphia by President Fillmore and served from June, 1851, to June 6, 1853; died in Philadelphia, Pa., June 28, 1865; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

ECKLEY, Ephraim Ralph, a Representative from Ohio; born near Mt. Pleasant, Jefferson County, Ohio, December 9, 1811; moved with his parents to Hayesville, Ohio, in 1816; attended the common schools and was graduated from Vermillion Institute, Hayesville, Ohio; moved to Carrollton, Carroll County, Ohio, in 1833, and taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Carrollton; member of the State senate 1843-1846, 1849, and 1860; unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio in 1851; served in the State house of representatives 1853-1857; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1853 to the United States Senate; delegate to the first Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as colonel of the Twenty-sixth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry and also of the Eighteenth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; brevetted brigadier general "for gallant and meritorious services"; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1869); was not a candidate for renomination in 1868; resumed the practice of law in Carrollton, Carroll County, Ohio, where he died March 27, 1908; interment in Grand View Cemetery.

EDDY, Frank Marion, a Representative from Minnesota; born in Pleasant Grove, Olmsted County, Minn., April 1, 1856; attended the common schools; taught school in rural district; employed by the Northern Pacific Railroad Co. as a land examiner in 1881 and 1882; clerk of the district court of Pope County in 1884; was the first Representative from Minnesota who was a native of that State; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1903); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1902; member of the Minnesota Immigration Bureau in 1916; became engaged in journalism in St. Paul; employed as a clerk in the office of the secretary of state of Minnesota in 1818, in which capacity he is now serving; is a resident of St. Paul, Minn.

EDDY, Norman, a Representative from Indiana; born in Scipio, N. Y., December 10, 1810; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1835; moved to Indiana, settled in Mishawaka, and practiced medicine until 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1847, and commenced practice in South Bend, Ind.; member of the State senate in 1850; held several local offices; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; appointed by President Pierce attorney general of the Territory of Minnesota in 1855; colonel of the Forty-eighth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War; collector of internal revenue 1865-1870; secretary of state of Indiana 1870-1872; died in Indianapolis, Ind., January 28, 1872; interment in the City Cemetery, South Bend, Ind.

EDDY, Samuel, a Representative from Rhode Island; born in Johnston, near Providence, R. I., March 31, 1769; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1787; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1790, and practiced a short time in Providence; clerk of the Rhode Island Supreme Court 1790-1793; secretary of state 1798-1819; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1825); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1824 to the Nineteenth Congress and for election in 1828 to the Twenty-first Congress; associate justice of the State supreme court in 1826 and 1827, and served as chief justice 1827-1835; died in Providence, R. I., February 3, 1839; interment in the North End Cemetery.

EDEN, John Rice, a Representative from Illinois; born in Bath County, Ky., February 1, 1826; moved with his parents to Indiana; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1853, and commenced practice in Sullivan, Ill.; prosecuting attorney for the seventeenth judicial district of Illinois 1856-1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; unsuccessful Democratic nominee for Governor of Illinois in 1868; elected to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law in Sullivan, Ill.; elected to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1886; again engaged in the practice of law; died in Sullivan, Moultrie County, Ill., June 9, 1909; interment in Greenhill Cemetery.

EDGE, Walter Evans, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., November 20, 1874; moved with his parents to Pleasantville, N. J., in 1877; attended the public schools; employed in a printing office in Atlantic City, N. J., 1890-1894; journal clerk of the State senate 1897-1899; during the Spanish-American War served as second lieutenant; after the war was commissioned lieutenant colonel and made chief of the ordnance department on the staff of the major general commanding the New Jersey National Guard; secretary of the State senate 1901-1904; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Roosevelt and Fairbanks in 1904; served in the State house of assembly in 1910; member of the State senate 1911-1916, and served as president of that body in 1915; Governor of New Jersey from 1917 to 1919, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1920 and at Cleveland in 1924; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1918 for the term commencing March 4, 1919, and reelected in 1924 for the term ending March 3, 1931.

EDGERTON, Alfred Peck (brother of Joseph Ketchum Edgerton), a Representative from Ohio; born in Plattsburg, N. Y., January 11, 1813; was graduated from Plattsburg Academy; engaged in newspaper work for a brief period, and later in commercial pursuits in New York City; moved to Hicksville, Ohio, in 1837; manager of the American Land Co., and engaged in opening new land for settlement in northwestern Ohio, near Hicksville, 1837-1852; member of the State senate in 1845 and 1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1855); financial agent of the Board of State Fund Commissioners of Ohio in 1853, with residence in New York City; moved to Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1857; general manager of the Wabash & Erie Canal 1859-1868; unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio in 1868; chairman of the United States Civil Service Commission in 1885; served in many important positions in his later years, including that of member of the Fort Wayne School Board; died in Hicksville, Defiance County, Ohio, May 14, 1897; interment in Lindenwood Cemetery, Fort Wayne, Ind.

EDGERTON, Alonzo Jay, a Senator from Minnesota; born in Rome, Oneida County, N. Y., June 7, 1827; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1850; settled in Mantorville, Minn., in 1855; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Mantorville, Minn.; prosecuting attorney of Dodge County; member of the State senate in 1858 and 1859; during the Civil War was commissioned a captain in 1862 in the Tenth Minnesota Volunteer Regiment; promoted to colonel in 1864; brevetted brigadier general in 1865, and was mustered out in March, 1867; served as railroad commissioner 1871-1875; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Hayes and Wheeler in 1876; again a member of the State senate 1877-1879; moved to Kasson, Minn., in 1878; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Windom, and served from March 12 to October 30, 1881, when a successor was elected; appointed chief justice of the Territorial Supreme Court of Dakota; upon the admission of South Dakota as a State into the Union was made United States judge of that district; president of the constitutional convention of South Dakota; died at Sioux Falls, S. Dak., August 9, 1896; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Mantorville, Minn.

EDGERTON, Joseph Ketchum (brother of Alfred Peck Edgerton), a Representative from Indiana; born in Vergennes, Addison County, Vt., February 16, 1818; attended the public schools of Clinton County, N. Y.; studied law in Plattsburg (N. Y.) Academy, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in New York City in 1839; moved to Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1844 and continued the practice of law; director of the Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Co. in 1854 and later its president; president of the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Co. in 1855; director of the Ohio & Indiana Railroad Co. in 1856 and a leader in the movement to consolidate the properties which now comprise the Pennsylvania system west of Pittsburgh, of which he was made vice president; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1863–March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Thirty-ninth Congress; financially interested in many of the leading manufacturing and banking institutions of the Middle West; died in Boston, Mass., August 25, 1893; interment in Lindenwood Cemetery, Fort Wayne, Ind.

EDGERTON, Sidney, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cazenovia, N. Y., August 17, 1818; attended the country schools and the academy at Lima, N. Y., where he was later an instructor; moved to Ohio in 1844; taught in the academy at Tallmadge, Ohio, in 1844; studied law, and was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1845; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Akron, Ohio, in 1846; delegate to the convention that formed the Free-Soil Party in 1848; prosecuting attorney of Summit County 1852–1856; delegate to the first Republican National Convention, which was held in Philadelphia in 1860; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859–March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; served as colonel of the Squirrel Hunters for one week during the Civil War; appointed United States judge for the Territory of Idaho in 1863; Governor of Montana Territory in 1865 and 1866; resumed the practice of law in Akron, Ohio, where he died July 19, 1900; interment in Tallmadge Cemetery, Tallmadge, Ohio.

EDIE, John Rufus, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., January 14, 1814; attended the public schools, Emmitsburg (Md.) College, and the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.; principal of the Gettysburg schools for several years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Somerset, Pa.; member of the State senate in 1845 and 1846; appointed deputy attorney general in 1847, and served until 1850; district attorney 1850–1854; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855–March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; during the Civil War was commissioned a major of the Fifteenth Regiment United States Infantry May 14, 1861; promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in 1863, and served with the Fifteenth and Eighth Regiments United States Infantry until January, 1871, when he was honorably discharged; brevetted colonel September 1, 1864, "for gallant and meritorious services" during the Atlanta campaign; resumed the practice of law in Somerset, Pa., and died there August 27, 1888; interment in Union Cemetery.

EDMANDS, John Wiley, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 1, 1809; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the English High School at Boston; interested in woolen mills in Dedham, Mass., and the Pacific Mills Co. in Lawrence, Mass.; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853–March 3, 1855); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1854; treasurer of the Pacific Mills at Lawrence in 1855; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; died in Newton, Mass., January 31, 1877; interment in the Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

EDMOND, William, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Woodbury, Conn., September 28, 1755; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1778; served in the Revolutionary Army and was wounded at the Battle of Danbury in 1777, when that village was burned by the British; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1780, and commenced practice in Newtown, Conn.;

member of the State house of representatives 1791–1797, 1801, and 1802; served in the State senate 1797–1799; elected as a Federalist to the Fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Davenport; reelected to the Sixth Congress, and served from November 13, 1797, to March 3, 1801; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1800; resumed the practice of law in Newtown; associate judge of the State supreme court 1805–1819; retired to private life and continued the practice of law; died in Newtown, Fairfield County, Conn., August 1, 1838; interment in Newtown Cemetery.

EDMONDS, George Washington, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Pottsville, Schuylkill County, Pa., February 22, 1804; attended the public schools and the Central High School; was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1837; engaged in the coal business; member of the Common Council of Philadelphia 1896–1902; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913–March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1924; engaged in the wholesale coal and lumber business; elected manager of the Port of Philadelphia Ocean Traffic Bureau in September, 1927, in which capacity he is now serving, with residence in Philadelphia, Pa.

EDMUNDS, George Franklin, a Senator from Vermont; born in Richmond, Chittenden County, Vt., February 1, 1828; attended the common schools and was privately tutored; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1849, and commenced practice in Burlington, Vt.; member of the State house of representatives 1854–1859, and served three years as speaker; member of the State senate, and served as its presiding officer pro tempore in 1861 and 1862; appointed and subsequently elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Solomon Foote; reelected in 1867, 1873, 1879, and 1885, and served from April 3, 1866, until his resignation, effective November 1, 1891; President pro tempore of the Senate from March 3, 1883, to March 3, 1885; appointed a member of the Electoral Commission created by act of Congress approved January 29, 1877, to decide the contests in various States in the presidential election of 1876; resumed the practice of law in Philadelphia, Pa.; subsequently moved to Pasadena, Calif., where he died February 27, 1919; interment in Green Mount Cemetery, Burlington, Vt.

EDMUNDS, Paul Carrington, a Representative from Virginia; born at "Springwood," the country estate, near Halifax Court House, Halifax County, Va., November 1, 1836; studied under a private teacher; was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1855, and from the law department of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1857; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Jefferson City, Mo.; returned to Virginia in 1859 and engaged in agricultural pursuits on his farm in Halifax County; served as first lieutenant Company A, Montague's battalion in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; member of the Virginia State Senate 1881–1888; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1894; retired to his farm and discontinued active pursuits; died in Houston, Halifax County, Va., March 12, 1896; interment in St. John's Churchyard, Halifax, Va.

EDMUNDSON, Henry Alonso, a Representative from Virginia; born in Blacksburg, Montgomery County, Va., June 14, 1814; attended private schools, and was graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1838, and commenced practice in Salem, Va.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1849–March 3, 1861); during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army as lieutenant colonel of the Fifty-fourth Virginia Regiment until 1862, when he was assigned to the command of the Twenty-seventh Virginia Cavalry; at the close of hostilities he resumed the practice of law, and subsequently, in 1880, engaged in agricultural pursuits; died at his home, "Falling Waters," Shaws-ville, Montgomery County, Va., December 10, 1890; interment in Fotheringay Cemetery, Montgomery County, Va.

EDSALL, Joseph E., a Representative from New Jersey; born in Rudeville, near Hamburg, Sussex County, N. J., in 1789; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; operated a distillery and a tannery; served as county clerk; member of the State house of assembly; judge of the court of common pleas; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845–March 3, 1849); died in Hamburg, N. J., in 1865; interment in the Baptist Burying Ground.

EDWARDS, Benjamin (father of Ninian Edwards), a Representative from Maryland; born in Stafford County, Va., August 12, 1753; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural and mercantile pursuits in Montgomery County, Md.; member of the State house of delegates for several years; delegate to the State convention which ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; elected to the Third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Uriah Forrest, and served from January 2 to March 3, 1795; moved to Todd County, Ky.; died in Elkton, Ky., November 13, 1829; interment on his estate at Elkton, Ky.

EDWARDS, Caldwell, a Representative from Montana; born in Sag Harbor, Suffolk County, N. Y., January 8, 1841; was educated in the district schools; salesman and bookkeeper in dry-goods stores for several years; moved to Bozeman, Territory of Montana, in 1864 and became engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1901–1905; elected on the Democratic-Populist ticket to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903); was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; at the expiration of his term returned to his ranch in Montana; died in Sag Harbor, N. Y., July 23, 1922; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

EDWARDS, Charles Gordon, a Representative from Georgia; born in Dulsy, Tattnall (now Evans) County, Ga., July 2, 1878; attended the public schools, Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Ga., and the Florida State College, Lake City, Fla., which is now a part of the University of Florida; was graduated from the law department of the University of Georgia at Athens in 1898; was admitted to the bar the same year and practiced in Reidsville and Savannah; also interested in agricultural pursuits; member of the Georgia State Militia for several years; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1907–March 3, 1917); voluntarily retired to resume the practice of law in Savannah, Ga.; president of the Savannah Board of Trade two and one-half years; member of the Harbor Commission of Savannah, Ga., 1920–1924; elected to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925–March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

EDWARDS, Don Calvin, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Appanoose County, Iowa, July 13, 1861; attended the common schools of Iowa and Kansas and Campbell University, Holton, Kans.; settled in Laurel County, Ky., in 1892; engaged in manufacturing and the wholesale lumber business; president of the National Bank of London, Ky.; clerk and master commissioner of the Laurel circuit court from 1898 to 1904; chairman of the Kentucky State Republican convention in 1906; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905–March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the lumber and wholesale grocery business in London, Ky.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912, which nominated the presidential ticket of Taft and Sherman; during the World War was member of the State council of national defense; chairman of five Liberty loan campaigns and fuel administrator for Laurel County in 1917 and 1918; unsuccessful candidate for nomination in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; is a resident of London, Ky.

EDWARDS, Edward Irving, a Senator from New Jersey; born in Jersey City, N. J., December 1, 1863; attended the Jersey City public schools and New York University, New York City, in 1884; studied law; engaged in banking and the general contracting business; president and chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Jersey City; comptroller of the treasury of New Jersey 1911–1917; member of the State Senate of New Jersey from November 5, 1918, to January 1, 1920; elected Governor of New Jersey and served from 1920 to 1923; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1923, and ending March 3, 1929.

EDWARDS, Francis Smith, a Representative from New York; born in Windsor, Broome County, N. Y., May 28, 1817; completed preparatory studies; attended Hamilton (N. Y.) College (now Colgate University), but did not graduate; studied law, was admitted to the bar in New York City May 20, 1840, and practiced in Sherburne and Albany; moved to Fredonia in 1851 and continued the practice of law; appointed master and examiner in chancery for Chenango County in 1842; appointed special county surrogate of Chautauque County in 1853, and served until November 1, 1855; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1855, to February 28, 1857, when he resigned; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; settled in Dunkirk, N. Y., in 1859, and resumed the practice of his profession; city attorney for nine years; retired from the practice of law in 1892; elected police justice in 1895, and served until ten days before his death; died in Dunkirk, N. Y., May 20, 1899; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, Fredonia, N. Y.

EDWARDS, Henry Waggaman (son of Pierrepont Edwards), a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in New Haven, Conn., in October, 1779; was graduated from Princeton College in 1797; studied law at the Litchfield Law School; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in New Haven, Conn.; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Congresses (March 4, 1819–March 3, 1823); appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Elijah Boardman; subsequently elected, and served from October 8, 1823, to March 3, 1827; served in the State senate 1827–1829; member of the State house of representatives in 1830 and served as speaker; elected Governor of Connecticut in 1833; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1834; again elected in 1835, 1836, and 1837; resumed the practice of law; died in New Haven, Conn., July 22, 1847; interment in Grove Street Cemetery.

EDWARDS, John, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Stafford County, Va., in 1748; attended the common schools; moved to Fayette County, Ky. (then a part of Virginia), in 1780; member of the Virginia House of Delegates 1781-1783, 1785, and 1786; delegate to the eighth convention called to define the limits of the proposed State of Kentucky 1785-1788; member of the convention of 1792 that framed the State constitution of Kentucky; upon the admission of Kentucky as a State into the Union was elected to the United States Senate, and served from June 18, 1792, to March 3, 1795; member of the State house of representatives in 1795; served in the State senate 1796-1800; died on his plantation near Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., in 1837; interment in the family cemetery on a farm now owned by Benjamin Ardery, near Paris, Ky.

EDWARDS, John, a Representative from New York; born in Beekmans precinct, Dutchess County, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., August 6, 1781; attended the common schools; sheriff of Montgomery County and keeper of Johnstown Jail 1806-1812; moved to Fulton County and settled in the village of Ephratah; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); engaged in the mercantile business and also interested in manufacturing pursuits; died in Johnstown, Fulton County, N. Y., December 28, 1850; interment in Johnstown Cemetery.

EDWARDS, John (granduncle of John Edwards Leonard), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ivy Mills, Delaware County, Pa., in 1786; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1807, and commenced practice in Chester, Delaware County, Pa.; deputy attorney general for Delaware County in 1811; moved to Philadelphia, Pa.; returned to Delaware County; counsel for the defense in the trial of Wellington for the murder of Bonsall in 1824; moved to West Chester in 1825 and shortly thereafter engaged in the manufacture of iron and later of nails near Glen Mills, Delaware County; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1843); resumed his former manufacturing pursuits; died on his estate near Glen Mills, June 28, 1843; interment in the Friends' (Hicksite) Cemetery of the Middletown Meeting House, Middletown Township, Delaware County, Pa.

EDWARDS, John, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Louisville, Jefferson County, Ky., October 24, 1805; received a limited schooling; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Indiana, where he served in the State house of representatives in 1845 and 1846; moved to California, and in 1849 was elected an alcade; returned to Indiana in 1852; member of the State senate in 1853; moved to Chariton, Iowa, in 1855; member of the Iowa constitutional convention; served in the State house of representatives 1856-1860, the last two years as speaker of the house; founder in 1857 of the Patriot, a newspaper; during the Civil War was appointed lieutenant colonel May 21, 1861, on the staff of the Governor of Iowa; colonel of the Eighteenth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry August 8, 1862; brigadier general of Volunteers September 26, 1864; honorably mustered out January 15, 1868; at the close of the war settled in Fort Smith, Ark.; appointed by President Johnson United States assessor of internal revenue, and served from August 15, 1866, to May 31, 1869; presented credentials of election as a Liberal Republican to the Forty-second Congress, and served from March 4, 1871, to February 9, 1872, when he was succeeded by Thomas Boles, who contested the election; was not a candidate for renomination; settled in Washington, D. C., and died there April 8, 1894; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

EDWARDS, John Cummins, a Representative from Missouri; born in Frankfort, Franklin County, Ky., June 24, 1804; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Black's College, Kentucky; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and practiced in Murfreesboro, Tenn., and later in Jefferson City, Mo.; secretary of state of Missouri 1830-1835 and in 1837; district judge of Cole County, Mo., 1832-1837; member of the State house of representatives in 1836; judge of the State supreme court 1837-1839; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); did not seek renomination, having become a candidate for the gubernatorial office; Governor of Missouri 1844-1848; moved to Stockton, Calif., in 1849 and continued the practice of his profession; mayor of Stockton in 1851; engaged in cattle raising, mercantile pursuits, and the real-estate business; died in Stockton, Calif., October 14, 1888; interment in the Rural Cemetery.

EDWARDS, Ninian (son of Benjamin Edwards), a Senator from Illinois; born on the Edwards farm, "Mount Pleasant," Montgomery County, Md., March 17, 1775; attended private schools; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1792; studied law; moved with his parents to Bardstown, Ky., in 1795; was elected to the legislature before reaching his majority; member of the State house of representatives in 1796 and 1797; was admitted to the bar in 1798 and commenced practice in Russellville, Ky.; judge of the General Court of Kentucky in 1803; judge of the circuit court in 1804; presidential elector in 1804 on the Democratic ticket of Jefferson and Clinton; judge of the court of appeals in 1806 and chief justice of the State in 1808; Governor of the Territory of Illinois 1809-1818; upon the admission of Illinois as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from December 3, 1818, to March 4, 1824, when he resigned; appointed minister to Mexico March 4, 1824, but while en route was recalled to testify before a select committee of the House of Representatives appointed to investigate charges made by him against William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; resumed the practice of law; was also interested in saw and grist mills and engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected Governor of Illinois and served from 1826 to 1831; died in Belleville, Ill., July 20, 1833; interment in that city; reinterment in 1855 in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Springfield, Ill.

EDWARDS, Pierrepont (father of Henry Waggaman Edwards), a Delegate from Connecticut; born in Northampton, Mass., April 8, 1750; was graduated from Princeton College in 1768; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in New Haven, Conn., in 1771; served in the Revolutionary Army; when Benedict Arnold was found guilty of treason was made administrator of his estate; Member of the Continental Congress in 1787 and 1788; member of the State house of representatives in 1789 and 1790 and served as speaker; appointed United States district judge for the district of Connecticut in 1806; member of the Federal constitutional convention and of the constitutional convention which framed the constitution of Connecticut in 1818; died in Bridgeport, Conn., April 5, 1820; interment in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven, Conn.

EDWARDS, Samuel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester Township, Delaware County, Pa., March 12, 1785; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1806, and commenced practice in Chester; served in the War of 1812; member of the State house of representatives 1814-1816; elected as a Federalist to the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1827); resumed the practice of his profession in Chester; inspector of customs 1839-1842; died in Chester, Pa., November 21, 1850; interment in the Friends Burying Ground; reinterment in Chester Rural Cemetery.

EDWARDS, Thomas McKey, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Keene, Cheshire County, N. H., December 18, 1795; tutored privately; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1817, and commenced practice in Keene, N. H.; post-master of Keene, N. H., from June 30, 1818, to July 23, 1829; served in the State house of representatives in 1834, 1836, 1838, and 1839; abandoned his law practice in 1845 and superintended and constructed the Cheshire Railroad and served as its first president; also served as president of a bank and a fire insurance company; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Fremont and Dayton in 1856; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Keene, N. H., May 1, 1875; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

EDWARDS, Thomas Owen, a Representative from Ohio; born in Williamsburg, Ind., March 29, 1810; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine at the University of Maryland, Baltimore, Md.; moved to Lancaster, Ohio, in 1836 and engaged in the practice of medicine; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848 to the Thirty-first Congress; attended former President John Quincy Adams, who was then a Congressman, when he was stricken with apoplexy while making a speech in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and died in his arms in the United States Capitol, Washington, D. C.; served as inspector of marine hospitals; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and engaged in the drug business; member and president of the city council; professor in the Ohio Medical College, Cincinnati, Ohio; moved to Madison, Wis., and thence to Dubuque, Iowa; during the Civil War served as surgeon in the Third Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry; returned to Lancaster, Ohio, about 1870 and resumed the practice of medicine; moved to Wheeling, W. Va., in 1875 and continued the practice of his profession; died in Wheeling, W. Va., February 5, 1876; interment in Mount Wood Cemetery.

EDWARDS, Weldon Nathaniel, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Gaston, Northampton County, N. C., January 25, 1788; attended Warrenton Academy; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1810, and commenced practice in Warrenton, N. C.; member of the State house of representatives in 1814 and 1815; elected as a Democrat to the Fourteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Nathaniel Macon; reelected to the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses, and served from February 7, 1816, to March 3, 1827; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1828; returned to his plantation; member of the State senate 1833-1844; member of the State constitutional convention in 1835; again elected to the State senate in 1850 and chosen its president; president of the State secession convention in 1861; died in Warren County, N. C., December 18, 1873; interment in a private cemetery at his home, "Poplar Mount," about twelve miles from Warrenton, Warren County, N. C.

EDWARDS, William Posey, a Representative from Georgia; born near Talbotton, Talbot County, Ga., November 9, 1835; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Collinsworth Institute, Talbotton, Ga., in 1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1857, and commenced practice in Butler, Ga.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1857 and 1858; served during the Civil War in the Confederate Army as captain of Company F, Twenty-seventh Georgia Volunteer Infantry; subsequently promoted to colonel of the regiment; upon the readmission of Georgia to representation was elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from July 25, 1868, to March 3, 1869; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-first Congress, but was not permitted to qualify; resumed the practice of his profession at Butler, Ga., and died there June 28, 1900; interment in the Methodist Cemetery.

EFNER, Valentine, a Representative from New York; born in Blenheim Hill, near Blenheim, Schoharie County, N. Y., May 5, 1776; completed preparatory studies; engaged in agricultural pursuits; commissioned as major in the War of 1812; member of the State house of representatives in 1829; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Blenheim Hill, N. Y., November 20, 1865; interment in Blenheim Hill Cemetery.

EGBERT, Albert Gallatin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Sandy Lake, Mercer County, Pa., April 13, 1828; attended the public schools and Austinburg Academy, Ohio; was graduated from the medical department of the Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1856 and commenced the practice of medicine in Clintonville, Pa.; moved to Cherrytree, Pa., and practiced his profession until 1861, which he then relinquished in order to devote his entire time to the production of oil and to agricultural pursuits; served during the Civil War as a volunteer surgeon; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Franklin, Venango County, Pa., March 28, 1896; interment in Franklin Cemetery.

EGBERT, Joseph, a Representative from New York; born near Bull Head, Staten Island, N. Y., April 10, 1807; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was not a candidate for renomination in 1842; resumed his agricultural pursuits; supervisor of Southfield, Richmond County, in 1855 and 1856; county clerk of Richmond County in 1869; died at his home near New Dorp, N. Y., July 7, 1888; interment in the Moravian Cemetery, New Dorp, Staten Island, N. Y.

EGE, George, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Womelsdorf, Berks County, Pa., March 9, 1748; attended the common schools; engaged in land and iron interests; member of the State house of representatives in 1783; appointed one of the first associate judges of Berks County under the constitution in 1790, and served from 1791 until 1818, when he resigned; resumed his extensive business interests; elected to the Fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Hilester; reelected to the Fifth Congress, and served from December 8, 1796, until October, 1797, when he resigned; resumed business interests; built and operated Schuylkill County Forge, near Port Clinton, Pa., in 1804; died at his residence, "Charming Forge," Marion Township, Berks County, Pa., December 14, 1829; interment in Zion's Church Cemetery, Womelsdorf, Pa.

EGGLESTON, Benjamin, a Representative from Ohio; born in Corinth, Saratoga County, N. Y., January 3, 1816; completed preparatory studies; moved with his parents to Hocking County, Ohio, in 1831; moved to Cleveland and worked on a canal boat, later becoming an owner of boats and interested in several companies; settled in Cincinnati in 1845 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; presiding officer of the City Council of Cincinnati; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; member of the State senate 1862-1863; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1869); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress; again served in the State senate in 1880 and 1881; resumed mercantile pursuits; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, February 9, 1888; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

EGGLESTON, Joseph (uncle of William Segar Archer), a Representative from Virginia; born in Middlesex County, Va., November 24, 1754; when four years old was taken to his father's plantation "Egglestetton," near Amelia Court House, Va.; studied under private teachers; was graduated from William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1776; captain and major in Lee's Lighthouse Cavalry in the Revolutionary Army; won special distinction in the Battle of Guilford Court House, March 15, 1781, and the capture of Augusta, Ga., June 5, 1781; member of the State house of delegates 1785-1788 and 1791-1799; elected a member of the Virginia Privy Council on November 7, 1787; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William B. Giles; reelected to the Sixth Congress, and served from December 3, 1798, to March 3, 1801; was not a candidate for renomination in 1800; engaged in agricultural pursuits; justice of the peace from 1801 until his death in Amelia County, Va., February 13, 1811; interment in Old Grubhill Church Cemetery, near Amelia Court House, Amelia County, Va.

FICKHOFF, Anthony, a Representative from New York; born in Westphalia, Prussia, September 11, 1827; taught school in Prussia; emigrated to the United States in 1847; settled in St. Louis, Mo., and there studied law; became an editor; edited papers in St. Louis, Dubuque, Louisville, and finally in New York in 1852; appointed commissary general of subsistence for the State of New York in 1863; member of the State assembly in 1864; city coroner in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1878 to the Forty-sixth Congress; Fifth Auditor in the United States Treasury Department from August 1, 1885, to May 17, 1889; appointed fire commissioner in New York City in 1889; reappointed in 1891; at the time of his death he was auditor of the fire department; died in New York City November 5, 1901; interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

EINSTEIN, Edwin, a Representative from New York; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 18, 1842; moved with his parents to New York City in 1846; worked as clerk in a store; received a collegiate training in the College of the City of New York, and entered Union College, but did not graduate; engaged in mercantile pursuits; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; unsuccessful Republican candidate for mayor of New York City in 1892; dock commissioner of New York City in 1895; was prominently identified with a number of investment companies and woolen factories; died in New York City January 24, 1905; interment in Shearith Israel Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ELA, Jacob Hart, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Rochester, N. H., July 18, 1820; attended the village school in Rochester; at fourteen years of age was apprenticed in a woolen manufactory and subsequently learned the printer's trade; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1857 and 1858; United States marshal from July, 1861, to October, 1866; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); appointed by President Grant Fifth Auditor of the Treasury on January 1, 1872, and served until June 2, 1881; on June 3, 1881, was appointed Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department and served in that position until his death in Washington, D. C., August 21, 1884; interment in the North Side Cemetery, Rochester, N. H.

ELAM, Joseph Barton, a Representative from Louisiana; born near Hope, Hempstead County, Ark., June 12, 1821; moved with his father to Natchitoches, La., in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Alexandria, La.; moved to the parish of De Soto in 1851; member and speaker of the State house of representatives 1851-1861; elected a delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1861, and signed the ordinance of secession; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law in Mansfield, De Soto Parish, La., where he died July 4, 1885; interment in Mansfield Cemetery.

ELDER, James Walter, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Grand Prairie, Dallas County, Tex., October 5, 1882; attended the public schools and Baylor University, Waco, Tex., 1895-1901; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1903, and commenced practice in Monroe, Ouachita Parish, La.; moved to Farmerville, Union Parish, and continued the practice of his profession; mayor of Farmerville, La.; member of the State senate 1908-1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1914; moved to Ruston, Lincoln Parish, and resumed the practice of law, and resides there.

ELDRIDGE, Charles Augustus, a Representative from Wisconsin; born in Bridport, Vt., February 27, 1820; moved with his parents to Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y., in 1825; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and commenced practice in Canton, N. Y.; moved to Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1848 and continued the practice of his profession; member of the State senate 1854-1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1874; resumed the practice of law; died in Fond du Lac, Wis., October 26, 1896; interment in Renzi Cemetery.

ELDRIDGE, Nathaniel Buel, a Representative from Michigan; born in Auburn, N. Y., March 28, 1813; attended the common schools; appointed as a cadet to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1829, but was financially unable to accept; attended Fairfield Medical College; engaged in the practice of medicine in Commerce, Oakland County, Mich.; clerk of the Michigan Senate in 1845; member of the State house of representatives in 1848; judge of probate 1852-1856; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1854; held several minor offices; during the Civil War was enrolled as captain of Company G, Seventh Regiment Michigan Volunteers, June 19, 1861; promoted to major August 7, 1861, and to lieutenant colonel April 1, 1862; was honorably discharged January 7, 1863; elected sheriff of Lenawee County in 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); died in Adrian, Mich., November 27, 1893; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

ELIOT, Samuel Atkins, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 5, 1798; attended the Boston Latin School; was graduated from Harvard University in 1817 and from the divinity school in 1820; mayor of Boston 1837-1839; member of the State house of representatives 1834-1837; served in the State senate in 1843-1844; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-first Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert C. Winthrop, and served from August 22, 1850, to March 3, 1851; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1850; treasurer of Harvard University 1842-1853; died in Cambridge, Mass., January 20, 1862; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

ELIOT, Thomas Dawes, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., March 20, 1806; attended the public schools of Washington, D. C., and was graduated from Columbian College (now George Washington University), in that city, in 1825; was admitted to the bar in 1831 and commenced practice in New Bedford, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives in 1839; served in the State senate in 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Zeno Scudder, and served from April 17, 1854, to March 3, 1855; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1854; delegate to the Free-Soil Convention in Worcester, Mass., in 1855; declined to be a candidate for nomination by the Republican Party for attorney general of Massachusetts in 1857; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1869); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1868; resumed the practice of law in New Bedford, Mass., where he died on June 14, 1870; interment in Oak Grove Cemetery.

ELKINS, Davis (son of Stephen Benton Elkins and grandson of Henry Gassaway Davis), a Senator from West Virginia; born in Washington, D. C., January 24, 1876; attended the Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J., Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Harvard University; enlisted May 16, 1898, in the War with Spain as a private in Company E, First West Virginia Volunteer Infantry; promoted to first lieutenant and battalion adjutant May 23, 1898, and to captain and assistant adjutant general June 16, 1898; served on the staff of Brigadier General Schawan in Cuba and Porto Rico until November 15, 1898; assumed charge of the coal interests of his father in West Virginia; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, Stephen B. Elkins, and served from January 9 to January 31, 1911, when a successor was elected; during the World War was commissioned major in the Officers' Reserve Corps on December 14, 1917, and subsequently served as adjutant of the Thirteenth Infantry Brigade, Seventh Division, in France; honorably discharged December 27, 1918; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1919, to March 3, 1925; was not a candidate for renomination in 1924; resumed his former business pursuits, and is a resident of Morgantown, W. Va.

ELKINS, Stephen Benton (father of Davis Elkins), a Delegate from the Territory of New Mexico and a Senator from West Virginia; born in Perry County, Ohio, September 26, 1841; moved with his parents to Westport, Mo.; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the law department of the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1860; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army as a captain in the Kansas Militia; moved to the Territory of New Mexico in 1864; was admitted to the bar in 1864 and commenced practice in Mesilla, N. Mex.; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1864 and 1865; district attorney for the Territory of New Mexico in 1866 and 1867; appointed attorney general of the Territory January 14, 1867, and served until March 1 of that year; United States district attorney for the Territory 1867-1870; elected as a Republican a Delegate to the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1877); was not a candidate for renomination in 1876; moved to New York City and resumed the practice of law; appointed Secretary of War December 17, 1891, and served until the close of the administration of President Harrison; moved to Elkins, W. Va., and resumed the practice of law; elected to the United States Senate in February, 1895; reelected in 1901 and 1907, and served from March 4, 1895, until his death in Washington, D. C., January 4, 1911; interment in Maplewood Cemetery, Elkins, W. Va.

ELLERBE, James Edwin, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Sellers, Marion County, S. C., January 12, 1867; attended Pine Hill Academy and the University of South Carolina at Columbia; was graduated from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., in 1887; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1894-1896; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1895; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1912; resumed his agricultural pursuits; died in Asheville, N. C., October 24, 1917; interment in the family burial ground near Sellers, S. C.

ELLERY, Christopher (nephew of William Ellery), a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., November 1, 1768; was graduated from Yale College in 1787; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Newport; clerk of the superior court of Newport County 1794-1798; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ray Greene, and served from May 6, 1801, to March 3, 1805; appointed by President Jefferson United States commissioner of loans at Providence, R. I., in 1806; appointed collector of customs at Newport, and served from May 1, 1820, to July 7, 1834; died in Middletown, near Newport, R. I., December 2, 1840; interment in the Island Cemetery at Newport.

ELLERY, William (uncle of Christopher Ellery), a Delegate from Rhode Island; born in Newport, R. I., December 22, 1727; taught by private teachers; was graduated from Harvard College in 1747; Deputy Governor of Rhode Island 1748-1750; naval officer of Rhode Island in 1754; clerk of the court of common pleas of Newport County in 1768 and 1769; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1770, and commenced practice in Newport, R. I.; elected a Member of the Continental Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel Ward, and served from May 14, 1776, to 1781; one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence; chosen to the newly constituted board of admiralty in 1779, with full oversight of the marine affairs of the Nation; again a Member of the Continental Congress 1783-1785; appointed chief justice of Rhode Island in 1785; appointed by the Continental Congress commissioner of the Continental Loan Office in 1786; collector of the port of Newport from 1790 until his death in Newport, R. I., February 15, 1820; interment in the Old Cemetery.

ELLETT, Henry Thomas, a Representative from Mississippi; born in Salem, N. J., March 8, 1812; attended the Latin School in Salem and Princeton College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Bridgeton, Cumberland County, N. J.; moved to Port Gibson, Claiborne County, Miss., in 1837, and continued the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jefferson Davis, and served from January 26, to March 3, 1847; declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1846; resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate 1853-1855; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; code commissioner in 1857; member of the State secession convention in 1861, and member of the committee that framed and reported the ordinance of secession of Mississippi; appointed Postmaster General of the Confederacy in February, 1861, but declined; elected judge of the State supreme court on October 2, 1865, and served until January, 1868, when he resigned; moved to Memphis, Tenn., in 1868, and resumed the practice of law; elected chancellor of the twelfth division of Tennessee in 1866; died while delivering an address of welcome to President Grover Cleveland in Memphis, Tenn., October 15, 1887; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

ELLETT, Tazewell, a Representative from Virginia; born in Richmond, Va., January 1, 1856; attended private schools in Richmond; cadet in the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington and was graduated from that institution in 1876; studied law, and was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1878 and immediately commenced practice in Richmond; member of the Board of Visitors of the Virginia Military Institute; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Thurman in 1888; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896 to the Fifty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Richmond, Va., and New York City; died in Summerville, Dorchester County, S. C., May 19, 1914; interment in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

ELLCOTT, Benjamin, a Representative from New York; born at Ellicotts Mills, near Baltimore, Md., April 17, 1795; accompanied his brothers in 1780 to upper Canada on the survey to determine the western boundary of the State of New York; employed as a surveyor and draftsman for the Holland Land Co. in New York and Pennsylvania; one of the first judges of the court of common pleas of Genesee County, N. Y., in 1808, with residence in Batavia; was also an extensive landowner; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1819); unsuccessful candidate for election in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress; retired from active life, and in 1820 moved to Williamsville, Erie County, N. Y., where he died December 10, 1827; interment in the graveyard at Williamsville; reinterment in Batavia Cemetery, Batavia, N. Y., in 1849.

ELLIOTT, James, a Representative from Vermont; born in Gloucester, Mass., August 18, 1775; during his early years worked on a farm and clerked in a store; educated by his mother, by his employer, and by reading and travel; moved to Guilford, Vt., in 1790; served as a sergeant in the Indian war of 1793 in Ohio; published several works of poems and essays in 1798; clerk of the State house of representatives 1801-1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1803, and commenced practice in Brattleboro, Vt.; elected as a Federalist to the Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1808-March 3, 1809); published a newspaper in Philadelphia, Pa., on his retirement from Congress; served in the War of 1812 for a short time as captain; resumed the practice of law in Brattleboro, Vt.; clerk of the Windham County court 1817-1836; member of the State house of representatives in 1818 and 1819; moved to Newfane, Vt.; register of the probate court 1822-1834; again served in the State house of representatives in 1837 and 1838; State's attorney of Windham County 1837-1839; died in Newfane, Vt., November 10, 1839; interment in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Brattleboro, Vt.

ELLIOTT, James Thomas, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Columbus, Monroe County, Ga., April 22, 1823; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Camden, Ark.; chosen president of the Mississippi, Ouachita & Red River Railroad in 1858; circuit judge of the sixth judicial district of Arkansas from October 2, 1865, to September 15, 1866; established and edited the South Arkansas Journal in 1867; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Hinds, and served from January 13, 1869, to March 3, 1869; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1868 to the Forty-first Congress; elected to the State senate in 1870; appointed judge of the ninth judicial district in 1872, and served until the adoption of the State constitution in 1874; died in Camden, Ouachita County, Ark., July 28, 1875; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

ELLIOTT, John, a Senator from Georgia; born in St. Johns Parish, now Liberty County, Ga., October 24, 1773; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1794; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Sunbury, Liberty County, Ga., in 1797; held several important local offices; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1819, to March 3, 1825; died in Sunbury, Ga., August 9, 1827; interment in the Old Midway Cemetery in Liberty County.

ELLIOTT, John Milton, a Representative from Kentucky; born on the banks of Clinch River in Scott County, Va., May 20, 1820; moved to Morgan County (now Elliott County), Ky., and attended the common schools; was graduated from Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., in 1841; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives in 1847; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; resumed the practice of law; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1861; elected a Representative from Kentucky to the First and Second Confederate Congresses; circuit judge 1863-1874; judge of the court of appeals 1876-1879; assassinated at Frankfort, Ky., March 28, 1879; interment in the State Cemetery at Frankfort.

ELLIOTT, Mortimer Fitzland, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Cherry Flats, near Wellsboro, Tioga County, Pa., September 24, 1839; attended the common schools, Wellsboro Academy, and Alfred University, Allegheny County, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Wellsboro; member of the convention to revise the constitution of Pennsylvania in 1873; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law; general solicitor for the Standard Oil Co. in New York City; died in Mansfield, Tioga County, Pa., August 5, 1920; interment in Wellsboro Cemetery, Wellsboro, Pa.

ELLIOTT, Richard Nash, a Representative from Indiana; born near Connersville, Fayette County, Ind., April 25, 1873; attended the common schools; taught school three years; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1896, and commenced practice in Connersville, Ind.; member of the State house of representatives 1905-1908; city attorney of Connersville 1906-1909; county attorney of Fayette County 1907-1915; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1916; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Daniel W. Comstock; reelected to the Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from June 26, 1917, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

ELLIOTT, Robert Brown, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Boston, Mass., August 11, 1842; was of the Negro race; attended High Hollow Academy, London, England. In 1853, and was graduated from Eton College, England, in 1859; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Columbia, S. C.; member of the State constitutional convention in 1868; member of the State house of representatives from July 6, 1868, to October 23, 1870; assistant adjutant general of South Carolina 1869-1871; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1871, until his resignation, effective November 1, 1874; again a member of the State house of representatives 1874-1876, and served as speaker; unsuccessful candidate for election as attorney general of South Carolina in 1876; moved to New Orleans, La., in 1881 and practiced law until his death there on August 9, 1884; interment in St. Louis Cemetery No. 2.

ELLIOTT, William, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Beaufort, Beaufort County, S. C., September 3, 1838; attended Beaufort College and Harvard University; studied law at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, and was admitted to the bar in Charleston, S. C., in 1861; upon the outbreak of the Civil War entered the Confederate Army as a lieutenant and served throughout the war, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel; at the close of the war commenced the practice of law in Beaufort, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1866 and 1867; Intendant of Beaufort in 1866; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English in 1880; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fiftieth Congress (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1889); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, until September 23, 1890, when he was succeeded by Thomas E. Miller, who contested the election; elected to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1895, until June 4, 1896, when he was succeeded by George W. Murray, who contested the election; elected to the Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1903); was not a candidate for renomination in 1903, having become a candidate for election to the United States Senate, in which he was unsuccessful; appointed by President Roosevelt in 1906 commissioner of the United States to mark the graves of Confederate dead in the North, and served in this capacity until his death in Beaufort, S. C., December 7, 1907; interment in St. Helena Churchyard.

ELLIS, Caleb, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Walpole, Mass., April 16, 1767; was graduated from Harvard University in 1793; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Newport, N. H., and then to Claremont; elected to the Ninth Congress (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1807); member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives in 1803; member of the governor's council 1809 and 1810; served in the State senate in 1811; presidential elector on the Clinton and Ingersoll ticket in 1812; appointed judge of the Superior Court of New Hampshire in 1813, which office he held until his death in Claremont, N. H., May 6, 1816; interment in the Broad Street Cemetery.

ELLIS, Chesselden, a Representative from New York; born in New Windsor, Vi., in 1808; completed preparatory studies and was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1823; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in Waterford, N. Y.; elected prosecuting attorney of Saratoga County, N. Y., and served from April 25, 1837, until September 11, 1843, when he resigned to take his seat in Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Waterford; moved to New York City in 1845 and continued the practice of his profession until his death there on May 10, 1854; interment in Albany Cemetery, Albany, N. Y.

ELLIS, Edgar Clarence, a Representative from Missouri; born in Vermontville, Eaton County, Mich., October 2, 1854; attended Olivet (Mich.) College, and was graduated from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., in 1881; instructor in Latin in Carleton College in 1881 and 1882; superintendent of the public schools at Fergus Falls, Minn., 1882-1885; in the meantime studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Beloit, Kans., in 1885; moved to Kansas City, Mo., in 1888, and continued the practice of his profession; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1908 to the Sixty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law in Kansas City, Mo.; appointed a member of the Missouri Waterway Commission and served in 1911 and 1912; elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; elected to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926 to the Seventieth Congress; continued the practice of his profession, and is a resident of Kansas City, Mo.

ELLIS, Ezekiel John, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Covington, St. Tammany Parish, La., October 15, 1840; attended private schools in Covington and Clinton, La., and Centenary College, Jackson, La., 1855-1858; was graduated from the law department of the Louisiana State University at Pineville (now at Baton Rouge), La., in 1861; during the Civil War joined the Confederate Army and was commissioned a first lieutenant; was promoted to captain in the Sixteenth Regiment Louisiana Infantry, and served two years, when he was captured and made prisoner at the Battle of Missionary Ridge, Tennessee; held as a prisoner of war on Johnsons Island in Lake Erie until the end of the war; was admitted to the bar of Louisiana in 1866 and commenced practice in Covington, La.; member of the State senate 1866-1870; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1885); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed the practice of his profession in Washington, D. C., where he died April 25, 1889; interment in the Ellis family cemetery at "Ingleside," near Amite, Tangipahoa Parish, La.

ELLIS, Powhatan, a Senator from Mississippi; born at "Red Hill," Amherst County, Va., January 17, 1780; was graduated from Washington Academy (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va., in 1809; attended Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1809 and 1810; studied law at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., in 1813 and 1814, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Lynchburg, Va.; moved to Natchez, Miss., in April, 1816, and continued the practice of law; judge of the State supreme court 1823-1825; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of David Holmes, and served from September 28, 1825, to January 28, 1826, when a successor was elected and qualified; unsuccessful candidate for election to fill this vacancy; elected to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1827, and served until July 16, 1832, when he resigned to accept a judicial position; judge of the United States court for the district of Mississippi 1832-1836; appointed by President Jackson chargé d'affaires of the United States to Mexico January 5, 1836, and closed the legation December 28, 1836; United States minister plenipotentiary to Mexico from February 15, 1839, to April 21, 1842; moved to Richmond, Va., where he died March 18, 1863; interment in Shockoe Cemetery.

ELLIS, William Cox, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Fort Muncy, Pa., May 5, 1787; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Friends' School near Pennsdale, Lycoming County, Pa., in 1803; deputy surveyor general 1803-1810; cashier of the Union and Northumberland County Bank 1810-1818; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1817, and commenced practice in Muncy, Pa.; elected as a Federalist in 1820 to the Seventeenth Congress, but resigned before the Congress assembled; unsuccessful candidate for reelection to fill the vacancy caused by his own resignation; elected to the Eighteenth Congress (March 4, 1823-March 3, 1825); member of the State house of representatives in 1825 and 1826; became affiliated with the Republican Party in 1856; resumed the practice of law in Muncy, Pa., and died there December 13, 1871; interment in Muncy Cemetery.

ELLIS, William Russell, a Representative from Oregon; born near Waveland, Montgomery County, Ind., April 23, 1850; moved with his parents to Guthrie County, Iowa, in 1855; attended the district schools and the Iowa State Agricultural College at Ames; was graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1874; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Panoia, Iowa; mayor of Panoia for one term; moved to Hamburg, Iowa, where he continued the practice of law, and also engaged in newspaper work; served two years as city attorney; mayor of Hamburg in 1880 and 1881; moved to Heppner, Oreg., in 1884; superintendent of schools of Morrow County in 1885 and 1886; district attorney of the seventh judicial district of Oregon 1888-1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1898; circuit judge of the sixth judicial district of Oregon from July 10, 1900, to July 1, 1906; moved to Pendleton in 1901 and practiced law; elected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1910; resumed the practice of law in Pendleton, Oreg.; moved to Portland, Oreg., in July, 1914, where he died January 18, 1915; interment in a mausoleum in the Portland Crematorium.

ELLIS, William Thomas, a Representative from Kentucky; born near Knottsville, Daviess County, Ky., July 24, 1845; attended the common schools; enlisted in 1861, at the age of sixteen, in the First Kentucky Confederate Cavalry, which became a part of the celebrated Orphan Brigade, and served with his regiment continuously until April 21, 1865; attended Pleasant Valley Seminary, Daviess County; principal of Mount Etna Academy, Ohio County, in 1867 and 1868; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1868; was graduated from the Harvard Law School, Cambridge, Mass., in 1870, and commenced practice in Owensboro, Ky., the same year; elected county attorney in 1870 and 1874; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1880 to the Fifty-third Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1894; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1896 which nominated Bryan and Sewall; resumed the practice of law; also engaged in literary pursuits; died in Owensboro, Ky., January 8, 1925; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

ELLISON, Andrew, a Representative from Ohio; born in West Union, Adams County, Ohio, in 1812; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice at West Union, Ohio, in 1835; elected prosecuting attorney of Brown County and served from 1840 to 1843; member of the State house of representatives in 1846; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; resumed the practice of law; died about 1890.

ELLMAKER, Amos, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born at "Walnut Bottom" farm, Leacock Township, Lancaster County, Pa., February 2, 1787; attended the common schools; was graduated from Princeton College; studied law in Lancaster, Pa., and Litchfield, Conn., was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Harrisburg, Pa.; deputy attorney general for Dauphin County 1809-1815; member of the State house of representatives in 1813 and 1814; elected to the Fourteenth Congress, but did not qualify, having been appointed and commissioned president judge of the twelfth judicial district on July 3, 1815, and served until his resignation on December 21, 1816; attorney general of Pennsylvania 1810-1819; declined the appointment of Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Monroe; moved to Lancaster, Pa., in 1821 and resumed the practice of law; again attorney general of the State in 1828 and 1829; unsuccessful candidate for Vice President of the United States on the Anti-Masonic ticket in 1832 and for the United States Senate in 1833; continued the practice of law until his death in Lancaster, Pa., November 28, 1851; interment in St. James' Episcopal Churchyard.

ELLSBERRY, William Wallace, a Representative from Ohio; born in New Hope, Brown County, Ohio, December 18, 1833; attended the public schools of Brown County and a private academy in Clermont County; taught school two years; began the study of medicine with his father; attended medical lectures and was graduated from the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, and later from the Ohio Medical College; continued the practice of his profession until his election to Congress; appointed superintendent of the Central Insane Asylum at Columbus in 1878, but declined to serve; county auditor; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); was not a candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of medicine until his death in Georgetown, Brown County, Ohio, September 7, 1894; interment in Confidence Cemetery.

ELLSWORTH, Charles Clinton, a Representative from Michigan; born in West Berkshire, Franklin County, Vt., January 29, 1824; attended the common schools of West Berkshire and the academy at Bakersfield, Vt.; taught school in Vermont one winter; moved to Howell, Livingston County, Mich.; taught school one term; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1848, and commenced practice in Howell, Mich.; prosecuting attorney of Livingston County in 1849; moved to Montcalm County and settled in Greenville in 1851; served as the first president of the village; member of the State house of representatives 1852-1854; prosecuting attorney of Montcalm County in 1853; during the Civil War served in the Union Army as paymaster with the rank of major in 1862; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; resumed the practice of law; died in Greenville, Mich., June 25, 1890; interment in Forest Home Cemetery.

ELLSWORTH, Franklin Fowler, a Representative from Minnesota; born in St. James, Watonwan County, Minn., July 10, 1879; attended the public and high schools; enlisted as a private in Company H, Twelfth Regiment Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, during the Spanish-American War; attended the law department of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis; was admitted to the bar in 1901 and commenced practice in St. James, Minn.; city attorney of St. James in 1904 and 1905; prosecuting attorney of Watonwan County 1905-1909; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); was not a candidate for renomination in 1920, having become a gubernatorial candidate; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Minnesota in 1920; resumed the practice of his profession, and is a resident of Mankato, Minn.

ELLSWORTH, Oliver (father of William Wolcott Ellsworth), a Delegate and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Windsor, Conn., April 29, 1745; pursued preparatory studies; attended Yale College, New Haven, Conn., and was graduated from Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., in 1766; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1771, and commenced practice in Windsor; moved to Hartford, Conn., in 1775; representative in the general assembly in 1775 and 1776; appointed State attorney in 1777; Member of the Continental Congress 1777-1784; from 1780 to 1785 he was a member of the governor's council, which with the lower house before 1784 and alone from 1784 to 1807 constituted a supreme court of errors; declined appointment in 1784 as Commissioner of the Treasury, tendered by the Continental Congress; judge of the Connecticut Superior Court 1785-1789; delegate to the convention which framed the Federal Constitution in 1787; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate; reelected and served from March 4, 1789, to March 8, 1796, when he resigned, having been appointed Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court on March 4, 1796; retired from the bench in 1799; appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to France February 26, 1799, to negotiate a treaty, and served until November 3, 1799; returned to the United States in 1801; again a member of the governor's council 1801-1807; died in Windsor, Conn., November 26, 1807; interment in the Old Cemetery.

ELLSWORTH, Samuel Stewart, a Representative from New York; born in Pownal, Vt., October 13, 1790; attended the common schools; moved to Penn Yan, N. Y., in 1819 and engaged in mercantile pursuits; supervisor of Milo, Yates County, 1824-1828; judge of Yates County 1824-1829; served in the State assembly in 1840; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); died in Penn Yan, N. Y., June 4, 1863; interment in Lake View Cemetery.

ELLSWORTH, William Wolcott (son of Oliver Ellsworth), a Representative from Connecticut; born in Windsor, Conn., November 10, 1791; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1810; studied law in Litchfield, Conn., was admitted to the bar in 1813, and practiced; appointed professor of law at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., in 1827, which he held until his death; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1829, to July 8, 1834, when he resigned; Governor of Connecticut 1838-1842; judge of the State supreme court from 1847 to 1861, when, by the constitutional provision relative to age, he was retired; twice declined to accept the nomination to the United States Senate; retired from public life; died in Hartford, Conn., January 15, 1868; interment in the Old North Cemetery.

ELLWOOD, Reuben, a Representative from Illinois; born in Minden, Montgomery County, N. Y., February 21, 1821; attended the public schools and Cherry Valley Seminary, New York; manufacturer of agricultural implements; member of the New York State Assembly in 1851; moved to Sycamore, Ill., about 1854; resumed manufacturing interests and engaged in the hardware business; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1883, until his death, before the assembling of the Forty-ninth Congress, in Sycamore, Ill., July 1, 1885; interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

ELMENDORF, Lucas Conrad, a Representative from New York; born in Kingston, N. Y., in 1758; was graduated from Princeton College in 1782; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1785, and practiced; unsuccessful candidate in 1794 for election to the Fourth Congress; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1803); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1802; member of the State assembly in 1804 and 1805; served in the State senate 1814-1817; first judge of the court of common pleas (now county court) of Ulster County and served from 1815 to 1821; surrogate of Ulster County 1835-1840; died in Kingston, N. Y., August 17, 1843; interment in the crypt of the First Dutch Church.

ELMER, Ebenezer (brother of Jonathan Elmer and father of Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Elmer), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Cedarville, Cumberland County, N. J., August 23, 1752; pursued an academic course; studied medicine and practiced in Cedarville; served in the Revolutionary Army as ensign, lieutenant, surgeon's mate, and regimental surgeon; practiced medicine in Bridgeton, N. J., 1783-1789; member of the State general assembly 1789-1795, serving as speaker in 1791 and 1795; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1807); was not a candidate for renomination in 1806; member of the State council in 1807, and was chosen vice president of that body; collector of customs of Bridgeton from 1808 until 1817, when he resigned; reappointed in 1822 and served until 1832, when he again resigned; served in the War of 1812; adjutant general of the New Jersey Militia and brigadier general of the Cumberland brigade; vice president of Burlington College 1808-1817 and 1822-1832; retired from public life; was the last survivor of the Society of the Cincinnati of New Jersey; died in Bridgeton, N. J., October 18, 1843; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

ELMER, Jonathan (brother of Ebenezer Elmer and uncle of Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Elmer), a Delegate and a Senator from New Jersey; born in Cedarville, Cumberland County, N. J., November 29, 1745; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the first medical class of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1769 and practiced in Bridgeton, N. J.; high sheriff of Cumberland County in 1772; was chosen captain of a light infantry company in 1775; Member of the Continental Congress 1776-1778, 1781-1784, 1787, and 1788; member of the State council in 1780 and 1784; trustee of the College of New Jersey 1782-1785; surrogate of Cumberland County 1784-1802; president of the State medical society in 1787; elected as a Federalist to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1791; appointed presiding judge of the county court of common pleas in 1802, and served until his resignation in 1804; again appointed to the same office in the winter of 1813, but at the following term, in February, 1814, declined to serve further because of impaired health; died in Bridgeton, N. J., September 3, 1817; interment in the Old Presbyterian Cemetery.

ELMER, Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus (son of Ebenezer Elmer and nephew of Jonathan Elmer), a Representative from New Jersey; born in Bridgeton, N. J., February 3, 1793; attended the private schools and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; during the War of 1812 served in the militia as a lieutenant of artillery, and was promoted to the rank of brigade major and inspector; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1815, and commenced practice in Bridgeton, N. J.; prosecuting attorney for the State in 1824; member of the State general assembly 1820-1823, serving the last year as speaker; prosecutor of the pleas for Cumberland County in 1824; United States district attorney for the district of New Jersey 1824-1829; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; attorney general of New Jersey 1850-1852; justice of the State supreme court from 1852 until 1869, when he retired; died in Bridgeton, N. J., March 11, 1883; interment in the Bridgeton Cemetery.

ELMORE, Franklin Harper, a Representative and a Senator from South Carolina; born in Laurens District, S. C., October 15, 1799; was graduated from the South Carolina College at Columbia in 1819; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1821, and commenced practice in Walterboro, S. C.; was solicitor for the southern circuit 1822-1836; colonel on the staff of Governor Manning 1824-1826; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James H. Hammond; reelected to the Twenty-fifth Congress, and served from December 10, 1836, to March 3, 1839; president of the Bank of the State of South Carolina 1839-1850; declined appointment by President Polk as minister to Great Britain; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John C. Calhoun, and served from April 11, 1850, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 28, 1850; interment in the First Presbyterian Churchyard, Columbia, S. C.

ELSTON, John Arthur, a Representative from California; born in Woodland, Yolo County, Calif., February 10, 1874; attended the public schools; was graduated from Hesperian College, Woodland, Calif., in 1892 and the University of California at Berkeley in 1897; engaged in educational work; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1901, and commenced practice in Berkeley, Calif.; executive secretary to the Governor of California 1903-1907; member of the board of trustees of the State Institution for the Deaf and Blind 1911-1914; elected as a Progressive Republican to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, and Sixty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1915, until his death in Washington, D. C., December 15, 1921; remains were cremated in Oakland, Calif., and the ashes placed in the California Crematorium at Oakland.

ELVINS, Politte, a Representative from Missouri; born in French Village, St. Francois County, Mo., March 16, 1878; attended the public schools; was graduated from Carleton College, Farmington, Mo., in 1897 and from the law department of the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1899; was admitted to the bar in the same year and commenced practice in Elvins, Mo.; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Roosevelt and Fairbanks in 1904; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law in Elvins, Mo.; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; chairman of the State Republican committee 1912-1914; moved to Bonne Terre, Mo., in 1917 and continued the practice of law; maintains his legal residence at Bonne Terre, with residence also on Price Road, near Clayton, Mo.

ELY, Alfred, a Representative from New York; born in Lyme, New London County, Conn., February 15, 1815; attended the common schools and Bacon Academy at Colchester, Conn.; moved to Rochester, N. Y., in 1835; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Rochester; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1863); was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; while witnessing the Battle of Bull Run was taken a prisoner by the Confederates, and imprisoned in Richmond for nearly six months; resumed the practice of law; died in Rochester, N. Y., May 18, 1892; interment in the Ely vault in Mount Hope Cemetery.

ELY, Frederick David, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Wrentham, Norfolk County, Mass., September 24, 1838; attended Day's Academy, Wrentham, and was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1859; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice at Dedham, Mass., in 1862; trial justice 1867-1885; member of the State house of representatives in 1873; served in the State senate in 1878 and 1879; member of the school committee of Dedham 1882-1894; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1886 to the Fiftieth Congress; resumed the practice of law; justice of the municipal court of Boston 1888-1914; died in Dedham, Mass., August 6, 1921; interment in the Old Parish Cemetery.

ELY, John, a Representative from New York; born in Saybrook, Conn., October 8, 1774; completed preparatory studies; studied medicine, and practiced in Cocksackie, N. Y.; member of the State assembly in 1800 and 1812; one of the organizers of the New York State and Greene County Medical Societies in 1807 and also of the Albany Female Academy; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); resumed the practice of medicine; died in Cocksackie, N. Y., August 20, 1849; interment in the Old Cocksackie Cemetery.

ELY, Smith, Jr., a Representative from New York; born in Hanover, Morris County, N. J., April 17, 1825; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from the New York University Law School, New York City, in 1846; was admitted to the bar the same year, but never practiced his profession; engaged in mercantile pursuits in New York City; served as school commissioner 1856-1860; served in the State senate in 1858 and 1859; county supervisor in 1860, retaining the latter office until 1870, when it was abolished; commissioner of public instruction in 1867; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1873); was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; elected to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1875, to December 11, 1876, when he resigned; mayor of New York City in 1877 and 1878; appointed commissioner of parks in 1895, and served until 1897, when he resigned and retired from public life; died in Livingston, Essex County, N. J., July 1, 1911; interment in a private cemetery on his farm at Livingston.

ELY, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Longmeadow, Mass., August 14, 1785; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Yale College in 1787; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1791, and commenced practice in Springfield, Mass.; member of the State house of representatives 1801-1803; elected as a Federalist to the Ninth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1815); again a member of the State house of representatives in 1815 and 1816; died in Springfield, Mass., October 9, 1817, and was buried there.

EMBRE, Elisha, a Representative from Indiana; born in Lincoln County, Ky., September 28, 1801; moved to Indiana in 1811 with his father, who settled in Knox (now Gibson) County, near where Princeton was subsequently located; received a very meager schooling and was practically self-educated; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1836, and commenced practice in Princeton, Gibson County, Ind.; circuit judge for the fourth circuit of Indiana 1835-1845; was nominated as the Whig candidate for Governor of Indiana in 1840, but declined, preferring to run for Congress; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1848 to the Thirty-first Congress; resumed the practice of law and also interested in farming; died in Princeton, Ind., February 28, 1863; interment in Warnock Cemetery.

EMERICH, Martin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Baltimore, Md., April 27, 1846; attended the public schools; engaged in the importing business; appointed ward commissioner of the poor of Baltimore in 1870; member of the State house of delegates 1881-1888; aide-de-camp to Gov. William T. Hamilton 1880-1884, and to Gov. Elihu E. Jackson 1884-1887; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1887, and engaged in mercantile pursuits until 1896, when he engaged in the manufacture of bricks; member of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County 1892-1894; assessor of South Chicago 1897; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1905); was not a candidate for renomination in 1904; discontinued active business pursuits in 1907 and lived in retirement until his death; died while on a visit in New York City September 27, 1922; interment in Rosehill Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

EMERSON, Henry Ivory, a Representative from Ohio; born in Litchfield, Kennebec County, Me., March 15, 1871; moved with his parents to Lewiston, Me., where he attended the public schools and studied law; moved to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1892, and was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1893; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice in Cleveland, Ohio; member of the Cleveland City Council in 1902 and 1903; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1920; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Cleveland, Ohio.

EMERSON, Louis Woodard, a Representative from New York; born in Warrensburg, Warren County, N. Y., July 25, 1857; attended the district school and was graduated from Warrensburg Academy; engaged in the lumber, banking, and manufacturing business; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888, at Minneapolis in 1892, and at St. Louis in 1896; member of the State senate 1890-1893; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1903); resumed former business activities in Warrensburg, N. Y., and died there June 10, 1924; interment in the City Cemetery.

EMOTT, James, a Representative from New York; born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 9, 1771; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1790, and commenced practice in Ballston Center, N. Y.; land commissioner to settle disputes of titles to military reservations in Onondaga County in 1797; moved to Albany, N. Y., in 1800; member of the State assembly from Albany County in 1804, and served as speaker; elected as a Federalist to the Eleventh and Twelfth Congresses (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1813); member of the State assembly from Dutchess County 1814-1817, and served as speaker the first year; judge of the court of common pleas of Dutchess County from April 8, 1817, to February 3, 1823; appointed judge for the second judicial circuit February 21, 1827, and held that office until February, 1831, when he retired; died in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, N. Y., April 7, 1850; interment in the Poughkeepsie Rural Cemetery.

EMRIE, Jonas Reece, a Representative from Ohio; born in Hillsboro, Highland County, Ohio, April 25, 1812; pursued preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Hillsboro, Ohio; editor and publisher of the Hillsboro Gazette 1830-1848 and 1854-1856; leader in organizing the Hillsboro Female College; appointed postmaster of Hillsboro April 8, 1839, and served until February 23, 1841; member of the State senate 1847 and 1848; first probate judge of Highland County 1851-1854; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; moved to Mound City, Pulaski County, Ill., in 1857; engaged in mercantile pursuits, conducted a newspaper, and practiced law; police magistrate of the city in 1858; township treasurer of schools; master in chancery of Pulaski County, Ill.; died in Mound City, Ill., June 5, 1869; interment in Beech Grove Cemetery.

ENGLEBRIGHT, Harry Lane (son of William F. Englebright), a Representative from California; born in Nevada City, Nevada County, Calif., January 2, 1884; was graduated from the grammar and high schools; attended the University of California at Berkeley, was graduated as a mining engineer, and followed his profession; mineral inspector for the field division of the General Land Office, and also engineer for the State Conservation Commission of California, 1911-1914; actively connected with various mining enterprises in California; member of the American Mining Congress; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Raker, and served from August 31, 1920, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

ENGLEBRIGHT, William F. (father of Harry Lane Englebright), a Representative from California; born in New Bedford, Mass., November 23, 1855; moved with his parents to Vallejo, Calif.; attended private and public schools; entered the service of the United States at the navy yard, Mare Island, as Joiner's apprentice and completed his studies in engineering; established himself in Nevada City, Calif., as a mining engineer; member of the Nevada City Board of Education; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-ninth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James N. Gillett; reelected to the Sixtieth and Sixty-first Congresses, and served from November 6, 1906, to March 3, 1911; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; resumed his occupation as a mining engineer; died in Oakland, Calif., February 10, 1915; interment in Pine Grove Cemetery, Nevada City, Calif.

ENGLISH, James Edward, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in New Haven, Conn., March 13, 1812; attended the common schools; engaged in the lumber business, banking, and manufacturing; member of the New Haven Board of Selectmen 1847-1861; member of the common council in 1848 and 1849; member of the State house of representatives in 1855; served in the State senate 1856-1858; declined to be a candidate for reelection; unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1860; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); was not a candidate for renomination in 1864; delegate to the National Union Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; unsuccessful candidate for election as governor in 1866; elected Governor of Connecticut in 1867 and 1868; unsuccessful candidate for reelection as governor in 1869; again elected governor in 1870; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1872; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1872 to the Forty-third Congress; appointed as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Orris S. Ferry, and served from November 27, 1875, to May 17, 1876, when a successor was elected; engaged in manufacturing and commercial activities; died in New Haven, Conn., March 2, 1890; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

ENGLISH, Thomas Dunn, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 29, 1819; attended the Friends' Academy, Burlington, N. J., and was graduated from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1839; studied law, and was admitted to the Philadelphia bar in 1842, but mainly pursued journalism; wrote the song Ben Bolt in 1843, and was the author of many poems, ballads, and lyrics; moved to Virginia in 1852; prominent opponent of Know-Nothingism; moved to New York City in 1857, and to Newark, N. J., a year later; member of the State house of assembly in 1863 and 1864; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1864 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; resumed his former literary pursuits in Newark, N. J., until his death on April 1, 1902; interment in Fairmont Cemetery.

ENGLISH, Warren Barkley, a Representative from California; born in Charles Town, Va. (now West Virginia), May 1, 1840; attended the public schools and Charles Town Academy until June, 1861; served in the Confederate Army; moved to Oakland, Calif., and attended the California Military Academy; elected a member of the board of supervisors of Contra Costa County in 1877 and served four years; elected State senator in 1882; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Samuel G. Hilborn to the Fifty-third Congress and took his seat April 4, 1884, and served until March 3, 1885; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; engaged in the real-estate business in Oakland, Calif.; removed to Sonoma County, Calif., in 1905, where he engaged in viticulture; died in Santa Rosa, Calif., January 9, 1913; interment in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, Calif.

ENGLISH, William Eastin (son of William Hayden English), a Representative from Indiana; born at "Englishton Park," near Lexington, Scott County, Ind., November 8, 1850; moved to Indianapolis in 1865; attended public and private schools; was graduated from the law department of the Northwestern Christian (now Butler) University at Indianapolis in 1873; was admitted to the bar the same year and practiced in Indianapolis until 1882; member of the State house of representatives in 1880; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Stanton J. Peelle to the Forty-eighth Congress, and served from May 22, 1884, to March 3, 1885; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1884 and resumed his former business pursuits at Indianapolis; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions at Chicago in 1892 and 1896, and chairman of the committee on rules and order of business in the former; left the Democratic Party in 1900 and became active in the Republican Party; served without pay as captain and aide-de-camp on the staff of Gen. Joseph Wheeler in the Spanish-American War; was dangerously wounded in the bombardment of El Pozo Hill, at the Battle of Santiago; was the first elected commander in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans of the United States; president of the board of park commissioners of Indianapolis 1898-1900; president of the board of safety of Indianapolis 1904-1906; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; elected a member of the State senate in 1916; reelected in 1920 and again in 1924, and served until his death in Indianapolis, Ind., April 29, 1926; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

ENGLISH, William Hayden (father of William Eastin English), a Representative from Indiana; born in Lexington, Scott County, Ind., August 27, 1822; pursued classical studies at Hanover (Ind.) College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and commenced practice at Lexington, Ind.; principal clerk of the State house of representatives in 1843; clerk in the United States Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., 1844-1848; secretary of the Indiana State constitutional convention in 1850; member of the State house of representatives in 1851 and 1852 and served as speaker; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-third and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1861); Regent of the Smithsonian Institution 1853-1861; moved to Indianapolis, Ind., at the end of his congressional term; unsuccessful candidate for Vice President of the United States on the Democratic ticket of Hancock and English in 1880; author of several books; died at his home in Indianapolis, Ind., February 7, 1896; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

ENLOE, Benjamin Augustine, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Clarksburg, Carroll County, Tenn., January 18, 1848; attended the public schools, Bethel College, McKenzie, Tenn., and the Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; while a student at the latter institution in 1869 was elected a member of the State house of representatives; reelected under the new constitution in 1870; was graduated from the law department of Cumberland University in 1872; was admitted to the bar in 1873 and commenced practice in Jackson; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1872; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Tilden and Hendricks in 1876; appointed a commissioner by Governor Marks in 1878 to negotiate a settlement of the State debt; served on the State executive committee 1878-1880; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; edited the Jackson Tribune and Sun 1874-1886; elected as a Democrat to the Fifth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; edited the Daily Sun at Nashville, Tenn., for two years; moved to Louisville, Ky., and edited the Louisville Dispatch for two years; secretary of the State fair commission and director of exhibits from Tennessee at St. Louis World's Fair in 1903; elected railroad commissioner of Tennessee, and served from 1904 until his death in Nashville, Tenn., July 8, 1922; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

ENOCHS, William Henry, a Representative from Ohio; born near Middleburg, Noble County, Ohio, March 29, 1842; attended the common schools and Ohio University at Athens; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company B, Second Regiment Ohio Infantry, April 17, 1861; commissioned first lieutenant, Fifth Regiment West Virginia Infantry, September 15, 1861; captain April 19, 1862; lieutenant colonel September 29, 1863; colonel First Regiment West Virginia Infantry December 23, 1864; brevetted brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1865; mustered out July 21, 1865; was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School in 1866; was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Ironton, Ohio; member of the State house of representatives in 1870 and 1871; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until his death in Ironton, Lawrence County, Ohio, July 13, 1893; interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Myer, Va.

EPES, James Fletcher (cousin of Sydney Parham Epes), a Representative from Virginia; born near Blackstone, Nottoway County, Va., May 23, 1842; attended private schools and the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; during the Civil War served in the Confederate Army in Company E, Third Virginia Cavalry, and was wounded at Reams Station, Va.; was graduated from the law department of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1867, was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced practice at Nottoway Court House, Va.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; prosecuting attorney for Nottoway County 1870-1883; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1895); was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; retired to his plantation, "The Old Place," near Blackstone, Nottoway County, Va., and engaged in agricultural pursuits until his death there August 24, 1910; interment in Lake View Cemetery, Blackstone, Va.

EPES, Sydney Parham (cousin of James Fletcher Epes), a Representative from Virginia; born near Nottoway Court House, Nottoway County, Va., August 20, 1865; moved with his parents to Kentucky, and settled near Franklin, Ky.; attended the public schools; returned to Virginia in 1884 and edited and published a Democratic newspaper at Blackstone, Va.; delegate to all State conventions from 1890 until his death; member of the house of delegates in 1891 and 1892; register of the Virginia land office 1895-1897; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Fifty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1897, until March 23, 1898, when he was succeeded by Robert T. Thorp, who contested the election; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 3, 1900; interment in Lake View Cemetery, Blackstone, Va.

EPPEE, John Wayles, a Representative and a Senator from Virginia; born in Chesterfield County, near Petersburg, Va., in 1773; pursued an academic course; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1794, and commenced practice in Richmond, Va.; member of the State house of delegates 1801-1803; elected as a Democrat to the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1811); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Twelfth Congress; engaged in agricultural pursuits; elected to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); unsuccessful candidate for reelection to the Fourteenth Congress; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1817, to April, 1819, when he resigned on account of ill health; retired to his estate, "Eppington," in Chesterfield County, Va., where he died September 15, 1823; interment in the private cemetery of the Eppee family.

ERDMAN, Constantine Jacob (grandson of Jacob Erdman), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Upper Saucon Township, near Allentown, Lehigh County, Pa., September 4, 1846; attended the common schools of the district and a classical school in Quakertown, Pa.; was graduated from Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa., in 1865; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and practiced in Allentown, Pa.; elected district attorney in 1874; adjutant of the Fourth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, during the riots at Reading in 1877; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1897); was not a candidate for reelection in 1896; resumed the practice of law in Allentown; trustee of Muhlenberg College at Allentown; president of the Coplay Cement Manufacturing Co., the Allentown & Coopersburg Turnpike Co., and the Allen Fire Insurance Co. for many years; died in Allentown, Pa., January 15, 1911; interment in Fairview Cemetery.

ERDMAN, Jacob (grandfather of Constantine Jacob Erdman), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Coopersburg, Lehigh County, Pa., February 22, 1801; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1834-1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1846 to the Thirtieth Congress; discontinued agricultural pursuits and lived in retirement; elected associate judge of Lehigh County court November 9, 1866, and served until his death in Coopersburg, Pa., July 20, 1867; interment in the Blue Church Cemetery near Coopersburg, Pa.

ERMENTROUT, Daniel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Reading, Pa., January 24, 1837; attended the public and classical schools, Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., and Elmwood Institute, Norristown, Pa.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Reading, Pa.; elected district attorney in 1862 for three years; solicitor for the city of Reading 1867-1870; member of the board of school control of Reading 1868-1870; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York in 1868, and Cincinnati in 1880; chairman of the standing committee of Berks County in 1869, 1872, and 1873; member of the State senate 1873-1880; appointed in October, 1877, by Governor Hartranft, a member of the Pennsylvania Statuary Commission; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1888; delegate to the Democratic State conventions 1895-1899; elected to the Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1897, until his death in Reading, Pa., September 17, 1899; interment in the Charles Evans Cemetery.

ERNST, Richard Pretlow, a Senator from Kentucky; born in Covington, Ky., February 28, 1858; attended the public schools of Covington; was graduated from Chickering's Academy, Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1874, from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1878, and from the law school of the University of Cincinnati in 1880; was admitted to the bar in 1880 and practiced in Covington and Cincinnati; trustee of Centre College, the University of Kentucky at Lexington, and the Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio; delegate to several Republican National Conventions; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1920, and served from March 4, 1921, to March 3, 1927; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926; resumed the practice of law in Cincinnati, Ohio, and resides in Covington, Ky.

ERRETT, Russell, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in New York City, November 10, 1817; self-instructed; moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1829; engaged in newspaper work; elected comptroller of Pittsburgh in 1860; served as clerk of the Pennsylvania Senate in 1860, 1861, and 1872-1876; during the Civil War appointed additional paymaster in the United States Army in 1861, and served until mustered out in 1866; member of the State senate in 1867; appointed assessor of internal revenue in 1869, and served until 1873; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; appointed by President Arthur United States pension agent at Pittsburgh in 1883, and served in this capacity until May, 1887; died in Carnegie, Pa., April 7, 1891; interment in Chartiers Cemetery.

ERVIN, James, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Williamsburg District, S. C., October 17, 1778; was graduated from Rhode Island College (now Brown University), Providence, R. I., in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1800, and commenced practice in Pee Dee, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1800-1804; solicitor of the northern judicial circuit 1804-1816; trustee of South Carolina College 1809-1817; again a member of the State house of representatives 1810 and 1811; elected as a protectionist to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Congresses (March 4, 1817-March 3, 1821); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1820; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State senate 1820-1829; delegate to the State convention in 1832; died in Darlington, S. C., July 7, 1841; interment in the garden in the rear of his residence.

ESCH, John Jacob, a Representative from Wisconsin; born near Norwalk, Monroe County, Wis., March 20, 1801; moved with his parents to Milwaukee in 1835, and thence to Sparta, Wis., in 1871; attended the public schools; was graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in 1882 and from the law department of that university in 1887; was admitted to the bar the same year and commenced practice at La Crosse, Wis.; city treasurer of Sparta in 1885; organized the Sparta Rifles (afterwards known as Company I, Third Regiment Wisconsin National Guard) in 1883 and was commissioned captain, retaining the office until 1887; also assisted in the organization of Company M of the same regiment, serving as first lieutenant and afterwards as captain; was commissioned acting judge advocate general with the rank of colonel by Gov. W. H. Upham in January, 1894, and held the position for two years; delegate to the Republican State conventions in 1894 and 1896; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-sixth and to the ten succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1899-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1920; appointed a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission on March 11, 1921, and was elected chairman on January 1, 1927, in which capacity he is now serving; resides in Washington, D. C., with legal residence in La Crosse, Wis.

ESLICK, Edward Everett, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Pulaski, Giles County, Tenn., April 19, 1872; attended the public schools and Bethel College, Russellville, Ky.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1893, and commenced practice in Pulaski; also engaged in banking and agricultural pursuits; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Bryan and Sewall in 1896, of Bryan and Stevenson in 1900, and of Parker and Davis in 1904; served as Government appeal agent for Giles County during the World War; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927) Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

ESSEN, Frederick, a Representative from Missouri; born near Pond, St. Louis County, Mo., April 22, 1863; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; recorder of deeds of St. Louis County, 1894-1902; engaged in newspaper business at Clayton, Mo., becoming the owner of two papers which he combined under the name of the Watchman-Advocate; delegate to the Republican National Conventions at Chicago in 1904, 1908, and 1912; member of the Board of Education of Clayton and served as president 1909-1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jacob E. Meeker, and served from November 5, 1918, until March 3, 1919; was not a candidate for renomination in 1918; resumed his newspaper activities and is also interested in banking; resides in Clayton, Mo.

ESTABROOK, Experience, a Delegate from the Territory of Nebraska; born in Lebanon, N. H., April 30, 1813; moved with his parents to Clarence, Erie County, N. Y., in 1822; attended the public schools and Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; was graduated from the Chambersburg (Pa.) Law School; was admitted to the bar in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1839; worked as a clerk at the navy yard in Brooklyn and later commenced the practice of law in Buffalo; moved to Geneva, Wis., in 1840 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the second State constitutional convention in 1848; member of the State house of representatives in 1851; attorney general of Wisconsin in 1852 and 1853; appointed by President Pierce attorney general of the Territory of Nebraska, and served from 1855 to 1859; presented credentials as a Delegate elect to the Thirty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1859, to May 18, 1860, when he was succeeded by Samuel G. Dally, who contested his election; appointed by the governor to codify the Nebraska State laws in 1860; prosecuting attorney for Douglas County in 1867 and 1868, member of the State constitutional convention in 1871; died in Omaha, Nebr., March 26, 1894; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

ESTERLY, Charles Joseph, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Reading, Pa., February 8, 1888; attended the public schools; engaged in commercial pursuits and also in the breeding of Ayrshire cattle and Berkshire hogs; during the World War served as chairman of the Red Cross roll calls in Reading and Berks Counties; member of the board of school directors of Wyomissing, Pa., 1914-1920; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1920; member of the Republican State committee 1922-1924; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1925-March 3, 1927); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1926; resumed former business interests; resides at Sally Ann Furnace, Pa.

ESTIL, Benjamin, a Representative from Virginia; born in Hansonville (now Russell County), Va., March 13, 1780; received an academic education, and attended Washington Academy (now Washington and Lee University), Lexington, Va.; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Abingdon, Va.; prosecuting attorney for Washington County; member of the State house of delegates 1814-1817; elected to the Nineteenth Congress (March 4, 1825-March 8, 1827); judge of the fifteenth judicial circuit from 1831 until 1852, when he resigned; retired to a farm in Oldham County, Ky., where he died July 14, 1853.

ESTOPINAL, Albert, a Representative from Louisiana; born in St. Bernard Parish, La., January 30, 1845; attended the public and private schools; left school in January, 1862, to enlist in the Confederate Army and served in Company G, Twenty-eighth Regiment Louisiana Infantry, being several times in charge of the guard to conduct Federal prisoners to Richmond; made sergeant of Company G, Twenty-second Louisiana Heavy Artillery, and served throughout the Civil War; engaged in the commission business at New Orleans for several years but most of his life was spent at his home, "Kenilworth Plantation," near New Orleans; sheriff of St. Bernard Parish 1872-1876; member of the State house of representatives 1876-1880; member of the constitutional conventions in 1879 and 1898; served in the State senate 1880-1900; lieutenant governor 1900-1904; chairman of the Democratic State central committee in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Adolph Meyers; reelected to the Sixty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from November 3, 1908, until his death in New Orleans, La., April 28, 1919; interment in St. Louis Cemetery No. 3, New Orleans, La.

ESTY, Constantine Canaris, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Framingham, Middlesex County, Mass., December 26, 1824; attended the local academies of Framingham and Leicester; was graduated from Yale College in 1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Framingham, Mass., in 1847; served in the State senate in 1857 and 1858; member of the State house of representatives in 1867; appointed assessor of internal revenue by President Lincoln in 1862 and served until he was removed for political reasons by President Johnson in 1866; reappointed by him in 1867; resigned in 1872; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George M. Brooks, and served from December 2, 1872, to March 3, 1873; was not a candidate for renomination in 1872; continued the practice of his profession in Framingham, Mass., until his death there December 27, 1912; interment in Edgell Grove Cemetery.

ETHERIDGE, Emerson, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Currituck, N. C., September 28, 1819; moved with his parents to Tennessee in 1831; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Dresden, Tenn.; member of the State house of representatives 1845-1847; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; elected to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); Clerk of the National House of Representatives 1861-1863; member of the State senate in 1869 and 1870; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1867; surveyor of customs in Memphis 1891-1894; died in Dresden, Tenn., October 21, 1902; interment in Mount Vernon Cemetery, near Sharon, Tenn.

EUSTIS, George, jr. (brother of James Biddle Eustis), a Representative from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., September 28, 1828; was graduated from Jefferson College, Convent, La., and from the law department of Harvard University; was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in New Orleans; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1859); secretary to John Silldell and was taken prisoner with him from the British mail steamer Trent in 1861; secretary of the Confederate mission at Paris; remained in Paris after the close of the war; commissioned by Elihu B. Washburne, United States minister at Paris, to negotiate a postal treaty with the French Government; died in Cannes, France, March 15, 1872; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

EUSTIS, James Biddle (brother of George Eustis, jr.), a Senator from Louisiana; born in New Orleans, La., August 27, 1834; pursued classical studies; attended the Harvard Law School in 1853 and 1854; was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in New Orleans; served as judge advocate during the Civil War in the Confederate Army on the staffs of General Magruder and Gen. Joseph E. Johnston; resumed the practice of law in New Orleans; elected a member of the State house of representatives prior to the reconstruction acts; one of the committee sent to Washington to confer with President Johnson on Louisiana affairs; member of the State house of representatives in 1872; served in the State senate 1874-1878; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1873, caused by the action of the Senate in declining to seat certain claimants, and served from January 12, 1876, to March 3, 1879; unsuccessful candidate for reelection; professor of civil law in the University of Louisiana 1877-1884; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1891; was not a candidate for reelection; practiced law in Washington, D. C., in 1891; United States ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to France 1893-1897; settled in New York City; died in Newport, R. I., September 9, 1899; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Ky.

EUSTIS, William, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Cambridge, Mass., June 10, 1753; attended the Boston public schools, and was graduated from Harvard College in 1772; studied medicine and served in the Revolutionary Army as surgeon; resumed practice in Boston; was a surgeon in the expedition sent to suppress Shay's Rebellion in 1780 and 1787; member of the State house of representatives 1788-1794; elected as a Democrat to the Seventh and Eighth Congresses (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1805); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1804 to the Ninth Congress; one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1804 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against John Pickens, judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire; appointed Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Madison, and served from March 7, 1809, to January 19, 1813; appointed United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Netherlands and served from December 10, 1814, to May 5, 1818; elected to the Sixteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Dowse; reelected to the Seventeenth Congress, and served from August 21, 1820, to March 8, 1823; did not seek renomination, having become a gubernatorial candidate; elected Governor of Massachusetts, and served from May 31, 1823, until his death in Boston, Mass., February 6, 1825; interment in the Old Burying Ground, Lexington, Mass.

EVANS, Alexander, a Representative from Maryland; born in Elkton, Cecil County, Md., September 13, 1818; received a public-school education; was a civil engineer's assistant; attended the local academy at Elkton; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and commenced practice in his native city; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1853); engaged in the practice of his profession until his death in Elkton, Md., December 5, 1888; interment in Elkton Presbyterian Cemetery.

EVANS, Alvin, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ebensburg, Cambria County, Pa., October 4, 1845; attended the public schools and the Iron City Business College, Pittsburgh, Pa.; engaged in lumbering; during the Civil War served in a volunteer company organized to repel the expected invasion of Pennsylvania by the Confederates under General Lee; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1873, and commenced practice in Ebensburg, Pa.; later practiced in the superior and supreme courts of the State and in the Federal courts; served one term as Burgess of Ebensburg Borough; solicitor for the Pennsylvania Railroad in Cambria County for several years; one of the incorporators and president of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Ebensburg; for a number of years served on the school board and in the common council of his native town; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1901-March 3, 1905); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1904; resumed the practice of his profession; died in Ebensburg, Pa., June 19, 1906; interment in Lloyd Cemetery.

EVANS, Charles Robley, a Representative from Nevada; born in Breckenridge, Sangamon County, Ill., August 9, 1866; attended the common schools; engaged in mining in Manhattan, Nev., in 1905; moved to Goldfield, Esmeralda County, Nev., in 1908 and continued mining operations; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Denver in 1908; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; is a resident of Washington, D. C.

EVANS, David Ellicott, a Representative from New York; born in Ellicott's Upper Mills, Md., March 19, 1788; attended the common schools; moved to New York in 1803 and settled in Batavia; clerk and agent of the Holland Land Co.; member of the State senate 1810-1822; member of the council of appointment in 1820 and 1821; elected as a Democrat to the Twentieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1827, until his resignation before the assembling of Congress; died in Batavia, Genesee County, N. Y., May 17, 1850; interment in Batavia Cemetery.

EVANS, David Reid, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Westminster, England, February 20, 1769; emigrated to the United States in 1784 with his father, who settled in South Carolina; attended Mount Zion College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1796, and commenced practice in Winnsboro; member of the State house of representatives 1800-1804; solicitor of the middle judicial circuit 1804-1811; elected as a Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); declined to be a candidate for reelection and returned to his plantation; member of the State senate 1818-1826; first president of the Fairfield Bible Society; died in Winnsboro, Fairfield County, S. C., March 8, 1843; interment in a lot in the rear of the residence of Mr. Harvey Flenniken on North Main Street.

EVANS, George, a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in Hallowell, Me., January 12, 1797; was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Gardiner, Me., 1818-1847; member of the State house of representatives, and served as speaker in 1829; elected to the Twenty-first Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Peleg Sprague; reelected to the Twenty-second and five succeeding Congresses, and served from July 20 1829, until his resignation, effective March 3, 1841, at the close of the Twenty-sixth Congress; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1841, until March 3, 1847; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1846; resumed the practice of law in Portland, Me.; member of the commission to ascertain the claims against Mexico in 1849 and 1850; elected attorney general of Maine in 1850, 1854, and 1859; died in Portland, Cumberland County, Me., April 6, 1867; interment in the Evans tomb, Oak Grove Cemetery, Gardiner, Me.

EVANS, Henry Clay, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Juniata County, Pa., June 18, 1843; moved to Wisconsin in 1844, with his parents, who settled in Platteville, Grant County; attended the common schools and a business school in Madison; was graduated from a business training school at Chicago in 1861; during the Civil War enlisted on May 6, 1864, as a corporal in Company A, Forty-first Regiment Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry; appointed quartermaster sergeant June 8, 1864; honorably discharged September 24, 1864; settled in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1870; engaged in the manufacture of freight cars at Chattanooga, Tenn.; elected mayor in 1881, serving two terms; organized the public-school system of Chattanooga and served as first school commissioner; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; First Assistant Postmaster General 1891-1893; elected Governor of Tennessee in 1894 on the face of the returns, but a legislative recount rejected certain votes and declared his Democratic opponent, Peter Turney, elected; elected governor in 1895; appointed Commissioner of Pensions April 1, 1897, and served until May 13, 1902, when he resigned to enter the diplomatic service, appointed United States consul general to London, England, May 9, 1902, retiring in 1905; chosen commissioner of health and education of Chattanooga in 1911; delegate to several Republican National Conventions from 1892 to 1912; died in Chattanooga, Tenn., December 12, 1921; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, St. Elmo, Chattanooga, Tenn.

EVANS, Hiram Kinsman, a Representative from Iowa; born in Walnut Township, Wayne County, Iowa, March 17, 1863; attended the country schools and Seymour and Allerton (Iowa) High Schools; was graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa at Iowa City in 1886; was admitted to the bar in 1886, and commenced practice in Holdrege, Nebr.; moved to Corydon, Iowa, in 1889; prosecuting attorney for Wayne County 1891-1895; member of the State house of representatives in 1896 and 1897; member of the board of regents of the University of Iowa 1897-1904; mayor of Corydon 1901-1903; judge of the third judicial district of Iowa from 1904 until 1923, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-eighth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Horace M. Townner, and served from June 4, 1923, to March 3, 1925; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1924; appointed by the Governor of Iowa a member of the State board of parole on July 1, 1927, for a term of six years; resumed the practice of law, and is a resident of Corydon, Iowa.

EVANS, Isaac Newton, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Westchester, East Nantmeal Township, Chester County, Pa., July 29, 1827; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the medical department of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1851, and Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, in 1852; commenced the practice of medicine in Johnsville, Bucks County, Pa., in 1852; moved to Hatboro, Montgomery County, Pa., in 1856 and continued the practice of medicine; president of the Hatboro National Bank; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1879); was not a candidate for renomination; elected to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); declined to be a candidate for renomination; engaged in the practice of medicine, the real-estate business, and banking; died in Hatboro, Pa., December 8, 1901; interment in the Friends Cemetery, Horsham, Montgomery County, Pa.

EVANS, James La Fayette, a Representative from Indiana; born in Clayville, Harrison County, Ky., March 27, 1825; attended the public schools; moved to Indiana, and settled in Hancock County in 1837; moved to Hamilton County, Ind., and settled in Noblesville in 1850; was a miller and general trader; elected as a Republican to the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1879); resumed the grain elevator business; died in Noblesville, Ind., May 28, 1903; interment in Crownland Cemetery.

EVANS, John, a Delegate from Delaware; member of the Delaware Assembly in 1774, 1775, and 1776; deputy to the convention to formulate the State constitution in 1776; elected as a Delegate to the Continental Congress on November 10, 1776, but declined to serve on account of ill health; his credentials were presented December 2, 1776, and he was permitted to withdraw April 4, 1777, without having been present; justice of the State supreme court in 1777.

EVANS, John Morgan, a Representative from Montana; born in Sedalia, Pettis County, Mo., January 7, 1863; attended the common schools, the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., in 1884 and 1885, and was graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1887; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1888, and commenced practice in Missoula, Mont.; judge of the police court 1889-1894; register of the United States land office 1894-1898; mayor of Missoula under the first city commission government established in the State in 1911 and 1912; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, Sixty-fifth, and Sixty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1921); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1920 to the Sixty-seventh Congress; resumed the practice of law in Missoula, Mont.; elected to the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1923-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

EVANS, Joshua, Jr., a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Paoli, Chester County, Pa., January 20, 1777; attended the common schools; hotel keeper and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1820; appointed the first postmaster of Paoli December 9, 1820, and served until February 13, 1830; president of the Tredyffrin Township school board 1836-1846; brigadier general of State militia; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1833); was not a candidate for renomination in 1832; resumed his former business pursuits; died in Paoli, Pa., October 2, 1846; interment in the cemetery of the Great Valley Baptist Church, New Centerville, Pa.

EVANS, Josiah James, a Senator from South Carolina; born in Marlboro District, S. C., November 27, 1786; was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1808; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Marlboro District in 1811; member of the State house of representatives in 1812 and 1813; moved to Darlington District in 1816; again a member of the State house of representatives; State solicitor for the northern district of South Carolina 1816-1820; judge of the circuit court 1820-1835; judge of the State supreme court 1829-1852; elected as a State Rights Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1853, until his death in Washington, D. C., May 6, 1858; interment in a private cemetery within the grounds of his ancestral home at Society Hill, Darlington County, S. C.

EVANS, Lemuel Dale, a Representative from Texas; born in Tennessee January 8, 1810; studied law and was admitted to the bar; moved to Marshall, Tex., in 1843, and engaged in the practice of law; member of the State convention that annexed the State of Texas to the Union in 1845; elected as the candidate of the American Party to the Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1855-March 3, 1857); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; collector of internal revenue in 1867; member of the reconstruction convention in 1868; chief justice of the supreme court in 1870 and 1871; associate justice and presiding judge from 1872 to 1873, when he resigned; United States marshal for the eastern judicial district of Texas in 1875; died in Washington, D. C., July 1, 1877; interment in the Congressional Cemetery.

EVANS, Lynden, a Representative from Illinois; born in La Salle, La Salle County, Ill., June 28, 1858; attended the public schools, and was graduated from Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., in 1882; taught in the schools of La Salle and Evanston, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1885, and commenced practice at Chicago, Ill.; member of the Illinois, Chicago, and American Bar Associations; lecturer on corporation law in the John Marshall Law School in 1907 and 1908; author of Illinois Citations and Overruled Cases; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second Congress (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1913); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1912 to the Sixty-third Congress; resumed the practice of law; is a resident of Chicago, Ill.

EVANS, Nathan, a Representative from Ohio; born in Belmont County, Ohio, June 24, 1804; attended a country school in winter and worked on his father's farm in summer; county clerk of Belmont County in 1827 and 1828; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Hillsboro, Ohio; moved to Cambridge, Ohio, in 1832; mayor of Cambridge in 1841; prosecuting attorney of Guernsey County 1842-1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); was not a candidate for renomination in 1850; resumed the practice of law in Cambridge; again mayor of Cambridge 1855-1857; judge of the court of common pleas 1859-1864; resumed the practice of law; died in Cambridge, Ohio, September 27, 1879; interment in the South Cemetery.

EVANS, Robert Emory, a Representative from Nebraska; born in Coalmont, Huntingdon County, Pa., July 15, 1856; attended the public schools, the State normal school at Millersville, Pa., and the Indiana (Pa.) Normal School; employed in Colorado as a machinist 1877-1883; was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1886, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; moved to Dakota City, Nebr., in 1887; superintendent of Winnebago Industrial School 1889-1891; prosecuting attorney of Dakota County in 1895; resigned to become judge of the eighth judicial district, in which capacity he served from 1895 to 1899; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1912; president of the Nebraska State Bar Association in 1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1919-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress; resumed the practice of law in Dakota City, Nebr.; elected judge of the supreme court from the third district of Nebraska in 1924; moved to Lincoln, Nebr., where he died July 8, 1925; interment in Graceland Park Cemetery, Sioux City, Iowa.

EVANS, Thomas, a Representative from Virginia; born in Accomac County, Va.; attended the public schools and William and Mary College at Williamsburg; studied law and was admitted to the bar; member of the State house of delegates 1780, 1781, and 1794-1798; elected to the Fifth and Sixth Congresses (March 4, 1797-March 3, 1801); one of the managers appointed by the House of Representatives in 1798 to conduct the impeachment proceedings against William Blount, a Senator from Tennessee; moved to Wheeling, Va. (now West Virginia), in 1802; member of the State house of representatives in 1805 and 1806.

EVANS, Walter (nephew of Burwell Clark Ritter), a Representative from Kentucky; born near Glasgow, Barren County, Ky., September 18, 1842; attended the public school near Harrodsburg, Ky.; moved to Hopkinsville, Christian County; deputy county clerk in 1859; served as a captain in the Union Army 1861-1863; served as deputy and later as chief clerk of the circuit court; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1864, and commenced practice in Hopkinsville; delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1868, 1872, 1880, and 1884; elected to the State house of representatives in 1871 and to the State senate in 1873; moved to Louisville, Ky., in 1874, and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1876 to the Forty-fifth Congress; Republican nominee for governor in 1879; appointed by President Arthur Commissioner of Internal Revenue May 21, 1883, and served until April 20, 1885, when he returned to Louisville and resumed the practice of law; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress; appointed by President McKinley judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of Kentucky March 4, 1899, and served until his death at his home in Louisville, Ky., December 30, 1923; interment in Cave Hill Cemetery.

EVARTS, William Maxwell, a Senator from New York; born in Boston, Mass., February 6, 1818; attended the Boston Latin School, and was graduated from Yale College in 1837; was one of the four founders of the Yale Literary Magazine in 1836; studied for a year in Harvard Law School, was admitted to the bar in New York City in 1841, and practiced; assistant United States district attorney 1849-1853; chairman of the New York delegation to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; unsuccessful Republican candidate for the United States Senate in 1861; member of the State constitutional convention in 1867 and 1868; Attorney General of the United States in the Cabinet of President Grant from July 15, 1868, to March 3, 1869; chief counsel for President Johnson in the impeachment proceedings in 1868; counsel for the United States before the tribunal of arbitration on the Alabama claims at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1872; counsel for President Hayes, in behalf of the Republican Party, before the Electoral Commission; Secretary of State of the United States in the Cabinet of President Hayes from March 12, 1877, to March 8, 1881; delegate to the International Monetary Conference at Paris in 1881; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1885, to March 3, 1891; voluntarily retired from public life because of ill health; died in New York City February 28, 1901; interment in the Ascutney Cemetery, Windsor, Vt.

EVELEIGH, Nicholas, a Delegate from South Carolina; born in Charleston, S. C., about 1748; moved with his parents to Bristol, England, about 1755; was educated in England; returned to Charleston, S. C., in 1774; during the Revolutionary War was appointed captain in the Second South Carolina Regiment (Continental) June 17, 1775; engaged in the battle with the British fleet and forces at Fort Moultrie on June 28, 1776; was promoted to colonel and appointed deputy adjutant general for South Carolina and Georgia on April 3, 1778; served in the Georgia campaign at Fort Mifflin in July, 1778; resigned August 24, 1778; engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1781; Member of the Continental Congress in 1781 and 1782; member of the State legislative council in 1783; appointed First Comptroller of the United States Treasury on September 11, 1789, and served until his death in Philadelphia, Pa., April 10, 1791; interment probably in Philadelphia.

EVERETT, Edward (father of William Everett), a Representative and a Senator from Massachusetts; born in Dorchester, Mass., April 11, 1794; was graduated from Harvard University in 1811; tutor in that university 1812-1814; studied theology, and was ordained pastor of the Brattle Street Unitarian Church, Boston, February 9, 1814; professor of Greek literature in Harvard University 1815-1820; Elliot professor of Greek literature 1820-1826; overseer of Harvard University 1827-1847, 1849-1854, and 1862-1865; elected as a National-Republican to the Nineteenth and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1835); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1834; Governor of Massachusetts 1836-1840; appointed United States envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain, and served from September 13, 1841, to August 8, 1845; declined a diplomatic commission to China in 1845; elected president of Harvard University, and served from 1846 to 1849; appointed Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Fillmore to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Daniel Webster, and served from November 6, 1852, to March 3, 1853; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1853, until his resignation, effective June 1, 1854; unsuccessful candidate for Vice President in 1860 on the Constitutional-Union ticket with John Bell of Tennessee; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Johnson in 1864; died in Boston, Mass., January 15, 1865; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

EVERETT, Horace, a Representative from Vermont; born in Foxboro, Mass., July 17, 1779; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1797; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1801, and commenced practice in Windsor, Vt.; prosecuting attorney for Windsor County 1813-1818; member of the State house of representatives in 1819, 1820, 1822, 1824, and again in 1834; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1828; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1843); died in Windsor, Vt., January 30, 1851; interment in the Old South Burying Ground.

EVERETT, Robert William, a Representative from Georgia; born near Hayneville, Houston County, Ga., March 3, 1839; attended the village schools and Hayneville Academy; was graduated from Mercer University, Macon, Ga., in 1859; taught school in Polk and Houston Counties for two years; settled in Polk County, Ga., in 1860; entered the Confederate Army as a sergeant in Captain Gartrell's company, Gen. N. B. Forrest's escort squadron, and served until the close of the Civil War; again engaged in teaching school in Houston County and also in Cedartown, Ga., until 1872, when he abandoned the profession for agricultural pursuits; commissioner of roads and revenue of Polk County, 1875-1880; member of the Board of Education of Polk County 1880-1891, and served as president of the board 1882-1891; member of the State house of representatives 1882-1885; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second Congress (March 4, 1891-March 3, 1893); was not a candidate for renomination in 1892; resumed agricultural pursuits; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1898 and 1899; discontinued active pursuits and lived in retirement until his death in Rockmart, Polk County, Ga., on February 27, 1915; interment in Cedartown Cemetery, Cedartown, Ga.

EVERETT, William (son of Edward Everett), a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Watertown, Middlesex County, Mass., October 10, 1839; attended the public schools of Cambridge and Boston; was graduated from Harvard University in 1859, from Trinity College, Cambridge, England, in 1863, and from the law department of Harvard University in 1865; was admitted to the bar in 1866; studied for the ministry, and was licensed to preach in 1872 by the Suffolk Association of Unitarian Ministers; tutor in Harvard University 1870-1873; assistant professor of Latin 1873-1877; master of Adams Academy, Quincy, Mass., 1878-1893; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Cabot Lodge, and served from April 25, 1893, to March 3, 1895; was not a candidate for renomination in 1894; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in 1897; master of school at Quincy, Mass., where he died February 16, 1910; interment in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

EVERHART, James Bowen (son of William Everhart), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in the Boot, near West Chester, West Whiteland Township, Chester County, Pa., July 20, 1821; attended Bolmar's Academy, West Chester, Pa., and was graduated from Princeton College in 1842; studied law at Harvard University and in Philadelphia, Pa.; was admitted to the bar in 1845; went abroad and spent two years in study in the Universities of Berlin and Edinburgh; returned to West Chester, Pa., and engaged in the practice of law; during the Civil War served in Company B, Tenth Regiment Pennsylvania Militia, in the volunteer army called by Gov. Andrew G. Curtin to repel Lee's invasion in 1862 and 1863, and was promoted to major the latter year; member of the State senate from 1876 to 1882, when he resigned, having been elected to Congress; elected as a Republican to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1886; resumed the practice of law; died in West Chester, Pa., August 23, 1888; interment in Oakland Cemetery, near West Chester.

EVERHART, William (father of James Bowen Everhart), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Chester County, Pa., May 17, 1785; attended the common schools and became a civil engineer; served in the War of 1812 as captain of a company of riflemen; was the only passenger saved from the packet ship Abdon, wrecked off the coast of Ireland in 1822; upon his return to Pennsylvania he platted a large addition to the city of West Chester; was elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); was not a candidate for renomination; engaged in mercantile pursuits; died in West Chester, Pa., October 30, 1868; interment in Oakland Cemetery.

EVINS, John Hamilton, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Spartanburg District, S. C., July 18, 1830; attended the common schools, and was graduated from South Carolina College at Columbia in 1853; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1856, and commenced practice in Spartanburg, S. C.; entered the Confederate Army as a lieutenant and served until the close of the Civil War, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel; resumed the practice of law in Spartanburg; member of the State house of representatives in 1863 and 1864; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis in 1876; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, and Forty-eighth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1877, until his death in Spartanburg, S. C., October 20, 1884; interment in Magnolia Street Cemetery.

EWART, Hamilton Glover, a Representative from North Carolina; born in Columbia, S. C., October 23, 1849; pursued an academic course; was graduated from the literary and law departments of the University of South Carolina at Columbia; was admitted to the bar in 1870, and commenced practice in Hendersonville, N. C., in 1872; register in bankruptcy for the ninth congressional district; mayor of Hendersonville; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Hayes and Wheeler in 1876; member of the State house of representatives in 1887, 1895, and 1911; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-first Congress (March 4, 1889-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law; judge of the criminal court in 1895; judge of the circuit court in 1897; judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of North Carolina from July 16, 1898, to March 4, 1899, and April 14, 1899, to June 7, 1900; died in Chicago, Ill., April 28, 1918; interment in Oakdale Cemetery, Hendersonville, N. C.

EWING, Andrew (brother of Edwin Hickman Ewing), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Nashville, Tenn., June 17, 1813; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the University of Nashville in 1832; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1835, and commenced practice in Nashville, Tenn.; chosen trustee of the University of Nashville in 1833, and served in that office until his death; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first Congress (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1851); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1850; resumed the practice of law in Nashville, Tenn.; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1860; during the Civil War served as judge of Gen. Braxton Bragg's military court; died in Atlanta, Ga., June 16, 1864; interment in the Nashville City Cemetery, Nashville, Tenn.

EWING, Edwin Hickman (brother of Andrew Ewing), a Representative from Tennessee; born in Nashville, Tenn., December 2, 1809; completed preparatory studies, and was graduated from the University of Nashville in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1831, and commenced practice in Nashville, Tenn.; became a trustee of the University of Nashville in 1831, and served until his death; member of the State house of representatives in 1841 and 1842; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); was not a candidate for renomination; resumed the practice of law in Nashville; after the Civil War appointed president of the University of Nashville; died in Murfreesboro, Tenn., April 24, 1902; interment in Murfreesboro City Cemetery.

EWING, John, a Representative from Indiana; born in Cork, Ireland, May 19, 1789; emigrated to the United States with his parents, who settled in Baltimore, Md.; attended the public schools; moved to Vincennes, Ind., in 1813 and engaged in commercial pursuits; established the Wabash Telegraph; associate judge of the circuit court of Knox County from 1816 to 1820, when he resigned; unsuccessful candidate for the State senate in 1816 and 1821; appointed lieutenant colonel of the State militia in 1825; member of the State senate 1825-1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); elected to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1838 to the Twenty-sixth Congress; again a member of the State senate 1842-1844; retired from public life and active business pursuits; died in Vincennes, Ind., April 6, 1858; interment in the City Cemetery.

EWING, John Hoge, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born near Brownsville, Fayette County, Pa., October 5, 1796; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Washington (now Washington and Jefferson) College, Washington, Pa., in 1814; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1818, and commenced practice in Washington, Pa.; engaged in agricultural pursuits; trustee of Washington College 1834-1837 and of Washington Female Seminary 1846-1837; member of the State house of representatives in 1835 and 1836; served in the State senate 1838-1842; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1847); resumed agricultural pursuits; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; died in Washington, Pa., June 9, 1887; interment in Washington Cemetery.

EWING, Presley Underwood, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Russellville, Ky., September 1, 1822; attended the public schools; completed preparatory studies; was graduated from Centre College, Danville, Ky., in 1840 and from the law school of Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., in 1843; studied theology at the Baptist Seminary at Newton, Mass., in 1845 and 1846; traveled in Germany for a while; returned to Kentucky and practiced law in Russellville; member of the State house of representatives in 1848 and 1849; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1851, until his death in the town of Mammoth Cove, Ky., September 27, 1854; interment in Maple Grove Cemetery, Russellville, Ky.

EWING, Thomas, a Senator from Ohio; born near West Liberty, Va., December 28, 1789; moved with his parents to Ohio in 1792; pursued preparatory studies; was graduated from the Ohio University at Athens in 1815; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1816, and commenced practice in Lancaster, Ohio; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1831, to March 3, 1837; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1836; appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Harrison, and served from March 5 to September 13, 1841; appointed Secretary of the Interior by President Taylor, and served from March 8, 1849, to July 23, 1850; appointed to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Corwin, and served from July 20, 1850, to March 3, 1851; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1851; resumed the practice of law in Lancaster; delegate to the peace convention held in Washington, D. C., in 1861 in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; delegate to the Union National Convention in 1865; appointed Secretary of War by President Johnson on February 22, 1868, but the Senate refused to confirm the appointment; advocated the control of the flood waters of the Mississippi River by the National Government by using the Atchafalaya as waste weirs in 1870; died in Lancaster, Ohio, October 26, 1871; interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

EWING, Thomas (son of the preceding), a Representative from Ohio; born in Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio, August 7, 1829; pursued preparatory studies; private secretary to President Taylor 1849-50; was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1854; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Cincinnati, Ohio; moved to Leavenworth, Kans., in 1856; member of the Leavenworth constitutional convention of 1858; delegate to the peace convention held in Washington, D. C., in 1861 in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; chief justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas in 1861 and 1862, when he resigned; during the Civil War served in the Union Army; recruited the Eleventh Regiment Kansas Volunteer Cavalry and was commissioned its colonel on September 15, 1862; brigadier general of Volunteers March 13, 1863; brevetted major general of Volunteers for meritorious services at the Battle of Pilot Knob, Missouri; resigned February 23, 1865; practiced law in Washington, D. C., until 1871, when he returned to Lancaster, Ohio; member of the Ohio State constitutional convention in 1873 and 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1880; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Ohio in 1879; moved to New York City in 1881, where he engaged in the practice of law until his death there on January 21, 1896; interment in Oakland Cemetery, Yonkers, N. Y.

EWING, William Lee Davidson, a Senator from Illinois; born in Paris, Ky., August 31, 1795; pursued academic studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Shawneetown, Ill.; appointed by President Monroe receiver of the land office at Vandalia in 1820; brigadier general of State militia; colonel of the "Spy Battalion" during the Black Hawk War; clerk of the State house of representatives 1826-1828; member of the State house of representatives in 1830 and served as speaker; served in the State senate 1832-1834, and was chosen president pro tempore of that body in 1832; commissioned acting lieutenant governor March 1, 1833, caused by the resignation of Zadoc Casey; became Governor of Illinois in November, 1834, as successor to John Reynolds, who had resigned, but served only fifteen days; appointed as a Jackson Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Elias K. Kane, and served from December 30, 1835, to March 3, 1837; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1837; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1838 and 1840 and at both sessions was chosen speaker over Abraham Lincoln; again elected clerk of the State house of representatives in 1842; appointed auditor of public accounts in March, 1843; died in Vandalia, Ill., March 25, 1846; interment in Hutchinson Cemetery; reinterment in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Springfield, Ill.

FAIR, James Graham, a Senator from Nevada; born near Belfast, County Tyrone, Ireland, December 3, 1831; emigrated to the United States in 1843 with his parents, who settled in Illinois; received a thorough business training; moved to California in 1849 and engaged in mining until 1860, when he moved to Virginia City, Nev.; again engaged extensively in mining and eventually formed a partnership with John W. Mackay, J. C. Flood, and William S. O'Brien in 1867; this firm purchased the control of the Bonanza properties and various other well-known mines, from which the yield of gold and silver, while under the superintendency of Mr. Fair, was estimated at about $200,000,000; also engaged in the real-estate business in San Francisco and was largely interested in the various manufactures of the Pacific coast; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1881, to March 3, 1887; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1886; died in San Francisco, Calif., December 28, 1894; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

FAIRBANKS, Charles Warren, a Senator from Indiana and a Vice President of the United States; born near Unionville Center, Union County, Ohio, May 11, 1852; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, in 1872; agent of the Associated Press in Pittsburgh, Pa., and in Cleveland, Ohio; studied law, and was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court of Ohio in 1874; moved to Indianapolis, Ind., the same year and commenced practice; trustee of the Ohio Wesleyan University in 1885; chairman of the Indiana Republican State conventions in 1892 and 1898; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1893; delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis in 1896 and at Philadelphia in 1900; appointed a member of the United States and British Joint High Commission which met in Quebec in 1898 for the adjustment of Canadian questions; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1903, and served from March 4, 1897, until his resignation March 3, 1905, having been elected Vice President of the United States; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1904; elected Vice President of the United States in 1904 on the Republican ticket with Theodore Roosevelt as the nominee for President, and served from March 4, 1905, to March 3, 1909; resumed the practice of law in Indianapolis, Ind., where he died June 4, 1918; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

FAIRCHILD, Benjamin Lewis, a Representative from New York; born in Sweden (near Rochester), Monroe County, N. Y., January 5, 1868; attended the public schools of Washington, D. C., and a business college; was graduated from the law department of Columbian (now George Washington) University, Washington, D. C., in 1885; was admitted to the bar in 1885 and commenced practice in New York City; employed in the draftsman division of the United States Patent Office 1877-1879; clerk in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing 1879-1885; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1897); unsuccessfully contested the election of William L. Ward to the Fifty-fifth Congress; resumed the practice of law in New York City; elected to the Sixty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1919); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1918 to the Sixty-sixth Congress; again elected to the Sixty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1923); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1922 to the Sixty-eighth Congress, but was subsequently elected to that Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James V. Ganey; reelected to the Sixty-ninth Congress, and served from November 6, 1923, to March 3, 1927; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1926 to the Seventieth Congress; resumed the practice of law in New York City, and is a resident of Pelham, N. Y.

FAIRCHILD, George Winthrop, a Representative from New York; born in Oneonta, Otsego County, N. Y., May 6, 1854; completed preparatory studies; engaged in agricultural pursuits and apprenticed as a printer; owner of the Oneonta Herald Publishing Co. 1890-1912; also interested in banking and in the manufacture of time recorders; elected as a Republican to the Sixtieth and to the five succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1919); elected vice president of the International Peace Conference; appointed by President Taft on August 10, 1910, special commissioner to the First Centenary of Mexico at Mexico City, with the rank of minister; resumed his former business pursuits; president and director of the White Plains Development Co., White Plains, N. Y.; died in New York City December 31, 1924; interment in Glenwood Cemetery, Oneonta, N. Y.

FAIRFIELD, John, a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in Saco, York County, Me., January 30, 1797; attended the Saco schools, Thornton Academy, and Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.; engaged in trade; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1826, and commenced practice in Biddeford and Saco, Me.; trustee of Thornton Academy in 1828; appointed reporter of the State supreme court in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1835, to December 24, 1838, when he resigned, having been elected governor; served as Governor of Maine from 1839 to 1843, when he resigned, having been elected Senator; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Reuel Williams; reelected, and served from March 3, 1843, until his death; president of the Thornton board of trustees 1845-1847; died in Washington, D. C., December 24, 1847; interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Saco, Me.

FAIRFIELD, Louis William, a Representative from Indiana; born in a log cabin near Wapakoneta, Auglaize County, Ohio, October 15, 1858; moved to Allen County, Ohio, in 1866 and resided on a farm near Lima; moved to Middle Point, Van Wert County, Ohio, in 1872; by working on a farm and on the fencing gang of the Pennsylvania Railroad was able to attend two winter terms of school; attended a select school in 1875; taught school for six months, and then attended school at Ada, Ohio, in 1876; continued teaching and attending school until 1888; editor of the Hardin County Republican in 1881 and 1882; was selected to assist in the building of the Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., in 1885; vice president of and teacher at Tri-State College 1885-1917; unsuccessful candidate for the State senate in 1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-fifth and to the three succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1924; engaged in lecturing, and is a resident of Angola, Ind.

FAISON, John Miller, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Faison, Duplin County, N. C., April 17, 1862; attended Faison Male Academy, and was graduated from Davidson College, North Carolina, in 1883; studied medicine at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville; completed a post-graduate medical course at New York Polyclinic in 1885, and commenced practice at Faison, N. C., the same year; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State and county Democratic executive committee 1898-1906; member of the North Carolina Jamestown Exposition Commission; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1915); was not a candidate for reelection in 1914; died in Faison, N. C., April 21, 1915; interment in Faison Cemetery.

FALCONER, Jacob Alexander, a Representative from Washington; born in Ontario, Canada, January 26, 1869; moved with his parents to Saugatuck, Mich., in 1878; attended the public schools; moved to Washburn, Wis.; was graduated from Beloit (Wis.) Academy in 1890; moved to Everett, Wash., in 1894; engaged in the lumber business; mayor of Everett in 1897 and 1898; member of the State house of representatives 1904-1908, and served as speaker in the session of 1907; member of the State senate 1909-1912; elected as a Progressive to the Sixty-third Congress (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1915); unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket in 1914; engaged in the ship-brokerage business in New York City, 1915-1919; moved to Fort Worth, Tex., in 1919, and engaged in road-construction contracting; moved to Farmington, N. Mex., in 1925 and continued in road contracting.

FALL, Albert Bacon, a Senator from New Mexico; born in Frankfort, Franklin County, Ky., November 26, 1861; attended the country schools; principally self-taught; taught school; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and commenced practice at Las Cruces, N. Mex.; made a specialty of Mexican law; became interested in mines, lumber, land, railroads, farming, and stock raising in New Mexico and mining in Mexico; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1891 and 1892; appointed judge of the third judicial district in 1898; associate justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico in 1893; Territorial attorney general in 1897 and again in 1907; member of the Territorial council in 1897; served as captain of Company H in the First Territorial Infantry during the Spanish-American War; upon the admission of New Mexico as a State into the Union was elected in 1912 as a Republican to the United States Senate for the term ending March 3, 1913; reelected in June, 1912, but as the governor did not sign the credentials, he was again elected in January, 1913; reelected in 1918, and served from March 27, 1912, until March 4, 1921, when he resigned to accept a portfolio in the Cabinet of President Harding; appointed Secretary of the Interior and served from March 5, 1921, until March 4, 1923, when he resigned; resumed his former business pursuits, and is a resident of Three Rivers, N. Mex.

FARAN, James John, a Representative from Ohio; born in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 29, 1808; attended the common schools, and was graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1831; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1833, and commenced practice in Cincinnati; elected as a Democrat a member of the State house of representatives 1835-1839 and served as speaker in 1838 and 1839; served in the State senate 1839-1843, and was its presiding officer 1841-1843; associate editor and proprietor of the Cincinnati Enquirer 1844-1881; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1845-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; appointed by Governor Medill one of the commissioners to supervise the erection of the State capitol in 1854; mayor of Cincinnati 1855-1857; appointed by President Buchanan postmaster of Cincinnati June 4, 1855, and served until October 21, 1859; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1860; engaged in newspaper work until shortly before his death; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 12, 1892; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

FARIS, George Washington, a Representative from Indiana; born near Rensselaer, Jasper County, Ind., June 9, 1854; attended the public schools; was graduated from Asbury (now De Pauw) University in 1877; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1877, and commenced practice in Indianapolis, Ind.; moved to Terre Haute in 1880 and continued the practice of law; unsuccessful Republican candidate for circuit judge in 1884; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1901); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1900; engaged in the practice of law in Washington, D. C., until his death there on April 17, 1914; interment in Highland Lawn Cemetery, Terre Haute, Ind.

FARLEE, Isaac Gray, a Representative from New Jersey; born at White House, Hunterdon County, N. J., May 18, 1787; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Flemington; member of the State general assembly in 1819, 1821, 1822, and 1830; clerk of Hunterdon County 1830-1840; brigadier general of the State militia; elected to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1848-March 3, 1849); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; member of the State senate 1847-1849; judge of the court of common pleas 1852-1855; died in Flemington, N. J., January 12, 1856; interment in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

FARLEY, Ephraim Wilder, a Representative from Maine; born in Newcastle, Me., August 29, 1817; attended the common schools and was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1836; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Newcastle; member of the State house of representatives in 1843 and 1851-1853; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; member of the State senate in 1856; died in Newcastle, Me., April 3, 1880; interment in the family tomb on the family estate.

FARLEY, James Thompson, a Senator from California; born in Albemarle County, Va., August 6, 1829; attended the common schools; moved when quite young to Missouri and thence to California in 1850 and settled in Jackson; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1854, and commenced practice in Amador County; member of the State assembly in 1855 and 1856 and served as speaker in the latter year; member of the State senate 1860-1876 and served as president pro tempore in 1871 and 1872; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1879, until March 3, 1885; was not a candidate for renomination in 1884; resumed the practice of law; died in Jackson, Amador County, Calif., January 22, 1886; interment in the City Cemetery.

FARLEY, Michael Francis, a Representative from New York; born in Birr, Ireland, March 1, 1863; emigrated to the United States in 1881 and settled in Brooklyn, N. Y.; attended the public schools of New York City; engaged in the liquor business; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1915-March 3, 1917); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1916 to the Sixty-fifth Congress; engaged in his former business pursuits until his death in New York City October 8, 1921; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

FARLIN, Dudley, a Representative from New York; born in Norwich, New London County, Conn., September 2, 1777; moved to Dutchess County, N. Y., in early youth, and later to Warren County; engaged in the lumber and grain business; supervisor of the town of Warrensburg 1818-1820, 1827, and 1828; sheriff of Warren County in 1821, 1822, and again in 1828; member of the State assembly in 1824; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Jackson and Van Buren in 1832; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1835-March 3, 1837); resumed his former business pursuits; died in Warrensburg, Warren County, N. Y., September 26, 1837; interment in Warrensburg Cemetery.

FARNSWORTH, John Franklin, a Representative from Illinois; born in Eaton, Canada, March 27, 1820; completed preparatory studies; settled in Ann Arbor, Mich.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice at St. Charles, Ill.; moved to Chicago, Ill.; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1861); was not a candidate for renomination in 1860; served in the Union Army during the Civil War; commissioned colonel of the Eighth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Cavalry September 18, 1861; brigadier general of Volunteers December 5, 1862; resigned March 4, 1863, to take up his duties as Congressman; elected to the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first, and Forty-second Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1873); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1872; resumed the practice of law in Chicago, Ill.; moved to Washington, D. C., in 1880, and continued the practice of law until his death on July 14, 1897; interment in the North Cemetery, St. Charles, Ill.

FARQUHAR, John Hanson, a Representative from Indiana; born in Union Bridge, Carroll County, Md., December 20, 1818; attended the public schools; moved to Indiana with his parents, who settled in Richmond in 1833; employed as an assistant engineer on the White River Canal until 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Brookville, Ind.; secretary of the State senate in 1842 and 1843; chief clerk of the State house of representatives in 1844; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1852 to the Thirty-third Congress; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Lincoln and Hamlin in 1860; served as captain in the Nineteenth Infantry of the Regular Army in the Civil War; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth Congress (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1867); was not a candidate for renomination in 1866; moved to Indianapolis in 1870 and engaged in banking; appointed secretary of state by Gov. Conrad Baker; died in Indianapolis, Ind., October 1, 1873; interment in Crown Hill Cemetery.

FARQUHAR, John McCreath, a Representative from New York; born near Ayr, Scotland, April 17, 1832; attended Ayr Academy; emigrated to the United States when a boy and settled in Buffalo, N. Y.; was a printer, editor, and publisher for thirty-three years; president of the International Typographical Union 1860-1862; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army August 9, 1862, as a private in Company B, Eighty-ninth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry; was promoted to sergeant major August 13, 1862, captain February 24, 1863, and major April 25, 1863; served as judge advocate and as inspector on the staffs of Generals Willich, Beatty, and Wood in the Fourth Army Corps; was awarded the congressional medal of honor for distinguished bravery and skill on the battle field of Stone River, Tenn.; after the close of the war returned to Buffalo, N. Y., and resumed business activities; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1891); was not a candidate for renomination in 1890; member of the United States Industrial Commission 1898-1902; retired from public life and active business pursuits; died in Buffalo, N. Y., April 24, 1918; interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

FARR, Evarts Worcester, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Littleton, Grafton County, N. H., October 10, 1840; attended the common schools and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; during the Civil War entered the Union Army as first lieutenant of Company G, Second Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry; was promoted to captain of that company and mustered into the service on January 1, 1862; honorably discharged as captain of Company G on September 22, 1862, to accept appointment as major in the Eleventh Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry on September 23, 1862; honorably discharged as major in that regiment on June 4, 1865; assistant assessor of internal revenue 1865-1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1867, and commenced practice in Littleton; assessor of internal revenue 1869-1873; solicitor for Grafton County 1873-1879; member of the Executive Council of New Hampshire in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses, and served from March 4, 1879, until his death in Littleton, N. H., November 30, 1880; interment in Glenwood Cemetery.

FARR, John Richard, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Scranton, Lackawanna County, Pa., July 18, 1857; attended the public schools, School of the Lackawanna, Scranton, Pa., and Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.; was graduated from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.; newsboy, printer, and publisher; active in the real-estate business; served four years on the Scranton School Board; member of the State house of representatives in 1891, 1893, 1895, 1897, and 1899, and speaker of the session in 1899; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-second, Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth, and Sixty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1911-March 3, 1919); successfully contested the election of Patrick McLane to the Sixty-sixth Congress, and served from February 25 to March 3, 1921; resumed the real-estate business, and is a resident of Scranton, Pa.

FARRELLY, John Wilson (son of Patrick Farrelly), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Meadville, Crawford County, Pa., July 7, 1809; received a limited schooling; was graduated from Allegheny College at Meadville in 1826; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in Meadville; member of the State senate in 1828; served in the State house of representatives in 1837; again a member of the State senate 1838-1842; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; appointed Sixth Auditor of the Treasury by President Taylor, and served from November 5, 1849, until April 9, 1853, when he resigned; engaged in the practice of law in Meadville, Pa., until his death, December 20, 1860; interment in Greendale Cemetery.

FARRELLY, Patrick (father of John Wilson Farrelly), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1770, where he completed his education; emigrated to the United States in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar July 11, 1803, and commenced practice in Meadville, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives in 1811 and 1812; served in the War of 1812 as a major of militia; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1821, until his death in Meadville, Crawford County, Pa., January 12, 1826; interment in Greendale Cemetery.

FARRINGTON, James, a Representative from New Hampshire; born in Conway, Carroll County, N. H., October 1, 1791; attended the common schools; was graduated from Fryeburg Academy, Fryeburg, Me., in 1814; studied medicine, and engaged in practice in Rochester, N. H., in 1818; member of the State house of representatives 1828-1831; served in the State senate in 1836; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1839); appointed one of the trustees of the New Hampshire Insane Asylum in 1845; resumed the practice of medicine; was one of the organizers of the Rochester Bank, and served as president until his death in Rochester, N. H., October 29, 1859; interment in the Old Cemetery.

FARROW, Samuel, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Virginia in 1759; moved to South Carolina with his father's family, who settled in Spartanburg district in 1766; served in the Revolutionary War and was wounded in the face by a saber; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1793, and commenced practice in Spartanburg, S. C.; also engaged in agricultural pursuits near Cross Anchor; lieutenant governor of South Carolina 1810-1812; elected as a War Democrat to the Thirteenth Congress (March 4, 1813-March 3, 1815); was not a candidate for renomination in 1814; resumed the practice of law; also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives 1816-1821; died in Columbia, S. C., November 18, 1824; interment in the family burial ground on his plantation, near the battle field of Musgrove Mill, Spartanburg County, S. C.

FARWELL, Charles Benjamin, a Representative and a Senator from Illinois; born in Painted Post, Steuben County, N. Y., July 1, 1823; attended Elmira Academy; moved to Illinois in 1838 and settled in Mount Morris; employed in Government surveying and in farming until 1844, when he engaged in the real-estate business and banking in Chicago; clerk of Cook County 1853-1861; engaged in the wholesale dry-goods business; member of the State board of equalization in 1867; chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Cook County in 1868; national-bank examiner in 1869; elected as a Republican to the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses (March 4, 1871-March 3, 1875); presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from March 4, 1875, until May 6, 1876, when he was succeeded by John V. Le Moyne, who contested his election; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1876; resumed mercantile pursuits; elected to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1882; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John A. Logan, and served from January 19, 1887, until March 3, 1891; was not a candidate for reelection in 1891; resumed mercantile pursuits; died in Lake Forest, Ill., September 23, 1903; interment in Rosehill Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

FARWELL, Nathan Allen (cousin of Owen Lovejoy), a Senator from Maine; born in Unity, Waldo County, Me., February 24, 1812; attended the common schools; taught school in 1832 and 1833; moved to East Thomaston in 1834 and engaged in the manufacture of lime and in ship building; subsequently became a master mariner and trader; studied law, but was never admitted to the bar; moved to Rockland, Me., where he founded the Rockland Marine Insurance Co., and served as president; served in the State senate in 1853, 1854, 1861, and 1862, the last year as presiding officer; member of the State house of representatives in 1860, 1863, and 1864; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864; appointed and subsequently elected as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Pitt Fessenden, and served from October 27, 1864, to March 3, 1865; was not a candidate for reelection in 1865; resumed his activities in the insurance business; delegate to the Southern Loyalists Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; died in Rockland, Me., December 9, 1893; interment in Achorn Cemetery.

FARWELL, Sewall Spaulding, a Representative from Iowa; born in Keene, Coshocton County, Ohio, April 26, 1834; attended the common schools and an academy in Cleveland, Ohio; moved to Iowa in 1852 and engaged in agricultural pursuits; during the Civil War enlisted in the Union Army in 1862 as captain of Company H, Thirty-first Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry; promoted to major in 1864, and served until the close of the war; member of the State senate 1865-1869; assessor of internal revenue 1869-1873; collector of internal revenue 1875-1881; elected as a Republican to the Forty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1881-March 3, 1883); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882 to the Forty-eighth Congress; president of the Monticello State Bank; died in Monticello, Iowa, September 21, 1909; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

FASSETT, Jacob Sloat, a Representative from New York; born in Elmira, Chemung County, N. Y., November 13, 1833; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1875; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1878, and commenced practice in Elmira; district attorney of Chemung County in 1878 and 1879; proprietor of the Elmira Daily Advertiser 1879-1896; was a student in Heidelberg University, Germany; returned to Elmira, N. Y., in 1882 and resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate 1884-1891, and served as president pro tempore 1889-1891; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880 and at Minneapolis in 1892, and served as temporary chairman in the latter year; secretary of the Republican National Committee 1888-1892; unsuccessful candidate for Governor of New York in 1891; appointed by President Harrison collector of customs of the port of New York, and served from August 1 to September 15, 1891; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1904; elected to the Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses (March 4, 1905-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1916; chairman of the Republican advisory convention in 1918; engaged in the banking and lumber business in Elmira, N. Y.; died in Vancouver, British Columbia, April 21, 1924, while returning from a business trip from Japan and the Philippine Islands; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Elmira, N. Y.

FAULKNER, Charles James, a Representative from Virginia and from West Virginia; born in Martinsburg, Va. (now West Virginia), July 6, 1806; was graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., in 1822; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and practiced; member of the Virginia House of Delegates 1829-1834, 1848, and 1849; commissioner of Virginia on the disputed boundaries between that State and Maryland; member of the State senate from 1838 to 1842, when he resigned; member of the State constitutional convention in 1850; elected from Virginia to the Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1859); appointed United States minister to France by President Buchanan in 1859; returned to the United States in August, 1861, and was detained as a prisoner of state, but exchanged in December, 1861, for Alfred Ely, member of the United States House of Representatives from New York; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army and was assistant adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson; engaged in railroad enterprises; member of the State constitutional convention of West Virginia in 1872; elected as a Democrat from West Virginia to the Forty-fourth Congress (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1877); resumed the practice of law; died on the family estate, "Boydville," near Martinsburg, W. Va., November 1, 1884; interment in Norbourne Cemetery, Martinsburg.

FAULKNER, Charles James (son of the preceding), a Senator from West Virginia; born on the family estate, "Boydville," near Martinsburg, Va. (now West Virginia), September 21, 1847; accompanied his father, who was United States minister to France, to that country in 1859; attended school in Paris and Switzerland; returned to the United States in August, 1861; during the Civil War entered the Virginia

Military Institute at Lexington in 1862; served with the cadets in the Battle of New Market; served as aide to Gen. John C. Breckinridge, and afterwards to Gen. Henry A. Wise, and surrendered with the latter at Appomattox; was graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in June, 1868; was admitted to the bar in September, 1868, and commenced practice in Martinsburg, W. Va.; elected judge of the thirteenth judicial circuit in 1880; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate; reelected in 1893, and served from March 4, 1887, to March 3, 1899; permanent chairman of the Democratic State convention of West Virginia in 1888, and both temporary and permanent chairman of the Democratic State convention in 1892; appointed a member of the International Joint High Commission of the United States and Great Britain in 1898; member of the American Society of International Law; member of the committee of one hundred of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; trustee of the alumni endowment fund of the University of Virginia; retired from public life and devotes his time to the practice of law in Martinsburg, W. Va., and Washington, D. C., and to the management of his agricultural interests in West Virginia; resides in Martinsburg, W. Va.

FAUST, Charles Lee, a Representative from Missouri; born near Bellefontaine, Logan County, Ohio, April 24, 1879; moved with his parents to a farm near Highland, Doniphan County, Kans.; attended the public schools and Highland University; engaged in teaching in a country school near Highland 1898-1900; was graduated from the law department of the University of Kansas at Lawrence in 1903, was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced the practice of his profession in St. Joseph, Mo.; city counselor of St. Joseph 1915-1919; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

FAVROT, George Kent, a Representative from Louisiana; born in Baton Rouge, East Baton Rouge Parish, La., November 26, 1898; was graduated from the Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge in 1888 and from the law department of Tulane University, New Orleans, La., in 1890; was admitted to the bar in 1890 and commenced practice in Baton Rouge, La.; elected district attorney of the twenty-second judicial district of Louisiana in 1892; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1896; delegate at large to the State constitutional convention in 1898; elected district attorney in 1900 and district judge in 1904; elected to the Sixtieth Congress (March 4, 1907-March 3, 1909); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1908; member of the State house of representatives 1912-1916; resumed the practice of law in Baton Rouge, La.; elected to the Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1925); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1924 to the Sixty-ninth Congress; again engaged in the practice of law; elected judge of the nineteenth judicial district in 1926; is a resident of Baton Rouge, La.

FAY, Francis Ball, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Southboro, Worcester County, Mass., June 12, 1793; received a limited education; engaged in mercantile pursuits; postmaster of Southboro from September 15, 1817, to March 29, 1832; deputy sheriff of Worcester County 1824-1880; member of the Massachusetts General Court in 1830 and 1831; moved to Chelsea, which he represented in the Massachusetts General Court from 1834 to 1836 and in 1840; served in the State senate 1843-1845 and again in 1848; elected as a Whig to the Thirty-second Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert Rantoul, jr., and served from December 13, 1852, to March 3, 1853; at the same election was not a candidate for the Thirty-third Congress; mayor of Chelsea in 1857; founded the public library in Southboro, Mass.; settled in Lancaster in 1858; founded the State reform school in Lancaster; again a member of the State senate in 1868; died in South Lancaster, Mass., October 6, 1876; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett, Mass.

FAY, John, a Representative from New York; born in Hardwick, Worcester County, Mass., February 10, 1773; attended the common schools for a period of only six months; moved to New York with his parents, who settled in Montgomery County, and later in Galway, Saratoga County; moved to Northampton, Fulton County, in 1804; became a land surveyor and later engaged in agricultural pursuits, milling, and manufacturing; held various local offices, and was postmaster of Northampton several years; member of the State assembly in 1808, 1809, and 1812; elected as a Democrat to the Sixteenth Congress (March 4, 1819-March 3, 1821); resumed his former activities; served as sheriff of Jefferson County from 1828 to 1831; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Polk and Dallas in 1844; died in Northampton, N. Y., June 21, 1855; interment in the Old Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

FEARING, Paul, a Delegate from the Territory Northwest of the River Ohio; born in Wareham, Plymouth County, Mass., February 28, 1762; prepared for college by tutors; was graduated from Harvard University in 1785; studied law in Windham, Conn., and was admitted to the bar in 1787; moved to the Northwest Territory in May, 1788, and engaged in the practice of law at Fort Harmer, now a part of Marietta, Ohio; appointed United States counsel for Washington County in 1788; probate judge in 1797; member of the Territorial legislature 1799-1801; elected as a Federalist to the Seventh Congress (March 4, 1801-March 3, 1803); was not a candidate for renomination in 1802; resumed the practice of law and engaged in fruit and stock raising; appointed associate judge of the court of common pleas in 1810 and served seven years; appointed master in chancery in 1814; died at his home, below the mouth of the Muskingum River, near Marietta, Ohio, August 21, 1822; interment in Harmer Cemetery, Marietta, Ohio.

FEATHERSTON, Winfield Scott, a Representative from Mississippi; born near Murfreesboro, Rutherford County, Tenn., August 8, 1820; completed preparatory studies; moved to Mississippi and settled in Houston; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Houston, Miss.; elected as a Democrat to the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congresses (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1851); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; resumed the practice of law at Houston, Miss.; moved to Holly Springs in 1856; served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War; commissioned brigadier general March 4, 1862; paroled in Greensboro, N. C., May 1, 1865; unsuccessful candidate for United States Senator in 1865; member of the State house of representatives in 1876 and 1880; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1880; member of the State constitutional convention in 1890; died at Holly Springs, Miss., May 28, 1891; interment in Hill Crest Cemetery.

FEATHERSTONE, Lewis Porter, a Representative from Arkansas; born in Oxford, Lafayette County, Miss., July 28, 1851; attended the common schools and the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.; engaged in planting in Shelby County, Tenn., 1872-1881; moved to St. Francis County, Ark., and continued as a planter; member of the State house of representatives in 1887 and 1888; elected president of the State Wheel (a farmers' organization) in 1887 and reelected in 1888; successfully contested as an independent Union Laborite the election of William H. Cate to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 5, 1890, until March 3, 1891; unsuccessful candidate on the Union Labor ticket for reelection in 1890 to the Fifty-second Congress; engaged in railroad building and development of iron resources of Texas; was commissioned captain in the First Regiment United States Volunteers (Immune) in 1898; died at Longview, Tex., March 14, 1922; interment in Mission Cemetery, San Antonio, Tex.

FEELY, John Joseph, a Representative from Illinois; born on a farm near Wilmington, Will County, Ill., August 1, 1875; attended the public schools; was graduated from Niagara (N. Y.) University in 1895 and from the law department of Yale University in 1897; was admitted to the bar in Connecticut in 1897; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1898 and engaged in the practice of law; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1901–March 3, 1903); was not a candidate for renomination in 1902; engaged in the practice of his profession until his death in Chicago, Ill., February 15, 1905; interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Joliet, Ill.

FELCH, Alpheus, a Senator from Michigan; born in Limerick, York County, Me., September 28, 1804; prepared for college in Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in Houlton, Me., from 1830 to 1833; moved to Monroe, Mich., in 1833 and continued the practice of law; represented Monroe County in the State house of representatives 1835–1837; State bank commissioner in 1838 and 1839 and rendered great service in stamping out the so-called "wildcat" banks; auditor general of the State in 1842; appointed associate justice of the Michigan Supreme Court in 1842 and served until his resignation in 1845, having been elected governor; moved to Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1843; served as governor from January 5, 1846, to March 3, 1847, when he resigned, having been elected as a Democrat a United States Senator in February, 1847, and served from March 4, 1847, to March 3, 1853; president of the commission to settle Spanish and Mexican war claims 1853–1856; died in Ann Arbor, Mich., June 13, 1896; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

FELDER, John Myers, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Orangeburg District, S. C., July 7, 1782; was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1804; studied law in the Litchfield (Conn.) Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1808, and commenced practice in Orangeburg, S. C.; major of drafted militia in the War of 1812; elected a trustee of South Carolina College in 1812; member of the State house of representatives 1812–1816 and 1822–1824; served in the State senate 1816–1820; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congresses (March 4, 1831–March 3, 1835); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1834; engaged extensively in agricultural pursuits and in the lumber business; member of the State senate from 1840 until his death in Union Point, Ga., September 1, 1851; interment in the family burial ground on his former plantation, "Midway," near Orangeburg, S. C.

FELL, John, a Delegate from New Jersey; born in New York City February 5, 1721; attended the public schools; engaged in overseas commerce and also in agricultural pursuits; moved to Bergen County, N. J.; appointed judge of the court of common pleas on September 30, 1766, and served until October 1, 1774; member of the Provincial Congress which met in Trenton in May, June, and August, 1775; chairman of the committee of safety of Bergen County, N. J.; member of the provincial council in 1776; a zealous patriot for his country throughout the Revolution, as a result of which he was captured and held as a political prisoner from April 23, 1777, until January, 1778, when he was released; Member of the Continental Congress 1778–1780; member of the State council 1782 and 1783; moved to New York City in 1793, and subsequently to Coldenham, N. Y., where he resided with his son until his death on May 15, 1798; interment in Colden Cemetery.

FELLOWS, John R., a Representative from New York; born in Troy, N. Y., July 20, 1832; moved to Saratoga County, N. Y., with his parents, who settled near Mechanicville; attended the country schools; moved to Camden, Ark., in 1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1855, and commenced practice in Camden; presidential elector on the Constitutional-Union ticket of Bell and Everett in 1860; delegate to the State secession convention in 1861; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1868; during the Civil War entered the Confederate Army in the First Arkansas Regiment; after the Battle of Shiloh assigned to staff duties as assistant adjutant and inspector general, and ordered to report to General Van Dorn at Vicksburg; assigned to the staff of Brig. Gen. W. N. R. Bell, commanding a district in General Van Dorn's department; captured at the surrender of Port Hudson, La., July 9, 1863, and released June 10, 1865; returned to Camden, Ark., and resumed the practice of law; member of the State senate in 1866 and 1867; moved to New York City in 1868 and continued the practice of law; assistant district attorney 1869–1872 and 1885–1887; elected district attorney, and served from 1888 to 1890; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1891, until his resignation, effective December 31, 1893, having again been elected district attorney; district attorney of New York City from January 1, 1894, until his death; died in New York City December 7, 1896; interment in Trinity Church Cemetery.

FELTON, Charles Norton, a Representative and a Senator from California; born in Buffalo, N. Y., January 1, 1832; pursued an academic course in Syracuse, N. Y.; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but never practiced; went to California in 1849; engaged in mercantile pursuits and afterwards in banking; sheriff of Yuba County in 1853; subsequently tax collector; appointed treasurer of the United States Mint at San Francisco, and Assistant Treasurer of the United States, and served from September 4, 1868, to April 23, 1877; member of the State assembly 1878–1882; elected as a Republican to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885–March 3, 1889); was not a candidate for renomination; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Hearst, and served from March 19, 1891, to March 3, 1893; was not a candidate for reelection; State prison director 1903–1907; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Taft and Butler in 1912; died at his home in Menlo Park, Calif., September 13, 1914; interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Lawndale, San Mateo County, Calif.

FELTON, Rebecca Latimer (widow of William Harrell Felton), a Senator from Georgia; born near Decatur, DeKalb County, Ga., June 10, 1835; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the Madison Female College in 1852; writer and lecturer; delegate from the Georgia Agricultural Department to the Tennessee Centennial Exposition in 1887; served on the board of lady managers of the Chicago Exposition 1890-1894; chairman of the woman's executive board of the Cotton States and International Exposition, Atlanta, Ga., 1894 and 1895; juror on general agriculture at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis, Mo., in 1904; appointed by Gov. Thomas W. Hardwick as a Democrat to the United States Senate on October 3, 1922, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas E. Watson, and attended two sessions of the Senate (November 21 and 22, 1922), when a successor was elected; was not a candidate for election to fill this vacancy; has the distinction of being the first woman to occupy a seat in the Senate of the United States; is a resident of Cartersville, Bartow County, Ga.

FELTON, William Harrell (husband of Rebecca Latimer Felton), a Representative from Georgia; born near Lexington, Oglethorpe County, Ga., June 19, 1823; attended the common and primary schools; was graduated from the University of Georgia at Athens in 1843 and the Medical College of Georgia at Augusta in 1844; practiced medicine and also engaged in agricultural pursuits; member of the State house of representatives in 1851; ordained as a Methodist minister in 1857; served as a surgeon during the Civil War; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1875-March 3, 1881); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1880 to the Forty-seventh Congress; resumed his activity as a minister and again followed agricultural pursuits; again served in the State house of representatives 1884-1890; trustee from the State at large for the University of Georgia 1886-1892; died in Cartersville, Ga., September 24, 1900; interment in Cartersville Cemetery.

FENN, Edward Hart, a Representative from Connecticut; born in Hartford, Conn., September 12, 1856; attended the common schools, the Hartford High School, and Yale College, New Haven, Conn.; engaged in newspaper work; associated with the Hartford Post and the Hartford Courant as reporter, city editor, State editor, and special and editorial writer; reported sessions of the Connecticut Legislature from 1878 to 1908; member of the State house of representatives in 1907 and 1915; served in the State senate in 1909 and 1911; fish and game commissioner 1912-1916; served five years in the First Regiment of the Connecticut National Guard; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1921-March 3, 1927). Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

FENN, Stephen Southmyd, a Delegate from the Territory of Idaho; born in Watertown, Conn., March 28, 1820; moved with his parents to Niagara County, N. Y., in 1824; attended the public schools; moved in 1841 to Jackson County, Iowa, where he held several local offices; moved to California in 1850 and engaged in mining and ranching; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and commenced practice in that part of Washington Territory which became a part of the Territory of Idaho upon its organization in 1863, where he also engaged in mining; member of the Idaho Territorial Council 1864-1867; district attorney for the first judicial district in 1869; member of the Territorial house of representatives in 1872, and served as speaker of the house; engaged in agricultural pursuits; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Thomas W. Bennett to the Forty-fourth Congress; reelected to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from June 23, 1876, to March 3, 1879; was not a candidate for renomination in 1878; continued his former pursuits until July, 1891; died in Blackfoot, Idaho, April 13, 1892; interment in Asylum Cemetery.

FENNER, James, a Senator from Rhode Island; born in Providence, R. I., January 22, 1771; received a classical education, and was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R. I., in 1789; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1805, to October, 1807, when he resigned to become governor; Governor of Rhode Island 1807-1811, 1824-1831, and 1843-1845; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1816, 1820, and again in 1836; president of the Rhode Island Historical Society in 1822 and 1823, and served as its first presiding officer; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1842 and served as president; retired to his estate, "What Cheer," near Providence, R. I., and died there April 17, 1846; interment in the North Burial Ground, Providence, R. I.

FENTON, Lucien Jerome, a Representative from Ohio; born in Winchester, Ohio, May 7, 1844; attended the public schools, Lebanon Normal School, and Ohio University at Athens; during the Civil War enlisted as a private in Company I, Ninety-first Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, August 11, 1862, and was dangerously wounded at the Battle of Winchester, Va., September 19, 1864; discharged on account of wound on May 29, 1865; taught school from 1865 to 1881; unsuccessful candidate for clerk of the courts of Adams County in 1880; clerk in the United States Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., 1881-1884; returned to Ohio and organized the Winchester Bank, becoming its cashier and manager in 1884; appointed a trustee of the Ohio University at Athens by Governor McKinley in 1892; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1892; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1898; resumed banking in Winchester, Ohio; president of the Winchester School Board 1912-1922; president of the Adams County School Board 1918-1922; died in Winchester, Ohio, June 28, 1922; interment in Winchester Cemetery.

FENTON, Reuben Eaton, a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in Carroll, Chautauqua County, N. Y., July 4, 1819; completed preparatory studies; studied law; engaged in mercantile pursuits; supervisor of Carroll 1840-1852; one of the founders of the Republican Party and chairman of its first State convention in New York; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-third Congress (March 4, 1853-March 3, 1855); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1854 to the Thirty-fourth Congress; elected to the Thirty-fifth and to the three succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1857, until his resignation, effective December 20, 1864, having been elected Governor of New York; Governor of New York 1865-1868; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1869, to March 3, 1875; appointed chairman of the United States commission to the International Monetary Conference held at Paris in 1878; engaged in banking; died in Jamestown, N. Y., August 25, 1885; interment in Lakeview Cemetery.

FERDON, John William, a Representative from New York; born in Piermont, Rockland County, N. Y., December 13, 1826; was graduated from Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., in 1847; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the State assembly in 1855; served in the State senate in 1856 and 1857; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Baltimore in 1864 and at Cincinnati in 1876; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); died at Monmouth Beach, N. J., August 5, 1884; interment in private cemetery on the Ferdon estate in Piermont, N. Y.

FERGUSON, Fenner, a Delegate from the Territory of Nebraska; born in Nassau, Rensselaer County, N. Y., April 25, 1814; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Albany, N. Y.; moved to Albion, Mich., in 1846 and continued the practice of law; served successively as master in chancery, district attorney, and member of the State house of representatives 1854-1859; appointed by President Pierce chief justice of the Territory of Nebraska in 1854; moved to Bellevue, Nebr., in October, 1854; organized the first district and supreme courts of Nebraska; assisted the first Territorial legislature in drafting the first code of laws enacted for the government of the Territory; resigned as chief justice, having been elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1857-March 3, 1859); was not a candidate for renomination in 1858; died in Bellevue, Nebr., October 11, 1859; interment in Bellevue Cemetery.

FERGUSON, Harvey Butler, a Delegate and a Representative from New Mexico; born near Pickensville, Pickens County, Ala., September 9, 1848; attended the public schools of Alabama; was graduated from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., in 1873 and from the law department of that university in 1874; taught in the Shenandoah Valley Academy, Winchester, Va.; was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced the practice of law in Wheeling, W. Va.; moved to White Oaks, Lincoln County, N. Mex., in 1882, and to Albuquerque, N. Mex., in 1883; engaged in the practice of law; special United States attorney in 1893 and 1894; member of the Democratic National Committee 1896-1904; elected as a Democrat a Delegate to the Fifty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1897-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress and for election in 1902 to the Fifty-eighth Congress; upon the admission of New Mexico as a State into the Union was elected to the Sixty-second Congress; reelected to the Sixty-third Congress, and served from January 8, 1912, to March 3, 1915; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1914 to the Sixty-fourth Congress; died in Albuquerque, N. Mex., June 10, 1915; remains were cremated and the ashes sent to Los Angeles, Calif., and retained by relatives.

FERNALD, Bort Manfred, a Senator from Maine; born in West Poland, Androscoggin County, Me., April 3, 1858; attended the public schools, Hebron Academy, and a business and preparatory school in Boston; taught school; elected supervisor of schools in 1878; large landowner and agriculturist; extensive packer of canned goods from 1888 to his death; member of the board of trustees of Hebron Academy for many years; president of the Poland Telephone Co. and the Poland Dairy Co.; chairman of the Poland centennial committee in 1895; member of the State house of representatives 1896-1898; served in the State senate 1898-1902; Governor of Maine 1909-1911; president of the National Cannery Association in 1910; director of the Fidelity Trust Co. of Portland; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate in 1916 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edwin C. Burleigh; reelected in 1918 and 1924, and served from September 12, 1916, until his death in West Poland, Me., August 23, 1926; interment in Highland Cemetery.

FERRELL, Thomas Merrill, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Glassboro, Gloucester County, N. J., June 20, 1844; attended the common schools and completed an academic course; elected a member of the township committee in 1872 and 1873; president of Hollow Ware Glassworkers' Association 1878-1883; member of the school board 1885-1890, serving as its president in 1887; member of the State house of assembly in 1879 and 1880; member of the State senate in 1880 and 1881; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1884 to the Forty-ninth Congress; employed as a glassware salesman; died in Glassboro, N. J., October 20, 1916; interment in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery.

FERRIS, Charles Goadsby, a Representative from New York; born at "The Homestead," Throgs Neck, the Bronx, N. Y., about 1796; received a limited education; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced in New York City; member of the board of aldermen in 1832 and 1833; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Twenty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dudley Selden, and served from December 1, 1834, to March 3, 1835; elected to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); was largely instrumental in securing an appropriation through Congress to build the first telegraph line; died in New York City June 4, 1848.

FERRIS, Scott, a Representative from Oklahoma; born in Neosho, Newton County, Mo., November 3, 1877; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the Newton County High School in 1897 and from the Kansas City School of Law in 1901; was admitted to the bar in 1901 and commenced practice in Lawton, Okla.; member of the State house of representatives in 1904 and 1905; upon the admission of Oklahoma as a State into the Union was elected as a Democrat to the Sixtieth Congress; reelected to the Sixty-first and to the five succeeding Congresses, and served from November 16, 1907, until March 3, 1921; did not seek renomination as a Representative, having become a candidate for Senator; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912 and at St. Louis in 1916; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1920; moved to New York City in 1920; returned to Oklahoma in 1925; resumed the practice of law; engaged in the oil business and also in agricultural pursuits; elected a member of the Democratic National Committee in 1924; is a resident of Pauls Valley, Okla.

FERRIS, Woodbridge Nathan, a Senator from Michigan; born in Spencer, Tioga County, N. Y., January 6, 1853; attended the academies of Spencer, Candor, and Owego, N. Y., the Oswego (N. Y.) Normal Training School 1870-1873, and the medical department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1873 and 1874; principal of Spencer Academy in 1874 and 1875; principal of the Business College and Academy of Freeport, Ill., in 1875 and 1876, of Dixon (Ill.) Business College and Academy 1877-1879, and superintendent of schools in Pittsfield, Ill., 1879-1884; settled in Big Rapids, Mich., where he established the Ferris Industrial School (now the Ferris Institute) in 1884, and served as president until his death; president of the Big Rapids Savings Bank; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for election in 1892 to the Fifty-third Congress and for Governor of Michigan in 1904; Governor of Michigan 1913-1916; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1920; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate in 1922, and served from March 4, 1923, until his death in Washington, D. C., March 23, 1928; interment in Highland View Cemetery, Big Rapids, Mich.

FERRISS, Orange, a Representative from New York; born at Glens Falls, Warren County, N. Y., November 26, 1814; completed preparatory studies; attended the University of Vermont at Burlington; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1840, and commenced practice in Glens Falls, N. Y.; justice of the peace 1838-1841 and 1845-1848; inspector of public schools in 1839 and 1840; corporation clerk 1839-1842; county judge and surrogate of Warren County 1851-1863; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1871); was not a candidate for renomination in 1870; appointed by President Grant commissioner of southern claims, and served from 1871 to 1877; Second Auditor of the Treasury from May 12, 1880, until his resignation on June 19, 1885; retired to private life, and resided in Glens Falls, N. Y., where he died April 11, 1894; interment in Glens Falls Cemetery.

FERRY, Orris Sanford, a Representative and a Senator from Connecticut; born in Bethel, Fairfield County, Conn., August 15, 1823; pursued preparatory studies, and was graduated from Yale College, New Haven, Conn., in 1844; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and practiced; appointed judge of probate in 1849; member of the State senate in 1855 and 1856; prosecuting attorney for Fairfield County 1856-1859; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1858 to the Thirty-fifth Congress; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1859-March 3, 1861); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1860 to the Thirty-seventh Congress; entered the Union Army on July 23, 1861, as colonel of the Fifth Regiment Connecticut Volunteer Infantry; was mustered out April 12, 1862, to enable him to accept an appointment as brigadier general of United States Volunteers; served in the latter capacity until June 15, 1865, when he was honorably discharged on tender of resignation; elected as a Republican to the United States Senate; reelected in 1873 by a combination of Independent Republicans and Democrats, and served from March 4, 1867, until his death in Norwalk, Conn., November 21, 1875; interment in Norwalk Cemetery.

FERRY, Thomas White, a Representative and a Senator from Michigan; born in the old mission house of the Astor Fur Co. on Mackinac Island, Mich., June 10, 1827; moved with his parents to Grand Haven, Mich.; attended the public schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits in Grand Haven; member of the State house of representatives 1850-1852; member of the State senate in 1856; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860; appointed in 1864 to represent Michigan on the board of managers of the Gettysburg National Cemetery and reappointed in 1867; delegate to the Loyalist Convention at Philadelphia in 1866; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, and Forty-first Congresses (March 4, 1865-March 3, 1871); reelected to the Forty-second Congress, but resigned, having been elected Senator; elected to the United States Senate in 1871, reelected in 1877, and served from March 4, 1871, to March 3, 1883; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1882; President pro tempore of the Senate March 9 and March 19 to 24, 1875, and through the death of Vice President Wilson became presiding officer of the Senate, serving from December 6, 1875, to March 3, 1877; designated by the President to represent him at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia July 4, 1876; presided over the high court of impeachment of Secretary of War Belknap and over the sixteen joint meetings of the two Houses during the Hayes-Tilden contest in 1877; reelected President pro tempore of the Senate March 5, 1877, February 26, April 17, 1878, and March 3, 1879; died in Grand Haven, Mich., October 18, 1896; interment in Lake Forest Cemetery.

FESS, Simeon Davison, a Representative and a Senator from Ohio; born near Lima, Ohio, December 11, 1861; attended the country schools; was graduated from the Ohio Northern University at Ada in 1889; occupied the chair of American history at the Ohio Northern University 1889-1896; was graduated from the law department of that university in 1894; dean of the College of Law 1896-1900; vice president of the university 1900-1902; graduate student and lecturer at the University of Chicago 1902-1907; president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, 1907-1917; an editor and author; delegate to the fourth State constitutional convention in 1912; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-third and to the four succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1913-March 3, 1923); did not seek renomination, having become a candidate for Senator; chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee 1918-1922; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland in 1924; elected to the United States Senate in 1922 for the term commencing March 4, 1923, and ending March 3, 1929.

FESSENDEN, Samuel Clement (brother of Thomas Amory Deblols Fessenden and William Pitt Fessenden), a Representative from Maine; born in New Gloucester, Cumberland County, Me., March 7, 1815; pursued classical studies and was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1834, and from the Bangor (Me.) Theological Seminary in 1837; was ordained and installed as pastor of the Second Congregational Church, Rockland, Me., 1837-1850; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in 1858; judge of the Rockland municipal court; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); examiner in the United States Patent Office 1865-1879; United States consul at St. John, New Brunswick, 1879-1881; died in Stamford, Conn., April 18, 1882; interment in Woodland Cemetery.

FESSENDEN, Thomas Amory Deblols (brother of Samuel Clement Fessenden and William Pitt Fessenden), a Representative from Maine; born in Portland, Me., January 23, 1826; attended North Yarmouth Academy and Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.; was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1845; studied law, was admitted to the bar in April, 1848, and commenced practice in Mechanic Falls, Me.; moved to Auburn, Me., in 1850 and continued the practice of law; delegate to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia in 1856 and at Chicago in 1868; member of the State house of representatives in 1860 and 1868; prosecuting attorney for Androscoggin County in 1861 and 1862; elected as a Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles W. Wallon, and served from December 1, 1862, to March 3, 1863; was not a candidate for renomination in 1862; resumed the practice of law; presidential elector on the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax in 1868; died in Auburn, Me., September 28, 1888; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Lewiston, Me.

FESSENDEN, William Pitt (brother of Samuel Clement Fessenden and Thomas Amory Deblols Fessenden), a Representative and a Senator from Maine; born in Roscawen, Merrimack County, N. H., October 16, 1806; attended the common schools; was graduated from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1827, and practiced in Bridgeton, Bangor, and Portland, Me.; member of the State house of representatives in 1832 and 1840; delegate to the Whig National Conventions in 1840, 1848, and 1852; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1841-March 3, 1843); declined to be a candidate for reelection in 1842; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1845 and 1846; unsuccessful Whig candidate for election to the Thirty-second Congress; again a member of the State house of representatives in 1853 and 1854; elected as a Whig to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1853, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect; reelected in 1859, and served from February 10, 1854, to July 1, 1864, when he resigned to accept the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Lincoln, in which capacity he served until March 3, 1865; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; author of the plan for issuing Government bonds; again elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1865, until his death in Portland, Me., September 9, 1869; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

FEW, William, a Delegate and a Senator from Georgia; born near Baltimore, Md., June 8, 1748; moved with his parents to Orange County, N. C., in 1758; completed preparatory studies; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Augusta, Ga., in 1776; member of the State house of representatives in 1777, 1779, 1783, and 1793; member of the executive council in 1777 and 1778; engaged in the expedition for the subjugation of east Florida in 1778; presiding judge of the Richmond County court and surveyor general in 1778; served as lieutenant colonel of the Richmond County Militia in 1779; Member of the Continental Congress 1780-1782 and 1785-1788; original trustee for establishing the University of Georgia in 1785; delegate to the convention which revised the Federal Constitution in 1787; delegate to the Georgia convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1789, to March 3, 1793; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1795; judge of the Circuit Court of Georgia 1794-1797; moved to New York City in 1799; member of the State assembly 1802-1805; State prison inspector 1802-1810; United States commissioner of loans in 1804; director of the Manhattan Bank 1804-1814, and president in 1814; served as alderman in 1813 and 1814; died in Fishkill, N. Y., July 16, 1828; interment in the Reformed Dutch Church Cemetery, Fishkill Landing, Dutchess County, N. Y.

FICKLIN, Orlando Bell, a Representative from Illinois; born in Scott County, Ky., December 10, 1808; attended the common schools; was graduated from Transylvania Law School, Lexington, Ky., in 1830; was admitted to the bar in 1830 and commenced practice in Mount Carmel, Ill.; served in the Black Hawk War as quartermaster in 1832; colonel of the militia of Wabash County in 1833; State's attorney for the Wabash circuit in 1835; member of the State house of representatives in 1835, 1838, and 1842; moved to Charleston, Ill., in 1837; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth Congresses (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1849); elected to the Thirty-second Congress (March 4, 1851-March 3, 1853); resumed the practice of law in Charleston; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Buchanan and Breckinridge in 1856; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Cincinnati in 1856, at Charleston, S. C., in 1860, and at Chicago in 1864; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1869 and 1870; again served in the State house of representatives in 1878; presidential elector on the Democratic ticket of Cleveland and Hendricks in 1884; died in Charleston, Ill., May 5, 1880; interment in Mound Cemetery.

FIEDLER, William Henry Frederick, a Representative from New Jersey; born in New York City August 25, 1847; moved to New Jersey with his parents, who settled in Newark; attended the public and high schools; apprenticed to the hat-making trade at the age of fifteen; employed as clerk and engaged in the retail hat and later in the men's clothing business; elected an alderman of Newark in 1876 and 1878; member of the State house of assembly in 1878 and 1879; mayor of Newark 1880-1882; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1881; again a member of the State house of assembly in 1882; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); unsuccessful candidate for reelection; appointed postmaster of Newark, N. J., March 29, 1886, and served until October 1, 1889; resumed his former business pursuits until 1906, when he engaged in the real-estate business and in banking; unsuccessful candidate for mayor in 1904; died in Newark, N. J., January 1, 1919; interment in Fairmount Cemetery.

FIELD, David Dudley, a Representative from New York; born in Haddam, Middlesex County, Conn., February 18, 1805; educated by private tutors; was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., in 1825; studied law in Albany, N. Y., and New York City; was admitted to the bar in 1828, and commenced practice in New York City; author of many works on political, civil, and criminal procedure; unsuccessful candidate for election to the State assembly in 1841; member of the commission on legal practice and procedure 1847-1850; member of a State commission to prepare a political, penal, and civil code 1857-1865; member of the peace convention of 1861 held in Washington, D. C., in an effort to devise means to prevent the impending war; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Smith Ely, Jr., and served from January 11 to March 3, 1877; resumed the practice of law; died in New York City April 13, 1894; interment in Stockbridge Cemetery, Stockbridge, Mass.

FIELD, Moses Whelock, a Representative from Michigan; born in Watertown, Jefferson County, N. Y., February 10, 1828; moved with his parents to Cato, Cayuga County, N. Y.; attended the public schools, and was graduated from the academy in Victor, N. Y.; moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1844 and engaged in mercantile and agricultural pursuits; alderman of Detroit 1863-1865; elected as a Republican to the Forty-third Congress (March 4, 1873-March 3, 1875); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1874 to the Forty-fourth Congress; instrumental in organizing the Independent Greenback Party, having called the national convention at Indianapolis, Ind., May 17, 1876; gave fifty acres of land to Detroit for a park (Linden Park) in 1875; regent of the University of Michigan in 1888; lived on his farm, "Linden Lawn," in the township of Hamtramck, a suburb of Detroit, where he died March 14, 1889; interment in Woodmere Cemetery.

FIELD, Richard Stockton (grandson of Richard Stockton), a Senator from New Jersey; born in Princeton, N. J., December 31, 1803; pursued an academic course, and was graduated from Princeton College in 1821; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1825, and commenced practice in Salem, N. J.; moved to Princeton, N. J., in 1832; member of the State house of assembly in 1837; attorney general of the State 1838-1841; member of the State constitutional convention in 1844; elected professor in the Princeton Law School in 1847; appointed as a Republican to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John R. Thomson, and served from November 21, 1862, to January 14, 1863, when a successor was elected; was not a candidate for reelection in 1863; appointed by President Lincoln judge of the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey, and served from January 21, 1863, until his death in Princeton, N. J., May 25, 1870; interment in Princeton Cemetery.

FIELD, Scott, a Representative from Texas; born in Canton, Madison County, Miss., January 26, 1847; attended the McKee School in Madison County; during the Civil War enlisted in the Confederate Army as a member of the Harvey Scouts; later served in Maj. Gen. W. H. Jackson's division, Forrest's corps; saw active service in northern Alabama and through the Georgia and Tennessee campaigns under Generals Johnston and Hood; after the war resumed his studies, and was graduated from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1868; taught school for two years; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1872; moved to Calvert, Tex., in 1872 and practiced law; prosecuting attorney of Robertson County 1878-1882; served in the State senate 1887-1891; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1892; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1903-March 3, 1907); was not a candidate for reelection in 1906; continued the practice of law in Calvert, Tex., until 1913; engaged in extensive agricultural pursuits near Calvert, Tex., where he now resides.

FIELD, Walbridge Abner, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in North Springfield, Windsor County, Vt., April 26, 1838; was graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., in 1855; tutor at Dartmouth College in 1856, 1857, and 1859; studied law in Boston in 1858 and at the Harvard Law School in 1859, was admitted to the bar in 1860, and commenced practice in Boston, Mass.; member of the school committee of Boston in 1863 and 1864; served in the common council 1865-1867; appointed assistant attorney of the United States in 1865, serving in this capacity until April, 1869, when he was appointed Assistant Attorney General of the United States, holding this office until August, 1870, when he resigned; resumed the practice of law in Boston; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from March 4, 1877, to March 28, 1878, when he was succeeded by Benjamin Dean, who contested his election; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1881); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1880; appointed by Governor Long to the bench of the supreme judicial court on February 21, 1881; promoted to the position of chief justice on September 4, 1890, and served until his death in Boston, Mass., July 15, 1899; interment in Forest Hills Cemetery, West Roxbury, Mass.

FIELDER, George Bragg, a Representative from New Jersey; born in Jersey City, N. J., July 24, 1842; attended private and public schools in his native town, and was graduated from the Dickinson Lyceum in Jersey City and from Selleck's Academy, Norwalk, Conn.; engaged in banking, and, in company with his father, built the New Jersey Southern and New York, New Hampshire & Willimantic Railroads; enlisted as a private in the Union Army in 1862 and served throughout the Civil War, being promoted to sergeant major and lieutenant; elected register of Hudson County in 1884, and reelected in 1889; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-third Congress (March 4, 1893-March 3, 1895); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1894; elected county register for a third time in 1895; died in Windham, N. Y., August 14, 1906; interment in Bay View Cemetery, Jersey City, N. J.

FIELDS, William Craig, a Representative from New York; born in New York City February 13, 1804; attended the common schools; moved to Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y., in 1836 and engaged in mercantile pursuits and in 1847 engaged in the manufacture of cotton and linen goods; justice of the peace for sixteen years; clerk of Otsego County 1852-1855; supervisor of Otsego County in 1865 and 1866; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress (March 4, 1867-March 3, 1869); retired from public life; died in Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y., October 27, 1882; interment in the Laurens Cemetery.

FIELDS, William Jason, a Representative from Kentucky; born in Willard, Carter County, Ky., December 29, 1874; attended the public schools and the University of Kentucky at Lexington; engaged in agricultural pursuits and also in the real-estate business at Olive Hill, Ky.; was a commercial traveler 1899-1910; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-second and to the six succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1911, to December 11, 1923, when he resigned, having been elected governor; became Governor of Kentucky on December 11, 1923, for the term ending December, 1927; is a resident of Frankfort, Ky.

FILLMORE, Millard, a Representative from New York and a Vice President and a President of the United States; born in Locke Township (now Summerhill), Cayuga County, N. Y., January 7, 1800; reared on a farm; attended the primitive schools and was self-instructed under adverse conditions; was apprenticed to a clothier at fifteen years of age; taught school in Buffalo while studying law; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1823, and commenced practice in East Aurora, N. Y.; moved to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1830; member of the State assembly 1829-1831; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-third Congress (March 4, 1833-March 3, 1835); elected to the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1837-March 3, 1843); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1842; unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor in 1844; elected State comptroller in 1847, and served until his resignation on February 20, 1849; elected Vice President of the United States on the Whig ticket headed by Zachary Taylor in 1848, and was inaugurated March 4, 1849; became President upon the death of President Taylor, and served from July 9, 1850, to March 3, 1853; unsuccessful Whig candidate for President in 1852 and as the National American candidate in 1856; president of the Buffalo Historical Society; commanded a corps of home guards during the Civil War; traveled extensively; died in Buffalo, N. Y., March 8, 1874; interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

FINCH, Isaac, a Representative from New York; born in Stillwater, Saratoga County, N. Y., October 13, 1783; moved with his parents to Peru, Clinton County, N. Y., in 1787; attended the public schools; studied law, but did not engage in extensive practice; settled near Jay, Essex County, N. Y., and became interested in agricultural pursuits; served as major in the Twenty-sixth Regiment of Infantry during the War of 1812; member of the State assembly 1822-1824; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829-March 3, 1831); was not a candidate for renomination in 1830; resumed agricultural pursuits; died in Jay, N. Y., June 23, 1845; interment in the Central Cemetery.

FINCK, William Edward, a Representative from Ohio; born in Somerset, Perry County, Ohio, September 1, 1822; attended the public schools and St. Joseph's College; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1843, and commenced practice in Somerset, Ohio; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1850 to the Thirty-second Congress; member of the State senate in 1851; delegate to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore in 1852 which nominated Scott and Graham; again a member of the State senate in 1861; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1863-March 3, 1867); unsuccessful Democratic candidate for judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio in 1868; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-third Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hugh J. Jewett, and served from December 7, 1874, to March 3, 1875; resumed the practice of law; died in Somerset, Ohio, January 25, 1901; interment in Holy Trinity Cemetery.

FINDLAY, James (brother of John Findlay and William Findlay), a Representative from Ohio; born in Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pa., October 12, 1770; attended the public schools; moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1793; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the Territorial legislative council in 1798; United States receiver of public moneys at Cincinnati in 1800; United States marshal of Ohio in 1802; member of the State house of representatives in 1803; mayor of Cincinnati in 1805 and 1806, and again in 1810 and 1811; served in the War of 1812 as colonel of the Second Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and was commissioned brigadier general of the State militia for gallant service in that war; elected as a Jackson Democrat to the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Congresses (March 4, 1825-March 3, 1833); was not a candidate for renomination in 1832; unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio in 1834; died in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 28, 1835; interment in Spring Grove Cemetery.

FINDLAY, John (brother of James Findlay and William Findlay), a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pa., March 31, 1766; received a limited schooling; prothonotary 1809-1821; served as captain in the War of 1812; moved to Chambersburg, Pa.; register and recorder of deeds; clerk of the orphans' court; clerk of the court of quarter sessions 1809-1818; elected as a Democrat to the Seventeenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Duncan; reelected to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses, and served from October 9, 1821, to March 3, 1827; appointed postmaster of Chambersburg, Pa., March 20, 1829, and held the office until his death there November 5, 1838; interment in the Falling Spring Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Chambersburg.

FINDLAY, John Van Lear, a Representative from Maryland; born at Mount Tammany, near Williamsport, Washington County, Md., December 21, 1839; was privately tutored and pursued classical studies; was graduated from Princeton College in 1858; member of the State house of delegates in 1861 and 1862; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Baltimore, Md., in 1869; collector of internal revenue for the third district of Maryland at Baltimore in 1865 and 1866; appointed city solicitor for Baltimore in 1876 and served two years; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1887); resumed the practice of law; appointed a member of the Venezuelan Claims Commission in 1889; nominated as arbitrator on the Chilean Claims Commission in 1893, but the Senate rejected the nomination; died in Baltimore, Md., April 19, 1907; interment in Greenmount Cemetery.

FINDLAY, William (brother of James Findlay and John Findlay), a Senator from Pennsylvania; born in Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pa., June 20, 1768; attended the public schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; served as brigade inspector in the State militia; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Franklinton, Pa.; member of the State house of representatives 1797 and 1804-1807; State-treasurer 1807-1817; Governor of Pennsylvania 1817-1820; unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1820; elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy in the term commencing March 4, 1821, caused by the failure of the legislature to elect, and served from December 10, 1821, to March 3, 1827; was not a candidate for reelection in 1826; Director of the United States Mint from 1827 to 1841, when he resigned on account of illness; died in Harrisburg, Pa., November 12, 1840; interment in the Harrisburg Cemetery.

FINDLEY, William, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Ireland in 1741 or 1742; attended the parish schools; emigrated to the United States and settled in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1762; enlisted as a private, rose to the rank of captain, and served during the Revolution; moved to Westmoreland County, Pa.; tailor; member of the council of censors in 1788; member of the general assembly 1785 and 1786; member of the State supreme executive council 1789 and 1790; served in the State house of representatives 1790 and 1791; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1790; elected as a Democrat to the Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Congresses (March 4, 1791-March 3, 1799); engaged in agricultural pursuits; was in opposition to the Government during the Whisky Insurrection in 1794, and wrote a book defending his course; again a member of the State senate 1799-1802; elected to the Eighth and to the six succeeding Congresses (March 4, 1803-March 3, 1817); died near Greensburg, Pa., April 4, 1821; interment in Unity Meeting House Cemetery, near Latrobe, Pa.

FINE, John, a Representative from New York; born in New York City August 23, 1794; received private instructions; was graduated from Columbia College at New York City in 1809; studied law in the Litchfield (Conn.) Law School, was admitted to the bar in 1815, and commenced practice in Ogdensburg, St. Lawrence County, N. Y.; treasurer of St. Lawrence County 1821-1833; judge of the court of common pleas for St. Lawrence County from 1824 until his resignation in March, 1839; elected as a Democrat to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); again judge of the court of common pleas from February 16, 1843, until the court was abolished in 1847; unsuccessful candidate for judge of the State supreme court in 1847 and again in 1849; member of the State senate in 1848; resumed the practice of law; died in Ogdensburg, N. Y., January 4, 1867; interment in Ogdensburg Cemetery.

FINERTY, John Frederick, a Representative from Illinois; born in Galway, Ireland, September 10, 1846; completed preparatory studies; emigrated to the United States in 1864; enlisted in the Union Army during the Civil War and served in the Ninety-ninth Regiment New York State Militia; correspondent for the Chicago Times in the Sioux War of 1876, with General Crook; in the Northern Indian (Sioux) War of 1879, with General Miles; in the Ute campaign of 1879, with General Merritt, and afterwards in the Apache campaign of 1881, with General Carr; correspondent in Washington during the sessions of the Forty-sixth Congress 1879-1881; established the Citizen, a weekly newspaper, in Chicago in 1882; elected as an Independent Democrat to the Forty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1883-March 3, 1885); member of the board of local improvements 1906-1908; engaged in journalism; died in Chicago, Ill., June 10, 1908; interment in Calvary Cemetery.

FINKELNBURG, Gustavus Adolphus, a Representative from Missouri; born near Cologne, Germany, April 6, 1837; emigrated to the United States in 1848 with his parents, who settled in St. Charles, Mo.; attended St. Charles College, Missouri, and was graduated from the Cincinnati (Ohio) Law School in 1859; was admitted to the bar in 1860 and commenced practice in St. Louis, Mo.; served in the Union Army during the Civil War; member of the State house of representatives 1864-1868, and served as speaker pro tempore in 1868; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress and as a Liberal Republican to the Forty-second Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1873); appointed United States judge for the eastern district of Missouri in 1905, and served until March 31, 1907, when he resigned; died in Denver, Colo., May 18, 1908; interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery, St. Louis, Mo.

FINLEY, David Edward, a Representative from South Carolina; born in Trenton, Phillips County, Ark., February 28, 1861; attended the public schools of Rock Hill and Ebenezer, S. C., and was graduated from the law department of South Carolina College (now the University of South Carolina) at Columbia in 1885; was admitted to the bar in 1886 and commenced practice in York, S. C.; member of the State house of representatives 1890-1892; served in the State senate 1892-1896; trustee of the University of South Carolina 1890-1896; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-sixth and to the eight succeeding Congresses, and served from March 4, 1899, until his death; had been reelected to the Sixty-fifth Congress; died in Charlotte, N. C., January 26, 1917; interment in Rose Hill Cemetery, York, S. C.

FINLEY, Ebenezer Byron (nephew of Stephen Ross Harris), a Representative from Ohio; born in Orrville, Wayne County, Ohio, July 31, 1833; attended the public schools; studied law at Bucyrus, Ohio, from 1859 until the outbreak of the Civil War; was active in recruiting Company K, Twenty-fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in which he served as a first lieutenant; was honorably discharged in 1862 on account of wounds; resumed the study of law, was admitted to the bar in 1862, and commenced practice in Bucyrus, Crawford County, Ohio; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1877-March 3, 1881); was not a candidate for renomination in 1880; adjutant general of Ohio in 1884; served as circuit judge of the third circuit of Ohio; resumed the practice of law in Bucyrus, Ohio, where he died August 22, 1916; interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

FINLEY, Hugh Franklin, a Representative from Kentucky; born at Tyes Ferry, Whitley County, Ky., January 18, 1833; attended the common schools; engaged in agricultural pursuits; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1859, and commenced practice in Williamsburg, Ky.; member of the State house of representatives from 1861 to August, 1862, when he resigned; elected Commonwealth attorney in 1862, and served until 1863, when he resigned; again elected in 1867, and reelected in 1868 for six years; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; served in the State senate in 1875 and 1876, when he resigned; appointed in 1876 by President Grant United States district attorney for Kentucky, and served until 1877; resumed the practice of law; judge of the fifteenth judicial circuit, 1880-1886; elected as a Republican to the Fiftyeth and Fifty-first Congresses (March 4, 1887-March 3, 1891); unsuccessful candidate for renomination in 1890; resumed the practice of law and also engaged in the coal-mining business; died in Williamsburg, Ky., October 10, 1909; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

FINLEY, Jesse Johnson, a Representative from Florida; born near Lebanon, Wilson County, Tenn., November 18, 1812; pursued an academic course; captain in the Seminole War in 1836; studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1838; moved to Mississippi County, Ark., in 1840 and practiced his profession; served in the State senate in 1841; returned to Tennessee in 1842, settled in Memphis, and continued the practice of law; mayor of Memphis in 1845; moved to Marianna, Fla., in November, 1846; elected to the State Senate of Florida in 1850; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Scott and Graham in 1852; appointed judge of the western circuit of Florida in 1853; was elected to the same office in 1855 and again in 1859; appointed judge of the Confederate States court for the district of Florida in 1861; resigned and volunteered as a private in the Confederate Army in March, 1862, and was successively promoted to the rank of brigadier general November 18, 1863; settled in Lake City, Fla., in 1865, and continued the practice of law; moved to Jacksonville, Fla., in 1871; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of Josiah J. Walls to the Forty-fourth Congress, and served from April 19, 1876, to March 3, 1877; successfully contested the election of Horatio Bisbee, jr., to the Forty-fifth Congress, and served from February 20 to March 3, 1879; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Forty-seventh Congress, and served from March 4, 1881, to June 1, 1882, when he was succeeded by Horatio Bisbee, jr., who contested his election; presented credentials on December 5, 1887, as a Senator designate to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1887, but was not permitted to qualify for the reason that the appointment was made before the vacancy occurred; died in Lake City, Fla., November 8, 1904; interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Gainesville, Fla.

FINNEY, Darwin Abel, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Shrewsbury, Rutland County, Vt., August 11, 1814; attended the public schools and was graduated from the military academy at Rutland, Vt.; moved with his parents to Meadville, Pa.; clerk in a law office in Kingsbury, N. Y., in 1834 and 1835; was graduated from Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in 1840; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced practice in Meadville, Pa.; member of the State senate 1856-1861; elected as a Republican to the Fortieth Congress, and served from March 4, 1867, until his death, while traveling in Europe, at Brussels, Belgium, August 25, 1868; interment in Greendale Cemetery, Meadville, Pa.

FISCHER, Israel Frederick, a Representative from New York; born in New York City August 17, 1853; moved to Brooklyn in September, 1887; attended the public schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1879, and commenced practice in New York City; member of the executive committee of the Republican State committee 1888-1890, chairman of the executive committee of Kings County during the same period, and chairman of the campaign committee in 1888; elected as a Republican to the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Congresses (March 4, 1895-March 3, 1899); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1898 to the Fifty-sixth Congress; appointed on May 2, 1899, by President McKinley a member of the United States Board of General Appraisers (now the United States Customs Court) and is now chief justice of that court; delegate to the International Customs Congress, held in New York City in 1903; is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y.

FISH, Hamilton, a Representative and a Senator from New York; born in New York City August 3, 1808; attended Doctor Bancel's French School, New York City; was graduated from Columbia College, New York City, in 1827; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1830, and practiced in New York City; commissioner of deeds for the city and county of New York 1832-1833; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-eighth Congress (March 4, 1843-March 3, 1845); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; resumed the practice of law; Lieutenant Governor of New York from November, 1848, to January 1, 1849; Governor in 1849 and 1850; elected to the United States Senate, and served from March 4, 1851, to March 3, 1857; was not a candidate for reelection; president general of the Society of the Cincinnati from 1854 until his death; appointed by President Lincoln one of the board of commissioners for the relief and exchange of Union prisoners of war in the South; president of the New York Historical Society 1867-1869; appointed by President Grant Secretary of State on March 11, 1869; reappointed on March 17, 1873, and served until March 12, 1877; member of the joint high commission which settled the differences between the United States and Great Britain in 1871 and negotiated the treaty of Washington in 1873, and in the same year he negotiated with the Spanish minister the settlement of the Virginian question; resumed the practice of law and managed his large real-estate holdings in New York City; died in Garrison, N. Y., September 7, 1893; interment in St. Philip's Cemetery.

FISH, Hamilton (son of the preceding), a Representative from New York; born in Albany, N. Y., April 17, 1849; attended private schools in this country and in Switzerland, and was graduated from Columbia College, New York City, in 1869; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1873, and commenced practice in New York City; private secretary to his father when he was Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Grant 1869-1871; member of the State assembly 1884-1896, and served as speaker in 1895 and 1896; appointed by President Roosevelt in 1903 assistant treasurer of the United States at New York City; reappointed in 1907, and served until October, 1908, when he resigned; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-first Congress (March 4, 1909-March 3, 1911); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1910 to the Sixty-second Congress; retired from public life and active pursuits; is a resident of Garrison, N. Y.

FISH, Hamilton, Jr. (son of the preceding), a Representative from New York; born in Garrison, Putnam County, N. Y., December 7, 1888; attended the public schools; was graduated from Harvard University in 1910; served in the State assembly 1914-1916; during the World War was commissioned captain of Company K, Fifteenth New York National Guard (colored), which subsequently became the Three hundred and sixty-ninth Infantry; took an active part in the Battle of Champagne on July 15, 1918; decorated with the croix de guerre with silver star in connection with the capture of the village of Sechault in September, 1918, and also cited in War Department general orders; was commissioned major of Infantry, Fourth Division, Army of Occupation, March 13, 1919; honorably discharged May 14, 1919; commissioned lieutenant colonel in the Officers' Reserve Corps April 14, 1922, which commission he now holds; elected as a Republican to the Sixty-sixth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edmund Platt; reelected to the Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses, and served from November 2, 1920, to March 3, 1927. Reelected to the Seventieth Congress.

FISHER, Charles, a Representative from North Carolina; born near Salisbury, Rowan County, N. C., October 20, 1789; educated by private tutors in Raleigh, N. C.; studied law and was admitted to the bar, but did not practice to any extent; member of the State senate in 1818; elected as a Democrat to the Fifteenth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Mumford; reelected to the Sixteenth Congress, and served from February 11, 1819, to March 3, 1821; declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1820; member of the State house of commons 1821-1836, and served as speaker in 1831 and 1832; member of the State constitutional convention in 1835; elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress (March 4, 1839-March 3, 1841); was not a candidate for renomination in 1840; unsuccessful candidate for election in 1844 to the Twenty-ninth Congress; declined to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of North Carolina in 1846; died in Hillsboro, Miss., while on a visit, May 7, 1849.

FISHER, David, a Representative from Ohio; born in Somerset County, Pa., December 3, 1794; moved with his parents to Point Pleasant, Clermont County, Ohio, in 1799; pursued preparatory studies; was a lay preacher and newspaper contributor; member of the State house of representatives in 1834; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1844; editor and proprietor of a newspaper in Wilmington, Ohio, in 1846; elected as a Whig to the Thirtieth Congress (March 4, 1847-March 3, 1849); was not a candidate for renomination in 1848; while in Congress he occupied a seat next to John Quincy Adams, who fell into his arms when stricken with paralysis while delivering a speech; returned to Cincinnati, Ohio; city magistrate in 1849 and 1850; resumed newspaper activities; died near Mount Holly, Clermont County, Ohio, May 7, 1886; interment in Wesleyan Cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FISHER, George, a Representative from New York; born in Franklin, Mass., March 17, 1788; attended the common schools and Brown University, Providence, R. I.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in Oswego County, N. Y., in 1816, and commenced practice in Oswego, N. Y.; appointed inspector of schools in 1818; trustee of the village of Oswego in 1828 and 1833; presented credentials as a Member elect to the Twenty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1829, to February 5, 1830, when the seat was awarded to Silas Wright, Jr., who contested the election; trustee of schools in 1830; continued the practice of law in Oswego, N. Y., until 1833; took his family to France, where he spent five years for the education of his children; returned to Oswego and engaged in real-estate operations; served as president of the Northwestern Insurance Co. for several years; moved to New York City about 1856 and died there March 26, 1891.

FISHER, George Purnell, a Representative from Delaware; born in Milford, Sussex County, Del., October 13, 1817; attended the public schools of Kent County and Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md.; was graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1838; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1841, and commenced practice in Dover, Del.; member of the State house of representatives in 1843 and 1844; secretary of state in 1846; confidential clerk to Secretary Clayton in the Department of State at Washington in 1849; appointed by President Taylor a commissioner to adjudicate claims against Brazil, and served from 1850 to 1852; attorney general of Delaware 1857-1860; elected as a Union Republican to the Thirty-seventh Congress (March 4, 1861-March 3, 1863); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth Congress; appointed by President Lincoln on March 11, 1863, a judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, which position he resigned when appointed district attorney for the District of Columbia and served until 1875, when he resigned; returned to Dover; appointed by President Harrison on May 31, 1889, First Auditor of the Treasury Department and served until March 23, 1893; died in Washington, D. C., February 10, 1899; interment in Oak Hill Cemetery; reinterment in the old Methodist Cemetery, Dover, Del.

FISHER, Horatio Gates, a Representative from Pennsylvania; born in Huntingdon, Huntingdon County, Pa., April 21, 1838; attended public and private schools; was graduated from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., in July, 1855; engaged in mining, shipping, and the wholesale coal business; member of the borough council 1862-1865; auditor of Huntingdon County 1865-1868; Burgess of the borough of Huntingdon 1874-1876; member of the State senate 1876-1879; elected as a Republican to the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses (March 4, 1879-March 3, 1883); declined to be a candidate for renomination; resumed his former business pursuits; appointed by Governor Beaver a member of the board of managers of Huntingdon Reformatory in 1888; died in Punxsutawney, Pa., May 8, 1890; interment in River View Cemetery, Huntingdon, Pa.

FISHER, Hubert Frederick, a Representative from Tennessee; born in Milton, Santa Rosa County, Fla., October 6, 1877; attended the common schools, and was graduated from the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1898; took a post-graduate course at Princeton University in 1900 and 1901; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1904, and commenced practice in Memphis, Tenn.; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912; member of the State senate in 1913 and 1914; United States attorney for the western district of Tennessee 1914-1917; elected as a Democrat to the Sixty-fifth, Sixty-sixth, Sixty-seventh, Sixty-eighth, and Sixty-ninth Congresses (March 4, 1917-March 3, 1927). Re-elected to the Seventieth Congress.

FISHER, John, a Representative from New York; born in Londonderry, Rockingham County, N. H., March 13, 1806; attended the common schools; engaged in mercantile pursuits; managed an iron manufacturing establishment in Hamilton, Canada, 1836-1856; member of the City Council of Hamilton 1848 and 1849, and served as mayor in 1850; returned to New York State and settled in Batavia in 1856; acted as State commissioner in the erection of the institution for the blind in Batavia 1866-1868; president of a fire insurance company; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869-March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; engaged in the fire insurance business; died in Batavia, N. Y., March 28, 1882; interment in the Batavia Cemetery.

FISHER, Spencer Oliver, a Representative from Michigan; born in Camden, Hillsdale County, Mich., February 3, 1843; attended the public schools and Albion and Hillsdale Colleges in Michigan; engaged in lumbering and banking in West Bay City, Mich.; mayor of West Bay City 1881-1884; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1884; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses (March 4, 1885-March 3, 1889); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1888 to the Fifty-first Congress; resumed his former business pursuits in Bay City, Mich., where he died June 1, 1919; interment in Elm Lawn Cemetery.

FISK, James, a Representative and a Senator from Vermont; born in Greenwich, Hampshire County, Mass., October 4, 1763; self-educated; served in the Revolutionary War 1779-1782; member of the General Assembly of Massachusetts in 1785; entered the Universalist ministry and preached occasionally; moved to Barre, Vt., in 1798; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Barre; member of the Vermont House of Representatives 1800-1805, 1809, 1810, and 1815; judge of the Orange County court 1802-1809 and in 1816; selected as the member from Orange County to locate the capital in 1803; chairman of the committee that endeavored to get a settlement of the northern boundary with Canada in 1804; elected as a Democrat to the Ninth and Tenth Congresses (March 4, 1805-March 3, 1809); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1808 to the Eleventh Congress; elected to the Twelfth and Thirteenth Congresses (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1815); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1814 to the Fourteenth Congress; appointed United States judge for the Territory of Indiana in 1812, but declined; judge of the Supreme Court of Vermont in 1815 and 1816; elected to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dudley Chase, and served from November 4, 1817, to January 8, 1818, when he resigned; collector of customs for the district of Vermont 1813-1826; moved to Swanton, Vt., in 1819, and died there November 17, 1844; interment in the Church Street Cemetery.

FISK, Jonathan, a Representative from New York; born in Amherst, N. H., September 26, 1778; attended the public schools; taught school; moved to Newburgh, N. Y., in 1800; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1802, and commenced practice in Newburgh; elected as a Democrat to the Eleventh Congress (March 4, 1809-March 3, 1811); elected to the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Congresses, and served from March 4, 1813, until March, 1815, when he resigned to accept the position of United States attorney for the southern district of New York, to which he was appointed by President Madison and which position he held until June 30, 1819; resumed the practice of law; died in Newburgh, N. Y., July 13, 1832; interment in the Old Town Cemetery.

FITCH, Asa, a Representative from New York; born in Groton, Conn., November 10, 1765; received a limited schooling; during the Revolutionary War served as a sergeant in Captain Livingston's company; studied medicine and practiced in Duaneburg and Salem, N. Y.; justice of the peace 1799-1810; president of the Washington County Medical Society 1806-1826; county judge 1810-1821; elected as a Federalist to the Twelfth Congress (March 4, 1811-March 3, 1813); declined to be a candidate for renomination in 1812; resumed the practice of medicine; died in Salem, N. Y., August 24, 1843; interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

FITCH, Ashbel Parmelee, a Representative from New York; born in Moores, Clinton County, N. Y., October 8, 1848; attended the public schools of New York, Williston Seminary, East Hampton, Mass., the Universities of Jena and Berlin, Germany, and Columbia College Law School in New York City; was admitted to the bar in November, 1869, and practiced in New York City; elected as a Republican to the Fiftieth Congress and as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses, and served from March 4, 1887, until December 26, 1893, when he resigned; comptroller of New York City 1893-1897; president of the Trust Co. of America in 1899; died in New York City May 4, 1904; interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

FITCH, Graham Newell (grandfather of Edwin Denby), a Representative and a Senator from Indiana; born in Le Roy, Genesee County, N. Y., December 5, 1809; attended Middlebury Academy and Geneva (N. Y.) College; studied medicine and completed his medical course at the College of Physicians and Surgeons; commenced practice in Logansport, Ind., in 1834; member of the State house of representatives in 1836 and 1839; professor of anatomy at the Rush Medical College, Chicago, Ill., 1844-1848 and at the Indianapolis (Ind.) Medical College in 1878; Democratic presidential elector in 1844, 1848, and 1856; elected as a Democrat to the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Congresses (March 4, 1849-March 3, 1853); was not a candidate for renomination in 1852; resumed the practice of medicine; elected to the United States Senate to fill a vacancy in the term beginning March 4, 1855, and served from February 4, 1857, to March 3, 1861; was not a candidate for reelection in 1860; raised the Forty-sixth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War and served as its colonel from November 1, 1861, to August 2, 1862, when he resigned because of injuries received in action; commanded a brigade at the capture of Fort Thompson, Mo., and Island No. 10; also participated in the capture of Forts Pillow and Charles; resumed the practice of medicine in Logansport, Ind.; delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York City in 1898, which nominated the presidential ticket of Seymour and Blair; died in Logansport, Ind., November 29, 1892; interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

FITCH, Thomas, a Representative from Nevada; born in New York City January 27, 1838; attended the public schools; moved to Chicago, Ill., in 1855, and to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1856; employed as a clerk; local editor of the Milwaukee Free Democrat in 1859 and 1860; moved to California in 1860; editor of the San Francisco Times and Placerville Republican; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and practiced; member of the California Assembly in 1862 and 1863; moved to Nevada in June, 1863; elected a member of the convention which framed the State constitution in 1864; Union nominee for Territorial Delegate to Congress in 1864; district attorney of Washoe County in 1865 and 1866; elected as a Republican to the Forty-first Congress (March 4, 1869–March 3, 1871); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1870 to the Forty-second Congress; continued the practice of law; moved to Los Angeles, Calif., in 1869 and was employed as a writer on the Times; died in Decoto, Calif., November 12, 1923; interment in Cypress Cemetery.

FITE, Samuel McClary, a Representative from Tennessee; born near Alexandria, Smith County, Tenn., June 12, 1816; attended the common and private schools and was graduated from Clinton College, Tennessee; studied law in Lebanon, was admitted to the bar, and commenced practice in Carthage, Tenn.; member of the State senate in 1850; presidential elector on the Whig ticket of Scott and Graham in 1852; judge of the sixth judicial district 1858–1861; resumed the practice of law in Carthage, Tenn.; appointed on July 24, 1869, judge of the sixth judicial district to fill a vacancy; elected to the same office on January 8, 1870, and served until 1874; elected as a Democrat to the Forty-fourth Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John W. Head, and served from March 4, 1875, until his death, before the assembling of Congress, at Hot Springs, Ark., October 23, 1875; interment in Carthage Cemetery, Carthage, Tenn.; reinterment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Nashville, Tenn., in 1908.

FITHIAN, George Washington, a Representative from Illinois; born near Willow Hill, Jasper County, Ill., July 4, 1854; attended the common schools; learned the printer's trade in Mount Carmel, Ill.; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1875, and commenced practice in Newton, Jasper County, Ill.; prosecuting attorney of Jasper County 1876–1884; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first, Fifty-second, and Fifty-third Congresses (March 4, 1889–March 3, 1895); unsuccessful candidate for reelection in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth Congress; railroad and warehouse commissioner of Illinois 1895–1897; resumed the practice of law and engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock raising in Newton, Ill.; was also the owner of an extensive cotton plantation near Falcon, Miss., where he contracted pneumonia; died in a hospital at Memphis, Tenn., January 21, 1921; interment in Riverside Cemetery, Newton, Ill.

FITZGERALD, Frank Thomas, a Representative from New York; born in New York City May 4, 1857; was graduated from the College of St. Francis Xavier, New York City, from St. Mary's College, Niagara Falls, N. Y., in 1876, and from the Columbia Law School, New York City, in 1878; was admitted to the bar the same year, and commenced the practice of his profession in New York City in 1879; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-first Congress, and served from March 4, 1889, until November 4, 1890, when he resigned; register of New York County in 1891 and 1892; delegate to the State constitutional convention in 1893; elected surrogate of New York County in 1892 for a term of fourteen years, reelected in 1906, and served in this capacity until his death in New York City November 25, 1907; interment in the Calvary Cemetery, Long Island City, N. Y.

FITZGERALD, John Francis, a Representative from Massachusetts; born in Boston, Mass., February 11, 1863; was graduated from the Elliot Grammar School and from the Boston Latin School; attended Harvard Medical School one year; held a position in the Boston customhouse from 1886 to 1891; member of the Boston Common Council in 1892; member of the State senate 1893 and 1894; elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, and Fifty-sixth Congresses (March 4, 1895–March 3, 1901); was not a candidate for renomination in 1900; mayor of Boston 1906, 1907, and 1910–1914; engaged in the insurance and investment business; also owner of a weekly newspaper; chairman of the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1912; unsuccessful candidate for election to the United States Senate in 1916; presented credentials as a Democratic Member elect to the Sixty-sixth Congress, and served from March 4, 1919, until October 23, 1919, when he was succeeded by Peter F. Tague, who contested his election; resumed his newspaper activities and also engaged as an investment banker; unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1922; presidential elector at large on the Democratic ticket of Davis and Bryan in 1924; resides in Boston, Mass.

